A taxicab driven by William J. Sage, which ran into a parked car in Shetucket street about 9:30 Thursday evening gave its passenger Mrs. Tessie Alexander of 136 Broad street such a shaking up and shock that she had to be taken to her home.

The machine which was hit belongs to Louis A. Corbin of New Britain and was standing parked at the curb while the owner was in a restaurant.

SEASONABLE CURTAILMENT AT PONEMAH MILLS

The usual seasonable curtailment of operations has been put into effect at the Ponemah mills at Taftville, but the shut-down will be temporary, according to F. B. Ricketson, agent and assistant treasurer, who said that there would be resumption of operations just as soon as conditions allow.

Always a leader in the trade, the Ponemah mills have a new novelty cloth on the market known as "Mandalay," which has a very fine luster and is an imitation of the old silk pongee and of the cloth known as "Shantung."

The Baltic mills are to go on a three-day schedule next week.

Appreciates Baltic Firemen

In appreciation of services rendered by the Baltic fire company recently, William G. Park of Hanover has presented the company a check for $25.

GUARDSMEN PATROL THE STREETS OF SHERMAN, TEX.

Coroner's Jury Believes the Negro, Hughes, Was Dead Before the Mob Forced Its Way Into the Courthouse Vault—Martial Law Prevails — Rumors Were Reported That An Attempt Would Be Made By a Mob to Liberate From Jail 13 of Its Members — All Business Places Except Hotels, Restaurants and Drug Stores Were Ordered Closed At 6 P. M.

SHERMAN, Texas, May 11.—(AP)—Patrolling the streets under a hot sun and manning machine guns placed at strategic points, Texas National Guardsmen maintained strict order under martial law here today.

The highways leading into Sherman and the streets of this north Texas city were crowded with Sunday motorists who came to see the burned Grayson county courthouse and the Negro business district stormed last Friday by a mob incensed over the criminal attack upon a white woman by George Hughes, 41-year-old Negro.

Hughes was killed during the rioting. A coroner's jury declared he was suffocated when he was locked in a vault in the courthouse.

The Negro was placed in the vault for safety by Texas rangers and county officers who later were driven from the courthouse by the fire set by the mob.

The decision meant the coroner's jury believed Hughes was dead when entrance into the thick walled vault was forced by the mob, using acetylene torches and dynamite after the courthouse was destroyed. His body, nevertheless, was dragged through the streets and then burned in the Negro district.

A military order prohibiting the congregating of more than three persons seemed to cramp the activities of [illegible] citizens.

The order was one of the first issued by the commandant, Colonel Lawrence Miller, of Dallas.

Under his official instructions, ways and means of getting to the bottom of the uprising were arranged. He appointed Col. L. S. Davidson of Dallas, [illegible] Calvary, Texas National Guard, acting marshal, and Majors Earl Z. [illegible] of Dallas, S. J. Houghton, Jr., Dallas, and John Naylor, of Fort Worth, assistant provost marshals, and named them also to constitute a court of inquiry with supreme authorities to investigate and to direct arrests.

All business places except hotels, restaurants and drug stores were ordered closed at 6 p. m.

Martial law was clamped down last night under a proclamation by Gov. Dan Moody, well after the rioting had ceased, but in the face of widely reported rumors that a new onslaught on the jail was planned in an effort to liberate 13 mob members held there. Scouting parties were sent ou today to size up the situation. They reported no indications of a renewed attack.

The machine guns set up at the corners of the jail building last night remained in place and well manned.

The sheriff was not replaced in control of the jail, but acted under direction of national guardsmen.

A young man suspected of taking part in Friday's riots was apprehended today, the first arrest since the inauguration of martial law. He was questioned by Colonel Davidson and orders were issued for the arrest of several other men.

Forces in control of Sherman under Governor Moody's declaration of martial law consists of 421 Texas National Guardsmen and ten Texas Rangers.

The martial law declaration was the second during the three and one-half years of Governor Moody's administration. The other was at Borger after the slaying of a county official.

Sixteen prisoners were being held.

Governor Moody's proclamation was received early today.

Two men wounded during the rioting still were in hospitals here today. Four guardsmen injured Friday were sent to a Dallas hospital.

Most of Sherman's Negro population of 1,500 to 2,000 were back home today after having fled at the inception of the mob action. Officers were paying especial attention to protecting lives and property.

TO EXAMINE THE LONDON NAVAL LIMITATIONS TREATY

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—The senate foreign relations committee will begin examination of the London naval limitations treaty tomorrow in public hearings with Secretary Stimson, chief of the American delegation, explaining its details.

The secretary of state is prepared to go into an exhaustive explanation of the pact which binds the United States, Great Britain and Japan to a new basis of naval limitations.

Secretary of the Navy Adams, another of the American delegation, will follow Mr. Stimson before the committee. He will relate the effects of the treaty upon the navy. He will be followed by Admiral William V. Pratt, chief naval adviser at the London parley.

The two American delegates will be supported before the foreign relations committee by two others of their delegation—Senators Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, and Reed, republican, Pennsylvania.

Chairman Borah of the committee has announced no plans for the hearings beyond the attendance of these three witnesses. He is hopeful of completing consideration of the pact within a week or ten days and getting it to the senate.

MARSHAL JOFFRE SAID TO BE IN EXCELLENT HEALTH

PARIS, May 11— (AP) —Marshal Joffre, victor of the battle of the Marne in September 1914, is enjoying excellent health and yesterday attended a session of the French Academy. Reports of his illness have been denied.

The marshal, who is 78 years old, caused his friends some anxiety by his patent feebleness on returning to Paris from a winter in the south several weeks ago. He still showed signs of having difficulty in walking yesterday. He has moved in from Louveciennes, his country home just outside of Paris, to his apartment in the Passy quarter.

TO MAKE FLIGHT FROM FRANCE TO NATAL, BRAZIL

ST. LOUIS, Senegal, West Africa, May 11—(AP)—Jules Mermoz, French aviator, announced today that he would take off for Natal, Brazil, early tomorrow if weather conditions permitted. Mermoz took off at Perpignan, France, May 2, on the first lap of his flight. His plane is a postal hydro-airplane, the same he used when he recently set a new record for duration and distance for such craft, covering [illegible] kilometers in 30 hours and 25 minutes.

ATTEMPTING NON-STOP FLIGHT MEXICO CITY TO BUENOS AIRES

MEXICO CITY, May 11.—(AP)—The department of communications reported this afternoon that Colonel Pablo Sidar, Mexican army ace, attempting a non-stop flight to Buenos Aires, had passed the coast of Salvador at 10 a. m. ([illegible] 11 a. m., E. S. T.).

Colonel Sidar was said to be flying about 50 miles off the Pacific coast of Central America. He will probably not be sighted again until he reaches the South American coast at Cape Gallinas, Colombia.

PORTUGAL FORBIDS THE EMPLOYMENT OF FOREIGNERS

LISBON, Portugal, May 11—(AP)—With a view to lessening unemployment, a decree was published today forbidding all commercial and industrial concerns on Portuguese territory to engage foreigners while the employment crisis lasts.

An exception was made allowing foreigners who are already engaged to continue in their jobs.

MINISTER OBSERVED 97TH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

NORWALK, May 11.—(AP)—Rev. Dr. Augustus F. Beard, of this city, honorary secretary of the American Missionary society and veteran Congregationalist minister, today observed his 97th birthday anniversary. He attended a special service held in his honor at the South Norwalk Congregational church.

Dr. Beard, according to the National Council of Congregational Churches of America, is the oldest Congregational minister in the world. He is the author of two books, "The Crusade of Brotherhood," and "Life of John Frederick Oberlin."

Despite his age, he takes a short walk daily and makes occasional trips by train to New York city, where he still maintains a desk at the offices of the American Missionary society. He was graduated from Yale in 1857 and was ordained in 1860.

Rev. George L. Cady, who succeeded Dr. Beard as secretary of the American Missionary society, spoke at the special service at the South Norwalk church.

CHERRINGTON DEFENDER OF "PROPER LOBBYING"

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Defending "proper lobbying." Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, head of the educational department of the Anti-Saloon league, in a statement tonight said that until super-men and super-women are elected to legislative bodies, "citizens will feel justified in presenting their attitude toward proposed legislation."

Dr. Cherrington asserted that "to denounce all lobbying merely because some lobbying is done by self-seeking interests is as ridiculous as to denounce all food because some food is adulterated."

"The idea that a legislator should confer only with other legislators and should not be approached by anyone else in regard to matters of legislation," he added, "is not in harmony with a representative form of government."

SERIOUS OPERATION PERFORMED IN MID-OCEAN

S. S. AQUITANIA, May 11.—(AP)—A serious operation was performed in mid-Atlantic today on Theodore Lyman, of Boston. Mr. Lyman holds a degree in science from Harvard.

Taken suddenly ill, the passenger was found to be suffering from a ruptured appendix. As delay would have been fatal he was rushed to the ship's hospital, where despite the choppy sea, an operation was immediately performed by H. W. Case, ship's surgeon, and Dr. Charles Phillips, an American surgeon, who is also a passenger.

The operation lasted an hour and a quarter and was said to be completely successful. Mr. Lyman was resting fairly comfortably tonight.

7-YEAR-OLD HARTFORD BOY, WAS DROWNED IN CREEK

HARTFORD, May 11.—(AP)—Melvin Jordan, 7-year-old Hartford boy, was drowned late this afternoon, when he went over his head in a creek in the North Meadows section of the city. Two small companions, both of whom had already been in the water and were dressing, witnessed the drowning and notified a policeman in a nearby park. The body was recovered an hour later.

THIEVES BLEW OPEN VAULT OF BOSTON JEWELRY STORE

BOSTON, May 11—(AP)—Thieves obtained loot valued at $15,000 in diamonds, watches and cash by blowing open the vault of a jewelry store in Scollay square early today.

Police believe at least three men were involved in the crime.

This was the first major crime to occur under the regime of Eugene C. Hultman, newly appointed police commissioner.

Train Wreckers Caused Tw[illegible]aths

Engineer And [illegible]eman Were Crushed Beneath Overturned Engine Near Harrison, Miss.

NATCHEZ, Miss., May 11—(AP)—The Planter, southbound passenger Train No. 15 of the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroad, which was derailed today fell prey to the depredations of vandals, in the opinion of railroad detectives, and two trainmen were killed.

The dead are B. W. Maddux of New Orleans, engineer, and C. W. Baker, of near Vicksburg, Miss. The train left the rails at a crossing at Dean's Spur, two miles south of Harrison, Miss., and the engine, tender and three cars overturned.

Reports said that only one passenger was injured, Rudolph Vorbusen of New Orleans, and his injuries were not considered serious.

Railroad detectives who worked on the case declared that the wrecking of the train, one of nearly a half dozen trains that have met with mishap while coursing through Mississippi in recent weeks, was due to malicious circumstances.

The railroad officials here said that heavy timbers had been spiked down on the track and the switch at the point had been jammed.

Railroad officials were seeking to connect the wrecking of several trains in one plot with its purposes still a mystery.

It was announced here today that railroad officials had offered a reward of $10,000 for the arrest and conviction of the train wrecking culprit. Traffic was resumed late in the day.

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN CRUSHED BENEATH ENGINE

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 11—(AP)—Two trainmen were killed and one passenger was injured slightly when Yazoo and Missisippi Valley passenger train No. 15, southbound, was derailed early today near Harrison, Miss.

B. W. Maddux, of New Orleans, engineer, and W. C. Baker of Stout, Miss., fireman, were crushed to death when the engineer attached to the train overturned. Rudolph Vordbusch of New Orleans suffered minor injuries.

100,000 PERSONS ASSEMBLED FOR PONTIFICAL MASS

CARTHAGE, Tunisia, May 11—(AP)—The greatest multitude in the history of modern Carthage gathered in this historic site of Christianity today for the closing ceremonies of the 30th Eucharistic congress of the Roman Catholic church.

Christians, Moslems and Jews, flocking in from the nearby city of Tunis, have joined the thousands of foreign pilgrims here since the sessions opened on Wednesday. They came to see, but not all could hear, a pontifical mass celebrated by Cardinal Lepicier, papal legate, and a great procession in the afternoon.

At least 100,000 persons swarmed about the ruins of St. Cyprian church for the pontifical mass. Five thousand French troops formed lines around the ancient walls and pillars to maintain order among the greatest throng that yet has been brought out by the congress. Transportation facilities were hopelessly swamped. Most of the spectators had to go without lunch.

PRESIDENT'S GUEST FELL INTO TROUT STREAM

ORANGE, Va., May 11—(AP)—The quiet of a restful day at President Hoover's fishing camp on the Rapidan, was broken today by the excitement of fishing Dr. Hubert Work, former chairman of the republican national committee, out of the trout stream.

Dr. Work fell in the shallow waters of the Rapidan when he stepped on a log which rolled under him. He emerged undamaged except for a wetting. After drying his clothes he rejoined the presidential party working on a dam which Mr. Hoover started last year to improve the trout fishing.

The president and his friends, leaving the mountain retreat late in the day, expected to arrive at the white house after dark. As fishing is barred at the Rapidan camp on Sundays, most of the morning was spent idling about the camp's community hall.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF ST. PAUL'S, NEW HAVEN

NE WHAVEN, May 11—(AP)—The Rt. Rev. James DeWolf Perry, presiding bishop of the Episcopal church in the United States, tonight delivered the historical address at the centennial celebration of St. Paul's church. He was rector of the church from 1904 to 1911.

A diocesan service with communion tomorrow morning and a reception tomorrow night will close the celebration. Bishop E. Campion Achison, of the Connecticut diocese will be the celebrant at the diocesan service and Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster will deliver the sermon.

Mussolini Tells Of Preparedness Of Italy

Pemier Would Launch Human Thunderbolt Against Any Enemy That Might Attempt to Invade Italy.

LEGHORN, Italy, May 11—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today exalted Italy's maritime aspirations in a 10-minute speech full of patriotic sentiment, delivered before a crowd of 25,000 wildly cheering Livournese.

The celebration was in honor of Leghorn's heroic resistance in 1849 to the besieging Austrian army. The premier arrived here in the course of his tour of Tuscany.

"I want to say not only to you, but to the people beyond our frontier, that we are not anxious to precipitate adventures," said Mussolini. "But if anyone deceives himself so far as to think he can halt our onward march, he will find the whole Italian people in front of him. If our frontiers were threatened, there would be gathered one human mass—nay, a thunderbolt—launched against any and all comers."

Recalling that the day was the anniversary of Leghorn's battle with the Austrians, the Duce declared, "There is something unescapable, inevitable, in this march toward destiny of fascist Italy, and nobody can halt it!"

The fascist cheer thundered from the listeners, and the premier turned to address them directly.

"Before our revolution, you not only had hunger for bread, but for glory. Livournese, the sea is your fortune!"

Mussolini was in his old-time vocal form, radiating vigor despite yesterday's exertions. He began the day at the naval academy, reviewing 400 midshipmen. Together with Minister of Communications Ciano, Rear Admiral Giuseppi Sirianni, minister of marine, and other notables, the Duce, who was garbed as an honorary corporal in the fascist militia, stood through the open air mass in the rain. Showing every sign of deference and devotion, he saluted militarily like the others at the solemn moments of the service. He listened attentively to the chaplain's prayers at the conclusion. After the service he turned to the students and addressed them very briefly.

POLICE AND TROOPS ARE PRESERVING ORDER IN INDIA

JALALPUR, India, May 11.—(AP)—Under strict police watchfulness and with troops ready for emergencies, India today tranquilly passed through the week end marking the 73d anniversary of the outbreak of the great Indian mutiny and by the annual Moslem feast of Bakrid.

Measures taken by the authorities prevented outbreaks in any of the trouble centers. The Bakrid celebrations, which in the past have sometimes brought about racial clashes between Moslems and Hindus, passed peacefully on Saturday at Delhi, Allahabad, Lahore, Meerut and Bombay.

At these great Moslem centers there was no aftermath of trouble today, but tonight the situation at Sholapur, where the worst rioting since the beginning of the civil disobedience campaign broke out on Thursday, was said to be less satisfactory than yesterday.

Eight hundred troops are concentrated in the mill city. Shops and mills are still closed, and when some shopkeepers attempted to reopen for business today they were threatened by the mill-hands and had to give up their project.

STUDENT FLYIER INJURED WHEN AIRPLANE CRASHED

HUNTINGTON, N. Y., May 11—(AP)—Robert D. Huntington, young social registrite of Mill Neck, N. Y., was injured tonight in a crash of his airplane in an orchard in South Huntington.

After the crash he pulled his parachute out of the wreckage, hired a taxicab and went home. There a physician treated him for cuts on the face and hands and the loss of several teeth.

Huntington, a marine engineer and graduate of the United States Naval Academy in the class of 1923, said he did not know what caused the crash. Examination of the wrecked plane showed that the gasoline tank was empty. The ignition switch had not been turned off.

Attendants at the Aviation Country club at Hicksville, N. Y., said Huntington took his plane up from there today.

FATHER AND SON INJURED WHEN AUTO OVERTURNED

NEW HAVEN, May 11—(AP)—Joseph Fanning, 34, of this city and his four year old son, James, were critically injured tonight in an automobile accident. Both were on the danger list at St. Raphael's hospital, Joseph Fanning with several fractured ribs, possible internal injuries and lacerations and his son with a possible fractured skull and possible internal injuries.

Father and son were approaching their home following a ride when their machine collided with another car. The Fanning automobile overturned.

PLANE WITH TWO MEXICAN AVIATORS FELL INTO OCEAN OFF PORTO LIMON, C. R.

MEXICO CITY, May 11—(AP)—Colonel Pablo Sidar was killed today in attempting to make a non-stop flight from Mexico to Buenos Aires. His airplane dived into the sea three miles south of the Costa Rican seaport of Porto Limon. The department of communications announced this evening that both Colonel Sidar and his copilot, Lieutenant Rovirosa had perished.

The big American made monoplane "Morelo's", which had successfully taken off from Cerro Loco ranch, Oaxaca, this morning, was completely wrecked.

Porto Limon dispatches to the department of communications said that the accident had occurred during a storm which had suddenly sprung up.

The "Morelos" pased over Porto Limon at about 3:40 p. m. and was identified. Sometime later she reappeared, but meanwhile a storm had developed. As it broke and the first drops of rain began to fall, the airplane was seen to plunge into the sea.

A rescue party succeeded in extricating Colonel Sidar's body. Apparently the two aviators had no time to use their parachutes. Lieutenant Rovirosa's body was wedged in the wreckage.

The department of communications said that only Colonel Sidar and Lieutenant Rovirosa were in the "Morelos". Reports that a mechanic named Enriquez had accompanied them were denied. The airplane was said to have reappeared over Porto Limon at about 4:15 p. m. and cruised about while Sidar looked for a suitable landing place.

The accident occurred apparently about 5 p. m., (about 6 p. m.) E. S. T.) Colonel Sidar had previously been sighted off the coast of Salvador, seven hours earlier. According to his plan he was then to fly over the tip of the Costa Rican coast and head across the sea for South America.

CANADIAN TARIFF DUTIES TO BE MADE RETALIATORY

Tariff Revision Proposals Will Impose Higher Duties On Between $175,000,000 and $225,000,000 Worth of U. S. Products Customarily Supplied to Canada Each Year—Preference Will Be Given to British Products.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Tariff revision proposals of the Canadian government as advanced this month will impose higher import duties on between $175,000,000 and $225,000,000 worth of United States products customarily supplied each year to that country.

Further, products of the British Empire more or less competitive to those of the United States, which Canada ordinarily imports to the value of $200,000,000 a year will be given either increased preference in duties or an entirely free import status. This is the conclusion announced today by a commerce department analysis of the new Canadian tariff projects which were formulated May 1 by the Dominion minister of finance.

"Competition between imports from the British Empire and the United States is substantially increased," the departmental review on the new Canadian measure says, "about 216 items being added to the free list under the British preferential tariff. American exporters in many lines will be required to lay greater stress on service and quality."

As a response to the pending American tariff bill, the Canadian law has widely extended the scope of countervailing duties, under which Canada will place duties against imports entering her border from any country which equal tariff duties imposed by that country on the Canadian products. Grain, meats, poultry products, dairy products, and iron piping are among the additional items specifically made subjects to the countervailing system. On metal manufacturers of nearly all kinds, the preference to British products is increased, and in many cases the rates that will affect the competing products when imported from the United States are increased.

DEMOCRATS IN SENATE TO FIGHT TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—A democratic warning was thrown out to the republicans today that any attempt to eliminate from the tariff bill the flexible clause repealing presidential rate changing power would be fought on the senate floor "if it takes all summer."

This provision, opposed by President Hoover, is carried in the senate bill. The house measure would continue in effect the eight-year-old executive flexible policy. Conferees on the Hawley-Smoot bill will resume their sittings Tuesday or Wednesday in an attempt to work out a compromise on this phase of the tariff issue. The conference report will not be submitted to the senate until this compromise is reached.

Senator Connally, of Texas, a democratic member of the senate finance committee, in a statement issued today through the democratic national committee, said supporters of the senate's flexible clause "propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer".

PILOT FOUGHT INTOXICATED MAN 3,000 FEET IN THE AIR

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP)—A two-minute fight 3,000 feet in the air between an airplane pilot and an intoxicated man who wanted to fly the plane ended today in victory for the former, whose skill in uppercutting probably saved six lives.

With five $1-a-ride passengers, including two women, Tex Anding took off from the Gates Flying service field in Jackson Heights. He did not know that one of the men had been drinking.

But almost at once the man asked to fly. Anding gave him no attention till he tried to jerk him away from the controls. While the other passengers watched in terror and the plane swayed dizzily, they fought furiously and the pilot finally knocked his opponent unconscious with a blow to the chin.

He landed immediately, and the man, reviving, scurried away, flinging stones as he left. He was not apprehended.

5,000 ATTENDED PASSION PLAY AT OBERAMMERGAU

OBERAMMERGAU, Germany, May 11.—(AP)—Despite downpours of rain, the premiere of the decennial "Passion Play" of Oberammergau today gripped an international audience of 5,000 spectators. The playhouse was filled to capacity.

A large contingent of Americans was conspicuous among visitors from all parts of the globe. Even an Indian nabob with his retinue, in the picturesque costumes of the east, followed the drama of Christ with devout attention.

Alois Lang, impersonator of Christ, who suffered from a high fever at Thursday's rehearsal, was in much better form vocally and dramatically today.

FATAL PLANE ACCIDENT NEAR SANTA ROSA, CAL.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., May 11.—(AP)—One man was killed and two others were injured seriously today in an airplane crash on the Joseph Smith ranch, two miles south of the Santa Rosa airport.

Fay Berry, 25, of Modesto, pilot of the plane, was killed. Robert Smith, 18, former Santa Rosa junior college football player, and Arnold Berry, 23, brother of Fay, were injured.

Berry, an aviation student, had offered to take his brother and Smith to Santa Rosa for a visit with Smith's relatives. While flying low over the Smith ranch to attract the attention of the elder Smiths, the plane suddenly nose dived and crashed. Mr. and Mrs. Smith witnessed the accident.

DECREASE IN CRIMES OF VIOLENCE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 11—(AP)—Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen's annual report, issued today, said that crimes of violence in New York in 1929, totaled 7,000, a reduction of 11 per cent from the total of 7,878 for 1928.

Murders, however, increased from 339 to 357.

In a table headed "New York free from crime," the commissioner gives the following statistics: The figures signifying crimes of violence per hundred thousands population, New York 74.1; Chicago 306.7; Philadelphia 110.5; Detroit 282.4; Los Angeles 135.6; Cleveland 467.5 and St. Louis 705.7.

NO FORMAL OPPOSITION TO NOMINATION OF ROBERTS

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—The nomination of Owen J. Roberts, of Philadelphia, to the supreme court will be taken up tomorrow by the senate judiciary committee with no formal opposition to him filed so far.

Adopting the regular procedure of the committee, Chairman Norris will refer the nomination to a subcommittee. He has not selected that subcommittee. This course will make it unlikely that the nomination itself will be reported to the senate before another week.

There is considerable talk at the capitol over the attitude of Mr. Roberts on prohibition, but the statement of yesterday by F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, was believed to have stilled the fears of the drys to some extent.

McBride asserted Roberts should be confirmed if he measured up on "integrity of character, legal qualifications, intellectual honesty and capacity to deal with legal questions from a strictly judicial viewpoint without bias created by personal predilection."

Both Senators Norris, of Nebraska, and Borah, of Idaho, republicans, who led the fights against confirmation of Chief Justice Hughes and John John J. Parker, of North Carolina, have indicated their support of the nominee, pending further study.

Without the leadership of these two veterans, opposition to Roberts is not expected to get very far in the senate.

CREATED THREE JUNIOR CROSS COUNTRY RECORDS

NEW YORK, May 11—(AP)—Frank Goldsborough, 19 year old trans-continental flier, landed at New York city airport from Los Angeles at 2:18 p. m., (E. S. T.) today with hree junior cross country records in his possession. He set junior speed records for east-west and west-east flight and for the round trip.

The young son of Bruce Goldsborough, lost several years ago in a trans-Atlantic flight attempt, made the trip from Los Angeles in just 28 hours. The previous record had been 48 hours.

Starting from Westfield, N. J., two weeks ago tomorrow the youth flew his plane "The American Boy" to Los Angeles in a total flying time of 34 hours and three minutes, clipping 13 hours and 37 minutes from the east-west record set by Dick James. His flying time for the round-trip was thus 62 hours and three minutes.

He made several stops on both flights. On the last leg today he flew over Westfield, N. J., the official ending point of the flight, and then refuelled at Newark, N. J., airport before landing at New York airport.

THREE PERSONS KILLED IN COLLISION OF BUS AND AUTO

RAHWAY, N. J., May 11—(AP)—Two women and a man were dead, and four others lay injured in a hospital tonight following a head-on collision between a bus and an automobile early today.

The dead were Mrs. Mary Goodrich, 38, of Clintonville, Conn.; Miss Lillian Gray, Trenton, N. J., and John L. Johnson, 48, attendant at the State Home for Feeble Minded, Stillman, N. J.

Daniel F. Wookey, 39, of Clintonville, critically injured, was the only survivor of the four passengers in the car. The three others hurt were Leon Craddock, Bridgeton, N. J.; Jefferson Frame, Vineland, N. J., and Elswood Bowker, Millville, N. J. The three were among occupants of the bus.

The driver of the bus, was arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter, but paroled in custody of the Public Service, his employer.

FAILED IN ATTEMPT TO CREATE NEW LOOP RECORD

VALLEY STREAM, N. Y., May 11.—(AP)—Lieutenant Fred Williams, former army pilot, made a forced landing today at Curtiss-Wright airport, after having looped about 750 consecutive times in an attempt to better the mark of 1,433 held by Steve Holman.

The plane tipped up on its nose damaging the propeller and the right wing. Williams was not hurt.

Lieutenant Williams said he would try again as soon as possible. He hoped to make 2,000 loops.

FIVE-DAY WEEK SCHEDULE FOR POLICE DEPARTMENT

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 11.—The official axe fell on the police department Saturday afternoon in the first blow aimed at chopping down expenses of city government to within the income of an eight-mill tax, which, plus other sources of income, is estimated to be over $76,000 below the amount of the budget.

The blow, which failed to register anything resembling pleasure in the department, was struck in the form of "general order No. 4" which was posted in the patrolmen's room. The order provides for a schedule of five days a week for nine officers doing regular duty. The previous schedule was seven days, allowing one day off with pay.

The new schedule, which went into effect today, does away with this day off with pay each week, eliminates the Pleasant street beat six nights a week and removes relief duty necessary when the weekly holiday was allowed. Unofficial figures compiled after the order had been posted indicate that a total saving of $2,246.16 will be effected under the new schedule, provided it remains enforced during the ensuing seven months of the present fiscal year of government administration. Five of the officers receive $32.50 per week while the remaining four receive $30 weekly. On this basis the curtailment of two nights weekly will bring a saving of $46.70 weekly in the salaries of the first five and $33.52 for the four receiving $30 weekly, a total of $80.22 weekly or $320.88 per month of four weeks. The wages of these officers will be correspondingly cut $9.34 and $8.38 weekly.

General order No. 4, as posted Saturday, reads as follows: Commencing May 11, 1930, the following five days a week schedule will be in effect in this department. This will do away with the day off with pay each week, and the Pleasant street beat six nights a week and the relief man. Officer Lariviere will be off duty Sundays and Mondays; Officer Montie Mondays and Tuesdays; Officer Laramie, Mondays and Tuesdays; Officer Arthur Hurley, Tuesdays and Wednesdays; Officer [illegible], Wednesdays and Thursdays; Officer Killourey, Wednesdays and Thursdays; Officer William Hurley, Wednesdays and Thursdays; Officer [illegible], Fridays and Saturdays; Officer Marrotte, Fridays and Saturdays. Lieutenant Leahy will do the lunch hour relief work from Monday to Saturday. Officer Montie will work for Officer Lariviere on Sundays. Officer [illegible] will cover Pleasant street beat and do lunch hour relief work on Sundays. Officer Montie will cover center Main street beat on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Officer Laramie will cover lower Main beat on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Officer Montie will cover upper Main on Fridays and Saturdays and Officer Laramie will cover Jackson street beat Fridays and Saturdays. The order is signed by Thomas [illegible] Grady, chief. In addition to the above mentioned "eliminations" the new schedule is also expected to do away with the after-midnight patrolling of outlying districts in the police car.

HOME CANVASS TODAY IN ARMY DRIVE FOR FUNDS

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 11.—An effort to secure early response to the annual Salvation Army financial campaign is being made by the local advisory board with Judge of Probate Valentine L. Murphy as chairman. The drive, with a goal of $3,000, got off to a good start Friday, a number of checks already having been received by the treasurer, Herbert W. Huber, of the Willimantic Trust Co. Under direction of Mrs. Ida Millard and Mrs. Pearl Lane of Boston headquarters, the house canvass by uniformed workers will start Monday. While the drive is underway, plans for extensive work in this vicinity during the year are being prepared by Adjutant Daisy Whipple Howell and Captain Olive Coe, the new officers in charge of the local corps.

INTEREST AT HIGH PITCH IN COUNCIL MEETING MONDAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 11.—Interest in the May monthly meeting of the common council to be held Monday night reached a high pitch over the week-end with increasing reports of the drastic measures to be declared by the aldermen to curtail expenditures in conformity with the small income to be derived from the eight-mill tax levied at the special city meeting.

Facing a deficit in income of over $76,000 because of the low tax rate, the city councilmen are planning wholesale curtailments affecting practically every department. It was said today that supernumerary police officers would be laid off and regulars would go on a five-day week basis and that all construction work except that which becomes necessary will be entirely stopped. While awaiting the annual income from taxation, the city has borrowed money at the average rate of $20,000 a month since last December to pay current expenses. This borrowed money must not be paid off with the result that on Aug. 1, when the tax becomes due, the city will have less than $25,000 of working funds to carry on until next December when the 1931 budget is drawn up.

Dr. George E. Wilcox, president of the Taxpayers' Protective association, announced Saturday afternoon that the special committee of three consisting of Judge William A. Arnold, Henry A. Hughes and himself, had selected Walter A. Musgrave & Co., of Hartford, certified public accountants, to make the audit of the town books and vouchers, recently authoried by a town meeting. The agreement with the Musgrave company has been turned over to the board of selectmen by whom the contract will be signed unless legal entanglements are found. First Selectman William A. Buck, in receiving the agreement, stated that before being signed by the board, the agreement and contract would first be taken up with Town Counsel Attorney Arthur T. Kelley.

COLCHESTER

WOODLAND FIRE SATURDAY COVERS SEVENTY-FIVE ACRES

About seventy-five acres of brush and timber land located between the new Scott Hill school house and the Norwich Deep River reservoir, in the eastern part of Colchester, was burned over Saturday.

The fire is said to have started between 10 and 11 o'clock Saturday morning in the thick woods west of the school house and burned steadily northwestward towards the Deep River reservoir where the flames came to the water's edge in several places along the east side of the reservoir. Standing white oaks and maples near the east water shed side of the reservoir were burned. District Warden John M. Riley, and Deputy Wardens Marshall Dean and Charles A. Kramer of Colchester with a force of twenty volunteers worked frantically with hand forset fire pumps in an effort to check the blaze. About 9 p. m. the fire had been extinguished but Warden Riley had several men patrolling the section throughout the night to make sure of no fresh outbreaks.

FUNERAL

Salem Defeated, 10-8

The Colchester Town baseball team defeated the Salem Town team in a fast, well played game on the local park diamond, Saturday afternoon by 10 to 8. The lineups were Colchester: Joe Polakevich, 3b; Fedres, 2b; J. Solomon, rf; Fallowski, cf; Welch, c; Slavkin, ss; John Polakevich, lf; Saban, 1b; Gyome, p. Salem: Preston, 2b; Wickerson, ss; M. Schmuckler, cf; Skillings, lf; Fraser, 1b and p; Refkin, p and 1b; James, c; Dabrowski, 3b; Casella, rf.

Falbowski was the star batter for the local team. He was at bat four times and made a two-base hit, a 3-base hit and a single. Gyome, the Colchester star twirler struck out fifteen men. Refkin pitched the first inning for Salem but was taken out at the close of the inning when he let in four men. Fraser took his place and struck out nine men. A feature of the game came in the 3rd inning when Schmuckler, the Salem centerfielder, made a clean home run drive over center field. Falbowski, the local center fielder, pegged the ball from deep center to home missing Schmuckler's put-out by a second. Colchester was weak at the third base until Joe Polakevich, a former Bacon academy star, was induced to fill the place, making several brilliant plays. The entire game was well played but the local team showed the result of more training. This was a return game, the Colchester outfit having defeated the Salem boys in a game in Salem on May 3, by a score of 20-14.

Manager Joseph Czekiel Falk of the Colchester team says that his pitching staff has been greatly strengthened by the acquisition of Gyome, Polakevich, Fedus and Slavkin, all of whom are former Bacon academy stars. The new suits for the local team—white sweat shirts, cream trunks with blue markings, maroon and white socks and navy blue caps have been purchased through the kindness of a number of the townspeople who made donations toward the fund. Manager Falk announced that his team will play the Bacon academy boys on the local park diamond on next Saturday. Negotions are being made with several of the leading teams in this vicinity for a game here, Memorial day.

Again and Again Spit is a horrid word, but it is worse on the end of your cigar

DON'T SPIT!
DONT SPIT!
OF HEALTH

...the war against Spitting is a crusade of decency... join it. Smoke CERTIFIED CREMO!

He tried to "get away"... but they caught him in the act. And yet his filthy habit is no more disgusting than the bestial custom of the workman who rolls cigars with dirty fingers and spits on the ends! And remember, more than half of all cigars made in this country are made by hand, and therefore subject to the risk of spit!

Smoke Certified Cremo and protect yourself against this abomination! Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit!

Try a Certified Cremo—see how wonderfully good it is! Made of the choicest, tenderest leaves that the crop affords, we claim Certified Cremo's quality is tastier than that of any other cigar. Don't let its 5c price stand in your way. Your physician has in mind a cigar like Certified Cremo when he recommends a mild smoke in place of heavy brands.

Crush-proof... immaculate... foil-wrapped ... Certified Cremo is the kind of cigar the late Vice-President Marshall undoubtedly was thinking of when he said, "What this country needs is a good 5c cigar!"

DANIELSON

PUTNAM BURGLARS IN JAIL IN DEFAULT OF $5,000 BAIL

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, May 11.—Edward Gildard and Emil Branek, the two young married men who have been working in a silk mill in Putnam nights, when they were not prowling about breaking and entering places, were languishing in the county jail in Brooklyn this beautiful spring Sunday, each in default of $5,000 bail. They are charged with robbery while armed, and bench warrants will be asked for them early this week, that they may be presented in court at the present term of the Windham county superior court, criminal side.

State officers of the Danielson barracks, who worked up the case against them and obtained admissions of the robberies they have committed all along the line from North Grosvenordale to Jewett City, have also recovered much of the plunder they obtained in their nocturnal raids.

The state officers have regained possession of four automobile tires, 18 cartons of cigarettes, eight boxes of cigars and six gallons of oil stolen from the Plouffe filling station in North Grosvenordale, which station Gildard and Branek robbed twice, once on the night of April 16, and once six weeks previously. They admit robbing this place while they were armed, which constitutes a much more serious offense than if they had been without firearms.

They raided the Joe Simmons filling station near French's crossing in Central Village for 20 cartons of cigarettes and three or four boxes of cigars, and they stole two tires and an automobile battery from the Planchon filling station in Plainfield.

An auto pistol and rifle stolen when they broke into the office of the Jewett City Creamery also have been recovered.

They have admitted among various other things that they were down in [illegible] last Wednesday night, or during the early hours of Thursday morning, to commit a robbery when they were picked up for irregularities in the registration of the automobile in which they were traveling about.

NORTH GROSVENORDALE MAN RECEIVES THREATENING LETTER

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, May 11.—State officers of the barracks here were working on a peculiar case today. It has so many angles and is of such an unusual nature as to command special attention. The setting is North Grosvenordale. There is a man up there named Dimitri John. He is unmarried, owns property in Southbridge, considerable of it, has no visible means of support other than his income, and lives with his brother.

Last November, John, alias Johnson, reported to the state officers that someone had entered his room while he was asleep and stolen $350, a diamond ring and other things from his trousers. There was considerable of a hullabaloo when he was similarly robbed last February.

John came after the state officers again this week end to help him out—and he says he has been in fear of his life since the first robbery—over a letter, postmarked at Webster, that he has received. The letter was typewritten. It threatened his life, and informed him that no matter how many [illegible] he kept about his home, the [illegible] gang would kill him. To make the matter impressive the writer drew an outline of a man with his head off, and also a fearsome dagger.

With this material in hand Danielson state officers started checking up John's troubles again. Among other things they found, by comparisons, that the letter was written on a typewriter in John's own home, and not only that but a sheet of paper used in the typewriter as a sort of buffer under the original copy, and bearing some imprints of the original.

Now, may it seem so at first glance, John did not write the letter to himself. Olimbia Beca, 36, a woman whose husband was killed when run down by an automobile some time ago, lives next door. She has children. John has been more or less friendly with her. When accused of writing the letter, because of the fact she had gone over to John's a few days ago to use the typewriter, she denied the charge, but her daughter, 12, and a boy, a relative, 13, who lives with Mrs. Beca, both being with her when she went to the John home to use the typewriter, say she did write the letter, and that she sent the little girl to Webster to mail it for her. Her arrest is anticipated as an early development of the week.

WEDDING

Reed—Scudder

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Reed of Hawkins street have returned from Upper Montclair, N. J., where they spent the past week to attend the marriage of a relative, Eugene M. Reed, of New York, and Miss Kathleen J. Scudder, whose parents are engaged in missionary work at the present time in one of the most perturbed sections of India. Only immediate relatives of the contracting couple and their close friends attended the ceremony.

The wedding was at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Page Haselton, and she was given in marriage by her brother. She was attended by her sister, Miss Helen Scudder. Miss Jeanne Haselton, a niece, was flower girl. Arnold H. Nichols was best man. The marriage rites were performed by Rev. Charles Scudder, an uncle of the bride, and a resident of New Brunswick, N. J.

The bride is a graduate of Wellesley, class of 1926, the groom a graduate of Yale in the class of 1920.

After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Reed will make their home in Cleveland, to which city Mr. Reed, who is with the Aetna Insurance Co., recently has been transferred from New York.

Mr. Reed is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Reed of New York, formerly of Danielson. He is a graduate of Killingly high school.

OBITUARY

Carl C. Nielsen

Carl C. Nielsen died last night after a long illness at his home in the Connecticut Village section of Danielson. He had been a resident of Danielson for a considerable term of years. Mr. Nielsen was a native of Copenhagen, Denmark, but resident in this country for a long time. He was born Aug. 30, [illegible]. By trade he was a shoemaker, but had not engaged at that occupation in recent years.

In addition to his wife, Mr. Nielsen leaves two sons, William, of Marlboro, Mass., and James, of Minneapolis. There are also four daughters—Mrs. Louise Milbradt, St. Paul, and Rosa, Lillian and Alice, of Danielson. He also leaves a sister, resident in Illinois.

FUNERAL

Miss Minnie Green

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson on the West Side, where she had made her home for the past two years, funeral services for Miss Minnie Green, a life-long resident of Jewett City, were conducted by Rev. Foster J. Armstrong of the Danielson Baptist church. Burial was in Jewett City cemetery. Bearers were Samuel Ford, Murray E. Potter, Mr. Carter, Harley Kennedy, Thomas Marlow and Elmer Keane. L. E. Kennedy was in charge of the arrangements.

Nelson I. Woodmansee

From the home in the Horse Hill district of the town Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the funeral of Nelson Irving Woodmansee, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Woodmansee, was held with services at the cemetery in South Killingly at 2 p. m. Rev. Henry Coolidge, pastor of the Congregational church at South Killingly, was the officiating clergyman. The funeral arrangements were in charge of L. E. Kennedy.

At the week end, in the Girls' club rooms, a whist was conducted by the Canada association of Danielson, and a very enjoyable evening experienced by all attending. At whist, honors were won by Mrs. Rachel Phaneuff, by Mrs. Bertha Dion of Taftville and Louis Bernier. There was dancing during the evening, and a feature of this period was the solo dancing of Georgette Maynard, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Maynard of Brooklyn. Various other features were introduced to make the occasion a very pleasant one.

President Francis E. Storer of the Thames Bank and Trust Co. of Norwich, and Mrs. Storer, left their home here today for a motor trip to Lenox, Mass., to visit with one of their two sons who is a student in a private school there.

Following temperatures running into the 90's, a light frost was reported in the Danielson area this morning, and a very considerable frost Saturday morning, when the mercury was down to 40 degrees just before sunrise. There was no damage reported to blossomed fruit trees.

There has been what amounts to close to an epidemic of aeroplanes over Danielson over the week end, and that just seems to be becoming so common that no one is going to pay much attention to them any more, unless one should happen to drop in one's back yard.

It is expected that oiling of Danielson streets will be completed during the week. Operations will be resumed Monday, weather permitting. Workers in the town's highway department are now concerned with clearing the oiled streets of stones in the sand and gravel used in covering the oil.

On Tuesday, Moses Berthiaume, Sr., and Arthur Viens will leave here as delegates from Court Oak Grove, F. of A., to attend the annual convention of the Foresters of America at Bridgeport.

Danielson's Booster day, on Saturday, attracted many out-of-town people to Danielson, though the influx of buyers from other communities was not up to what business men anticipated it might be.

In no spring in a decade has the development of foliage and of flowering trees and plants been so rapid or prolific as within the past week, and the countryside was a marvel of beauty and blossom today, and enjoyed by thousands of motorists riding through this section.

The periodical Well Child conference here is to be held Tuesday afternoon, 2 to 4 o'clock, at the Connecticut Light and Power Co. building.

Residents of this community have watched the weather, day by day, since Good Friday, for a real old-fashioned rain, that had not materialized up to sunset tonight, when there was no promise of it in the immediate future.

James Moran and Francis McDonald are on a motor trip to Washington, D. C. They will be away for about a week.

Within the next few weeks residents of the borough of Danielson will be asked in special borough meeting to approve a proposal calling for the purchase of an additional pumper for the fire department, that Danielson may have better protection from fire disaster than it now possesses.

Henry C. McGruder of Fall River motored here today for a visit with relatives.

Chief John McFarland, who is as patient with operators of motor vehicles as almost any police officer one could name off-hand, issues warning that drivers had better keep the speed of their machines down going through the business section, unless they prefer a summons to court. And this is fair warning.

Many people did pleasant things this Sunday to make the annual observance of Mother's day something more than a name. Danielson homes in which some special thing was done to make mother happy were very numerous.

Next Thursday—May 15—is Straw Hat day, which is something else again. Many men take this date as a deadline for donning straw hats, while to others it is just another day. But watch the straw hats blossom during the week.

Joseph Billings of Dayville showed a beautiful brook trout, weighing a pound and a half, today, that he caught in an angling expedition Saturday. This is one more bit of proof for those who doubt the fact that brown trout are to be had in streams not distant from Danielson, and beauties if you know how.

PUTNAM

MAY TRY PUTNAM ROBBERS IN SUPERIOR COURT WEDNESDAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, May 11—If present plans are carried out, Edward Gildard, 22, of School street and Emile Brenek, 22, of Jewett City and Putnam, who are under arrest on charges of breaking and entering and theft and being held at the state police barracks at Danielson, will be arraigned before Judge Arthur F. Ells in superior court in this city Wednesday to stand trial. The arraignment will be made on bench warrants, it was said Saturday morning.

Both Brenek and Gildard were presented before Judge M. H. Geissler in city court in this city Saturday morning. A warrant charging them with a series of robberies committed in Putnam and various towns in the eastern portion of the county, was read by Prosecuting Attorney Eric H. Johnson and later upon his request, Judge Geissler ordered the case against the two men continued indefinitely. Upon the adjournment of city court, the two were taken in care of Officer Scranton to North Grosvenordale and brought before Justice P. P. Tourtellotte, in the town court at Thompson.

POLICE SEEKING SPURIOUS CHECK PASSER IN PUTNAM

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, May 11—County Detective Rowe H. Wheeler of Willimantic was in Putnam Saturday morning in connection with the investigation of reports that a man styling himself William Smith, wanted by police in numerous Connecticut cities on charges of fraud, is operating in this section. Detective Wheeler learned that Smith had attempted to cash a worthless check at the National bank in Plainfield this week, and knowing Smith to be exceedingly cautious of attracting the suspicions of officials, came here to warn bank treasurers and chain store managers to post a sharp watch for any appearance the bogus check passer might make. Photographs of checks which Smith passed in other cities, were exhibited to each banker and to many business men in the city, in order that they might make mental note of the style of handwriting on the spurious drafts.

Detective Wheeler said that Smith uses several aliases in his profession, one characteristic which is making his apprehension difficult. When last seen, Smith was described as being about 5 feet, 10 inches, in height, weighing about 140 pounds and was bearing a brown suit and a soft felt hat. Being careful about his personal appearance, Smith is particularly attractive and his cultured manners easily enable him to deceive those with whom he carries on his fraudulent transactions.

Since the development of the case, Detective Wheeler has found traces of Smith's operations in Norwich, Plainfield, Danielson and Willimantic, where the worthless notes, bearing his handwriting have been found, in banks and chain grocery stores.

Bankers and merchants throughout eastern Connecticut are urged to maintain a careful lookout for the man whose negotiations with bankers and store keepers have already illicitly netted him several hundred dollars.

Late this afternoon Lieut. Ross V. Urquhart of the state police barracks at Danielson reported that Smith had attempted to pass for deposit a spurious note on the Moosup Trust company at Moosup Friday afternoon. According to the police report, Smith entered the bank and presented a check drawn on the Pheonix Bank and Trust company of Hartford, written of $35. It was his intention to open an account at the bank, using the worthless check for an initial deposit. His plans were exploded when he sought to draw a substantial portion of the "money" deposited, for the bank officials immediately became wary of the transaction and informed Smith that it would first be necessary for the check to go through the regular channels of deposit before they would be able to credit any amount to his account.

In order to defer suspicion, Smith smiled and left the banking rooms saying that he would await the return order. The valueless check was turned over to the authorities and a search for Smith was immediately started. Handwriting on the check passed on the Moosup bank and the penmanship on other worthless checks found in eastern Connecticut banks and stores during the past month compared favorably enough to establish the fact that it is the work of the same man in every instance.

Lieut. Urquhart said that Smith is in possession of check books on two different banks, one the Pheonix Bank and Trust company in Hartford and the other on the Thames National Bank and Trust company of Norwich.

Enchanting music, the beautiful gowns of the school girls and young ladies, the picturesque formation of a long line of marching couples, made during the grand march, and the appropriately decorated drill shed of the state armory on Harris street, scene of the affair, all contributed to make the junior promenade, of the class of 1931, Putnam high school, which was held Friday evening, the most outstanding social event held this season. From a financial standpoint, the prom was without doubt, the most successful held in many years. At an early hour, the large hall of the armory was filled to capacity with dancers and interested onlookers and concert lovers.

The grand march, the feature attraction of the evening, was led by Weston Wallen, class president and Miss Therese St. George, class vice president. More than 50 couples took part in the march which was excellently carried out. The hall was prettily decorated in streamers of black and yellow, class colors. Music for the occasion was furnished by Bob Macdonald and his orchestra of Woonsocket, R. I.

The patrons and patronesses were: Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Leon M. Farrin, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Lauriston F. Noyes, Miss Abbie H. Keith, Miss Edith Kent, Miss Hannah Pease, Miss Ethel Spooner, Miss Elizabeth Smith, Miss Winifred Duffee, Miss Marjorie C. McGillicuddy, Miss Sara C. Barber, Miss Jeanette Jacques, Mr. Francis Curran, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Harry Wallen, Mrs. Socher, Miss Therese St. George. One side of the hall was specially decorated and arranged with chairs for the patrons and patronesses.

The Putnam units of the Windham County Republican association will fire the opening guns of the 1930 state campaign of the party, when the local organization gathers in Odd Fellows hall Wednesday afternoon, May 14, at 2:30 o'clock, to listen to talks by state republican leaders and to arrange for the campaign work to be held in other towns in this district. The meeting will be open to all men and women of Putnam and surrounding towns, interested in the republican principles of government, who are invited to attend with friends. A programme of music to be rendered by the Putnam high school orchestra, under the leadership of Nelson Frink, director of music in Putnam schools, has been arranged and refreshments will be served.

Through the efforts of Miss Katherine Byrne, vice chairman of the state

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

This is the day that marks the opening of the campaign for the Salvation Army in this city. It is an appeal for $[illegible] for the purpose of meeting the expenses for the ensuing year. In the provision of the funds which will permit this organization to continue to render to the community the services which it has come to expect over a period of years, the people of Norwich have reason to be interested.

The Salvation Army has come to be a [illegible]. It is engaged in work of a [illegible] similar to and yet different from other organizations, a work which it is [illegible] fitted to perform and which it has shown it does with remarkably good results. It has long [illegible] been recognized that the Salvation Army succeeds where others fail. It [illegible] on the job.

It is not difficult to obtain the [illegible] of prominent citizens in raising the needed funds for the Salvation Army and no more difficulty should be experienced in getting public [illegible] for the good cause.

The Salvation Army is well established here and there is point to the argument that if it is to do efficent work in accomplish what is expected of it it should not only have the necessary financial backing but should know in advance that it is available and not be required to spend much of its time throughout the year soliciting for expenses. Up to a few years ago it was the practice of the Army officials to carry on this work whenever time permitted or when the occasion seemed the most favorable. It was unbusinesslike and unsatisfactory. The idea of conducting a campaign similar in character to other organizations has been adopted and from the results in past years it would appear that it has the approval of the community.

Certainly Norwich has good reason to [illegible] its endorsement to the work that is being done by the Salvation Army day in and day out. The opportunity for it to do so is being presented this week. Inasmuch as it is generally approved and applauded it can be expected that it will be generally aided. It is through the contributions of the [illegible] that the sum sought in any campaign is more easily raised, and from the number of friends that the Salvation Army has there should be no difficulty in reaching the goal.

THE DRY-WET POLL

While there was advice given to dry organizers not to participate in any [illegible] prohibition, it doesn't appear that such advice is being followed in the states of Kansas, Arkansas, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Tennessee. According to the last poll in the Literary Digest, the majority of the votes in these states are for enforcement of the dry law. They are the only states that have voted bone dry, but they outnumber the states that have voted for repeal. Of these there are only three, Connecticut, New Jersey and Rhode Island, the first and last of which are the only two states which have not ratified the 18th amendment.

If these eight states were the only ones participating, the expression could be considered a dry one, although the margin for enforcement over the combined modification and repeal vote in four of the five dry states is small.

On the other hand, it is apparent from the votes as cast in all states, including the District of Columbia, that the sentiment of the country is for something different than enforcement. Of the more than 4,000,000 votes cast, there are nearly 1,250,000 for enforcement while the combined vote for modification and repeal, or opposition to enforcement, totals more than [illegible], or nearly two and a half to one. The number for repeal is in excess of the vote for enforcement by over 420,000, but the number for enforcement exceeds that for modification by over 16,000.

With the drys voting in the dry states it is reasonable to suppose that they are also voting in the wet states, and the conclusion to be drawn from the poll is that the sentiment is against the existing law and the conditions which have developed under prohibition. It is impossible that the votes of [illegible] people can be obtained without throwing light upon the attitude that is being displayed toward the dry question. The states showing a majority for enforcement have been showing an increase, though the margin is [illegible] in certain instances. On the other hand, there are states which are approaching the majority against enforcement though there is no certainty that it will be reached. Possibly the drys will get some satisfaction in the latest figures from the fact that it was the first time that the total enforcement vote was in excess of the vote for modification.

TEXAS RIOTING

It was somewhat out of the ordinary for the governor of Texas to be asked by a London newspaper by telephone if such occurrences as that at Sherman are usual. The governor was able to reply that they are not, and in that response he will be supported by fact, but he was probably well aware of the fact that Texas has displayed much the same sort of lynching spirit on plenty of previous occasions.

Burning a courthouse in order to get possession of a Negro is not usual, since the mob doesn't often experience that resistance when seeking a black man accused of a crime, and calling out the militia is not usual since more often a culprit is tied to a stake and burned before there's a chance to offer military opposition.

That Sherman went wild in this instance there can be no question. Whether the fire and the horrible death of the Negro should have been prevented by the troops that were brought into use is going to be an interesting question for the Texas authorities to answer. The impression has been created that if different methods had been employed, if as much force had been used by the militia as was done by the mob, the black man would have been protected and the rioting prevented. The result is that Sherman and Texas have experienced a blot that is world wide.

Putting the town under martial law should serve to bring about the reestablishment of order, provided action is taken that the situation calls for, but the time is ripe for the state to bring to justice those who played the leading parts in creating the conditions there. This is a matter which cannot be neglected. It may well cause the governor much concern for, if the rioting at Sherman is to go unpunished it can be expected that it will develop elsewhere when similar conditions develop, and if it does it will not be possible for the governor to tell the inquiring London newspapermen that it is not usual for Texas to tolerate such affairs. Texas has reason to want to show by its action that such conditions are not usual and that it doesn't intend that they shall become so.

TROLLEY AND AUTO JUMPERS

Waterbury is having considerable trouble with boys who ride on the back of trolley cars. One of them was struck by an auto when he jumped off and was seriously injured. Apparently this is a practice to which many of the lads who ought to know better are resorting because it is impossible for the motormen to know they are there, and who are unable to do much about preventing it even though they do know it.

Those who steal such rides place themselves in a dangerous position much the same as those who jump onto the rear of autos. Certain youngsters make it a practice to grab the rear bumper or spare tire of a car as it rounds a corner and hang on until it gets back to the next block. If traffic is heavy and there are numerous cars it is not an enviable position which the lad occupies. When he jumps he makes all speed to get away from the following car. It is true that he succeeds in most instances but, like the Waterbury young man, there are times when he cannot anticipate what is coming back of him or in the other direction.

It is an easy matter to declare that such a practice should be stopped but it is not as easy to accomplish it. There's no telling when it is going to develop. Usually the youngsters yield to temptation on the spur of the moment and without thinking of any consequences. Their aim is to get a ride, to do a stunt, to have some fun, and yet it is cases of that kind that are the cause of too many of the needless accidents and fatalities.

Those who have tried understand the difficulty of impressing the danger of such acts upon boys who are old enough to know better, but it is only by constant reminders of such perils that all who can contribute to the prevention can be made to keep them in mind. Conditions in the highways are serious enough without having them made worse by such needless and dangerous practices.

JERSEY PROSPECTS

Eyes are being turned upon New Jersey this week because of the political situation which may develop. That state is facing a senatorial campaign in which more than usual conditions are possible.

Former Senator Frelinghuysen has not only announced that he is a candidate on the republican side, but he has declared that he will enter the contest as a wet. This is a right-about face. Previously he has been an ardent dry.

This week it is expected that Ambassador Morrow will make his announcement as a candidate for the senatorial nomination, also on the republican ticket, and at that time it is expected he will disclose what his attitude is going to be on the wet and dry question. As New Jersey is a wet state this question is of much importance to any and all candidates.

With the feeling that the republican candidates are going to be listed as wets, the announcement has been made by the Anti-Saloon league that if that is the case a dry candidate will be put into the field, in order that the dry sentiment of the state may have a chance to express itself. Rumors have it that Congressman Franklin W. Fort will declare himself as such a dry candidate if such seems advisable. This will mean a three-cornered republican fight. With two wets against a dry it will mean that the wet vote in the republican ranks, which is conceded to be the larger, will be split. Just how no one knows, but it may be divided in such a manner that the dry candidate would prove to be successful. This would mean a contest, in all probability. With a wet democrat and with New Jersey wet, such a contest would be most unusual if it did not result in the choice of the democrat. Whether this possible outcome will be sufficiently recognized in advance to cause a shifting of efforts hangs in the balance.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The man on the corner says: May must be suffering from intermittent fever.

That there are horrors of war is true. But there are also daily horrors of the highway.

If the abnormal and unnecessary heat of May could be canned, concentrated, preserved or otherwise so treated that it could be drawn upon next January, there would be more rejoicing.

The idea of making the audience at forest fires take a hand in the fighting is one that might come in handy for city fire departments when handicapped by traffic jams and facing stubborn, smoky, hot fires

STEEL AND BULLDOGS

"If I could sell our Acme steel to Harrison Fogel for those three buildings he is erecting we could be married and he could get another secretary," Dick Brainerd told his sweetheart, Edith Baker.

"Mr. Fogle's mind is made up and you know you might just as well try to run your car with water in your gasoline tank as to try to change it," she said.

"What gets me," said Dick, "is that he won't even let me show him our product and consider our proposition."

"He has always used National and found it satisfactory, and the National company's president is a life-long friend of his."

"What of it? Our steel is new, but it is superior and we could save Mr. Fogel $20,000 on the three jobs. Oh, if I could only get an audience with him."

"But you cannot; haven't I told you time and again that he is convinced no one knows more about building material than he?"

"For a penny I'd beard the old bulldog in his office and make him listen to me!"

"Please don't do that, Dick. If I were to let you in, he would just order you out, and then he would discharge me. You know how cranky he is."

Dick grumbled until Edith changed the subject. She had been Harrison Fogel's secretary for seven years. Dick had asked her to marry him a year before, but he said he would not think of making her his wife until he could provide her with the kind of home they wanted.

After Dick said he had a notion to beard Mr. Fogel, Edith did a lot of thinking.

"Dick," she said to him over the telephone the next day. "Mr. Fogel has a hobby he's so enthusiastic about he will stop anything he's doing to talk about it even with strangers."

"Yeah?" from Dick, "and what is it?"

"Bulldogs."

"He would like them, but what's that got to do with you and me?"

"Listen, young man, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon I shall be out for awhile. You will walk in on Mr. Fogel unannounced and present yourself as an expert dog fancier. In the meantime you will learn all you can about bulldogs. If you fall down I shall be away anyhow."

They spent the evening together working out their plan carefully.

Mr. Fogel was in a particularly crabby mood when he returned from lunch the next day. Edith tried to reach Dick by telephone to warn him to stay away, but he was out and had left no word as to his whereabouts. Oh, well, there were many reasons why the chance was worth taking, so at 3 she got permission to step out.

"It's just a short distance to my kennels, Mr. Fogel," she heard Dick saying as she returned. "My car is right in front. You must see these dogs."

When Mr. Fogel and Dick emerged from Mr. Fogel's sanctum Edith feared her employer would hear her heart beating. Dick winked slyly. Edith gave him a twisted smile of encouragement. Mr. Fogel did not return that afternoon, but the following morning he closed the contract with the Acme.

"Young Dick Brainerd and his wife are wizards," Mr. Fogel liked to relate afterward. "Did you ever hear of the deal they put over on me? She was my secretary and his fiancee. He wanted to sell me Acme steel, and I wouldn't even see him, didn't know him by sight. She tipped off to him my weakness for bulldogs, and he came right into my office talking about them.

"He made me believe he knew his dogs, then invited me to his kennels. I went with him and landed at the Acme foundry, where he almost forced me to examine their product. He saved me $20,00 and gave me better steel than I intended to buy, but if I had known it was all in a plot to steal my secretary he never would have got away with it—$20,000 wasn't enough. The Acme people will have to save me a lot more before I am even."—Exchange.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 11—If history discloses a time when anything similar to the present roll of pre-primary voluntary casualties among senators existed, the Bystander has been unable to find the record.

Look 'em over. Four sitting senators have announced their decision not to run for re-election. They are Gillett of Massachusetts, Gould of Maine, Phipps of Colorado and Goff of West Virginia, all republicans and "old guard" republicans at that.

Going a bit farther, there are the cases of Ambassadors Edge, some time senator from New Jersey, and Sackett, former senator from Kentucky. They also were stalwarts of the regular republican wing in the senate.

And no Washington political observer doubts that the difficulties each faded in the coming primaries or bye-elections had a lot to do with their acceptance of transfers to the less vexing and uncertain field of diplomatic service.

Significance

So here are six faces well known on the republican side which will be missing from the senate when the 72nd congress convenes; two having already vanished to beam upon folks in Paris and Berlin respectively. That seems a surprisingly large number of voluntary retirements from senate honors, particularly when they all come from one party and were aligned with the same faction of that party during their senate service. What significance, if any, is to be attached to it all? There's a lot of meat in it for the host of Washington political horoscope casters.

Record

The veteran Gillett, rising 80 and with 39 years of service in house and senate behind him, conceivably could be retiring because of age. Yet Gillett is the halest, heartiest octogenarian the Bystander has ever observed. He's like those retired army and navy officers who find life still an exciting adventure at 90.

Possibly, respect for his own unblemished record of political victory that goes back to 1890 had more to do with Gillett's decision than his weight of years.

Gould came very late in life to his political adventure. He will be 74 when he retires next March after five years filling the place of the late Senator Fernald. His previous political experience was one term in the Maine senate, 1921-22. Presumably he has cultivated no taste for the game, particularly for off year campaigning. It is heavy and often thankless work.

Goff drops out because of health. Yet two years ago he was a candidate for the presidential nomination, no doubt with vice presdental hopes actually in mind. There were many such hopes in the senate in 1928.

Phipps to whom politics has seemed just the relaxation of a tired and retired—and very successful—business man, is just tired even of that by his own say so.

YOUR HEALTH

Save Fuel and Save Health

By Emery R. Hayhurst, M. D., Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio. (From Gorgas Memorial Institute)

"Variation is the spice of life," said Cowper and this applies to one's environment as well as to his actions. Biological life really lives on variation, because variation produces stimulation without which life would soon cease.

In heating the home one may have variation, promote health, and save fuel by a number of simple means. The general house temperature should not exceed 60 degrees to 68 degrees. Temperatures from 68 degrees to 75 degrees are fine for relaxation and snoozing but are too comforting and depressing for mental and physical activities. Stimulation comes then in passing from rooms of one temperature to those of another.

Rooms requiring more than 60 degrees heat should be provided with local sources of heat such as fireplaces, gas stoves, electric heaters, etc. If possible, such local auxiliary heat should be of the radiant kind, that is, from a glowing source and the hotter the better.

One builds health by getting at night the invigorating properties of cool, fresh air in the bedroom, especially where one's daily work keeps him confined within doors.

Proper insulation of the house is a tremendous factor in saving fuel. Double (or storm) windows and doors, calking up loose window and door frames, and flooring the attic, from which cold, heavy air tends to settle down into the rooms below, accomplish this. Nor do these measures shut out ventilation too much for chimney openings, fire places, and the very walls themselves permit enough air exchange to prevent sickness. Recirculation of the heated air within the house, even from the basement to upstairs, effects a great conservation of heat and keeps the interior warmer.

Heat is well saved in a room by placing two heating sources at opposite sides of the room, such as a grate on one side and furnace register or radiator on the other. This avoids "cold on one side and hot on the other" which may promote sickness.

Much fuel can be saved by getting the heat out of the furnace. Set an electric fan in, or in front of the cold air intake (which should always be from within the house and not from the outside air), and run it for an hour or so at a time on cold days. The result will usually be surprising.

Finally, thermometers are indispensable in more ways than one. They correct false impressions, settle disputes, and warm people (Americans especially) of the prevailing custom of over-heating rooms.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORY

Danny Has a Fight

Be he wrong or be he right,
The coward runs; he will not fight.
—Danny Meadow Mouse.

Danny Meadow Mouse had gone right past the old tin can in which Nanny Meadow Mouse had escaped from Flip the Terrier. You see, Danny didn't know she was there. He was in a hurry, was Danny. Those little legs of his were moving very fast for such a little fellow.

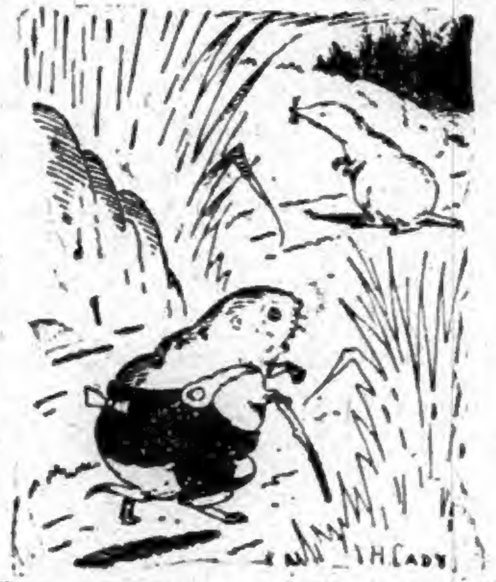
"Oh dear!" said Danny. "I haven't the least idea where Nanny has gone. I do hope that dog didn't get her I don't think he did, but he must have given her a terrible fright. There is no knowing where she has gone. If only there were some nice little runways all cut, I would know better where to go. Ah, here is a little path! Some other Mouse must have made it. Perhaps Nanny found this."

It was easier going in this little path, and Danny scampered along thinking of nothing but catching up with Nanny. He didn't even think of danger to himself. He wanted Nanny and Nanny was all he could think about.

Danny traveled until he grew tired. Then he found a tussock of grass. There was new grass, but there was also a lot of old grass, which was more or less hiding place and there Danny took a long rest. It was dusk when Danny finally started on again. He didn't know where he was going. He wanted to find Nanny, but he had no idea where to look for her. So he began to wander about aimlessly. Now and then he stopped for a bite to eat. Somehow, Danny felt as lonesome as ever he had felt in all his life.

He was wandering along a little path made long before by some other Meadow Mouse. Presently he came to a place where another path joined this one. Just as he reached it he heard a little sound and he looked up this little path to see a small person that at first glance he thought was a young Mole. He was going to pass without so much as saying "How do you do" when this little stranger made a sudden rush at him, fairly knocking Danny off his feet. Now, Danny Meadow Mouse is a chunky little fellow and when he has to fight he is a very good fighter. This stranger was smaller than Danny and Danny hadn't the least doubt that he would soon make this stranger take to his heels.

That was Danny's mistake. This stranger, whom it just happens Danny had never before met, was Blarina the Shrew. This is the Shrew with the short tail. Often he is mistaken for a small Mole. You know that was the mistake Danny had made at first. It didn't take Danny a second to scramble to his feet after he was knocked over. Never in all his life had he been more angry. He was filled with rage.



He was going to pass without so much as saying "How do you do?"

"I'll fix you for that!" he squeaked. "Yes, sir, I'll fix you!"

Blarina paid no heed to this. He was himself chattering angrily. Instead of turning and running, he made a little rush to meet Danny. Then they were locked together, biting and kicking. Danny found this stranger surprisingly quick, with surprisingly sharp teeth. Presently they separated. Then they came together again with another little rush. Danny found the fur of this stranger very thick and very soft. It was hard for him to bite through it. Meanwhile, the stranger was making his own teeth felt and you may be sure Danny didn't like it a bit. It wasn't long before Danny realized that, though this stranger was smaller than he, he was a better fighter.

Danny began to feel tired. He felt more and more tired. Blarina did not seem to tire at all. Danny was thinking now of nothing but a chance to get away. So when at last he tore himself loose, Danny took to his heels. My my, how he did run!

CHILD TRAINING

The Broken Windshield

Lucy Chandler Fuller

One day when John and Peter were on a picnic they accidentally broke the windshield of Peter's uncle's car. The two boys were trying to hit an abandoned bird's nest in a tree near which the car was parked. They each threw a stone, and, as bad luck would have it, both stones instead of hitting the target went through the windshield of the car.

The boys were terrified at what they had done. Peter hesitated a moment and then ran to find his uncle. "Uncle Harry, I didn't mean to do it! I didn't mean to do it!" he cried.

"Do what?" asked Peter's uncle in amazement.

Uncle Harry was very angry when he understood about the accident. "It may cost ten dollars to have that replaced," he said between his teeth.

"Do you think father will whip me?" asked Peter.

"You had better go and tell him and find out," advised Uncle Harry who looked as if he would like to do the whipping himself.

Peter ran off to find his father just as John's father appeared on the scene. "Who broke that windshield?" he shouted at his son who was retreating behind a bush.

"I don't know," said John.

"You do know," shouted his father, rage in his voice. "You and Peter threw stones right at it. I'll teach you to lie and to smash other people's property!"

So saying, he grabbed his son by the collar and gave him about the worst whipping he had ever had. When his wrath was exhausted he turned to Peter's uncle. "When you find out what the damage is, let me know and I'll settle for John's share in it."

In another part of the woods the following conversation was taking place. Peter had told his father of the accident. "Are you going to whip me?" he asked.

"Would whipping you mend that glass?" asked his father.

"No," replied Peter, wondering what form his punishment would take.

"You're not a baby any more," continued the boy's father. "Don't you know that when you damage another person's property the only thing you can do is to try to repair the damage?"

"You mean pay for the new glass?" returned Peter. "Uncle said it would cost ten dollars."

But when the bill came in, it was eleven dollars. Peter's share was therefore five dollars and a half. He turned the contents of his bank over to his uncle but that amounted to only one dollar and a half. There was still four dollars to be paid.

Peter had started to save up for a bicycle. How he hated to see his first dollar and a half go, and how hard it was to put every cent he got toward the plate glass bill! All the rest of that summer Peter worked. He was only a small boy and no one wanted to pay him very much for the things he could do. He went without candy and chewing-gum and a new ball which he wanted very badly. He knew that he must pay his debt before he could spend money for anything else. The day before school opened Peter gave his uncle the last fifty cents.

"Well, you're all paid up now, Peter," said Uncle Harry. "It's been a hard job but I guess you'll think twice hereafter before you choose a target."

I'm sure Peter learned a lesson but I wonder if John feels any more respect towards other people's property now than he did before the accident happened.

Stories That Recall Others

His Tribute

Joe had been reading the absorbing stories of Greek mythology, with the draperies of the somewhat scantily clad beauties of the olden times floating across the pages. So when he happened to come upon his mother in a filmy negligee, he looked at her indulgently, and said: "You little nymph!"

No Census

An elderly and somewhat befuddled woman appeared at her door one morning in response to the knock of the census man.

"Good day, madam, I've called to get your census," he politely explained.

After a moment's hesitation she said: "Why, mister, I ain't got no census."

BIG "HUNTING PINK" BALL WILL CLIMAX HORSE SHOW

WASHINGTON, May 11.— (AP) — "Hunting pink" will be the order of the evening at the ball to be given May 17 as a climax to the national capital horse show.

Men riders will wear tailed coats of pink broadcloth with their hunting colors ornamenting the lapels. Prizes will be awarded the man and woman wearing the smartest and most appropriate riding togs.

Col. "Billy" Mitchell received the men's prize at last year's ball. It was a silver cigaret case.

Parisians' Flowers

PARIS, May 11.—(AP)—Some of the advance guard of well-dressed cosmopolitan women here have taken to carrying bunches of real flowers with their spring afternoon and evening toilettes.

At the Ritz at the tea hour recently a woman wearing a yellow printed chiffon ensemble carried a nosegay of yellow daffodils and a large yellow chiffon kerchief.

Victorian bouquets, in holders surrounded by paper lace to protect long gloves, are revived by florists here as theatre bouquets for young girls.

Orchids are the chosen evening flower.

A HISTORY OF CONNECTICUT INDUSTRY

Released by Manufacturers Association of Connecticut

Organized and incorporated June 23, 1890, with a capital of $25,000, the H. A. Matthews Mfg. company of Seymour, has witnessed and been a party to many changes in the industrial fabric of the state and has experienced a healthy growth to a capitalization of $400,000 and a position among the leaders of the metal working industry.

The company was founded by Mr. Matthews, an experienced sheet metal worker of Waterbury, with the financial aid of Franklin Farrel of the Farrel Machine company of Ansonia and five prominent residents of Seymour: Carlos French, Edmund Day, James Swan, L. T. Wooster and W. H. H. Wooster. Although Mr. Matthews was associated with the organization only three years, the business has still retained his name and it is interesting to note also that heirs or relatives of at least four of the original stockholders are still financially interested in the business.

Sheet metal stampings, including a line of stove parts, were the first products of the company, augmented four years later by a line of bicycle parts to supply the rapidly increasing demand for the "safety bicycle" which at that time replaced the high wheeler. Bicycle parts are still made in large numbers, and in addition, the company has kept pace with developments in the automobile, radio and aeroplane industries and numbers many manufacturers in those fields among its steady customers.

There have been troubles, of course, including a short strike; one or two minor floods and a disastrous fire in 1911, with a loss of over $100,000, but each year has marked some progress, including the years of the World war, when countless thousands of projectile bands were produced by an enlistment-crippled staff.

Recently (in September 1929), The H. A. Matthews Mfg. company and its associated operating company, The Seymour Products company, purchased the luggage hardware department of The Bassett Metal Goods company of Shelton, a purchase which greatly increases the business and field of operation of the Seymour company. The present factory of the company occupies about 35,000 square feet of floor space and has a sales office in New York city.

The present officers are: F. S. Jerome, president; John Swan, vice president; C. S. Boies, treasurer; B. H. Matthies, secretary and assistant treasurer; H. R. Naylor, general manager.

No Shock to the System

New laxative safe and dependable for people of all ages . . .

If in your fight against constipation you have been continually increasing your doses—changing from pills to salts and back to pills for relief—you will welcome this interesting discovery of modern science.

Uniform "internal distribution" is now known to be essential to the successful operation of any laxative. It is internal distribution which is the secret of the success of the remarkable laxative known as Feen-a-mint—the modern chewing gum laxative.

Because you chew Feen-a-Mint it is effective in milder doses than ordinary laxatives. For the effectiveness of a laxative is not so much dependent upon the QUANTITY swallowed as upon the thoroughness of ITS DISTRIBUTION THROUGHOUT THE AILMENTARY TRACT.

While you chew this delicious bit of gum, the tasteless laxative it contains is gradually released and mixed with the saliva. Thus it is carried to the intestinal tract smoothly, evenly, without shock to the system or the distressing after-effects so common with old-fashioned laxatives. Each particle of the laxative in Feen-a-mint works with utmost efficiency, gently encouraging the intestinal muscles to resume the activity so necessary for healthful elimination.

The action of Feen-a-mint is thorough, gentle, dependable. With the proper dosage, it is not necessary to increase the amount of Feen-a-mint you take nor to switch to another laxative for a change. Feen-a-mint is harmless and contains no habit-forming drugs. Truly the HEALTH LAXATIVE. Ask for a package at any drug store.—Adv.

POETRY

God's Way Is Right

Free Translation from the German of Rodigast.

What God does, that is surely right,
For perfect is His will;
Whilst He my pathway ordereth,
I glady hold me still.
For He, my God, shall in my need
My guide and guardian be,
And nought I fear whilst this I know,
He watcheth over me.

What God does, that is surely right
He never can deceive;
Or those who in His love confide
Alone, unaided leave.
In His protection I will trust,
And patient wait the day
When at His bidding all my griefs
Shall pass for aye away.

What God does, that is surely right,
His love can never fail;
No other remedies but those
He gives me can avail
To heal my wounds, I therefore bow
Submissive to His will;
Upon His truth I build my hopes,
And trust His goodness still.

What God does, that is surely right,
He is my life and light,
Who nothing evil can ordain
To those who trust aright.
Though hidden are His dealings now,
The time fast draweth near
When all His wisdom, all His love,
Shall openly appear.

What God does, that is surely right;
Gives he a bitter cup?
I will not fear, but at His word
Obedient drink it up.
The day shall surely dawn at last,
When peach shall overflow
My aching heart, and all my wounds
His healing touch shall know.

What God does, that is surely right,
This truth will I maintain;
Yea, though my path in life should prove
Rough, thorny, full of pain,
My heavenly Father's arm shall be
My never-failing stay,
And nought I fear whilst this I know,
He ordereth all my way.

—Isabella M. Mortimer in Golden Hours.

For A Day's End

When we glance backward on the stream
Of troubled waters, we shall see
Bright reaches rippling, gleam on gleam,
And sinister turned silvery

And do we ask of time to say
Why darkness shines resplendent so,
She answers: trouble has a way
Of catching light, no calm hours know.

—T. Morris Longstretch in Christian Science Monitor.

Ice on airplane wings, the cause of many accidents, may lose much of its terror with the aid of a new warning device developed at the bureau of standards. It does not prevent the formation of ice, but gives the pilot warning, by the shining of a red light on his instrument board when conditions are such that ice is likely to form. Then he can take proper precautions, either landing, or going into a warmer layer of air.

Turkeylike birds once nested in the region now occupied by the city of Los Angeles, Cal. This fact has been brought to light in the course of a review of the ice age birds of Rancho La Brea tar pits in the collections of the Los Angeles Museum. The review was undertaken by Dr. Hildegarde Howard, of the museum, for the purpose of establishing a census of the birds of the region. It was found that of about 500 individuals of the extinct, turkeylike bird, Parapavo, represented in these collections, more than 150 were young birds, many of them only chicks.

German scientists who are interested in the growth of friendly relations of their country with France are welcoming the announcement of the French ambassador, M. de Margerie, that his government will establish an institute in Berlin, to be the headquarters of French scientists conducting their researchers there. M. de Margerie has himself been very active in promoting the enterprise. The institute, when established, will be placed under the direction of Professor Mesnard.

After having photographed with the aid of any army airplane and camera equipment, prehistoric irrigation canals near Phoenix, Ariz., Neil M. Judd, United States National Museum archaeologist, is now tracing on the ground the ancient Indian engineering works that he discovered from the air. At altitudes of 2,000 feet, the old canals were often visible to the naked eye in cultivated fields that had been plowed over for many years. The best photographs were obtained at hights of 10,000 feet or more. Smoke and ground haze limited the useful flying time of the expedition to three hours or less at the middle of the day.

LOSING WEIGHT? MAYBE IT'S WORMS

MYSTERIOUS loss of weight may mean that your little one is harboring worms which are robbing her of nourishment. Worms are much more common than most mothers think.

Look also for the following symptoms: grinding of teeth, picking the nose, crossness, crying in sleep, offensive breath, loss of appetite, nausea or general restlessness. Any one of these signs may be your warning that worms are present.

Wise mothers take no chances with these dangerous and disgusting childhood pests. Even if worms are only suspected they give the child

GIRLS' CITY CLUB TO HAVE SWIMMING CLASS

There was a very large attendance at the meeting of the Girls' City club under the auspices of the Woman's City club Friday evening at their club room at 9 Washington street. The girls showed great interest in the exhibit of the sewing work of the United Workers. Three girls applied for membership in the club in order that they might be able to take advantage of the swimming classes. It was announced that these swimming classes would start on June 4 at the Y. M. C. A., the hour to be announced later. The members of the club are looking forward with great eagerness to the starting of this class. Plans for a big closing party to take place at their last meeting in May were made. At the conclusion of the business session, the girls spent the time in singing and playing games which were under the direction of the Misses Margaret Leith and Esther Evans, members of the Girls' Work committee of the Woman's City club.

ROVER SCOUTS ENJOYED TRIP TO BEACH POND

Through the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs, five Rover scouts accompanied Scout Executive John L. Sellman on an overnight trip Saturday to Beach pond at Voluntown and to the site of old Camp Tippecan. The scouts were extended the privilege of using the grounds and buildings by Mrs. Briggs. They were enthusiastic in their praise of the camp and the beauty of the scenery. They got there in time to witness the desrtuction of the forest fire in that region. Among the activities which occupied their time was pitching pup tents, cooking, playing games, singing, a moonlight boat ride, etc.

The purpose of the hike was to become better informed about the camping facilities at Beach pond.

Mrs. Charles Benham of Wauregan has been visiting her daughter in New London.

J. B. Brigham of East Woodstock was at Lord's Hill on business during the week.

Mrs. Fred Wilbur and Mrs. Anna Wilbur of Stonington were entertained recently at Ernest Frink's at Rice City.

Everett D. Benjamin and sons, Jerrerd, Morgan and Russell Benjamin, attended the sheepshearing contest Saturday at Eastland Farms, Pomfret Center.

Joseph Bradford, for years widely known as a book binder and blank book manufacturer doing business at 108 Broadway, is in poor health at the home of his daughter on West Thames street. Mr. Bradford will be 84 in August.

Colonel Earl Church who died in Washington and will be buried Monday in Arlington cemetery, is a cousin of Mrs. George Fuller of Laurel Hill avenue, Mrs. Fuller's father and Mr. Church's father being brothers.

DEMOCRATS WILL NAME TICKET FOR CITY ELECTION

The democratic town committee has endorsed Edward G. Moran, local attorney, as their candidate for mayor, in opposition to Mayor Lee Roy Robbins, who has been nominated for reelection by the republican party. The democatic caucus is to be held this (Monday) evening, at the town hall. Mr. Moran, who is a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy, class of 1920, Dartmouth college and Yale Law school is conducting the law office formerly owned by the late Jeremiah J. Desmond. He resides at No. 51 Otis street.

Other candidates in line for election to the common council are:

Candidates for nomination for aldermen, Lawrence E. Millea of No. 357 Main street; Joseph E. Eccles, No. 277 Prospect street.

Candidates for nomination for councilmen, Maurice W. Meyer, No. 39 Fairmont St., Joseph Pyzyk of No. 1 Hamilton avenue; J. Mileski, of Greeneville and James F. Reed of No. 40 Maple Grove avenue.

Charles S. Avery will be candidate for city treasurer and Jeremiah A. Fitzgerald the candidate for water commissioner. The latter is chairman of the democratic town committee. Philip Baumgartner of No. 22 Russell road and Charles Langlais will be the candidates for city sheriffs.

THREE HURT WHEN AUTOMOBILES COLLIDED

A woman and two children were slightly hurt in a crash between two automobiles on West Thames street at Geer avenue early Sunday night. One of the machines, owned by Addie L. Perretti, was driven by Chauncey C. Chapman, 19, who was arrested by Officers Michael F. Pounch and Patrick F. Shahan on a charge of speeding. The other machine, owned by the Uncas Motor Co., was driven by Malcolm W. Lindgren. Mrs. Ilie Edwards and two small daughters, Grace and Virginia, five and four years old, respectively, were cut and bruised. They were attended by Dr. Clarence G. Thompson.

ARMY MAN FINED ON RECKLESS DRIVING CHARGE

Francis E. Lynch, U. S. A., stationed at Fort H. G. Wright was presented before the city court Saturday morning on a charge of drunken driving. A charge of reckless driving was substituted and a fine of $25 and costs was imposed, the bill totaling $36.34. Lynch was arrested late Friday night after the machine he was driving collided with a trolley car on the foundry hill, Thamesville.

During the trial of the case it was learned that he had had but one drink prior to the crash. He has served with the army for 22 years and is a veteran of two wars. He served as a captain during the war and now holds a warrant as a master sergeant. He has a clen record in the army.

FUNERALS

Robert Cleaves

The funeral of Robert Cleaves of No. 74 North Main street was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Hourigan Brothers' funeral home, No. 35 Church street, Rev. Charles H. Ricketts, pastor of the Greeneville Congregational church, conducting the service. The burial was at Maplewood cemetery, Rev. Mr. Ricketts conducting the committal service.

The bearers were Wilfred Aborn, Leo Lacomb, J. Frias, L. Temper, all of Norwich, and Hector and N. Cournoyer of Providence. Relatives and friends from New London, Providence, Massachusetts and Maine were present and there were a number of beautiful flowers.

Miss Ruth McNaught

The funeral of Miss Ruth McNaught was held at Hartford Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock with many relatives and friends present. There were numerous beautiful floral tributes. The body was brought to this city and the interment was at Maplewood cemetery at 3:30 o'clock, Rev. Alexander H. Abbott, pastor of the United Congregational church, conducting the committal service. The bearers were Harold W. Carpenter, Joseph S. Adams, Herbert R. Kind and F. E. Crooker.

Miss McNaught, a native of Norwich, had been missing from her home in Hartford since April 17. Her body was found in the Connecticut river, near Brainard field, Saturday morning. She is thought to have committed suicide because of despondency, the result of a nervous breakdown. For some time Miss McNaught had been employed in a Hartford insurance office, having resided in Hartford for 14 years. She became ill last November. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Harold W. Carpenter of this city and Miss Maude McNaught of Boston. Undertakers Church and Allen had charge of the local funeral arrangements.

Given Birthday Surprise

A pleasant surprise in honor of her 16th birthday was given Miss Nancy Pitcher Friday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. Herbert Lawrence at East Great Plain.

Games and a candy-pull made entertainment for the evening and an over-night bag was presented to Miss Pitcher by the guests, who were the Misses Helen Spicer, Frances Young, Mary Llewellyn, Lois Durie, Nancy Pitcher, Mary Kerr, Betty Sargent, Elizabeth Whitehead, Mildred Coombies, Francis Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Gallup and William Leonard, Percy Browning, William Austin, Thomas Kerr, Leonard Royce, George Bell, Merton Tubbs, George Ranger, Lloyd Potter and Dwight Richardson.

Will Speak for Contact Club

Harold D. Larrabee, president of the Rotary club and a former president of the chamber of commerce, is to be the speaker for the luncheon meeting of the Contact club today (Monday). Russell Crowell is in charge of the programmes for this month.

DECLARES UNITED STATES IS NOW SHOWING THE WAY TO A DRY WORLD

If the advocates of prohibition are not wobblers or compromisers or quitters, we shall have a dry United States and then a dry world, for the eyes of the world are upon us, declared Rev. Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board of temperence, prohibition and morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, when he spoke Sunday evening before a congregation of between 300 and 400 at the United Congregational church at a meeting under the auspices of the Woman's Crusade of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. He added in conclusion that he expected, if he lived out his span of life, to see a whole world without a saloon.

Dr. Wilson's subject was Liquor, Labor and Law, upon which he held the close attention of his congregation after he had been introduced by Rev. Dr. David A. Pitt of the Central Baptist church who presided at the meeting. Previous to the address the congregation had sung two hymns, O God Our Help In Ages Past, and American The Beautiful; a scripture selection had been read by Rev. Joseph Cooper of Trinity Methodist church and prayer had been offered by Rev. Charles H. Ricketts, of the Greeneville Congregational church. The singing was led by Frederick J. Maples and Dwight Richardson was at the organ.

The progress of Christian civilization, said Dr. Wilson, has been marked by great reforms which have overthrown great wrongs and established great rights. Just to mention some of these in the last 150 years in which great changes have been made, there are piracy, slavery, dueling, cannibalism, bull fighting, the opium traffic and the narcotic drug traffic and now the liquor traffic is in the course of ultimate extinction in the United States and we are showing the way to a dry world if we make good in this experiment in the United States. Show them that we can live without rum, that we can run our government, pay our war debts, reduce our taxes, educate our children, protect our women and build our homes, without the help of one blood-stained dollar of liquor revenue in our treasury. If we make good in this undertaking, this great moral experiment, "this salutary law," will sweep around the world and Lincoln's dream will come true—a whole world without a slave or a drunkard in it.

We can expect opposition, he went on to say. There is the opposition of those with the appetite—who want something with a kick in it: this near-beer won't do for them. There is opposition of those having monetary interest, for the money nerve is very sensitive. Then there is the wet politician. There is nothing more out of its element than a wet politician in a dry town. They don't know how to manage a campaign without the support of the liquor interests. Then there are the wet newspapers which carried the advertising of the liquor interests, advertising beer as a boon for sick people and old people, for which the newspapers received larger amounts than for any other advertising. Prohibition broke this and the wet newspapers have been writhing about it ever since.

Dr. Wilson next took up the poll conducted by the Literary Digest, which he said now had not a single dry sympathizer in the firm and they find out just what they are looking for. They never did anything to help prohibition come, but now that it is here, they conduct the poll with three unfair questions. Referring to a poll conducted at one time on Ohio, in which the Literary Digest predicted that the state would go wet, Dr. Wilson declared that three weeks later Ohio elected Senator Willis, the dryest senator in Washington, and also elected a dry democratic governor. After another poll in which the Literary Digest found that California would go wet, California upset the prediction by electing dry candidates and passing the Wright law, which was the strongest dry act known.

Dr. Wilson next took up the recent investigation at Washington and declared that the wets haven't gained a wet vote in the judiciary committee of 38. They started out with seven and now they have six.

What really started prohibition, declared Dr. Wilson, was when the Pennsylvania railroad passed Rule G, making it a ground for discharge if any employe drank liquor or frequented places where liquor was drunk. This was followed by the same rule being adopted by the big automobile factories and the big machine factories. From then on the doom of liquor was inevitable. In the Pennsylvania road, the right of discharge rested in the president, and now General Atterbury has had plenty of explaining to do, said Dr. Wilson, since the general testified that he believes liquor is all right for his set but he doesn't want the railroad men to have it.

The wets are now agreeing, said Dr. Wilson, upon government ownership and control of the liquor traffic by states, but there is no sentiment in Washington for that. They remember what a poor job Uncle Sam did in managing the railroads. They say Uncle Sam is a poor business man but they think he would be a good saloon-keeper.

Prohibition wasn't intended to make it impossible for a man to get a drink, declared Dr. Wilson, but to discourage him from doing it. It has not dried up the source of supply. It has not stopped all the drinking or the selling or the bootlegging. It has not made it so that a man cannot get liquor if he hunts for it, but I have never known that law was designed to make it impossible to commit crimes or offenses. It doesn't prevent, but it discourages, and punishes the violator, like other laws.

What has prohibition done? Let us measure it by what it was intended to do. It has outlawed the liquor traffic in the United States, a moral miracle of the 19th century. It has removed legalized and organized temptation from the pathway of men. The saloon won't be hunting him down at every corner he tries to pass. It has annihilated the license system, which was a fool's bargain in finance. It has made news of one of the commonest things in American life, the making, selling and drinking of booze. One flask in the hip pocket of a high school student makes plenty of talk, but what gets into these hip pocket flasks isn't the 40th part of what was sold to minors before prohibition. It has done the impossible. Never but once has it happened that a nation came out of a war into a period of prosperity. Since the World war the European nations have doubled their drink bills, but prohibition has saved the United States all this and kept everything more prosperous than ever before. That smash in Wall street came because the riches of the people kept piling up so high that they toppled over. And finally it has totally transformed the political life of this republic. Every election has presented a great improvement in the personnel of the men sent to Washington from the various states. Today 94 per cent of them are members of some evangelical church and today there isn't a case of the looseness and drunkenness that used to characterize politics in Washington.

Dr. Wilson closed with his prophecy about the ultimate extension of prohibition to the whole world, and the service closed with the hymn, Lead On, O King Eternal, after which Dr. Pitt pronounced the benediction.

MOTHER'S DAY FOR MEN OF ST. PATRICK'S PARISH

Hundreds of men and elder boys formed the majority of those attending the four masses at St. Patrick's church who went to holy communion Sunday in recognition of Mother's day. To prepare them for the reception of the sacrament the three priests of the parish had heard confessions till a late hour Saturday evening. At the 7:30 low mass, the rector, Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. H. May had the assistance of Rev. John J. Reilly in giving communion. At the mass for the Italian Catholics, at 8:15, Rev. Myles P. Galvin administered the eucharist to many, while at 9 Father Galvin assisted Father Reilly, who gave communion to an unusually large number from a congregation which filled auditory and galleries. Many displayed the white flower as a memorial to mothers dead, or a flower of pink in tribute to mothers living. Benediction of the blessed sacrament followed the high mass at 10:30.

Preaching at 9, Rev. Father Galvin declared that we are all debtors—all have accounts to settle, debts just, binding, lasting, yet ever unpaid. Greatest obligation of all is our debt to Almighty God—debt for our body, life, the means of sustaining that life; for the soul, for grace and the means of building up the spiritual life of the soul,—all gifts from the holy hand of God. As mere human beings it is impossible for us to pay these debts. The sole way in which we can make recompense is through God's own gift to us in Christ, our elder brother, who through the holy sacrifice of Himself in the mass enables us to adequately repay our debt to God.

Our next best friend to God is our mother. It is well to mark her special day, although in a manner this is becoming commercialized. It is meet to make her gifts, yet no material gift can repay her for all she has done for us, from the pain and anguish of birth, through childhood, with its worries for her, its self-denials, her watchfulness during sickness, her sleepless hours, her prayers, her weariness, all forgotten in her concern for her child. Then came the worry through the dangerous age, when she warned, and advised and cautioned, when too often we considered her old-fashioned, opposed to our having a good time, perhaps neglected her advice, were wayward, until a guilty conscience convinced us of our mistake, told us that mother was right. Our sins may have brought the blush of shame to her cheek, may have caused her gray hairs, as we went our own way. Yet, she never lost her interest in us; were we a success or failure, friendless or neglected, whatever the condition she had the same love, would rejoice in our happiness, make excuses for our failures, would sympathize and encourage—our mother, the most beautiful creature that God has created.

If your mother is dead, advised the preacher, pray for her, have mass offered for her, receive holy communion for her. If she is living, be good and kind and respectful to her, show her your affection, pray to Our Divine Lord for her; He, too, had a mother whom He loved with an intense love, whom He crowned queen of angels and saints, whom He left as the mother of all mankind.

The junior choir sang "Mary, Mother of My Jesus" and at the consecration the same youthful singers gave "Jesus Come to Me." One of the interludes of the organist, Henry J. LaFontaine, was the melody of and his own variations on "One Sweetly Solemn Thought."

May is devoted to veneration of the mother of Christ, and the Altar society had adorned the shrines and altars with the season's blossoms — chiefly in white.

CONVENTION REPORTS GIVEN FOR CHILDREN OF REVOLUTION

The May meeting of the General Ebenezer Huntington society, Children of the American Revolution, was held Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Mrs. Archibald Mitchell, Jr., at 280 Broadway, the junior president, Agnes L. Greenman, presiding. The usual opening exercises were followed by reports of the officers and committees.

Interesting reports were given of the convention of the National Society of the C. A. R. in Washington in April, at which Dorothy B. Stewart was one of the two pages from Connecticut, both of whom escorted the color bearer when he presented a Connecticut flag to the national society; Mary K. Stewart read the report of the local society, and Beatrice Eggleton presented a check for $25 toward the Harriet M. Lothrop Memorial Hall fund.

Esther Gilbert and Betty Spear told of the plans for the annual sale by this society. The governor's Bird and Arbor day proclamation was read.

An invitation was received from Faith Trumbull chapter, D. A. R., to assist in the memorial exercises to be held in the Norwich Town Burying Ground, on May 29, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The society has contributed to the Thomas Jefferson Memorial foundation, so Mrs. Rogers, the senior president of the society, received an invitation from Maurice Tillier, managing director of the French line, and the board of governors of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial foundation, to attend a "costume ball of the Revolutionary period in honor of Marie Joseph Paul Yves Roch Gilbert du Motier, Marquis de La Fayette, on board the new quadruple screw cabin motorship 'Lafayette' upon the occasion of her maiden voyage" Thursday evening, May 29, at 9 at the company's pier No. 57, North river, foot of West 15th street, New York city.

It was voted to have the C. A. R. magazines for the past eight years bound.

Notice was given of the state meeting of the C. A. R. at New Haven, on May 24; the meeting will be held at 1265 Whitney avenue, in the Whitneyville church house, with a luncheon.

Election of officers for the year ensuing followed, the officers all being re-elected with one exception. The senior president is appointed by the National Society, C. A. R., and has to be a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. List of officers is as follows: Senior president, Mrs. Elisha E. Rogers; junior president, Agnes L. Greenman; vice-president, Dorothy B. Stewart; recording secretary, Dolly V. Edmond; corresponding secretary, Priscilla Hough; treasurer, Beatrice Eggleton; registrar, Mary K. Stewart; historian, Ruth A. Burdsall; color bearers, Russell B. Edmond and David S. Brewer; color guards, Ralph H. Sinay and Robert Eggleton; chairman Ellis Island committee, Dorothy B. Stewart; magazine, Barbara L. Fellows and Nancy B. Greenman.

At the request of one of the younger members of the society, a short talk was given by the senior president on the Indians of this country, illustrated by many post cards and pictures.

The meeting was held on the spacious lawn and refreshments were served there by the hostess, Mrs. Mitchell, assisted by her committee. Dainty May baskets will with candy surprised the delighted members.

The next regular meeting of the society will be held on Flag day, June 14, at Shantok park.

HEAT FATAL TO THREE HENS IN STORRS CONTEST

The hot weather during the week didn't seem to affect the birds in the 19th Storrs laying contest as far as egg production is concerned as they came through with a total of 5,310 eggs or a yield of 75.9 per cent.

This record has only been surpassed twice during the past 27 weeks. There was a mortality of three birds from heat prostration.

No less than 23 pens laid 60 eggs or more for the week. The most phenomenal record goes to a pen of White Leghorns owned by Toivonen Leghorn Farm at Girard, Pa. These birds laid a total of 69 eggs. A pen of Rhode Island Reds owned by West Neck Farm of Huntington, Long Island, was second with a lay of 64 eggs. There were four pens tied for third place, equally divided between the Reds and the Leghorns. The two Leghorn pens are entered by Steelman Poultry Farms of Lansdale, Pa., and Alfred J. O'Donovan of Katonah, N. Y.; while the Rhode Island Reds are sponsored by Burdean Acres of Newton Center, Mass., and Homestead Farms of Newton, Conn. All four did 63 eggs.

A pen of Barred Rocks was tied for fourth place with a pen of Leghorns and Reds. They are owned respectively by Pratt's Experimental Farm, Morton, Pa., Edward N. Larrabee, Peterboro, N. H., and Bournedale Farm, Millerton, N. Y. Each pen did 62 eggs.

The leading pens of Wyandottes, Barred Rocks and White Leghorns still maintain the same positions that they held last week. In the White Rocks a pen owned by Adam F. Poltl of Hartford, Wisconsin, has replaced Harold F. Barber, Valecroft, Dover, Mass. In the Rhode Island Red class a pen of highly pedigreed pullets has jumped into first place. This pen of 13 females contains ten birds which came from a male bird during its eighth breeding season.

The leading pens to date in each of the principal varieties are as follows:

White Wyandottes—The Locusts, West Cornwall, 1,368; Fisher P. Farm, Ayton, Ont., Canada, 1,200.

Barred Rocks—R. C. Cobb, Littleton, Mass., 1,363; R. Walter Bishop, Guilford, 1,343; Spring Brook P. Farm, South Wethersfield, 1,333.

White Rocks—E. H. Rucker, Ottumwa, Iowa, 1,229; Kalerok Farm, Westford, Mass., 1,138; Adam F. Poltl, Hartford, Wis., 1,109.

Rhode Island Reds—F. S. Chapin, Longmeadow, Mass., 1,504; Harold G. Colt, West Hartford, 1,493; Edw. N. Larrabee, Peterboro, N. H., 1,482; Donald I. Goodenough, Torrington, 1,418.

White Leghorns—Toivonen Poultry Farm, Girard, Pa., 1,645; Steelman Poultry Farms, Lansdale, Pa., 1,453; Geo. Lowry P. Farm, Inc., West Willington, 1,438; Leighton Orchards, Kingston, R. I., 1,419; Hanson's Leghorn Farm, Corvallis, Ore., 1,474.

Protection Against Diphtheria

About 1,650 children of the town schools were given injections of toxin-antitoxin during February, March and April, as protection against diphtheria. Dr. Harrison Gray, town health officer, administered the injections.

The town health department sponsored the movement for the benefit of the school children who wished to avail themselves of the protection offered.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Elizabeth Camp Chappell, of 30 Guthrie place, New London, formerly of Norwich, announced Saturday the engagement of her daughter, Harriet Camp Chappell, to Cyril Valentine Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Moore of Westerly, R. I. The announcement was made at a tea for 75 friends at Mrs. Chappell's home. The house decorations were principally roses. In the dining room, where the table decorations were talisman roses, tea was poured and ices were served by Mrs. Walter Trumbull Camp of Norwich, Mrs. Thomas Boss Congdon and Miss Marion Chappell of New London. Saturday evening, at Lighthouse Inn, Miss Chappell was hostess at a dinner for fourteen. The beautiful decorations were tulips in crimson and pastel tints, with masses of blossoming dogwood and foliage. The guests were Misses Catherine Hunt, Bridgeport; Esther Sherman, Westerly; Winifred Snyder, New York; Elizabeth Fulton, Waterbury; Betsy Avery, Eastern Point; Elizabeth Winship and Elizabeth Lee Chappell, New London; also F. Palmer Pendleton, Montclair, N. J.; Worthen Paxton and Hugh Kall, of Yale; Marshall Hall, Marblehead, Mass.; William Reeves, William Blackstone Chappell, New York and Robert B. Chappell, Jr., New London, with Mr. Moore. For the dance following, Eddie Wittstein's orchestra from New Haven played. Included among the 150 guests were, from Norwich, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Camp, Miss Alice Sayles, Raymond G. Camp, Mr. and Mrs. L. Goffe Briggs, Miss Constance Learned, Lawton Brayton, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Learned, Jr., Grosvenor Ely, Jr. and John C. Sayles. Sunday afternoon Miss Chappell's father, Robert Bishop Chappell gave a tea in her honor at his home, 115 Huntington street, New London. Miss Chappell attended Miss Beard's school, Orange, N. J., later devoting a year to the study of French while residing in Paris. Mr. Moore is a graduate of Worcester, Mass. academy, and of Yale, '29, S, where he was a member of St. Elmo. He is associated with his father in the George C. Moore company of Westerly. At present, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Moore are traveling abroad. The wedding is to take place in the early fall. The engagement is of interest to the Blackstone, Camp, Norton and allied families prominent in Norwich for generations, Miss Chapell being the granddaughter of the late Frederick Sewell and Harriet Blackstone Camp, of Norwich.

Miss Clara Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shepard B. Palmer, was home from Wellesley over the week end.

Mrs. Leonard H. Couch, of Buffalo, is visiting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Palmer at Lighthouse Inn until May 15th, when she will sail on the Majestic in company with Admiral and Mrs. F. T. Arms, for a month's motor tour of England.

Miss Emma J. Thompson has returned to Lasell, following the spring recess spent with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Thompson.

Archa W. Coit will return this week to his home on Glenwood avenue, New London, after a visit of ten days with his brothers, Ralph W. and Leeds W. Coit, of Greensboro, N. C., formerly of Norwich.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALES GO TO NEW HIGH MARK

With the final total of $113,700 the recent Christmas seal sale in the state of Connecticut has again exceeded all previous records, according to a report submitted by Miss Mabel Baird, state campaign director, to the state tuberculosis commission at the capitol at Hartford. In commenting on the report Miss Baird stated that final reports just received from the 78 local agents of the commission indicated an increase over last year's total of about $4,000 and gave assurance of increased activities to the tuberculosis program throughout the state during 1930.

While practically one half of the towns in the state fell slightly behind in their local sales, the remaining half had sufficiently large increases to make up for the smaller losses and to assure the additional fund of $4,000.

Two new agencies were added by the commission during the year, one at Ridgefield, which raised the highest per capita amount in the state, and the other at Clinton, which also ranked high in per capita sales.

The largest total was raised in New Haven, with $12,259, followed by Hartford with $11,456, Bridgeport, third with $9,305, Waterbury, fourth with $4,641 and Stamford fifth with $4,129.

The highest percentage of seals sold per inhabitant was reported by Ridgefield, with 35, followed by West Hartford with 26, Darien, third with 23, Simsbury, fourth with 22, North Haven, fifth with 22, Old Lyme, sixth with 22, and New Canaan seventh with 20. Other towns showing high percentages were, respectively, Clinton, Wethersfield, Newtown, East Hampton, Fairfield, Wallingford, Canton and Hamden.

BUSY BEES HEARD REPORT ON ROUND-UP

The Busy Bees junior 4-H sewing club of Preston City met with its leader, Mrs. Walter R. McClimon Saturday with five visitors present. The meeting was called to order with routine business following. Report of the state round-up which was held in Hartford May 2 and 3 was given by Miss Myra Wilson. Aprons were worked on during the meeting.

Following the meeting a May party was enjoyed. The color scheme was yellow with baskets and favors. Upon opening the favors there were caps, fortunes and prizes in each. Cold drink with cookies, cakes and candies were served.

MOTHERS' DAY CEREMONY IN ARLINGTON CEMETERY

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—The heroism of motherhood was memorialized today by F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war, as the American War Mothers and the Congressional club held their sixth annual Mothers' Day ceremony in Arlington cemetery.

"Not every soldier is called upon to give his all for his country," said Mr. Davison, speaking before the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, "but every soldier's mother must inevitably undergo the supreme sacrifice of parting. For every soldier's calvary there are a hundred mothers' gethsemanes."

Felt Weak and Faint

"I was feeling very weak and very nervous and I took fainting spells. My side also gave me a lot of trouble. Someone recommended your medicine and I got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and took it. I feel a lot better in every way. I sleep well because my nerves are better and I have a very good appetite. I will answer letters and recommend the Vegetable Compound to other women who suffer."—Mrs. Jessie Cook, R. No. 2, Box 88A, Murphy, North Carolina.

WEISGRABER PITCHES BRILLIANTLY TO GIVE ACADEMY WIN OVER WINDHAM

(Special to The Bulletin)

[illegible]ILLIMANTIC, May 11—Scoring [illegible] in the last two innings, Nor[illegible] Academy broke up a tight [illegible] in favor of their veteran [illegible]der, Butsy Weisgraber, Sat[illegible] at Recreation park and triumph[illegible] Windham high by the score of [illegible]. This was the tenth victory in [illegible] this season for the Wild[illegible] boosted them back into first [illegible] eastern Connecticut-West[illegible] Island league, from which [illegible] dislodged by losing to West[illegible]nesday.

[illegible]eisgraber pitched brilliant ball [illegible] the Callaghanmen, allowing [illegible] safeties and retiring the side in [illegible] of the frames. He was [illegible] however, by one worthy of [illegible] in Carl Johnson, local right-[illegible] who went along beauti[illegible] seven innings before tiring [illegible] last two stanzas. It was 2 to 1 [illegible] during which time [illegible] allowed but four hits. [illegible]graber fanned ten men, walked [illegible] and one while his opponent [illegible] seven and passed five.

[illegible] Academy played brilliant ball on [illegible] green, looking like a new team [illegible] compared to their play in the last [illegible] against Westerly in their prev[illegible]. But for an excusable slip [illegible] in left, which deprived [illegible] of a shutout, they had an [illegible].

[illegible] Chubby Gibbs and Mickey [illegible] had two hits apiece of the ten-[illegible] for Norwich while Slowik [illegible] and a single led Wind[illegible].

[illegible] endured for three in-[illegible] put over a pair in the [illegible] out in front. Pepin [illegible] walked. Weisgraber was [illegible] error. Pepin was [illegible] second, but he and Weis-[illegible] a double steal before [illegible] could comprehend [illegible] and the Wildcats had two [illegible] position with none out. [illegible] Pepin with an in-[illegible] Crowell bunted in Weis-[illegible] the squeeze play.

CLEVELAND BURIES A'S UNDER A BARRAGE OF RUNS

CLEVELAND, May 11—(AP)—Scoring in every inning but the eighth, the Cleveland Indians today walloped the world champion Philadelphia Athletics 25 to 7, before an overflow crowd of 29,000 fans. The Indians, who lead the Ameican league in hitting, smashed 25 hits off four Athletic hurlers, including 9 doubles. Several of these would have been triples but for the crowd on the field, which made ground rules necessary.

Wes Ferrell, who allowed only four hits in six innings, was credited with his fifth victory of the season. The score:

CARDINALS WIN DOUBLE BILL FROM BOSTON BRAVES

ST. LOUIS, May 11—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardnnals ran their consecutive victories to six today when they took a double header from the Boston Braves, 5 to 3, and 7 to 6. Jess Haines, pitching his first full game of the season, won the game by holding the Braves to six hits. In the night cap, Bill Hallahan was pounded for 15 hits after making a good start and was knocked out in the ninth inning, but Lindsey came to the rescue and nipped a rally that threatened to tie the score. It was the Braves' sixth straight defeat. The score:

NEW YORK CLUBS ROOT'S OFFERINGS TO BEAT CUBS

CHICAGO, May 11—(AP)—The Giants defeated the Cubs 9 to 7 today in the third game of the series to strengthen their hold on first place in the National league.

The game was played on a slippery field and 29 hits were registered. Charley Root was knocked out of the box in the fifth after 12 hits had been made off him. Hubbell also sought protection in the eighth after the Cubs had knocked out four hits.

About 37,000 people attended.

JACKIE BURNS TO RUN BOXING SHOWS THIS SUMMER

Jackie Burns, local fight promoter, announced Sunday night that he had leased the Majestic roof garden for a series of summer shows. Burns has a strong card lined up, which is profusely dotted with local boys. Al Koziol will meet Tiger Sylvia, of Fall River, in the main go and other bouts include Tommy McCarthy-Jimmy Aruddo, of Providence; Jimmy Quinn-Joe Sposato, Westerly; Young Lavigne, Sub Base-Charles D'Ambra, Providence. Vic Darr, another local boy, will also be seen in action against an opponent as yet unselected.

All-Stars Lose

The Cub Scouts of St. Patrick's school defeated the Lake street All-Stars at the Academy campus over the week end by a 24 to 16 score.

ROBINS TROUNCE PIRATES WITH VANCE PITCHING

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 11—(AP)—The Robins took their third straight game from the Pittsburgh Pirates today by a 10 to 2 score and went into third place in the National league.

The Robins hammered out 18 hits, all but one of them coming off Larry French, who was allowed to remain in the game until the Robbins started a rally in the eighth inning which netted five runs. Lil Stoner finished for Pittsburgh. Frederick and Herman hit home runs.

Dazzy Vance gave his best exhibition so far this season, holding the Pirates to four hits.

FREY BOOSTS WINNING STREAK TO FOUR TILTS

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 11—(AP)—Bennie Frey, recruit pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds, was credited with his fourth straight victory in taking the third game of the series from the Philadelphia club, 5 to 4. Frey has not lost a game. The victory for the Reds made it two out of three from the Phillies.

The Reds were handed the game in the ninth when Frey, first man up singled, was sacrificed to second by Callaghan and took third when Heilmann and Walker were passed. With two balls on Stripp, Elliott relieved Koupal and walked Stripp, forcing in Frey with the winning tally.

ACADEMY AND BULKELEY PLAY FIRST GAME SATURDAY

The first game of the annual series with Bulkeley features the coming week's work for the Academy baseball team. It will be played at the campus Saturday and promises to be one of the tightest games in the past few years as Bulkeley has come along fast in the last few games. The other game on the programme is with Chapman Tech at New London Wednesday. Both are league tilts.

Bulkeley defeated Chapman Tech Saturday at New London, 7 to 3, and continued the improvement shown when they beat Deep River last Wednesday, 3 to 1. Bulkeley has also beaten Westerly this year, the team which stopped the Academy's winning streak.

Boots Greene is expected to work Wednesday's game and Butsy Weisgraber on Saturday.

SEVERAL BALL GAMES PLAYED IN EASTERN CONNECTICUT OVER WEEKEND

Eastern Connecticut fans did not want for baseball games over the week end, as numerous tilts were scheduled including semi-pro, amateur and high school games. Many of the local fans went to Willimantic on Saturday to see the Academy show a decided reversal of form to trim the Windham nine and take the lead in the scholastic league. This was one of the two high school games played hereabouts.

In the semi-professional ranks the Polish American Citizens club had a tough time trimming the U. S. Wilkes nine from New London at Hollyhock Island diamond on Sunday, eking out a 9 to 8 victory, after engaging in a two run rally in the ninth. At the J. B. Martin diamond the same day the Martins did not fare so well, taking a drubbing from the fast Universal Winding nine. The score was 13 to 3. On Saturday at the hospital grounds Riverview clashed with the Tunxis team from Windsor and blanked them 10 to 0. The Shyma club of Taftville won two games.

There were also several tilts between the boys of the sandlot that offered the younger generation a taste of the national pastime.

Polish A. C. 9, Wilkes 8.

This was probably the best tilt of the week end, with first one team holding the lead and then the other. The 700 fans were treated to one of the most exciting games seen here so far this season. The visitors started the scoring in the very first inning, sending two men across the plate and counting again for one in the third, while the Pacs did not score until the second, getting one in this inning, two in the third and one in the fourth. The score stood 4 to 3 in favor of the locals.

The Wilkesmen broke out again in the sixth inning and pounded P. Finn relentlessly sending him to the showers and scoring five runs to go ahead 8 to 4. Raymond pitched part of this inning and the remainder of the game, holding the sailor boys scoreless. After scoring three runs in the seventh to come within one run of tying, the Polish A. C. counted for two more in the ninth to win.

In this inning Leo Jarvis, the first man up, singled to right field, as did Lamory, who followed, and Finn sacrificed, sending Jarvis to third and Lamory to second. Jarvis brought in the tying run, when Lemieux dropped a Texas leaguer in left field. Snow, who previously had made three hits, stepped to the plate and hit a terrific drive to the outer garden, to bring in Lemieux with the winning run. The score:

Riverview 10, Tunxis 0

The Tunxis club of Windsor proved to be poor opposition to the fast Riverview club of the Norwich state hospital, the latter winning their third game of the season by the overwhelming score of 10 to 0. The Tunxis club gave their pitcher very poor support, making three misplays, and failed to hit in the pinches. Tony West was the star hitter of the day, with three hits, including a homer and a three bagger. Cimmy furnished the fielding features, playing errorless ball and making two nice catches. The score:

Martins 3, Universal 13.

The J. B. Martin nine had a tough customer on their hands for their opening game in the Universal Winding team of Windsor and lost by the large score of 13 to 3. The Windingmen scored their runs in five innings with terrific hitting, making four two base hits and two three base clouts. They piled up a total of 13 hits off Fisher, who lasted seven innings, and Magnum, who finished.

The game was marked by several spectacular catches including that of Towner, in right field, who went back among the automobiles and robbed Middy Dugas of a drive that was labeled for a homer. Fraubert, playing third base for the Winders, also made a beautiful catch in the last inning.

The Martins were only able to score in one inning, the eighth, when they collected three runs. They threatened to score in a number of other innings, but Anatol, pitching for Providence, bore down and retired the side in each instance. Cimmy and Krauss led the locals in hitting with two apiece and Towner of Providence led his equad with four out of six. The score:

Shymas Win Twice

At the Providence street grounds on Saturday the Shyman club sent the Plainfield Red Stars back to Plainfield at the short end of a three to one score. Faucher twirling for the Shymas, let Plainfield down with four hits and one run, scored in the sixth. Marriott was on the slab for Plainfield, and also pitched a nice game, allowing only eight hits. Bunk and J. Raymond with two hits apiece, starred in hitting for the locals.

With one win under its belt the club went to Baltic Sunday afternoon and easily trimmed the Baltic A. C. juniors by a 18 to 7 score. The Shymas scored in every inning, but two and collected a total of 21 hits as compared to 12 hits for the opposition. Bunk also hit well in this game, securing four out of five. Generoux for Baltic made three hits. The scores:

Baltic 4, Holy Name 39

The Baltic Seniors went to Jewett City and played a game of baseball with the Holy Name Society of that place and how. They were given a terrible lacing, the final score being 39 to 4. It is said that the official scorer threw up his hands after fourteen runs were scored and then only kept tract of the runs. The hits must have been coming in fast and furious.

Norwich Stars 9, Trojans 8

The Trojan A. C. nine lost a close game to the Norwich All Stars Sundays afternoon at Mohegan park by a 9 to 8 score. Hamil, pitching for the Trojans, hurled a fine game, but received poor support. Hyack of the Trojans contributed the longest hit of the contest, a three-bagger. Kaminski and Riley tossed them over for the winners.

A Challenge

The Laurel Hill Athletics challenge any team in Norwich or vicinity averaging 18 to 20 years for a baseball game either Saturday or Sunday at Norwich. They would like to hear from the Norwich All-Stars, Trojans or Hardigs. Answer through this paper or write Bradley Fowler, Garfield avenue.

FIELD OF 179 PLAYERS TO COMPETE IN BRITISH WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY

FORMBY, Eng., May 11—(AP)—A record field of 179 players, including a score of Americans, will compete in the British women's golf championship which opens here early tomorrow.

There are entrants from Australia, Tasmania, South Africa, Canada, the United States and all parts of the British Isles but there are none from France where the title has gone twice although it never yet has crossed the Atlantic.

The American women, most of whom were members of the team Glenna Collett headed in the recent international match which they lost to a picked English squad at Sunningdale, have had nearly a week of practice over the Formby course and have accustomed themselves to the pace of the greens and as much as possible to the gusty winds.

America's big four—Glenna Collett, Helen Hicks, Maureen Orcutt and Virginia Van Wie—have been playing in good form and are expected to acquit themselves with honor. All of Britain's well known stars except Joyce Wethered, are competing. The absence of Miss Wethered makes America's hopes of winning the title much brighter for it was this super-star who stopped Miss Collett's march toward the championship in the finals last year.

The tournament consists of 18-hole match play rounds until only two women remain to fight it out for the title at 36 holes on Friday. The Americans are scattered throughout the draw so that no two of them meet in the first round although they'll start eliminating one another during the second round if all are successful in their first matches.

The first and second rounds will be played tomorrow, the third round on Tuesday; the fourth and fifth rounds, Wednesday; the sixth and seventh or quarter and semi-finals on Thursday and the 36-hole final on Friday.

Helen Hicks, starting her first-round match with Doris Chambers, former British champion, at 8:50 a. m., leads the Americans into the fray.

Miss Collett, upon whom the Americans look as the most likely to win the title, is playing in top form.

The American champion has scored a 71 on the Formby layout which has 73 for par and stretches 6,692 yards through sand dunes skirting the Irish sea.

The Americans have practiced little the last two days, one reason being the crowded condition of the course yesterday.

Miss Collett is in the first quarter of the draw, the other Americans there being Rosalie Knapp, of New York; Helen Hicks, of Hewlett, N. Y.; Mrs. Lee Mida, of Chicago; Mrs. Leo Federman, of New York. Miss Collett must eliminate all of these rivals to reach the semi-finals. Among the well-known English golfers threatening the American champion in the first quarter are Mrs. Temple Dobell, and Mrs. J. D. Watson.

In the second quarter, Enid Wilson looms as the strongest British entry with Maureen Orcutt, of Englewood, N. J., Bernice Wall, of Oshkosh, Mich., and Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, to oppose her.

The third quarter includes Louise Fordyce, of Youngstown, Ohio; Mrs. H. A. Martelle, of Hartford, Conn.; Peggy Wattles, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Marian Bennett, of New Britain, Conn.; Fritzi Stifel, of Wheeling, W. Va., and another American, Josephine Bender, of Grand Rapids, Mich., who is spending a holiday in England.

In the fourth quarter are Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago; Mrs. Stewart Hanley, of Detroit; Virginia Holzderber, of Baltimore, and Edith Quier, of Reading, Pa. Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Philadelphia, who was placed in this group, has scratched.

IN PLAYOFF WILLING LOSES TO HARTLEY

SANDWICH, Eng., May 11—(AP)—For the second time in his golfing career, Dr. O. F. Willing, Portland, Ore., dentist and oldest member of the American Walker cup team, today lost a playoff of a tie for the coveted St. George's grand challenge vase.

Willing and young Rex Hartley of the British Walker cup team, who had tied at 148 at the end of the regular 36 holes of play yesterday, shot it out over the Sandwich course today and the Britisher surprised a large gallery by turning in a comparatively easy 188-hole victory over the veteran west coast shot-maker. Hartley won with a 70 to Willing's 85.

Seven years ago Willing fought and lost a playoff of a tie for the same trophy to Francis Ouimet, of Boston, another veteran of the Walker cup team.

CHICAGO TRIMS SENATORS IN EXTRA INNING GAME

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—Chicago scored two runs in the tenth inning today to win from Woshington 5 to 3. Lyons went the distance for the White Sox, allowing the Senators 11 hits, and winning a closely contested pitchers' battle with Bump Hadley who was withdrawn in the eighth for Fred Marberry.

Reynolds' single followed by Watwood's triple and Kamm's Texas leaguer in the extra inning broke up the game for the Senators. The score:

BIG ED MORRIS PITCHES 2-HIT GAME, BOSTON WINS

BOSTON, May 11—(AP)—Boston's once humble Red Sox won their fifth straight victory today by defeating St. Louis, 2 to 1, behind the two-hit pitching of Big Ed Morris. Regan's home run off Lefty Walter Stewart in the sixth gave the Sox their one run margin. The Browns have been held to four hits in two full games here, for yesterday Milton Gaston also let them down with but two safe blows. Morris was a little wild, passing seven, but also puzzling, for he struck out nine. The score:

RED AND WHITE DISLODGE WINDHAM FROM TOP

As a result of Saturday's developments in the Eastern Connecticut-Western Rhode Island league race, the Academy baseball team, five times champions, are back where they belong—in first place. The Wildcats, after being rudely jolted from the top rung by Westerly, immediately set about to defeat Windham and this, combined with Chapman Tech's 7-3 defeat by Bulkeley, put the local outfit on top.

Windham is now second with Bulkeley and Tech tied for third.

In the New London game it was again Capt. Fred Hewitt's wildness in the box that lost for Tech. He passed six men, although allowing but five hits. He also hit one and committed a balk. Bulkeley was outhit two to one but managed to tally six of their seven runs in the first two innings before Hewitt could settle down.

The standing:

TAFTVILLE A. C. BASEBALL CLUB HAS DISBANDED

Word has come from Taftville that the Taftville A. C. baseball club, which has appeared in the past few years in its games at the Providence street diamond, has disbanded, thus letting that section of the town out in the cold, as regards semi-pro baseball. This decision was taken at a meeting of the club held recently.

But it is also rumored the Army and Navy club of the village will put a team in the field. It is understood that the team is in the formation stage and will be ready to appear in the not distant future.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Palace Theatre

"The Rogue Song," much discussed screen operetta starring Lawrence Tibbett, leading baritone of the Metropolitan Opera company is now playing at the Palace theatre where it will be shown through tomorrow.

The production, an original story for the screen, was filmed entirely in technicolor and was made under the direction of Lionel Barrymore. The music was written by Franz Lehar and Herbert Stothart and the songs range from operatic caliber to the simple folk songs of the peasants of the Caucasus Mountains, the chosen setting for this spectacular drama.

Tibbett, casts as the chief of a tribe of wandering Gypsies, is a swashbuckling bandit who dares death as he sings. His glorious voice has been reproduced perfectly and he is a dashing and romantic figure. He is ably supported by Catherine Dale Owen and Nancy O'Neil and the comedy team of Laurel and Hardy who furnish many laughs in tense moments.

Another feature of this picture is the Albertina Rasch Ballet of one hundred girls who are seen in the court The music for" the ballet was writ- The music fo rthe ballet was written especially for "The Rogue Song" by Dimitri Tiomkin, modernistic composer.

The plot is woven around the bandit chief's adventures and love affair with a Russian princess. He captures her and rides away with her to his camp where he woos her. But he is not of noble blood and in spite of their great love for each other she must return to her people. An unusual twist to the situation makes a most dramatic ending.

"The Rogue Song" has captured the wild spirit of the Russian steppes, long famous as the abode of the fierce Cossack tribes. One sees the vast, sweeping panorama of that ancient land exquisitely reproduced in color. One watches the vigorous life of those who inhabit it, and one hears the mad music of love under the moon of the tundras.

On Wednesday the Palace will present a double-feature bill combining "Dumbbels in Ermine," a rollicking skit and "Hello Sister," a gay and impudent story of modern youth starring Olive Borden and Lloyd Hughes.

WESTERLY

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WILL PROBABLY REORGANIZE

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, R. I., May 11.—A reorganization of Westerly chamber of commerce is to be attempted Tuesday evening in the council chamber of the Westerly town hall. The meeting was originally planned for Monday evening but the special session of the Westerly town council and its session for public hearing fell on this date, consequently the meeting was postponed a day.

The meeting, it is expected, will be opened by President Lewis Stanton of the Westerly chamber body for several years past and a new slate of officers to be headed by a Westerly professional man is recommended by a committee from the Westerly and Pawcatuck Retail Merchants' association which is active in seeking to see a chamber of commerce at work in a campaign of improvement in local affairs of a broader scope than that handled by the Merchants' association. President Stanton will probably be made a member of the new board of governors which is proposed for the new chamber.

McGOWAN'S CORNER FIRE APPEARED TO HAVE BEEN SET

About 2 p. m. Saturday, in response to a telephone call, the Ahrens-Fox motor pumper of the Westerly department with Second Assistant Engineer George A. McKenzie and men was again called to the McGowan's Corner section of the Westerly-Bradford state highway near where the disastrous blaze of a week ago started. To the firemen the flames had the appearance of having been set. The fire blazed fiercely on a several hundred foot front and was sweeping toward the Kenyon Dyeing and Finishing Works when the Westerly firemen arrived and found a number of men engaged in battling the blaze which threatened to spread to the west side of Woody Hill, along the east side of which flames on the previous week swept to the Boston Post road and even jumped this state highway in two places, causing motor traffic to be suspended by the state police. After an hour's fight the blaze was extinguished but not until several acres had been burned over.

Saturday afternoon and Saturday night a forest fire raged in the section of the town of Stonington lying between the Lower Pawcatuck and Wequetequock. The first of the blaze was on the old Brown or Lemuel Vose farm and north of the tracks of the New Haven railroad. The green undergrowth caused large clouds of dense smoke to roll skyward from the burning underbrush. Later, fires were found to have started in a section south of the railroad tracks. There were no houses or buildings in the path of the flames which finally burned themselves out, after some thirty or forty acres had been burned over.

Following threatening remarks made to George Cella Sunday morning, in Pawcatuck, by Dennis Spellman of Liberty street, Pawcatuck, Officer Adin R. Sheldon was called and placed the man under arrest. He was locked up in the Liberty street jail to be presented before Judge William A. Wilcox in Stonington town court to answer to a charge of breach of the peace.

Deputy Sheriff Fred W. Bull of Kingston was in Westerly Friday evening, returning with young men who had been apprehended in New York and who are charged with the theft of an automobile from Rhode Island owners. The prisoners were to be lodged in Kingston jail.

Lieut. David Marks of the New Haven railroad police force was in Westerly Saturday afternoon. He was accompanied by a Connecticut state officer from Groton barracks and they were returning with a Rhode Island youth who had agreed to accompany the officers back to Connecticut where it was desired to question the young man as to what knowledge he had of recent railroad breaks at Midway. The party was returning to Groton barracks.

MONTVILLE

CATHOLIC PARISH PLANS $10,000 CEMETERY CHANGES

The prosperity of St. John's Roman Catholic church parish is indicated by the fact that at the three masses Sunday the pastor, Rev. James A. O'Meara, announced three important movements to be carried out at St. Patrick's cemetery, which will mean a total outlay of $10,000. It was very pleasing to the parishioners to hear that the entire cemetery is to be enclosed by an ornate, six-foot, electrically-welded iron fence, which will combine protection and beauty. In the center of the City of the Dead will be erected the Calvary group—four figures reproducing the scene at the crucifixion,—the Saviour on the cross, His blessed mother, St. John and Mary Magdalene. This massive and artistic group, which always excites deep reverence, is to cost $1,500 and will rise 18 feet. As a third improvement, a fine driveway is to be laid about the entire cemetery, to cost $1,200. The cemetery is located on the bank of the Thames river, in the Uncasville section of the town.

At this church Sunday, at the second mass at 8:30, 46 children—25 boys and 21 girls—received their first holy communion from Father O'Meara and Rev. James P. Timmins, of St. Thomas' seminary, Hartford, who assists the pastor every Sunday. The church was crowded at the three masses; and pastor and people are working together toward the happy time when the parish will have a fine new church suited to the needs of the ever-growing and prosperous congregation.

GALES FERRY

Quick response on the part of local men in putting out a fire, started Monday noontime by two boys from the village school, on the ledge north of Brown's Crossing and near the home of Albertus S. Dean, prevented serious loss to the village. About 20 men and boys from the school, siste din the work and were able to backfire a space sufficient to keep the fire from sweeping through the pines to the village street. The wind was from the north and fortunately was later than usual in changing to the south. Had it been blowing strong from the south when the fire was started the whole ledge would have been burned over and the library building and Twin Oaks cottage on the south side of Hurlbutt road, would have been destroyed and these would have menaced other property in the village.

Local men have been called several times this week to assist in subduing the fire in the Gungy Wamp section and Long Cove district which has been smouldering since Sunday. Monday afternoon it broke out again and swept through the woods on the Emil Grunskey place, so that his home was in danger for a time. It has extended to the farm of Dr. Charles B. Graves, of New London, in the Lester District. The section is being patroled as there is still danger of the flames again breaking out.

LEDYARD

The Harriet Newell Missionary society held its May meeting at the parsonage, Thursday afternoon, with an attendance of 18 adults and several children, and as guests, Mrs. E. F. Smiley and Mrs. Lathrop, of Windham. The meeting opened with the hymn "Work For The Night is Coming." The devotional exercises consisted of responsive reading and the 24th Psalm in unison followed by the Lord's prayer. In the absence of the secretary, the assistant scretary, Mrs. John Finegan gave the report of the last meeting and called the roll. Miss Geer introduced Mrs. Smiley who spoke on "Modern India," a very pertinent subject at the present time. She read a very interesting paper giving an account of the so-called criminal class and other matters of interest. Two of her near relatives are engaged in missionary work. After a short discussion the meeting closed with the hymn, "Over the Ocean Wave," and Mispeh benediction. The refreshment committee: Mrs. William I. Allyn, Mrs. Everett Gallup and Mrs. E. M. Gray served salad, sliced ham, rolls, cake and tea. A social hour enjoyed.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Broadway Theatre

No wonder he's the "idol of France"—that happy-go-lucky, joy-spreading Frenchman Maurice Chevalier, who is delighting audiences at the Broadway in his first all-American talking picture and his greatest success, "The Big Pond." Maurice captivated American picture fans in "Innocents of Paris"—he won new millions of friends with his "Love Parade," but in both these pictures he was not Chevalier, he was a character. In "The Big Pond" he is himself—harum-scarum, mischievous, witty, clowning his way through life, laughing at troubles, singing with just the joy of being alive—and how he sells happiness! You may be blue, it may be hotter than Sahara, but to see this playboy with his lovely new leading lady, Claudette Colbert, and his "new kind of love" is to forget everything but the show—and Chevalier is the show. Pitchforked into an American chewing gum factory and sentenced to hard labor, which he accepts gladly as a stepping stone to his sweetheart's hand, the victim of every kind of practical joke his fellow workers can conceive, his supreme optimism and infectious laugh carry him "over the top" to the funniest and most exciting climax you can imagine. The latest Paramount Sound News is supplemented by two featured comedies, Louise Fazenda with Bert Roach & Co. in "So This is Paris Green", a Parisian apache thriller, and Eddie Buzzell in "Hello Thar," a hectic adventure amid the frozen drifts of the Klondike. Tonight is "Airplane Night" at the Broadway with eight free airplane rides from Gallows Hill awarded to as many fortunate patrons of the theatre.

SIGNS OF SLOW IMPROVEMENT IN THE BUSINESS WORLD CONTINUE TO APPEAR

NEW YORK, May 11—(AP)—Business operations remained somewhat hesitant during the past week, with further sagging in commodity prices causing renewal uncertainty, but signs of slow improvement continued to appear, including reports of better retail sales, larger bank clearings at interior centers, and renewed consumer buying of copper.

Troublesome situations in some industries appeared to be fairly well adjusted. A large radio manufacturer announced price increases, and expressed the opinion that the recent price cutting was at an end.

The inventories with which the industry was troubled early in the year were reported to have been disposed of and price advances by other manufacturers were predicted. Automobile sales continued to gain, particularly in the low-priced field, used car inventories were reported well cleared up, and production of new cars closely adjusted to dealer requirements.

Steel mill operations slackened slightly for the second successive week and are now around 77 per cent of capacity for the country at large, but a lag in operations at this time of year is not abnormal.

Copper prices were shaded further, reaching 12 1-2 cents for domestic shipment, as compared to the recent 18 cent level. But at the new prices, the buyers strike appeared to be broken and heavy buying was reported both by domestic and foreign consumers.

As an indication of the continued easing in wholesale commodity prices, the annalist preliminary weekly index sagged four-tenths of a point to 131.9, reflecting declines in finished steel, copper, lead, tin and zinc. The textile index reached a new low for the post war period, due to a further decline in silk prices.

Reports of business activity generally indicated some curtailment of activity in the manufacturing lines, while outdoor work showed seasonal gains, particularly heavy construction. Freight car loadings as reported for the latest week continued to hold at the lowest levels in recent years.

The National Lumber Manufacturers' association says that reports from 609 softwood mills for the week ended May 3 indicate considerable improvement over recent weeks in softwood lumber demand as compared with production. For the same week, however, 294 hardwood mills reported new business less than three-fourths of the cut. Combined reports of 888 hardwood and softwood mills for the week gave combined new business 9 per cent less and shipments 8 per cent less than production, which amounted to 374,271,000 feet.

Magor Car Corp. has received a contract from Anglo-Chilean Consolidated Nitrate Corp. for 225 20-ton capacity steel flat cars and 20 20-ton capacity steel box cars. This equipment will be used by Lautaro Nitrate Co. at its new Pedro De Valdivia plant now under construction in Chile.

republican central committee, Lieut. Governor Ernest C. Rogers of New London, has been secured to address the meeting. Miss B. A. Lester, chairman of the republican town committee in Bridgeport, as well as Miss Byrne and other citizens of local, county and state wide prominence in republican affairs, will speak.

Miss Villa P. Rich, chairman of the committee on arrangements, has appointed the following committees who are making preparations for the first republican political function of the year: Speakers, Mrs. Rich and Miss Byrne; invitations and publicity, Miss Bertha A. Plessis and Miss Anna C. Levitt; decorations, Mrs. Arthur C. Keith, Mrs. Ada L. Bibeault, Mrs. J. Dyer Potter, Mrs. Estelle Phareuf, Mrs. Arthur F. Hughes, Mrs. Irene Duvert; reception Mrs. Henry N. Benoit, Mrs. Charles A. Richard, Mrs. Eugene Migneault, Mrs. Joseph J. Dupre, Mrs. Elvira L. Barber, Mrs. Arthur E. Smith, Mrs. Luther M. Keith, Mrs. John M. Dean, Mrs. Edith M. Arnold, Mrs. Warren S. Ames, Mrs. David Breault and Mrs. Henry J. Thayer.

The hostesses and committee comprises Mrs. Edward H. Burt, Mrs. Harvey Grinsell, Mrs. Charles E. Dean, Mrs. David Flagg, Mrs. Walter N. Phillips, Misses Annette Johnson, Geraldine Frost, Juliette Brodeur and Eleanor Carpenter. Seating will be in charge of Mrs. Genevieve H. Letters and Mrs. Ernest C. Morse. Mr. Frink and Miss Gertrude C. Perry are making arrangements for the musical programme.

At services in every church in the city this morning, sermons chosen particularly with reference to Mother's Day were delivered by clergymen. The day was observed by the young and old, with airs of especial reverence shown to those little ladies, who are the dearest sweethearts to every boy and girl, man and woman. At a number of churches carnations were distributed among the congregations and were worn—a pink one if Mother was present to enjoy the happy returns of the day set apart by congress, and a white one if that little Mother was only a cherished memory, never to be forgotten.

A mission conducted by the Redemptrist fathers, for the benefit of the French speaking members of St. Mary's church, came to a close with the final service and sermon this afternoon.

Cards have been received here from Miss Elsie Gallant of Church street who is vacationing in Washington, D. C.

Early risers this morning viewed a special train carrying the Barnum Bailey-Ringling brothers circus, which passed over the Norwich and Worcester branch of the New Haven road, enroute to Brooklyn, N. Y. William E. Sault, assistant superintendent of the New Haven division, superintended the movement of the circus special.

Since the arrest of Emil Brenek and Edward Gildard, Putnam boys, now facing serious burglary charges, Captain of Police A. J. Dubreuil has received numerous inquiries from outside police organizations, seeking to connect the youthful burglars with similar depredations committed in their communities.

GURLEYVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Betage and Mr. Paul Barrows were recent visitors in Springfield. Mrs. Barrows and children returned with them.

The Ladies' society held one of their social gatherings in the conference room last Wednesday evening.

Miss Fineau, the teacher, returned to her duties here after spending the vacation week at her home in Fall River, Mass.

E. L. Tucker and family of Bridgeport were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Dinock.

Mrs. C. A. Dodge was a recent guest of Philip Linderson and family of Eagleville.

Jane Addams 'Neighbor To The Poor' Rounds Out 40 Years At Hull House

Jane Addams (upper right), noted social worker, is rounding out 40 years at Hull House (below) in Chicago. She is shown (left) with a group of foreign children.

CHICAGO, May 11—(AP)—Now it's "Forty Years at Hull House."

Twenty years ago Jane Addams, one of the most famous of social workers, published her book, "Twenty Years at Hull House," and sent a wave of admiration around the world.

May 10 marks the fortieth anniversary of the institution she founded as the first step of a desire to be "a neighbor to the poor."

Famous men and women have, during those 40 years, lived at the settlement house.

Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric company, is one. And there are William Chenery, editor of Collier's, Dr. Arthur Todd, sociologist at Northwestern university, Julia C. Lathrop, first chief of the children's bureau of the U. S. department of labor, and Edith Abbott, dean of the school of social service administration at the University of Chicago.

Miss Addams spent her first night at Hull House, Sept. 18, 1889.

The original building was a house that had been the residence of a Chicago pioneer, been used as a second-hand furniture shop before the young social worker and her aid, Ellen Gates Starr, took it over.

The present group comprises 12 buildings, centering about the original Hull House.

Guiding Your Child

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

Making The Break

Occasionally one sees children who have been so closely held to nurse and mother that when it comes time to send them to nursery school or kindergarten, the problem of making the break from the grownups at home is a serious one.

Such a child actually suffers agonies of fear and loneliness when he is first placed among a group of children under the supervision of someone who is a stranger to him.

The shock of such a sudden wrench from everything that has meant happiness and security to him in the past may be extremely harmful unless it is tactfully managed.

I think that in extreme cases the break is most successfully accomplished through giving the child an opportunity to become well acquainted with the teacher before he is placed in the impersonal situation of the school room.

Allowing the teacher to make friends with the child before he goes to school helps him to transfer to her a little of his love and gives him a feeling of security in her presence which will help him during his first morning away from home.

Once the child is brought to school it is not usually wise for mother or nurse to linger there with him. She had best say goodbye quickly and quietly and depart. If his first days are very unhappy he may be sent home early.

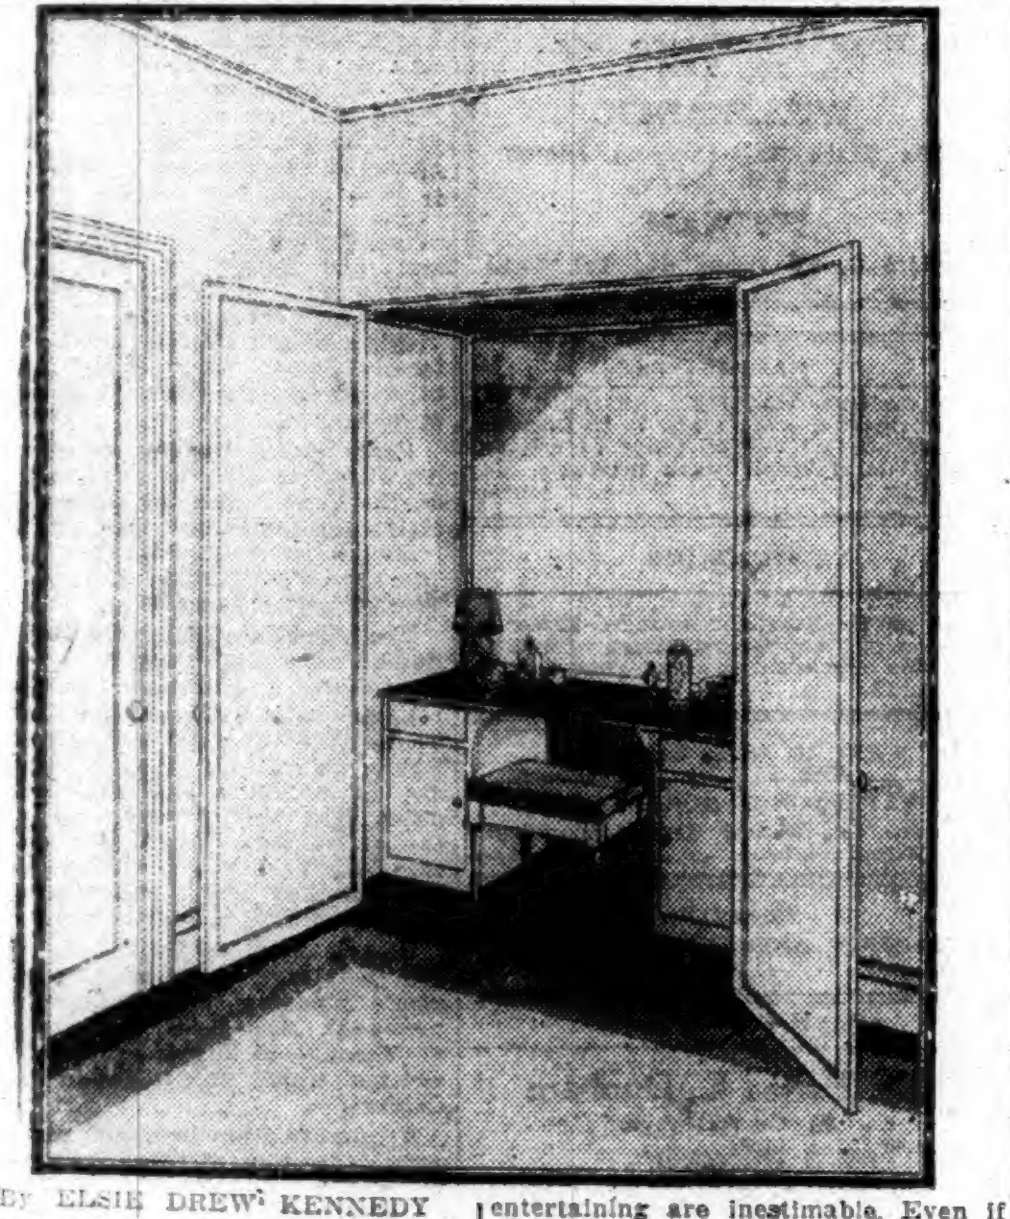
Often in such a case the child's tendency is to completely transfer to the teacher the absolute dependence he felt at home upon the adults there.

Nursery school and kindergarten teachers are, however, generally quite skilled in the art of weaning a child from such a tendency to personal attachments and in directing his energies into channels of wholesome activity.

Favors Black-White Vogue

NEW YORK, May 11.—(AP) — Mrs. Eldred Warner is among fashionable women sponsoring the vogue of black and white crepe for evening wear. She appeared at the Central Park casino recently in a white crepe gown patterned with large black flowers, cut low in back and worn without ornament.

RECESSED DRESSING TABLE SAVES SPACE



By ELSIE DREW KENNEDY

In these days of apartment houses, high rents and complicated living requirements, we are constantly confronted with the difficult task of getting a great deal into limited room without giving the effect of overcrowding.

The new modern treatment of interiors has solved a good many knotty decorative problems at a single stroke, but none more cleverly than that of space economy. Here it has shown itself a very genius of invention. On the premises that every piece of furniture shall fulfill its reason for being as efficiently and inconspicuously as possible, and that simple lines make for least confusion, modern designers have proceeded to build furniture into walls to tuck it into recesses, to treat it as an integral part of the room—to treat it, in short, architecturally. And the result is an effect of unity, solidity, and a vastly increased sense of space.

An exceptionally clever use of this method, and one which is equally adaptable to a city apartment or a country house is shown in the sketch. A dressing table, very modern in its simple lines, has been built into a recess provided with double doors, which may be closed to conceal it entirely, enabling it to form a convenient and unsuspected part of any room. The advantages of such an arrangement from the point of view of entertaining are inestimable. Even if there is no pressing question of space, an extra dressing table ready with powder and pins is always a boon whenever a large number of women are gathered.

This particular group has been very well designed for its purpose. The large, built-in mirror can be relied upon to give a complete, unwavering reflection—qualities too often lacking where most needed; and the table top, bounded on three sides by walls, holds secure its burden of bottles and accessories. The drawers are conveniently proportioned and easy of access. Since the feeling of line is restrained and firm, the imagination may be indulged in choice of color, fabric and accessories. The black glass top is both striking and practical, in typical modern fashion. The dressing table may be finished in a dull wax finish or it may be painted, with color scheme kept in close relation with that of the adjoining room. If light green walls are used there, for instance, the walls of the closet would be effective in a dull peach to match the leading color in the chintz draperies, with table in green, and cushion repeating accent in mulberry. Velvet, one of the new mohairs, sateen, or one of the new smooth-surfaced fabrics that can be wiped off may be used to upholster the stool cushion.

Two full-length mirrors built into the recess doors would be decorative and very usable.

WOMAN IN LIFE AND IN THE KITCHEN

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Steel wool used for scouring will rust if not dried after being used.

Add a pinch of baking soda when boiling milk to keep it from curdling.

To clean sponges let them lie for twelve hours in milk and then rinse in cold water.

The shine can be removed from serge goods by rubbing it with hot vinegar and then sponging with ammonia.

Olive oil, glycerine or sweet oil rubbed over patent leather shoes occasionally will keep them from cracking.

To prevent butter from sticking to the mold, scald the mold, rub thoroughly with salt and then cool the mold in cold water.

To keep pies from becoming too juicy, roll a soda cracker up in fine pieces and sprinkle it on the lower crust before filling with the fruit.

A pretty guest room bouquet that contains all the sewing necessities can be made in the shape of a bunch of violets surrounding a pink rose.

To keep bread from sticking to the pan, heat the pan, then grease it and sprinkle dry meal in the bottom. The same applies to cake, using flour instead of meal.

If your floors are worn and will not hold wax, try touching up the worn places with white shellac, and then wax. The floors will be much improved by this treatment.

A leak in a gas pipe can be stopped temporarily by moistening common soap and pressing it tightly over the leak. Or use a paste made of whiting and yellow soap mixed with water.

Before peeling apples for puddings and sauces, pour hot water over them, drain, and then place them on the top shelf of a fairly hot oven for a few minutes. The skin will then be found to come away quite easily with a sharp knife, and there will be no waste.

BROILED FISH

To broil cod, haddock, bluefish or mackerel, split the fish down the back and broil the whole, after first removing the head. Salmon and swordfish are cut into small pieces for broiling. Smelts and other small fish are broiled whole without splitting.

CREAMY DRESSING

You can make a delicious and very creamy Roquefort dressing if you cream the grated cheese with some butter and then add to this substance the French dressing.

TOMATO COCKTAIL

One of the most appetizing starters for a home meal when you mean to use fruit for dessert is the tomato cocktail. One can of tomatoes makes several cocktails, when strained.

VEGETABLE WASTE

Some of the best part of vegetables is lost through thick paring and overcooking. Most vegetables should boil from 10 to 15 minutes only.

TASTY DUCK

The next time you roast a duck, try stuffing it with sauerkraut. It is one of the tastiest and most successful of dishes.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

The bleeding of cuts can be stopped by applying quantities of salt and flour, spreading on thickly.

Upon waking in the morning take a good long stretch. This is an excellent exercise with which to begin the day.

Eat plenty of fruits. They are the natural laxatives. Drink orange juice for breakfast, eat stewed or raw fruits.

Frequent gargling with a solution of cider vinegar (a glassful) and salt (a spoonful) will quickly relieve a sore throat.

An odor on the hands can be removed by putting a little dry mustard in cold water and rubbing it on the hands. Then rinse in cold water.

A SALT WATER BATH AT HOME

When the daily dip in the ocean is no longer practicable, you can still enjoy the stimulating effects of the surf in your bathtub. About two pounds of sea salt added to the average tub of bath water will make the bath delightfully refreshing.

One disadvantage, however, is the difficulty of working up a good soapy lather in salt water. This disadvantage may be readily overcome by taking the cleansing bath first. When you have washed yourself thoroughly, let the water run out, replace it with fresh water and add the sea salt. You will feel all the vigorous effects of the seaside plunge plus the added refreshment of cleanliness.

STRIPED UMBRELLAS

The spring skyline on rainy days will be streaked, but not necessarily with rain. The newest umbrellas are striped, in two or three colors.

LUSTERLESS HOSIERY

Some new chiffon hosiery comes in a lusterless finish, designed to give the illusion of no stockings at all. With skirts longer, shoes come into prominence and legs fade out.

NEW BOBS

Every woman must study herself and find the most becoming ways of wearing her hair. Long skirts and higher waistlines have tended to do away with the comfortable short bob, but this does not mean that hair will revert to knee-length after the manner of the Seven Sisters. The long bob is the length of the moment.

PEARLS

Pearls, either of a pale dusty blue or soft pink to blend with the new pastel shades are the mode for spring. For color contrast there is nothing lovelier than the wearing of blue pearl beads with a yellow or black gown. Of course, natural pearls continue to be worn by the smartest gowned women.

DICTATES OF FASHION

The black linen pump is scheduled for popularity.

Taffeta ribbons, in wide sizes, are extremely smart as touches on evening gowns, especially as sashes and girdles. The new colors used with white and beige lace or fabric gowns are cerise, bright blue, chartreuse, linen and gold capucine.

The cape is rather prominent in various manifestations including the shoulder type, and the cape back either in one piece or divided.

Woven designs in silk shirtings are the newest innovation in the exceedingly attractive silks offered for sports wear.

Belts, preferably of self material, at the normal or near-to-normal waistline add to the swagger of tailored and sports coats in which the hems are moderately flared.

Generally, the round neck is the most pronounced for evening, very simple, even girlish, in front and much deeper in back. Often the front neck is round with the back a V.

Those white sports shoes, seen in this country at southern resorts, are being treated by Paris with a subtle difference. The shoes are of the kind which have a suede band or bands dyed in some cheery tint, matching some tint in the costume. Paris is inclined to match this suede trimming with costume jewelry and wrist-bag tops in a shade contrasting with the gown.

THE BLACK LINEN PUMP HAS VOGUE

If you have wondered whether or not the opera pump would cease to be as popular with the summer you will be interested to hear of the black linen pump that is mentioned for summer wear. Black linen has had a place of some prominence in the Palm Beach mode and linen as a fabric is expected to be an excellent choice for summer wear.

NEW ACCESSORIES FINDING FAVOR

Among the new dress accessories finding favor are a nosegray of twin, white tailored roses on the right lapel of the suit coat; a large red fox scarf; gazelle gloves in delicate pastel shades; handkerchiefs of brilliant, all-over prints for the sports frock pocket; costume jewelry of filigree silver crystals and enamel, all combined; blue kidskin pumps with cut steel buckles, for street wear and hand-bags in palm green and desert sand.

LAUNDRY HINTS

White garments will never take on a yellow appearance if a little kerosene is put in the washing water.

Fold sheets, tablecloths, towels, and handkerchiefs neatly when taking them from the line and place smoothly in the basket and they will iron much easier.

To remove stains on mattresses cover them with a thick paste of laundry starch and soap jelly, allow it to remain until dry and then brush it off with a whisk broom.

Place a damp cloth over a hot iron and draw the creased part of the velvet across the edge of the iron and on top of the damp cloth. This is a good way to press open seams on a velvet dress.

WHITE SILKS

To retain pure whiteness in silk blouses or lingerie add a teaspoon of cream of tartar to each pint of washing water. Never use water hotter than tepid and make a suds before putting in the garments. Do not rub soap on them. Rinse thoroughly.

NEW METHOD OF CLEANING FLOORS

A new simpler treatment for floors has just been announced by leading household institutes. This is the cleaning of floors with wax. Liquid wax is first applied freely as a cleaning fluid which dislodges ground-in dirt and dissolves surface dust. This is wiped off with a few clean rags taking the dirt with it. A fresh film of wax, paste or liquid is applied, allowed to dry and then burnish with an electric polisher until it glistens.

SHOE LACES

It is a mistake to let your laces for your oxfords get soiled and mussed. They are so easily washed. To iron them stand the iron on end, hold a lace by each tip and slide it back and forth across the hot iron until it is smooth.

WHITE HATS

To clean white felt hats or white straw ones, try very, very fine sandpaper and then art gum. Do not wait until the hat becomes too grimy. Take each spot off as it comes.

PINS AND COMBS

Decorative pins and combs have returned to high favor, and are practical as well as ornamental. The most recent imported shell combs are made to circle the back of the head and have a single row of rhinestone or pearl settings.

OILCLOTH WALLS

"The delightful new designs in oilcloth wall coverings are offering strong inducements for the use of figured walls. There are fascinating little chintz patterns, gay plaid ones, and others with geometrical feeling. Nothing could be more practical for bathroom walls, for they give perfect protection and they can be cleaned with a damp cloth. Incidentally, the oilcloth offers an excellent base for paint.

FORMER LEDYARD WOMAN RECEIVES HIGH HONOR

Miss Anna B. Gallup, the daughter of the late Christopher M. Gallup and Hannah E. Lamb Gallup of Ledyard, Conn., at the annual dinner of the National Institute of Social Sciences in New York city on May 8 received the gold medal of the institute in recognition of her distinguished service to humanity as curator-in-chief for more than a quarter of a century of the Brooklyn Children's museum.

MISS ANNA B. GALLUP

Miss Gallup with her brother, Christopher M. Gallup, now a resident of North Stonington, and her sister, Mrs. Darragh deLancey of Waterbury, formerly Miss Harriet Gallup, attended the Norwich Free Academy and later she was a student at the Connecticut State Normal school at New Britain and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The Brooklyn Children's museum was the first museum for children in the world. Sixty museums in this country which are either children's museums or have children's departments have patterned their policies and educational program after those worked out by Miss Gallup at the Brooklyn Children's museum. A children's museum has been opened in Japan and several are being started in England. In these as well as in the children's museums in this country the Brooklyn Children's museum has been used as model.

OBREGON'S NIECE TO NURSE IN FIRST SONORA HOSPITAL

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—(AP) — Movies and the gaudier careers for women don't interest Ramona Obregon, niece of the assassinated president-elect of Mexico.

She has enrolled as a student nurse in western Mexico's first hospital and school for nursing. She was the first applicant.

The institution is in Cuidad de Obregon, Sonora, named for her father.

Founding of the hospital was made possible by aid of Dr. Charles N. Thomas, of Palo Alto, Cal., Senora Maria Obregon and a group of Los Angeles physicians and financiers.

Dr. L. W. Starr will head the staff. The first unit, a 20-room building, was made from reconstructed headquarters of a firm which erected irrigation dams near the city.

WORLD SESSION OF WOMEN WILL CONFER AT VIENNA

VIENNA, May 11.— (AP)— Women from 42 nations and five continents will gather here May 26 for the World's Parliament of Women, held under the auspices of the International Council of Women.

Peace, work of the League of Nations, child training toward international understanding, child welfare, public health, family affairs, women police, white slavery and the position of women in business will be among the subjects discussed.

Match A Handbag To Your Wrap

PARIS, May 11.— (AP) — Evening handbags which are made of the same fabric as the evening wrap are the correct style for theatre wear here.

They are made of satin, marocain, velvet and lame.

WAR MOTHERS' SAD QUEST EASED BY ARMY'S GUIDE

WASHINGTON, May 11—(AP)—Gold star mothers and widows on the pilgrimage to France will be surrounded by all the comfort and consideration a solicitous government can devise.

Until they return the 4,856 women in the successive groups will receive every care. The war department program has been planned not only with military precision but with a fine perception for the sentiment of the pilgrimage.

As their eyes peer through ocean mist and foam toward the land where simple white crosses mark the end of their journey every ordinary travel worry is spared the women. Army officers guard their strength and peace of mind.

Once in the green areas of peaceful solitude in France over which floats the U. S. flag the widows and mothers can spend hours among the rows of crosses. Rest houses equipped for serving light meals have been erected in the cemeteries.

For some, serenity of spirit comes where "beneath the skies the lark, still bravely singing flies." Others, for whom sad memories are too vividly revived, can make their graveside visits short and retire to the seclusion of nearby French villages to await the return to Paris.

To avoid taxing the strength of the more elderly, frail women only a few very short speeches have been arranged for the reception given in Paris in their honor by the War Mothers of France.

By a twist of fate, Mrs. George Seibold, president of the American Gold Star Mothers, cannot make the trip unless congress passes an amendment to the enabling act before the close of this session. Her son, Lieut. George Seibold, was with the Royal Air Corps. His plane was bombed and he is listed with the unknown dead.

By the original act of congress the several thousand mothers and widows who have no definite graves to visit are not provided for in the pilgrimage.

BLACK AND SILVER GOOD WITH GREY HAIR

WASHINGTON, May 11.— (AP) — Black and silver make a fine combination for evening wear for the woman with grey hair.

Mrs. Minnegerode Andrews, Washington novelist, is wearing a black taffeta dress elaborately trimmed in silver. The extremely full skirt swirls gracefully around her ankles.

She wears a black velvet band ornamented with silver around her throat and carries a cane of ebony chased with silver.

Coral Ear Rings With Black Lace

WASHINGTON, May 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt wore pendant ear-rings of coral and onyx with short coral necklace to match at a Woman's Press club function.

They set off a simple black evening dress of taffeta which depends for its chief effectiveness on a striking ribbon arrangement in the low cut back.

Mrs. Willebrandt wears her hair in a low knot at the back.

Diamond Necklace Also Bracelets

PARIS, May 11.—(AP)—Economy has crept into jewelry shops lately in the form of a diamond necklace which divides into a pair of diamond bracelets at will.

An invisible clasp does the two-in-one-trick.

Woman 32 Inches High

TORY ISLAND, Ireland, May 11—(AP)—Miss Mary Hegarty living on this island off the coast of Donegal is 67 years old and only 32 inches high. She is the smallest woman in the British Isles.

Cheese Relish Filling for 8 Sandwiches

One-half cup cottage cheese, 1-4 cup chopped pimiento, stuffed olives, 1-4 cup chopped sweet pickles, 1 tablespoon chopped onions, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, 8 slices buttered white bread.

Mix cheese, olives, pickles, onions and mayonnaise. Spread on half the slices of bread. Cover with remaining slices. Cut in halves and toast until well browned on both sides. Serve warm.

Savory Meat Loaf, Serving 6

(Served hot or cold)

One and one-fourth pounds round of beef, ground, 1-8 pound salt pork, ground, 2-3 cup cracker crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped onions, 2 tablespoons chopped celery, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup tomatoes, 1 egg.

Mix ingredients and pack into greased loaf pan. Bake 50 minutes in moderate oven. Unmold and cut in slices 1-2 inch thick.

Strawberry Meringue Pie

One baked pie shell, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-3 cup flour, 2 egg yolks, 2 cups milk, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 cups berries, 1-3 cup confectioner's sugar.

Blend sugar and flour. Add egg yolks and milk. Cook in double boiler until thick and creamy. Stir frequently. Add salt and vanilla and pour into baked shell. Cover with berries, mixed with confectioner's sugar. Spread with meringue.

Meringue

Two egg whites, 4 tablespoons sugar.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar and beat until creamy. Spread on berries. Bake 12 minutes in slow oven. Cool and serve.

This dessert should be eaten within four hours after it is made.

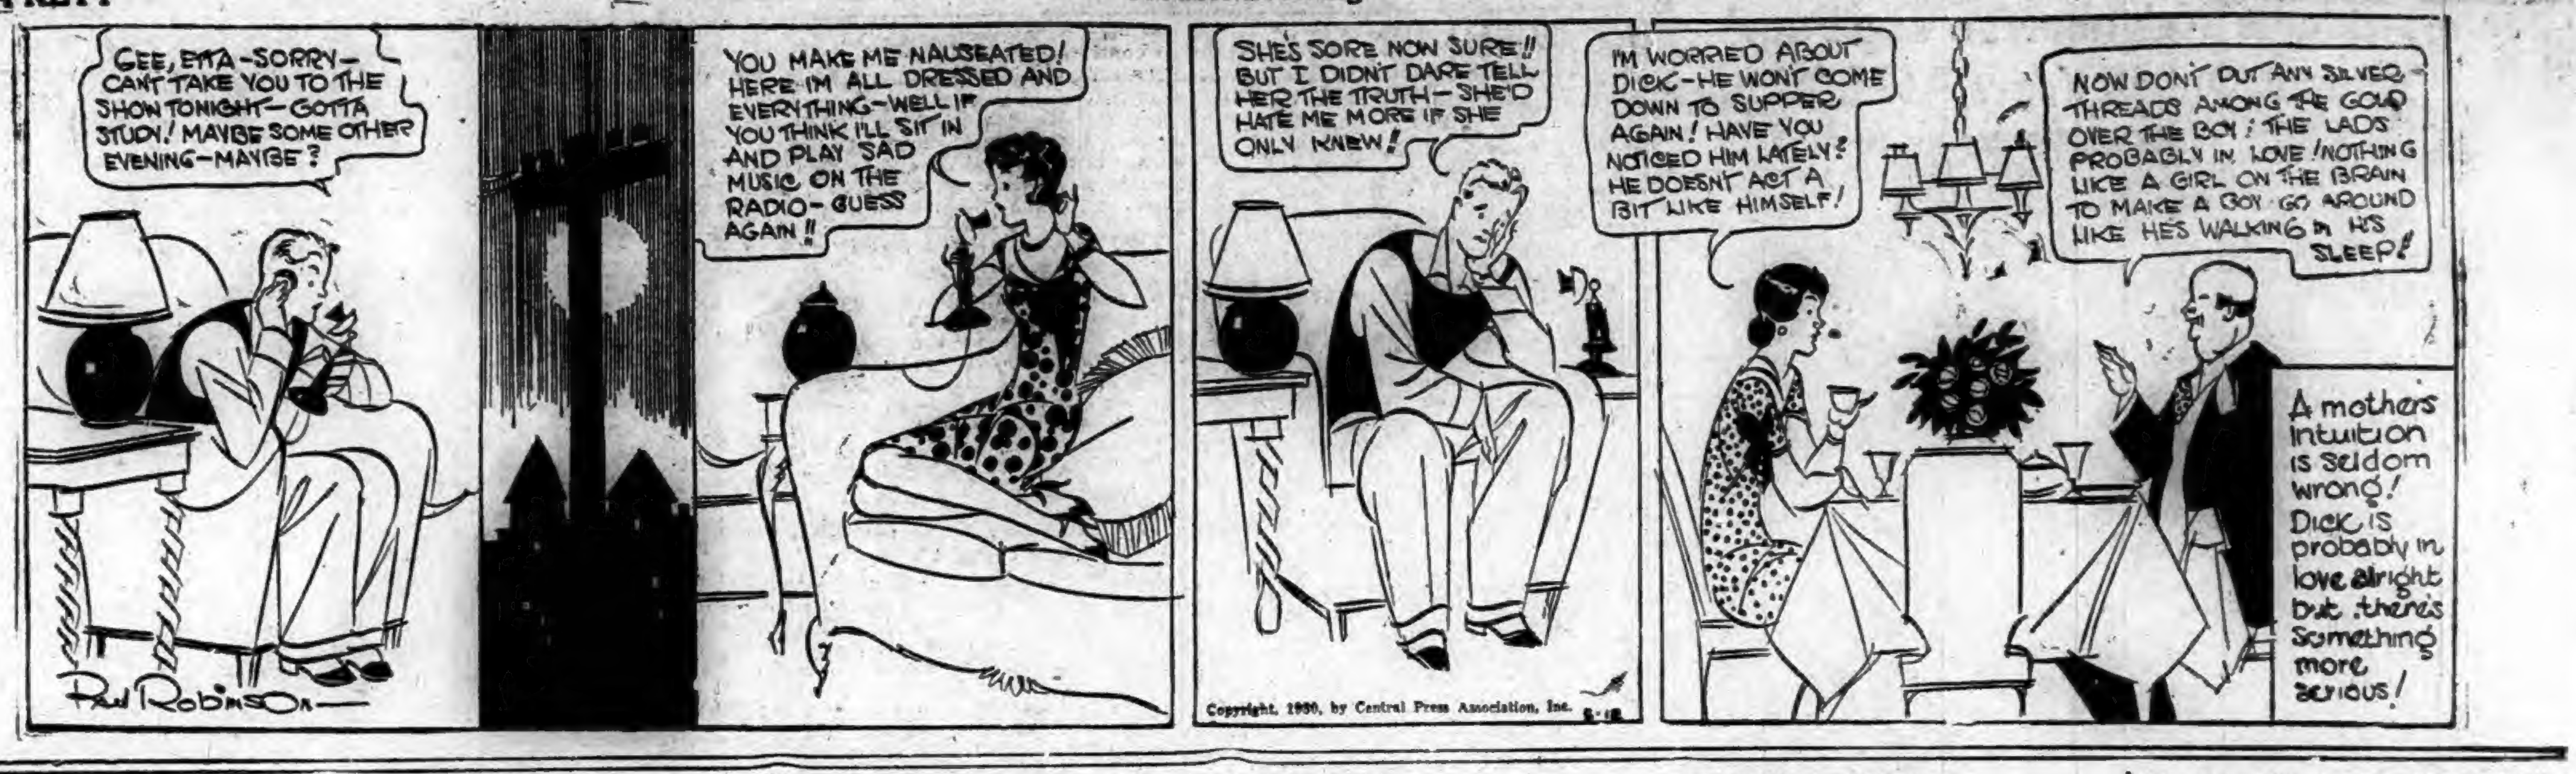
Trouble Brewing

—By PAUL ROBINSON



GEE, ETTA-SORRY-CAN'T TAKE YOU TO THE SHOW TONIGHT—GOTTA STUDY! MAYBE SOME OTHER EVENING—MAYBE?
YOU MAKE ME NAUSEATED! HERE I'M ALL DRESSED AND EVERYTHING-WELL IF YOU THINK I'LL SIT IN AND PLAY SAD MUSIC ON THE RADIO-GUESS AGAIN!!
SHE'S SORE NOW SURE!! BUT I DIDN'T DARE TELL HER THE TRUTH—SHE'D HATE ME MORE IF SHE ONLY KNEW!
I'M WORRIED ABOUT DICK-HE WON'T COME DOWN TO SUPPER AGAIN! HAVE YOU NOTICED HIM LATELY? HE DOESN'T ACT A BIT LIKE HIMSELF!
NOW DON'T PUT ANY SILVER THREADS AMONG THE GOLD OVER THE BOY! THE LAD'S PROBABLY IN LOVE! NOTHING LIKE A GIRL ON THE BRAIN TO MAKE A BOY GO AROUND LIKE HE'S WALKING IN HIS SLEEP!
A mother's intuition is seldom wrong! Dick is probably in love alright but there's something more serious!

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

The State of Connecticut through its duly authorized Board of Trustees for the State Training School and Hospital at Mansfield, Conn., invites proposals from reputable contractors for all of the material and labor and power house equipment for the four buildings listed below—
A—The Power House
B—The Laundry
C—The Boys' Dormitory
D—The Girls' Dormitory
all to be erected on the site as shown by the plot plan and all other plans and specifications as prepared by the architectural offices of Towner and Sellew Associates, Architects, Central National Bank Building, Middletown, Conn. and from whom all further information may be obtained.

The Trustees do not obligate themselves to accept the lowest or any proposal and the State does not obligate itself to make any payment on Buildings C and D until such dates as may be subsequent to July 1st, 1930. Connecticut contractors will be given the preference in awarding contracts and the contractor has the privilege of submitting a total bid for the four buildings but each building must be allocated to a definite figure to conform to within the legislative appropriated sum.

The proposals shall be sealed in an opaque envelope, the outside of which shall bear the endorsement:— "Sealed Proposals for State Training School at Mansfield, Conn.", and shall have the contractor's name and address on the upper left hand corner, and shall have enclosed with the proposal, a certified cheque for Eighteen Thousand Dollars ($18,000.00) for the four buildings proper and the number of working days required for the entire job shall be stated.

Two thousand dollars for equipment item Part 9 being boilers, etc.

Five hundred dollars for equipment item Part 10 being piping, equipment pertaining to pumps, tanks, etc., also covering.

Fifteen hundred dollars for equipment item Part 12 being for electric wiring from switchboard, etc.

All certified cheques to be made payable to Samuel R. Spencer, State Treasurer and shall become forfeited to the State as liquidated and ascertained damages in event of a bidder failing to enter into a contract and furnish a satisfactory bond within five days after an award has been made.

The proposals shall be addressed to Honorable Everett J. Lake, Acting Chairman of the Board of Trustees and delivered at the office of the State Comptroller on the first floor of the State Capitol in Hartford, Conn. not later than 11:00 A. M. Eastern Standard Time, Monday, June 2nd, 1930 and they will be opened publicly at 1:00 P. M. Eastern Standard Time the same day in the Old Senate Chamber on the second floor of the State Capitol.

A 100% contract bond will be required of the successful contractor which bond shall be paid for by the contractor and shall be from an approved corporate surety company and shall be approved as to form by the Attorney General for the State of Connecticut.

Copies of the plans and specifications may be had by reputable and bona fide bidders from the Architects at any time after Friday noon, May 9th, 1930, upon deposit of Fifty Dollars which will be refunded, less $10.00 for the cost of reproduction of plans and specifications, upon the safe return of the drawings and specifications and receipt of proposal.

Copies of plans and specifications are on file at the following places for use of sub-contractors only:
Associated General Contractors, 185 Ann St., Hartford, Conn. F. W. Dodge Co., Park Square Bldg., Boston, Mass. Brown's Letters, Inc., 100 East 42nd St., New York City. Construction Reports, Inc., 44 School St., Boston, Mass., and at the offices of the Architects in Middletown, Conn.

Towner and Sellew Associates, Architects
Central National Bank Building,
Middletown, Conn.

BALTIC

Baltic was fortunate to see a part of the aeroplane squadron, held over the New England states, the planes passing over at 4.43 p. m., followed an hour later by the regular mail plane from Boston to Hartford. The first squadron included twenty-four planes in formations of three.

After the regular meeting of Loyal Liberty lodge, No. 7, I. O. O., Ladies' M. U., a whist of seven tables was held. The first prize, a cutglass butter dish, donated by Mrs. Florence Dudley, was won by Mrs. Houston of Taftville with a score of 38. Second prize, hand-painted cheese and cracker dish, donated by Mrs. Keogh, went to Mrs. Emma Aime, 37. Consolation award, donated by Arnold Sewart, given to Miss Florence Firth. Men's first prize, broadcloth shirt, donated by Mrs. Anna Heibel, won by Master George Heibel, 34, who won on the cut from James Hallas, 34. The latter received second prize, a set of gold cufflinks, donated by Mrs. Emma Aime. George Aime was given the consolation prize. James Hallas had charge of the tickets. Those scoring at the whist were Mrs. Edith Firth and Mrs. George Bell.

Miss Louis Bradlam, of Main street, is resting comfortably at the private hospital in New London, following an operation for appendicitis.

JEWETT CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brochu gave a shower for their daughter, Miss Beatrice Brochu, during the week. The guests were: Mrs. Laura St. John, Miss Gloria Fecteau, Mrs. Lea Proulx, Miss Lucienne Langlois, Mrs. Rose Brochu, Mrs. Rose Despres, Misses Annette St. John, Florida Cormier and Yvonne Carroll, Mrs. Hermina Cormier, Mrs. Violet Peterson, Misses Susie Gill, Bella Martin, Selma Arremony, Cecile Sylvestre, Yvonne Sylvestre, Estelle Ethier and Mary Jane Poulin, Mrs. Mary Chalerol, Miss Sophie Arabik, Mrs. Irene Davignon, Misses Mary Solenski, Catherine Jarczak, Catherine Bergman, Beatrice Morin, Lillian Sancy and Anita La Perle, Mrs. Antoinette La Flesch, Misses Idola Heroux, Rose Belisle and Mary Belisle, Mrs. O. Bazily, Misses Isabella Cote, Olivine, Aurore, Louise and Irene Cadieux, Noella Tessier, Mrs. Elias Anthony, Mrs. H. De Rusha, Miss Beatrice De Rusha, Mrs. Diana Brochu, Mrs. Irene Maurice, Misses Lea, Delia and Evelyn Brochu, Miss Aurore Despres, all of Jewett City. Those present from Taftville included: Mrs. Amelia and Miss Irene Rivest, Misses Lydia, Delina and Mary Brochu and Effie Gravelin, Mrs. Delia Lambert, Mrs. Adele and Miss Alina Paquette, Miss Alma La Branche and Mrs. Bissonette. From Baltic were: Mrs. Joseph and Mrs. Fred Charron; Misses Lillian and Mary Charron; and from Plainfield: Mrs. Florida and Miss Solange Brochu.

STATE ROADBUILDING HAS ITS VEXING SIDE

Jewett City and Lisbon people are surely realizing that, listed among the serious diseases which are contracted by the state, roadbuilding is paramount. It breaks out in spots, is always bad and of more or less duration. Among its serious conditions is to be noted the fact that no known remedy has been discovered. Some Norwich man said, in reference to the New York and New Haven railroad company, that it wasn't so much what they did as it was the way they did it. All this, and some more, applies to certain Connecticut cement highway contracts. A personage comes along to a man's ancestral home which he owns, has paid for after years of toil, and doesn't want to sell. This visitor is apt to wear a high hat and a bland smile, as he informs you that as much as it pains him to do it, he must move your cherished homestead over into the next lot. Some flare up and resort to cuss words, another may tell of what they will do in the way of invoking the law, while the saner, but no less outraged sort, just make the best of what can't be helped. That being the first phase of the disease, is bad, and one is in a mess, but the worst is yet to come. Then arrives the tearing-up stage, during which period life is flat, stale and unprofitable, and only those with a faith well founded are able to enjoy their religion. In case of survival, a bright spot is to be seen, for locally Jewett City is immune from other attacks for the next 50 years, or even longer!

Early risers Sunday morning were permitted to get a glimpse of the south-bound Ringling Bros. circus trains for the second time this spring.

Before sunrise Sunday the mercury had dropped to 46 above. Last Thursday it rose to 94.

The carnations at the Baptist church Sunday morning were in memory of Mrs. Sarah A. Hiscox, from her son.

Local radio salesmen have run the figure up to over 100 so far this year. The specifications incident to a sale are as numerous as they are to the point. One man promised to sign on the dotted line if he could get a set that didn't sport an announcer with a voice that was a cross between a saxophone and an alto bassoon.

Dorcas circle of the King's Daughters will meet at Mrs. Abraham Zegeer's Tuesday evening. The state president, Mrs. G. H. Prior, will give an account of the international convention which she attended in New Orleans.

A number from here will attend the annual meeting of the King's Daughters and Sons of New London and Windham counties, to be held Wednesday at St. James' Episcopal church, New London. Others will attend the Conference of Six Churches at Hanover Wednesday.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dorrance of Bowdoinham, Me., will be interested to learn that "Sam," as he is familiarly known throughout New England, won the 100 per cent state championship in the sheep shearing contest at Storrs Saturday.

The body of Miss Minnie Green was brought from Danielson Saturday for burial in Jewett City cemetery.

Henry E. Holden, although not a life-long resident of Griswold, was there with the local angling dope Sunday, when he pried a two pound and a half trout from somewhere under the banks of Willow brook. Mr. Holden's prize has everything stopped locally, so far.

GEE, ETTA-SORRY- CAN'T TAKE YOU TO THE SHOW TONIGHT-GOTTA STUDY! MAYBE SOME OTHER EVENING-MAYBE?
YOU MAKE ME NAUSEATED! HERE I'M ALL DRESSED AND EVERYTHING-WELL, IF YOU THINK I'LL SIT IN AND PLAY SAD MUSIC ON THE RADIO-GUESS AGAIN!!
PAUL ROBINSON
SHE'S SORE NOW SURE!! BUT I DIDN'T DARE TELL HER THE TRUTH-SHE'D HATE ME MORE IF SHE ONLY KNEW!
I'M WORRIED ABOUT DICK-HE WON'T COME DOWN TO SUPPER AGAIN! HAVE YOU NOTICED HIM LATELY? HE DOESN'T ACT A BIT LIKE HIMSELF!
NOW DON'T GO AN' BE JUMPING AT THE SHADOWS-THE LAD'S PROBABLY IN LOVE! NOTHING LIKE A GIRL ON THE BRAIN TO MAKE A BOY GO AROUND LIKE HE'S WALKING IN HIS SLEEP!
A mother's intuition is seldom wrong! Dick is probably in love alright but there's something more serious!

all to be erected on the site as shown by the plot plan and all other plans and specifications as prepared by the architectural offices of Towner and Sellew Associates, Architects, Central National Bank Building, Middletown, Conn. and from whom all further information may be obtained.

The Trustees do not obligate themselves to accept the lowest or any proposal and the State does not obligate itself to make any payment on Buildings C and D until such dates as may be subsequent to July 1st, 1930. Connecticut contractors will be given the preference in awarding contracts and the contractor has the privilege of submitting a total bid for the four buildings but each building must be allocated to a definite figure to conform to within the legislative appropriated sum.

The proposals shall be sealed in an opaque envelope, the outside of which shall bear the endorsement:— "Sealed Proposals for State Training School at Mansfield, Conn.", and shall have the contractor's name and address on the upper left hand corner, and shall have enclosed with the proposal, a certified cheque for Eighteen Thousand Dollars ($18,000.00) for the four buildings proper and the number of working days required for the entire job shall be stated.

Two thousand dollars for equipment item Part 9 being boilers, etc.

Five hundred dollars for equipment item Part 10 being piping, equipment pertaining to pumps, tanks, etc., also covering.

Fifteen hundred dollars for equipment item Part 12 being for electric wiring from switchboard, etc.

All certified cheques to be made payable to Samuel R. Spencer, State Treasurer and shall become forfeited to the State as liquidated and ascertained damages in event of a bidder failing to enter into a contract and furnish a satisfactory bond within five days after an award has been made.

The proposals shall be addressed to Honorable Everett J. Lake, Acting Chairman of the Board of Trustees and delivered at the office of the State Comptroller on the first floor of the State Capitol in Hartford, Conn. not later than 11:00 A. M. Eastern Standard Time, Monday, June 2nd, 1930 and they will be opened publicly at 1:00 P. M. Eastern Standard Time the same day in the Old Senate Chamber on the second floor of the State Capitol.

A 100% contract bond will be required of the successful contractor which bond shall be paid for by the contractor and shall be from an approved corporate surety company and shall be approved as to form by the Attorney General for the State of Connecticut.

Copies of the plans and specifications may be had by reputable and bona fide bidders from the Architects at any time after Friday noon, May 9th, 1930, upon deposit of Fifty Dollars which will be refunded, less $10.00 for the cost of reproduction of plans and specifications, upon the safe return of the drawings and specifications and receipt of proposal.

BALTIC

Baltic was fortunate to see a part of the aeroplane squadron, held over the New England states, the planes passing over at 4.43 p. m., followed an hour later by the regular mail plane from Boston to Hartford. The first squadron included twenty-four planes in formations of three.

After the regular meeting of Loyal Liberty lodge, No. 7, I. O. O., Ladies' M. U., a whist of seven tables was held. The first prize, a cutglass butter dish, donated by Mrs. Florence Dudley, was won by Mrs. Houston of Taftville with a score of 38. Second prize, hand-painted cheese and cracker dish, donated by Mrs. Keogh, went to Mrs. Emma Aime, 37. Consolation award, donated by Arnold Sewart, given to Miss Florence Firth. Men's first prize, broadcloth shirt, donated by Mrs. Anna Heibel, won by Master George Heibel, 34, who won on the cut from James Hallas, 34. The latter received second prize, a set of gold cufflinks, donated by Mrs. Emma Aime. George Aime was given the consolation prize. James Hallas had charge of the tickets. Those scoring at the whist were Mrs. Edith Firth and Mrs. George Bell.

STATE ROADBUILDING HAS ITS VEXING SIDE

Jewett City and Lisbon people are surely realizing that, listed among the serious diseases which are contracted by the state, roadbuilding is paramount. It breaks out in spots, is always bad and of more or less duration. Among its serious conditions is to be noted the fact that no known remedy has been discovered. Some Norwich man said, in reference to the New York and New Haven railroad company, that it wasn't so much what they did as it was the way they did it. All this, and some more, applies to certain Connecticut cement highway contracts. A personage comes along to a man's ancestral home which he owns, has paid for after years of toil, and doesn't want to sell. This visitor is apt to wear a high hat and a bland smile, as he informs you that as much as it pains him to do it, he must move your cherished homestead over into the next lot. Some flare up and resort to cuss words, another may tell of what they will do in the way of invoking the law, while the saner, but no less outraged sort, just make the best of what can't be helped. That being the first phase of the disease, is bad, and one is in a mess, but the worst is yet to come. Then arrives the tearing-up stage, during which period life is flat, stale and unprofitable, and only those with a faith well founded are able to enjoy their religion. In case of survival, a bright spot is to be seen, for locally Jewett City is immune from other attacks for the next 50 years, or even longer!

Early risers Sunday morning were permitted to get a glimpse of the south-bound Ringling Bros. circus trains for the second time this spring.

Before sunrise Sunday the mercury had dropped to 46 above. Last Thursday it rose to 94.

The carnations at the Baptist church Sunday morning were in memory of Mrs. Sarah A. Hiscox, from her son.

Local radio salesmen have run the figure up to over 100 so far this year. The specifications incident to a sale are as numerous as they are to the point. One man promised to sign on the dotted line if he could get a set that didn't sport an announcer with a voice that was a cross between a saxophone and an alto bassoon.

Dorcas circle of the King's Daughters will meet at Mrs. Abraham Zegeer's Tuesday evening. The state president, Mrs. G. H. Prior, will give an account of the international convention which she attended in New Orleans.

A number from here will attend the annual meeting of the King's Daughters and Sons of New London and Windham counties, to be held Wednesday at St. James' Episcopal church, New London. Others will attend the Conference of Six Churches at Hanover Wednesday.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dorrance of Bowdoinham, Me., will be interested to learn that "Sam," as he is familiarly known throughout New England, won the 100 per cent state championship in the sheep shearing contest at Storrs Saturday.

The body of Miss Minnie Green was brought from Danielson Saturday for burial in Jewett City cemetery.

Henry E. Holden, although not a life-long resident of Griswold, was there with the local angling dope Sunday, when he pried a two pound and a half trout from somewhere under the banks of Willow brook. Mr. Holden's prize has everything stopped locally, so far.

NEW LONDON PATROLMAN IN CRASH FINDS FRIEND IN SUB-BASE OFFICER

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, May 11.—Another member of the New London police force will be disciplined within a day or two, according to information revealed this afternoon, for it became known that Capt. Charles Pinney will recommend to City Manager William A. Holt Monday that Patrolman Albert Iverson be disciplined on a technical charge of conduct unbecoming an officer. In the absence of evidence, which is withheld by Lieut. G. O. Daniels, submarine base, Iverson will escape more drastic punishment than he would have received with Daniels making a statement. Iverson, who is one of the youngest members of the department and who was recently promoted from Grade C to Grade B, concluded duty at 11:30 Saturday night. He joined an acquaintance and went to Ocean Beach in the former's auto, a Chevrolet. When the car was being driven by Iverson on Ocean avenue at 3:30 o'clock this morning, it bumped a parked Buick car owned by Lieut. Daniels. Neither machine was badly damaged, and neither Iverson nor his friend sustained injury. This morning, a resident of Ocean avenue informed Capt. Pinney of the accident, but when an investigation was made by Sergeant William Babcock, Lieut. Daniels steadfastly refused to make a charge against Iverson or to make any statement that could be used in connection with discipline meted out to the patrolman.

C. G. ACADEMY SENIORS HEAR SERMON AT FIRST CHURCH

The graduating class of the United States Coast Guard academy listened to a baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. J. Romeyn Danforth this afternoon at the First Church of Christ. The class, headed by the academy band and with motorcycle officers acting as an escort, marched from the academy to the church at 4:45. Many relatives and friends of the class members also listened to the sermon.

Wife-beater In Cell

Michael Thomas, East Lyme, was arrested at his home this afternoon on a charge of breach of the peace for he entertained the idea that he could beat his wife and not be molested. Thomas, who had been drinking, struck his wife several rugged blows about the face and head. Mrs. Thomas made complaint to the state police and Officer John Smith, who was on patrol duty in that vicinity, went to the Thomas residence and took the offender into custody. Thomas was brought to New London police headquarters and locked up for the night. This case will be tried in the East Lyme justice court tomorrow evening.

George P. Finch, 134 Baker avenue, Groton, was arrested Saturday night by Motorcycle Officer Carlos Stone, charged with reckless driving and will be in court Monday.

Violate Parking Laws

The police are continuing their drive to compel auto drivers to adhere to the parking laws. Those arrested Sunday were: Timothy Normat, submarine base; Walter Kolodnicki, Oakdale; Stanley Anysziewicz, East Lyme; Ruth Hill, West Main street, Westbrook; John B. Ashbrook, Coast Guard; Harold Gore, 78 Elderkin avenue, Groton; Sidney Slsnick, Main street, Hope Valley, R. I.; Charles Ross, submarine base, and Francis E. Lynch, a soldier, stationed at Fort Wright. Lynch's automobile was parked in restricted area on John street two hours and when he went to his car to drive away he was intoxicated. Lynch was taken to police headquarters, but was not held. However, his auto was taken to a garage and stored until Monday when it will be returned to the owner.

Several cases of intoxication will claim the attention of Judge Daniel M. Cronin in the police court Monday. A woman and a man, who were arrested Saturday night, will escape prosecution, for both were ordered discharged today by Prosecuting Attorney Max Boyer.

FRIENDLESS LYNN GIRL CHARGED WITH VAGRANCY

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, May 11.— Frances Andrews, a girl of about 20, whose home is at 8 Stewart street, Lynn, Mass, but who has been in New London some time, was arrested this afternoon on Bank street extension by State Police Officer John Smith, charged with vagrancy. The girl was locked up and will be in court tomorrow. Officer Smith was on his way to the Boston Post road for patrol duty when he observed the girl standing by the curb signaling autoists to stop, but none of them heeded her signal. Smith questioned the girl who carried an over-night bag and it developed that she was without funds and was attempting to obtain a ride to another city where she hoped to obtain work. She was then arrested.

Mrs. Ralph H. Keeler, 740 Ocean avenue, is spending a few days in New York.

Speed His Undoing

Algot Holmes, 415 Brook avenue, New York, was arrested this afternoon by State Police Officer John Smith, charged with reckless driving. The driver furnished a bond of $50 for his appearance in the police court Monday, May 17. Holmes, on Main street, left a line of traffic to pass several automobiles on the right hand side, among those cars being one driven by Officer Smith.

Watch For Runaways

The New London police tonight were requested to be on the lookout for two girls, missing from home and believed to be runaways. Pearl Poskos, 14, who resides in Hartford, is on parole from Long Lane farm. She is described as being about four feet, eight inches in height and weighs about 90 pounds, has light hair, light complexion, and blue eyes. When the girl disappeared she wore a tan coat with cape, small straw tam, blue silk dress, black patent leather shoes. The other girl is Mary Esposito, 17, of Derby, who disappeared Saturday. She is about five feet, two inches in height and wore black velvet coat and blue dress. She has black curly hair.

Frederick Finnegan, 63 Lewis street; Norman Delaney, Mystic; Mark Riley, Stonington; Mrs. George Lincoln and infant daughter, 344 Broad street; Mrs. John Kern and infant son, 342 Bank street; Lester Chase, 122 Ledyard street; Mariano Cincascio, 25 Shaw street; Leno Latham, U. S. Coast Guard; Mrs. Asa Raymond and infant daughter, Sound View; Mrs. George Payne and infant daughter, Gales Ferry, patients at Lawrence-Memorial hospital, were discharged Saturday.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Robbins B. Stoeckel Saturday ordered the suspension of the drivers' licenses of James F. Romano, 18 Belden court; Sebastian Silva, 30 Denison avenue; Fred Delforne, 3 Thompson court and Charles A. Ferreter, submarine base. Silva was the driver of the Frisbie Pie company's truck which struck and fatally injured William Labounty, Jr., in Montville, a week ago Saturday.

SIX BROTHERS BEARERS FOR THADDEUS L. BEEBE

The funeral of Thaddeus L. Beebe was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Niantic Baptist church and was attended by a large assemblage of mourners. The services were conducted by Rev. A. E. Darby. Six brothers of Mr. Beebe were bearers. Burial was in Union cemetery, Niantic.

NAPLES AND WIFE FIND THAT LAW HAS TEETH

Joseph Naples and his wife, Elizabeth, the former proprietor of the Venice restaurant, 189 Bank street, were in the police court Saturday charged with conducting a house of ill fame. The husband and wife, through counsel, entered a demurrer, which was overruled by Judge Daniel M. Cronon, who fined Naples $100 and costs and sentenced him to jail for 30 days and meted out a penalty of $100 and costs to Mrs. Naples. Naples and his wife were arrested last Wednesday night. As members of the Coast Guard had supplied the police with information as to the business conducted at the building, other than the serving of meals, a warrant for the arrest of Naples and his wife was issued. In court Saturday there were several coastguardsmen in attendance to give testimony in the event that the husband and wife pleaded not guilty.

Andrew Nichols, R. F. D. No. 2, Waterford, was charged with violation of the state motor vehicle law in driving without a license. The youth was discharged for the count was nolled. Nichols was arrested Friday night by Motorcycle Officer Carlos Stone; he never had applied for a license to drive.

Two Norwich Drivers On List.

F. R. Davis, submarine base; John D. Eaton 149 Monument street, Groton; Sidney C. Wood, Elm Tree inn, Pawcatuck; Charles E. Hancock, 13 Alger place; Edward Walsh, 57 Prospect street, Norwich; Joseph P. Connor, Jr., 13 Lincoln avenue, Norwich; Stuart N. Pendleton, 34 Elm street, Westerly, and Aaron Agin, 53 Squire street, were charged with various forms of violation of the city's traffic laws, principally for parking overtime. None of the drivers appeared in court, with the result that their respective bonds of $2 were forfeited. This morning Agin was arrested again charged with parking his car away from the curb and he was again compelled to post a bond for his appearance in court Monday.

But one case of intoxication was tried. The offender was given suspension of judgment.

OBITUARY.

Andrew W. Chadwick.

Andrew W. Chadwick, 91, died Friday night at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. John E. Clark, in Montville, death being the result of infirmities caused by Mr. Chadwick's advanced age. Besides his daughter, Mr. Chadwick is survived by a grandson, Clyde C. Ingram and a great-grandson, Clyde C. Ingram Jr., both of Waterford. Mr. Chadwick was born in England and for many years was employed by the Corticelli Silk company.

Mortimer N. Judd, New Britain, a summer resident at 66 Mott avenue, Ocean Beach, died in New Britain General hospital Friday, here he had been a patient but 24 hours.

Fannie Nunes, of Uncasville, notified the police Saturday night that while in New London she lost her handbag, which contained among other effects, $5, keys and a man's wallet.

An automobile driven by Lieut. Albert J. Wheaton, U. S. A., struck a youth named Brower, on Ocean avenue Saturday afternoon, bu the boy was only slightly injured. The boy was standing on the curb and suddenly started to run to the opposite side of the highway. He had entered the street but a few feet when he ran directly in front of Wheaton's car, and was knocked down. He was taken to the office of a physician where it was found that he had sustained only a laceration of the head. The boy was taken to his home.

LAUNDRY CAR CRASHES INTO TELEPHONE POLE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, May 11.—An automobile owned and driven by Wilfred J. Landry, 307 Crystal avenue, was wrecked and the driver and Wilford Deshefy, 13, were injured, this morning, when the car crashed against a telephone pole at the corner of Crystal avenue and Stanners street. Landry and the Deshefy youth were taken to Lawrence-Memorial hospital where it was found that both had sustained head injuries. Landry's wounds were treated, after which he went to his home. But Seshefy is being detained there for a day or two for observation.

Landry was driving south on Crystal avenue and near the corner of Stanners street an auto traveling in the opposite direction drove in front of the Chevrolet to enter Stanners street. In order to avoid a colision, Landry guided his car to the side of the highway, but instead of the two autos colliding Landry's car crashed against the pole. A telephone message to police headquarters resulted in Automobile Officer Elwood Bailey being assigned to make an investigation. The officer reported that Landry's car was headed south and that tire tracks showed it had traveled fully 75 feet before the crash occurred. Landry said that he was not driving at a speed in excess of 25 miles.

Arrested 49 Times.

Patrick Murphy, a farm laborer, who is close to holding first place in the number of arrests, was taken into custody Saturday afternoon charged with intoxication and was locked up. Murphy, who is about 70, has been arrested 49 times, went to police headquarters seeking lodging and because of his condition, the farm hand was locked in a cell instead of being given a berth in the tramp room.

Foster Hobron and Mamie Holloway, both colored, the former with a long police record, were arrested late Saturday night on North Bank street charged with lascivious carriage. Today the pair were released when Hobron and the Holloway woman furnished a surety on their respective bonds of $50 and $100 for their appearance in the police court Monday.

Thomas Pock was arrested at 2 o'clock this morning charged with breach of the peace, upon complaint of Carl C. Brown, 17 Spicer avenue, Groton. Brown's automobile was parked in the highway and Peck for some unexplained reason, entered the car and smashed a window, apparently deliberately.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Breed Theatre

"Not So Dumb," an adaptation of the successful stage farce, "Dulcy," opened a four day's run last night at the Breed theatre, with Marion Davies in the starring role. The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer all-taking picture proved to be a sure-fire hit.

Miss Davies, in the role played by Lynn Fontaine in the George S. Kaufman-Marc Connelly play, has a part made to order for her natural endowments as a comedienne of the first order. As the beautiful but blundering Dulcy, heroine of the picture, Miss Davies gives another of the inimitably riotous performances to which she first introduced her audiences in "The Patsy" and "Show People."

A great cast helps the star in putting over the comic situations of this decidedly funny picture. Elliott Nugent, rapidly becoming a matinee idol, plays the distracted Gordon, who accepts the advice of his fiancee in completing a business deal, only to regret it in the face of the devastating results. Raymond Hackett is amusing as the younger brother and good performances are given by Julia Faye, Franklin Pangborn, William Holden, Sally Starr, George Davis, Ruby Lafayette and Donald Ogden Stewart.

This Week at Woman's City Club

The garden section of the Woman's City club will hold its open meeting on Tuesday, May 13. An informal talk on Dutch bulbs will be given by Marinus Van Laar at Slater Hall annex at 3 p. m., after which the club members are invited to visit the garden of Mrs. Robert W. Perkins, 60 Broad street. Should Tuesday be stormy, the meeting will be held on Thursday.

CANNED MUSIC in THEATERS

Is the Robot Fooling YOU?

The Paris correspondent of "VARIETY" reports:

"The music-wise Continentals object violently to mechanical music (in the theatre)."

American Federation of Musicians
1440 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen: Without further obligation on my part, please enroll my name in the Music Defense League as one who is opposed to the elimination of Living Music from the Theatre.

Name ....
Address ....
City .... State ....

WHAT, then, if Europeans thus prove their "music-wisdom," are we North Americans supposed to be, that we are asked to accept mechanical music — and mechanical music only — in the theatre? Music-stupid, perhaps?

Well, at least 2,000,000 theatre patrons have rejected that characterization by joining the Music Defense League. They mean that they want Real Music, not Canned Music exclusively, in the theatre.

If you value the Art of Music, you too, should be numbered among the "music-wise." Just sign and mail the coupon at the left.

GREENEVILLE

George Swanton of Providence spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Swanton on North Main street.

The Greeneville T. D. Sewing Circle held the weekly meeting Thursday evening at the home of Miss Alice McGovern on Hamilton avenue. The first period of the evening was devoted to sewing of fancy articles, after which a social hour was enjoyed. During the evening piano and vocal solos were rendered. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Anders Peterson of Providence spent the week end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Peterson on Boswell avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Delaney of Providence are at the home of Mr. Delaney's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Delaney on Eighth street, for a few days.

William Carroll has returned to Waterbury after spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll on Mowry avenue.

TAFTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Emile J. Dubeau of Plainfield were Sunday guests of Mrs. Dubeau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lambert and family of North B street.

John Meyer of Hartford passed the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Meyer, of Providence street.

Arthur Wilson of Plainfield has been a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Airey and family of North Second avenue.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Smith and Miss Lillian Laramie of North B street over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laramie of Plainfield.

At the Taftville Congregational church Sunday morning, the pastor, Rev. William Penner, took for his sermon subject, "The Home Beautiful." In the evening there was a meeting of the members of the Young People's society of Christian Endeavor in the church vestry, with a Mother's day program.

NORWICH TOWN

REV. G. F. BAILEY PREACHES ON "THE MOTHER AND THE SON"

"The Mother and the Son; Reciprocal Concern for Each Other," was the theme of the morning sermon at the First Congregational church, when the pastor, Rev. Gurdon F. Bailey preached impressively on Mother's Day. Prior to the sermon, Rev. Mr. Bailey read a special prayer for all mothers. The preacher cited three pictures of Jesus and His Mother—first, where Jesus was found in the temple, at twelve years of age; a student in the Old Testament history, else He would not have been found there. The second picture was where Jesus and His mother were together at the marriage ceremony in Galilee; and the third picture was the scene on the cross—St. John 19:25; There was no greater divinity of Christ than His relationship through life with His mother; always manifesting His love, loyalty, obedience, faithfulness, and all that tends toward goodness and uprightness.

Rev. Mr. Bailey related many incidents of mother love, and in later years, told how that same love came back to her, through her children, when she was old and feeble. "There is no stronger or more beautiful picture in the realm of relationship, than to see a son take his aged mother in his arms and caress her," said the speaker, "or mother love in later years revered by sons and daughters.

Decorative baskets of flowers were on either side of the platform and on a table in front of the pulpit was a large basket of variegated carnations.

"Good Will In the Home" was the theme of the Congregational Young People's C. E. society in the chapel. Sunday evening, at 6:30.

Following the C. E. meeting, members from this parish attended the community mass meeting at the United Congregational church at 7:30, to hear Rev. Clarence True Wilson D. D. lecture on "Labor, Liquor and Law."

Wolf Cup Pack of Scouts connected with the Methodist Episcopal church held a meeting Saturday morning with an attendance of 21; Frederick J. Ross was appointed assistant cubmaster. Four new members were admitted. This brings the membership to nearly 30. A committee of five members, Clarence Smith, Frank Jordan, John Gibbs, Walter Kelly and Ellis Bentley is to meet with the cubmaster and draw up some new test requirements. New camps were presented each cub for wearing at summer meetings. New neckerchiefs are to be supplied all Cubs not already supplied. A marching period showed the Cubs are improving in their drill work. Capture the flag was played on Huntington green with Edward Jordan and Frederick J. Ross as referees. The den, in charge of Woodruff Sullivan, was led by Clarence Smith, in the absence of Sullivan. Smith captured the flag and made the only score during the game.

Mother's Day Service

At the Methodist Episcopal church the pastor, Rev. George Warren Potter, took for his text for his Mother's day sermon, Matthew 19:19, "Honor thy father and thy mother." The junior vested choir, under direction of Mrs. Lewis E. Aldrich, sang a special Mother's day anthem, "My Mother's Bible." Virginia Ward sang "I'm Wearing a Flower for You." The attendance was about 70.

Troop 2 Hears Talk

There was an attendance of 22 Friday night when Troop 2, Boy Scouts connected with the Methodist church met. This number included every member of the troop and officers and visitors. Randolph H. Whaples, leader of the Four-H club work gave a talk on Garden Club Work. Following his talk a number of Scouts indicated their intention of joining the Four-H Garden club of Connecticut. Mr. Whaples acted as a judge in one of the interpatrol contests. On inspection the Wolf Patrol scored 5 points and the Stag Patrol 5. On the opening ceremony the Stag Patrol scored 10, the Wolf Patrol scored 10 on the drill period, 10 on the song period and 10 on patrol meeting. The Stag Patrol scored 20 on tests. The Stags also scored 10 on the quiz which made the totals for the evening: Stag Patrol, 55; Wolf Patrol, 35; Flying Eagle Patrol, 0. The Stag Patrol still leads in the contest with a score of 105, the Wolf Patrol is second with 70 and the Flying Eagle Patrol third, with 15. The individual medals won in the recent contest were awarded by the scoutmaster, Rev. George Warren Potter. Patrol Leader Clayton Rose received the gold medal, Assistant Patrol Leader Earl Robinson the silver medal and Scribe Edward Eccleston the bronze medal. After hearing reports from the members of the troop who attended the jamboree practice last Tuesday evening the troop, by a unanimous vote, decided to withdraw from the jamboree. The troop will put on an exhibition at a later date for the entertainment of parents and friends.

The May meeting of Ever Ready circle of the King's Daughters, connected with the First Congregational church, has been planned for Tuesday evening the 13th, at the home of Mrs. Charles P. Learned, of East Town street.

In the Dixie minstrel, to be given by Colchester Eastern Star in Huntington school hall for the benefit of the Christian Endeavor of Norwich Town Methodist Episcopal church, the end men will be Roger and Herbert Porter of Hebron and John Riley and Herbert Clark of Colchester. Edward Norton is interlocutor. The soloists are Doris Riley, Clarice Brown, W. E. Adams, Mr. Denman of East Hampton, W. O Seyms, Dr. A. L. Stebbins. Solo dancers will be Doris Riley of Colchester, Mrs. Sweet of Salem, Mrs. Conwell of East Hampton and Mrs. Eunice Boson. A special feature will be a solo dance by little Peggy Mara, daughter of James Mara of Norwich Town.

BOY SCOUT LEADERS AND SCOUTS CAMP OVERNIGHT

About 40 Scout leaders and boys camped overnight Saturday at Point Breeze on the Thames river, at the summer cottage of H. Downer Johnson. The camping trip was the occasion of the closing session of the patrol leaders' training course and was attended by practically every boy and Scout leader in the Norwich troops.

Leaving Scout headquarters at 1:00 p. m. the Scouts were driven to the cottage in the cars of scoutmasters and parents. Upon arrival at the camp, beds were made up for the night and a committee of three scoutmasters carried on an inspection. Scout Nelson Packer of Troop 12 was declared to have the best made up bunk and was awarded a sign with the name Norwich on it.

Scoutmasters Ludlow, Rathbun and Assistant Scoutmaster Burke led in games during the afternoon. Scoutmaster Collins and Weidman were chief cooks supervising the cooking of the Scouts. Because of the fire hazard a camp fire was held by automobile lights. Stunts were put on by patrols, and at the close a short rope hike was conducted through the woods.

The Scouts were up early Sunday morning; got their breakfast and returned to the city in time for their usual church services.

Those attending the hike were: Ned Packer, Russell Yerrington, William Galligan, Joseph Muruzo, Harry Turner, William Hinchcliffe, Raymond Hotchkiss, Charles Romanouski, George Lichenstein, Charles White, Ralph Sinay, John Schwartan, Daniel Downing, Wesley Sholes, Herbert Chapman, Frank Aubrey, Gordon Johnson, Woodrow Sholes, James Armstrong, James Dennis, James James Coughlin. Scoutmasters in attendauce were: Walter Weidman, John Boldrighihini, Howard Ludlow and Assistants Anton, Lloyd Rathbun and Bob Burke, H. Downer Johnson and Will Collins, and Scout Executive John Sellman.

In a discussion of the approaching rally to be held May 24, the patrol leaders voted to have a merit badge pageant with different Scouts dressed to represent the different merit badges.

CONSISTORY RENDEZVOUS AT MASONIC TEMPLE

A rendezvous of the Connecticut Consistory, Valley of Norwich, Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite, will be held in the Masonic temple here this (Monday) evening at 8 o'clock, at which time there will be a reception and balloting on applications.

Eastern Connecticut day will be observed at the temple next Friday afternoon and evening, when the 20th degree will be worked in full form. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock. At 7 o'clock the 27th degree, Knight Commander of the Temple, will be worked in full form.

Hartford day will be observed at Hartford next Saturday afternoon and evening, when the 20th and 27th degrees will be conferred in full ceremonial form.

New Norwich Incorporation

Organization papers have been filed by the Norland Co., Inc., of Hartford and Norwich with the secretary of state at Hartford. The authorized capital is $50,000, to consist of 1,000 shares of common stock of $50 par value, of which $13,000 has been paid in. The incorporators are Lena and Marjorie Bonasso and Howard Strauch.

WHITE CROSS COUNCIL CONFERS DEGREE ON PRE-CONVENTION CLASS

As a preliminary to the opening of the annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus in this city, White Cross council, No. 13, conferred the third degree on a class of 23 candidates Sunday afternoon at the Strand theatre. Grand Knight James P. Sheridan presided at the session and the degree was worked by the Westerly degree team. Visiting district deputies were among the 275 in attendance, many sections of the state and New York city being represented. Following the degree work there was a luncheon at the Knights of Columbus home on Broadway.

Delegates to the convention began arriving in the city Sunday evening and the remainder are expected in town today (Monday). The Wauregan hotel has a K. of C. welcome sign above the entrance. In all, about 160 delegates will attend the convention. At the special meeting Sunday afternoon those present included State Deputy William J. Mulligan of Hartford.

The committee in charge of the arrangements for Sunday's meeting included: John H. Carney, Richard J. Marks, Sr., Jeremiah Sweeney, Joseph P. Gadle, Jr., and John McKenna.

The visiting delegates will be taken on a tour of the city today (Monday). automobiles to be provided by White Cross council. Historical points and other places of interest will be visited. Grand Knight Sheridan is in charge of this particular part of the programme.

In the evening there will be a dance at the Wauregan hotel, an orchestra led by John Eagan providing the music. Maurice Buckley, Louis Grover, William Shannon, John Kelly and John Burns are the committee in charge of the dance arrangements.

Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock there will be a high mass for the Knights, delegates, other visitors and members of White Cross council, at St. Patrick's church, after which the principal business session of the convention will be held at the Masonic temple. State Deputy William J. Mulligan will preside at the session and the visitors will be welcomed by Mayor Lee Roy Robbins. At the close of the business session in the afternoon there will be a banquet at the Wauregan hotel, this concluding the convention. The convention committee comprises Grand Knight James P. Sheridan, Richard J. Marks, John H. Carney, James J. Woods and George H. Dolan. Morgan G. Cronin will have charge of the decorations at the hotel.

ATTENDED CONVENTION OF THE UNITED SYNAGOGUE

In attendance in New York last week at the convention of the United synagogue was Abner Schwartz who was the representative from this city and in the convention sessions served on the finance committee.

One of the strong addresses at the convention was given by Rabbi Samuel Fredman of Philadelphia, who spoke on the origin and effect of men's club upon synagogal life in America, and said that the work of the clubs is to arouse "our manpower, to summon them to gather around the banner of positive, creative Judaism, that ferments with life and hope and joy."

The $150,000 budget submitted by the committee was reduced to $75,000 and a plan of three types of membership adopted to raise the amount necessary for the coming year.

Education and schools were also considered, and two resolutions introduced by Rabbi Henry H. Rubin, of Brooklyn, dealing with Jewish children in public schools, were unanimously adopted. The first puts the organization on record as opposing Friday evening and Saturday sessions in public tax-supported educational institutons, and the second declares opposition to having examinations given in public schools on Jewish holy days and Sabbaths.

LISBON RESIDENTS WANT NORWICH CITY WATER

A petition is in circulation among residents of the town of Lisbon, which is to be presented to the mayor of Norwich, the common council and the board of water commissioners of Norwich, asking that the water mains from the city system be extended so that residents of a section of the town of Lisbon can be served with Norwich city water.

The petition states that it is made in "view of the private laws of the state of Connecticut, chaper 93, approved April 13, 1923, which authorizes your city to so extend its mains. We respectfully suggest that a conference be held as to terms, conditions and circumstances of such service by your city and hope to fully rely upon your favorable consideration and equitable action."

The petition already has 30 signatures of heads of families and taxpayers.

The section, which is so desiring Norwich city water service is what is called Blissville, along the river road to Jewett City, and the section on the Newent road from the bridge over the Shetucket river to the schoolhouse at the top of the hill and that section along the dirt road connecting the River road with the Newent road.

Called for Brush Fire

Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock the fire department responded to a telephone call for a brush fire in the rear of St. Joseph's cemetery. Squad A, Engine No. 2 and Acting Deputy Chief John E. Blackburn responded. The land is owned by St. Patrick's parish.

Mrs. Huguette Clark Gower, daughter of the late United States Senator William A. Clark of Montana, copper magnate, was is in Reno, Nev. presumably to establish a residence and seek a divorce from William MacDonald Gower.

GAVE FASHION SHOW WITH CLASS EXHIBITION

The annual exhibition of the sewing classes of the United Workers was held Friday evening at 9 Washington street. It was the unanimous sentiment, expressed by those who saw it, that all records had been broken and a new high standard set which will be hard for future classes to beat. The work, with the exception of holders and towels, was all wearing apparel, ranging from "undies" to ensembles; and all wearable. Every article, before being accepted, was thoroughly inspected and the stamp of approval placed on it. To prove this, at 4 o'clock the girls put on a fashion show. It was opened with a piano solo by Miss Doris Pepin. There were 26 models, each one's garments being described and comented on by the supervisor, Mrs. W. C. McKean. Mrs. Frank B. Lathrop played throughout this part of the programme. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers and the exhibit most attrictively arranged, so that the club work committee should feel very proud of their department this year.

The models were: Lena Cipriani, Evelyn Leome, Celeste Colonni, Gloria Santelle, Julia Banas, Marion Adams, Bertha Browski, Jane Clifford, Marion Nicholson, Anna Cellucci, Mildred Holmes, Madeline Pedace, Ida Leone, Nancy Grillo, Anna Donovan, Olive Dion, Josephine Powlowski, Victoria kowski, Doris Santelle, Pauline Sav-Santelle, Louise Tremolo, Eleanor Saagedex, Madeline Deauvilie, Ruby Johnson, Anna Sabatina, Anna Mulcahy.

The judges who kindly consented to award the prizes were Mrs. Wilhelm S. Alling, Miss Alice M. Cogswell and Miss Mary E. Richards. They worked the entire morning and finally made the following decisions, for first prize and honorable mention respectively:

Bloomers—Marion Adams, Lena Cipriani; slips—Sadie Mahoney, Charlotte Craney; nightgowns—Josephine Powlowski, Anna Donovan; pillows—Anna Brooks, Nicolleta Demico; Aprons—Marion Nicholson, Anna Cellucci; dresses—Margaret Gormeley, Catherine Mahoney; coolie coats—Adeline Leone, Louise Tremolo; ensembles—Elizabeth Lieberman, Anna Cellucci.

For improvement—8-10 yrs. Julia Banas, Mary DeManio, Rose Colonni; 10-12 yrs.—Doris Pepin, Celia Tinge; 12-14 yrs.—Mary Calonni, Pauline Sawageaux.

Acknowledgment was made by the classes for courtesies extended by The Buckingham Shop, Caron's Specialty Shop, Porteous and Mitchell, The Norwich Bulletin, Mrs. F. B. Ricketson, Mr. Joseph C. Worth, friends who sent flowers and the members of the committee and the teachers who have so willingly given their time.

Wednesday and Thursday of this week there will be some of the work displayed in the windows of Caron's Specialty shop.

Backus Hospital Dismissals

Patients discharged over the week end at the Wm. W. Backus hospital were the following:

Saturday—Mrs. Peter Lestig, 222 West Main street; Francis Prodell, 22 Providence street, Taftville; Nancy Grillo, 92 Mechanic street; Mrs. Stanley Jorczak, Versailles; Esther Green, 28 Regina street; Mrs. Louis Deutch, Baltic; Mrs. Raymond Ames, Crescent Beach, Niantic.

Sunday—Mrs. Carl W. Griener and infant son, Stonington; Elmer Abel, Colchester; Mrs. Paul Grierer, 385 Main street; John O. Johnson, 11 Warren street; Mrs. William Knight and infant son, 170 Otrobando road; Mrs. James LaFrance and infant son, Central Village; Mrs. Charles Dailey and infant daughter, Occum, Mrs. Herbert Ferguson and infant son, Washington street; Mrs. Chester G. Thurston and infant daughter, 236 Broad street.

TICKETS TO ADMIT TO COLLEGE PRESIDENT INAUGURATION

Connecticut college officials in charge of inaugural events scheduled for the college this week have announced that admittance to the ceremony at which Miss Katharine Blunt will be inaugurated as president will be restricted to ticket holders. Tickets are to be issued to persons responding to invitations to attend the affair.

There has been some confusion, many persons believing that tickets for the ceremony were not necessary if invitations were received. The ceremony will be Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

SUSPENDED JAIL SENTENCE OF 60 DAYS IMPOSED

A suspended jail sentence of 60 days was given John Kornacki in the city court Saturday morning when he was found guilty of violation of the liquor laws. Kornacki was arrested April 19, as the result of a raid at his place, No. 62 Eleventh street, by local and state police. A quantity of liquor was found in the place.

Peach Moth Talk by Radio

Dr. Philip Garman, assistant entomologist of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment station, spoke on the Oriental peach moth in a broadcast Saturday night from WBZ, Springfield.

Damage from the insect in Connecticut peach orchards last summer was estimated at more than $200,000. Dr Garman is now in charge of rearing parasites that will be placed in Connecticut orchards to combat the peach moth.

Head Cut in Fall

Taken suddenly ill Sunday night, Charles Carpenter of Tannar avenue fell at Ripley hill and Main street, and received two gashes in his head that required nine stitches to close. Officer Edward Kelly found Mr. Carpenter on the ground and he was taken to police headquarters by Officer Kelly and Officer Patrick F. Shahan. Dr. Paul F. Gadle took seven stitches in a gash at the back of the man's head and two stitches to close a cut over his eye. After being attended, Mr. Carpenter was removed to his home.

SENDS FIRST $100 TO NASHUA RELIEF

A check for $100 was sent to Red Cross officials at Nashua, N. H., by Charles Colt, chairman of the local Red Cross chapter, Saturday. The money represents subscriptions raised locally for relief work in the fire-stricken area in Nashua. Cash donations are still being received by Arthur L. Peale and Captain Colt.

SENATE COMMITTEE IS TO SIFT LONDON NAVAL PACT

Announcement Made By Chairman Borah Following Lengthy Address By Secretary Stimson, Who Declared That the Treaty Represented a "Fair Agreement" and Parity Between British and American Fleets—Stimson Said the American Delegation Assumed Full Responsibility For the Agreement, As President Hoover Had Given "No Specific Instructions, Written Or Verbal."

WASHINGTON, May 12—(AP)—The London naval treaty was laid before the senate foreign relations committee today by Secretary Stimson, head of the American delegation, with the declaration that it represented a "fair agreement" and parity between the British and American fleets.

Speaking uninterruptedly before the committee for an hour and a half, the secretary finally pounded the table and challenged a strict comparison of the strength of the navies of Great Britain and America under the pact.

The committee took the challenge. After a brief executive session, Chairman Borah announced that it would call in the general board of the navy as well as Secretary Adams, Admiral William V. Pratt and Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones the naval advisers at London.

The thorough examination decided upon by the committee indicates a hearing lasting possibly more than a week. Chairman Borah said every effort would be made to expedite the treaty "but we want to know all the facts."

Reviewing the history of past limitations agreements and the negotiations leading up to the London conference, Mr. Stimson had just reached the comparison he intended to draw between the British and American fleets when the adjournment was taken until tomorow. He will complete his statement then and subject himself to questioning.

Almost all of the 20 members of the foreign relations committee were present for the opening public session and secretary was listened to in absolute silence.

Senator Johnson, republican, California, who has indicated a desire for considerable information about the treaty once indicated he wishes to ask some questions but Mr. Stimson asked to be permitted to finish his statement first. The Californian willingly acceded and Stimson continued.

The secretary told the senators that President Hoover had given the American delegation "no specific instructions written or verbal" and at no time had interfered with the negotiations. Therefore he said the delegation had full responsibility for the pact.

Expressing his thanks to the president for his hands-off policy, the secretary contrasted it with the actions of other unnamed Americans who, he said, had cabled the delegation frequently.

Some of the senate committee members at one stage had made known their firm opposition to American participation in the discussed consultative pact but if he was referring to these expressions he did not say so.

Mr. Stimson said every major question was settled by unanimous agreement of the American delegation. He believed the delegation was responsible for saving a break-up of the parley and he called attention to the problems facing the other powers.

The secretary insisted that Great Britain was not building against America in its navy and was not gauging her navy by the American fleet.

The question of parity which promises to be the main point of contention in the senate discussion of the pact was just opened by Mr. Stimson when the adjournment was taken.

He said the American delegation regarded parity as equality in actual naval strength. On that basis alone could any yardstick be found to measure the two fleets, he said, that standard, he argued, was "a perfectly safe one" even when such elements as American food supplies, British naval bases and lines of communication were taken into consideration.

Beginning a comparison of the British and American fleets, the secretary contrasted the differences between the two navies in battleships under the Washington agreement of 1922. He said that England was allowed, until 1936, twenty battleships and America 18, with an excess tonnage in favor of Great Britain of 183,000 tons. This would not have been squared up under that pact, until 1944, he added.

Mr. Stimson was not enthusiastic about the Washington treaty which he said provided equality only in categories of ships in which this country did the sacrificing. However, he believed that the Washington conference had given "momentum" to the cause of disarmament and he believed the London conference would add to that momentum.

"More important than reduction," he said, "is the influence of such treaties on the will to peace. It is a beneficent circle working from limitations to confidence and from confidence back to further limitations."

Chairman Hale, of the senate naval committee, who also has called hearings on the pact, intends to wait until Secretary Adams has appeared before the committee before opening his sessions.

DEATH OF "THE QUEEN VICTORIA OF INDIA"

BOMBAY, India, May 12.— (AP) — The Dowager Begum of Bhopal, known as "the Queen Victoria of India," died today at the age of 72, and tonight the whole of her Indian state was in official mourning.

At her bedside was her son, the Nawab Zada Hamidulla, for whom she abdicated in 1926, and as she died she gave him this blessing:

"I am now departing this world. I intrust you to the keeping of Allah."

The dowager was weakened by an operation yesterday. She knew the end was near and died quietly.

Her title of "Queen Victoria of India," came from the fact that she developed a backward rural state with small income into a thriving modern territory with annual income of 5,000,000 rupees.

She built railroads, highways, hospitals and schools; established modern sanitary methods and agricultural research, and formed her own small army to police the Moslem state of nearly 7,000 square miles. She was the last ruler in her own right in India, previous to the abdication, and the last of a female dynasty of three generations extending back to 1844.

HEARING OF CAPONE'S APPLICATION POSTPONED

MIAMI, Fla., May 12.—(AP)— Circuit court hearing on application of attorneys for "Scarface" Al Capone for a temporary injunction restraining Miami police officers from arresting him without due process of law, was postponed twice today, the second time indefinitely.

The hearing originally was scheduled before Circuit Judge Uly O. Thompson. City Attorney John W. Watson, Jr., asked that the hearing be dismissed because petition for a similar order is at present on file in federal court here, following Federal Judge Halsted L. Ritter's refusal to take jurisdiction in the case at this time.

Vincent C. Giblin, attorney for Capone, said he would withdraw the action, but had not completed the withdrawal at 3 p. m. today, the time set for the continued hearing.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS GUESTS OF "OLD EIGHT CLUB"

NEW HAVEN, May 12—(AP)—Republican leaders of the state, including Gov. John H. Trumbull and a number of state officials, were guests tonight at the sixth annual banquet of the "Old Eight club."

As in former years, the banquet was devoid of all oratory, the evening being devoted to humorous skits depicting prominent republicans of the state.

The club was founded six years ago in the old eighth ward. Its functions are purely social.

PAINTING OF RAPHAEL SOLD FOR $7,775 AT AUCTION

BERLIN, May 12.— (AP)—The last painting by Raphael left in private hands passed to a London dealers at an auction here today. H. and H. [illegible]aghi purchased the work, "Head [illegible] Child" for $7,775.

WORKING FOR COMPROMISE TO SAVE THE TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—Republican efforts to save the tariff bill by working out a compromise flexible provision continued today, but no definite proposition came out of the many conferences held on both sides of the capitol.

The conferees will meet late tomorrow for the first time since Saturday when they broke up in disagreement over procedure. The house conferees then insisted that the senate group seek permission from the senate to work out an adjustment of the flexible controversy free of any ties binding them to the senate provision withdrawing presidential rate-changing power.

PROGRESS IN FLIGHT FROM FRANCE TO BUENOS AIRES

RIO JANEIRO, May 12.—(AP)— The French aviator Jules Mermoz, flying the South Atlantic to open the first all-air mail service from Paris to South America, reported at 9 p. m today (8 p. m. E. S. T.) that he was in longtitude 25-20 west and latitude 4.50 north.

The aviator reported that the cabin of his airplane was flooded by heavy rainstorms through which he had passed. Visibility was poor, but he had gotten out of the rainy area into better weather.

He said he was flying under low clouds and that the seas beneath him were heavy. He is heading for Port Natal.

The position he gave was roughly 700 miles northeast of his goal on the Brazilian mainland.

Apparently, judging by his previous position, he is following the shipping route taken by steamers from Bahia to Lisbon.

FIRST CASE ON NEW DRY LAW CONFISCATION RULING

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—The first proceeding as a result of the recent court decision that paraphernalia for use in manufacturing liquor was subject to confiscation began today in the district supreme court.

Kegs, bottles, jars, corks, malt and caps were ordered seized by Justice Jenning Bailey and the owners, James Hunter, William M. Hunter and Walter H. Hunter were ordered to show cause why the materials should not be destroyed.

The Hunters operated a store while was raided by police before the decision. The move to confiscate the paraphernalia followed.

YAWL WAS RUN DOWN AT SEA BY STEAM YACHT

NEWPORT, R. I., May 12—(AP)—The yawl, Cavalier, limped into port here this afternoon in a damaged condition, as a result, according to her crew of three, of having been run down at sea by the steam yacht Valda.

The men said, they were about five miles off Newport, when the Valda, heading towards Long Island sound, crashed into them, sheering off the jigger mast and sail, and carrying away the dinghy. The Cavalier barely escaped capsizing, and in the confusion the Valda steamed away without offering assistance, the men alleged.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

VILLACOUBLAY, France, May 12. — (AP)—Captain Dieudonne Coste is making slower progress than he expected with trial flights for his proposed Paris-New York non-stop flight and has had to postpone his departure for several weeks.

LONDON, May 12.—(AP)—Dispatches from India to the Daily Mail said the government of India had sent an ultimatum to the haji of Turangzai, warlike Afghan leader who has been threatening an invasion of the northwest frontier province.

LONDON, May 12. — (AP) — Sir Thomas Lipton, replying to a message from the Associated Press congratulating him on his eightieth birthday, yesterday said he was looking forward with pleasure to trying to "capture that most elusive cup."

MILITARY INVESTIGATION OF RIOTING AT SHERMAN, TEX.

SHERMAN, Texas, May 12.—(AP)—Assisted by Texas rangers and Grayson county officers, military officials today started an investigation into the rioting here last Friday which resulted in the death of a Negro, the destruction by fire of the court house and the burning of several buildings in the Negro section of the city.

The first session of the military court of inquiry was held today. Colonel L. S. Davidson of the Texas national guard, presiding, explained the workings of the court. District Attorney Joe P. Cox was present, and Colonel Davidson said the inquisitorial body undoubtedly would have some information to turn over to the grand jury when it convenes in regular session next Monday.

Colonel Lawrence McGee commanding officer of national guardsmen who took charge of Sherman Saturday night under the martial law proclamation of Governor Dan Moody, declined to express an opinion as to how long the city would remain under military rule.

"We will stay here until we arrest as many of the mob members as possible, particularly leaders, and until the investigation is completed," he explained.

TO START AIR RACE AROUND THE WORLD EARLY IN JUNE

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., May 12—(AP)—Bent on wresting the world-girdling speed record from the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin, John Henry Mears arrived from the west today in the fast plane in which he expects to start a race around the world early in June.

He was flown here by Charles Lajotte, but on landing announced that his pilot for the world flight would be Fred Melchior, Swedish flier who superintended salvage of the trans-Atlantic German plane Bremen after reaching Greenly Island by jumping out of a plane in a parachute.

Until the Graf Zeppelin took it away from him Mears held the record for the fastest time around the world, making that journey by mixed means of transportation, shipping his plane across both Atlantic and Pacific and using boats and trains and automobiles for parts of the distance. His record was 23 days and 15 hours. The Graf went around in 21 days and seven hours.

DARROW COUNSEL FOR DRY RAID DEFENDANT

CHICAGO, May 12—(AP)—Clarence Darrow, internationally known lawyer, has weakened in his determination never to take another criminal case. He announced today that he will defend Joseph Grein, president of the Chicago Malts Products association, whose Madison street store was raided by prohibitions agents last week.

The raid, ordered by Prohibition Administrator Yellowley, was made on the theory that the supreme court decision permitting the seizure of articles used in the manufacture of intoxicants would apply to the stock of malt syrup, bottles, bottle caps and the like in the Grein store. It was the first raid conducted here under the decision.

"I am taking this case because Grein is a friend," said Mr. Darrow. "I believe he is innocent. In addition, I am interested in this latest piece of fanaticism in the attempt to enforce prohibition."

SENATE VOTES TO HELP SOLVE UNEMPLOYMENT

WASHINGTON, May 12—(AP)—By a vote of 34 to 27 the senate today passed the third measure introduced by Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, to help solve the unemployment problem.

The bill, which now goes to the house, would broaden the scope of activities of the United States labor department to create a national system of employment offices and to assist the states in setting up similar bureaus.

For the latter purpose, the bill authorizes annually $4,000,000 for the next four years, 75 per cent of which would be apportioned to the states which match the federal funds for the work. The balance of the money would be expended for administrative purposes.

CRIMINALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH CAUSED BY AUTO

NEW HAVEN, May 12.—(AP)—Coroner James J. Corrigan today held James Calligan criminally responsible for the death of Edward Morris, navy veteran and bank runner, in an automobile accident because "he has refused to make any explanation of his apparent recklessness."

Morris was crushed between Calligan's machine and a trolley car on April 26, when it got out of control after being stalled. The car also knocked down a woman pedestrian.

MISSING GIRL HAD BEEN ASSAULTED AND SLAIN

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 12.—(AP)—The body of Evelyn Lee, 9, who had been missing since last Saturday was found this afternoon. The girl had been assaulted and slain, officers said.

W. M. Wessel found the body in a clump of bushes while picking flowers with his son, Harold, 4. Apparently the girl had been choked to death.

FRANCE AND ITALY TO SEEK NAVAL AGREEMENT

GENEVA, May 12 — (AP)— France and Italy, resuming negotiations left pending since the close of the London naval conference, have decided to utilize the 59th session of the league of nations council, which opened today, to seek a settlement of their conflicting naval policies and fleet parity dispute.

British Airplanes On Bombing Raids In India

Two Salt Raids Were Broken Up — Police Made About 100 Arrests.

LONDON, May 12.—(AP)—For the first time since disorders have broken out in India following the civil disobedience campaign, the British army has used airplanes in a bombing raid.

Wedgwood Benn, secretary of state for India, told the house of commons today that Haji of Turangzai, a chieftain of the northwest frontier who has been within 20 miles of the key city of Peshawar within the last few days, had been bombed after he refused an order to leave. After receiving an ultimatum to move out with his followers, the haji answered by felling trees to block a highway. The British replied with airplanes but the results are not yet known.

Other news from India today contained little that was comforting to the British.

Nationalist followers of Mahatma Gandhi raided the salt deposits at Shiroda but were halted by police, who arrested about 100. Abbas Tyabji, who succeeded Mahatma Gandhi when the latter was interned, assembled his followers for a march to the salt works at Dharasana, but the police stopped that before it started by arresting the leader and a number of his followers. Tyabji in turn was succeeded by Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, poetress who was educated in England. The trial of Tyabji and 59 volunteers was started almost immediately after the arrest but later was adjourned until tomorrow.

The break-up of the two salt raids and the arrest of the second raid leader of the civil disobedience movement showed that the government was tightening up to halt the campaign.

Tyabji, it was reported, made a brief statement expressing appreciation for his treatment under arrest and then declared that the whole country was rising against the present system of government.

"I trust that the whole of India," he said, "will now rise like one man to break the salt law and refuse the payment of land revenue, thus bringing to an end this accursed system."

The 59 on trial with him stated their belief in sedition and their desire to destroy the government.

SHOLAPUR HAS FALLEN INTO HANDS OF RIOTERS

LONDON, May 12.—(AP)—The Daily Mail tonight received a dispatch from its correspondent at Bombay saying that the entire city of Sholapur had fallen into the hands of rioters, and that traders refuse to open their shops, fearing wholesale looting.

The dispatch said that in response to the urgent appeal of the district magistrate a battalion of the Ulster Rifles was despatched from Poona.

A. W. Mackie, commissioner of the Central division, hurriedly left Poona for Scholapur.

The mill city, which was the scene of rioting on Wednesday and Thursday last week, will probably be put under martial law and handed over entirely to military control shortly.

STATEMENTS BY BISHOP CANNON CONTRADICTORY

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—The controversy over the political activities of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in the 1928 Virginia anti-Smith campaign was renewed today with receipt of a telegram by the senate lobby committee from Cannon which said he personally received and disbursed practically all the funds of the anti-Smith democrats in that state.

After receiving the telegram from Cannon, who is in Dallas, Texas, Chairman Caraway of the lobby committee said it was "difficult to interpret" in the light of previous testimony received by the committee. He added that the committee would be "interested in receiving his explanation."

Caraway said that E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist, had testified that he had contributed $65,300 to Cannon for the anti-Smith campaign. The lobby committee chairman also recalled that a telegram from Cannon to Jameson had been placed in the record which suggested that the report to congress show that $17,000 went to the headquarters committee of anti-Smith democrats and $48,300 to the Virginia committee of anti-Smith democrats.

"Now his statement is that the money was all handled by him and not by the committee when the committee does report having received $17,000. We will be interested in receiving his explanation," Caraway said.

FULL MILITARY HONORS FOR SIDAR AND ROVIROSA

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 12.—(AP)—This Central American republic tonight prepared to receive with full military honors the shattered bodies of Colonel Pablo Sidar and Captain Carlos Rovirosa, Mexican heroes of the air who last night plunged to death in a storm which overtook them on their attempted flight to Buenos Aires.

The general staff of the Costa Rican army was directed by the military authorities to meet and take charge of the bodies of the fliers and, according them suitable honors, forward them under guard of honor, to their own country.

Mexican advices stated that a complete holiday of mourning had been inaugurated today by order of President Ortiz Rubio.

New York Forests Closed To Sportsmen

Order Will B[illegible]ective Until Heavy [illegible] Diminishes Dange[illegible]re.

ALBA[illegible]., May 12—(AP)—The state's f[illegible]endered tinder-dry by drought an[illegible]menaced by forest fire, were closed to all sportsmen at midnight tonight.

The closing was accomplished by executive proclamation, issued by Acting Governor Herbert H. Lehman after he had been informed by conservation commission officials that the hazard of widespread destruction to state-owned woodlands had become grave.

The order barred all persons from the forest preserves of the Adirondacks and Catskills except those present in the woods on business. Its enforcement began promptly at midnight when game wardens and state troopers commenced a watch of highways and railroad stations to turn back fishermen and other sportsmen who, ignorant of the executive order, might attempt to enter the woods. The order will be effective until heavy rain diminishes the danger.

Conservation Commissioner Alexander MacDonald reported to the lieutenant governor today that 69 new fires had started over the week end. With almost half of them in the Adirondack or Catskill preserves. The commissioner's request that the acting governor issue an order closing the woods was promptly complied with by Colonel Lehman.

Although all of the score of fires in the Adirondacks and Catskills were comparatively small and all but three under cotrol or out, the conservation official believed the danger of a general outbreak of fires was greater than any time hitherto. The percentage of humidity, a check to the danger of forest fire, had fallen far below the 30 per cent considered a minimum of safety by those in charge of the forest lands.

FAILED IN THEIR PLAN FOR SURPRISE WEDDING

NEW YORK, May 12—(AP)—A musical comedy actress and a famous comedian's son who planned a surprise wedding were themselves surprised today when the former's parents turned up at the municipal building and witnessed the ceremony.

Barbara Newberry and Eddie Foy, Jr., feared some upset to their plans and determined to elope. But when they got to the municipal chapel, there were Mr. and Mrs. Max Newberry beaming their approval. How they found out was not disclosed.

Mr. Foy and Miss Newberry first met a summer ago when they played together in Ziegfeld's "Show Girl." Since then she has had the leading role in "Heads Up", and Foy is now appearing with Fred Stone in "Ripples." Miss Newberry is 21 and a native of Boston. Foy lives at the home of his late father in New Rochelle.

Immediately after the ceremony today, Mr. Foy returned to his role in "Ripples" now playing in Boston. The bride departed on a later train for Boston. On June 1 the bride and groom will go to Hollywood where both are under contract to appear in talking pictures.

FAILED TO SUBSTANTIATE CHARGES AGAINST BISHOPS

DALLAS, Tex., May 12—(AP)—Four of the 13 bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in general conference here had their character "passed" by the Episcopacy committee today, meaning that complaints brought against them had not been substantiated.

The bishops exonerated of any wrong doing reflection on their offices or the church, were Bishop W. A. Candler of Atlanta, Ga.; Bishop Collins Denny of Richmond, Va.; Bishop Edwin D. Mouzon, of Charlotte, N. C., and Bishop John Moore of Dallas.

Bishops Mouzon and Moore had been accused by the Rev. Mr. Reimbert G. Smith of Washington, Georgia, of "unwarranted political activities" in the 1928 presidential election. Others named in Dr. Smith's complaint were Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., and Bishop H. M. Dubose, of Nashville, Tenn.

J. H. Therrell, of Ocala, Fla. chairman of the committee, said the vote of confidence in each case was unanimous.

ROUND UP OF DEALERS IN LOTTERY TICKETS

WORCESTER, Mass., May 12—(AP)—In a round-up of wholesale dealers in lottery tickets in this city tonight police arrested six men, seized an automobile and thousands of tickets, stubs and keys.

The lotteries were of all sorts and prices from ten cents to a dollar a ticket and were based on baseball scores, treasury balances, horse races and clearing house figures. The police said the supply of tickets came from Springfield and Boston.

CONCERT IN ROME BY NEW YORK ORCHESTRA

ROME, May 12.—(AP)—Arturo Toscanini and the New York Philharmonic orchestra gave their first of two Roman concerts this evening in the Augusteo hall before the most brilliant gathering of musicians and dignitaries Rome has seen in several years.

Queen Helena occupied the royal box and every seat of the 3,000 capacity of the Augusteo was taken. Members of the audience wildly expressed enthusiasm for the work of the American orchestra.

WILLIMANTIC CUTS BUDGET $50,000; HITS STREET LIGHTS AND POLICE DEPT.

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 12.—The city appropriations for the fiscal year ending next December were voted reduced by a total of $50,000 at the May meeting of the common council held tonight. The action is intended to meet the estimated income that will be derived from an eight-mill tax levied recently plus various sources of other income and becomes necessary owing to the insufficient amount of such income as compared to the original budget of expenses adopted last December. The reduction in appropriations hits practically every department in the city in curtailing construction work and labor and the use of street lights.

MOVE TO PROBE ACTIVITIES OF COMMUNISTS IN THE U. S.

Bill Introduced In the House By Chairman Snell of the Rules Committee—Would Deal With All Groups Or Individuals Who Are Alleged to Advise, Teach Or Advocate the Overthrow By Force Or Violence of the Government of the United States.

WASHINGTON, May 12—(AP)—An investigation into activities of communists in this country, including the Amtorg Trading corporation, official purchasing agency of the Soviet Russian government, was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Chairman Snell of the house rules committee.

He announced in the house that it would be brought up for consideration probably next week.

The measure was introduced several hours after Representative Laguardia, republican, New York, assailed Police Commissioner Grover Whalen of New York in the house for making public documents purporting to reveal communist activities in this country. Laguardia claimed that Whalen had been advised before he appeared before the house immigration committee Friday, that documents in his possession were on letterheads printed in New York city.

Officials of the Amstorg company have claimed that the documents held by Whalen purporting to reveal propaganda work were spurious.

The Snell resolution was drafted after the rules committee agreed that those introduced by Representatives Fish of New York and Underhill of Massachusetts, republicans to authorize similar investigations were not broad enough.

It provides that the committee "investigate communists propaganda in the United States and particularly in our educational institutions; the activities and membership of the communist party of the United States; and all affiliated organizations and groups thereof; the ramification of the communist international in the United Communist International in the United States; the Amtorg Trading corporation; the Daily Worker; and all entities, groups or individuals who are alleged to advise, teach or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the government of the United States, to attempt to undermine our republican form of government by inciting riots, sabotage or revolutionary disorders."

In addition to reporting the results of its investigation to the house by the end of this congress, the committee would be directed to recommend legislation to strengthen deportations and other laws it deems necessary to curb such activities as it finds. No limit is fixed for expenses.

GRAFT INVESTIGATIONS UNDER WAY IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, May 12.—(AP)—A county judge, a branch of the city government and the probation bureau of the court of general sessions were under investigation today by city, state and federal agencies.

Grand jury investigations into the board of standards and appeals were begun today by United States Attorney Tuttle and District Attorney Crain as a result of various criticisms of the board and the charge of a New Jersey woman that she paid $10,000 for a permit to build gasoline filling stations in Queens borough.

A second investigation, into transactions involving pier leases, is being conducted by both federal and state authorities and today Acting Mayor Joseph V. McKee, taking official notice of the charges, announced that all city departments were ready to aid in the inquiry.

Evidence involving the pier leases was unearthed by a federal grand jury and tended to show that fees of between $132,000 and $250,000 had been paid to Kings County Judge W. Bernard Vause for aid in securing leases on three city piers for a steamship line.

Internal revenue agents are checking the income tax returns of the judge.

The grand jury, at the time, was conducting an inquiry into the affairs of the Columbia Finance Co., which resulted last week in the indictment, for mail fraud, of Judge Vause and other officials of the company.

A third inquiry, into the affairs of the probation bureau of general sessions, is being conducted by James Owens of the state department of correction. The inquiry was asked by the judges of the court after a grand jury indicted the bureau's resigned head, Edwin J. Cooley, for alleged falsification of payrolls.

ATTEMPTED SLAY BROTHER BEFORE TAKING OWN LIFE

SUFFIELD, May 12.— (AP) —Raymond Karpinski, 40, of Hartford, came here yesterday with the intention of slaying his brother, Joseph, and then committing suicide. Half of his plan fell through and led to his arrest. Tonight, however, he succeeded in carrying out the second half of his plan.

Raymond was arrested yesterday after he had fired nine bullets from an automatic in his brother's home. Although Joseph, his wife, several children, and a neighbor were in the house at the time, the bullets failed to hit anyone.

When arrested, the Hartford man told police he had planned to kill his brother and then to commit suicide. The weapon, which he had reloaded, was found in his possession.

A real estate deal, police said, started a dispute between the brothers several years ago.

16 BUILDINGS BURNED FOLLOWING EXPLOSION

ELIZABETH, N. J., May 12.—(AP)—For the second time within a week an explosion followed by fire today swept a New Jersey industrial plant. Before being brought under control, 16 buildings were leveled near the Allied Tar & Chemical Co. in Bayway. The damage was estimated at $750,000 by B. W. Blaine, vice-president and treasurer of the company.

Clouds of smoke from the burning buildings and chemical tanks blew across Newark bay to Bayonne and descended on the Gulf Oil Co. refinery, scene of a $2,000,000 fire last Thursday and Friday.

OBITUARY

G. H. Glover Campbell

HARTFORD, May 12.—(AP)—G. H. Glover Campbell, assistant clerk of the superior court of Hartford county for eight years until last February when he resigned, died at his home in Windsor this morning after an illness of five weeks.

Mr. Campbell, a graduate of Colby college and the Yale Law school, was a captain in the World war. He was seriously gassed in the war and his death came as an indirect result.

John Wheatley

GLASGOW, Scotland, May 12.—(AP)—John Wheatley, 61, minister of health in the 1924 labor government, died here today. He was one of the best known of labor's left wing leaders and had been a member of parliament since 1922.

Mr. Wheatley, who began work in a coal mine, was a publisher as well as a parliamentarian. He was a privy councillor and had published many pamphlets on labor and socialist questions.

NO OPPOSITION VOICED TO ROBERTS' NOMINATION

WASHINGTON, May 12.—(AP)—The nomination of Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia to be associate justice of the supreme court was steered into the channel of routine senate inquiry today while leaders both in and out of the regular republican fold freely predicted confirmation.

The senate judiciary committee referred the nomination to a sub-committee composed of Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman, and Senators Hebert, republican, Rhode Island, and Overman, democrat, North Carolina.

Borah called a meeting of the subcommittee for tomorrow. He said he saw no occasion for hearings. He found it "significant," he added, that no opposition has been voiced.

Senator Walsh of Montana, assistant democratic leader and a leading dry, said he saw "no reason why the nomination of Mr. Roberts should not be promptly confirmed," adding, "in my estimation he has all the qualifications for the position."

HOOVER'S STATEMENT ON NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY

WASHINGTON, May 12— (AP) — Marking the observance of National Hospital day, President Hoover issued the following statement:

"Recalling that May 12th is annually observed as National Hospital day, I take a deep satisfaction in observing the steady growth of the hospitals of the country, not only in physical equipment and financial support but also in the ever-widening fields of service into which they are penetrating. The alleviation of human suffering which they accomplish is a characteristic and noble expression of a spontaneous and universal impulse of the American people, whose warm sympathies and active generosity they so usefully reflect."

HANGED HERSELF IN HER PALATIAL HOME

BALTIMORE, May 12.—(AP)— The body of Mrs. Mary Textor was found lying in several inches of water in the basement of a palatial home she occupied alone today, and several hours later police had unearthed $100,000 in jewels, cash and bonds from various hiding places about the dwelling.

Mrs. Textor's body was found lying in the water, a strand of heavy wire noose wound tightly about the neck, and water still gushing from a broken overhead pipe which the woman apparently had used as a gallows upon which to hang herself.

VIOLATOR OF LIQUOR LAW ADVERTISED HIS BUSINESS

BRISTOL, May 12.— (AP) —Wilfred M. Roussel, 21, tonight was not the firm believer in advertising that he was earlier in the day.

The youth had cards printed and distributed which told where high balls, rye, gin and Scotch whiskey might be bought. Some of the cards came into the possession of police, who raided Roussel's establishment and confiscated a small quantity of liquor. Police also found an eight-inch dagger on Roussel, who was held in $500 bonds on charges of violating the prohibition law and carrying concealed weapons.

COMPENSATION DENIED COUNTY JAIL PRISONER

NEW HAVEN, May 12—(AP)—There is no relationship of employe and employer existing between the county of New Haven and a prisoner at the county jail, who works in the jail's chair factory, according to a ruling made by Compensation Commissioner Charles Kleiner.

Kleiner denied an application of George Sorrow to obtain compensation for the loss of a thumb in a band saw at the factory last April. He had been committed for sixty days for carrying concealed weapons.

An appeal was taken to the superior court.

SELLER OF FRAUDULENT STOCK WAS FINED $200

WESTPORT, Conn., May 12.—(AP)—David Sager, of Roxbury, Mass., was fined $200 in Westport town court when he was arraigned before Judge Herbert E. Baldwin on a charge of fraud. In addition Sager promised to make full restitution of $4,700 to Harold Pickering, of this town.

Sager, is one of the dozen or more stock salesmen who were arrested in different parts of the state in connection with misrepresentations of Page and Shaw stock.

His case is the first to be tried.

MEMORIAL FOR LATE PRIN. JAMES L. HARROUN SUGGESTED

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 13—A recent suggestion is under consideration by leading citizens for the establishing during Community Reunion week next month of a fund in memory of the late Principal James L. Harroun, who served long and efficiently at Natchaug grammar school. It is felt by promoters of the plan that there are many of the late principal's former pupils and friends who would be glad to contribute to such a fund established in the cause of education. Persons desiring information concerning local school funds may secure from Secretary John J. O'Rourke of the Willimantic chamber of commerce the name of the proper treasurer to each.

The proposal for a memorial fund to be established during the 1930 reunion is based on a more or less established custom of previous school reunions held here and which resulted in the launching of several memorial funds. The John B. Welch fund, established in 1915, by "The Old Natchaugers", was given a splendid start by a gift of $500 from Gilbert D. Lamb, Natchaug '76, who came to school here from Franklin, and still maintains a summer home there. He went to Yale college and became a very successful lawyer in New York city. The Welch Fund now amounts to over $1,600. Only the income may be used for awards for excellence in studies or some gift to Windham high school not available from town funds.

The Julia M. Peck Fund was established by the personal gifts of the late Thomas F. Somers of New York and Bridgeport, and who remembered the devotion of his favorite teacher at Natchaug grammar school. Annual awards from the Peck fund are made at Natchaug for excellence in school work. Mr. Somers gave $300 and the fund is now $331.

There is also an "Alumni Fund," established in 1915 at Windham high school by a plan which gave opportunity to each member of successive graduating classes to contribute $1 to such a fund, the income to be used in awards for some phase of excellence in high school work of student needs. The idea was approved and started off with good support, but in recent years has not been followed up. The fund now amounts to $550 and an effort will be made to revive interest in it.

In 1915, also the Frank H. Beebe Fund was started among former pupils of the first principal of Windham high school after the consolidation of Natchaug and First District high schools. This fund has not been active, however, and the amount is not reported. It has been found that these funds have been helpful and of good influence in encouraging worthy effort among pupils. No better memorials to faithful teachers can be established in the opinion of the group interested in this phase of the forth-coming community reunion.

W. F. LENNON, JR., AWARDED THIRD NATIONAL PRIZE

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 12—The third prize of $100 in the second annual Gorgas Memorial essay contest, in which over 5,000 essays were submitted by high school students from all parts of the country, has been awarded to William F. Lennon, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Lennon of 53 Tingley street. The national winners were selected by a committee of judges composed of Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon-general of the U. S. Public Health service; Dr. William Gerry Morgan, president-elect of the American Medical association; Dr. William John Cooper, U. S. commissioner of education; and Dr. Allen B. Kanavel, regent of the American College of Surgeons. President Hoover is honorary president of the Gorgas Memorial institute, which has as its objective the elimination of unnecessary illness with special emphasis on tropical diseases.

Paul Broome gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore a gown of white point d'esprit, over white satin, made princess style and trimmed with point lace. Her long veil was attached to an embroidered lace cap. She carried a shower bouquet. Miss Estelle Elizabeth Broome, of South Lancaster, was maid of honor. She wore pink georgette over pink satin made princess style and carried lavender sweet peas. Miss Broome is a teacher of Atlantic Union college, South Lancaster, Mass. Miss Hazel Ruth Broome, of Hartford, was bridesmaid. Her frock was of green georgette over green satin. She carried pink sweet peas. Both girls wore picture hats to match their dresses. The best man was Donald Hodgkins of South Lancaster. The flower girl was Shirley Benzinger, age nine, a niece of the bride. She wore yellow crepe satin and carried a basket of variegated flowers. Frankel Wendell, of South Lancaster, sang "I Love You Truly," as the bride and bridegroom moved up the aisle to the altar. Mrs. Malcolm Thurlow, sister of the bridegroom, from South Lancaster, played the church organ for the wedding march and accompanied Mr. Wendell. A reception followed the ceremony in the front of the church. Another reception was held in Hope Valley, at the home of the bride's father, Paul Broome, when about 50 relatives and friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. Wood left for South Lancaster, where they will spend part of their honeymoon. They will reside in Leominster, Mass. The bride received gifts of linen, glassware, china, silver, electric appliances, pictures, etc. The church was attractively decorated with peach blossoms, flowers, plants, ferns and lilies. Members of the junior class of the New England Sanitorium, in Melrose, Mass., were present. They also sent a telegram of best wishes and congratulations from this sanitorium to Hebron for the bride and bridegroom. Miss Broome was a graduate of this sanitorium.

19.813 WORLD-FAMOUS BEAUTY EXPERTS ADVISE PALMOLIVE!

"These cosmetic oils in soap are best for your skin ...use Palmolive" says

The Martin House Beauty Parlor

important Norwich beauty experts

"YOUR skin is subjected to difficult conditions today," this beauty expert will assure you. "The modern woman uses make-up, of course. She indulges in all sorts of outdoor sports. She works in offices. She dines, she dances. She uses her beauty hard. She must guard her lovely complexion twice as well as ever before. For this purpose there is nothing so effective as a soap made of the vegetable oils of palm and olives."

World's best known experts

Joining the outstanding experts in this city there are thousands (actually 19,813 renowned beauty specialists!) who find Palmolive Soap best to safeguard beauty. Their reasons are those of professional experts who have tried many methods of skin cleansing and found this superior to all others.

The skin, you see, is constructed of millions of tiny pores. These pores must breathe. Every morning and every night the collected impurities—the dirt, dust, oil, powder and rouge—must be removed thoroughly. And the penetrating lather of Palmolive Soap gets way down into the pores where other cleansing agents cannot reach.

Mr. A. Edward Brodeur is a highly qualified representative of the world of beauty culture. His salon cares for the complexion of many important women.

You consult your beauty expert as you would any professional. Training, skill, experience count in matters of beauty care. Just read what this expert has to say about Palmolive Soap.

"Your skin needs expert care to withstand the abuses of modern life. Repeated experiments have convinced us that vegetable oils in soap are best for your skin. That is why we say: Use Palmolive"

A. EDWARD BRODEUR
18 Broadway, Norwich

This famous treatment

Here is the basic foundation cleansing urged by the great European and American leaders in beauty culture:

With both hands make a rich lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. Work this tenderly into the skin, till you can actually feel it releasing the hidden accumulations.

Then rinse, first with warm water, then with cold. Allow the rinse water to cool to icy temperature in the morning. This acts as a refreshing astringent.

Now—you are ready for creams, powder, make-up!

Consult your expert

Today, the beauty specialist has achieved professional standing. She knows what is best for you individually. She has studied and practiced the art of cosmetics. Take her your beauty problems. And listen to her advice: Use Palmolive for bath as well as face. The results will more than delight you.

DANIELSON

LOSES TOP OF MIDDLE FINGER IN EXPLOSION

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, May 12—Pounding with an iron bolt some unidentified explosive little Avis Breayea, 6 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs Omer Breayea, of School street, blew the top of the middle finger of her left hand off this afternoon about 4:15.

Pieces of metal entered one of her legs and also her face, and after being treated by Dr. Cecil R. Garcin she was taken to Day Kimball hospital at Putnam. The child was playing near her home on School street when the accident happened.

OBITUARY

Albert Terry

Albert Terry, for many years a respected resident of Brooklyn, and more recently of Danielson, died this morning at his home on Academy street. He was 84 years of age. Mr. Terry had been ill for a long time, and quite feeble for more than a year following an attack of pneumonia early in 1929.

Born a slave at Madison Court House in old Virginia, he occupied that status at the outbreak of the Civil war. As the conflict raged on and while in his 'teens he escaped and eventually made his way through the Union lines and into the army commanded by General Howard. He remained with this commander throughout the remainder of the war, and at its conclusion came north to Maine with the general and remained in his personal service for a long time. He came from Maine to Brooklyn and settled there many years ago. Mr. Terry was a son of Eugene and Adeline Terry. He is survived by a son, Albert of West Medford, Mass., and by three daughters, Augusta, Mildred and Felicia. There are also six grandchildren.

FUNERAL

Carl Nielsen

This afternoon at 2 o'clock at A. F. Wood's funeral home on Mechanic street, funeral services for Carl Nielsen were conducted by Rev. Chester J. Armstrong of the Baptist church. Burial was in the South cemetery at Brooklyn. Friends acted as bearers.

DANIELSON HEN CROWS EXACTLY LIKE ROOSTER

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, May 12—This town has chipped in some good stories about poultry, first and last, including one about a hen owned by the late Mrs. Myrtis Blanchard of Dayville that lived over thirty years and the more recent one about the hen that lived eight months under a mow full of hay up at the Otis Chase place in East Killingly.

To these well authenticated human interest stories another is added today, and it's worth writing home about. Attorney Arthur G. Bill has a white leghorn hen that crows exactly like a rooster. It's a perfectly normal hen, too, laying regularly. Attorney Bill, who purchased this hen from a neighbor who was leaving town, was coming toward his premises from down town the other day when he heard crowing in his poultry yard. He keeps no roosters and at once assumed that a stray one had flown in. Upon investigating he found this particular hen strutting about and crowing lustily. She does, daily, and regularly, too, producing as perfect a rooster crowing as one would care to hear.

In the town court today Thomas O'Neill of Oak street was fined $1 and costs for illegal parking. He was ordered into court following an accident that occurred on East Franklin street Saturday afternoon. His car was parked on the left side of the road, and it was charged that he started backing just as a car driven by Miss Emily Petras of the Horse Hill district came along to the rear of the O'Neill car. To avoid a collision she swung her car sharply and it went off the highway and struck a tree. There were no serious personal injuries.

Antonio Bedard of Sherbrooke, P. Q., was assessed a fine of $5 and costs in the town court for operating a motor truck having a Quebec registration. Bedard drove down here from his home city to deliver a load of furniture at a house in the Connecticut Village section. Lacking a reciprocating arrangement with the Province of Quebec on the matter of truck registrations, and because of the fact that Connecticut truck drivers are summarily arrested if they enter that Province without having a Quebec truck license, similar action is taken here against trucks bearing Quebec registrations and are without Connecticut registrations.

There should be plenty of perch in the lakes and ponds of Windham county within the next two or three years. Releases recently have been made of 9,100,000 perch fry in waters within the county. The fry were on the point of hatching when released. The fry were in wire cages to protect them from washing ashore or being eaten by other fish prior to hatching. Having hatched, they swim out through the mesh. Approximately 50 per cent of them are expected to grow to maturity.

The Windham County Y. M. C. A. is endeavoring to promote a horse shoe tournament in the southern section of the county. There are to be local contests first, with winners of these entering into the county contest. Two teams from Moosup and one from Brooklyn have signified their intention of entering. Details of the plan are available at the County Y. M. C. A. office here.

Dr. Arnold Everett Look, professor of Biblical literature at the International Y. M. C. A. college, Springfield, Mass., will deliver the principal address at the annual meeting of the Windham County Y. M. C. A. at the Dayville Congregational church Friday evening. The program will include the presentation of general reports covering the work of the organization for the past year, reports of committees, report on the standing of the town finance campaign to date and election of officers. There also will be musical features. It is regarded as fortunate that it has been possible to secure Dr. Look as a speaker, for he has more engagements most of the time than he can fill.

The finance committees in each town are making a special effort to obtain subscriptions this week, that good reports may be made at the annual meeting. In Plainfield this committee is made up of Thomas Hope, Harold Burgess, Rev. William Prentiss, Rev. R. DeWolfe, Thomas Seaton, Stuart Ellsworth, William C. C. Hill, W. Franklin Sheldon. In Killingly the committee, which will meet Tuesday evening, is made up of N. Lorne Greig, chairman, Burdette C. Hopkins, Gordon J. Gale, A. M. Thompson, Clifford H. Starkweather, Sidney P. Marland Sr. The Putnam committee is headed by State Attorney Howard C. Bradford, chairman, Arthur Smith, Walter N. King, Rev. Henry E. Dodge, Rev. J. F. English, Edward S. Duffey Stanley Shaw and Leon Farrin superintendent of schools.

The trout fishing season in Rhode Island being temporarily closed on account of drought conditions Henry A. Fenner of Cranston and E. Sission of Providence came over the border into Connecticut to fish Sunday and were found angling on the lower reaches of Quanduck brook in the town of Sterling. They had no angling licenses for Connecticut and were placed under arrest by County Game Warden Thomas Danielson and Deputy Warden Coburn. In a justice's court in Sterling each paid a fine of $5 and costs the assessment for each being $18.35. Their fishing tackle also was seized.

A large barn that has stood for two generations on a property in Furnace street at what long was known as the Wilson place has been torn down by the owner A. Zipkin. For years a large stable business was operated there.

An agreement has been made under which many of Danielson stores that keep open evenings will close Monday evenings at 9 o'clock and Saturday evenings at 9:30. This is to be effective Saturday of this week.

Members of the Danielson Tennis club are again enjoying the privileges and pleasures of the courts on the Franklin place on the Green Hollow road. The club likely will increase its membership during the season.

Friday afternoon of this week Mrs. N. A. Witter of Mechanic street will entertain the members of the Roundabout club.

When members of Killingly grange attend a Neighbors' night meeting with Wolf Den grange at Abington Wednesday evening the local grangers will furnish part of the program of entertainment.

The appearance here on Wednesday of the Pawtucket high school band, rating one of the best school bands in New England, and handsomely uniformed, is looked forward to as one of the pleasant events of the week in Danielson. The band is to play a concert at Killingly high school auditorium in the afternoon, will parade with the local schol band at 5:45, and will play an evening concert at the high school.

At a meeting of the members of the Entre Nous Bridge club with Mrs. Rene Buteau, winners were Mrs. William McLaughlin, Mrs. Louis A. Woisard and Mrs. L. E. Kennedy.

Members of the Westfield Congregational church have an invitation to the 300th anniversary of the First Congregational church of Windsor, this state.

Among the "foreign" cars noted here today was one bearing the registration of British Columbia.

A light frost was again reported this morning, the third in succession, but again there was no damage to growing things.

Treasurer Sidney W. Bard of the Brooklyn Savings bank and Mrs. Bard were at Albany Sunday to spend Mother's day with Mrs. Bard's mother.

There will be a considerable delegation from Danielson and vicinity to the Older Girls' conference to be held in Willimantic next Saturday and Sunday.

As to brown trout, men familiar with their ways advise fishing for them up stream, that is, against the direction of the current.

Sidewalk construction work is now underway in Winter street. The borough will continue this work through the summer season.

The Danielson Standard Leadership Training classes met this evening at the Westfield Congregational church.

A further material increase in the assets of Danielson's banks is indicated for the first six months of 1930, notwithstanding unfavorable conditions in general business.

A local boy fishing with his father in waters in the eastern section of the town caught a horn pout weighing two pounds and two ounces.

NO. GROSVENORDALE

FUNERAL OF JOHN LOVE, FOUND DEAD AFTER A WEEK

John Love, 75, who had lived in this town for over 60 years, was found dead in his home, Friday night at 10 o'clock. Mr. Love was last seen the previous Friday when he took the bus to go to Webster. It was his habit to take the bus every night and have his supper in Webster. He suffered a rupture a few years ago and since then could never lie down to sleep. Whenever he slept it was in a sitting position. It was there that he was found by Sheriff George Whitney. Mr. Whitney was called Friday by the neighbors to investigate the rooms of Mr. Love as there was a bad odor in the corridors of the building. Mr. Whitney obtained a key and got into the house. He found Mr. Love sitting on the couch, fully dressed, his cap over his eyes. Dr. Ray C. Paine of Thompson, when called, stated that Mr. Love had been dead about a week. His burial took place Saturday. He leaves two nieces. Mrs. Peter Coyette and Mrs. Rose O'Hern, both of this town.

Memorial Day Program

Plans for the observance of Memorial day have been completed. The line of march for the organizations will be as in former years. Starting at the American Legion rooms at 7 in the morning, visit all cemeteries and decorate the monument at Oscar W. Swanson park. From the park the groups will go to the Swedish cemetery where school children will hold exercises and a volley will be fired. After the services at the Swedish cemetery flowers will be strewn in the Maanexit river and a salute fired. Prayer will be offered at St. Joseph's cemetery by Rev. Fr. John C. Mathieu and the pupils of the parish school will sing. At Grosvenordale cemetery Rev. W. F. Geissler will have charge of the exercises. The column will end its march at Monument square. Groups will be formed there to decorate cemeteries in Fabyan, Wilsonville, Porter Plains, Thompson, East Thompson, West Thompson and Mechanicsville. At 2 in the afternoon the monument on the common in Thompson will be decorated and services will be held in West Thompson at 2:30. Invitations have been extended to Civil war veterans, Spanish war and World war, also to the Band Canadienne, Garde Martial, Garde St. Therese, girl scouts, societies and school children to participate in the exercises. C. A. Seaver will be marshal and other officers in charge will be Frank Regnier, president; Frank A. Pelletier, commander; George E. Whitney, treasurer; executive committee, John F. Reardon, Jr., Edward H. Stone and Philip Duhamel of North Grosvenordale; John A. Swanson, John C. Lewis of Grosvenordale; Mrs. Allan T. Babbitt and Dr. R. C. Paine of Thompson; Mary E. Welch, Wilfred C. Mills and Edward Welch of Wilsonville; James Bigelow and Daniel Brayton of West Thompson; Earle Meade, John Anderson and Mrs. F. Meyers of Fabyan; Mrs. Eva Huntington and Clarence Stevens of Thompson.

Alumni are receiving notifications of the annual banquet, at the Community house, June 28. The banquet will be served in the bowling alley. An orchestra has been engaged for dancing from 8 to 12. Professional entertainers will provide an hour of amusement before the banquet. Bridge and whist will be an attraction to those not otherwise occupied.

The dance held by the baseball club of the Grosvenordale company proved a great success. The orchestra was the Ideal from Webster. About 300 persons attended.

The senior girls of Tourtellotte high held a food sale at Johnson's store, Friday.

PUTNAM

BELIEVE BOGUS CHECK PASSER HAS CONFEDERATE

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, May 12.—State, county and city police were still in the dark today, as to the whereabouts of William Smith, alias John Kelly, alias James Kelly, and many other aliases, too numerous to mention, who in the past month has fraudulently obtained many dollars through his worthless check passing activities, and who has managed to keep just a town ahead of the police.

A valuable lead in the case turned up over the week end, when police ascertained that Smith, as he has come to be known to authorities, is playing his unlawful game with the aid of a confederate. A Windham county bank officer, whose institution sustained a $15 loss when it cashed one of Smith's spurious notes, said today that newspaper descriptions of Smith did not quite tally with those of the man who induced the bank teller into honoring the bogus check. Although the pretender, physically, compared in stature with the wanted swindler, his face was not marked with a prominent scar, mentioned in police dispatches. The bank official said the man appeared to be about 22 years of age, dressed in a brown suit and wearing a felt hat, and his personal appearance and his polished manners enticed tellers to confide in his story and cash the paper draft which later proved to be worthless.

Police are aware of the fact that the two men are in possession of bank books and check books issued by numerous banks in Windham and New London counties. Fearing that published articles of their activities might be incentive for the pair to extend their activities to Rhode Island or Massachusetts, in order to avoid arrest in Connecticut, police departments throughout both states have been served with notices and descriptions of the Smiths and the Kellys, asking them to join in the tri-state search for the apprehension of the men who have to date evaded efforts of the police to trap them.

It was said today that the men are aided in their work of outdoing police, bankers and business men, by their knowledge of the length of time required by checks to go through the various financial institutions for collection, and in this way they are enabled to keep just a step ahead.

A fine of $100 and costs was imposed upon Harvey E. Miette, 22 Purchase street, Milford, Mass., when found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. Miette was before Judge M. H. Geissler in police court this morning, together with Thrue Andrew, his associate, who was found guilty of intoxication and fined $1 and costs. The two men were arrested early Sunday morning by Patrolman Joseph Page of the local police, after the officer had overtaken the pair on the north end of Mechanics street, following a two-mile zig-zag chase through the principal streets of the city. Miette was driving a Ford sedan and was found to be intoxicated when accosted by the policeman and was immediately placed under arrest. Andrews accompanied his pal when he became boisterous while in a similar condition. Miette was unable to raise sufficient funds to pay the demands of the court and this afternoon was committed to the county jail in default.

Cars owned by Henry Deteau of 166 School street, this city, and Louis N. Johnson of Pomfret were demolished early this morning following a collision which occurred at the intersection of Pomfret and Canal streets. Patrolman Joseph Page, who investigated, learned the Deteau, operating a Chevrolet coupe, was proceeding in a northerly direction on the southern approach to the Pomfret street intersection. Upon entering the intersection, Deteau encountered the car driven by Johnson which was proceeding west on Pomfret street. Unable to avoid each other for some unexplained reason, the two cars crashed, each being damaged to an extent almost beyond repair.

Fortunately neither operator was seriously injured. Deteau is a widower, his wife having died as the result of injuries sustained when struck last October by a local taxicab. No arrests grew out of the investigation.

A special meeting of the common council will be called Tuesday evening for the purpose of compiling the call for the special meeting of the voters of the city, which will be held in June to act upon the council's recommendations concerning additional appropriations. It is expected that a recurrence of last Tuesday's heated session will be experienced, since the municipal legislative body is expected to act upon the petition of the chamber of commerce, that a clause be inserted in the call asking that a sum of $3,000 be appropriated to provide additional power in the street lighting system in the business section.

The Putnam Music shop, long a prominent Main street business house, dealing only in high grade music reproducing instruments, radio, jewelry and novelties, ceased to exist Saturday when the last piece of merchandise went on the block of the auctioneer whose sale closed the career of the establishment which for many years has been guided by Warren W. Averill, well-known citizen and business man. The stock of store fixtures were being removed this afternoon by buyers and tonight the old Main street landmark, for many years conducted by the late George E. Shaw, was practically emptied.

Arthur Perkins of this city is the first local sportsman to fall into custody of county game officials this season for violation of the game laws. Perkins was before a Danielson judge this morning and was found guilty of possessing short fish, for which he paid a fine of $1 and costs. He was ordered into court by County Warden Thomas E. Daniels of Plainfield.

Northern Windham county orchardists should have a great apple crop this season, in the opinion of agricultural experts of the local farm bureau. Likewise there is promise of a large peach crop this season. When the drop comes, there will be a large fall of green apples, but if everything goes as is now expected the result will be most satisfactory, according to a fruit specialist, who has been observing conditions during the blooming period in the country hereabouts. The fruit raisers have experienced clear skies during the season, which has caused the bees to work among the blooms, a thing they will not do when it rains. Outside of inspiring the bees to go buzzing about, the exceptionally fine weather has helped ward off attacks of the deadly scale, which thrives best in wet weather. The one fear of the growers is that the dry period will endure for too long a period and deprive the plants of their needed supply of moisture.

It was reported in various parts of the Quinebaug valley this morning that mild frosts prevailed. Farmers were gratified to learn that the sudden drop in the temperature was not sufficient to harm crops.

Mr. and Mrs. Adelard Gravel of Greeneville were Sunday visitors in Putnam, passing the day with Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Donovan of Lyons street.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Keefe of Ring street were guests of their daughter, Miss Dorothy Keefe, at Connecticut college, New London, Sunday.

Frog Rock park, a creation of the landscape bureau of the state highway department, located on the state road between Pomfret and Phoenixville, is attracting considerable attention from hundreds of tourists who are passing over this route these spring days. The beautiful little spot derives its name from a large boulder which graces the park lawn. The huge stone closely resembles the head of a "Jugorum" and upon the completion of the park, Luther M. Keith, director of the landscape bureau, ordered one of his workers, who was artistically inclined, to tote a brush across both sides of the boulder with the result that man finished what nature left undone. The effect is most realistic and the work may one day be inspiration for a volume called, "Windham County's Great Stone Face."

WAUREGAN

Irving W. Davis of Danielson gave an interesting address before the Men's class of the Congregational church at the last meeting. Mr. Davis, who has served the state department of entomology for several years, described the breeding habits of bugs and insects, the methods of spreading disease, and the attempts to halt their depredations. At the business session it was decided to form a Quoit club, with A. J. Atwood president, A. Mott and Henry Leach, captain and coach respectively. The next meeting will not be held until October.

Beautiful flowers decorated the altar at the Congregational church Sunday in memory of Rev. S. Fellowes, and Mrs. S. J. Atwood.

Among the many who spent Sunday at the home of their parents were Miss Mildred Leach, Miss Olive Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Stones.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Spencer of Worcester spent Sunday with Mrs. Spencer's mother, Mrs. Annie Swan.

Special music will be rendered at the six church conference at Wauregan today (Tuesday) by Mrs. Gertrude Tracy and Mrs. Alice Mott.

February 21 is boy's day in the family of Hugo Wacker, a Thuringian peasant living in Feldrennbach. Each of his four sons was born on that day the first in 1920, the second in 1922, the third in 1927 and the fourth this year.

JEWETT CITY

ADAM ROJESKE TO CARRY NEW LONDON-PUTNAM MAIL

(Special to The Bulletin)

JEWETT CITY, May 12.—Adam Rojeske, of Jewett City, has been given the contract to carry the mail from New London to Putnam and intermediate points, from May 16, 1930, to June 30, 1933, at the rate of $19,760 per annum. Mr. Rojeske's bid was the lowest received and was accepted. The places to be supplied by the double truck service will include Gales Ferry, Norwich, Jewett City, Plainfield, Central Village, Wauregan, Danielson, Killingly and Putnam. The local morning mail will leave New London at 4:45 a. m., daily, arriving here by 7 a. m. The forenoon mail south and the afternoon mail north will arrive and leave as heretofore. The evening mail south will leave this office at 7:30. The star route service from Worcester is to be discontinued south of Putnam, the same to be performed by the local contractor. On the morning trip from New London railroad station to Putnam, this contract calls for the receiving of newspaper mail at Norwich, from screen wagon opposite the postoffice. Motor vehicles are to be used when road and weather conditions permit. Two new trucks are ready for the service.

The Moonbeam Girls met at the president's home Saturday evening. The members present were Julia Pozyborowski, Sarah Romaine, Dorothy Tessier and Stella Baldyga. Refreshments were served.

Week-end pickerel and bullhead fishermen at Tadpole pond were in a quandary to know just what to do about the black bass that are biting and being landed more than six weeks ahead of schedule. One man declared it was sort of discouraging to be fishing for pout and haul in a two-pound bass, only to be obliged to return the same whence he came. One pickerel fisherman says the bass just won't wait until July, for he caught two Sunday. It requires some determination to put back a two-pound bass. It sure does.

The Young People's Missionary club of the A. M. E. Z. church, Norwich, met at the home of Miss Emmie Alexander Friday evening. Following the meeting, whist and other games were played. Prizes were given those having highest and lowest scores. Sandwiches, punch, cakes, candy and nuts were served. Those present wehe Mrs. E. E. Gantt, Robert Johnson, Walter Johnson, James Anderson, Andrew, Harry, Berchy and Vincent Marshall, Misses Rosamond Johnson, Florence Jubrey, Netta Epps, Irene Wathyme, all of Norwich, and Miss Nellie Fields. The evening proved one of general profit and pleasure.

Twins' Birthday Party

A pretty birthday party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Stott in Tadpole for their twin sons, Bob and Bill, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, it being the twins' tenth birthday. The dining room was very prettily decorated in pink and white, and with spring flowers. The table held two large birthday cakes, frosted in pink and white, and inscribed with the name of each boy. Maybasket favors at each child's place held goodies. A bountiful luncheon was served at 5 o'clock. Instrumental music and singing was enjoyed by the children, Bobby Stott playing the piano. Milford Hill played a cornet solo. The twins received many useful gifts from their friends. Games were played and various prizes were given. Present were: Corinne Zegeer, Bernice McNicol, Muriel and Susan Potts, Barbara McIntyre, Elaine McKenna, Phylis Campbell, Eunice Palmer, Baby Jean MacIntyre, Nellie Coleever, Herbert Webster, Milford Hill, Chicken Potts, Raymond McKenna, Richard Coleever, Augustus Campbell, Jr., and Baby Potts, 3rd. Mrs. Stott was assisted by the following mothers: Mrs. Augustus Campbell, Mrs. Ronald Macintyre, Mrs. John McKenna, Mrs. John Potts and Mrs. William D. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Buckingham and son, Donald, J. H. Tracy and Alex McNicol leave today (Tuesday) to attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks, convening in Atlantic City, N. J.

Miss Emma Dearnley was a witness of the fire in Nashua, N. H., as she was spending the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Philip Kittredge, in Milford, which is a short distance from Nashua. Sunday, Charles Spicer and family drove to Nashua and viewed the ruins.

The Ladies' society of the Congregational church meets at the home of Mrs. F. E. Robinson, Thursday afternoon.

The beautiful decorations Mother's day at the Congregational church, excepting the carnations of white and pink, were tulips, jonquils, phlox, roses and pansies from Mrs. W. A. Richardson's garden.

CURTAILED TRAIN AND MAIL SERVICE

Cities and towns along the Norwich & Worcester branch of the New Haven road are not the only ones that are affected by the removal of trains carrying passengers, mail and express. In other localities trains have been and are being taken off, and as in the eastern end of Connecticut such removals are encountering protests.

Through their selectmen, the towns of Berkshire and Hampden counties in Massachusetts have presented protests to the Boston & Albany railroad because of the removal of the evening accommodation train between Pittsfield and Springfield. In this instance there is a denial of passenger service as well as the elimination of mail transportation, but it is more particularly in regard to the loss of the latter that the protests have been launched. There were steps taken to meet this situation but, according to the Springfield Republican, "the arrangement put into effect to provide a substitute service did not work very well. For the first week after the change the various selectmen, postmasters and other citizens who met General Superintendent Truden of the Boston & Albany in the Hinsdale town hall on Tuesday night expressed acute dissatisfaction."

It is quite evident that the Massachusetts towns are not disposed to suffer the loss of mail service without doing everything possible to prevent it. They are not satisfied by a substitute service which does not measure up to requirements and which is not satisfactory. Towns which have been accustomed to have their mails are justified in making a kick when there is an interruption and when they feel convinced that they are going to be deprived of needed service.

While they may recognize that they can get along without the passenger service, they know the detrimental effect upon business and general touch with the rest of the world when they are deprived of their mail service. Further than that, there is also need for the prompt handling of express matter and some means of taking care of baggage. The removal of train service had its effects upon all these accommodations to which the public has for a long time been accustomed. When satisfaction is expressed over anything that is offered in the way of a substitute nothing better can be expected.

THE FLEXIBLE CLAUSE

Evidently the flexible tariff clause is going to be the provision upon which there is going to be a hard fight waged if the claims of democratic spokesmen in the house mean anything. The house has expressed itself quite emphatically upon that point but the senate has indicated its insistence that the change which it made in the flexible clause remain. Under such circumstances the natural tendency would be to strive for a compromise but in a matter of this kind there seems slight prospect of such succeeding.

That the country is sick and tired of the prolonged tariff struggle is evident. Naturally it does not desire a repetition of it every time congress meets, and yet that is only what can be expected if congress is going to be given the power to pass on such action as the president might take under the flexible provision.

The purpose of the flexible feature is to correct such injustices as develop as time goes on. The president is given limited authority to act in making changes. He is limited as to the amount of increase or decrease in the rates, he cannot remove articles from or put them on the free list and such action as he may deem it wise to take must be based upon reports received from the tariff commission. Thus he is surrounded with adequate safeguards. To leave such action as he might take under the flexible clause to future approval or disapproval by congress would simply leave matters where they are now and mean congress would engage in tariff revision activities and debates every time it gathered. It is not believed that the sentiment of the country favors any such action, and nothing creates such an impression more convincingly than the time occupied and the uncertainty created by the wrestle with the tariff.

THE EXPORT CONFERENCE

All sections of New England have reason to be interested in the conference which has been arranged for tomorrow at Boston in regard to New England exports. At that session there will be a discussion of the various problems that exist in regard to export trade and it is to be hoped that there will likewise be presented some of the opportunities which exist for manufacturers to increase their export business.

The export problem may vary in the different lines but the more study that is given to it in a general way the better position the manufacturers of New England should be in to solve their particular difficulties or to take advantage of the various openings. New England must be interested in making the most of its chances to serve those who are desirous of securing its products, or who would be interested in having their demands filled by New England factories.

This part of the country has experienced decreased trade in certain lines because of developments and competition from other parts of a growing country. It has been obliged to make important changes, to shift from one line of manufactured goods to another, to produce something that is wanted or to create a demand for a new product because of its excellence. It hasn't entirely neglected export business but less attention has been given to that possibility than to meeting domestic requirements.

It is of no slight importance that the New England council should arrange a conference for the purpose of bringing to attention the opportunities that exist in the export business, the consideration of the markets and the people that may be served. It is of much importance to New England industry that it should make as close a study of this field as possible with a view to having such business as may be developed in that direction replace that which has been decreasing in other directions. There is no chance that New England will experience a greater industrial development than it can stand. The need at the present time is to provide for the steady operation of its mills and factories and make such extensions as new business will warrant. Anything that the export conference can contribute in this direction will be warmly welcomed.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION

That highway construction projects are going to help materially in the absorption of the unemployed is indicated by the statement from the department of commerce to the effect that contracts awarded during the first three months of the year in 35 states are more than double the amount awarded during the same period last year.

Road building has attracted large funds and many men in recent years. States deal in different ways with the problem of road construction, some depending upon bonds in order to obtain funds in addition to what is made available by the tax on gasoline, while others resort to the policy of pay as you go. But with 35 states making provision for an aggregate outlay of $114,000,000 in the first quarter of the year it will mean much employment and a marked betterment of highway conditions. How it will affect the labor situation is indicated by the estimate that nearly 50 cents of every dollar spent for highway building and maintenance goes to labor.

States which are showing the largest increase in contracts awarded thus far are Pennsylvania with a jump of more than $13,000,000, Iowa with an increase of over $7,600,000, Missouri with over $6,300,000, Ohio with a gain of more than $7,600,000, Virginia which doubled its $4,500,000 of last year, California with nearly $4,000,000 and Wisconsin with a boost of more than $3,000,000. West Virginia and Indiana will spend more than $2,000,000 each in excess of last year, Oregon about $2,000,000 and Colorado, New Jersey, New Mexico, Texas and Washington will show an increase ranging from $1,000,000 to $1,700,000.

In Connecticut the three months' award represents a total highway construction expense of $1,453,192, which is a gain of $462,209 over the same period last year. Thus Connecticut is doing its part in this line of activity and its effect upon employment will be beneficial with still better results to come from such contracts as are let during the remainder of the year.

Only in a few instances does the first quarter show a decrease from the figures of last year, indicative of the attention which is being given to better road construction as years go on.

A DESTRUCTIVE INTEREST

That human nature is much the same the country over may be inferred from the words of the Birmingham, Ala., News, when it says, "The return of spring with its flowers and blossoming trees brings out that peculiar type of destructiveness in individuals which leads them to strip the countryside of everything beautiful in nature that they can lay their hands on," and it proceeds to point out the property rights in the countryside and to insist that "the obviously sensible thing is to leave the wild flowers on tree or bush where they bloom and where they will delight others."

Those who have raided orchards, plunged into flower gardens and pulled up plants by the roots as well as taking the blossoms, and otherwise gathered for only temporary purposes flowering shrubs, have been responsible for much legislation as well as much distress of mind. They have made it necessary to surround property with greater protection and to restrict those who trespass and damage.

They, or their cousins, are also the ones who have made their presence most unwelcome in those attractive spots where picnic parties like to gather because of the enjoyable surroundings and interesting scenery. Without regard for the property rights of the owners they have proceeded to litter the ground with all sorts of unsightly articles and leave it to mar the beauty of the place or for someone else to clear away.

Alabama apparently has those who appreciate the native flowers, the efforts to create attractive grounds and the flowering trees and plants, but it also has those who see nothing in them beyond the satisfying of their desire to pick them. This is not different from what can be found in this part of the country. It displays a destructive interest in those things that belong to others which deserves all possible discouragement.

WASHINGTON AFFAIRS

(Special to The Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, May 12—"When will we adjourn?" is the question asked of Floor Leader Tilson of Connecticut scores of times each day. If any one knows, it would be the majority leader, so when Tilson replies "I don't know, ask the senate," you may be pretty certain it is a matter of uncertainty. Col. Tilson has speeded up house legislation in fine shape. All appropriation bills except the navy has passed, and is waiting action by the senate; the tariff is going through the house at a lively pace, whether or not the senate falls into line.

Probably congress will put up its shutters sometime in June, the pressure brought to bear on the senate will be heavy; the terrific heat of a Washington summer has already been felt, for the mercury at the official down town station of the U. S. weather bureau has run up into the 90's much of the past week, 98 and even 102 degrees being on official record.

Moreover as all the house and one-third the senate come up for election this year, the members are fretting under a session which has practically kept congress at work for the past 19 months. What with the "long" session, and the extra session; the tariff between times and the routine work, congress has not been out of session for more than six weeks or so, at a time during the 19 month period, and the ways and means and finance committees much less than that.

Senate investigations, especially those concerning the so-called anti-liquor lobby, draw big crowds. Take the Bishop Cannon-Jameson testimony for instance. Bishop Cannon has yet to appear in person, but his financial backer, Mr. Jameson, was an excellent substitute.

"Ugh—Ugh—" says Chairman Caraway in a sort of Amos an' Andy tone of voice. He seemed to be thinking "Now I'll catch you napping", as he sat at the head of the great table in the committee room. Facing Caraway, with his arms resting on the witness table, sat Jameson, not a bit perturbed by the stream of questions he was facing. Overhead crystal chandeliers threw a soft light down on the overcrowded room; the buzz and roar of airplanes came through open windows, for the 125 planes about to go to New England were having a practice flight in formation directly over the capitol. Fifty or more reporters craned their necks and turned listening ears to the testimony being given; young women in gay hats, and more elderly, soberfaced women, who want the nation mopped dry; men of varying opinions and clerks filled the room to overflowing.

Only Caraway and Robinson of Indiana, republican, were present as investigators, Borah, Blaine and Walsh of Montana did not take the trouble to appear.

Caraway asks a leading question of Jameson about the type of politics in Indiana. No love is lost between Caraway and Robinson. But the latter ignores the question, and buries his nose still deeper in the morning newspaper he has been diligently reading all through the quiz put up by Caraway. Apparently he has no interest in what Jameson did down in his home state. Jameson admits his father was a democrat, whereupon Caraway raises a big laugh by saying in his "Amos" tone, "Well, that isn't the first instance of a good man's son gone wrong." At that Robinson again turns his papers and again studies the cartoon on the front page, but doesn't blink an eye lid.

Everybody laughs except the stern faced women who can see no joke when prohibition is discussed.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Jameson," says Caraway as a preface to his next question, "I don't doubt your statement, but I merely want to get the record correct." Can that be Caraway speaking? The man who puts his victims on the hottest available grill? The 50 reporters crane their necks to make sure. Aha, we thought so. That polite question led to a sockdoleger of a question as to why a considerable sum of money was spent, two checks of $25,000 each. Then Caraway bows politely and remarks, "We won't bother about those, no one seems to be working for such small sums" or something like that.

Whereupon Jameson offers and asks to have read a letter in which the democratic party and former Gov. Al Smith of New York were severely assailed. That put Caraway between the devil and the deep sea. He is a staunch, unswerving democrat, and is as dry as a chip. But the letter goes into the record, and Caraway leaves his seat and paces impatiently up and down behind the table.

Telegraph messengers rush in and out of the room with "copy"; Caraway comes back to his seat; he and Jameson smile into each other's eyes; the hearing is nearing a close; word goes round that Cannon will be called this month; men grab their hats from the pile of felts and straw piled up on window sills. "The hearing is adjourned for the day" announces Caraway. Then he and Jameson shake hands, crowds of reporters gather round the star witness and the chairman; letters submitted in evidence are carefully scanned, and to those familiar with New Hampshire politics, it recalls the tradition of what old Ruel Durkee, wise but illiterate, is said to have laid down as a life rule, which was something like this: "Don't write —go yourself—for what's 'writ' can't be took back."

Then the room is cleared, the bell high on the wall rings for a quorum call of the senate, and the Jameson "day in court" comes to an end.

No "talkie" ever written could show such a difference of policy as that which has marked the political and personal animosity evidenced in the Bingham case, as compared with the suaveness with which the McCormick and the Cannon-Jameson investigation were conducted.

While the senate is engaged in investigations and pestering the president about his nominations, the house is paying considerable heed to the "needs of the inner man." Representative Underhill of Massachusetts is in direct charge of the house restaurant, by order of the house. Underhill believes in three things; give good food, keep down expenses; feed 'um New England specialties. So beans and brown bread, apple pie and cheese cut a big figure. Underhill was joked the other day by a fellow member, in course of debate, for charging five cents extra for a piece of cheese to go with the pie. Then Underhill rose to the occasion, "I am glad you spoke of it," said he. "When the government took over operation of the restaurant, a little piece of cheese not bigger than a razor blade was furnished free with pie. Now by paying five cents you get a man's size piece of cheese, and yet the government is saving $140 a month on its cheese bill." And Underhill sat down in midst of applause. He is resourceful, for when one democrat sought to argue a club sandwich ought not to cost as much as charged, Underhill sent out for the ingredients, made one himself, and submitted the result to the house. It met approval, and again the New Englander triumphed.

ALL FOR ART

Amy's absorbing ambition was to sing. She longed to leave the monotonous workaday world in which she lived in order to have a career. She wanted to forsake cooking and marketing and planning three meals a day and devote her life to art.

But is was Amy's misfortune to be bound so closely to her little Rosebud Inn that about the only chance she had for practicing her singing was in teh morning as she walked to and from the grocery store where she did her day's ordering, and in the afternoon as she presided over the kitchen and supervised the preparation of dinner.

"Rosebud Inn" Amy had christened it the day she took over the small restaurant in the Glenside apartment hotel. "It never has paid," the manager infromed her. "We want the young woman who manages it to make it known as "the best place to eat in Hubbard Park." Amy had been in charge about two years and Rosebud Inn was all the manager had wanted it to be.

"Do-mi-sol-do," practiced Amy one evening, giving a final peek into the oven to be sure the roasts were just browned right. "Do-sol-mi-do," she warbled, glancing into the ice box at the pink and white frozen desserts. "Oh, my," she finished, taking off her apron and smoothing her hair, "I feel like a bird and this kitchen is my cage. But it won't be long now!" For Amy had registered for a tryout with the Civic Repertoire company and might be called any day.

Amy passed through the swinging door into the dining room and surveyed her first arrivals. There were oldish Mr. and Mrs. Fitzjones and Prof Carson. And at a small table up in front was a handsome young man whom Amy never had seen there before. But from the instant she first saw him Amy felt that Rosebud Inn was not such a prison cage after all.

After the dinner hour Amy sought her friend Gertrude, who worked at the desk in the lobby. "You must mean Howard Walker!" exclaimed Gertrude when Amy described her new guest. "He lives in the hotel with his mother and father, who have gone to Iowa for three weeks. He sells bonds, I believe."

The next evening Amy watched for Howard Walker and when he arrived she hovered over his table to see that he received the best possible attention. When he had finished he smiled and told her it was the best dinner he ever had eaten. The next evening he came again and the next. In fact, for the next three weeks he didn't miss one dinner at Rosebud Inn.

"Tomorrow," he told Amy the last night, "my family will be home again——" But just at that instant Amy was summoned into the kitchen and when she came out again Howard had left. So his family would be home tomorrow! Amy thought of her kitchen. It hadn't seemed like such a prison during these weeks when she was looking forward to seeing Howard each evening. But now she felt she couldn't stand it any longer. And, as though fate were kindly intervening in her behalf, the very next day Amy received her call from the Civic Repertoire company.

Amy didn't appear at Rosebud Inn that night. And two nights later, when she did appear, it was, she thought, for the last time. She had been given a tiny part in the Repertoire company's new play and, at last —she was to devote her life to art!

"Good evening!" Amy turned at the sound of Howard Walker's familiar voice.

"Why," she gasped. "I didn't expect you. I thought your family——"

"My family did come home and here they are," said Howard introducing the gray-haired man and woman who had come in behind him. "They've heard so much about your marvelous cooking that I've convinced them to give up dining at home and have all their meals here for awhile."

"Oh, but——" Amy stammered, "you see, I'm giving up Rosebud Inn."

"What!" exclaimed Howard. "Giving up your career—your art" Her art! "Please don't go away," begged Howard softly as he followed her across the dining room toward his table. "Really, I—I've never met a girl like you——"

The next day Amy gave up her tiny singing part in the new play and that night she devoted all her art to serving Howard Walker and his family the best dinner in the history of Rosebud Inn.—Exchange.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 12—The most fascinating aspect of the clash between those eminent senate historians, Fess of Ohio and Borah of Idaho, during senate debate of the nomination to Judge Parker to the supreme court bench was what was not said.

Look through the Ohioan's remarks and you will find no word asserting that the opposition to Parker led by Borah might be due in any part to personal antagonism of senators to President Hoover. He was just talking history, telling of the opposition of Webster, Clay and Calhoun to the nomination by President Jackson of Judge Tawney to the supreme bench.

"I think that Webster and Calhoun and Clay were acting from passion of hatred toward Jackson for his fight against the national bank, and I think the senator (Borah) will agree with me," Fess said.

"No, I do not," challenged Borah.

History.

Nor was that the only historical matter on which the pair clashed. Fess's review of the history of opposition to certain nominations to the supreme bench back down the years was a truly remarkable effort. It disclosed a lot of research and reading on his part. Ashurst of Arizona said it had increased his admiration for the Ohioan's "opulent storehouse of history."

And in the course of his remarks Fess referred to the supposedly historical incident when Clay and Tawney, grown old and both near the grave, were reconciled on their last meeting and clasped hands, Clay confessing himself to have been wrong.

"Those two old men—one nearing his grave and the other soon to go into his grave—like children, went because of an honest confession; but think how bitter it must have been before," Fess said.

"Yes, I know; and the incident which the senator has just related is one of the very beautiful incidents in history which I have never been able to verify," said Borah. "I hope it is true and I presume it is. I would hate to see so touching a scene eliminated from history; but I have searched in vain for the actual record of that transaction."

"I take it from history as a common statement of history," countered Fess.

"I take it from history, too; and I accept it; but really, if the senator was called upon for absolute authenticity, I doubt if he would get it," was the Borah come-back.

Scholarly

Now that was all very interesting—historically. Also, it exhibited two very scholarly senators in deep study of history as essential in their minds to the success of their political careers. But what had it to do with the fate of the nomination of Judge Parker in 1930? Why did Fess bring that up? And why did Borah feel impelled to answer so particularly that personal animus aspect of the Ohioan's argument? Dope it out for yourself.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mother's Day

Mr. Editor: Mother's day has come and gone but who is there in our lives we can love and cherish more than mother?

This was brought to me most vividly just recently where I noted a young couple had driven their old mother from the house and the reason they gave was they could not go out enough for the old mother was such a bother, and so much trouble they just had to send her away from them. I am quoting their words as I have been told. I wonder what the harvest will be for those two in the days to come. Who can tell?

I hope and trust that every boy and girl who may read this will give to their mother who may be with them yet in life just a fraction of the love that your mother has given to you. Your mother will be the only one you will ever have. I do not wish to be too sentimental regarding this but I will say this, as sure as the sun rises in the east some day you will be willing to give everything you possess if you could only see her and hear her voice. Even though you may be along in years, you will wish you could go to her and tell your troubles as you did when, as a little child, you ran to her for sympathy and she wiped your tears away and gave you a kiss and with it a mother's love.

It can be truly said, Man works from sun to sun, but a mother's work is never done, just a labor of love. She never knows a pay day, and yet works harder from early morn till late at night. I do not wish to be too dramatic in this letter, but I do want to impress upon you who still have your mother with you to be good to her, for when she is gone, you will miss her. She will not return, and you can just dream of what you have lost—a mother's immortal love. To the mothers of today I extend to you my most sincere regard for you are man's most glorious treasure for he is indeed rich with a mother's love.

And now before I close, one last thought to you young people. Do not think I am chiding you, for that is far from my thoughts. If you do at some time say something unkind, I am fully assured you do not mean it, for it is just thoughtless on your part, yet it hurts her. Who is the one who has a never failing love for you—your mother.

YOUR HEALTH

Diphtheria

By Vance P. Peery, M. D., Kinston, N. C.

(From Gorgas Memorial Institute)

There is but one rational treatment for diphtheria—PREVENTION. When a child dies from diphtheria, in the light of present day knowledge the responsibility for that death can be definitely fixed. It is possible for all parents to see that their children are given the toxin-antitoxin, or at least to have the Schick test made to ascertain whether or not these children are susceptible to diphtheria. No child has ever suffered from either measure, but thousands have died in the United States during 1929 for lack of these procedures. Rumors from ignorant and superstitious sources have created doubts and fears in the minds of some parents, all without a single basis in fact. It is an established fact, beyond any doubt or refutation by argument of any creed, cult, or system of healing, that diphtheria can be prevented by toxin-antitoxin, and can be cured in those cases where the disease is already established, by the proper treatment with antitoxin, if given in time.

It is safe to say that without toxin-antitoxin, which is the preventive vaccination, and without antitoxin, the curative serum, in the United States alone, the death toll of this disease is is already established, by the proper treatment with antitoxin, if given in time.

It is safe to say without toxin-antitoxin, which is the preventive vaccination, and without antitoxin, the curative serum, in the United States alone, the death toll of this disease would be between 35,000 and 40,000 for the year 1930. As it is, I venture to say it will be in the neighborhood of 7,000 or 8,000 for the mortality from diphtheria has been reduced 80 per cent in the last 25 years. But isn't that 7,000 or 8,000 lives wasted a terrible toll?

Behring, the Prussian military surgeon, and Kitasato developed antitoxin in 1890-1893; Theobold Smith, M. D., in 1907, suggested the use of toxin-antitoxin for prevention; Schick, another M. D., in 1913 gave us the Schick test to determine the susceptibility of a child to diphtheria. All this work had as a basis the crude findings and experiments in the 17th century of men, working with crude microscopes, who saw small moving microbes (not visible to the naked eye) while examining scrapings from around teeth, the blood of cholera patients, putrifying meat, etc. Parents who love their chilrend can never pay their debt to such men.

If a sore throat—red and inflamed, either with or without membrane—a running nose, head cold, or fever, are in evidence, get the opinion of a competent doctor. But do not wait for trouble. Find out if your child is susceptible to diphtheria. The test is easily available. A simple, efficient, and harmless preventive has been given us. So death by diphtheria is evidence of gross, morally criminal, negligence. Do not delay in consulting a doctor in case of acute illness.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORY

A Big Appetite

Pray, don't mistake another's need
For what you're pleased to term as greed.
—Old Mother Nature.

Blarina the Shrew was angry. He was chattering with rage. Danny Meadow Mouse had escaped from him. He had rushed after Danny, but not far. You see, Danny was running so fast that Blarina knew that it was of no use to follow him. But how he did chatter! You see, Blarina was hungry and when Danny Meadow Mouse had come along, Blarina had left sure of a favorite dinner. So, great was his disappointment when Danny had escaped.

"Now I've go to find something else," said Blarina. He was talking to himself in a very fine squeaky voice. "That Mouse would have made me just one good dinner. Yes, sir, it would have made me just one good meal."

Now, Danny Meadow Mouse is larger than Blarina, but Blarina was telling the truth. Had he succeeded in killing Danny, he would have eaten all of Danny excepting his skin and bones; for Blarina has one of the largest appetites in all the Great World. He thinks nothing of eating twice his own weight in less than a day. Just imagine that! So, with such a big appetite, Blarine has to keep on the move most of the time in order to find enough to eat.

"It is a good thing that I do not have to depend on just one kind of food," muttered Blarina as he pounced on an earthworm. "If I did, I guess I would go a lot hungrier than I am most of the time. This worm is good, but there isn't enough of him."

Swallowing the last of it, Blarina started on along a little runway of his own. He hadn't gone far when he came to a snail. It took only a moment or two to dispose of that snail; and once more Blarina was hurrying along his little runway. He came to a partly rooted old fence-post lying on the ground. Under the edge of this he found three fat slugs and half a dozen sowbugs, all of which were eaten almost faster than I can tell it. A little bit later he discovered one of those great big earthworms called a Night Crawler. This was a prize. But when it was gone, Blarina, instead of being satisfied, grumbled to himself because there wasn't another right at hand to be eaten.

Now, could you have watched Blarina as he hunted for his food, you would have thought that he must have thought that he must have remarkable good eyes. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Blarina's tiny eyes are hardly better than no eyes at all. He can tell light from dark, that is all. He knows when it is daylight and he knows when it is night; but so far as seeing things is concerned, his eyes are of no use whatever.

But don't be sorry for Blarina the Shrew. He doesn't need eyes. No, sir, he really has no use for eyes. You see, his ears and his nose and his whiskers make up for his lack of good eyes. Perhaps you didn't know that whiskers are really of some use in the world. Some are anyway. Blarina's are. Those whiskers have a wonderful sense of touch. So, with his wonderful ears to catch the tiniest of sounds and tell him what they are, his wonderful nose to catch the faintest of scents, and his wonderful whiskers to tell him just what he is touching, Blarina gets along very well indeed. He asks no favors of any one.

A HISTORY OF CONNECTICUT INDUSTRY

Released by Manufacturers Association of Connecticut

Seth Thomas Clock Company, Thomaston

More than 120 years ago Seth Thomas joined Eli Terry and Silas Hoadley in clockmaking at Plymouth. Subsequently the firm was dissolved and Thomas began business in a shop of his own at Plymouth Hollow (now named Thomaston) in 1813. The original building is still standing and belongs to the Seth Thomas Clock company. For forty years Thomas continued to make clocks in the same place as an individual manufacturer, but in 1853 he incorporated his business under a special charter from the state of Connecticut and it has so continued to operate up to this time. The concern is one of the few in America which have endured for over 100 years in the same site, doing business under the same name, and in control of the same family. The product has always been clocks although types and models have changed and increased continually. From a few kinds of grandfather and shelf clocks the variety has increased to hundreds of models, besides the addition of tower clocks, automobile clocks, marine clocks, electric clocks and many forms of special clock movements used to drive other instruments. The capital stock has increased from $75,000.00 to $1,000,000 with a surplus of $1,500,000. The stock is listed on the Hartford stock exchange.

The present officers are: Seth E. Thomas, Jr., president; Mason T. Adams, vice president; B. A. Weathers, Jr., secretary; Arthur S. Hamlin, treasurer.

Wojkowski had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Rensselaer W. Holmes

The funeral of Rensselaer W. Holmes was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his home in Preston City with many relatives and friends in attendance. Rev. Frank Robbins and Rev. A. J. Smith conducted the service. The burial was in Preston City cemetery, Rev. Mr. Robbins and Rev. Mr. Smith conducting the committal service. The bearers were Ernest Main, Archibald, Henry, Carl Paul and Samuel Holdridge. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The Henry Allen and Son Co. had charge of the funeral arrangements.

OBITUARY

Henry G. Aurelio

The death of Henry G. Aurelio occurred suddenly about 10:30 Monday evening in his apartment in The Gilbert on Church street when he was seized with an acute heart attack. He had been suffering for some time with heart trouble and about two weeks ago had been obliged to lay off for a few days.

Mr. Aurelio was born in Fayal, Azores Islands, Oct. 14, 1872, the son of Thomas Goodwin and Charlotte Geraldine Aurelio, having colonial ancestry on his father's side from the Standish and Alden families. Jane T. Austin, the well-known novelist, was his father's aunt.

The family came to Willimantic in May, 1874, and Mr. Aurelio grew up there, coming to Norwich when he was about 19, and has lived here ever since and been continuously in the employ of the furniture house of N. S. Gilbert & Sons and their successors, by whom he was held in high regard for his faithfulness.

His wife died about two years ago in the fall and he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Lucy G. Fields and Mrs. Sara G. Fields, both of this city, and Mrs. Charlotte G. Joseph of Stonington.

Mr. Aurelio was a member of the Central Baptist church, taking great interest in the young people's work and the Sunday school for many years, in both of which he had held office, and he had many warm friends by whom his loss will be deeply felt.

TO CONDUCT MERCHANDISING INSTITUTE IN "TRY NORWICH FIRST" CAMPAIGN

At the meeting of the Merchants bureau of the chamber of commerce held Monday night in the chamber rooms, the meeting voted to hold the "Merchandising Institute and Dance" for all the salespeople and merchants in Norwich on next Tuesday evening in the Wauregan ball room. This event was planned just prior to the lenten season and it was decided at that time that it be held as soon after lent as possible. The purpose of the get-to-gether will be to further the "Try Norwich First" campaign, to better acquaint the salespeople of Norwich one with another and to inform the assemblage regarding the aims and purposes of the merchants in carrying out the sales promotion project of "Try Norwich First." The program as planned will constitute a brief survey of sales and merchandizing as affecting Norwich.

Notices will be sent out to all members of the Merchants bureau but the committee urges all merchants whether members or not to make a special effort to attend this event with their salespeople, since it will mean much to all merchants in this city.

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD SECOND RALLY PRACTICE

Scouts from practically all local troops will meet at the Armory to-night (Tuesday) at 8:00 o'clock or earlier to have another practice meet of the coming rally. In addition to short practices in march, inspection, knot tying, first aid, fire by friction, bugling, etc., each troop will put on a game or demonstration that they may receive constructive criticism of other troops. A mass signalling drill will be tried out.

The rally committee will meet at the armory at 7:00 p. m. to make final plans. At the patrol leaders overnight hike it was decided to have 50 or more Scouts each take one merit badge and represent it in appropriate costume. Scouts have already begun to choose merit badges which they would like to portray. With the decision to be reached tonight upon signalling and tree felling, it is probable that the rally will take final form and that between now and the 24th there will be but one more practice rehearsal.

Arthur Adams, formerly of Norwich and now of Hartford, has offered to assist with the Jamboree. Mr. Adams plans to send down in the near future a huge Boy Scout handbook sign which he painted for the Hartford Jamboree and which will probably be used for the entrance door of the merit badge demonstration.

Reports from individual Scouts indicate that quite a number are working on different kinds of exhibits and that every one of the dozen prizes offered for exhibit work will be won by some Scout.

According to the local headquarters it is probable that the cubs will also have a part in the program either in song or yells. Every indication points to a very successful rally and jamboree.

ELIZABETH STREET SCHOOL ORGANIZES SCOUT TROOP

For many weeks there has been anticipation of the Scout troop to be formed at the Elizabeth street school. Parents and boys have been looking forward to it. The school has furnished a special room for the Scouts, screening and partitioning it so that a real boys' den can be made; and Monday night marked the fruition of all these plans. A patrol of eight Scouts met with the assistant scoutmaster, Franklin Robinson and started on their tenderfoot work. Both Mr. Gifford and Mr. Latimer, big brothers to the troop, were presented and helped the boys.

According to Mr. Gifford they will start with just a few boys, probably just a dozen for the first month and then build on this nucleus. With the facilities the school provides and with the backing the West Side Community club is prepared to give, this troop should become one of the best in the city. The organization of a Cub pack of boys from the ages of 9 to 12 is also being considered here. According to the Scout executive the cub manuals have been received and the uniforms can now be ordered through local headquarters.

STATE PARK VALUATION NOW SET AT $1,403,806

One million seven hundred thousand shareholders, each holding one share of stock in Connecticut state parks, a subsidiary corporation of the state of Connecticut, now possess an estate with a book value of $1,403,806. That estate, consisting of lands and waters and permanent improvements thereon, is still only at the beginning of its development for public use or as a producer of income, yet it has yielded a return that may be conservatively stated to have averaged 3 per cent annually on the book value over the past ten years.

These facts are disclosed in a report entitled Connecticut State Parks—a Report to the Shareholders, and prepared for the Connecticut park and forest commission by Albert M. Turner, "a shareholder of record" who is also field secretary for the commission. The report is being printed by the commission.

PLAN BIG DELEGATION TO HEAR EX-GOV. WHITMAN SPEAK

Ex-Governor Charles Whitman of New York, a Norwich boy, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the state chamber of commerce on Wednesday evening in the Hotel Bond, Hartford. In compliment to Mr. Whitman the Norwich chamber of commerce is making plans to have as large a delegation of Norwich men attend as possible. In addition, the state chamber of commerce is offering a silver loving cup to the chamber of commerce which has the largest number in attendance at this banquet, and has sent letters to the members, asking that reservations be made at once by calling the chamber of commerce office. Norwich men not members are also welcome. Secretary Richardson feels that the above reasons should warrant the biggest turnout in attendance, since Ex-Gov. Whitman is an orator worth traveling far to hear. The program of the state chamber will include the banquet, other speakers of importance and a fine bill of entertainment.

WILL BACK BUS LINE NORWICH VIA SAYBROOK

With Mayor Lee Roy Robbins, John R. Tarrant, J. F. Fleming, W. N. Block and Secretary John Richardson of the chamber of commerce present, a meeting was held Monday afternoon with T. E. Peacock, an official of the Shore Line Railway company. The purpose of Mr. Peacock's meeting was to inform the local businessmen of the intention of his company to establish a motor bus line between Norwich and New Haven via Saybrook. This line will run through the town of Bozrah, the Gardner lake territory to Lyme and to Saybrook. Heretofore this section has been without transportation facilities and in view of the apparent need for this service the local committee have Mr. Peacock's assurance that the project would meet with the approval of local business interests and in filing their application with the public utilities commission, that Norwich would lend their assistance.

Hartford Day at Masonic Temple

Hartford day is to be observed at the Masonic temple in this city next Saturday, and not in Hartford as previously stated through an error. The 20th and 27th degrees will be conferred in full ceremonial form.

W. N. KING RE-ELECTED CHAMBER PRESIDENT

(Special to The Bulletin.)

PUTNAM, May 12. — The annual meeting of the chamber of commerce was held tonight at the Putnam inn with a large attendance. A banquet was served preceding the entertainment and business meeting. A committee selected to nominate officers to serve for the ensuing year recommended that President Walter N. King be re-elected to succeed himself as head of the civic organization. The recommendation was unanimously endorsed and other officers elected were Earl C. Rogers, first vice president; Mayor Charles A. Richard, second vice president; Charles A. Seder; third vice president; Arthur E. Smith, treasurer, re-elected, and Arthur Macdonald, secretary, re-elected.

The following were appointed to the board of directors: C. J. Isbester, Armand J. Lizotte, Napoleon A. Keroack, J. Dyer Potter, Arthur F. Hughes, Leonard H. Mellor. President King in accepting the nomination thanked the members for their hearty co-operation shown him as members of the board of directors during the past year and said that he looked forward to the same demonstration of fine spirit on the part of the membership during the coming year. Encouraging reports were had from the new industries committee, which reported that two new textile organizations had been secured for Putnam during the year and that the committee is hopeful that other manufacturers will locate in Putnam during the next 12 months. A. Macdonald, Jr., chairman of the committee on railroad service, reported progress in the matter of restoration of train, passenger and baggage and mail service on the Norwich and Worcester branch. A fine program of entertainment was provided by professional artists from Rhode Island.

Fillmore, Miss Bertha A. Meitzger, Earle H. Christman, Miss Susan C. Allen.

GIVES INSTRUCTIVE TALK ON GAS INDUSTRY

At the Contact club meeting Monday noon at the Wauregan hotel, Harold D. Larrabee, president of the Norwich Rotary club, and general manager of the Eastern Connecticut Power Co., gave an address on A New Gas Business. President Ernest O. Rodier presided at the meeting and Russell Crowell, chairman of the program committee, introduced Mr. Larrabee. In the course of his remarks Mr. Larrabee said there is something new in the gas business which is likely to have a far reaching effect. That is wide distribution of natural gas into markets which up to a few years ago could not be reached. Natural gas issues from the ground under high pressure, 300 to 600 pounds per square inch. This is sufficient to send it through pipe lines for great distances but it is only recently there has been developed a steel pipe which can stand up under these high pressures.

Manufactured gas was first discovered by Von Helmont in 1609 but was first used in this country at Baltimore in 1816. Long before Von Helmont's time, however, the Chinese found natural gas arising from a coal deposit and caried it through bamboo pipes to light the city of Peking. It never amounted to much as it was not popular and did not get into general use by the Chinese people. When discovered in various other places, natural gas was thought by the ancients to be some supernatural manifestation, and where it became ignited, a number of fire worshippers' temples were erected. Remains of some of these gas wells have been found in Asiatic Russia. In the United tates, natural gas was first found on the south bank of the Ohio river, within the present city limits of Pittsburgh where in 1820, while drilling for salt, one of the wells brought in gas. This became ignited and burned up the whole plant, so that there was rejoicing when they finally succeeded in plugging up the hole. Natural gas was first used for domestic service in 1865 at Fredonia, N. Y., and since then its use has increased as fast as pipe lines could be economically laid near the gas fields.

Practically all gas fields have been discovered accidently in attempts to locate oil, and so far as production is concerned natural gas has come into being as a by-product of the oil industry. Much natural gas contains gasoline vapors which are easily condensed out to natural or casing head gasoline, which is of very high grade and is very useful for blending with gasoline made by the usual process of cracking oil.

Gas fields and oil fields are then in the same general location and exist in three major areas of the country—the Appalachian field, comprising Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio; the southwestern field, with Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas; the Pacific field being principally southern California. The Appalachian is the only field in or near dense population and hence near a large consuming area, and yet a large output has been used for many years. Pittsburgh has been supplied for some 60 years, while Louisville, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus and other cities have had natural gas for many years. In six states it constitutes the only gas used; in five others 90 per cent of the gas used is natural gas, 80 per cent in California and 60 per cent in Pennsylvania. As measured in cubic feet of output, natural gas has for years been much greater than manufactured gas for the country as a whole, being 1100 billions in 1924 against 400 billions.

There has, however, been a feeling of uncertainty in regard to the permanence of natural gas which has kept many careful investors away from it. There is also so much difference between the transportation and marketing problems of the gas and those of the oil business that most oil companies have not been very keen in developing a natural gas department. The was work has been undertaken more by public utility companies and it will undoubtedly be such interests rather than the oil companies which will carry on the natural gas development. Natural gas output increased steadily from 400 billions in 1907 to 800 in 1920, and then in 1921 came a considerable decrease in output from Pennsylvania and West Virginia, so that the total for 1921 dropped to 662 billions. It was then felt that the peal of natural gas had been passed and that the industry would decline.

Soon, however, things began to happen. No less than four different methods were developed by which the available gas content may be accurately estimated. These have been proven against actual experience with existing fields and are used as a check in calculating new fields, so that the element of uncertainty as to available gas has been very largely removed. Since the decline of 1921, huge gas reservoirs have been discovered in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Kansas and California, which present an almost limitless supply. Then came the development of the new steel pipe capable of handling gas at pressure of 600 pounds or more, which of course provides the means by which gas can be transported for long distances to the great consuming markets.

Large capital is no longer afraid to go into the natural gas business and last year new pipe lines were laid to Kansas City, St. Louis, Memphis, New Orleans, San Antonio, Monterey, Mexico and San Francisco, a total of some 3,540 miles in about two years. This year such lines will reach Atlanta, Birmingham, San Diego, Chicago and other cities. In a short time we may expect it to reach Philadelphia, New York and New England. From the Louisiana fields to St. Louis gas is now transmitted some 700 miles, from Texas Panhandle to Kansas City, 500 miles, and to Chicago it will be 1,000 miles. So far as direct transmission is concerned, these distances already exceed electric power lines, although the problem is, of course, a different one.

As a result of removing the uncertainty as to available sources of gas and of the development of the new high pressure steel pipe, natural gas output is increasing very fast. The 1921 output was 662 billions; in 1924, it was 1,100 billion; in 1928 it was 1568 billions and in 1929 it was almost 2,000 billions. A large portion of the whole country—two-thirds or perhaps three-fourths of it—may soon be reached by natural gas lines and thereby enter a tremendous market. It will have a very great effect upon the fuel supply and consumption for all uses, domestic, commercial and industrial. This development is going on rapidly but in a very orderly way because the leading producers, as well as the leading gas distribution companies are all in strong financial position. It is not a wild speculation nor a crazy exploitation, and there can be no general scramble for control. It is a new development of a natural resource whose existence has been known to man for some 400 years.

SPEEDED PAST CORNER AT UNCASVILLE JUNCTION

(Special to The Bulletin)

MONTVILLE, May 12.— About 1 o'clock this afternoon while Officer Howard Lampher was on duty at the Uncasville four corners an automobile going toward Norwich at a fast rate of speed endangering the lives of the children on the way to school at that time did not heed the whistle that Officer Lamphere blew. By quick action on the officer's part the registration number of the car was taken by the officer who immediately called up the Norwich police who arrested the man and held him for Officer Lamphere who went to Norwich and had him presented before Justice of the Peace Oscar E. Church this afternoon. The man testified that his name was Richard W. Hovey of Oakley Country club of Watertown, Mass., and he is a buyer for a Boston house and was on his way to Norwich on business and when he went by the Uncasville four corners he thought he heard a whistle but when he looked back he didn't see any officer and thought it was a small boy with a toy whistle. He was found guilty by the judge who fined him $5 and costs for passing an intersection without reducing speed.

DOROTHEA TUCKER GIBSON PLAYS AT OHIO CONCERT

Mrs. H. Wayne Gibson (Dorothea C. Tucker) played in a two-piano number Wednesday evening last, at Westerville, Ohio, during National Music Week, for the Hauby Music club, of which she is a member. The club is founded in memory of Hauby, who wrote "Darling Nellie Gray." Mrs. Gibson played with Miss Grace Cometet at the other piano, the latter being a graduate of Oberlin college organ school.

Mrs. Gibson is the daughter of Mrs. G. C. Tucker, of School street, Norwich, is a former talented Norwich organist and was a well known student of Norwich Art school.

WILL SPEND TWO MONTHS VACATION IN EUROPE

Peter Wrona, owner and manager of the Sachem Provision Co., sails Wednesday of this week on the S. S. Ile de France, for a two months' vacation in Europe. Mr. Wrona plans to visit France, Germany and Poland. On Saturday evening he was host to a farewell party given for his employes and was presented a wardrobe steamer trunk. He will carry with him on his trip a wealth of wishes from a host of friends throughout eastern Connecticut.

C. F. Noyes On Tax Committee.

Charles F. Noyes, president of the Charles F. Noyes Co., Inc., of New York city is included in the seven appointive members of the mayor's executive committee on taxation. Peter Grimm, president of the real estate board of New York, and chairman of the committee, believes that it will make recommendations which, when put into effect, will give the city of New York the most modern and efficient system of taxation of any city in the country.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS ASSEMBLE FOR CONVENTION

White Cross council, No. 13, gave an enjoyable dance Monday evening at the Wauregan hotel for the delegates here for the state convention of the Knights of Columbus, which opens this (Tuesday) morning.

The hotel ballroom was prettily decorated with southern smilax intertwined with ribbons of blue and gold, the colors of the order, and about 150 couples enjoyed the programme furnished by Egan's orchestra. Maurice Buckley, Louis Grover, William Shannon, John Kelly and John Burns were the committee in charge of the dance arrangements.

During the afternoon the delegates were given automobile rides to points of interest about the city. By request of the chamber of commerce secretary, the merchants displayed sidewalk flags and will continue the display today (Tuesday).

WM. J. MULLIGAN

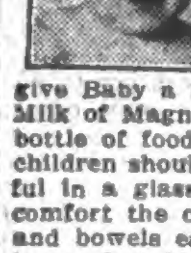
George Warren Potter, Scout Executive John Sellman and Scoutmaster Collins of Troop 12, gave talks on the Jamboree.



WHEN A CHILD IS FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract.

When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, colds, children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting.

Learn its many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book "Useful Information." Address The Phillips Co., 117 Hudson St., New York, N. Y. It will be sent FREE.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.

She Lost 19 Pounds of Fat In 27 Days

During October a woman in Montana wrote — "My first bottle of Kruschen Salts lasted almost 4 weeks and during that time I lost 19 pounds of fat—Kruschen is all you claim for it—I feel better than I have for years."

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat."—Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts is carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "That Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

TWELVE AMERICAN WOMEN GOLFERS SURVIVE IN BRITISH TOURNEY PLAY

FORMBY, England, May 12—(AP)—An even dozen American women golfers, including the so-called "big four," Glenna Collett, Helen Hicks, Maureen Orcutt and Virginia Van Wie, today survived the tremulous first day of the British women's championship.

The day's events halved the record field of 128 starters and tomorrow the list will be cut to 32.

In almost ideal weather conditions for this windy Lancashire coast the pairs trailed over the big sand dunes and through the forest of firs skirting the Irish sea.

The 12 Americans winning today included: Misses Collette, Hicks, Orcutt, Van Wie, Mrs. O. S. Hill, Miss Louise Fordyce, Miss Fritzie Stifel, Miss Peggy Wattles, Miss Edith Quier, Mrs. R. F. Lenihan, Mrs. Leo Federman, Mrs. Stewart Hanley.

Nine were defeated, Miss Bernice Wall, Miss Josephine Bender, Miss Marion Bennett, Mrs. H. A. Martelle, Mrs. E. A. Ross, Mrs. I. J. Morris, Miss Rosalie Knapp, Mrs. Lee Mida and Miss Virginia Holzderber.

Miss Collette, the champion of the United States, played the best golf contributed by the American, although her opposition from Miss Kitty Beard, who last week won the Derbyshire championship, was negligible.

Miss Collett won without losing a hole and throughout had her ball under control both from woods and irons while on the green she displayed a deft putting touch.

One of England's chief hopes, Miss Enid Wilson, won by the same margin established by Miss Collette, eight and six to play, and her score of 36 for the first nine holes was the best of the day. The American title holder's score for the outward journey was 37, the total required by Miss Molly Gourlay, English native champion, for the same distance. If Misses Collett and Gourlay escape tomorrow's pitfalls they will meet Wednesday morning.

Miss Gourlay's match was one of three stern battles during the day, the others being the victory of Miss Helen Hicks over Miss Doris Chambers and the defeat of Mrs. Lee Mida by Miss Barbara Millar.

Miss Gourlay met unexpected strength from Miss Anne Mellor of Boston.

Though Miss Mellor seldom uses her mashie today she wielded the others so efficiently she stuck close to the English champion until the turn and then dropped three holes in a row.

Miss Hicks and Mrs. Mida showed fine fighting spirit, Miss Hicks to win from one of Britain's leading players, Miss Doris Chambers, three and one, after being three down, and Mrs. Mida to launch an equally brave but vain comeback to square her match at the eighteenth after being four down at the 12th, only to lose at the extra hole to Miss Millar.

Miss Hicks showed power to conquer the Formby fairways but lacked control of her heavy artillery. Until after the turn Miss Chambers never gave her a chance and the American was 2 down at the 9th.

Mrs. Hill added another sturdily fought match to the American column.

Miss Orcutt, continuing the fine game she has displayed since she landed in England, won easily while Miss Van Wie met a very weak opponent.

Miss Bennett's defeat by Mrs. Herbert Guedalla was something of a surprise although Mrs. Guedalla, the former Edith Leitch, is one of Britain's ranking players.

Mrs. Federman, Mrs. Lenihan and Misses Quier, Fordyce, Wattles and Stifel all won easily.

HOLY NAME SCORES 14 RUNS IN THIRD INNING

The Holy Name Society nine had plenty of batting practice in their game with the Baltic S. A. C., Jrs., trouncing them to the tune of 36 to 4. The contest was played Sunday afternoon at Jewett City. The winners scored in every inning and in the third batted around twice to score 14 times. Dutremble pitched for Baltic, while Liberty and Wolkosky twirled for Jewett City. Pizzo led the hitting attack for the winners with five out of six. Several men contributed three-base hits. The score:

GOSLIN'S WORK AT BAT HELPS NATS TROUNCE SOX

WASHINGTON, May 12—(AP)—Bob Burke held the White Sox to five hits while the Senators collected 15 off the combined offerings of Welland and Blankenship to give Washington a 13 to 2 victory.

Every player on the Washington team got a hit except Burke and Tate. Goose Goslin with two doubles and a single for four times at bat lead the onslaught. Sam Rice kept his record intact by hitting safely in his 23rd game in a row. The score:

PIPGRAS PITCHES 3-HIT GAME AS YANKS TRIUMPH

NEW YORK, May 12—(AP)—Timely hitting back of three-hit pitching by George Pipgras gave the New York Yankees a 7 to 0 victory over the Detroit Tigers today. The triumph was the Yankees third in the current four-game series.

While Pipgras was blanking the Tigers, the Yanks led by Gehrig, got to Whitehill and Page for 11 safeties. Lou hit his fifth home run of the season in the sixth while Babe Ruth reached first base for his fifteenth consecutive time only to be stopped by Page on his sixteenth trip to the plate.

The victory and the cracking of the Red Sox five game winning streak by the Browns shoved the Yankees into fourth position. The score:

ATHLETICS HIT HARD TO WIN OVER CLEVELAND

PHILADELPHIA, May 12—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics today defeated the Cleveland Indians by a score of 13 to 7 and won the series with Cleveland by three games to one.

The Mackmen gave Clint Brown, sensational rookie pitcher, his first beating of the season when they clubbed him for five runs in the second inning and knocked him out of the box. In the next inning they pounded Milt Shoffner for three runs by combining three hits and a couple of passes, while Umpire Owens was calling three balks on the youngster.

George Earnshaw, who started for the Athletics, was knocked out of the box with a five run attack of the Indians in the sixth. In this inning Umpire Owens called two balks on Earnshaw, Jack Quinn finishing the inning and game. The score:

LISENBEE WEAKENS IN NINTH AND BROWNS WIN

BOSTON, May 12—(AP)—It took the St. Louis Browns ten innings to halt the winning streak of the galloping Red Sox today, the westerners winning the last game of the series, 3 to 2. Heinie Wagner's boys had won five games in a row and Lisenbee seemed bent on making it six until the St. Louis bats began to rattle in the tenth.

The winning run was scored on Blue's single, Manush's double and Kress' sacrifice fly. Previous to this Lisenbee had held the Browns to four hits. Sweeney collected a home off Collins in the secon dwith one on. This, without field catches by Badgro and Scarritt, proved the feature. The score:

TWO TIED FOR MEDAL HONORS AT GREENSBORO

SEDGEFIELD COUNTRY CLUB, Greensboro, N. C., May 12—(AP)—A champion and a former champion played brilliant golf here today to lead a field of sixty in the qualifying round of the Southern Women's Golf tournament.

Miss Margaret Maddox of Atlanta, the defending titleholder, and Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake of New Orleans and New York, who won the championship in 1928, each turned in a sparklin 79 over the sporty Valley Brook course to tie for the medal and make a play-off necessary later in the week.

MEETING OF INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE MANAGERS CALLED

A meeting of managers of all teams interested in entering this year's industrial league has been called for Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. It will be held in the Recreation commission room on the third floor of the city hall.

The commission is again sponsoring this popular feature this year, for the fourth season and hopes to again put it over in a big way.

RECORDS TREMBLE IN CUBS-GIANTS SLUGFEST

CHICAGO, May 11—(AP)—Baseball record of years standing trembled today as the New York Giants slugged out a 14 to 12 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The Cubs equalled the record made by Pittsburgh in 1894, when they clubbed out four home runs in the seventh inning. Heathcote, Beck, Wilson and Grimm hit for circuit drives during the wild inning, the first two getting their second homers of the game.

The nine home runs collected by the two teams fell one short of the record set by the Cardinals and Phillies in 1923. The Cubs also lacked one home run of equalling the record made by one team in a game, when they clubbed out their six circuit drives. Leach, Ott and Benton contributed the Giants' four-base hits.

After collecting six runs in the second and seven more in the third, the Giants had what appeared to be a safe lead. The Cubs came back strong, however, scoring in each of the last five innings and driving Larry Benton from the box with the home run attack in the seventh. The score:

CINCINNATI SCORES 7 TO 6 VICTORY OVER PHILLIES

CINCINNATI, May 12—(AP)—After tying the score in the eighth on a double by Klein and a single by Whitney, Philadelphia lost to the Reds today in the same half of the inning on Sukeforth's triple and Allen's sacrifice, by the score of 6 to 7. Evar Swanson, the Reds young fleet-footed outfielder, who has been suffering from a sore arm, played his first full game of the year and showed he still was a threat on the bases by stealing second. Meusel and Allen hit home runs over the left field fence. The Reds have won nine o ftheir last 12 games and are above the .500 mark for the first time this season.

CHRISTNER OUTPOINTS McCARTHY

BOSTON, May 12—(AP)—Meyer "K. O." Christner, Akron's fighting tireworker, tonight out-pointed Pat McCarthy of Boston by a wide margin in the Boston Garden's 10-round feature bout. Christner was the aggressor in every round and his wide hooks to the head and body gave him the honors in eight of the ten sessions.

McCarthy was over-cautious and his refusals to mix with the rugged Christner made the battle a tame affair in spots. The Boston boy was unable to escape many of Christner's punishing blows and he was in distress several times. Late in the bout Christner tried to batter his opponent down for the count but the latter managed to keep out of the range of the Ohioan's wild fists.

The heaviest fighting of the bout came in the fifth round, when McCarthy landed hard on Christner's jaw with a left hook. Meyer evened matters by landing a hard right to McCarthy's head and then almost crumpled him with a savage right to the body. McCarthy had a slight lead in the eighth and ninth but all of the other rounds went to Christner by decisive margins.

Gets Unpopular Decision

BOSTON, May 12—(AP)—Joe Monte, Brockton heavyweight was awarded an unpopular decision over Al Friedman of Boston, at the end of one of the most savage ring battles ever staged in this city. Friedman weighed 183 and Monte 185.

Melore Kayoes Pisano

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 12—(AP)—Tony Melore, Jersey City lightweight, knocked out Auguie Pisano, veteran New Yorker, in the second round of a ten round bout opening the outdoor season here tonight. Pisano was floored three times before Melore put over the knockout punch.

ACADEMY TENNIS MEN LOSE TO ASSUMPTION COL.

Playing out of their class the Academy tennis team was defeated by Assumption college at Worcester Saturday, the score being 6 to 1. Capt. Spiro played an excellent game for the Academy, carrying the number 1 college man to three sets before losing and together with Moody in the doubles won the only match for N F. A. Moody, number 2 N. F. A. player, played a nice game in doubles and lost his singles match after a hard fight.

As the Academy played without Alexander and Keckenstein, the regular 3 and 4 men, and as Assumption nearly beat Harvard's varsity recently, the Academy boys are not discouraged and look for wins in this week's matches with Warren Harding at Bridgeport and St. Thomas seminary at Hartford on Thursday and Friday, respectively.

The scores are as follows:

Singles

Como, Ass., won from Epiro, N. F. A., 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Doufour, Ass., won from Moody, N. F. A., 6-3, 6-1.

Riendeau, Ass., won from Tingley, N. F. A., 6-3, 6-1.

Bourgeault, Ass., won from Morse, N. F. A., 6-0, 6-4.

Degrenier, Ass., won from Robbins, N. F. A., 6-0, 6-0.

ACADEMY —TECH GAME SHIFTED TO THURSDAY

The Academy-Chapman Tech baseball game, originally scheduled for Wednesday at New London, will probably be played on Thursday. Announcement of the shift in dates was made Monday by Coach Brigham of the Wildcats after a conference with Coach Conway of Tech.

It appears that the New London school mixed up its league dates so that the Academy was scheduled for May 27, which is two weeks from today. Deep River has been listed for Wednesday so that the next available day, Thursday, was set for the N. F. A. tilt.

The game may have to be played at Morgan park instead of Mercer field, it was also said. Final arrangements for the shifting of the contest will be made either today or tomorrow.

This leaves the Academy with a game two days before its first tilt with Bulkeley but should not prove any handicap as the locals are well fortified with two first-class pitchers. Tech may be at a disadvantage for besides Deep River and N. F. A. this week, they have Westerly listed for Saturday. This, however, will give Capt. Hewitt an extra day's rest after his work in the Bulkeley game last Saturday.

Bud Fontaine, regular catcher, returned to the lineup in Monday's practice after being forced out of the Windham game with an injured shoulder. A practice game between the first and second teams occupied the attention of the squad most of the afternoon.

WAUREGAN WINS FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON

Wauregan clashed with North Grosvenordale Sunday afternoon at Wauregan in its opening game, and won by a 7 to 2 score. Lavalle, hurling for the winners, deserved a shut-out, but for two errors. The losing pitcher, Hebert, weakened in the sixth inning and Wauregan scored five runs. Pellerin was the heavy hitter for the winners, getting three out of four.

The first games in the twilight league are to be played this week. The members of the league are Moosup, Sterling, Plainfield and Wauregan. Moosup was champion of the league last year with Wauregan runners up. The score:

THREE-DAYS MANEUVER AT FORT H. G. WRIGHT

Fort H. G. Wright on Fisher's Island, will have an important part in a three-days maneuver designed to test the defenses of Long Island, scheduled to start on May 26. Most of the light cruisers now in New York, 18 destroyers, and three squadrons of airplanes will constitute the attacking force, which will attempt to elude six submarines and two mine sweepers, forming the offshore scouting craft of the Blue forces, and approach within range of Fort Wright and Fort Adams at Newport, R. I.

The shore will be defended by "mined" areas, which the Black or attacking force must avoid to escape destruction. These areas will be planted with theoretical mines having electrical connection with the shore, and the course of Black ships passing through the "mine field" will be plotted by the defenders and "mines" exploded as ships pass over them.

The shore scouting force will lay off Newport and New London, and attempt to give warning of the approach of the enemy fleet, after detecting it with its mechanical "ears." Word will then be flashed to shore and a general alarm sent to all forts in the district.

The second phase of the problem will be an aerial attack on the defenses of Long Island Sound by squadrons from the Wright and Sandpiper, and the final phase an attack on New London, the navy's east coast submarine base.

The object of the maneuver is to give the army detachments at the forts an opportunity to obtain training in the use of their sound ranging instruments, and to test the communication system of the Sound defenses. Detachments will be sent from Fort Wright to Forts Terry and Michie, now manned only by caretakers, in order to complete the communications system and man the fire-control devices used to obtain the range, course and speed of enemy ships.

A number of national guard officers from Boston, and possibly some from this state are expected to attend the maneuvers.

CENSUS COMPLETED IN ELEVEN TOWNS OF COUNTY

To date the census in 11 towns in New London county has been tabulated and announced. These towns are in the more remote sections of the county in most instances, and in several cases the figures show a decrease in population. The towns which have been tabulated, showing the census in 1920 andi n 1930, are as follows:

	1920	1930
Bozrah	658	449
Colchester	2,050	2,121
Franklin	552	400
Ledyard	1,161	1,143
Lisbon	867	697
Lyme	674	540
North Stonington	1,144	1,135
Preston	2,743	2,928
Salem	424	404
Sprague	2,560	2,626
Voluntown	656	601

Figures for Norwich have not yet been announced and it is stated from the census supervisor's office at Willimantic that it will be several days yet before the census enumeration is completed in New London, Groton, Noank, Mystic, Waterford and Niantic.

WILLIMANTIC MAN'S HORSE KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 12.—David Pachinsky, Bricktop hill farmer, is in St. Joseph's hospital with a painful cut on the head and the bay mare which he was driving was almost instantly killed in an accident at Windham Center village this evening, in which the team was struck by a Reo coupe, driven by Edward C. Ackley of South Park street, this city. Ackley, who was arrested on a charge of reckless driving, claimed that there was no light on the team and that his vision was blinded by the headlights of an automobile driven by Mrs. Miriam B. Abbe of South Windham, which was parked on the left of the highway.

On the strength of Ackley's assertions, the woman was arrested for parking on the left of the highway and Pachinsky is charged with failure to display a light on his team. The horse, which sustained a severe cut across the throat, was dragged with the wagon about 50 feet. The accident was investigated by State Policemen Michael J. Murphy and Charles Hill of the Stafford Springs barracks.

NORTH CAROLINA MAN DRIVING WITHOUT LICENSE

James B. McKinney, 22, of Asheville, N. C., was arrested early Monday evening by Officer Clifford Crary on a charge of driving without a license. He was booked at police headquarters and later released on a bond of $100 for his appearance in the city court this (Tuesday) morning.

Federal and county officials in New York are investigating the charge that a $10,000 bribe had been paid to obtain a permit for a gasoline filling station from the board of standards and appeals.

NEW ACADEMY GYMNASIUM WILL BE COMPLETED BY MIDDLE OF AUGUST

The new gymnasium building at Norwich Free Academy, being constructed by Contractor William S. Spencer, is being pushed along at a rapid rate by the contractor and is expected to be completed by the middle of August. The walls, which are of red brick construction, are to be finished this week, the south wall at the present time being within eight feet of the roof. The two side walls are also very nearly completed, but have not risen as high as the south wall.

The bulk of the limestone, which is to be used in the front of the building and in other parts for trimming purposes, has arrived and is ready to be put in position at almost any time. The material for the roof, known as Lamella, this plates, has also been received by the contractor.

The erection of the building, which is to be known as the Norton Memorial building, came about through a generous gift from Miss Ella M. Norton, a member of the board of incorporators of the Academy, in memory of her father, Henry B. Norton, who was one of those instrumental in the establishment of the school. The structure, which is to be used as a health center, is to be 150 by 73 feet, the front of the building to be occupied by the girls department and the rear by the boys. It will be of two stories.

The main gymnasium, located on the first floor, will be 95x72 feet and is to be divided by a folding partition, 22 feet high, which makes the large room into two gymnasiums, one for the boys and one for the girls. The shower and locker rooms will be located on the second floor while the offices for the instructors will be on the first floor. There will also be space for storage of apparatus.

There has also been considerable work accomplished on the Norwich Inn in charge of Contractors Peck-McWilliams, which is soon to be officially opened and on other building projects in the city. At the office of Acting Fire Marshal Dennis J. Brennan in the central station 12 permits were issued for the past week for new construction work in the city. Included among these permits are two for new houses, one on Broadway and the other on McKinley avenue extension. Two permits are also for two new garages. The remainder of the permits are for additions and alterations.

The following are the permits issued by Acting Fire Marshal Brennan:

To Patrick F. Sweeney to construct a [illegible] house on Broadway for Harry Diachyshyn, the size to be 32x35 feet. The foundation will be of brick and stone and the structure will be of frame construction with wide clapboards on the sides and asphalt shingles on the roof. Tthe interior walls are to be of hard finish plaster and the floors of oak. The estimated cost is $4,000.

To Patrick F. Sweeney to erect a two-story frame house, size 26x35 feet, on McKinley avenue extension for Mrs. Charles Greenman. The mode of construction is identical to that to be followed out in the Diachyshyn structure. The estimated cost is $8,500.

To Ernest DuBruile to construct a frame two-car garage, size 20x20 feet, on Elijah street, for Joseph Dugas. Cement will be used in the foundation and for the floor. The sides will be of novelty siding with asphalt shingles on the roof. The cost is estimated at [illegible].

To Patrick F. Sweeney to build a frame two-car garage on McKinley avenue extension for Mrs. Charles Greenman. There will be a stone and brick foundation with the sides in wide clapboards and the roof of asphalt shingles. The estimated cost is $655 and the size of the building 20x20 feet.

To Patrick F. Sweeney to make alterations on the present brick building at No. 12 Bath street for Frank E. [illegible]. The front of the structure will be removed and a new one will be installed. Two new plate glass windows, size 6x7 feet, will be put in and a steel girder erected across the opening. A new door, size 3x7 feet, will also be put in on the side entrance, a new maple floor laid and a new sheetrock ceiling installed. The estimated cost is $1,625.

To Patrick F. Sweeney to alter the present frame house at No. 18 Huntington place for William H. Allen by extending present second floor to put in a bath room. The size of the extension will be 2x8 1-2 feet and will be one-story high. The work will cost approximately $1,000.

To Carl S. Kellner to alter and add on to the present frame house at No. 186 Laurel Hill avenue for himself. A door will be changed to a window and vice versa and a porch, 5x10 feet, will be erected on the rear of the house. The porch will be of cement foundation and of frame construction, with fire-proof shingles on the roof and wood shingles on the sides. The cost is estimated at $30.

To Fowler and Rathbun to alter and add onto present frame house at No. 2 Spring Garden avenue for Mrs. W. H. Woodworth. The present house of one apartment will be changed to a two apartment house and a new sun porch, 10x18 feet, will be put in. A new front stairway will be erected; also new porch stairs with a small entry at the top of the landing. The cost is estimated at $600.

To Mrs. Francis Vars to alter the present frame house at No. 12 Yantic street for herself by putting in two dormer windows, size 3x6 1-2 feet. The cost is estimated at $100.

To Geifand and Loshin to add a veranda onto the present frame house at No. 185 West Main street for Max Blazer. The veranda will be on the second floor and will be 3 1-2 x 16 feet in size. A door, 2x6 feet, will also be put in and several changes will be made to the present veranda. The cost is estimated at $25.

To William Zashut to erect a frame shed, 9x16 feet, at No. 229 Palmer street for himself. The structure will be of frame construction and will cost approximately $50.

To Alexander Keazkiel to add a porch on the present frame house at No. 154 Central avenue for himself. The size of the addition will be 4x14 feet and is to be of frame construction. The cost is estimated at $30.

NEW LONDON

Work on the construction of the Zion Evangelical Lutheran church, to be located at Cedar Grove avenue and Ledyard street, was started this week when much of the excavation work was completed.

The church is to be an attractive structure one and one-half stories high of Colonial design and frame construction with the front entrance in Cedar Grove avenue. It will be 39x79 feet in dimension.

Broad concrete steps will lead to the beautiful Colonial front entrance. The sides will be of Colonial clapboard and the roof will be shingled. On top of the roof will be located a lantern structure with copper sheathing in a sort of belfry effect. The foundation will be of concrete construction up to the ground level and of brick construction to the first floor level.

The basement will contain a large Sunday school room in the center with a platform at one end and a smaller class room on one side. There will also be a large kitchen in the basement with gas range, gas water heater, sink, etc.

The main floor will have a main auditorium, 48x31 feet, in which will be located 84 pews. At the entrance there will be a large lobby and at the far end of the auditorium will be located the chancel with choir rooms on each side, a pulpit and an altar in the rear of the chancel.

Ocean Avenue Residence

One of the most pretentious homes to be built in the city this year is to be erected for Harry Ellon at Ocean avenue and Woodlawn road. The new structure is to be of English design and frame construction and substantial proportions. The front entrance is featured with a heavy oak door with large ornamental iron hinges extending across the entire width and small leaded glass window lights in the top. On the left of the entrance a broad brick chimney is to rise and in keeping with the brick structure the center part of the house will be finished with brick for the first story. On each side of the front door are to be small leaded windows, harmonizing nicely with the leaded windows in the door.

Hospital Heating Plant

The foundations have been completed for the $40,000 new heating plant being erected on the Ocean avenue side of the Lawrence and Memorial Associated hospitals. According to the plans the heating plant will be of concrete, brick and steel construction with a large skylight in the roof. The basement will contain a boiler room 30 by 40 feet, a transformer room for electrical equipment, a pump room which is to be 11 by 20 feet and the coal bins. An underground passage is to run from the basement of the heating plant to the main hospital building.

The first floor will contain a garage 25 by 32 feet with plaster ceiling and concrete floor sloping toward the center. There will also be a chauffeur's room 20 by 10 feet and two toilets, lavatory and shower rooms besides a storage and garbage room.

The exterior will be ornamented with art stone coping and copper gutters and leaders. All windows have steel sash. The H. Wales Lines company, which is completing work on the children's annex to the hospital, has the general contract for the heating plant. Work on the huge brick chimney was practically completed this week.

Waterford Development

The well known estate of David Banks in the Goshen section of Waterford is being divided into building lots as the first step toward the development of the place into a small community of home owners. Dr. Daniel Sullivan has purchased the house and barn and three of the lots of the estate and plans to have the house remodeled for occupancy by himself. Altogether the property will be divided into 59 lots.

Builds Oiling Pit

With warm weather and the expected summer rush coming on, George Marquardt owner of the Bridge Plaza filling station in Groton, is now building a lubrication pit adjoining two others on the north side of his building. The pit is about 14 feet in length and eight feet in width.

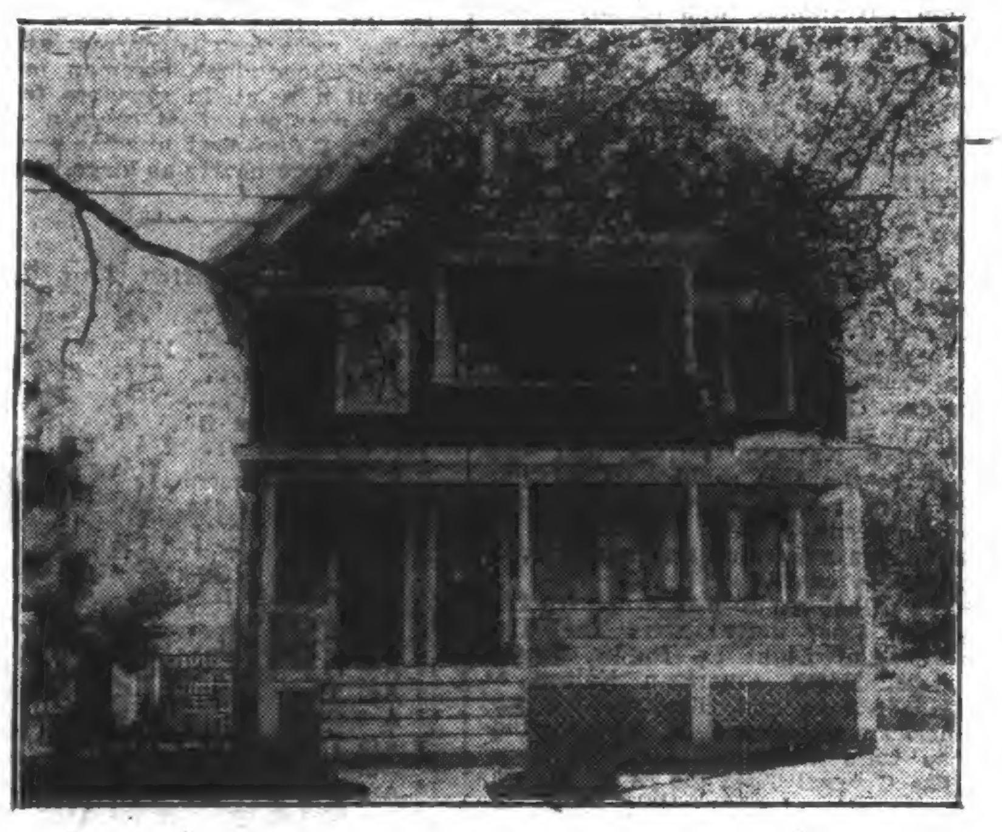
NEW APARTMENT HOUSE ON McKINLEY AVE.



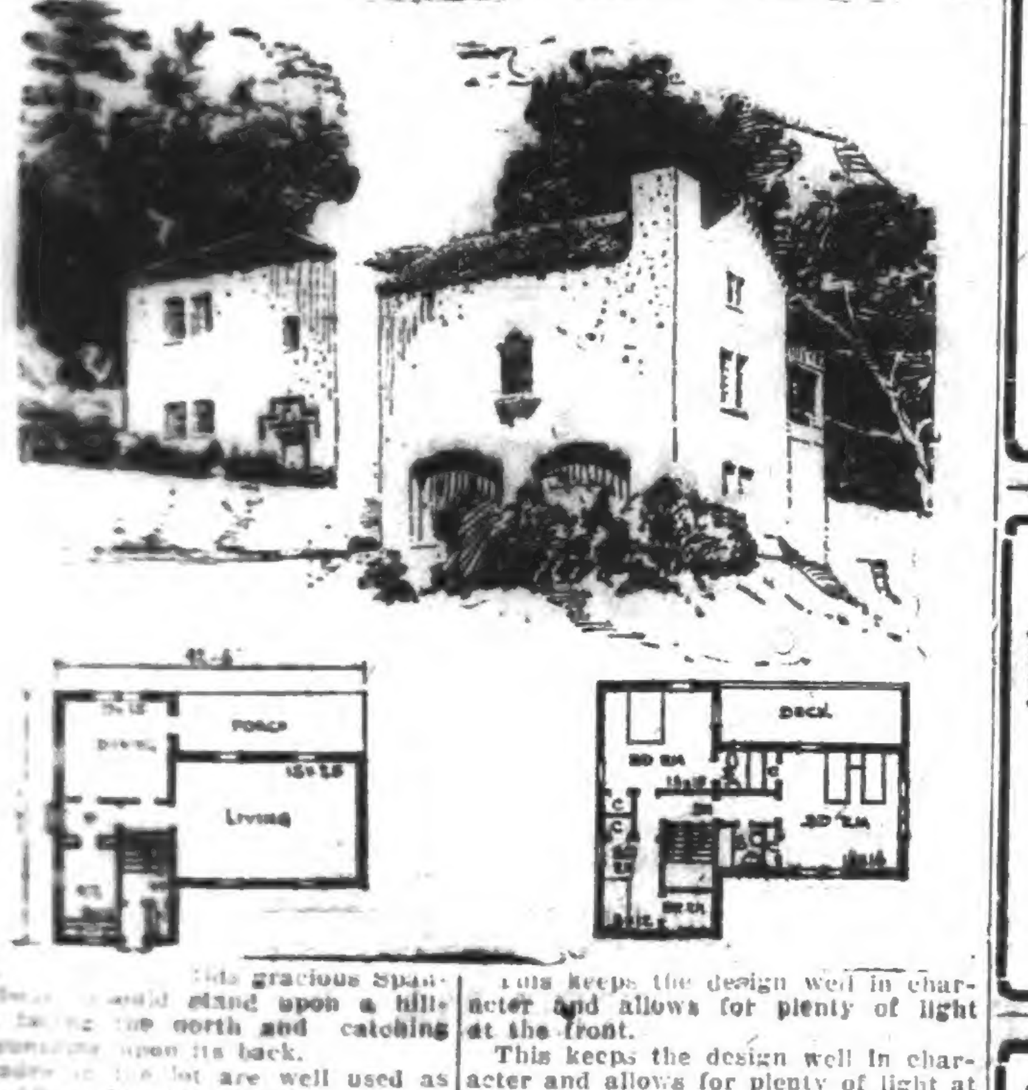
A Plainfield contractor has recently completed a two-apartment house on McKinley avenue, near Broad street, which is pictured above, for Mrs. Margaret Jennings of Hartford. This is one of the most attractive houses in that section of the city and is fitted out with all modern improvements. It is of two and a half stories.

The building is of frame construction with concrete foundation and cement floor in the cellar. The exterior of the structure is in wide clapboards on the first story and brown stained shingles on the second story. There is an attractive veranda at the front of the building and a small cosy veranda on the second story.

There are five rooms and bath to each apartment. The floors are of oak and hard finish plaster is used on the walls in every room with the exception of the kitchen and bath rooms, which are partly of marked off tile.

Each apartment is furnished with an adequate heater and brass piping is used throughout the building.

Spanish Charm of This House Needs Hillside



This gracious Spanish house would stand upon a hillside, facing the north and catching the sunshine upon its back.

Grades in the lot are well used as they allow for the garage to be placed under the living room and porch which faces the rear garden enclosed by a high retaining wall.

This uses every available inch of space and evades the unsightly garage in the back yard and, what is more important, gives space to the garden.

Upon this garden face all the principal rooms in the house—the roomy dining room, the two main bed rooms and the spacious living room with its [illegible] porch.

This type of house reuires a great amount of wall space, but there must be few windows and those which do show must be very small.

This keeps the design well in character and allows for plenty of light at the front.

This keeps the design well in character and allows for plenty of light at the front.

There is opportunity in this house to use splashes of rich color—reds and greens in tile can be used over the front door with a red tile roof, white stucco, black wrought iron at the window over the garage doors, green woodwork for sash and door.

The garage, of course, can be entered from the house, and the driveway concealed by shrubbery.

The size of the lot can be as small as 50 x 100, but it is better to have a larger lot to set the house off with a larger garden.

The cost will vary between $8,000 and $10,000, according to local labor conditions and material prices.

Fire Insurance Stabilizes Credit

Without fire insurance, Credit—the medium and means of business expansion—would be almost wholly curtailed. Through the credit system, with the security afforded by fire insurance, loans are made to aid in building homes, mercantile and manufacturing establishments, and general commercial development. Insurance is indispensable to sound credit.

Without fire insurance, bankers, real estate men, contractors, building and loan organizations, and others who grant credit on future developments would doubtless consider the risks to be taken in making loans too hazardous to contemplate.

Stimulates All Activities

Without fire insurance "modern business," great cities, gigantic construction projects, large production, new sub-divisions to take the cities' overflow, would not have been possible.

Finance and insurance work together in promoting and encouraging the Nation's building activities and in support of the manufacture and distribution of goods, thus assuring continuous and increasing opportunities for employment to workers in all fields.

In the development and support of our great structure of credit, Stock Fire Insurance—as written by the 239 companies constituting the National Board of Fire Underwriters—has carried, and will continue to carry, the major load of the underlying responsibility at a price which on the average has constantly declined for more than twenty years.

LISTLESS SESSION OF MARKET, WITH ADVANTAGE SHIFTING FREQUENTLY

NEW YORK, May 12.—(AP)—Professional stock traders staged an indifferent sparring exhibition in today's market. It was a listless affair throughout, with the advantage shifting frequently but hardly decisively, although the bears, by virtue of a last minute drive on U. S. Steel, slipped away with the decision as numerous prominent issues closed 1 to 4 points lower.

The market was one of the dullest in months, sales totaling only 2,026,000 shares, against last Monday's volume of more than 4,000,000. Trading in the last half hour slightly exceeded 500,000, an unusually small turnover for that interval.

Public interest was at a low ebb. Commission houses have advised their clients to maintain a position of neutrality until the market has definitely shown that the readjustment from the recent shakeout has been completed.

The selling of Steel, which had been strong on Saturday, when the decrease in the backlog of orders was published, was pushed with particular vigor in the last quarter hour, and the stock finished 1 3-8 below the previous. Other market leaders included in the attack were Radio, Westinghouse Electric and General Electric, off moderately in reflection of an expected government suit to test the legality of the new relationship among the three.

The news in the business world was mixed. A slight firming in copper prices carried the metal group higher, and there was increasing inclination to believe that the recent cuts by producers had been a little too severe. Purchases of copper were large at the new price of 13.05 cents for export and 12 3-4 cents for domestic. Some sales of the latter were reported at 12 cents, or 1-2 above the low of last week.

In connection with the stronger tone in copper, came the news that a leading brass producer was advancing prices on rolled and drawn product.

The March operating income of 172 class 1 railroads showed a decline of about $26,000,000 from the total for the same month last year. An official estimate of Chicago & Northwestern's results for last month places the total between $500,000 and $900,000 below May, 1929, with car loadings off about 7 per cent.

Several miscellaneous earnings statements appeared, among them that of Auburn Auto, which showed 55 cents a share for the first quarter against $1.94 in the same 1929 period. The stock reacted 10 points on the news, but finished only 3 1-4 lower. International Nickel earned at the rate of 28 cents a share in the quarter, compared with 36 cents a year ago, but the report had little effect on the share quotations.

Manhattan Electrical Supply dropped to within a fraction of its low, but recovered for a 4-point net advance on publication of a favorable financial statement. Celotex, against which a receivership petition has been filed, met with considerable selling, especially in the late dealings, and dropped 8 points, but nearly halved this loss.

Grain prices strengthened. Wheat closed 5-8 to 1 1-2 cents higher and corn moved up 3-8 to 1 1-8 cents. Cotton was steady. May sugar touched another new low and closed easy.

Foreign exchanges were dull and featureless.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, May 12.—(AP)—Bond sales shrank today to the smallest volume for a full trading session since the dormant January period as traders' support was diverted by new issues. Prices were steady. Sales for the unusually quiet session totaled $8,122,000 par value.

The $50,000,000 5 1-2 issue of Japanese government was readily taken. In addition, the New England Gas association offered $20,000,000 in convertible 5 1-4 per cent debentures at 91. The new Japanese bonds, which are expected to strengthen yen exchange, moved quickly to traders' shelves but only five were sold on the New York Stock exchange; those at 90 1-8, or 1-8 above the offering price.

Some of the railroad issues, both prime and second grade, were moderately active but the price range held to narrow limits. Several softened at the close after holding firm through the day. Galveston, Houston and Henderson 5s, Denver, Rio Grande 5s, Canadian National 4 1-2s, and Erie 5s, were the best performers, advancing from 3-8 to more than a point. Pennsylvania 4 3-4s, St. Paul 5s, St. Louis, San Francisco 4 1-2s and Union Pacific 4s sagged.

The utility group was firm with thin sales. Most active were the Utah Power and Light 5s, Public Service 4 1-2s, North American Edison 5s, Colorado Gas and Electric 5s, and American Telephone 5s. The fluctuations were narrow.

The General Theatres 6s of '44, was the sensational convertible issue, the day's movement netting a gain of 2 7-8. American Telephone 4 1-2s showed considerable activity but eased at the close to lose 1 1-2 points.

The demand for United States governments continued only fair. Gains of from 1 to 6-32nds resulted.

The foreign group was firm. South American bonds were unusually strong, various Brazil, Bolivia and Peru gaining 1 and 2 points.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, May 12.—(AP)—Buoyancy developed in wheat values today as the result of a huge decrease of the domestic visible supply and because of possible frost damage west. A falling off of 6,548,000 bushels in the United States total stock of wheat in sight, was announced, showing much faster rate of disappearance of supplies than was the case either a week or a year ago. Recent heavy absorption of wheat by farm board allies was ascribed as a contributing reason for tightening up of values to the highest point in some time.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm at nearly the day's top level, 5-8a 1 3-4c above Saturday's finish. Corn closed 7-8a1 3-4c up, oats 1-4a5-8c advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5c.

Commission houses were mostly on the buying side of the provision market, notwithstanding downturns in the value of hogs.

Treasury Balance.

WASHINGTON, May 12—(AP)—Treasury receipts for May 9 were $4,379,907.24; expenditures $11,765,793.69; balance $107,767,764.10.

THE CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, May 12.—(AP)—Curb market shares fluctuated uncertainly in apathetic trading today. A few specialties were bid moderately higher, and the utilities were fairly firm for a time, but the market turned mildly reactionary in the last hour, and several of the more active utility shares closed a point or two lower. Total sales aggregated 811,500 shares.

Such issues as Electric Bond and Share, American Light and Traction new, American Superpower, United Gas new, and American Gas and Electric closed about 1 to 2 points off. United Light A was fairly steady, closing off a fraction. Selling of the Electric Bond and Share group was largely in the nature of profit taking on the advances of Saturday. Consolidated Gas of Baltimore was a firm feature rising 5 points to a new 1930 high.

Among the high priced industrials Aluminum Co. sold up 15 points in a few sales. Among the lower priced specialties Cuneo Press and Ulen & Co mounted more than 2 points each to new high levels for the year. Libbey McNeil, Driver Harris, and Swift International made similar advances, the last named duplicating the year's best figure. In the aviation group, Bellanca mounted further into new 1930 high ground, and New York, Rio and Buenos Aries was firm, but Fokker lost a couple of points, and Aviation Corp of the Americas eased. American Hard Rubber was a soft spot, dropping 6 points in a few sales.

Mines showed only moderate response to the firming copper prices. Newmont sold up a couple of points, then lost some of its gain. Noranda closed fractionally lower. Oils were largely dull but Cities Service sold up about a point in fairly active trading. Vacuum gained as much, and Standard of Ohio mounted 2 points.

In the investment trusts, price changes were largely narrow and irregular. Shenandoah common mounted about a point, in response to first quarter earnings of 44 cents a share, but Blue Ridge, first quarter earnings of which were nearly as large, closed a shade lower.

MASONS AT HARTFORD FOR GRAND CHAPTER SESSION

Francis M. Johnson, high priest; Carl F. W. Anderson, king, and Herbert E. Sisson, scribe, members of Palmer chapter, No. 28, Royal Arch Masons of Pawcatuck, left Westerly Monday for Hartford to attend a preliminary session of the Grand chapter, R. A. M. of Conn., in the Masonic temple where they witnessed an exemplification of the past master degree by Hartford chapter officers. Today (Tuesday) they will attend the 132nd annual convocation of the Grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons to be held in the Masonic temple with dinner at the Bond hotel. High Priest Johnson remains to join this evening the annual grand convention of annointed high priests of Connecticut. Also present in Hartford from Westerly is Past Grand High Priest Arthur N. Nash, a member of the Grand chapter committee on jurisprudence.

May 10, Margaret Pengelley transferred to Philip J. Butten, of Mystic, land near Weekapaug, bounded northeasterly by a passway, southwesterly by lands of Edward E. Bradley, southwesterly by Winnapaug pond and northwesterly by land of Margaret A. Raub.

Sent To Jail

Dennis Spellman of Westerly was before Judge William A. Wilcox in a special session of Stonington town court Monday morning, charged with breach of the peace. He was arrested in Pawcatuck Sunday morning when quarrelsome from over-indulgence in strong drink, declared that he would kill George P. Cella of Pawcatuck. The latter appearing in court as a witness. The defendant had nothing to say in his own behalf and was sentenced to 15 days in New London county jail. Clerk A. G. Mar[illegible] issued a mittimus and Officer [illegible] Shortman made the commitment. Costs in the case amounted to [illegible].

Early Sunday morning three persons were injured in an automobile accident on the Voluntown road. The party was returning from a wedding, and planned to spend the day at the home of Arthur Amondeau on the West Side. The injured were Mrs. Herminia LeClair, 47, of 14 Terrace drive, Easthampton, Mass.; her husband, Hormitos LeClair, 60, and Mrs. Frank Roberts, 43, of 59 Greenwood street, Springfield, Mass. Frank Roberts, the driver of the machine, escaped injury. Roberts claimed he was driven off the highway by an oncoming machine. All the injured sustained scalp wounds and were brought to the office of Dr. M. H. Scanlon for treatment.

Hospital Visiting Day

Monday was National Hospital Visiting day and was observed by the Westerly hospital, which was open to the public from 2 to 5. Hundreds of visitors inspected the institution. The reception committee of the Hospital Aid society, under the direction of Mrs. Wells R. Fowler, showed the guests about the place. The beautiful floral decorations were arranged by a committee in charge of Mrs. Rogers E. Trainer.

Gen. Cyrus S. Radford and Mrs. Radford, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Margaret Lewis Radford, to Norman Van Pelt Levis, Jr., son of Rev. Dr. Norman Van Pelt Levis and Mrs. Levis of Philadelphia, Pa. Rev. Dr. Levis was formerly rector of Christ Episcopal church here.

OBITUARY

Mrs. J. B. Botsford

Word has been received here of the death of Lillian C. Dow, wife of Prof. J. Barrett Botsford of Brown university, at Los Angeles, Cal. She was a former Westerly resident, her father, Robert Dow, having been owner and operator of the Solway mills on Main street about 20 years ago. After leaving Westerly the family went to Pawtucket. Besides her parents and husband, she leaves a son, Robert M. Botsford, and a daughter, Marjorie E. Botsford.

Cruickshank—Carr

Miss Allison Mae Carr, youngest daughter of Mrs. Mary J. Coon, of High street, Ashaway, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, was united in marriage with William Emslie Cruickshank, son of Stuart Cruickshank of Bradford, R. I. The ceremony at the home of the bride's mother, was performed by Rev. Luther G. Coburn, pastor of the Congregational church. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Fred Johnson, and the best man was Alan Cruickshank, brother of the groom. The bride, who entered the room walking with her brother-in-law, Fred Johnson, was gowned in light green silk with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and baby's breath. The bridesmaid wore blue silk with a blonde hat and carried pink roses and baby's breath. Preceding the ceremony Miss Elsie Maine sang "At Dawning" and the Bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" was played by Miss Mary Partelo. The decorating was done by Mrs. Peter Pinardi. Following the ceremony ice cream, wafers and punch were served the the 45 guests. The gifts of the bride to the bridesmaid and pianist were crystal necklaces and to Miss Maine a silver compact. The gift of the groom to the best man was a gold piece. Mr. and Mrs. Cruickshank left for an automobile trip to New Hampshire after which they will be at home in their newly furnished apartment on Bowling Lane, Bradford. The bride's traveling costume consisted of a tan dress with hat to match and a brown coat. The bride received many gifts, including a beautiful floor lamp from the boys and girls of Plant A finishing room of the B. D. A., where Mr. Cruickshank is overseer.

OBITUARY

Mrs. James Kenyon

On Monday Mrs. Ellen Evans Kingston, 79, of Carolina, R. I., wife of James Kenyon, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Brown, in Mystic. She had been in failing health health for sometime and had gone to the home of her daughter about a month ago. Born in Cardiss, Wales, in 1850, the daughter of William and Mary Evans, Mrs. Kingston came to this country in 1875. She has lived since 1893 in Carolina where Mr. Kingston has been employed as a watchman of the Carolina mill and as janitor of the public schools. He is now retired. She leaves besides her husband four daughters Mrs. Cyrus C. Kenyon, West Kingston; Mrs. Ray Kenyon, Carolina; Mrs. Frank Brown, Mystic, and Mrs. Walter Blake, New London; also eleven grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

Tupper—Barrett

In Westerly Saturday, Raymond Charles Tupper and Miss Evangeline Louis Barret, both of Westerly, were united in marriage by Rev. Luther G. Coburn, pastor of the Pawcatuck Congregational church.

Raymond E. Mullaney returned to his duties in Providence Monday morning.

John R. Bowman, Jr., superintendent of Norwich water board, and deputy sheriff-elect, was a business caller in Westerly Monday.

Chief of Police Thomas E. Brown has returned from a business trip to New York. In his absence Lieut. George H. Champlin has been acting chief of police.

Walter R. Thoma of Prospect-park was a business caller in Westerly Monday to meet associate from Providence.

J. F. Bradley of Valley Falls was in Westerly Monday to see Capt. Allan Thompson, with whom he signed in 1920 at Genoa, Italy, while both were in the service of the Cosmopolitan line of steamships. Capt. Thompson is now a patient at the Marine hospital, Baltimore, Md., for an eye affliction.

Chief of Police Michael Finn of Cumberland, R. I., was in Westerly Monday, calling on Chief Thomas E. Brown.

COUNCIL DENIES PERMIT TO PAUL PIERCE AND WIFE

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, R. I., May 12.—At a special town council meeting Monday evening with all members present, A. P. Gencarelle, manager of the Hilltop baseball team, was voted a license to hold Sunday baseball on the Bradford road, near Westerly town farm, from May 1 to Oct. 20, inclusive. Kenyon Ricci, manager of the Bradford Cleaners' club baseball team, was granted a permit to hold Sunday baseball games on Sundays on the Bradford athletic field in Bradford.

The council took up the petition of Paul W. Pierce and wife, for an extension of a business area along the Post road, from the Bradford road, a distance of 3x1225 feet westerly. In opposition there were filed two protests which were read to the council, that of Sheffield Greene, who protested the extension on the north side along his property and that of Edward M. Greene, on the southerly side of the Boston Post road. After a discussion, on motion of John Monti, to grant the permit, seconded by Archie Meikle, these councilmen, with Councilman Frazer voted yes, Councilmen Smith, Broughton and Naccarata voted no. Council President Burdick declared the motion lost, since a 5-7 vote was necessary to carry.

..President Burdick remarked: "I think you make a mistake! It is too bad to prevent a man from gaining his living." Opponents have opportunity for opposition. One man asked for a permit and got what he wanted. Here is another man asking and he does not receive it. It is dead wrong! Some of the councilmen come here and vote against their own proposition and I can't understand why!"

He inquired: "Are you willing to go back to the first proposition in the first petition of Mr. Pierce? I can't understand any such business. You are only making trouble and will eventually do away with zoning. A man should be given an opportunity to live." Mr. Burdick handed Council Clerk Whipple a newspaper clipping in which the Boston Post road in the town of Warwick, R. I., was declared to be a business area.

Councilman Monti said the price paid for property at Dunn's Corners showed a tendency toward a business location on the Post road. Referring to the first petition of Mr. Pierce, Councilman Broughton said that the old one had been cast aside when the second petition was received but the council records showed the matter continued. Councilman Smith moved that the first petition be denied, seconded by Councilman Broughton and stood yes, Broughton, Smith and Naccarata; no, Monti and Meikle.

President Burdick remarked: "You are following along the line of your previous work in taking advantage of the absence of Councilman Fraser, (who had left the council chamber for a short time.) At this point Paul W. Pierce presented a third petition, asking for a more restricted area on the Woody Hill road at the Boston Post road, a block 200 feet square on each side, on the north side of the Boston Post road and on the south side a corresponding block, 437 feet long and 200 feet deep.

Councilman Smith then moved that a copy of the petition be forwarded to the Westerly zoning board and it was so voted.

With the exception of the west side of Beech street, the council voted new building lines as follows: In amendment of two zoning laws: On Pleasant street, both sides, from Canal street to Pierce street, 25 feet from center road line; on Pleasant street, from Pierce street to top of hill, 30 feet from center line; Pierce streets, for its whole length, 35 feet from center line and on the east side of Beech street, from Main street to north line of Litman property, 30 feet and a section along Elm street, five feet back from street line at the triangular plot at the junction of Beech and Elm streets. Action on the west side of Beech street will come up at a special meeting to be held June 9, at which time the third petition of Mr. Pierce will be heard.

Building Inspector Thomas Willis asked for a special exception to building code on the property of the estate of O. Stillman for the Vars brothers store.

Town Solicitor John Ferguson reported that Joseph W. Homan, who had come into receipt of a legacy, had paid back to the town the sum of $1,186.48, which the town had extended for care of himself and wife. After discussion the council voted to have the amount returned to the town treasury and directed the town clerk to express the appreciation of the councilmen to Mr. Homan for this generous payment by him.

A dancing permit was granted Holden P. Ballou for the Atlantic beach casino from May 1 to Oct. 1 and victualizing licenses to W. M. Green and B. Green, F. C. Turco and Holden P. Ballou. A communication was received from the American Federation of Labor, signed by Edwin L. Sawyer and Joseph Gervasini, a committee on legislation, calling attention to a town vote not being carried out in which on all town contracts specification should be made as wages, and hours should be the same as in Westerly and that Westerly taxpayers and citizens should be given preference in employment.

NEW YORK, May 12.—(AP)—B. F. Goodrich & Co. stockholders have approved the proposed issue of $30,000,000 15-year convertible debenture bonds and an increase in authorized common stock to 4,000,000 shares from 1,500,000. Under the plan stockholders of record May 2 will have the right to subscribe to $25 face value of debentures at 98 for each common share held, the subscription warrants expiring May 22.

Building permits issued in 534 leading cities and towns in the United States during April totaled $210,411,381, an increase of 12 per cent over $188,452,117 in March, S. W. Straus & Co. reports. The company said that inasmuch as the normal trend of building activities between March and April is about 3 1-2 per cent downward, it would appear that the outlook for increased building activities from now on is encouraging.

Offering is being made of $20,350,000 City of Detroit, Mich., 4 1-4 and 4 1-2 per cent bonds, priced to yield from 3 1-2 to 4.35 per cent.

WILLIMANTIC CUTS BUDGET $50,000

nounced tonight at the meeting that the street lights would be shut off at midnight beginning Tuesday night, thereby effecting a saving of over $6,000 in that department during the ensuing seven months. With the police department already placed on a five-day week basis, the council tonight authorized the street committee to reduce the working schedule of that department to four days a week from five and a half and to take no action on the building of new streets and stop sidewalk construction after the present appropriation is exhausted. This motion prevailed on motion of Alderman William E. Webber.

In ratifying the curtailment of working days in the police department the council tonight further specified that no supernumeraries are to be hired. On motion of Alderman Webber it was voted that the budget of 1930 be pro-rated insofar as possible to meet the tax income and that all department heads adjust their schedules accordingly. The street department has a working force of five truck drivers earning 50 cents an hour and 20 hands at 45 cents an hour, who have been working on a 54-hour weekly schedule. The water department has five men working 50 hours.

The mayor and city treasurer were authorized tonight to borrow $25,000 to defray current expenses, this making a total of over $120,000 which has been borrowed to date to carry on until taxes are payable Aug. 1.

In the report of the street department expenses it was revealed tonight that $66 had been expended in removing refuse during clean-up week. Sewer assessments on the following streets were adopted and made payable June 12 on motion of Alderman Lewis: Godfrey, Manners avenue, Francis street, Walnut, Washington and Chestnut streets.

The chief of police was authorized to cause repairs to the motorcycle to be placed in use when deemed advisable.

The council was presented with a bill for $640 by Town Dog Warden John T. Nichols for providing a city pound over a period of five years. Referred to claims committee.

The date on which city water will be shut off where payments of water rentals are six months or more in arrears was changed from Sunday, May 25, to Monday, May 26, on motion of Alderman Carlsen.

The various departments and their appropriations as affected in the $50,000 cut declared at the council meeting tonight are as follows: Police, cut to five days a week; fire, cut $5,000; street, cut to four days a week; traprock, cut from $3,000 to $2,000; trimming trees, unexpended balance of $93.25 cut; oiling streets, cut one-third of unexpended balance of $9,912.90; printing and advertising, cut $100 of unexpended balance of $365.59; pension fund, cut from $2,000 to $1,000; ice houses, cut one-half of balance of $1,138.04; harvesting ice, cut balance $1,318.99; engineering, cut $1,000 from balance of $3,575; maintaining sewers, cut to four days a week; permanent roads, cut balance of $9,100; sidewalks and gutters, cut $6,600; new streets, cut the balance of $1,526.23; lighting streets, with a balance of $15,631.64, shut off lights at midnight, cutting off over $6,000; footbridge, cut unexpended balance of $471.54, out of original appropriation of $500; public parks, cut unexpended balance of $486.45, out of original appropriation of $500; collection of taxes, cut $300, from unexpended balance of $510.30; sewer construction, cut balance of $3,677.50; auditors, cut $200; voting machines, cut the balance; election expense, cut the balance.

The original appropriations amounted to $259,074.43. Out of this has been expended $89,160.77, leaving an unexpended balance of $169,913.66. The saving of $50,000 ordered tonight leaves the estimated expenses for the remainder of the year at $119,913.66.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

BROADWAY PATRONS WILL "TAKE THE AIR"

Amid much enthusiasm, Manager Fitz of the Broadway awarded nine guests tickets for airplane rides with the Reliable Flying Service, now at Gallows hill, at the performance last evening. "Guest rides" were awarded to Joseph Longo, 571 Boswell Ave.; Mrs. James E. Murphy, Prospect street; Herbert Ziegelmeyer, 30 Platt avenue; William Pedace, 504 Main street; Mr. Kinsky, Norwich State hospital; Mr. Kinney, 24 Slater avenue; Mr. Appley, of Canterbury; Mr. Alphonse Pariseau of Moosup, and J. Gaucher, of Taftville.

Breed Theatre

Marion Davies, one of filmdom's most expert bridge players, shows you how NOT to play bridge in a hilarious scene in "Not So Dumb," her new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle, which is now playing at the Breed theatre.

In this scene, Miss Davies sounds a warning note to women bridge partners who try to out-bid, out-trump and out-talk everyone else. Filmed in intimate detail by King Vidor, it attains a high mark in comedy because of its broad burlesque of every-day happenings.

A LANTERN HILL FIRE, A SNAKE AND OWL STORY

Forest fires all around the last week or so, have driven the animals out of the woods. Peter Sharp, who has been around some, can tell the different beasts from a horse cat to an elephant. He was walking around the woods up in the Lantern Hill district, known for its snakes, red and all colors. A fire was in the woods not near any house and no men fighting it for there were no damage, but the animals were coming out, two by two, rabbits and a deer came by Peter fast as the Yankee Clipper for it was a little too hot for them. Peter had the best time of his life, watching them run to places of safety.

He said to himself, being the only one in sight, "I will go in the woods and see how much damage the fire is doing." So in he went. It sure was a hot day—about 86 degrees in the shade. A good old Lantern Hill elm tree to sit under and have a smoke, could not be beat on a hot day. Then, about 200 feet in the woods, he heard a noise like a rattler, but could not see where it came from. But Foxy Sharp always carried a big oak cane, heavy as Babe Ruth's home run bat, to swing at any wild animal that would attach the 65-year-old lion-trainer from Canada, who now lives around this section. Again he heard the noise, but did not think he had been drinking for the United States had the lid on Old Johnny Walker or Old Crow—that cannot speak any more. He wanted to see where the mystery noise came from; so walking into trouble, he found it was a pretty rattlesnake, about four feet long, standing on its tail-end all ready to put Mr. Sharp to sleep for good. For these snakes are poison and the music from that snake was like Sousa's band. Foxy Peter got his oak club ready about whn the snake was all set to attack him, meaning a war on the old time lion-trainer. To make a flying tackle he caught his pal with a good home run. But that did not kill the snake, coming back for more and almost getting Sharp on the hand. Another blow soon sent the snake into dreamland for good. It took Mr. Peter about twenty-five minutes before the rattlesnake gave up. It had 13 rattles and sure was a pretty snake, but a tough one to put out of the world. That is the first time anyone living around this part of Connecticut or near Lantern Hill can remember a rattlesnake ever was heard of. So Peter had the honor to kil lthe first one in the Lantern Hill woods. He at last sat under the elm tree for a rest after a battle with a bad snake. Still it was hot, but a good smell of that fresh air with a little wind blowing, soon cooled off the lion trainer. So he thought it was time to go home, for it was getting late and to far from home would worry his wife.

He tried to make the road without seeing another rattlesnake and only got a few feet when some one say's, "Who! Who!" "Well, what do you want, my friend?" But no answer same back only "who," again. Looking around to see if he could help any one out, he saw a snow-white owl hurt; its wing was broke. Picking up the wounded owl, he took it home to see if he could fix him up without a charge of $2. The owl was not afraid of him for he had a way about him of talking to birds and animals.

Reaching home, his wife was out in the ward, looking to se if he had got lost, for supper was on the table twenty minutes and getting cold.

Up the road he came with something under his arm that looked like a turkey. But she found it was a snow-white owl that would say "who." She said, "Well, Peter, what in the world have you now?" "It is a hurt bird that was crying, looking for some one to pick him up and fix his broken wing."

The owl was put in the kitchen till his kind master could eat his supper. He told his wife about the battle with the rattlesnake. "Well, Peter, you sure had a great day of it! On your little walk in the woods to come back with a owl, to help fixe a broken wing. Let me try something—give our friend a bowl of milk and some bread; he must be hungry." So the lady of the house got it all ready but the bird would not touch it for her. So Peter said, "Say, Mr. Owl, don't you want something to eat? That is good!" The stranger walked right over to the bowl of milk and started to eat. "Well, can you beat that? I talked in a nice way to the owl and it would not eat! You, with a voice that almost shook the pictures on the wall down, went and told him to eat his milk and now see!" "Lillian, you got to treat them rough for they are from the woods!" The hurt owl will be alright in a week, but Mr. Sharp expects to keep it as a pet.

WESTMINSTER

The house of Herman Stevens, Jr., on the Versailles road, burned to the ground late Monday afternoon. There had been a fire earlier in the day in a bulkhead packed with hay which had been used to keep the cellar from freezing during the winter. There are several small children in the family and the fire was attributed to their playing with matches during the absence of their parents, who were planting a garden a short distance away. Mr. Stevens discovered and put out the fire ripping off several clapboards to be sure he had it all. Several hours later, smoke began to ooze from beneath the rafters and in a short time the fire was beyond control. The Baltic fire company responded to the call for help, but when they reached the house there was nothing to be done but keep the fire from spreading. The house, a practically new one, was not insured.

Local showers brought relief to distracted property owners and harrassed fire wardens. During a shower Wednesday evening, lightning struck a wood pile in proximity to the house of Frank Pellett, setting it on fire. The blaze was quickly extinguished. Nathan Green, who helped draw water from the well, had a peculiar accident, the chain attached to the bucket parted, one end flew up and struck him in the face and he is sporting "a peach of a shiner" as the result.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Broadway Theatre

With today's showings that lovable Frenchman, Maurice Chevalier bids "au revoir" to Broadway audiences, after delighting thousands with his latest production "The Big Pond," in which, with lovely Claudette Colbert, he gives a delightful picture. Tomorrow's double feature program brings to the Broadway screen two famous ladies of filmland, Bebe Daniels, who, fresh from her sucess in "Rio Rita," and co-featured with her fiance Ben Lyon, offers a new type and stirring crook melodrama, "Alias French Gertie," a story literally packed with suspense and action, and lovely, alluring Vilma Banky in her very first all-talking photoplay "A Lady to Love," in which fans will take new delight in her voice, which has been compared to the already famous tones of Greta Garbo. While the exotic Bebe unfolds a daring tale of the underworld clash with society, involving bank robbery and the theft of famous jewels, and with excitement and thrills piling up every moment, the story developed by Miss Banky is that of a beautiful girl who accepts a "mail order" proposal of marriage on the strength of a photo of a sturdy young Irishman. Arriving in time for the wedding, she finds that her husband-to-be is an aged Italian vineyard-owner, wealthy and amorous, who had used his foreman's photo as a bait to lure the young woman into marriage. The plot develops rapidly to a series of climaxes, which however, end most happily for all concerned. With the latest Fox movietone news, the screen show is complete, but the Broadway does not forget the creature comforts, either, and with cool fresh air constantly in circulation and correctly chilled water, offers a delightful hot-weather retreat.

Palace Theatre

A double-feature bill combining "Hello Sister" a gay and impudent story of modern youth starring Olive Borden and Lloyd Hughes and "Dumbells in Ermine," a stage play adapted for the screen with Barbara Kent and Robert Armstrong will be presented at the Palace theatre tomorrow where it will be shown through Friday.

The vast estate of the Flintridge, California, Riding club, with its modern paddocks, grandstand, polo grounds, steeple chase park and other structures, forms just one of the many beautiful backgrounds of "Hello Sister." The club and structures were loaned for the filming of this picture and during the work on the grounds many of the members who were there at the time were glad to appear in a talking picture.

Olive Borden Star of "Hello Sister"

The story, adapted from "Clipped Wings" which appeared as a serial in the Delineator, is about the lads and lassies of 1930, who live, laugh, and love in a strictly modern way. It tells of a luxury loving girl, who had plenty of money. She tries to reform and almost makes the grade but tosses away a million dollars just at the last moment to hear a youth say "I Love You." It is a swift moving play interspersed with musical numbers and songs. Among the other members of the cast are George Fawcett, Bodil Rosing, Wilfred Lucas and many others.

Supporting Barbara Kent and Robert Armstrong in "Dumbells in Ermine" are Beryl Mercer, James Gleason and Julia Swayne Gordon. This comedy is Warner Brothers latest Vitaphone laughing hit. It shows how a love at first sight romance may be jammed by the small town's self-appointed reformer. There is an unexpected exposure to his plan when the reformer's bluff is suddenly called. It is an old story told in an entirely new way.

"The Rogue Song" with Lawrence Tibbett, leading baritone, of the Metropolitan Opera company will be shown at the Palace for the last times today. No one should miss this production which ranges from operatic caliber to the simple style of the Caucasus mountaineers. One of the most interesting features of this picture is the Albertina Rasch ballet with one hundred girls clad in native costume who dance to modernistic music. "The Rogue Song" has been filmed entirely in technicolor and the enchanting setting chosen for the production lends itself exquisitely to color. Tonight is straw hat nite at the Palace. Gents, don't miss this

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

The State of Connecticut through its duly authorized Board of Trustees for the State Training School and Hospital at Mansfield, Conn., invites proposals from reputable contractors for all of the material and labor and power house equipment for the four buildings listed below—

A—The Power House
B—The Laundry
C—The Boys' Dormitory
D—The Girls' Dormitory

all to be erected on the site as shown by the plot plan and all other plans and specifications as prepared by the architectural offices of Towner and Sellew Associates, Architects, Central National Bank Building, Middletown, Conn. and from whom all further information may be obtained.

The Trustees do not obligate themselves to accept the lowest or any proposal and the State does not obligate itself to make any payment on Buildings C and D until such dates as may be subsequent to July 1st, 1930. Connecticut contractors will be given the preference in awarding contracts and the contractor has the privilege of submitting a total bid for the four buildings but each building must be allocated to a definite figure to conform to within the legislative appropriated sum.

The proposals shall be sealed in an opaque envelope, the outside of which shall bear the endorsement:— "Sealed Proposals for State Training School at Mansfield, Conn." and shall have the contractor's name and address on the upper left hand corner, and shall have enclosed with the proposal, a certified cheque for Eighteen Thousand Dollars ($18,000.00) for the four buildings proper and the number of working days required for the entire job shall be stated.

Two thousand dollars for equipment item Part 9 being boilers, etc.

Five hundred dollars for equipment item Part 10 being piping, equipment pertaining to pumps, tanks, etc., also covering.

Fifteen hundred dollars for equipment item Part 12 being for electric wiring from switchboard, etc.

All certified cheques to be made payable to Samuel R. Spencer, State Treasurer and shall become forfeited to the State as liquidated and ascertained damages in event of a bidder failing to enter into a contract and furnish a satisfactory bond within five days after an award has been made.

The proposals shall be addressed to Honorable Everett J. Lake, Acting Chairman of the Board of Trustees and delivered at the office of the State Comptroller on the first floor of the State Capitol in Hartford, Conn. not later than 11:00 A. M. Eastern Standard Time, Monday, June 2nd, 1930 and they will be opened publicly at 1:00 P. M. Eastern Standard Time the same day in the Old Senate Chamber on the second floor of the State Capitol.

A 100% contract bond will be required of the successful contractor which bond shall be paid for by the contractor and shall be from an approved corporate surety company and shall be approved as to form by the Attorney General for the State of Connecticut.

Copies of the plans and specifications may be had by reputable and bona fide bidders from the Architects at any time after Friday noon, May 9th, 1930, upon deposit of Fifty Dollars which will be refunded, less $10.00 for the cost of reproduction of plans and specifications, upon the safe return of the drawings and specifications and receipt of proposal.

Copies of plans and specifications are on file at the following places for use of sub-contractors only:

All Good Automobile Insurance Is Not the Same—

If you have that idea, it's costing you money.

Here are the things that well informed car owners now demand when they insure their cars:

1. Complete protection.
2. Prompt, capable service when needed, not only at home but anywhere in this country and Canada.
3. A share in the welfare of their company—a return of whatever part of their premium is warranted at the end of the year.

If you are not getting these things, you owe it to yourself to find out more about automobile insurance written in the American Motorist's Insurance Company.

American motorist's policyholders have always received a substantial dividend saving on each year's automobile insurance premium. Phone Norwich, 3636 NOW and secure further details.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

LAST OF THE DOMESTIC INDIANS TO VANISH

Many of the accomplishments of the modern woman are due to their liberation from the drudgery that used to accompany housekeeping. With vacuum cleaners, electric washing and ironing machines, automatic ovens which will cook a dinner while she plays bridge, and even electric dish washers, today's housewife puts the time formerly consumed in slavish work to better advantage.

With the popularization of labor-saving devices has come an appreciation of the fact that it is possible to live better, as well as more happily, by breaking away from some of the necessities of the past. Spring and fall housecleaning, for instance, is no longer the institution it used to be, for it has been discovered that a house kept clean day-by-day is a better place in which to live than one which is turned topsy-turvey a couple of times a year.

Even builders have had to cater to the desire of women for homes which require less drudgery. Floors that need frequent scrubbing are not readily acceptable in houses that must be sold or rented. Instead, builders in increasing numbers are proving linoleum floors for every rooms in the house, for they can be kept clean with almost no attention other than a daily dusting with a dry brush or mop.

Modern linoleum is now manufactured with a surface protected by lacquer. Dirt cannot lodge in its highly polished surface. Dust brushes right off, and even stains can be wiped up without harm to the floor.

What housewife would want to go back to the old-fashioned housekeeping, the pails of soapy water, and those huge oily mops that followed the bristly scrubbing brushes? Just a light polishing, and a linoleum floor shines with all the original sparkle of its pattern. It keeps dust on the surface rather than permitting it to become ground into the floor. Whenever necessary, the polish can be restored to a linoleum floor easily by applying wax or the special lacquers prepared for this purpose. See adv Armstrong's linoleum.

POETRY

Sea Fever

England's new poet laureate to succeed the late Robert Bridges is John Masefield. Here is his best-known poem:

I must down to the seas again, to the lonely sea and the sky.
And all I ask is a tall ship and a star to steer her by,
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song and the white sail's shaking,
And a gray mist on the sea's face and a gray dawn breaking.

I must down to the seas again, for the call of the running tide
Is a wild call and a clear call that may not be denied;
And all I ask is a windy day with the white clouds flying,
And the flung spray and the blown spume, and the seagulls crying.

I must down to the seas again to the vagrant gypsy life,
To the gull's way and the whale's way where the wind's like a whetted knife;
And all I ask is a merry yarn from a laughing fellow-rover,
And quiet sleep and a sweet dream when the long trick's over.

The Lorelei

I know not whence it rises,
This thought so full of woe—
But a tale of the time departed
Haunts me—and will not go.

The air is cool, and it darkens,
And calmly flows the Rhine;
The mountain peaks are sparkling
In the sunny evening-shine.

And yonder sits a maiden,
The fairest of the fair;
With gold is her garment glittering,
And she combs her golden hair.

With a golden comb she combs it,
And a wild song singeth she,
That melts the heart with a wondrous
And powerful melody.

The boatman feels his bosom
With a nameless longing move;
He sees not the gulfs before him,
His gaze is fixed above.

Till over boat and boatman
And Rhine's deep waters run!
And this with her magic singing
The Lorelei hath done!

—Heinrich Heine.

During a history lesson the teacher pointed out to the class that a surname often indicated the trade of the ancestors of those who bore the name. He gave the obviously simple examples of Smith, Taylor, Baker and others.

Then he questioned one of the boys: "What were your ancestors, Webb?"

Little Tommy thought hard for a few seconds, then deciding to have a pot shot, he piped out: "Spiders, sir!" —Punch.

American colonists obtained peaches from Europe for planting in their orchards about 1633.

A nut from Hawaii known as the macadimia nut is being introduced to the market in the United States.

Switzerland's reputation as a country of tourist hotels seems so old that it takes statistics to show that the travel industry really is new. There were 1,000 "hotels," most of them inns with a room or two fifty years ago, while now there are 3,600 real hotels employing 61,000 people.

"Can you tell me," asked the judge, addressing Enrico Ufuzzi, under examination at Union Hill, N. J., as to the qualifications for citizenship, "the difference between the powers and prerogatives of the king of England and those of the president of the United States?" "Yessir," spoke up Ufuzzi promptly. "King, he got a steady job."

Captain Harold Hicks of the Visalia (Cal.) police department may acquire an extensive apiary. In the course of his duty he has collected three swarms of bees from the streets of the business district of Visalia this spring. He calmly walks in where others fear to tread and sweeps the bees into a box with a clothes-brush. Since nobody has yet claimed them, Captain Hicks has the bees in his possession.

An Easter lily, almost as delicate and lustrous as the real thing, but much more lasting, is that owned by Miss Ethel E. Allen, of Augusta, Me. The entire plant is made of wood and the white satin petals are as fragile as glass. Even the stamens and pistils are tiny bits of colored wood. Miss Tracy received the flower from her old home in Tracy, N. B., where there it was made by a Canadian Indians, a veteran of the World war.

PETER ALBANO, NEW LONDON, MARRIED, ACCUSED BY GIRL INVITED TO RIDE

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, May 12—Peter Albano, married, was arrested tonight by State Police Officer Peter Busch charged with statutory rape and is locked up at police headquarters. Albano, who has the reputation of molesting women, whom he is able to induce to get into his automobile, was arrested upon complaint of Helen Whiton, 16, of East Lyme, who is employed in New London by a Truman street family. It is claimed by the girl that the latter part of last week, Albano drove her to her home and at that time invited her to accompany him for a ride the following night. She accepted the invitation and when the car was in Waterford, Albano is alleged to have stopped the car and to have made improper proposals to the girl, which were rejected. Albano is accused of having then attacked the girl, shamefully abusing her and during his attack destroying her clothing. Miss Whiton made complaint to Prosecuting Attorney Leon Belsheim, of Waterford town court today and the warrant for the young man's arrest being given to Officer Busch, Albano was taken into custody.

An automobile owned by Harold Porter, 749 Ocean avenue, reported to the police this afternoon that while driving his automobile at the corner of Montauk avenue and School street, it hit a police dog. Porter did not ascertain the identity of the owner of the dog, for the animal ran away, apparently uninjured.

GOOD SAMARITAN HAS CLOTHING STOLEN

John Higgins, 145 Park avenue, this afternoon reported to the police that a bundle containing valuable apparel had been stolen from him. Higgins said that he was at the corner of Broad street and Connecticut avenue, when an automobile became stalled and with others he gave assistance in pushing the auto from the center of the highway to the curb, placing the bundle on the sidewalk. Someone stole the bundle.

A fellow who was making a nuisance of himself this evening at the store of Morris Rifkin, corner of North Bank and John streets, was arrested by Patrolman Cornelius Moriarty charged with breach of the peace. He was locked up on complaint of Rifkin and will be in court tomorrow.

Franz Fagerquard, a sailor, stationed at the submarine base and residing at 100 Howard street, was arrested this evening charged with breach of the peace and will be given a hearing tomorrow. He was unable to provide a surety on his bond and was locked up. Fagerquard went to his home about 6 o'clock and quarrelled with his wife, the result being that the bluejacket struck the woman. The wife made complaint to the police and Fagerquard was arrested by Detective Sergeant John Cavanaugh and Sergeant Patrick Murphy.

A man believed to be a laborer employed at Fishers Island, was arrested at the municipal pier this afternoon charged with intoxication for he was in danger of falling into the Thames river. The man, who was arrested by Patrolman George Bruhns and Louis Pine will be in court tomorrow.

Norwich Driver Negligent

Several additional violators of the city's parking laws were arrested today and tonight and were ordered to explain in the police court tomorrow. Those arrested included Arthur M. Bugbee, Norwich; Edna Wheeler, Mystic; Frank J. Crane, 64 North Fourth street, Meriden; Delbert H. Witt, P. O. Box, 153, Uncasville, John A. Lincoln, 283 Broad street.

A man, a stranger in the city, went to a State street restaurant tonight and created a disturbance. He had been drinking and was arrested by Patrolman Louis Pine charged with breach of the peace and intoxication. He will be in court tomorrow.

Rev. Richard Porter, 231 Vauxhall street and pastor of the Huntington Street Baptist church, reported to the police Sunday night that his Nash sedan that he had parked in front of the church had been stolen. Some time later the auto was found parked in front of 22 Colt street. Two women informed the police that a pair of youths had alighted from the car and disappeared in the darkness. The auto was taken from in front of the church about three weeks ago and was found abandoned the same night on Tilley street.

Thomas Carney was charged with intoxication and upon pleading guilty, was fined $20 and costs. He could not pay so he will be a guest at the county jail for a month.

Michael Sullivan, farm-laborer, about 70, was also charged with intoxication for his 49th time. Judge Daniel M. Cronin suspended judgment.

LAWLESS BUS DRIVER FINED ON THREE COUNTS

Brantley L. Holland, driver of a Connecticut Motor Transportation company bus, was in the police court this morning, charged with violation of the state motor vehicle law on three counts, speeding, driving without a license and driving a bus not equipped with inter-state markers. Holland pleaded guilty. On the first charge a fine of $20 and costs was imposed and on the other two charges $10 and costs. Holland was driving on Bank street a week ago at a high rate of speed. State Police Officer John Smith held the big passenger vehicle up and it was revealed that Holland did not have a license, nor was the bus provided with the markers necessary in the various states. Holland was arrested and the next day in court the case was continued until today.

George P. Finch, 134 Baker avenue, Groton, was charged with speeding and was fined $10 and costs. Baker was arrested Saturday by Motorcycle Officer Carlos Stone.

Jail For Mamie

Mamie Holloway, colored, frequenter in the police court, principally for acts of immorality, was there again today, charged with lascivious carriage. She was fined $10 and costs and with the imposition of the penalty the Negress informed the court that as she was not possessed of funds with which to defray her fine, she was agreeable to a stay at the county jail for three weeks. A white male companion, who was in the company of Mamie when she was arrested, was charged with the same offense and was fined $5 and costs.

Smashed Car Window

Thomas Peck, a stranger hereabouts, charged with breach of the peace, was fined $20 and costs. He could not pay, so was committed to jail. On State street about 2 o'clock Sunday morning he noticed the parked automobile owned by Carl C. Brown, 17 Spicer avenue, Groton. Peck had been drinking and walking to the motionless auto, he entered it and deliberately smashed one of the windows. Brown made complaint to the police and Peck was arrested.

Algot Holmes, New York, was charged with reckless driving. His case was continued until the 17th inst. Holmes was arrested on Main street Sunday afternoon when he passed a line of cars on the wrong side only to be apprehended by State Police Officer John Smith.

John Bjorndal, charged with intoxication, was given suspension of judgment. He was arrested Sunday.

Michael Barrett and Raymond Davis were fined $5 and costs each on a charge of intoxication, both having been arrested Sunday.

Add To City's Revenue

Timothy Normat, submarine base; Francis E. Lynch, soldier, stationed at Fort Wright; Walter Kolodnicki, Oakdale; Stanley Anyszlewicz, East Lyme; Ruth Hill, West Main street, Westbrook; John B. Ashbrook, U. S. coast guard; Harold Gore, 78 Elderkin avenue, Groton; Sidney Sisnick, Main street, Hope Valley, R. I., and Charles Ross, submarine base, were charged with various forms of violation of the city's traffic laws. None of the drivers appeared, so their respective bonds of $2 and $5 were declared forfeited.

Ringling Brothers' circus, consisting of two trains, passed through New London Sunday en route from Boston to Brooklyn, N. Y.

Automobile Patrol Officer Elwood Bailey discovered six large rocks in the highway of Glenwood avenue about 250 feet west of Ocean avenue this morning. The officer removed the stones to the side of the highway and is endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the persons responsible for the stones being placed where they were found, for the supposed purpose of causing damage to automobiles.

Claims Dogs Bite Cows

Alvin Fargo, 209 Thames street, today made complaint to the police because of three vicious police dogs being allowed to roam at random about the streets. Fargo said that the dogs were not only vicious in attacks upon pedestrians, but that the animals had entered upon his land and had attacked and bitten his cows. The complaint was referred to Dog Warden Tryon.

Walter Ryder, colored, was arrested this afternoon by Sergeant Samuel Ryder, colored of 210 North Bank street, charged with breach of the peace, upon complaint of Emma Ford, also colored, of 18 Stony Hill. Ryder was locked up and will be in court tomorrow.

Mrs. Herbert Hirsche and infant son, of Jordan Cove, Waterford; Mrs. Marion Pont and infant daughter, Mystic; Miss Clara Young, Old Mystic, patients at Home Memorial hospital, were dismissed today.

MARQUARDT SHORTAGE MAY SHOW INCREASE

The continued case of Henry E. Marquardt, former tax collector of the borough of Groton, charged with embezzlement of $16,000 of the funds of the borough, was again continued when the accused was in Groton town court this afternoon, the latest continuance being until the 26th inst. The continuance today was at the request of Prosecutor Harry Brogan and was recommended because of the fact that auditors are continuing their work of examining the books of the former collector. It is reported that an additional shortage may exist and if such is the case, such shortage will have been revealed before the continuance date. When Marquardt was arrested several weeks ago the shortage known was slightly in excess of $16,000. Since then Marquardt has reimbursed the borough more than $13,000.

ARTHUR MAY BOUND OVER TO U. S. DISTRICT COURT

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, May 12.—Arthur May, proprietor of the Hotel Winthrop, was before United States Commissioner Russell H. Corcoran this afternoon at 2 o'clock on a charge of violation of the prohibition law. The hotel man, through counsel, waived hearing and probable cause was found, May being bound over to the United States district court at Hartford. The trial date was fixed for the 27th inst. May furnished a bond of $1,000. Three federal officers raided the hotel last Thursday and destroyed 19 cases of beer, which it was claimed contained an alcoholic content greater than one-half of one per cent. But four bottles of the beer were taken away for analysis.

Cyrus Burnham, of Waterford; Anthony Sammtaro, 27 Denison avenue; Walter Fay, Hartford; Mrs. Annie Coggeshall, Mystic; Mrs. John Durrence, Waterford; Mrs. Edward LaPlace, Lyme; Mrs. George DiMarco and infant son, 6 Division street; Mrs. Wallace Porter and infant daughter, 114 Willetts avenue; Mrs. Manfred Barber, Groton; Mrs. Maude Congdon, Bank and Howard streets; Mrs. Harry Zannkow and infant daughter, 46 Mountain avenue; Mrs. John Holt and infant son, Waterford; Mrs. Max Munsch, 962 Bank street; Miss Emma Thomas, 46 Granite street; Wilford Deshy, 13, of 76 Riverside Heights, injured Sunday when the automobile in which he was riding collided with a telephone pole, were patients discharged at Lawrence-Memorial hospital Sunday and today.

CITY MANAGER SUSPENDS IVERSON FOR A WEEK

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, May 12.—Patrolman Albert Iverson, one of the youngest members of the police department, was given a hearing today before City Manager William A. Holt on a charge of violation of the police rules and regulations, the specific clause being the prohibition of a police officer imbibing liquor. There was no evidence at hand to substantiate the allegation, which had resulted in Captain Charles A. Pinney suspending the officer, other than the admission of Iverson that he had partaken of two drinks Saturday night. On the admission of the officer, City Manager Holt this afternoon notified Captain Pinney that Iverson had been suspended for one week, the suspension becoming effective today. Iverson's hearing was the result of his having accompanied a friend for an automobile ride Saturday night after the officer had reported off duty at 11:30. The ride lasted several hours and took them to Ocean Beach. About 3 o'clock when the auto was driven to the heart of the city, Iverson stated that the driver was too drunk to be entrusted to operate the machine and he took the steering wheel. All went well until the auto was passing a parked Buick on Ocean avenue, between Willetts avenue and Perry street. The auto that Iverson was driving, a Chevrolet, did not clear the parked car, the Buick being struck and damaged slightly. Several hours after the crash a resident of the vicinity where the accident occurred informed police headquarters that Iverson was the driver of the colliding auto. An investigation was ordered and Sergeant William Babcock, who made the investigation, ascertained that the auto that was hit belonged to Lieut. G. O. Daniels, submarine base. That officer, however, refused to make any statement derogatory to the patrolman, even stating that Iverson was sober. He also refused to testify at today's hearing. Iverson when interrogated admitted taking two drinks while in the company of his friend.

MYSTIC

At the Baptist parsonage at 7 o'clock Monday, May 5, Miss Nellie Unsworth, daughter of John Unsworth, of Godfrey street, was united in marriage with Leon Wilkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Wilkinson, of Bank street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Louis J. Shepler, the pastor. The witnesses were Miss Louie Unsworth, sister of the bride, and Harry Chambers. The bride was gowned in pale pink chiffon with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. The maid of honor wore blue chiffon with matching hat and carried dark pink roses. MONTVILLE

Fred Siebenborn of No. 150 Spruce street, Norwich, arrested by State Officer Frederick Winniger of Groton barracks for speeding, had his case tried before Justice of the Peace Oscar E. Church Monday afternoon. Siebenborn who was traveling at a fast rate of speed on the Norwich-New London highway testified that he was trying to catch a train at New London for New York, where he was going to attend a funeral and he didn't realize how he was speeding. He paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Henriette McGrath of Fitchville, also arrested by State Trooper Winnigar for speeding, explained that she was on a hurry case at one of the New London hospitals, also didn't realize how fast she was going. Judge Church fined her $10 and costs.

Albert Olaf Olson, 19, of No. 110 Willets avenue, New London, also was arrested by State Officer Winnigar Saturday evening for speeding on the Norwich-New London highway at the top of Mohegan Hill. Frank Rogers of Montville, acting as his guardian, entered a plea of not guilty. Olson said he was coming home from college and that there wasn't any speed laws in Connecticut and as long as he was driving on a state road without cutting in or out of traffic and thought he was driving right. Justice Church fined him $20 and costs.

C. B. McMekin of New London, also arrested by Officer Winnigar for violation of the motor vehicle laws had his case continued to Monday, May 19th.

Cook Must Support Children

Frederick Cook of Mohegan Hill was arrested last March by State Officer Arthur Whitmarsh of Groton barracks for non-support on complaint of Captain Day of Norwich Salvation Army. Mr. Cook then agreed to pay for his children $9 a week which he has done for about two weeks and has failed to do so up to Monday. The case was appealed to the next session of the superior court. Meantime Mr. Cook is ordered to pay his children $9 a week for their support and a $300 bond was posted by Henry LaPre, of Norwich. Attorney T. M. Shields was counsel for Mr. Cook and Judge J. H. Barnes for Mrs. Cook.

The Textile Nine will play the Robertson team this (Tuesday) evening at 6:30 at the Gair diamond, Uncasville, the first encounter of these two teams this season.

The experience meeting of Pequot council, K. of C. which it was stated in Monday's Bulletin was to be held Thursday evening will be held this (Tuesday) evening.

These smart springtime floors promise PLENTY of TIME for PLEASURE

THAT doesn't mean you won't ever have to clean them. No floor is so perfect . . . But it is true that a fashionable floor of Armstrong's Linoleum can take pretty good care of itself when careless feet track in mountains of mud, when little fingers spill the milk, or the gravy, or even a whole bottle of the blackest ink.

Such little accidents leave no trace on the spot-proof, stain-proof Accolac-Processed surface. A damp cloth, and presto! your Armstrong Floor is spick-and-span again.

Then think of the joy of a floor without a single lodging-place for dust and dirt. Just a smooth, gleaming surface that you keep smooth and gleaming with a quick daily dusting, an occasional light waxing and polishing. Why, even in kitchens, baths, and halls, where floors may need washing now and then, all you need do to retain the smart new look is to touch up the surface once or twice a year with Armstrong's Linoleum Lacquer. (Our laboratory experts caution us not to lacquer over wax.)

But let's not forget that above all these new Armstrong Floors lend refreshing style and fashion to well-dressed rooms. Just see for yourself at local linoleum, department, or furniture stores.

BISHOP ACHESON AT ST. ANDREW'S FOR CONFIRMATION

On Sunday afternoon Rt. Rev. Edward Campion Acheson, D. D., bishop of Connecticut, made his annual visitation to St. Andrew's. The church was comfortably filled with an interested congregation and Rev. E. J. Norris, rector, began the confirmation service and presented three men and one woman to the bishop for the laying-on of hands Special music was sung by the full choir. The Rev. E. J. Norris, acted as chaplain to the bishop, carrying his pastoral staff before him. Bishop Acheson's sermon was a fine plea for straight living with an apt reference to Colonel Lindbergh.

Entertained The Bishop

On Sunday afternoon, after the confirmation service at St. Andrew's, Rev. and Mrs. E. J. Norris entertained Bishop Acheson to afternoon tea at the rectory.

LARGE CONGREGATIONS AT MOTHER'S DAY SERVICES

There were many at the Mother's day services held at the Third Baptist church on Sunday. In the morning there was a splendid sermon, "The Inspiration of Mothers" and there was special music by the choir. In the evening a special programme [illegible] out in which a number [illegible]en and some of the mothers. Mrs. James Spicer and [illegible] Sebastian gave readings; a dialogue, Mother's Treasure Chest, was given by Winifred Haydon, Elsie Laycock, Marilyn Lund, Clayton Gallup and Frank Laycock. Miss Minnie Quinley rendered a fine solo and there were also a number of duets and a men's chorus.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of cut flowers and after the evening service these were distributed to the mothers present and some were sent to the sick members of the church. The pastor, Rev. William J. Sly, Ph. D., invited all the friends and members present to the Thursday evening prayer meeting when he has a pleasant surprise. He also announced that for a number of months these surprise meetings will be carried out, each member having a chance to share in them. The church is planning to hold a special recognition service for their new pastor soon, when the pastors and members of some of the other city churches will be invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mulkin and son, Paul of Providence, R. I., spent Mother's day with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Mulkin of Boswell avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Service and daughter Marjorie, of Waterbury, spent the week end at the home of Mr. Service's father, Mr. John Service of Twelfth street.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sweet of Central avenue spent Sunday with relatives in Madison, Conn.

DEMOCRATS NAME TICKET HEADED BY EDWARD G. MORAN FOR MAYOR

Attorney Edward G. Moran of No. 57 Otis street was unanimously nominated as the democratic party's candidate for mayor at the democratic caucus Monday evening at the town hall. The caucus, which had an attendance of about 200 men and women, was called to order at 8 o'clock by Jeremiah J. Fitzgerald, chairman of the democratic town committee. Thomas J. Kelly was nominated for chairman. "I thank you for the honor," said Judge Kelly, in assuming the chair. 'I' trust you will nominate men who will meet with the approval of the electors. If you do, I am confident you will carry the forthcoming election. That is my personal opinion.'

Joseph B. Downes was named clerk of the caucus and after he read the call for the caucus Chairman Kelly called for nominations for mayor.

Timothy C. Murphy said he wished to nominate a young man who was born in Norwich, who was educated in Norwich, and who was graduated from the Norwich Free Academy. He entered Dartmouth college, and later entered Yale Law school, he said. He passed his examinations with credit. I know him from boyhood, said Mr. Murphy, who is a former mayor of the city. I can guarantee, if he is elected, that he will serve the city with credit to himself and to the city of Norwich. I have the honor of placing in nomination Edward G. Moran. There were no other nominations and Mr. Moran's selection to head the democratic party's ticket at the city election next month was unanimous.

The other nominations for the party ticket were as follows:

For aldermen—Lawrence E. Millea, nominated by Mr. Furlong; Joseph E. Eccles, nominated by William J. Fitzgerald.

For councilmen—Maurice W. Meyer, nominated by Meyer Blumenthal; Joseph Pysyk, nominated by Joseph Shea; James F. Mileski, nominated by William Bowen; Andrew J. Boyens, nominated by Frank H. Quinley.

For city treasurer—Charles S. Avery, nominated by William J. Fitzgerald.

City sheriffs—Philip Baumgartner, nominated by Patrick F. Sweeney; Charles G. Langlois, nominated by Edward Gleason.

Water commissioner—Jeremiah J. Fitzgerald, nominated by Richard J. Hourigan.

A motion was adopted authorizing the town committee to fill any vacancies that might occur on the ticket, after which the caucus was adjourned, having been in session about 15 minutes.

A mother's day programme was given at Pulaski hall Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock by the children of the Polish National Alliance, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Rozanski.

The children sang Polish hymns and eight new members were initiated. The mothers were all given flowers as they entered the hall.

The programme included a one-act play, The Orphan, with Regna Jaskewicz and Jennie Walusiak in the cast; speech by Hennett Czajkowska and Regna Bielcki; song to mothers, Jennie Walusiak; song by Josephine Rozanski, Regna Jaskiewicz, Mary Walusiak; music by Josephine Rozanski; song, Phyllis Stranz; piano solo, Regna Bielecki; address to the mothers by Mrs. Vincent Stranz; song and music, Mary Walusiak; comedy act, Mrs. Anthony Izbicki and Tarasewska; verse, Helen Zaskowski; old folks dance by the children.

DIRECT MAIL SERVICE TO MONTVILLE RESTORED

Norwich business men will learn with interest that the direct mail service between Montville and Norwich was restored, effective Monday, May 12. Recently this service was routed through New London which meant great delay between these two points. This change was made possible by the cooperation of the citizens of Montville, the Norwich chamber of commerce and the fine and effective aid of Congressman R. P. Freeman. Montville mail for Norwich will leave the former point at 4:45 p. m.

Elks' Hall for Runners' Banquet

Norwich lodge of Elks is to donate the use of its reception hall for the banquet to be held on Memorial day by the Duwell A. A., following the National A. A. U. 10-mile championship run. At the banquet the Duwells will entertain the athletes that compete in the race and also the officials and invited guests. It is planned to entertain at least 250 persons.

TAFTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weeks and son, of Hialeah, Florida, are guests of Mrs. Weeks' father, Henry J. Kendall of Lisbon, who also had as guests over the week end, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burdick of New Bedford, Mass., and John Kendall of Hartford.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Meyer of Blissville and William C. Kendall of Norwich, motored to Worcester, Mass., on Sunday where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harland Tupper.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heap and their little daughter John Lee of Adams, Mass., were week end guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Lee Heap and family of South Second avenue.

Mrs. John Houston of South Second avenue won the first prize at the recent card party given by Loyal Liberty lodge, I. O. O. L. in Fall River, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Mathewson and little daughter of Hopedale, Mass., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Wood and family of South Second avenue, and Mrs. Cora Mathewson and family of Providence street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Giey and their daughter Miss Hazel Giey of Mystic were week end visitors at the home of Mrs. Giey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Meyer and family of Blissville.

Miss Alice Bibeau of Terrace avenue is a patient at a New London hospital following an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Woodworth have returned to their home in Windsor Locks, after a few days' stay with the latter's mother, Mrs. Sarah Charpentier and her sister, Miss Annie Charpentier, of Providence street.

V. F. W. FIRST SPONSORS FOR "BUDDY POPPY" SALES

First among veteran organizations to conduct a nationwide poppy sale and the first organization to adopt the policy of distributing poppies made exclusively by disabled ex-service men, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. make no concessions to claims to the contrary.

Although poppies made their appearance in a few scattered communities they were introduced on a nationwide scale for the first time by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S. in 1922. When the public from coast to coast demonstrated its preference for the poppy as the appropriate memorial flower of the nation, attempts on the part of other organizations that year to abandon the poppy by popularizing other symbolic blossoms were immediately forgotten. The success of the V. F. W. distribution of poppies had convinced them that the little flower of Flanders field origin could not be replaced.

In 1923 the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., in cooperation with the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, established the first "Buddy Poppy Factory," manned completely by disabled ex-service men. This "factory" was located at Pittsburgh, Penn., and in the poppy sale of 1924 every poppy distributed by a V. F. W. post or auxiliary throughout the United States was made at Pittsburgh. The following year this plan, which was given the hearty endorsement of General Frank T. Hines, director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, was extended to Veterans' Bureau hospitals throughout the country. Since then V. F. W. poppies have been assembled in this manner. The name "Buddy Poppy" was originated by the disabled men themselves. In order to protect the men from commercial poppies used by other organizations, the V. F. W. registered the word "Buddy" as its trade-mark. Every poppy handled by the V. F. W. since 1923 has been labeled with a tag bearing the words "V. F. W. Buddy Poppy", as a guarantee to the public that the symbolic flowers sold by this organization are genuine products of the disabled men.

SENATOR BINGHAM REGRETS DEATH OF COL. CHURCH

(Special to The Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, May 12—It is with the most profound regret, said Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, that I have learned of the death of Colonel Earl D. Church, commissioner of pensions. It seems only the other day since he came to Washington and entered upon his arduous and patriotic duties. He had not sought the position of commissioner of pensions. President Hoover, however, was anxious to get a man of his type for that important post. We were all delighted when Colonel Church finally accepted the position. He immediatley made his presence felt in the department and earned the warm praise of his superior officer, the secretary of the interior, and also from those members of congress with whom he came in contact. Only recently the highly efficient manner in which he had conducted his office was publicly praised in the house of representatives.

His sudden death comes a great shock. He leaves a splendid record of service behind him. In the hour of his country's greatest need, he served in the army of the United States. When need of another kind arose he recognized the patriotic duty and was willing to leave his home and his friends and the business with which he had been long and honorably associated and came to Washington again to serve the country that he loved so greatly. He was a splendid type of citizen and his passing is a genuine loss, not only to his family and friends, but to state and country.

Judgment in Griswold Case

Louis Gingras of Griswold was given judgment for $474.31 against Tony Gouthier of Griswold in a decision handed down Monday by Judge C. B. Waller of the court of common pleas.

GIVEN JUDGMENT IN COMMON PLEAS COURT

In common pleas court here Monday, Louis J. Fontaine of this city was given a judgment for $268 against Plassman & DuBruell of Plainfield in a suit to recover an alleged balance on insurance premiums.

The What Cheer Chemical Company, Inc., of Pawcatuck, was given judgment for $226.42 against David Bernstein of this city on a sworn bill of particulars.

A report was submitted on a parcel of property recently sold by orders of the court as the result of a suit for partition brought by Maude I. Fletcher of Voluntown against her brother, Herbert E. Button, also of that place. The premises sold for $550 and Cyrus W. Fletcher of Voluntown was the purchaser, the report revealed. A deed conveying the premises to Mr. Fletcher was approved by the court. Attorney John T. Barry was counsel in the case.

Default for failure to plead was entered in the case of Edward S. LaPlace of New London against Theodora G. Brockway.

Several other cases scheduled to be heard today were postponed or went off the list.

JUDGMENT GIVEN IN LUMBER COMPANY'S FAVOR

Judgment for $187.68 was awarded the Groton Lumber company against Jeremiah Twomey of New London in a decision handed down Monday by Judge Charles B. Waller of the court of common pleas. The lumber company brought suit for $750 damages to recover on material alleged to have been furnished by the plaintiff for work done on buildings of the defendant.

STORRS RIFLE TEAM REGISTERS GOOD SEASON

(Special to The Bulletin)

STORRS, May 12—Terminating the present season by taking firts place in New England in the Hearst trophy match for college and military institutional teams the Connecticut Aggie rifle team presented one of the best records in the history of this port at the Storrs institution.

The team boasts of 14 victories out of 29 telegraphic matches, a clean slate in its four shoulder to shoulder matches, a third place in the Corps Area preliminary match, and a second in the national corps area match.

The classic rifle shoot of the year, the Hearst trophy match, found Connecticut Aggies in first place in New England, fifth in the east, and 23rd. in the country with a field of 158 teams. In this match Connecticut set itself a new record, and Anthony Lynch, '30, of Hartford, placed first in New England, second in the east, and fifth in the entire country against 790 competitors. Lynch is one of the outstanding riflemen ever to matriculate at the Aggies, and has made a number of new college records.

DEFENSE OF NAVAL PARITY ADOPTED BY CONFEREES

Senator Robinson, One of the American Delegation to London, Aided Secretary Stimson, Under Sharp Examination By the Senate Foreign Relations Committee—Mr. Stimson Stated That the Treaty Meant a Reduction In the Total Fleet of the U. S. of 175,000 Tons—In the Total Fleets of America, Great Britain and Japan of 430,000 Tons.

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—Secretary Stimson insisted under sharp examination by the senate foreign relations committee today that the London naval treaty brought parity between the American and British fleets in all categories of ships.

Set upon by the committee members on his second day's appearance, the secretary got quick aid from Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, one of the American delegation to London, who came into the discussion with a firm defense of the basis for parity adopted by the conferees.

Senator Robinson, republican, Indiana, provoked the Arkansan to action with inquiries as to the reason for American abandoning five of the fifteen heavy cruisers authorized by congress last year.

Secretary Stimson told the committee that the "substantial combat power of the two fleets" was the basis for determining parity.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, added, "This definition was found acceptable and sound because it is not practicable to give substantially different meaning to the term."

The secretary concluded his extemporaneous statement to the committee with a recounting of the savings and reductions accomplished under the treaty. He was asked to return tomorrow to subject himself to the questioning by committee members which he has welcomed.

He said the treaty accomplished a reduction in the total fleet of this country of 175,000 tons, and in the total fleets of America, Great Britain and Japan of 430,000 tons. He said the treaty "caps the program outlined to the 1922 Washington conference by Mr. Hughes and goes him 18,000 tons better."

Replying to Chairman Borah of the committee, Mr. Stimson explained the "escalatory clause" as he termed it, or the "escape clause" as Senator Borah described it. This is the clause permitting the signatory nations to go beyond the treaty limits under certain conditions.

Senator Borah brought up that if England decided to build more ships this conutry would be limited to additional construction in the same category. However, the secretary added that this country could claim the right to build in other categories if we felt endangered by France or Italy.

Mr. Stimson spoke most highly of Japan and praised the attitude of her delegation and of that government in permitting the United States to build past her in cruisers while asking Japan, at the same time, to stand still.

Senator Swanson, democrat, Virginia, an expert on naval affairs, opened the examination of Mr. Stimson by inquiring if protection of commerce as well as war strength was taken into consideration in framing the treaty. Both Mr. Stimson and Senator Robinson said it was.

Then Senator Robinson of Indiana, wanted to know if the treaty took into account the number of commercial vessels each nation might convert into warships.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, interrupted to say two obstacles were in the way of taking merchant shipping into account in defining "naval parity."

"First," he said, "there is no scientific basis or approximately accurate means of determining the potential combat value of armed merchant men in time of war.

"Secondly, no limitation of auxiliary craft, particularly of six inch cruisers, would be possible or practicable under present conditions if naval parity required the inclusion of vessels engaged in commerce."

Secretary Stimson discussed the history of the 8-inch gun cruisers and of the six inch gun cruisers and asserted that the delegation and experts were agreed "that all our eggs should not be placed in one basket."

"The cruiser has several functions," Mr. Stimson explained. "Some of them can best be done by the 8-inch gun cruisers, some of them by the six inch gun cruisers. When we had divided them into two equal parts we felt we had reached the safe solution."

Senator Robinson, of Indiana, questioned if the battleship was not becoming obsolete and whether other naval powers did not intend having the 10,000 tons cruiser take its place.

Stimson vigorously denied that the battleship was to be discarded.

Chairman Hale of the senate naval committee, has questioned whether the treaty does not force a change of policy by the American navy in favor of the six-inch gun cruisers at the expense of the eight-inch gun cruisers, which he contends is a policy adapted to the British navy but not to the American.

In this connection, Senator Hale announced today that he would proceed tomorrow with the hearings by his committee on he treaty and that Secretary Adams of the navy would be heard first. Secretary Adams, one of the American delegation has been waiting to appear before the foreign relations committee.

ACTRESS COLLEEN MORE WAS GRANTED DIVORCE

LOS ANGELES, May 13.—(AP)—Colleen Moore, petite actress of the films, today was granted a divorce from the motion picture director, John E. McCormick, on the grounds of cruelty. McCormick, who the actress said had agreed to a property settlement, did not appear in court to contest the suit.

Repeated insults to their guests, habitual "ugly moods," social engagements broken without apologies, and repeated orders that she "get out" of their Hollywood home, were the accusations made against McCormick by the actress. Apparently under an emotional strain, Colleen's voice quavered as she testified. The final straw, she related, was McCormick's demand that she leave their home when she returned, escorted by a nurse, from a hospital last March. They separated that day.

"I always hesitated to ask friends to our house," she testified, "because I never knew what Mr. McCormick would say to them. He was always making disparaging remarks about them in their presence. He never apologized."

ADMITS PROHIBITION LAW IS NOT 100 PER CENT PERFECT

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(AP)—The opinion that under certain conditions liquor can be made in the home without violating the prohibition laws was expressed today before the senate lobby committee by F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league.

The statement was made in response to questions by Chairman Caraway of the committee concerning a speech delivered recently in the house by Representative Fort, republican, New Jersey. McBride quoted Fort as saying that "the law permitted the making of liquor in the home."

"You don't agree with his interpretation?" Caraway asked.

"We think that was a very good speech that he made, as a whole," the witness replied. "That is his interpretation. I think probably he is right."

"Do you think that ought to be the law?" Caraway demanded.

"The law is not 100 per cent perfect yet," McBride said.

PLEADED NOT GUILTY TO MAINTAINING A LOTTERY

BRIDGEPORT, May 13—(AP)—Clifford J. Lewis, 45, prominent local sportsman and proprietor of a bowling alley and poolroom, will face Judge Frederic M. Peasley and jury in the criminal common pleas court on May 27. This date was set today when Lewis appeared and entered a plea of not guilty to two charges of maintaining a lottery. He was one of many who were put to plea during the day.

Lewis, who recently surrendered to the state's attorney, after threatening to fight extradition from New York, was unattended by counsel. When his case was called and he was asked his plea, he readily declared he was "not guilty" and in making his election of trial declared "jury, of course."

CHINESE ARMY TO RESORT TO AERIAL BOMBING

SHANGHAI, May 13.—(AP)—The nationalist government announced tonight that its forces had driven the northern aliance rebel army westward along the northern borders of Anhwei and Honan provinces in a "decisive initial battle." Much ammunition was captured from the rebels in their precipitate retreat.

The battle for supremacy in China has lasted five days. The nationalists said if they won it, the coalition of Yen Hsi-Shen, governor of Shansi province and Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang would collapse speedily. President Chiang Kai-Shek is personally directing the government troops from his headquarters at Suchow.

The nationalists asserted they repulsed northern attacks in western Shantung province, but fighting continued. Government bombing planes were reported to have done heavy damage to northern troops concentrated along the railroad west of Kaifeng.

Stating the government's intention to intensify aerial bombing of rebel armies in Honan province, the nationalist foreign ministry requested foreigners to evacuate the province. Bombing was expected to be severe near Chengchow.

STOCK SALESMAN HELD FOR FRAUDULENT PRACTICES

NEW HAVEN, May 13.—(AP)—Jerome Fiske Collins, stock salesman, today was charged with sixteen counts of fraudulent practices in connection with the sale of securities.

Four counts of conspiracy were also charged against him and his secretary, Miss Catherine M. Balcolm, 23.

They will be tried next Monday. The maximum penalty on each count is ten years in prison and a fine of $10,000. They are out on bail now.

The number of complaints against Collins, whose wife, Dorothea St. Claire operates a roadhouse in Woodbridge, is said to total more than 300.

SUSPENDED FROM CLASSES AT BROWN UNIVERSITY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 13.—(AP)—Undergraduate protest against compulsory chapel attendance at Brown university was answered today by the suspension from classes of Rollo G. Silver, of New York, a junior, because of a letter written by him and published last Thursday by the Brown Daily Herald, complaining of the poor quality of chapel speakers.

FIRE DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $1,000,000 IN SYRACUSE

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 13—(AP)—Damage estimated at $1,000,000 had been caused by a fire which swept through the main plant of the Pierce, Butler and Pierce Manufacturing company here tonight and was still raging at 10 p. m. (E. S. T.) One fireman, George Stewart, was overcome and taken to the first aid station of the factory, where he was attended by a physician.

DEATH OF DR. FRIDTJOF NANSEN, FAMOUS EXPLORER

OSLO, Norway, May 13.—(AP)—Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, famous as an explorer and worker for the betterment of humanity, died unexpectedly today of paralysis of the heart at the age of 68, and tonight all Norway was in mourning.

All the newspapers carried black borders as a sign of mourning and printed long obituaries, tracing the steps whereby Dr. Nansen became world famous for his explorations, then won renown as a statesman of international stature, and then returned to thoughts of polar exploration.

The end came very suddenly. Dr. Nansen had been suffering from phlebitis (inflammation of the inner membranes of the veins) and had been confined to bed but was believed to be making excellent recovery. He was up yesterday and was visited by a brother, who said his condition appeared normal.

CAGLE HAS RESIGNED AS CADET AT WEST POINT

WEST POINT, N. Y., May 13.—(AP)—Christian Keener (Red) Cagle resigned abruptly as a cadet today from the United States Military academy, by official request, following the revelation that he was married nearly two years ago in direct violation of cadet regulations, subsequently gaining All-American gridiron honors and distinction as one of the greatest Army halfbacks of all time.

Thus, in the swirling succession of events that within the past few days have beset the famous redhead like a flock of Stanford or Notre Dame tacklers, romance has brought a sudden finish to Cagle's military career.

The Army star handed in his resignation after being advised that press dispatches from New Orleans had disclosed the details of his marriage on Aug. 23, 1928, to Marion Munford Halle at Gretna, La., by a justice of the peace.

CONFERENCE OF METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, SOUTH

DALLAS, Tex., May 13—(AP)—The Episcopal form of government in the Methodist Episcopal church, South, triumphed today when the quadrennial conference, in session here, voted down by a decisive majority the proposed new constitution.

The document, representing four years of labor by a commission, and 28 years of agitation in the church for a written body of laws, would have required a two-thirds majority for adoption. The vote was 188 for and 205 against.

Defeat of the constitution was immediately preceded by the declarations that the paper would radically change church law from an Episcopal to a Congregational form of government.

DELIVERY TRUCK ROBBER CAPTURED BY POLICEMAN

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—A man accused of robbing a delivery truck in Brooklyn today was captured by a policeman who chased him for several blocks, over a roof and then grappled with him on a fire escape.

The prisoner said he was Charles Kramer, 26, and that he came from Newport, R. I. The policeman, William Brennan, said Kramer drew a pistol when he overtook him.

The truckmen, Louis Cohen and Peter Raynor, were held up and robbed of $226. As the man fled witnesses attracted Brennan's attention and he gave chase.

DECISION IN FAVOR OF THE PAINTERS' UNION

BRIDGEPORT, May 13—(AP)—Judge Christopher L. Avery in superior court today dissolved a temporary injunction that had ben granted to George A. Douglas, local painter. Through the injunction, Local Number 190 of the Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America, the executive committee of the local and its business agent, Peter Brewster, had been enjoined from interfering with workmen employed by Douglas.

QUITTING THE HARNESS BUSINESS AFTER 96 YEARS

ST. LOUIS, May 13.—(AP)—The automotive age has won another victory.

The J. B. Sickles company, which started making harness here when ox carts were common is quitting business after 96 years, President J. Littmann announced today. The firm made much of the harness used by wagon trains which started from St. Louis over the Santa Fe and Oregon trails.

THE YACHT ENTERPRISE DEFEATED THE VANITIE

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—The Enterprise, candidate for the honor of defending the America's cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's latest Shamrock, defeated the Vanitie by two minutes, 20 seconds in a 10 mile test today. The Enterprise had beaten the Resolute last defender, by more than 10 minutes in a 22-mile race yesterday.

Henry O. Lorenz, under sentence of death at the Wethersfield state prison for the murder of his friend, Nils E. Anderson, of Hartford, will appear before the board of pardons late in June to plead for commutation of sentence to life imprisonment, Gov. John H. Trumbull announced.

73 Indictments For Selling "Jake"

By Federal Grand Jury At Dayton, Ohio — Caused Numerous Deaths.

DAYTON, Ohio, May 13—(AP)—Numerous deaths and several hundred cases of serious paralysis caused by the drinking of a bootleg Jamaica Ginger concoction in many parts of the United States, resulted today in the indictment of 73 persons by a federal grand jury here.

The indicted persons are charged wit hconspiracy to violate the prohibition laws by transporting 5,000 gallons of the ginger from New York to Cincinnati, Columbus and other cities. Residents of many states are included in the list of accused distributors of the concoction, commonly known as "Jake."

Among those indicted were:

Austin Dolan, Boston, Mass.; Harry Gross, Boston; Leo B. Dreyfoos, Cincinnati; Irving S. Wolfe, Altoona, Pa.; Jack Pressman, Cincinnati; Myron E. Kennedy and George Hennigan, Marion, Ind.; Dock Pierce and Lon Yockum, Middlesboro, Ky.; Charles E. Eaton, Albert E. Eaton, John Hightower and Herbert Saylor, Corbin, Ky.; Charles Cole, Barbourville, Ky.; A. Jack McCoy, Hosman, Ky.; P. D. Whitehurst, Corinth, Miss.; Hill Brothers, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Walter Anderson, New York city; J. Carr Boyd, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Sam Wheelock, Johnson City, Tenn.; Henry Berger, Marion, Ind.; S. A. Hall, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Frank E. Linet, Cincinnati; Abraham Michaels and John J. McVeigh, New York city; The Hub Products Co., Boston, Mass.; Harry Gross, Boston, Mass.; Baronet Company, Inc., Cincinnati.

DEADLOCK THREATENS TARIFF REVISION BILL

WASHINGTON, May 13. — (AP) — President Hoover will not intervene in an attempt to untangle the tariff situation on capitol hill arising out of the conference deadlock over the flexible provision.

This was the definite impression gained today after a conference between Mr. Hoover and Representative Bacharach, republican, New Jersey, one of the conferees on the Hawley-Smoot measure.

Mr. Bacharach discussed the tariff with the executive coincidentally with other matters and came away from the white house firmly convinced that congress would have to settle its tariff differences without any more statements from the president.

Mr. Hoover in his message to the regular session repeated the views expresed in his message to the special session April 16, 1929, when he advocated continuance of executive authority under the flexible clause to change duties after investigation by the tariff commission as a "necessity in protection of public interest."

In an effort to gain this free hand, the senate conferees are ready to go back to the senate and ask its consent. They will meet the house conferees tomorrow and agree to their request that the senate do something about the matter even if entails a lengthy contest. And the democrats and republican independents, who wrote the legislative flexible provision in the bill over Mr. Hoover's protest, are prepared to fight out this point—as Senator Connally, democrat, Texas, puts it—"If it takes all summer."

Republican leaders frankly are concerned over the outlook for the bill. Unless the senate consents to release its conferees from the pledge not to recede on the flexible clause, they say, a hopeless deadlock may occur.

OUT ON $15,000 BAIL FOR SECOND DEGREE MURDER

NEW YORK, May 13.—(AP)—James Matthew Maxon, Jr., freed from the Tombs prison under $15,000 bail to await trial for second degree murder, started tonight for his home in Chattanooga, where his father is Episcopal bishop coadjutor of Tennessee.

Earlier today he had pleaded not guilty to the indictment against him, which charges that on the early morning of April 18 he beat to death, in a drunken frenzy, an aged fellow lodger at a West End avenue rooming house.

Soon after the court admitted him to bail the bond was supplied and the 21-year-old youth was liberated for the first time since his arrest on Good Friday morning.

Myles A. Walsh, the attorney who represented Maxon in court today, said the lad took a train for his father's home early tonight.

PLANE TO SERVE AS "AIR HEARSE" FOR SIDAR

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, May 13.—(AP)—Airplanes are figuring in death as they did in life for Colonel Pablo Sidar, Mexico's hero of the air who fell with his plane near here Sunday night in attempting a non-stop flight from Mexico to Argentina.

A large amphibian plane, on the way from Mexico City, will serve as an "air hearse" for Colonel Sidar and his companion, Captain Carlo Rovirosa, if the latter's body is found. Captain Rovirosa is believed to have jumped from the disabled plane with a parachute, and it is feared that his body may have been devoured by sharks.

SEARCHING FOR MAN WHO HAD BEEN CLEANING YACHT

HARTFORD, May 13—(AP)—An all day search in the Wethersfield cove by Frank Luckingham, of East Hartford, veteran river man, failed to reveal any trace of John Hanazil, 20, who disappeared from his work Monday noon and was thought to have been drowned in the Connecticut river. Hanzail had been cleaning a yacht in the cove during the morning before his disappearance was reported. Search with grappling irons in the cove will be continued tomorrow.

ARE PREPARING CHARGES AGAINST BISHOP CANNON

DALLAS, Tex., May 13—(AP)—Josephus Daniels, member of the North Carolina delegation to the convention here of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, joined by 20 others, was preparing charges tonight against Bishop James Cannon, Jr., for engaging in stock market activities, Daniels announced.

Sholapur, India, Now Under Martial Law

Troops Contin[illegible] Put Down Resistanc[illegible] Other Sections o[illegible].

BOMB[illegible]dia, May 13.—(AP)—While [illegible]ernment tonight assembled [illegible]ed conference, India's recal[illegible] civil disobedience cohorts bide[illegible] call of Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, their [illegible]man leader, to new efforts of resistance.

Sholapur, under martial law, seethed with hidden activity. Its more than 100,000 population scurried to cover with the arrival today of 1,000 additional troops and enactment of stringent marital law. Under the surface of complete military control Hindu leaders, followers of Mahatma Gandhi, sought means of thwarting the increased threat over them.

Throughout the Indian domain arrests of illegal salt makers and depot raiders went on relentlessly. Courts sentenced the offenders to extreme penalties. Only Abbas Tyabji, the 80-year-old disciple who succeeded Gandhi, and a few irresponsible boys, apparently escaped severe prison labor terms. The tightening of government attitude everywhere was in evidence. It was estimated tonight that from 200 to 500 natives had been seized, many of whom already were on their way to prison.

Sholapur's recent death list of 20-odd was not swelled in today's dispatches. The Bombay situation was improved as indeed, it was elsewhere, in the sense that the forces of law and order seemed to have succeeded in maintaining the upper hand. This of course is different from saying that there was any organic change, although official announcement said that for the first time in weeks the government was in absolute control in Peshawar, key city of the northwest.

Troops have mopped up the whole Peshawar area. As they swept through town after town airplanes operated simultaneously in attacks upon outlaw bands.

Eighty arrests in Calcutta alone served to sober the civil disobedience forces in that district. The trial of Abbas Tyabji was concluded without serious disorder, which in itself was a surprise to the officials.

TO ENFORCE 7 P. M. TO 6 A. M. CURFEW IN SHOLAPUR

SHOLAPUR, India, May 13.—(AP)—The British officer commanding this riotous mill-city, where troops today took control of the administration, issued a notice this evening declaring that under martial law a curfew order would be enforced between 7 p. m. and 6 a. m., beginning tonight.

DEMAND FOR DUES HAS REPLACED KIDNAPING

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 13—(AP)—Styles have changed in the extortion racket in St. Louis and nearby cities.

Whereas a few days ago kidnapings were the rage, the newest thing is the "Law Breakers' Protective association" and bookmakers and gamblers of the St. Louis area have received letters from the organization demanding "dues" in sums ranging up to $20,000. The letters, signed "Red Terror," say the association is extended to all principal cities and warn the recipients they must accede to the demands or face "elimination."

Two of the letters were received by Tom Kearney, betting commissioner, and D. D. Murphy, showman. Kearney, who made public his letter despite a warning to the contrary, and declares he does not intend to comply.

The newest form of extortion follows a profitable five months of kidnapings, which according to police have netted the abductors approximately $150,000. Nine persons have been kidnaped and held for ransom since the latter part of December.

FOREIGN MINISTERS OF FRANCE AND ITALY CONFER

GENEVA, May 13.—(AP)—The foreign ministers of France and Italy, Aristide Briand and Dino Grandi, today discussed points of issue in their respective naval positions which could not be reconciled at the recent London conference.

As luncheon guests of Arthur Henderson, British foreign secretary, who sought to bring the two nations into accord, the two ministers talked several hours but none of the three would comment on the discussions.

It is understood in informed quarters that they confined themselves merely to outlining their differences as a preliminary step to long negotiations. They did not expect to accomplish much at Geneva, since neither will be here long, but did desire to get the conversations again underway.

POSSE IS SEARCHING FOR MURDEROUS FARMER

HAMILTON, Ont., May 13.—(AP)—A posse was searching the countryside near Woodburn today for William Topp, 30-year-old farmer, for whom a warrant has been issued in connection with a double shooting there early this morning.

Miss Marian Tweedie, 67, was killed, and her cousin, Emery Tweedie, was seriously wounded.

Police say that Topp called at the Tweedie home and left shortly before the shootings occurred.

Tweedie was shot down when he answered a knock at the door and Miss Tweedie was slain as she ran across the fields for aid.

NAVY DIRIGIBLE TO BE NAMED THE AKRON

WASHINGTON, May 13.—(AP)—The first of the navy's two new mammoth dirigibles is to be named the Akron.

Assistant Secretary Jahncke of the navy said today that in a conference with Secretary Adams and Rear Admiral Moffett it had been decided the new airship would be named for the city in which it is being built. It is expected the Akron will be completed by the summer of 1931.

CONFESSED COMPLICITY IN WATERTOWN BANK ROBBERY

Edward Puckas of Waterbury Arrested In St. Louis—With Puckas Were Two Other Waterbury Youths, Who Puckas Exonerated, Saying They Were Merely Helping Him Spend Money—Puckas Had Only $54 Left of His $7,500 Share of the $22,000 Loot—The Three Youths Have Signed Waivers of Extradition.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 13—(AP)—The search for the trio of youths who held up and robbed the Watertown, Conn., Trust company, on March 28, tonight had narrowed down to one.

Entering a hotel room here last night, police surprised Edward Puckas, 21, of Waterbury, Conn., who today confessed, according to authorities, to his complicity in the robbery which nette dthem $22,000.

With Puckas were Albert Krutinitis, 20, of Detroit, and Peter Madison, 21, of Waterbury. Puckas exonerated them, saying that they were merely helping him spend his money.

Of his $7,500 share of the loot, Puckas had only $54 left. He told of spending lavishly on women and liquor, automobile and airplane rides since the robbery.

He was the second to be arrested. On April 11, Detroit police captured John Smeden, 22, also of Waterbury, and he is now in the Litchfield, Conn., county jail, awaiting trial.

Puckas, Krutinitis and Madison, signed waivers of extradition, and are awaiting word from Watertown authorities. Meanwhile, police are conducting a search for Charles Zenkauskas, named by Puckas as one of his two accomplices.

OPINIONS EXPRESSED BY WATERBURY POLICE

WATERBURY, Conn., May 13—(AP)—Waterbury police said today that they believed Albert Krutinitis, arrested in St. Louis with Edward Puckas, as a suspect in the Watertown bank robbery, was really Charles Kenkauskas who has been sought with Puckas ever since the hold-up.

Peter Madison, they believe, is Peter Krakauskas, who has been linked with the robbery of the Buckingham Hall on the night of a boxing show when $1,800 was stolen from the cashier.

John Smeden is now held in the Litchfield county jail under $25,000 bail. About $6,500 of his share of the loot has been recovered.

MANSLAUGHTER CONVICTION OF A DRY AGENT UPHELD

CINCINNATI, May 13. —(AP)—Conviction of Roy V. Miller, first federal prohibition agent to kill a man during a liquor raid, was upheld here today by United States circuit court of appeals which refused the defendants plea to reverse a ruling of United States district court of western Kentucky.

Miller was convicted in federal court at Paducah, Ky., for the killing in 1925 of Frank Sears near Daniel Boone, Ky., during a search for a still. He was sentenced to two years for voluntary manslaughter. His appeal to district court for a new trial was denied and he carried the case to the court of appeals.

It was definitely established at Miller's trial that he was the first federal agent to slay anyone during a raid since the prohibition law went into effect.

BISHOP T. M. O'LEARY IN AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

PALMER, Mass., May 13.—(AP)—Bishop Thomas M. O'Leary, of the Roman Catholic diocese of Springfield and the chancellor of the diocese, the Rev. Dr. Robert L. Ahern, narrowly escaped serious injuries this afternoon, when the bishop's automobile tipped over on the road to Brimfield, one mile east of Palmer. Bishop O'Leary suffered severe abrasion of the face. The chancellor was in a semi-conscious condition, but was not badly hurt.

The bishop was on his way to confirmation exercises to be held tonight at St. Bernard's church, Worcester. His car was making fair speed when a truck and trailer cut in a short distance in front of him. The bishop's chauffeur swung his car off the road to cut around the truck, headed into the adjacent field and swung back again to avoid nearby ditches.

SENATE VOTES RESTRICT MEXICAN IMMIGRATION

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—An immigration barrier against Mexico was voted today by the senate.

Without even a record roll call, the senate passe da bill by Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, restricting Mexican immigration to this country to about 1,506 annually.

The measure was approved after the senate had voted 51 to 16 to accept a proposal by Harris confining the immigration to Mexico alone rather than to all Central and South American countries as originally provided by his bill.

The Harris bill now goes to the house where there is no assurance of its early consideration.

GUARDSMEN TO PROTECT NEGROES OF SHERMAN, TEX.

SHERMAN, Texas, May 13—(AP)—A threat against the Negro population of Sherman, scene of last Friday's rioting by a mob that destroyed the courthouse in taking the life of George Hughes, a Negro, charged with attacking a white woman, was made today in the form of typewritten warnings tacked on several residences in an outlying Negro settlement.

The warnings, threatening destruction by fire of Negro homes unless the occupants left Sherman within 24 hours, were discovered by national guardsmen on duty under orders of Governor Dan Moody.

Another warning was found at the business place of a Sherman contractor who employs a number of Negroes, advising him he must discharge his Negro workers within 36 hours.

Col. L. S. Davidson, provost marshal, advised the Negroes and the contractor to disregard the warnings. He said the military court of inquiry was prepared to make a thorough investigation.

The officer reiterated his statement that the lives and property of Negroes would be protected and said the guardsmen would shoot to kill if it became necessary to insure such protection.

FRENCH FLIERS COMPLETE THEIR FLIGHT TO BRAZIL

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, May 13—(AP)—Three intrepid fliers who conquered South Atlantic miles and storms, tonight came to this capital for the acclaim which is their award.

Jean Mermoz and the two aviators who in 20 hours and 16 minutes, flew with the Paris mails from St. Louis, Senegal, Africa, to Natal, Brazil, reached Rio Janeiro tonight to find that this city had declared a holiday in their honor.

Never before had their feat been achieved. They had soared out into uncharted air lanes over a stretch of sea 3,160 kilometres (1,975 miles) wide. And, unerringly, in spite of a terrific rainstorm that at times sent a flood of water across the floor of their hydroplane, they had reached their goal. It was a glorious deed and this enthusiastic port never greeted visiting notables more regally.

The Aeropostal company announced tonight that the St. Louis-to-Natal mail time had been cut to three days and the trans-ocean time to Buenos Aires to four days or less.

GREEN SAYS A. F. OF L. HAS NO OBJECTION TO ROBERTS

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said in a statement today that his organization would not interpose objection to the confirmation of Owen J. Roberts as a member of the supreme court.

"Such information as we have been able to secure leads us to the conclusion that Mr. Roberts is eminently fitted to serve as a member of the supreme court," he said. "His experience and training have been in a field where he has had wide opportunity to understand the problems which grow out of human relations in industry and social problems which so vitally affect human relationships."

RUDY VALLEE HAS BEEN AWARDED A VARSITY "M"

NEW YORK, May 13.—(AP)—The voice that has charmed thousands of feminine hearts by its crooning melodies tonight won an honor usually reserved for giants of the gridiron and other athletic heroes.

At a dinner of the New York branch of the University of Maine Alumni association, held in Brooklyn Rudy Vallee was awarded a varsity "M" for popularizing the university's Stein song.

Charles Crossland, alumni secretary, came down from Orono, Me., to make the presentation. One hundred men attended and in the musical program Vallee took a prominent part.

CAPT. TURNER FAILED TO EQUAL LINDBERGH'S RECORD

VALLEY STREAM, N. Y., May 13—(AP)—Capt. Roscoe Turner landed at Curtiss field at 7:40 p. m. (E. S. T.) tonight, completing a one-stop transcontinental flight. He failed to break the record set by Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh on Easter day.

Capt. Turner made a forced landing. He ran out of gas 3,000 feet in the air and descended. He broke a wheel of his plane but escaped injury.

He failed by more than three quarters of an hour to break the Lindberghs' record. To equal the record he would have had to land at 6:53:21 p. m. (E. S. T.)

34 APPLICANTS GIVEN CITIZENSHIP PAPERS

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 13. — At a naturalization session of the Windham county superior court held here today, 34 applicants were given the right of franchise, a majority of them being residents of Thompson and Moosup while others are from Canterbury, Ashford, Willimantic, Sterling and other places.

After the final papers had been delivered to the applicants, Judge Arthur F Ells of Waterbury, presiding over the session, descended from the bench and in a graceful gesture of friendship and welcome congratulated the new citizens upon their entrance into the ranks of the United States citizenry, confirming his expression with individual handshakes.

Those admitted to citizenship were: Nathan Schilberg, (Poland) Willimantic; Peter Atsales, (Greece) Danielson; Adam Maleski, (Poland) Sterling; Onesime Roy (Great Britain) Danielson; Ulric Danyluck, (Poland) Canterbury; Frank Ruggi, (Italy) Putnam; Marie Emma Turcotte, (Great Britain) Willimantic; Veronica Shomon, (Szecho-Slovakia) Ashford; Marcia Pendleton Champagne (Great Britain) Moosup; Joseph Cenbor, (Poland) Willimantic; Matilda Kirahy Saba, (Syria) Willimantic; Hilda Helstrom, (Sweden) Canterbury; Regina Laufer Tylar, (Poland) Moosup; Adam Howey, (Hungary) Ashford; Minnie Frey Krauss, (Germany) Moosup; Athanus Bardu, (Albinia) Thompson; Guy Fittabile, (Italy) Windham; Hanna Gustafva Peterson, (Sweden) Woodstock; John Barnabic, (Serbia) Moosup; Swen Daniel Strand (Sweden) Thompson; Seit Beqo, (Albania) Thompson; Adelard Martel, (Great Britain) Thompson; Ernst Viktor Leonardson, (Sweden) Putnam; Karafil Baker, (Albania) Killingly; John Ojala, (Finland) Woodstock; Thomas Skaff, (Syria) Willimantic; Ernest Morin, (Great Britain) Willimantic; Daisy Gladys Gee, (Great Britain) Plainfield; Charles Gee, (Great Britain) Plainfield; Victor Piecyk, (Poland) Eastford; Achille Nicolas Athanassie, (Greece) Thompson; Christi Antoni Giti, (Albania) Thompson; Lazar Bardu, (Albania) Thompson, and Joseph Czupryna, (Poland) Moosup.

There were six of the applications dismissed: Sam Korpita, (Poland) Danielson; John Joseph Gabrys, (Poland), Plainfield; Joseph Nahass, (Syria) Willimantic; Rose Vertefeuille Adams, (Great Britain) Willimantic; Bortolo Constantine, (Italy) Moosup; and Cleophas D'Amour, (Great Britain) Willimantic.

Five applications continued for further study or depositions were: Elphege Cloutier, (Great Britain) Putnam; Delia Keating Reynolds, (Great Britain) Willimantic; Sadie Haddad, (Syria) Willimantic; Ovide Guimont, (Great Britain) Danielson, and Wladyslaw Andrychowski, (Poland) Willimantic.

L. W. Throckmorton of New Haven, naturalization examiner assisted the court and the oath was administered to the new citizens by Miss Marjorie Bradford of Putnam, assistant clerk of the court.

In his address to the new citizens made from the floor of the court chamber Judge Ells stressed the importance of the obligations assumed in citizenship. Judge Ells concluded by saying that he was greatly pleased on this occasion to represent President Hoover in congratulating the applicants on their success and admission. Court was adjourned until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at Putnam.

Judge Arthur F. Ells, who was here today to preside over a naturalization session of the Windham county superior court, granted an injunction on behalf of the estate of the late Joseph Bosse, restraining the Metropolitan Life Insurance company from turning over to Clement Hurteau, former business partner of the deceased, the proceeds of a $5,000 insurance policy. The injunction, which was prepared by Attorney Harry E. Gaucher, representing the estate, is the outgrowth of equitable action with regard to the said insurance policy, the action having been returnable before the superior court the first Tuesday in April.

WILL USE LANTERNS AND FLASHLIGHTS FOR LIGHT

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 13. —Not a few people today went into a "preparedness" program against the edict of the common council that the street lights throughout the city be turned off at midnight tonight. Stores handling flashlights received several calls for this type of equipment and a number of family heads said today that they had shined up the old family lantern. This form of curtailment alone is expected to prove one of the strongest incentives for the calling of another special city meeting to rectify matters by levying a new tax rate sufficient to defray budgeted expenses.

Two of the three persons arrested in connection with an accident at Windham Center about 8:30 o'clock Monday night were presented in police court this morning. Edwin C. Ackley of 230 South Park street, driver of the coupe that ran head-on into the team driven by David Tachinsky of Bricktop road, was charged with reckless driving. On request of his counsel, Attorney Samuel B. Harvey, a continuance until May 24 was granted. Mrs. Miriam B. Abbe of South Windham was charged with parking on the left side of the highway and through Attorney William A. King she pleaded nolo contendre. A fine of $2 and costs was imposed by Judge Frank H. Foss. Ackley claimed that the headlights of the Abbe car blinded him as he approached the team. Upon his recovery from his injury, Tachinsky will be charged with failure to have a light on his wagon.

Allan D. Colvin of New London, past governor of the 30th Rotary district, was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club held in the Nathan Hale hotel with a luncheon this noon. He was introduced by President Louis H. Arnold. After outlining the various methods by which the club could be of service during the ensuing year to District Governor-elect Richard E. Dodge, the speaker touched on the fifth object of Rotary in a plea for improving working conditions and providing adequate compensation to employes. Guests included Judge Arthur F. Ells of Waterbury, Philip Dodge of Storrs and John J. O'Rourke, executive secretary of the chamber of commerce. During the session 10 potential officers were elected, five of the number to be elected directors next week. Charles B. Pomeroy reported progress on the Good Road meeting to be held in Lebanon next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. D. S. E. Herbert W. Huber reported good returns on the voluntary subscriptions to the boys' and girls' work fund of the club. Secretary Gerard E Loiselle was instructed to send a letter of congratulation to William F. Lennon, Jr., of this city, on his award of the third national prize of $100 in the Gorgas memorial essay contest. This was on motion of Chairman William A. Dawson of the boys' work committee.

Quick Pile Relief

No Salves or Cutting

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds, because it removes this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

HEM-ROID tablets as sold by druggists everywhere, have such a wonderful record for quick and lasting relief, that Lee and Osgood always sell them with guarantee of money-back if they do not end all Pile suffering.

THE 4-way cold KELVINATOR gives these Extra Services!

- Automatic Super-Fast Freezing—Iso-Thermic Tubes, an exclusive Kelvinator discovery, provide for the first time amazingly fast automatic freezing of ice cubes and desserts.
- Cold Storage Compartment—In de luxe models, a temperature always below freezing for storing fresh or frozen meats, fish, game and those new frozen delicacies you now find at many markets.
- Greatest Ice Capacity—De luxe models provide more ice, size for size, than any other refrigerator. A single freezing gives from 20 pounds in the smallest size to 34 pounds in the largest size.
- Kelvin Cooler—An accessory, useful in two ways: First, to freshen vegetables and keep them fresh; and second, as a water cooler. All-porcelain, inside and out, and fitted with faucet.

In the same sense that the self-starter, electric lights and four-wheel brakes multiplied the service afforded by the motor car—so Kelvinator's extra features multiply the service given by electric refrigeration in the home. These extra services are highly desirable. No one would want to try to get along without them. Once you fully realize the merit of these extra services, you will prefer Kelvinator's 4-Way Cold and multiple services in home refrigeration.

DANIELSON

FUNERAL OF MRS. IDA M. TILLINGHAST TUESDAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, May 13.—Five clergymen participated in the funeral services for Mrs. Ida M. Tillinghast, wife of Aden A. Tillinghast, at the Congregational church in South Killingly, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. George Watt, Baptist state missionary for Rhode Island, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. F. M. Buker of the Knotty Oak church at Anthony, R. I., a former pastor at North Sterling, Rev. C. A. Wooster, the present pastor at North Sterling, and Rev. Henry A. Coolidge, pastor at South Killingly. During the service a quartet composed of Rev. Albert Abbott, pastor of the Danielson Methodist Episcopal church, A. P. Burns, David King and Henry A. McEwen sang Abide With Me, and Still, Still With Thee. No Night There was sung by Rev. Mr. Wooster. Burial was in Westfield cemetery, Danielson. The bearers were Raymond Griffiths, Nelson Griffiths, Milan D. Whittaker and Byron Place. There were many beautiful floral pieces. A. F. Wood was in charge of the arrangements.

Warden Gaston A. Maindon said this morning that at a meeting of the official board of the borough last evening it was decided to invite all who wish to have sidewalks constructed under the arrangement in which the borough pays half the cost should file applications with the court of burgesses. Such applications will be received for the next three or four weeks. Thereafter it is planned to call a special borough meeting that approval of such construction may be obtained for streets that were not included in the list approved at a meeting of the borough last year, for sidewalk construction.

The Windham County Y. M. C. A. has an entertainment troupe that already has made an appearance at Eastford, where a benefit was given for the girls of Eastford who are desirous of attending the Older Girls' conference at Willimantic the coming week-end. The members of this troupe are mostly residents of Danielson, and include Isabell Abbott, Dorothy Mansfield, Pauline Rawley, Madeline Fournier, Alice Farrand, Mayette Paine, Emily Mann, Henrietta Thompson, Mildred Meech, Ruth Mellor and Phyllis Kenworthy. The program presented at Eastford included a play, recitation, musical numbers.

Just one more week remains for settling tax accounts with Father Killingly. Collector Walsh has steadily been receiving taxes since April 21, so the month limit for paying expires Wednesday of next week. Those who have not paid by that time will find that when they do come to square accounts they will find a sort of surcharge on their bills in the way of interest at the rate of 9 per cent per annum.

Wouldn't everyone be surprised and delighted if the census of the borough, now practically complete, showed an increase of from 20 to 25 per cent over the figures for the 1920 census. Officially, no information to verify this prospect is available, but there are straws to show that an increase may be anticipated and quite a substantial one, too.

The ban against starting fires in the open remains effective. While a forest fire might not spread as rapidly now as would have been the case two weeks ago, when verdant growths had not reached their present state of development, the fire menace continues to exist. Fire wardens are counting for the continuance of extreme care in discarding matches, cigarettes, or in any manner being careless in a manner to start a fire. Issuance of permits to burn brush or other materials must await the coming of a copious rain.

At the next special borough meeting, to be held in the not distant future, there will be a clause in the warning under which the voters will be asked to consider issuing bonds to cover the borough's indebtedness of about $26,000, and to retire present outstanding notes, mostly held by individuals. The object in proposing the bond issue is to fund the borough's debt at a lower rate of interest than the outstanding notes carry, and effect a considerable annual saving. It is believed possible under present conditions in the financial world to place the borough's bonds on an interest basis of 4 1-4 to 4 1-2 per cent.

Powdrell & Alexander, operating six mills in this town and employing upwards of 1,600 persons, are to establish a curtain plant on the Pacific coast, at Los Angeles. The firm does a large business on the coast, but is unable to make deliveries to the trade out there as promptly as would be desirable in the best interests of the business. With a factory operating in Los Angeles this condition would be largely overcome. Establishment of this plant is not expected to have any untoward effect on Danielson, as the concern is doing a constantly increasing business throughout the nation and in Canada, and now rate the largest curtain manufacturing plant in the world, turning out many millions of pairs every year.

Preparations were complete today for the coming here Wednesday of the Pawtucket High school band. Their visit to Danielson is sponsored by the Rotary club and the Lions club and is part of the special effort being made to produce some $600 to meet the cost of uniforming the Killingly High school band, formed last year. The two bands will parade at 5:45 Wednesday afternoon, and the visiting band will play concerts in the high school auditorium during the afternoon and evening.

Rivers and smaller streams in this territory are at the lowest level for a spring season for years. An almost utter lack of rain for weeks and weeks has caused them to drop to lower and lower levels. However, there is an abundant supply for domestic purposes in the reservoirs of the Crystal Water Co. at East Killingly. Old timers are commenting that it seems strange indeed that a drought should be experienced at this time of the year.

All the communities hereabouts are progressing with their arrangements for the observance of Memorial day. There are to be exercises in memory of the honored dead in Danielson, Dayville, East Killingly, South Killingly and at Brooklyn.

Residents of this and neighboring towns have been invited by Director H. H. Ellis of the State Trade school at Putnam to attend the 18th annual Open Night session on Thursday of this week. As a matter of fact, there are to be afternoon and evening sessions, with all departments in operation, and affording the interested public opportunity to inspect the school as it should be seen to most fully appreciate it.

It had not been established up to this afternoon just what sort of an explosive little Avis Breayea was pounding on with a bolt when she was injured yesterday afternoon. It is regarded as most likely to have been a stray cartridge that somehow came into her possession.

Danielson has no organized Clean-up week this spring, but it so happens that Danielson is being tidied up in pleasing manner. At the present time the borough is taking on the appearance that has gained for it the reputation of being one of the prettiest places of its size in southern New England.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Haselton of the West Side were called to Nashua, N. H., today by the death of Mr. Haselton's sister.

Long distance tourists are coming into New England early this year. Today an observer of motor vehicles said that he had noted cars running through the business section that bore registrations of such far away states as Georgia, Tennessee and Wisconsin.

A county track meet under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. is to be held Saturday at the fair grounds in Brooklyn. Those who win places in this meet will be eligible to compete in the state meet to be held at Middletown on June 7. The various events usually held at county meets will be run off at Brooklyn on Saturday.

A large attendance is looked for Thursday afternoon when members of Sarah Williams Danielson chapter, D. A. R., meet to elect officers for another year and to hear the reports of the chapter's delegates to the recent Continental congress held in Washington, D. C.

Local members of the Windham County Kennel club will be in Putnam next Monday evening to attend the third annual banquet of the club at the Putnam inn. An attendance of about 50 is expected.

Today was asserted by a person who has kept account to be the 17th that has elapsed since any considerable amount of rain has fallen in this immediate section.

At a meeting of the warden and court of burgesses last evening an application from the American Legion to hold a carnival was denied. This is in line with the court's attitude for several years past and also with the position recently taken by the chamber of commerce.

With continued fair weather, First Selectman Charles A. Tillinghast said today, oiling of borough streets should be completed Wednesday. Removal of stones that were in gravel spread over the oil will be made as rapidly as possible.

Numbers of citizens have expressed to Chief A. P. Woodward of the fire department their approval of the proposal that the borough purchase an additional motor pumper, in the interest of the greater security Danielson needs against destructive fires.

Approximately 60 people, having heard of amazing catches of pout on a state preserve in the eastern part of the town, flocked out there last night, but nary a pout did any of them get, and the answer appears to be that the fish are practically cleaned out.

Thursday afternoon closing of stores in Danielson will be inaugurated the week after the Fourth and will continue through the remainder of July and through August.

PUTNAM

NOTED ACTRESS GRANTED DIVORCE FROM W. H. COFFIN

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, May 13.—Word was received here today of the granting of a divorce in Reno, Nevada, court, to Frances Starr, noted actress, from her husband, William Haskell Coffin, one of America's best known artists and illustrators, and son of George M. Coffin, receiver of the First National bank of this city. The actress was granted legal separation on grounds of non-support. In her testimony she alleged that her husband did not know the meaning of a household bill and that from the time of their marriage on May 27, 1920, until the time she left him, she paid all expenses, even those of his three children by a former marriage. Mrs. Coffin, by a court order, was given permission to resume her maiden name.

The divorce action of the actress was one of considerable interest to Connecticut people, owing to the fact that Mr. Coffin, whose paintings are known to magazine readers throughout the nation, is a frequent visitor in this city, where his father, an official of the treasury department, is engaged in closing up the tangled affairs of the defunct Putnam bank.

The divorced wife of the artist is one of the best known characters on the American stage. She gained fame 20 years ago when she played for two seasons in Eugene Walters' famous play, "The Easiest Way," under management of David Belasco.

DISCUSSION ON FEDERAL POSTOFFICE BUILDING

(Special to The Bulletin.)

PUTNAM, May 13.—A federal postoffice building for Putnam was among the topics discussed Monday evening at the annual meeting of the Putnam chamber of commerce. The federal building for this city has been on "the fry" for nearly 20 years and from time to time has flared up in Washington, to a point where local men in the know were prompted to prognosticate a time when final action on the matter would be taken by government officials and operations started. The postoffice situation had been dormant until recently, when President Hoover submitted to the house a supplemental estimate call of $28,693,450 for the public buildings programme of the government, which included an increase of $33,500 for the postoffice building fund for this city. The fund to date, appropriated by congress, totals $119,000, and will be further increased when the government disposes of the lot on the corner of Grove and South Main streets, which was originally acquired by the department as a site for the proposed postoffice.

At the C. of C. meeting various members contributed brief opinions concerning the government's intentions. Mr. Macdonald said, "I'll tell you what I know of the situation," and during his talk submitted a review of all transactions in the postoffice matter which have transpired to date. He said that three different parties are attempting to secure the government site on Grove and South Main streets which is for sale, and in view of the fact that there is competition for its purchase, he believed that the postoffice department could realize the amount it paid for the property in 1912, which will augment the available funds considerably. In closing, Mr. Macdonald said that the government is reticent about its plans and, according to information, it will go right ahead with the federal building project when it is prepared to launch operations without telling Putnam anything about it.

Important among the cases slated to be heard at a short calendar session of superior court to be held in this city on Thursday, May 15, before Judge Arthur F. Ells of Waterbury, is the divorce action of Mrs. Dorothy E. Prince, against her husband, Frederick M. Prince, of this city. Mrs. Prince, a former resident of Putnam, now makes her home in Milford, Mass. She is represented by Attorney M. H. Geissler of Putnam and three motions in her case to be presented in court Thursday are: Motion for allowance to prosecute, motion for allowance for support of minor child and motion for reference to committee. It was explained today by court authorities that the case of Mrs. Prince, who seeks separation from her husband, alleging unfaithfulness, will not be tried until a later date. Mr. Prince has filed a counter-complaint in answer to his wife's allegations, but no mention of his case, which is now pending before the court, is made in the short calendar notices issued to the bar today by Curtis Dean, clerk of courts.

Other cases on the short calendar for Thursday are: Frank X. Gelinas vs. Arsene Bacon, default for failure to answer; N. Stuart Campbell, et al., vs. National Rhea Co., hearing on order of notice on application of receiver for decree confirming sale, allowing account, fixing compensation of receiver and his counsel and authorizing payment of final dividend. The W. T. Rawleigh Co. vs. Spiro Talabac and Alphonse Valade, motion for judgment by default; Anna F. Pardue vs. Henry B. Ford, administrator, judgment by default. Bertha Duchaineau Shea vs. Martin Shea, motion to place on uncontested list. Damase Guilbault vs. Regina Bedard, motion to restore to docket.

Uncontested Divorces

Fred Chapman vs. Ruth Tannar Chapman; Claire Spagna Menalda vs. Jean Menalda; J. George Theriaque vs. Marie Louis Theriaque.

Court will convene promptly at 10 o'clock (D. S. T.).

HEARING EVIDENCE ON TRUDEAU MURDER CASE

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, May 13.—Deputy Chief John C. Templeman of the Webster police department said late this afternoon that evidence against Leon A. Trudeau of Webster, charged with the murder of his wife, Cecilia, in that town, Feb. 23, was given the grand jury sitting in Worcester today. Fifteen witnesses were subpoenaed today and among those who testified were Miss Lena Wieczek, 76 Lamartine street, Worcester, who is being held by the state as a material witness in the brutal killing of the pretty young Webster matron; Sergt. Patrick J. Pierce and Lieut. Patrick J. Flanagan of the Worcester police department; two state detectives. Chief Templeman, Patrolman Fred Wagner of the Webster police and Louis Choinere, a Webster milkman, who discovered the strangled and brutally beaten body of Mrs. Trudeau. The testimony occupied the greater part of today and is expected to endure throughout Wednesday.

The commonwealth of Massachusetts contends Trudeau murdered his wife, either in the village of Wilsonville, this state, or at a point a few feet over the Connecticut line, and brought the body back into Webster in a battered condition, where he deposited it on the side of the road between Wilsonville and Webster.

Postcards have been received by Putnam friends from Miss Marion Gibbs of Norwich, who, with a party of friends, is making a railroad trip to Los Angeles, where they will vacation during the remainder of the month.

The common council has approved a bill of Alderman-at-Large Warren E. Ames, introduced at the May meeting, which provides for the renovation of the club rooms at the Central fire station in Union square.

New fire headquarters in the downtown area, to replace the present building in Union square, housing headquarters apparatus, is receiving the serious consideration of the fire committee of the common council. The aldermanic group is aware of the fact that the building has long since outlived its usefulness and stresses the fact that a new engine house is a present municipal requirement of vital importance.

The one million gallon water storage tank now being erected on Oak hill in all probability will be completed by the end of the present month or in the early part of June. The giant cylinder is rapidly taking form and its progress has been aided by ideal construction weather of the past three weeks.

Lilac bushes in the yards of homes throughout the city are blooming in profusion and are most beautiful.

President Walter N. King of the chamber of commerce, re-elected at the annual meeting of the civic organization last night, is now serving his third term as executive head of the association.

Mayor Charles A. Richard of this city will be one of the official guests of the Duwell A. C., of Norwich, on Memorial day, when the ten-mile race of the National A. A. U. is run. Mayors from many other cities in Connecticut and Rhode Island will officiate at the athletic ceremonies.

A magnolia tree, on the lawn of the Grove street home of Thomas Gannon, is now in full bloom and is attracting much attention from flower lovers.

At a nuptial high mass celebrated Monday morning at 7 o'clock at St. Mary's church, Miss Henriette Morissette and Lionel Roy, both of this city, were united in marriage by Rev. U. O. Bellerose, pastor. Rev. Fr. Bellerose was also celebrant of the mass.

EAST WOODSTOCK

Mrs. Louise L. Landres of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lindeman.

Miss Constance Wetherell of Boston spent the week end at her home.

Mrs. B. E. Eddy is confined to her home by illness. Her daughters, Mrs. Edith Sullivan and Mrs. Clara Cox of Stafford Springs visited her last week.

MOOSUP

The Methodist Ladies' Aid society is to meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. R. Arthur Irvine.

The Moosup Trust and the Talbot Co. have had the front of their banking buildings painted by Fred Romer. John Stringer of Central Village is working for Mr. Romer.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy V. Goodrich of Somerville, Mass., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clark Congdon's. They returned to Sterling, Mass. Monday.

Miss Letitia Robitaille is assisting in the Moosup pharmacy.

Caught Big Pickerel

Allen Mopsick, while fishing last week for perch in Moosup pond, caught a pickerel eighteen inches long and changed the hook to fish for pickerel but caught nothing more, not even a shiner for bait.

SOUTH KILLINGLY

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. and Mrs. Irving Woodmansee in the loss of their little son Nelson, who died at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grover, last week. Funeral services were held at the local cemetery, Saturday afternoon.

Mildred Place who has been ill has recovered and returned to school.

William Hughes and family of Providence spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Slater.

MARINELLO
A BEAUTY AID FOR EVERY NEED

"Palmolive, blended of the cosmetic oils of olive and palm, we find, is an excellent skin cleanser. Its careful use results in fine textured, satiny skin. A thorough cleansing with its rich lather morning and evening keeps the pores free from the accumulations that cause blackheads and eruptions."

THE MARINELLO COMPANY
America's Great Beauty School

"We recommend Palmolive"

say the great MARINELLO Beauty Schools

"it assists in our own treatments"

The heads of the greatest chain of beauty schools in the world—with fifteen schools and over 50,000 graduates—explain how this olive and palm oil soap helps to keep skin lovely.

"THE bland olive and palm oils in Palmolive Soap are nature's great cosmetic oils," the heads of Marinello teach their students of beauty culture. And they say, further, that "its (Palmolive's) rich lather gently cleanses the pores, keeps the texture fine, the surface satiny."

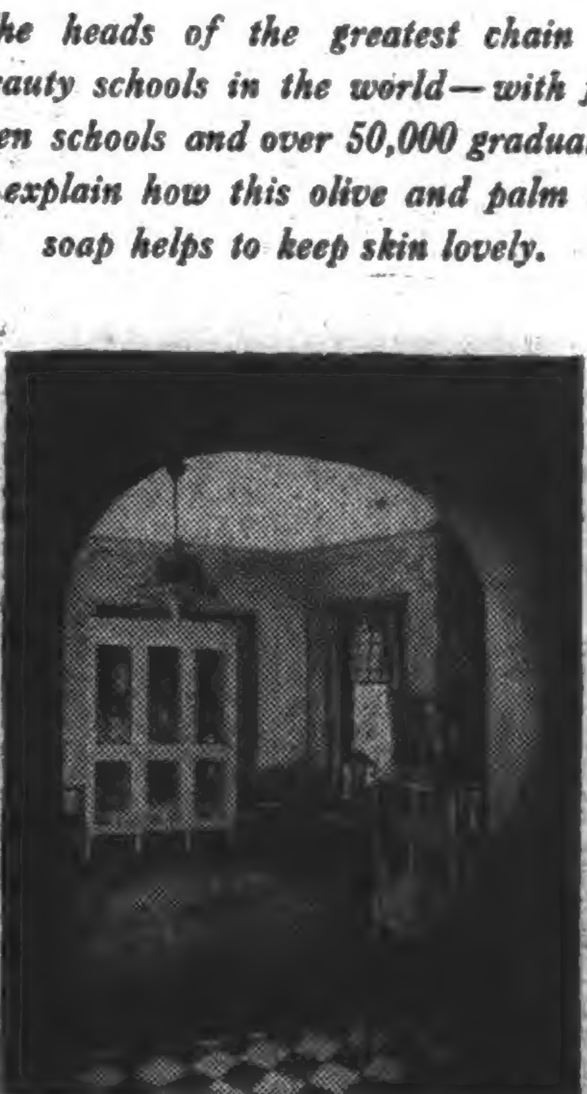
Every year thousands of Marinello graduates join the ranks of professional beauty operators. There are, today, over 50,000 graduates . . . trained, skilful professionals who have the benefit of the Marinello background, with its twenty years of scientific research on beauty culture.

What Marinello means

The name Marinello represents a high standard of scientific beauty culture. It is nationally recognized not only by the smartest women in America, but by State Boards, State Examiners and Health Departments.

Think what it means, then, to have such a group of schools advise one particular soap! Such approval is authoritative! And such approval is given to Palmolive!

● The pores must be carefully yet thoroughly cleansed of impurities every single day. Some soaps may irritate the skin. Palmolive does not. It cleanses safely and keeps the skin soft and smooth at the same time. That is why such experts as Marinello advise it.



Palmolive is made of vegetable oils. It is not artificially colored. It needs no heavy perfume to mask undesirable fat odors. It is a true beauty soap.

"The basis of skin loveliness," in the opinion of the heads of Marinello, "is the properly cleansed skin.

"In conjunction with our special creams—Marinello Astringent Cream and Marinello Acne Cream, for instance—we find Palmolive Soap a valued auxiliary."

Use Palmolive this way

With both hands massage Palmolive lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water, then with cold. And after that, you're ready for powder and rouge. Use Palmolive for the bath, too. Take the advice of Marinello and 19,800 other great experts both here and abroad. They know!

GOOD WATER SUPPLIES

There is nothing of much greater importance than an adequate water supply. This holds good whether it applies to a farm, to a small community or to a city. A water supply needs to be good and it needs to be sufficient for the needs so that in times of decreased rainfall there will be sufficient to meet requirements.

This fact is being brought to attention by the Connecticut department of health in one of its bulletins, which points out that in the last 11-month period the rainfall has been only about three-quarters of normal. That may not mean that there is a shortage threatened but it furnishes something to think about. The bulletin points out that we may receive a well distributed and abundant rainfall in the next few months to make up for deficiencies, but "it doesn't pay to 'take chances' and it behooves those in charge of public water supplies to develop reserve resources well in advance of actual water shortages. The necessity of pressing into service emergency public water supplies of inferior quality is one to be avoided."

The advice is good. Norwich recognized this a few years ago and it is now equipped with three excellent reservoirs and an auxiliary supply. We know the satisfaction that came last fall from having plenty of water while other communities were suffering from a shortage. Norwich was then in no danger of being without water and it faces no such possibility now. It may have a much greater quantity available in time of heavy rainfall than it is going to need for a long time to come, but it also knows that it is provided for in case of extremely dry weather.

It is not improbable that there are other communities which cannot feel as comfortable about it. They may be prepared if there is enough rain. That is the situation which confronts others, including those in the country whose wells never fail if there is sufficient rainfall, but there is no telling when that uncertainty is going to be encountered and it is fully understood that a satisfactory additional supply isn't to be secured at once after an emergency develops. It is necessary to look ahead and it is with this protection in view that the state department of health dwells upon the necessity of guarding against droughts.

CAGLE'S CASE

When it became known that Cadet Cagle of West Point was married there was nothing else to do but to ask for his resignation from that institution. He had violated one of the rules of the military academy and, as in the case of others, there was no other course than to treat him the same as others have been treated. The rules are to be obeyed by those of prominence as well as those who have been less in the limelight.

Such action comes only slightly in advance of what had been contemplated by the young man, but he had offered a decidedly different reason for it, hoping apparently that nothing would be known concerning his marriage in the south two years ago until he had severed his ties with West Point.

Cagle became prominent at West Point because of his fine work as a football player. Less is heard concerning his indicated ability as a future major general, but he had been doing some figuring and reached the conclusion that he would never be able to secure as large a financial return from military service as has already been offered him for coaching and serving as a salesman. Thus, even though he pledged to remain in the government service for a definite period after graduation, as a return to the government for the education that has been given to him, he listened to the call of the financial enticements and asked release. It has been done in other cases and it might have been done in his but it would have been manifestly unfair to others who have gotten their military education under the same promise.

The disclosure of his marriage and his concealment of it from the West Point authorities made a quick decision possible. Cagle is out. He will probably get his dual employment because the government made it possible for him to make a name for himself in football. Possibly it has been the means of making his future, but it will be interesting to note whether he gives a thought to making financial restitution to the government out of the fortune which he anticipates.

SUMMER WHITE HOUSES

The announcement that President Hoover plans to spend his vacation in the national parks means not only the invasion of new territory by the chief executive during the summer time, but it emphasizes the difficulty of trying to provide a summer white house for the presidents.

There were the days when presidents thought it was desirable to come into New England, New York state, New Jersey, for such vacations as they were able to take. President Coolidge varied his plans, coming into the northeast part of the time and going west on other occasions. Now Mr. Hoover is to go still further west and yet as he goes he will have available the means of keeping in close touch with Washington and his official duties. He will go into a region that cannot fail to fascinate those who are fond of the great outdoors. He is a leader among the travelers, but he will find plenty to attract and instruct in the national parks. It is territory in which a much greater number of Americans might well center more attention.

When Mr. Coolidge urged the acquisition of a site within motoring distance of Washington as a rest place for the president he was not endeavoring to establish a summer white house. He knew that it would be impossible for any one locality to meet the vacation requirements of succeeding presidents. What he had in mind was simply a place to which the chief executive might go over week-ends for the purpose of getting away from the routine of official duties and have a chance to take life easy without being subjected all the time to the gaze of the sight-seers. The idea was not a bad one. Such a rest place could not fail to interest any president part of the time and yet it is to be noted that instead of going to a hilltop, President Hoover seeks out a valley and fishing stream in Virginia. There is, in fact, no telling what the tastes of a successor are going to be; thus it is extremely difficult to plan for it in advance.

With no official summer white house it rests with each president to suit his own fancy. Nothing could be more satisfactory. Most any state would welcome the honor of having the summer white house within its boundaries, but unless all presidents are going to use it there would be an uneconomic venture in establishing it. When presidents are free to go where they please, as they should be, no one can complain.

MARKING THE HIGHWAYS

With the increase in the number of motorists and the building of more good roads it is inevitable that those who travel want to know where they are going. They have certain destinations in mind and they are anxious to know whether they are on the right or the wrong road.

For their guidance signs are necessary. In furnishing this information, route markers are established by which autoists are able to go for long distances, make the necessary turns and reach their destination with the least possible bother. That such aids are appreciated and save much time is well understood by those who do much traveling.

In recognition of the need of such assistance most of the routes are marked in one way or another, but the highway department in the state of New York knows the importance of keeping the motorists informed and it has announced that there will be 100,000 new highway markers established this spring. New York is a large state and has many highways, but such additional signs will serve to speed the traveler on his way and give him information while he rides that he is not getting off his route.

Highway signs are many and varied. There are those which indicate the route, those indicating the communities ahead, those disclosing the twists and turns in the highway, those warning of schools, railroad crossings, bridges. They all serve a good purpose though some of them get much more attention than others.

While the route numbers are of particular value to strangers, it can hardly be felt that highways are satisfactorily marked until proper attention is given to the erection of signboards at cross roads which will not only point out—the numbered highways at such intersections but which proclaim in readable letters the points to which such cross roads will carry the traveler. All motorists are not going from one end to another of a certain route. It may be necessary for them to use several highways in getting to their destination and it is quite important that these short cuts should be designated.

With distances, routes, cities, fully indicated there is little chance of getting lost and being obliged to retrace long stretches, and sight must not be lost of the fact that the feeder roads as well as the main arteries are what many of the motorists are seeking.

THE AIRPLANE ROAR

Many are the efforts which have been urged or adopted for the reduction of noise. The time is coming, if it isn't already here, when there is going to be a greater demand for the devotion of more time to the perfection of a muffler for the airplane engine.

It isn't possible for a flying machine to approach without its presence being indicated by the noise of the engine. The exhaust is a tell-tale and if one happens to be located near a flying field there is a constant roar that is disturbing and unpleasant.

How deafening such a racket is when several planes are in motion at the same time was well illustrated during the past week when the flight of planes was made from New York to Boston and return. There was no chance that a group of such machines could pass over without attracting attention and as the number increased so did the noise. The passing of one noisy group was followed by the coming of another. Each gave warning of its approach and there was no question of its presence even though it was not observed. All along the coast these planes have been demonstrating the skill with which they can be operated and gaining the plaudits of those on terra firma for their appearance and the excellence of the maneuvers in which they were engaged, but there has followed, in almost every instance, plenty of comment concerning the noise they make.

It has been shown what inspiring flights can be made, what service could be expected from them in an emergency and how cleverly they can be handled. It will be a happy day when it can be shown that such flights are possible with a marked decrease in the roar that goes with them.

LOBSTER A LA NEWBURG

If Gwen had thought less about her art she might have thought more about Joe Williams. Gwen at 20 took her culture seriously. She liked high-toned things, such as grand opera, lobster a la Newburg and the dance, which she spoke of as "the dawnce." Joe, on the other hand, liked jazz blues and Italian spaghetti a la garlic; he liked the movies and he liked 'em western. He liked Gwen, too—and he didn't care who knew it.

"When we are married—" he'd begin. And Gwen would deftly sidetrack him with something like this: "Let's get tickets for 'Il Trovatore' tonight"—or, "Mme. Pasha Huzzah's ballet is at the Imperial theater Sunday." Joe always obliged by taking her—and falling asleep midway through the program.

After Gwen got her job in the ballet of the opera company her interest in Joe diminished perceptibly. However, she retained a sisterly regard for his welfare. "I hope," she remarked the night before her debut as a Moorish slave in "Aida," "that you'll try to become more cultured. Why don't you come to the opera once or twice a week?"

"Sure," said Joe, "I'll come every night to see you."

From then on Gwen felt herself at the heights of glory. Gladly she trudged four flights up a narrow iron fire escape to the ballet girls' dressing room over the stage. True, she was disillusioned to find that no music filtered up here. True, also, she was further abashed in effacing her identity beneath an uncomfortable coat of liquid bronze and a slave's costume in which the ballet girls cavorted before Amneris in the second act. But, enough. She was a part of this mighty spectacle and she was helping the cause of culture.

One night, for the twentieth time since Gwen joined the opera, Joe asked her for a date and for the twentieth time she refused him. But her refusal carried an unusual explanation.

"I'm going," she told him impressively, "out with Sig. Jose Guigliamo, the barytone, for supper after the performance." And in the middle of Joe's strenuous remonstrances she hung up the receiver. But Joe was not one to be so easily tossed aside and, at 11 o'clock, as Gwen emerged from the stage door on the arm of Sig. Guigliamo she was amazed to find Joe waiting for her.

"Let's make it a threesome," he said decisively, taking her right arm as Sig Guigliamo escorted her by the left. Joe's affront was almost too much for Gwen. It was not that she objected to his company, but what under heaven would Sig. Guigliamo think if, for instance, Joe would launch forth upon either of his pet subjects, jazz music or spaghetti? And her fears were well founded. The moment the three became seated at a cozy recessed table in the hotel and the first strains of the jazz orchestra came to them across the dance floor Joe cried:

"Oh, boy, what music! Let's step out and shake a mean ankle!" Gwen was petrified.

"I believe," she replied icily, "that we had better order." And glancing over the menu she gave the waiter a really cultured order, beginning with lobster a la Newburg. "And you?" she smiled ingratiatingly at Jose Guigliamo.

"I," said the barytone, "will have, please, a large order of Italian spaghetti and," he added as Gwen gaped in astonishment, "some sausage seasoned with garlic." But her astonishment reached its peak when Joe, his eyes twinkling mischievously, asked Sig. Guigliamo if he cared for dancing and the barytone exclaimed: "Yes, yes, I dance—this music is what you call the berries, eh, what?"

"Gwen dear," murmured Joe as he guided her dexterously among the dancers some moments later, "when we are married—"

Her lips near to his ear, Gwen finished the sentence for him.

"When we are, Joe, darling, we'll have spaghetti whenever you want it—and—and garlic sausage, and dance to our radio jazz programs, Joe," she whispered, "make it whenever you like!"—Chicago News.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 13—What a fine, expansive gesture, stage managed by that most genial of senators, Jim Watson of Indiana, was that with which Joe Robinson of Arkansas was welcomed back from the London naval parley to the bosom of the senate.

It lacked only one touch to make it perfect, the sort of thing big, expansive and always friendly Watson fairly dotes on doing. Had the assembled senators burst into song, with Senator Jim as the baton-waving impresario, rousing the echoes with "Auld Lang Syne," or, better still, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," the picture would have been complete.

Welcome

The idea seemed to be Watson's own. When Robinson hustled over from the senate office building to resume his seat in the senate after four months of London treaty making, he was engineered into the vice president's room and held there while the Hon. Jim worked up plans for a fitting reception.

"We should accord him that hearty welcome which it is in the heart of every senator to give him," said the republican leader in moving a recess for the purpose.

And, not to be outdone, the veteran Walsh of Montana replied in kind from the democratic side.

"Whatever diversity of views may obtain concerning the work of the conference at London there has been universal confidence in the sagacity and in the patriotism of the delegation from the United States, to which this body contributed two of its most conspicuous members," Walsh said.

Noncommittal

Now that was neatly done. It brought Dave Reed of Pennsylvania, not present, into the picture as a counter gesture of courtesy over that political no-man's land, the senate aisle. And also, you will note, it committed the democrats to nothing on this republican planned treaty proposal itself. They can think fast, some of these senate veterans, like Walsh.

Still, there was no gesturing or posturing about the heartiness of the welcome to Senator Joe itself. He is and always has been popular with his colleagues of whatever political slant. It is a pity that while senate decorum was suspended through the recess to permit senators and galleries to join in applause as the democratic leader came in under escort of Senators McNary and Harrison, that opportunity was not also given for him to tell the senate publicly but off the records something of his London tour. No doubt he could have made it interesting.

But, at any rate, Watson had a fine chance to respond to the friendly things said about him by democratic colleagues when he fled to Florida by his doctor's orders during the special session turmoil.

As by chance, too, this unprecedented senate salute to Senator Joe comes just as his name is being used a lot by democratic presidential timber cruisers exploring the woods for 1932.

YOUR HEALTH

Inflammation Of The Bladder.

By Elmer Hess, M. D., Erie, Pa.
(From Gorgas Memorial Institute.)

Many people suffer from what is commonly called inflammation of the bladder. But most of them, when they have frequency and urgency of urination, do not consult a physician because the disturbance is so slight that they feel that it isn't necessary. And if they do try to consult him, they are apt to find that the doctor is a very busy man—busy with people who are sick in bed and too busy to pay very much attention to an apparently healthy man or woman whose symptoms are so slight.

This is unfortunate for many reasons. First, inflammation of the bladder is not a correct term in the majority of cases, and second, these recurring slight symptoms of frequency and urgency of urination may be the danger and warning signal of a grave catastrophe to come. Being a specialist on diseases of the urinary tract, I have seen so many instances of catastrophes that could have been avoided had the early danger signals been observed, that I feel very strongly on this subject.

It is a very difficult thing to infect the bladder wall, and so inflammation of the bladder is very often not a correct diagnosis. Let us see what can give these common symptoms of frequency and urgency of urination, which accompany any infection or irritation at the neck of the bladder.

A vast majority of the infections of the kidneys never give symptoms of any kind in the immediate region of these organs, but if they throw off a slightly acid urine or a urine filled with poisonous materials such as pus and bacteria, the first place that these materials disturb is the sensitive neck of the bladder. Take for example tuberculosis of the kidney. Long before there is any real inflammation of the bladder itself there is frequency and urgency of urination, caused by the highly acid urine which usually accompanies this condition. The treatment of tuberculosis of the kidney is prompt removal of the infected organ. If this is not done, it is only a question of time before the other kidney becomes involved and then surgical treatment is of no avail. But the patient who waits for inflammation of the bladder to indicate tuberculosis of the kidney has waited too long!

Inflammation of the pelvis of the kidney is common but it is seldom recognized because the patient pays little attention to a soreness in his back, with a little burning on urination, since it doesn't incapacitate him. He satisfies himself that he has rheumatism or sciatica or neuritis and he treats himself with aspirin or some other common remedy which he buys over the drug counter. Unfortunately he doesn't dream that there is any trouble with the vital organ, the kidney.

An annual health audit by a conscientious doctor would detect symptoms of troubles before they inflamed the bladder, and thus save the toll that carelessness exacts.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORY

A Question of Relationship

Appearances sometimes deceive,
And things are not as you believe.
—Blarina the Shrew.

Peter Rabbit was being called names. He was being called names in a very thin squeaky voice. But Peter wasn't at all disturbed. He simply looked down at the little fellow who was calling him names and grinned. It was Blarina the Shrew who was scolding in a very fine squeaky voice. You see, Peter had almost stepped on Blarina and Blarina was telling Peter just what he thought about it.

"I'm sorry, Blarina," said Peter. "Truly, I am. I didn't see you at all."

"What's that got to do with it?" squeaked Blarina. "I didn't see you, but I know where you are and all about you."

"Honestly, don't you see me at all?" demanded Peter.

"No, I don't," squeaked Blarina. "But I hear you and I smell you and that is enough for me."

Peter shook his head. "It seems to me," said he, "that it must be dreadful not to have better eyes than you Moles have."

"Moles! Moles!" exclaimed Blarina. "What have Moles got to do with it?"

"Well, you are a kind of Mole, aren't you?" said Peter.

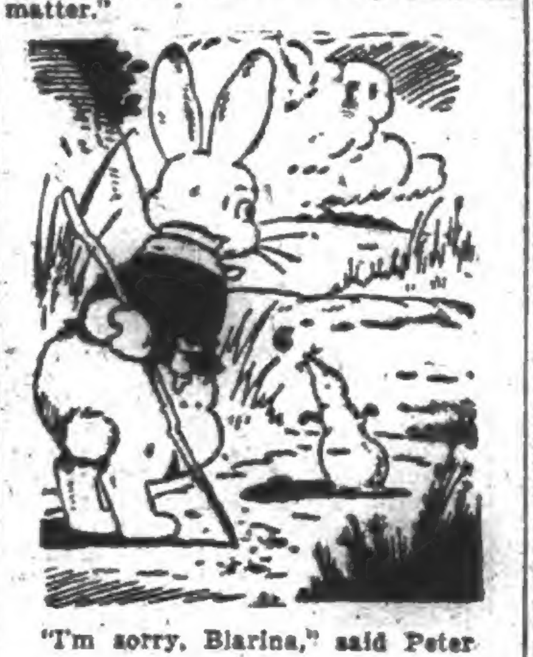
At this Blarina flew into a great rage. He has a very peppery temper and it takes almost nothing at all to put him in a rage. "Who says I am a sort of Mole?" he squeaked angrily. "Who says that?"

"Oh, a lot of people," replied Peter. "I have heard you called a Mole many times. You certainly look enough like one to be one. You must at least be a cousin of Miner the Mole."

Blarina fairly danced with anger. "I'd have you understand that I am not a Mole, nor am I related to the Moles. I am a Shrew, Peter Rabbit, and proud of it. I am a Shrew, and a Shrew is no more a Mole than a Mouse is. It is a wonder that you don't think I am a Mouse."

"Well, you are rather mouse-like," retorted Peter, chuckling. "You are sort of halfway between a Mouse and a Mole, and it wouldn't have surprised me any to learn that you were related to both families."

"Well, I'm not," retorted Blarina. "The Mole family and the Shrew family both belong to the order of insect eaters; while the Mouse family belongs to the order of gnawing animals, and that is a very different matter."



"I'm sorry, Blarina," said Peter

Peter thought this over for a few minutes. "Well," said he, "I've learned something. Still, if you and Miner the Mole belong to the same order, it seems to me that you are related."

"Huh!" exclaimed Blarina. "If that's the way you feel about it, you must consider yourself related to Robber the Rat."

Peter's ears stood straight up with indignation. "Certainly not!" he cried.

"Then I don't suppose you will admit that you are related to Prickly Porky the Porcupine?" exclaimed Blarina.

"Of course I'm not!" retorted Peter. "It would be silly to think of such a thing."

"No more silly than to think that I am related to Miner the Mole because I belong to the same order," retorted Blarina. "You belong to the order of gnawing animals. So do Robber the Rat and Prickly Porky and Paddy the Beaver and Happy Jack Squirrel and all the members of the Mouse family and Johnny Chuck and some others. They all belong to different families, but they all belong to the same order. So there you are! I'm not a Mole and I don't want to be called a Mole."

Peter scratched a long ear with a long hindleg. "Perhaps you're right," said he.

"I know I'm right," retorted Blarina.

A HISTORY OF CONNECTICUT INDUSTRY

Released by Manufacturers Association of Connecticut

The Sessions Foundry Co., Bristol

In the year 1879, the late William E. Sessions induced his father, John Humphrey Sessions, to purchase the Bristol Foundry company then located on Laurel street, in Bristol. The foundry at that time was producing a few hundred pounds of castings each day. Under the guiding hand of the younger Mr. Sessions improvements were made and the company continued to progress year by year, during which time many new additions were made to the plant.

By 1895 they had greatly outgrown that location and steps were immediately taken toward much greater expansion. A site was secured on the outskirts of the town on Farmington avenue where the present up-to-date plant, covering some thirteen acress, was erected and equipped with new and modern machinery. Since that time still further improvements and extensions have been made until now the plant is considered one of the best equipped foundries in New England, capable of melting over 125 tons of iron per day, and supplying the trade with castings of every variety, to order, both in gray iron and semi steel.

Today The Sessions Foundry company enjoys a good volume of trade and has succeeded in building up a clientele which has been a constant factor for many years past.

The present officers are: Joseph B. Sessions, president; William K. Sessions, treasurer; Arthur F. Woodford, secretary; Walter E. Spicer, assistant treasurer.

Why Has This Preparation So Far Outstripped All Other Medicines of Its Kind? The Answer Is Easy and Can Be Given In Just One Word—MERIT

"I Certainly Feel Fine in Every Way—And Give All the Credit to Bon-Tone."

Mrs. Albina Gosselin, of 12 South Woodbine street, Hartford, Conn., who is a member of St. Anne's Catholic church, and of the Franco-American Society, states:

"I suffered from stomach trouble for all of 15 years. I have a very poor appetite, and could not eat many foods at all. Foods that I forced myself to eat only lay on my stomach like a stone and fermneted and formed gas, which bloated me up like a balloon and sent sharp, burning pains through my stomach and around my heart. I had constant headaches; and if I stayed on my feet a half-hour at a time, my bach ached as if it would break. I never averaged over four hours' sleep at night—I had to get up two or three times every night, and I woke up mornings feeling all in. I also suffered from constipation; and I spent a pile of money, but never got satisfactory relief till I tried Bon-Tone.

"I have now taken seven bottles of Bon-Tone; but after the third bottle, I found that I could eat anything without the least discomfort afterwards. I now sleep like a log for nine or ten hours every night without waking up once, and I get up in the morning feeling rested and full of ambition. I've forgotten what a headache or backache is and certainly feel just fine in every way. I feel as if years had rolled away from me! I certainly give all credit and praise to Bon-Tone, and am advising all my ailing acquaintances to try it.

COULDN'T HOLD HIS HANDS STILL

"Bon-Tone has certainly given me the utmost satisfaction," says Mr. Erwin T. Libby of 31 Green Street, Haverhill. "Why I was so nervous that I couldn't hold my hands still, and my stomach was in terrible condition. Gas that formed after eating gave me much distress and sometimes would get up around my heart and cause sharp pains and would affect my breathing. My back was weak and sore and I got so that it took quite an effort to do my work. Headaches bothered me a lot and I would sometimes get dizzy. My appetite became poor and I suffered from constipation. Since taking Bon-Tone though I find that all this trouble caused by gas is gone and my appetite is fine and whatever I eat agrees with me and digests as it should. Altogether I feel like a different man and certainly do not hesitate to recommend this preparation highly."

SEVEN INCH TROUT FOR CONNECTICUT ANGLERS

Connecticut anglers are gradually establishing a voluntary "seven inch trout" regulation, although the legal length is six inches, and it will be necessary soon to equip patrolmen with scales to weigh the catches, according to reports from the field which are being received by the state board of fisheries and game. Another development of the present trout season is that despite a great increase in the devotees of the sport, there are comparatively few violations of laws and rules.

The seven-inch rule is establishing itself, wardens and patrolmen report, because of the distribution of large numbers of trout beyond this length in recent years, by the state, and the increasing reluctance of anglers to keep fish less than seven inches long. Practically the same conditions will make it necessary to equip patrolmen with weighing scales, says John W. Titcomb, superintendent of fisheries and game. The creel limit on most streams is 25 fish or ten pounds. With frequency it is found that from eight to twelve or fifteen fish will weigh more than ten pounds and accurate weights can be determined only by the use of scales.

Few violations of the law and regulations governing leased streams are being reported. Mainly these are the keeping of short fish. Several cases of exceeding the catch limit and trespassing on cultivated lands have been reported. No fires set by fishermen have been reported, in spite of extra dry weather and the large number of fishermen on the streams and in the woods every day. This was also true last year.

Angling in brooks other than state-leased streams is particularly popular this year because of the large number stocked by the state, upon assurance from the landowners that the brooks would be open for public fishing. Good catches on such brooks have been reported, the Tolland county catch reported for the first week of the season exceeding 2000 on one stream.

Small boys are more numerous on the streams than ever before, and according to the reports of patrolmen are rivalling the older sportsmen in the size of the catches. About 7000 boys under 16 have applied for permits to fish on the state-leased streams. This is nearly double the number issued last year. Boys and girls under 16 do not need a permit to fish in any waters except those under state lease. The number of girls applying for permits is comparatively few.

TWO AUTOMOBLIES COLLIDE ON WEST THAMES STREET

Automobiles driven by Daniel Shea of 137 Chestnut street, assistant pro at the golf club, and Frank J. Mitchell, of Springfield, Mass., were in collision Tuesday evening about 9.10 o'clock on West Thames street, near South street, and both were considerably damaged. Mr. Shea was driving a car belonging to Masse Miller, the golf club pro, who was with him, and the Springfield man was accompanied by his wife and by Mrs. Henry Graves, the last named receiving slight injuries. The machines were proceeding in opposite directions at the time of the collision.

Westamee, Morgan syndicate aspirant for the honor of defending the America cup against Sir Thomas Lipton, slid smoothly down the ways at the Herreshoff plant in Bristol, R. I. at exactly 6:30 a. m. Saturday.

During a social hour there will be a report on Scout work and the life story of Daniel Livingstone will be portrayed in colored pictures.

Drought Bad for Trout

John W. Titcomb, state superintendent of fisheries and game, is receiving reports that low water is causing a condition unfavorable to trout at the present time. In some streams the conditions are worse than during the drought of last August, he declared. The low water has resulted in a corresponding high temperature of the water, with the result that a temperature of as high as 70 degrees has been registered in some streams during the past week, Mr. Titcomb said. A game warden in Farmington reported finding many dead trout along a brook there.

Murray Calls General Meeting.

First Selectman Murray, general chairman of the Duwell citizens' committee for the coming ten mile run, has sent out a call for a meeting of all the members of this committee for this (Wednesday) afternoon at 5 o'clock in the chamber of commerce rooms and has asked that each chairman of the sub-committees make report in order that a complete check on the committees work may be had. As the date of this important sporting event is very near, Chairman Murray is desirous that every member of the general committee make a special effort to be on hand.

Backdraft Threw Out Smoke

Tuesday afternoon at 12:27 o'clock the fire department was notified by telephone that the apartment at No. 53 Freeman avenue, occupied by Fletcher S. Boynton, was filled with smoke. Squad A and Acting Chief Dennis J. Brennan went to the house and after investigating found that the smoke was caused by a backdraft. The house, a three-story frame building, is owned by Mrs. Landra Comeau.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

At a largely attended tea, Tuesday from 4.30 to 7, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith Palmer, of Lighthouse inn, formerly of Norwich, announced the engagement of their third daughter, Priscilla, to John Middleton Holmes, of Norfolk, Connecticut. The brilliant social affair called together 150 friends from Simsbury, Hartford, Norfolk, Norwich, New London, Buffalo and other cities. The inn was decorated with quantities of pink tulips and white lilacs, most effectively arranged. Pouring during the afternoon were Mrs. Frank T. Arms and Mrs. F. Valentine Chappell. Mr. Holmes is a graduate of Hackley School on the Hudson, Lehigh university, '26, and the Advanced Air Corps Flying school at Kelly Field, Texas. He is the son of Mrs. Anna Middleton Holmes and the late George Coutts Holmes, whose father was founder of the National Biscuit company. Miss Palmer was graduated from Miss Porter's school, Farmington, in 1929 and after a tour abroad took a course in art at Buffalo. Among those attending the tea Tuesday was her sister, Mrs. Leonard H. Couch, of Buffalo, who is sailing Thursday with New London friends for a month's tour of England.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hawkins have spent several days at their cottage at Eastern Point.

Mr and Mrs. Edmund W. Perkins have returned from a week end visit at Great Barrington.

Mrs. William H. Palmer and H. Reynolds Palmer, of Elm Hill, Washington street attended the tea given Tuesday at Lighthouse inn by Mr. and Mrs. George S. Palmer.

When the Tuesday Afternoon Contract club met with Mrs. Charles C. McNamara, of Broadway, the prizes were won by Mrs. Laurence E. Millea and Miss Mary G. Shannon.

Mrs. Edwin W. Higgins, of the Little Plain, arrived home at the week end from Louisville, Ky.

Following a fortnight's visit with relatives, Mrs. Frederic W. Cary has left for Winchester, Mass.

Mrs. Grace Palmer Melcer, of Montville was among the guests at the Palmer-Holmes engagement tea at Lighthouse inn, Tuesday.

JURY TO DECIDE FATE OF NEGRO IN ROBBERY CASE IN NEW LONDON

With the charge against him changed from murder to robbery with violence, Charles Williams, 23, Negro, was on trial here Tuesday in the superior court, criminal side, before Judge Allyn L. Brown and a jury.

The evidence was all in and arguments had been made in the case by State Attorney Arthur M. Brown for the prosecution and by Public Defender E. W. Perkins for the accused man when court adjourned Tuesday afternoon. Judge Brown will charge the jury this (Wednesday) morning.

Williams was arrested in Norfolk Va., after the death last January in New London of Jacob Ysheman of that city. Williams was bound over from the New London court to the superior court on a murder charge which was later changed to manslaughter and this to robbery with violence, to which Williams pleaded not guilty in court Tuesday morning.

Ysheman died a few days after Jan. 11, on which date it was claimed he was assaulted and knocked to the ground on Shapley street, near the corner of Main street.

Three other Negroes from New London are also being held with Williams, and are being used as material witnesses. Two of them, William P. (Rattlesnake Pete) Franklin and Ernest Johnson are charged with assault with intent to rob while the other, Linwood (Peanuts) Farrell, also of New London, a youth of 17, is charged with being an accessory.

It is claimed that Ysheman was in a restaurant, drunk and dancing about the floor and showing his money, and that after he went out he was followed, knocked down and robbed.

The principal direct testimony against Williams was given by "Peanuts" Farrell, who said he saw Williams knock Ysheman down in the street and when Farrell ran up to see the fight, Williams was going through the man's pockets and handed over two quarters to Farrell, telling him to keep his mouth shut or he would get the same.

Others to testify were Dr. Thomas Soltz, Dr. Charles Kaufman, Ernest Johnson, "Rattlesnake Pete" Franklin, Irving C. Gilliam, who was in the Argus restaurant; John F. Schuetrum, proprietor of the restaurant, William Lewis, county investigator, and Mrs. Katie Shultz, at whose house Ysheman roomed and where he died. Frank Cwiazdowski, Norwich police officer, acted as interpreter for her.

Charles Williams, 23, the accused man, testified that his home was in Norfolk, Va., and that he came to New London on a barge about three weeks before the alleged assault on Ysheman. He said he had never seen Farrell before Saturday, Jan. 11th. He told of being paid off on the barge by the captain on Sunday, Jan. 12, and he then went to Boston where he shipped on a boat and got back to Norfolk where he was arrested about ten days after he had left New London.

On the night of Saturday, Jan. 11, he told of going to Franklin's house and then to a pool room, which he left with Franklin and Johnson to the Argus lunch. There he saw a white man who was under the influence of liquor. This man was Ysheman, the witness said, and he told of the drunken man falling off a stool in the lunch room. After this they went out of the lunch, Williams said, and he got Franklin a bottle of liquor and Franklin showed him a blackjack and said he was going to "beat that fellow's brains out." Williams denied that there was any talk between him and Franklin about getting the drunken man's money and he vigorously denied that he put his hands on Ysheman at all. He said he saw Franklin and "the man" both with their hands in the air and he saw both men fall. He didn't see Franklin strike Ysheman with the blackjack, but Franklin hit Ysheman with the hand in which the blackjack was.

Nicholas J. Ragnore, of New Rochelle, N. Y., who is serving a sentence in jail at New London, was brought to the stand and identified a paper which Public Defender Perkins showed him. Mr. Perkins asked Ragnore if "Rattlesnake Pete" told Ragnore he would give Ragnore $45 if Ragnore would say that Williams told him (Ragnore) that he (Williams) hit the Polish man. The witness answered "Yes," telling that this offer was made in jail.

William Rossetti of New York, who also is serving a sentence in jail at New London, also identified a paper which was shown in court and said that "Rattlesnake Pete" had promised to give him and his partner $20 apiece if Rossetti would say that Williams told him (Rosetti) that Williams had hit the Polish man. This was the substance of what was written on the two papers, which Ragnore and Rossetti had given to Williams.

Deputy Sheriff Winder P. Reed testified that Public Defender Perkins had seen Ragnore and Rossetti in jail and he heard them tell the lawyer that they had written the two papers.

At this point the defense rested and Prosecuting Attorney Brown called "Rattlesnake Pete" Franklin to the stand. This witness denied he made promises to pay money to Ragnore or Rossetti or that he ever owned a blackjack.

After this the arguments were made by State Attorney Brown and Public Defender Perkins.

The jury in the case is Anson R. Grover, Charles M. Hutzler, Lawrence E. Millea, John R. Fowler, Louis C. Potter, John D. Rodgers, Norwich; Charles M. Geisthardt, Arthur C. Smith, Preston; Andrew G. Littlefield, Lebanon; Albert J. Grandy, Bozrah; Lewis L. Starkweather, Franklin; Charles Meyer, Lisbon.

FIVE TEACHER APPOINTMENTS BY THE SCHOOL BOARD

At the May meeting of the town school board, held Tuesday evening in the school office at the court house, five teacher appointments were made as follows, all Norwich girls: Miss Loretta Higgins of Greeneville, Miss Gertrude Weinstein, Miss Margaret Mahoney, Miss Leona Comstock, and Miss Mary Roberts.

It was stated that no request from the teachers for a general salary raise has been received by the board this year.

The question of the junior high school was discussed and it was stated that the board it not to be officially represented at the meeting of the Norwich Taxpayers' association when the association's committee will present a plan, which it is claimed will not call for as great an expenditure as the junior school plan.

Bids on coal supply for the schools were presented and were awarded in each case to the low bidder as follows:

Soft coal—Edward Chappell Co., $5.98; Shetucket Coal Co., $6.40; Mahoney Coal Co., $6.61; awarded to Chappell Co.

Stove coal—Chappell Co., $12.87; Shetucket Co., $12.50; Mahoney Co., $12.90; awarded to Shetucket Co.

Buckwheat—Chappell Co., $6.66; Shetucket Co., $6.15; Mahoney Co., $6.89; awarded to Shetucket Co.

The entire membership of the board was in attendance comprising Chairman Walter F. Lester, Secretary Thomas J. Kelly, Mrs. Ada R. Chase, Robert McNeely, Edward G. McKay, and Dr. E. J. Brophy, with Superintendent E. J. Graham.

RECKLESS DRIVING CHARGE IN WILLIMANTIC CRASH

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 13—John L. Mitchell of Columbia, employed in Jewett City, was injured and Joseph L. Sugier of Norwich, was arrested for reckless driving in a bad collision of automobiles at the junction of West Main street and Columbia avenue shortly after 6 o'clock tonight. Mitchell, who was on his way home from Jewett City, was operating a Nash coupe in a westerly direction. Sugier, driving a Reo truck, laden with miscellaneous junk, approached the junction in an easterly direction, cutting in on the Mitchell car at the corner.

Mitchell was treated by Dr. Charles A. Jenkins at the latter's office for contusions on the abdomen, lacerations on the right hand and contusions on the left knee. Officers John Killourey and William Hurley, who investigated the accident, arrested the Norwich junkman.

PAID FINE; LED STATE POLICEMAN LONG CHASE

(Special to The Bulletin)

MONTVILLE, May 13—After a wild chase from Thames street, Norwich, to Connecticut college by State Officer William E. McKenzie of Groton barracks Sunday evening, he considers as one of the worst cases of reckless driving charge that he ever was on when he arrested David Blinderman of 37 Thames street, Norwich, on a reckless driving charge. The trooper reported that he was doing 65 miles an hour and every time that he would make an attempt to get in front of Blinderman's car it would get away from him as if he was standing still. Blinderman, who was driving from Norwich to New London to catch a late train for one of his passengers, didn't realize that the officer's car was following him till the officer stopped him by Connecticut college. He appeared before Justice of the Peace Oscar E. Church and was found guilty of reckless driving and paid a fine of $25 and costs.

One hundred and twenty men from the military garrison were dispatched to Liverpool to aid in fighting forest fires raging in southwestern Nova Scotia.

MOTHER'S DAY PROGRAMME AND GOOD-WILL DAY

The Bozrahville Council of Jewish Women, jointly organized with the B'nai B'rith auxiliary, Hadassah and Sisterhood, observed Mother's day and international good-will day with appropriate programmes, Sunday afternoon, at the Community synagogue in this city.

Mrs. Nathan Gilman, chairman, opened the program by welcoming the different organizations and their friends.

The exercises were then carried out in the following order:

Star Spangled Banner, audience; Story of Mother's Day, Rose Pasnik; Somebody's Mother, Beatrice Jaffee; Home and Mother, Lillian Schechtman; Mother's day, Ida Schaffer; piano solo, Rosalyn Schechtman; The Toast, Goldie Miller; Before It is Too Late, Henry Schiller; Russian dance, Phyllis Curland; council song, audience; Mother's Way, Marian Jaffee; On Memory's Wall, Esther Berkman; piano duet, Helen Miller, Rosalyn Schechtman; Every Day Mother's Day, Pearl Miller; recitation, Howard Schiller; Russian dance, Sylvia Seader; recitation, Buddy Gilman; Japanese dance, Helen Rosoff, Sylvia Lahn.

Rabbi Lave M. Becker then gave a very inspiring address on "Mother's Day," summing up his talk with emphasis on the following three points:

Firstly, that we try to make every day a "mother's day"; secondly, that the mother of today herself must be capable of meeting the present-day problems and so train youth to cope with them, especially in the work for peace; thirdly, that only through co-operation, good-fellowship and brotherhood can we establish that unity which tends towards progress. In helping others we incidentally help ourselves.

The remainder of the program was devoted to the commemoration of international good-will day, opening with the reading of Dr. H. E. Fosdick's prayer "Peace," by Rose Pasnik. This was followed by a pageant entitled the "Dawn of Peace," under the direction of Miss Ruth Golub. The different nations with their flags and costumes and a chorus singing the national anthem of each country conveyed beautifully the spirit of good will amongst all nations and the need for training our youth for peace.

The Misses Goldie Bruckner and Hannah Oguinick ably acted as musical directors of the exercises.

The following comprised the cast: Civilization—Sylvia Golub; France—Frances Libby, Phyllis Curland; Germany—Beatrice Marcus, Helen Miller, L. Pollack; Italy—Marjorie Sackowitz, Lillian Schechtman, Beulah Sackowitz; Japan—Flora Schatz, Pearl Zeigler, Esther Friedland; Spain—Pearl Gilman, Lillian Golub; England—Marian Pasnik, Myrtle Pollack; America—Sarah Telzonsky; Israel—Ida Mindel; War—Libby Hertz; Girl Scout—Selma Sohn.

Max Hanover then spoke very effectively on "Peace," again emphasizing that the mother of today has a great mission to perform in the abolishment of war—that she can be a dynamic force towards the establishment of peace.

The committees in charge of all arrangements were: Programme—Miss Ruth Golub, chairman; Mrs. Betty Pasnik, Mrs. Harry Rosoff, Mrs. Samuel Rosoff, Mrs. Augusta Curland. Refreshment—Mrs. Frank Hertz, chairman; Mrs. Mary Cohen, Mrs. Charles Slosberg, Mrs. Lena Miller, Mrs. Fred Herman. Costume committee—Mrs. Esther Schatz, chairman; Mrs. Esther Tractenberg, Mrs. Schechtman, Mrs. H. Libby, Mrs. I. Telzonsky. Waitresses—Sarah Schatz, Katie Arievitz, Esther Hertz, Henrietta Herman, Eva Hertz, Hilda Knasin, Marion Bissette, Ethel Telzonsky, Gussie Telzonsky.

Methodists Going to New London

The members of Trinity Methodist church will join in the union service held in the Methodist Episcopal church at New London on Thursday evening. The evening service will be preceded by a fellowship supper. Dr. McComb is to be the principal speaker and he speaks in the interests of World Service.

SHORTAGE IN RAINFALL FOR NEARLY A YEAR

Those who live in the country must consider the effect of rainfall shortage on crops, on wood fires, and on their private water supplies, says the state board of health in its weekly letter. The average city resident considers rainfall shortage only in the light of having more fine days to enjoy. Those who live in the city, however, may be seriously affected by water shortages resulting in deficiencies of public water supplies, such as have occurred in several Connecticut communities in the past few years.

Perhaps few people realize the extent of the water shortage which really had its beginning in June, 1929, and has lasted throughout April, 1930, and the early part of May. Every rainfall station in Connecticut showed a total annual rainfall below the normal in 1929.

As an example of the 1929-1930 drought in Connecticut compared with past records, an examination of records over the past 62 years for the vicinity of Hartford shows that only in the years 1924-1925 was the rainfall from June to April inclusive less than 1929-1930. The total rainfall in this recent eleven month period was only 29.13 inches as against a normal rainfall of 41.32 inches.

The fact that a drought of such long duration has occurred tends naturally to affect those water supplies which are dependent on long time storage in reservoirs as well as those places where water supply in dry summer and fall months is secured from ground water storage. Short droughts may not affect supplies of this character. Water supply officials are able to forestall shortages to some extent by careful manipulation of drafts upon their reservoirs, if several reservoirs are available. For example, in Hartford, despite the drought, Nepaug Reservoir was filled on April 21, 1930, after being severely taxed by drawdowns in the fall and winter of 1929.

Perhaps Mother Nature may again be good to us as she has in the past by sending us well distributed and abundant rainfall in the next few months to make up for recent deficiencies. However, it does not pay to "take chances" and it behooves those in charge of public water supplies to develop reserve resources well in advance of actual water shortages. The necessity of pressing into service emergency public water supplies of inferior quality is one to be avoided.

200 BOY SCOUTS HOLD FINAL RALLY PRACTICE

The final rally practice for the coming Boy Scout Jamboree to be held May 24 at the Armory was held Tuesday night at the Armory with about 200 boys present. Troops 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 12, 21, and 1 of Willimantic were represented. The order of events was as follows: Grand entry and review, competitive troop inspection, dressing race, fire by friction, knot tying relay, first aid, scout games and activities, mass signalling drill, bugling, etc. In the competitive events Troop 9 won with 14 points, Troop 1 was second with eight points, Troops 12, 5 and 4, tied for third with five points. Other troops winning points were Troops 2, 8 and 7.

Though the scouts indicated fatigue, the success of the practice assures the Jamboree committee that on the 24th a demonstration will be put on worthy of the Boy Scout program. Every troop is out to win the silk banner given by the Norwich Rotary club. Many scouts have expressed their intention to enter individual exhibits for their troop.

According to the Jamboree committee, there will be no further changes in the rally and the order of events as decided upon are as follows:

A competitive scoutcraft exhibit, a non-competitive review, a competitive troop inspection, a competitive dressing race, a competitive fire by friction event, a competitive tree felling contest, a competitive knot tying relay, a competitive first aid demonstration, non-competitive scout games and activities, a non-competitive mass signalling drill with four scouts from each troop participating, a non-competitive bugling contest, a non-competitive airplane flying circus. An interesting feature of the program will be the final pageant when the great Boy Scout handbook will open and 50 or more scouts will file out, representing different merit badges. Those already taken are agriculture, angling, archery, architecture, art, astronomy, athletics, automobiling, aviation, basketry, blacksmithing, botany, bugling, camping, carpentry, cooking, cycling, electricity, firemanship, first aid, first aid to animals, gardening, handicraft, hiking, hog and pork production, horsemanship, interpreting, leather working, life saving, marksmanship, masonry, music, painting, photography, physical development, plumbing, poultry keeping, printing, radio, reptile study, salesmanship, scholarship, seamanship, signalling, soil management, stalking, surveying, swimming, taxidermy, wood carving, wood work. Other badges can be assigned by calling scout headquarters. All scouts portraying merit badges will hold a dress rehearsal Friday afternoon, May 23, at 4 o'clock.

Another interesting feature of the program will be a stunt by the cubs of Norwich, of which there are now about 50. A practice period for their stunt will be held May 23, Friday, at 4:30 p. m.

According to the local scout headquarters, the Jamboree will be conducted under the supervision of a director, assistant director, referee, three judges, three timekeepers, a starter and a scorer. These men have already been named and upon their acceptance their names will be published.

Scoutleaders who conducted the practice were: A. L. Peale, Cecil Wetherbee, Will Collins, John Murphy, John Hill, Nick Terrant, John Boldrighini, Howard Ludlow, Anton, Lloyd Rathbun, Robert Burke, H. Downer Johnson, Henry Sebastian, John Harvey of Willimantic, and John Sellman. During the evening Mr. Smith of Smith's Shoe store gave the boys a short talk.

According to the local headquarters, an effort will be made to provide seats for 300 to 1,000 parents and friends.

COAL SUPPLY PLACED IN FIRE STATIONS

Storing of coal in the local fire stations for use next winter was completed Tuesday. At the Central station 61 tons of coal were stored, 27 at the North Main street station, 14 at Thamesville station, 12 at West Main street station, and 14 at the Joseph Perkins road station.

Finished Parliamentary Law Class.

The last meeting of the Woman's City club parliamentary law class for this season was held at the Wauregan hotel Monday afternoon.

Judge A. F. Libby gave a review of the subjects taken during the course, but from a different angle. The talk covered a great deal of ground, but was most clear and concise.

SELDEN'S PAINTINGS SHOWN IN KNOWLTON SALON

Opportunity to see a representative collection of the paintings of Henry Bill Selden, associate professor of fine arts at Connecticut college, is afforded by the present exhibition in Knowlton salon which forms the 11th annual art exhibition at the college. There are 38 paintings which are hung in excellent setting which Knowlton salon affords, making one of the finest art exhibitions ever held at the college.

One of the pictures particularly noteworthy, shows a wind-whipped sea, wheeling gulls and wildly clouded sky, which instantly convey the thought of its title, Easterly Weather.

Coast of Maine with the dark mass of the cliffs seen across the quiet little harbor has something of the austerity of Maine which is so different from the pastoral quality that characterizes Connecticut. The little building clinging against the cliff, the boat sheltered for the time from the sea in the quiet cove, make one conscious that here man is struggling against elemental forces.

In the painting Abandoned, which was also shown at the exhibition in Lyme last summer, there is an emotional quality difficult to define. In it a small deserted house, stark alone by the side of a road, stands in eloquent silence in its setting of fresh bright green grass, distant hills and clear blue sky.

Girl Sewing is an effective treatment of a figure subject. The expressively drawn hands and the warm golden note of the little maple candle stand, carry out the quiet mood of the picture.

Of the smaller pictures, February is one of the best. The quiet of the woods in this month when nature seems waiting hushed for the returning life of spring is expressed with a reserve that is indeed effective.

There are several small pictures that are interesting; among them are Gloucester, Mountain Farm and Lobster Traps.

The water colors hold their own very well in the exhibition. They are directly handled and have a sparkle and vivacity that is notable. There is in them a sincerity and the artist has so obviously enjoyed working in this gayest and most informal of media that they successfully escape the pitfall of mere cleverness.

The series of Fish Houses are entertaining and On the Beach is also good.

October, the largest of the water colors, is decidedly the best.

The exhibition will be open to the public from 10:30 until 5 o'clock every day until May 23.

WILL MAKE PLEA FOR NORWICH-OWNED SCOUT CAMP

One of the most important board meetings ever held by the local Boy Scout council will be this (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 in the chamber of commerce rooms. The Scoutmasters of Norwich will attend in a body and present before them a plea for a Norwich-owned scout camp. Many other matters of importance to the 500 scouts and 100 cubs under this council will be taken up and dealt with informally.

Following the joint round table between the board and scout leaders, a special meeting will be held between the executive committee and representatives from Putnam, Stafford Springs and Willimantic on the allocation of council expense. Mr. Duff, office manager of the Eastern Connecticut council, has made a thorough study of the budget and will make a full report. Indications are that the demands upon the local council are increasing in volume steadily whereas the budget has been cut to the lowest minimum, making it for the number of boys and men serviced one of the lowest in New England. It is hoped that as a result of the meeting steps can be taken to allocate expense and to raise sufficient funds to carry the council through the present fiscal year and to clear off last year's deficit.

EVANS—BRAND WEDDING ANNOUNCEMENT MADE

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Anne Elizabeth Brand, formerly of Versailles, and Thomas Evans was made in the Summit, (N. J.) Herald on May 2nd as follows:

"Announcement was made Tuesday evening of the marriage of Miss Anne Elizabeth Brand, teacher in Franklin school, to Thomas Evans of New York and England. The announcement was made at a bridge party at the home of Miss Sarah E. Cadoo, principal, 5 Parmley place, who entertained teachers and committee chairmen of the Franklin school Parent-Teacher association.

"Mrs. Evans is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brand, of Versailles, Connecticut. The wedding took place April 19th in the rectory of St. Theresa's church. Mr. and Mrs. Evans will reside in New York after June 30th. Mrs. Evans is completing the year as teacher in Franklin school.

TULIP TALK FOLLOWED BY TULIP GARDEN VISIT

The garden section of the Woman's City club on Tuesday afternoon combined two features, either one of which would have been rewarding in itself.

Marinus Van Laar, landscapist of Hartford, spoke upon Dutch bulbs at a meeting in Slater hall annex illustrating with several vases of tulips grown by him.

Mr. Van Laar is a native of Holland and told in vivid style of the conservation of land and nourishment of the soil in that country, a contrast to our methods. All bulbs like rich soil, though they will also grow well in light ground. The best fertilizers are barnyard manure, bone meal, wood ashes, (which help to intensify the color in the blooms) and then the commercial fertilizers. These are applied in the fall, but a heavy mulch is not desirable for it may cause decay.

Spring flowering bulbs must be planted in the fall and while the cheap grades should be avoided, the expensive ones are not necessarily better than old standard varieties, since price is often governed by limited stock or some peculiarity.

The early tulips are short stemmed, but bright in coloring, while the breeders are tall and large, but duller and softer. The parrots are variegated and more or less notched. They are novelties and a few survive. Other forms are the Cottage, Rembrandt, Tulipus and the well known tall-stemmed, brilliant Darwin. A new strain, a cross between the Darwin and Early is called Triumph.

Tulips may be planted near together if they are to be lifted each year, yet it is possible to leave them in the ground for six or seven years, and for such plantings it is well to space them two inches apart, and four or five inches deep. Daffodils should be set five or six inches deep and about an inch apart, and a little earlier than tulips,—perhaps in October. A good rule for tulips is the falling leaves.

It is not desirable to plant too many varieties but to study the color combinations.

Reputable Dutch growers grade their bulbs carefully, the first and second grades being sold to the large exporting houses which have found an excellent market in the United States. New tariff laws will make these bulbs much more expensive.

A rising vote of thanks was given Mr. Van Laar for his instructive talk and adjournment was taken to the garden of Mrs. Robert W. Perkins on Broad street.

By steps, up a sharp terrace, across a velvet lawn and into the enclosed garden walked the members and their guests, and here a wonderful [illegible] of bright colored tulips greeted the eyes. Purest white, clearest yellow, glowing rose and lilac, dusky bronze and mysterious purples and black formed a rhapsody in color, leading down the grassy paths to the low terraced rock garden and its shadows cast by pine and hemlock and deciduous trees where gleamed a white and a pink flowering dogwood.

The weather man was most kind in granting a perfect afternoon and all were happy in an event so carefully prepared for by Miss Amy Cogswell, chairman of the garden section, Mrs. Perkins and other members of the committee.

4-H EGG LAYING SETS HIGH MARK FOR APRIL

(Special to The Bulletin)

STORRS, May 13—Production results for April, the sixth month of the sixth annual Connecticut 4-H egg laying contest, were outstanding, the 1,006 birds reported laying 19.36 eggs per bird, a total for the month of [illegible] eggs, second highest monthly production in the six years of the contest.

Arthur Mills, Jr., of Bloomfield, first with 29 eggs per bird from his [illegible] Reds. Eric Person, of Hawleyville, second, 28.29 eggs per bird from 152 Reds and Louis Bickley, of Stratford, third with 27.80.

GOOD FINANCIAL RETURNS REPORTED FROM PLAY

The C. L. class of Trinity Methodist church held its regular monthly meeting at the church Monday evening. Routine business was transacted and reports on the play given recently and food sale were read and accepted. Plans for a picnic were discussed. The meeting adjourned about 9:30, the next one is to be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Bradlaw, No. 8 Brown street.

HEBRON

Around 150 people, including children, gathered in Hebron town hall Tuesday evening, May 6th, to observe the work of the pupils of the schools of the town on Parent-Teacher night. Jones street school gave "A Japanese Sketch." Center school opened the program with a song, "Good Morning Polliwog," directed by their music teacher, Miss Pearl B. Harrison of Hartford. White school gave a "Picture Story by Boats," Arleen London telling the story and Adriania Freddo showing the pictures. Gull school gave "Color in Every Day Life." The six girls, who took part, were very attractive in their colored paper dresses. They sang a "Complementary Song, in Nature." A class in reading, grades four and five, was given by Center grammar school. Amston school's part on the program included "Nature Study Project," charts showing samples of the different trees found in Connecticut. Jaggar school, "Unit On Land of the Midnight Sun Project." Gilead Hill school, "Project of Pioneers and Slavery." Supt. Malcolm B. Robertson gave an address of welcome. The exhibit of the schools showed careful study and preparation.

Walter E. Wright is ill with a hard cold.

Rev. Dr. Benjamin H. Bissell, of Cambridge, Mass., and a friend, Prof. Wellington Sloane of New York are spending a short time in Hebron.

A bridge party was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Douglas, one evening recently.

Electric lights in Hebron and Gilead went out during the thunder shower Wednesday night and again Thursday night. They came back about 10:10 p. m., and in about 20 minutes out the lights went.

A forest fire started in the woods near Amston Station, Wednesday afternoon, but owing to the number of men fighting it, was soon put out.

Joseph G. Dean, field executive of Hartford council, Boy Scouts, came to Hebron, Friday, and gave a talk on Boy Scouts in Summer Camp, Pioneer. This talk was illustrated by three reels of moving pictures. He presented Carroll W. Hutchinson, the charter for Hebron's local group. Hebron Boy Scouts are now called Troop 83 in the Hartford council. Fifteen boys and two members of the committee were present. The meeting was held at the rectory of St. Peter's Episcopal church.

Merle Jones Post, 95, American Legion, held a meeting in the town hall, Thursday evening, to make arrangements for Memorial day. Hebron Drum Corps held a rehearsal, Wednesday evening, for Memorial day exercises.

May 8th, the Young Women's club held "Mother's day" at the home of Mrs. Louise Links. The roll call was Poems for Mother. The leader was Mrs. Marion Perry and the hostesses were Mrs. Louise Links, Miss Helen Hough, Mrs. Anna Potocek, and Mrs. Mabel Warner, but owing to illness, Mrs. Warner was unable to be present. Mrs. Links sang "Mother O'Mine," she was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John W. Deeter. Mrs. Deeter gave a reading, "Mother." A spelling bee and games followed. Mrs. Hart Buell won first prize in the spelling bee and Miss Florence M. Jones first in a guessing game. At the business meeting, two members were added to the club, Mrs. Minnie Hodge and Mrs. Ethel White. Cheese, lettuce, rolls, olives, cakes and punch were served. Twenty-two members were present, seven guests and eight children. The next meeting will be held May 22th, at the home of Mrs. Ethel Hilding. It will be a memorial meeting and a World war speaker will be present.

CLARENCE DE MAR WILL POSITIVELY APPEAR IN MEMORIAL DAY RACE HERE

The world's greatest marathon runner, Clarence De Mar, Melrose, Mass., legionnaire, will positively appear here on Memorial day as a contestant in the Naitonal A. A. U. 10-mile championship sponsored by the Duwell Athletic club. This announcement was made last night by Duwell officials with the receipt of the famed athlete's signed entry blank. The blank was forwarded by De Mar to Joseph Daley, adjutant of the Robert Fletcher post, American legion, and the latter in turn advised the Duwells. At a recent date the Fletcher post, at a regular meeting, voted to invite DeMar and Adjutant Daley immediately sent him an invitation.

The Melrose veteran, at the present time a teacher at a Keene, N. H., high school, at the age of 41 years, stands head and shoulders above any of the other distance men in the universe. He has taken part in 36 full distance marathon races and has won 15 of them. In addition he has competed in and won many other runs of shorter distances. His most notable achievement is the record he has set at Boston. He has won the Boston marathon seven times, taking his most recent victory last month. Against a field of 200 starters De Mar was not conceded a chance to win the race this year, but he upset the dope by romping home in his best time yet for 26 miles. He came within two minutes of breaking the course record set in 1929 by Johnny Miles of Canada.

De Mar has twice represented the United States at the Olympic games and at the present time looms up as a strong favorite for a berth on the team that will represent this country at Los Angeles in 1932. The Melrose star won his first marathon at the age of 24 and at 26 had stopped competing. Prior to entering the world war he tried the Boston marathon in 1917 and placed third. Except for the latter race he had been out of the distance running business for 10 years when he won the Boston run for the first time in 1922. He won the Boston classic again in 1923 and 1924 and placed second to Johnny Miles in 1925. The next year he was third and 28. They were counting him out again—too old—when back he came to win in 1927 and 1928. When he slumped in 1929 every one knew he was through. However, after his most recent performance, nobody knows anything.

The entry of De Mar certainly gives the coming Duwell run additional championship flavor. While he is probably the best known, Clarence is not the only famous athlete entered. The entry list to date includes the names of "Bill" Kennedy of Portchester, winner of the Boston run in 1921, Whitey Michealson, national 15 mile champion and member of the United States Olympic team in 1928, Fred Ward, national 20 mile champion, James McDaze, present 10 mile titleholder, and Max Lamp, German 10,000 meter champ.

A meeting of the general committee, men about the city assisting the Duwells in the arrangement of the title race, is to be held at the chamber of commerce rooms this afternoon at 5 o'clock. At the meeting, it is expected, announcement will be made of the program to be put on in support of the race. Other important announcements will be made at the meeting.

N. F. A.-WESTERLY TRACK MEET AT CAMPUS TODAY

The Academy track team will engage in its fourth dual meet of the season this afternoon at the campus, meeting Westerly high. From all indications, it should be hotly contested as the two schools are figured on a par.

The Academy has won one, beating Chapman Tech handily, and lost two, both by close scores, to Hartford high and New London Bulkeley. Both losses came about through the collapse of the Wildcat half-mile relay team, usually one of the strong points of the Red and White squads.

The Academy will have all regulars in action in an attempt to atone for some past reverses sustained at the hands of the Rhode Islanders. Capt. Sam Berkman, who is running up an amazing point-total this year, is primed to again lead the local trackmen in action.

YANKS REACH .500 MARK BY TRIMMING ST. LOUIS

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—After an uphill struggle from the start of the season, the Yankees reached the .500 mark for the first time today by defeating the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1. The victory gave the Yankees their longest winning streak of the year, four games.

Waite Hoyt had a shaky start but settled down to pitch in his old time form, holding the Browns to five hits. Kress drove in their only run with a single in the first inning. Dick Coffman pitched well for St. Louis until the fifth inning when four hits in a row sent him to the showers. Chad Kimsey finished without allowing the Yanks a hit. The score:

ATHLETICS BEAT CHICAGO IN SLUGGING MATCH, 14-7

PHILADELPHIA, May 13—(AP)—The Athletics held their winning pace today by defeating the Chicago White Sox, 14 to 7, in a slugging match that opened their three game series.

Each team had to call on three pitchers and the Athletics hammered the Chicago trio for 17 hits. The world's champions hit the peak of their attack in the sixth inning when they slammed the offerings of Young Ed Walsh and Bob Weiland for six runs.

The Sox hit Bill Shores and Jack Quinn for 15 hits before Walberg stopped them.

Reynolds of Chicago and Bishop of Philadelphia hit home runs. The score:

INDIANS SCORE EARLY TO DEFEAT SENATORS

WASHINGTON, May 13—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians took the first of a three game series here with the Senators, 11 to 6. All the scoring was done in the first three innings—Cleveland driving Lloyd Brown from the box in the first with five runs and sending Thomas to the showers in the third after scoring six more.

Washington scored its runs in the second and third innings, pounding Miller out of the box. Harder for the Indians and Moore for the Senators, pitched good ball as relief hurlers.

Morgan, Cleveland right fielder, hit a homer. Score:

LINDSEY CHECKS GIANTS RALLY AND CARDS WIN

ST. LOUIS, May 13—(AP)—Jim Lindsey, a right handed recruit pitcher from Houston, saved the day for the Cardinals today and enabled them to run their winning streak to seven games by defeating the New York Giants, 6 to 4.

Lindsey stepped into the box after Sherdel had weakened in the sixth inning and had filled the bases after one run had scored. He checked the Giant rally, allowing two more counters in the sixth and none in the next three innings to score his first victory of the season.

Bill Walker pitched the entire game for the Giants but extra base hits caused his downfall. The Cardinals made five of the nine doubles in the game, bunching three of them in the sixth to overcome a one-run lead. Hafey hit a home run in the eighth.

BEAUREGARD AND PENA IN MAIN BOUT AT SHYMA CLUB BOXING SHOW, MAY 21

From a cursory glance at the list of boxers who are to appear in the Shyma club's outdoor boxing show, at Taftville, May 21, it would seem that the eastern Connecticut fans will witness a world of action, when these boys begin to mix things up. The five bouts of 36 rounds will bring together the topnotchers in three classes, all of whom are able to swap punches with speed. There are three bantamweight, two featherweight and one lightweight matches.

The main tussle of the evening will see Al Beauregard, New England bantamweight champion, and the pride of Taftville, against Johnny Pena of New York, sensational Spanish [illegible], both of whom have enviable records, and are expected to provide a real stiff go. Pena holds a decision over Mike Esposito of [illegible] and several other leading fighters. Esposito, it will be remembered, has beaten Al, gaining a decision over him.

Joey Williams of New Bedford is billed to meet Jose Routis of San Francisco in the semi-finals. Williams has received the cognomen, the fighting Sunday school teacher, but this does not detract a thing from his reputation as a boxer. He swings a mean pair of fists that has won for him many fights and from those way up, at that. Little is known of the boy who hails from the west coast.

Another bout that is very promising is that in which Ray Myers of Brooklyn, N. Y., meets Eddie Ziegler of Newark in six rounds. Myers was national amateur featherweight champion, but relinquished that title when he entered the professional ranks a while ago. He won the national amateur title about a month ago in the Boston tournament.

The two preliminaries will find Rene Peloquin of Danielson carded with Long Sing Que of New York and Julio Rossi of Westerly against Ted Biano of Montville.

WILSON HITS 9TH HOMER AS CUBS BEAT BRAVES

CHICAGO, May 13—(AP)—The Cubs frittered away an eight run lead today but managed to squeeze out a 9 to 8 decision over the Boston Braves in the opening game of the series.

Assaults on Ben Cantwell and Cunningham gave the Cubs an 8 to 0 margin at the end of the fourth, but the Braves put on an uprising in the sixth and scored six runs. They added another pair in their half of the eighth, but the National league champions scored the winning run in their section of the inning.

Four home runs were made including Hack Wilson's ninth of the season. Pat Malone got one for the Cubs before he was driven to cover and Moore and Welsh got one each for the Braves. Score:

The Shyma club baseball team of Taftville would like to play the Chapman Aces of Willimantic on the Providence street grounds Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. If challenge is accepted answer through The Bulletin either Thursday or Friday.

Want Return Game

The Black Hawks who were beaten by the Elizabeth street school baseball team would like a return game with them, preferably at Hollyhock Island, on either Thursday or Friday.

FIVE AMERICAN WOMEN ELIMINATED TUESDAY IN BRITISH GOLF TOURNEY

FORMBY, Eng., May 13—(AP)—The big field in the British women's golf championship tonight was reduced to 32 with seven Americans among them. Five visitors from overseas fell today but the invaders still were without major casualties as they enter the fourth round tomorrow morning.

There was conceded a good chance for the Americans to place six in the last 16 and some close observers saw a possible last eight made up of four Americans and four British players.

Two rounds will be played tomorrow and when the day's play is done the quarter-finalists will emerge.

Glenna Collett, Virginia Van Wie, Mrs. Leo Federman and Mrs. Stewart Hanley had to win only a match each today but Helen Hicks, Maureen Orcutt, and Edith Quier had to surmount two obstacles to fight their way to the fourth round.

The five Americans defeated were Mrs. O. S. Hill, who won her second round match but lost in the next, and Miss Louise Fordyce, Miss Fritzi Stifel, Miss Peggy Wattles and Mrs. E. F. Lenihan, eliminated in the second round.

Tomorrow brings the serious stage of the championship. Only one leading British player has been eliminated, Miss Doris Chambers, former champion, defeated by Miss Helen Hicks yesterday. The only other champion competing, Mrs. Temple Bobell, the former Gladys Ravenscroft, was beaten today by Miss Beryl Brown, but she no longer considers herself a serious title contender.

Hard matches are forecast for tomorrow, both morning and afternoon. One of the first serious international clashes arrays Miss Collett against Miss Molly Gourlay, English champion and conqueror of the American champion in the informal matches at Sunningdale early this month.

The Americans are well scattered. Helen Hicks, who scored two victories today by the same margin, seven up and five to play, has Mrs. Federman and either Maureen Orcutt or Enid Wilson in her way. Miss Wilson toyed with her opponents today, scoring 35 out for the lowest count of the day on the first nine.

Miss Quier, the only American in the third quarter, has Diana Fishwick as her most dangerous rival. Miss Van Wie and Mrs. Hanley are in the fourth quarter, with Mrs. Hanley facing the most serious opposition.

One of the English casualties today was Miss Mabel Wragg, who defeated Miss Collett at Hunstanton in 1928. She was beaten by Dr. Alexander at the 18th hole.

Heavy mists spoiled the morning matches. However, the skies cleared and big galleries followed the feature matches in the afternoon.

MAX MUST SIGN WITH MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—The last word in proclamations, superceding all others and reversing most of them, was issued today by the New York state athletic commission in the case of Max Schmeling, who seeks a license to ply his trade as a journeyman heavyweight in combat with Jack Sharkey for the world's championship, June 12, at the Yankee stadium.

The commission decided that Schmeling, before he gets a boxing license, must sign two sets of contracts. The first will bind him to box Sharkey for the milk fund June 12 but the second will force him to defend the title he may win from the sailor within a year under the auspices of Madison Square Garden only. Last week the commission forbade Schmeling to sign any contract except for the Sharkey bout until after the Teuton's contract with Arthur Buelow, the manager who has now become his legal sparring partner, expires Oct. 13, 1930.

GOLF FAVORITES WIN IN SOUTHERN WOMEN'S TOURNEY

SEDGEFIELD COUNTRY CLUB, Greensboro, N. C., May 13—(AP)—Two days of the 19th annual running of the Women's Southern Golf tournament are history and not an upset has occurred to feature the carnival on the snappy Valley Brook course here. All the best-liked players survived today's first round of match play with the "big four" of 1930 Dixie golf sweeping ruthlessly through the field, headed, apparently, for the semi-finals where the first real battles of the tournament are scheduled to get under way.

The last of the Virginians fell by the wayside today, leaving only eight states with representation in the second round tomorrow.

All of the four ranking favorites breezed through today's encounters with plenty of room to spare.

Miss Margaret Maddox, Atlanta, had no trouble disposing of, Mrs. K. L. Brown of Durham, N. C., five and four. Mrs. Marion T. Lake of New Orleans, turned back Mrs. Marshall Crichton, also of Durham, six and four; Mrs. David C. F. Gaul, Memphis, ran up a score of eight and seven to defeat Mrs. Barham Jones of Norfolk, and Mrs. Leon Solomon, Memphis, coasted to an easy six and five decision over Mrs. Jack Vilas of Hot Springs, Ark.

UNCLE LUTHER WINNER OF CHURCHILL DOWNS RACE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 13—(AP)—Luther Stiver's Kentucky derby candidate, Uncle Luther, today splashed around a track, hock deep in mud to win the fifth race at Churchill Downs, billed as the derby trial purse for three year olds over the mile route.

Ned O, G. W. Foreman's good gelding which arrived here recently from the east, was second and Dark Entry, owned by Hal Price Headley, showed. The others were in the ruck.

Uncle Luther was regarded lightly by the talent, paying $12.82 to win, $4.94 to place and $4.18 to snow for a $2 mutuel ticket. The mile was run in 1:41 4-5, fair time considering the condition of the track.

Broadway Limited, the Three D's stable $65,000 yearling, was fourth with Play Time, Dick O'Hara, Niato and Brother Rank following in order. Johnson N. Camden's Sydney and Ladrone, both eligible for the derby, were scratched.

PAIRINGS OF AMERICAN WALKER CUP TEAM NAMED

SANDWICH, Eng., May 13—(AP)—Pairings of the American Walker cup team for the foursomes against the British team Thursday were announced tonight. They are: George Von Elm and George Voight, Donald Moe and Roland Mackenzie; Robert T. Jones, Jr., and Dr. O. F. Willing; and Harrison R. Johnston and Francis Ouimet.

Announcement of the British pairings was not expected until tomorrow but it was regarded as likely that William Campbell and J. A. Lang would pair with the other probable partnerships including Sir Ernest Holderness and J. A. Stout, Robert Harris and T. A. Torrance, Roger Wethered and Cyril J. H. Tolley.

TEXTILERS DEFEATED BY BOX MAKERS, SCORE 7 TO 4

The Robertson Paper Box Co. nine defeated the Textile Manufacturing outfit in the first encounter between these two teams in the Montville Industrial Twilight league Tuesday night by a score of 7 to 4 at the Gairdiamond, Uncasville. It was a hard-fought battle between the two pitchers up to the third when the Textilers scored two runs and Robertson came back with four in the fourth. McKinney led the hitters with a two-bagger and a single. Score:

MRS. LAKE WINS PLAYOFF FOR MEDALIST HONORS

SEDGEFIELD COUNTRY CLUB, Greensboro, N. C., May 13—(AP)—Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake of New Orleans and New York, this afternoon defeated Miss Margaret Maddox of Atlanta in the play-off for the medalist honors in the Women's Southern Golf tournament here. Mrs. Lake shot a 36-40—76 for the 18 holes while Miss Maddox had a 40-40—80.

Davis Cup Pairings

PHILADELPHIA, May 13—(AP)—George M. Lott, of Chicago, and John Van Ryn, East Orange, N. J., will play No. 1 and No. 2, respectively, in singles, and Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas, and Van Ryn will be paired in the doubles for the United States in the first American zone Davis cup tennis tie against Canada at the Philadelphia Country club Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

CESARE, QUOTED AT 40 TO 1, WINS RACE AT JAMAICA

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—Five thousand racing fans, pinning their faith on the odds-on favorite, were forced to admit defeat today when the long shots won four of the six races run over the Jamaica turf.

The climax was reached in the running of the Southampton handicap a mile and a sixteenth gallop for three-year-olds, when W. R. Coe's Cesare, quoted at 40 to 1, won his first race in a drive over Frank Brown's Starpatic, the odds-on-choice. The Rancocas stable's Khara was third.

THOMPSON WILL FIGHT CORBETT 3RD, AUGUST 27

DETROIT, Mich., May 13—(AP)—Jack Thompson will defend his welterweight title against young Corbett 3rd at Navin field here on August 27, Dick Dunn, manager of Olympia Sporting club, announced tonight.

Mr. Dunn said the agreement had been signed for the bout and the details would be announced later.

Thompson, a San Francisco Negro, won his title last Friday night from Jackie Fields in a 15-round bout at Olympia stadium here. He agreed to defend it against any suitable opponent selected by Olympia.

WESTERLY TOPS WINDHAM IN LEAGUE TILT, SCORE 5 TO 3

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, May 13—Westerly high scored its second straight victory in the Eastern Connecticut-Western Rhode Island league here today by defeating Windham high, 5 to 3. Novak pitched nice ball for the locals and was opposed by Simmons. Dolan, Westerly catcher, hit a home run.

As the result of this game, there is now a four-team tie for second place in the league between Bulkeley, Westerly, Chapman Tech and Windham, each having won two and lost two. N. F. A. has won three and lost one and Stonington won one and lost three.

DE GLANE THROWS PENTON, COUNT ZARYNOFF IN DRAW

MANCHESTER, N. H., May 13.—(AP)—Henri De Glane of France threw Stanley Penton of Manchester in one hour, 35 minutes, to win a one fall main wrestling bout here tonight.

Count Zarynoff and Joe Malcewiecz of Utica, N. Y., battled to a 45-minute draw in the semi-final.

Sharkey Starts Training

ORANGEBURG, N. Y., May 13—(AP)—Jack Sharkey opened his training campaign today for his 15-round heavyweight title bout with Max Schmeling June 12 in the Yankee stadium. The Boston sailor was on the road for four miles, did ten rounds of floor exercises, and pounded the bags for a half dozen rounds. He weighed 199 pounds. He will not box before Friday.

Sluggers Lose

The Pearl Street Sluggers were blanked by Keenan's All Stars Tuesday afternoon at the Sandbanks by a 3 to 0 score. The lineup for the winners, who have three wins, is: G. Betzkowski p; L. Rutchik c; Grillo 1b; Piekar 2b; Chojnicki 3b; Lenkiewich ss; Paskiewich lf; Zenkowski, cf; J. Piekar rf.

Stoner Released

PITTSBURGH, May 13—(AP)—Pitcher Lil Stoner was released outright today by the Pittsburgh Pirates to the Fort Worth club of the Texas league. Vice President Sam Dreyfuss of the local National league club announced.

WALTER LINDNER, STAR MOUNDSMAN, TO PITCH FOR J. B. MARTIN SUNDAY

One of the sweetest high school pitchers, who has toed the slab in these parts and has only recently been released by the New Haven club of the Eastern league, will appear at the J. B. Martin diamond, Taftville, Sunday afternoon, in the game between the Martins and the Hartford K. of C. nine. He is none other than Walter Lindner, former Deep River high sensation.

Lindner, who will pitch for J. B., was not released from the New Haven club because he did not have the goods, as those who have seen him know, but because of the long knife that usually falls upon the big leagues' lineups at this time. This is the cutting period and as New Haven has a string of A-1 hurlers and Lindner was among the last to join the club, he had to go. The Deep River boy, although of slight build, is a cool headed hurler and has a world of curves.

Lindner will be pitted against one of the best semi-pro clubs in the Hartford section, a team that is made up of practically all men who have seen service in the Middlesex league. Frankie Farrell, former Holy Cross star, is captain of the team and plays at the shortstop position. One familiar face will be seen in Kilray, former Weaver high player, who has appeared on the Academy campus. He is a third baseman. His performance here at the Academy was nothing more than marvelous.

TWO NEW LONDON NINES OPPOSE ACADEMY THIS WEEK

This is a full New London week on the Academy's baseball schedule, what with the team meeting Chapman Tech at New London tomorrow and Bulkeley here Saturday. And it offers the two Whaling City schools another opportunity to break the charm that the Academy has held over them since 1926.

In this span, Tech and the Orange and Black have only been able to win two games from the Wildcats and in the 17 games played have been outscored over two to one, to be more exact, 140 to 63 runs.

The two New London victories came in 1926, once by Tech by 12 to 2 and the other by Bulkeley. Since then, or in 15 straight games, it has been the Norwich bunch that collected the bets.

The Academy has scored four shutouts against one for the city-by-the-sea boys. Incidentally, that Bulkeley shutout in '26 is the only one scored against N. F. A. in those four years in all of their games.

Once again the old fires are flaming as the two cities prepare for battle. The Academy is intent in starting in with Tech where they left off in the first game played here a couple of weeks ago, which was won 10 to 3, and then keeping in stride for Bulkeley, its ancient rival, Saturday. Both of these games are also league tilts and must be won if the Academy is to stay in first place.

Here are the scores:

N. F. A. 10, Chapman Tech 3.

1929
N. F. A. 4, Chapman Tech 3 (11 innings).
N. F. A. 5, Bulkeley 2.
N. F. A. 13, Chapman Tech 11
N. F. A. 12, Bulkeley 0.

1928
N. F. A. 13, Chapman Tech 2.
N. F. A. 10, Bulkeley 9.
N. F. A. 6, Bulkeley 0.
N. F. A. 7, Chapman Tech 0.

1927
N. F. A. 4, Chapman Tech 2.
N. F. A. 6, Bulkeley 5.
N. F. A. 18, Chapman Tech 3.
N. F. A. 11, Bulkeley 10.

1926
N. F. A. 8, Chapman Tech 1.
N. F. A. 1, Bulkeley 0.
N. F. A. 2, Chapman Tech 12.
N. F. A. 10, Bulkeley 0.

Many of the fans expect the Academy to have a busy afternoon trying to solve the deliveries of Hewitt Thursday. They point out that with control in the first game he would have made the Wildcats walk the rope. In that game he passed eight men and was touched for only seven hits. Last year, Hewitt gave N. F. A. one of its toughest battles when he lost, 4 to 3, in 11 innings at New London. Boots Greene, who will oppose him, is dead in earnest to get back in form after his rough experience with Westerly last week. Boots was plainly off form that day for he showed he had the goods in his other starts. He is undefeated with four well-pitched victories to his credit and the Academy followers expect him to make it five and to have it labeled Chapman Tech.

Butsy Weisgraber is slated to be the N. F. A. starting pitcher Saturday against Bulkeley. The Bulkeley choice has not been announced as yet, Coach Bill O'Brien has Art Dayton, who beat Deep River, Eugene Callahan, brother of Lefty Callahan, who turned back Chapman Tech, and Pat Haleftiras, a southpaw. It would not be surprising to see the latter in the box when the cry "Play Ball" is sounded. It is an open secret that the Academy has made its best showings against righthanders this year and has had some difficulty with the boys who throw from the wrong side.

In fact, the scorebook bears out this statement. In the first game with the Richmond Radiators they faced Lefty Lucier for six innings, and, although the winning run was scored off him, he also ran up quite a record when he fanned ten of them in a row.

Then they went against Louie Green, hurling for the Alumni, the following week and he lost, 3 to 2, only because of a couple of outfield errors. Following that came Hagen of Deep River, who hooked up in a duel with Boots Greene and lost only because of a boner by the catcher. This score was 2 to 1. Then, finally, there was Tucker, of Westerly last Wednesday, who, although touched for four runs in one inning, stopped the boys when they needed a tying run in the ninth inning and enabled the Rhode Islanders to go home with the only victory scored over N. F. A. this year.

This supremacy of left-handers over the Red and White may be because there is a scarcity of these performers on the local squad this year, for which to practice against. It is there, nevertheless.

A short practice is scheduled for the team today.

The Academy-Chapman Tech baseball game has been definitely shifted to Thursday afternoon, it was announced Tuesday by Coach Brigham of the Wildcats and it will be played as a twilight affair at Mercer field at 5:30 o'clock. This arrangement will gave many fans an opportunity to see the game who would otherwise be unable to be present.

Arrows Win

The Silver Arrows defeated Gleason's All Stars, 20 to 16, Tuesday afternoon at the Hickory street diamond. Eddie Angelone starred at bat with three homers and a double. The Arrows lineup: Romanski c, Angelone p, Johnson 1b, Cappolozzi 2b, Zudowski 3b, Callucci ss, Perrone lf, Calborn cf, Romanski rf. Angelone struck out 14 men.

The Arrows are desirous of playing any team averaging 13 years a game.

Rosenbloom To Box Hoffman

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—Without renouncing his light heavyweight title aspirations, Maxey Rosenbloom, the belting buffoon, has decided to make things difficult for some of the heavyweights. He signed articles today to box George Hoffman, New York heavy, ten rounds on the opening card at the Queensboro arena, June 3.

Two High School Contests

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, May 13—The two local high school nines will play at home Wednesday. Chapman Tech will meet Deep River at Morgan park and Bulkeley entertains Stonington high at Mercer field. The latter game is a league tilt and both contests start at 3 o'clock.

The application of Miss Marie Averill Bland for citizenship was denied in federal court, New York, by Judge William Bondy because she refused to comply with that part of the oath of allegiance which promises to bear arms personally against an enemy of the United States.

POETRY FOR THE WIDE AWAKES

Mother's Lullaby

Lullaby, baby dear, close thy bright eyes,
For angels are lighting the stars in the skies;
The moon journeying homeward from over the sea
Sends down a good-night to my baby and me.

Each tiny flower in cool, mossy bed,
Is drowsily, dreamily nodding its head;
Little birds in their nests in the branches will swing,
Their heads tucked away under soft, downy wing.

Little waves from the pebbly shore murmuring creep
Back for old ocean to rock them to sleep.
I rock thee, my baby dear, close to my breast,
And sing thee the song that thou lovest the best.

Thy father, my darling one, sails the blue sea:
Tho', far o'er the waters he's thinking of thee;
But slumber is o'er thee beginning to creep;
The lullaby's ended, my baby's asleep.

My First Day at School

How well I remember my first day at school,
How dreary the hours seemed to be;
My first introduction to pencil and rule
Will ne'er be forgotten by me.

I sat at my desk so alert and erect,
And gazed on that wonderful scene,
But oh, while the teacher my work did correct—
It's home that I fain would have been.

When to my dear mother I first said "Goodbye,"
I'm sure that she also felt sad;
For look where I will, and however I try,
There's none like my mother and dad.

For I am their only dear daughter, you know,
That's the reason they love me so;
And wherever I go 'tis the same old song—
"Goodbye, Marjorie, don't stay long."

UNCLE JED'S TALK TO THE WIDE AWAKES

Very few boys and girls know how a flower acts when it entertains an insect friend or guest. Many of you are no doubt acquainted with the scarlet salvira or Mexican sage which is so ornamental in New England gardens. This is a tubular flower with a lip and a hood. The lip is designed to bear the weight of the visiting bee and the hood, like an awning, is designed to keep the inside of the flower dry, which is wonderfully arranged to dust the bee's back with pollen while he is taking his toll of honey, for in taking it he releases the levers which hold the anthers and they bend forward and dust the pollen on the back of the bee. The pistil ripens later and it bends down and touches the bee on the back right where the anthers did and take up the pollen and thus ripens its seeds.

Perhaps more of you know the white clover that grows by the roadside and in the fields. Its tiny blossom has a keel and wings and a standard like the sweet pea. The clover is many flowers in one and is called a composite flower. You love the sweet clover scent and that is the bees' call to a treat of honey. The lower flowers open first and the others follow in their order. After a flower has been visited by a bee it closes up and moves out of the way and is wilted. The flower waiting for the bee stands up straight to catch the eye of its guest and this wonderful arrangement helps in two ways, for the bee thereby loses no time and increases its store of honey and the clover gets more of its tiny flowers fertilized.

The tubular flowers like the morning glory are moth flowers, for they invite insects to sip their honey that have long tongues. Once in the East Indies a naturalist found one of these flowers 15 inches deep and he said there must be a visiting moth with a tongue of equal depth. Such a moth was not then known to naturalists, but a year or two after the flower was discovered the moth with the long tongue was caught. It was difficult to catch him because he was a night worker and operated in the dark.

It does not surprise you now that great men find it profitable to study the littlest flowers, for they learn from them wonderful facts which the world needs to know.

LETTERS WRITTEN BY WIDE-AWAKES.

A Maine Lumber Camp.

Dear Uncle Jed: I have already written to the Wide-Awake Circle and enjoy writing again. This time I am going to tell you about "A Trip to Maine."

We started from Hartford, Conn., and late the same day arrived in Maine. As we reached there so late we didn't go anywhere. The next day we went to visit a lumber camp.

There were many little log cabins in which the lumbermen stayed in the winter when they were chopping down the trees. During the chopping season the men go to work very early in the morning and return late in the evening.

They eat and sleep in their cabins. Their beds are board shelves or rough board covered with boughs from the spruce. The cabins are so small and so crowded that at night the men must lie side by side with scarcely room to turn. They often suffer from cold as they sometimes have to work when the temperature is below zero.

I noticed that where a tree was cut down it was cut as close to the ground as possible. This was done to prevent any waste.

In the springtime the men float the logs down a stream to the mill. Sometimes when there is not sufficient water to carry the logs dams have to be opened and a flood of water pours into the stream. Many logs are floated down in this way. The lumbermen call it a "log drive."

If a log runs on a rock or any thing which may stop it from floating all the other other logs stop. This is called a "log jam." The log drivers have to see that a log that gets caught is made free.

The work of preventing log jamming is very dangerous. One may also see a man carried along on a single log, clinging to it by means of the sharp spikes in his boots and balancing himself with a long pole. They have to jump from log to log and in this way they get very wet. And many times fall in and get drowned. A lumberman becomes an old man after a few years of service.

When the logs finally reach the mill they are sawed into boards, shingles and other products.

Bump! Bump! Bump!

Dear Uncle Jed: I had finished my homework in geography and was trying to think of an experience story for the next day's composition period when bump! bump! bump! was the noise I heard above.

As I was alone in the house with the exception of my three-year-old sister who was sleeping, I naturally was frightened and did not dare to scream as I felt very much like doing.

At last I gathered courage enough to seize an iron bar, which as if by magic was lying near me, and cautiously I started to mount the stairs.

As if in a daze I saw a white object rolling down the stairs, making the mysterious noise. I uttered a shriek and knew no more.

When I next opened my eyes I was in my own room and after I had became accustomed to the light I saw that my father and mother were standing by my bed.

"What's the matter?" I asked innocently.

"What's the matter yourself?" asked my father and he added, "You screamed so that you woke us all."

Then I remembered the white object and the bump! bump! bump! so I explained.

"Well," said my mother, "if you really need an experience story you have just had an exciting experience."

A May Basket.

Dear Uncle Jed: I have written to you and the Wide-Awakes before and enjoy writing. The name of my story today is "Hanging a May Basket."

Some of the girls in our room decided to hang a May basket to our teacher. We collected the money and had a basket made. Saturday night was the night we were to go.

We bought the things for the basket Saturday. At 8 o'clock, daylight saving time, the girls started to gather at my house. When we reached our teacher's house one of the girls put the basket on the door-step and we all shouted, "May Basket!" many times. The teacher came out of the house and welcomed us warmly. Then the teacher took us in the house and treated and entertained us nicely. It was getting late so we decided to go home. Some girls lived far so we walked them home. As we walked along we left each one at their home. When I returned home I was tired but very happy.

Spring

My Dear Uncle Jed: This is the first time I have written to you. I hope you and the Wide Awakes will enjoy reading my story about spring. Spring is the first season of the year. It may be compared to childhood, because everything starts to grow. The people greet spring with a pleasure. The weather gets warm, the grass turns green, flowers awake and birds return from the south.

The farmers are starting another busy year. He plows up the soil and plants vegetables. The vegetables start to grow and grow until they are ripe. Now, I am sure that everybody enjoys spring as a sports season.

At A Granite Quarry

Dear Uncle Jed: I wish to tell you of a visit I had to a granite quarry. My uncle and I went down in the deep hole. A great many icicles hung from the sides of the rock. They are dangerous to the men working there. So they shoot them down with a gun. There was a railroad where the granite was carried away on cars, and a stone crusher to crush stone to build roads of. On one building there was a piece of granite the shape of an aeroplane.

The Duke of Wellington

Dear Uncle Jed: I am writing my first story to you. The title of it is "The Duke of Wellington." The Duke of Wellington was one day taking his usual country walk, when he heard a cry of distress. He walked to the spot and found a chubby, rosy-faced boy lying on the ground, bending his head over a tame toad, and crying as if his little heart would break. "What is the matter, my lad?" said the duke. "Oh, sir, please, sir, my poor toad—I bring it something to eat every morning. But they are going to send me ever so far away from home to a school; nobody will bring it anything to eat while I am gone, and I am sure it will die." "Never mind, don't cry, lad, I'll see that the toad is well fed and you shall hear all about it while you are at school."

The boy thanked the gentleman heartily, dried his tears, and went home.

During the time he was at school he received five letters couched in the following term:

Field Marshal Duke of Wellington is happy to inform William Harries that his toad is alive and well.

What I Did on a Rainy Day

Dear Uncle Jed: I have written to the Wide-Awake circle before and enjoy writing again.

The name of my story today is, "Making a May basket." May first was a rainy day. My mother would not let me go out to play, so I decided to make a May basket. I got a box about 12 inches in length and six inches in width. I had some blue and some white paper that I had bought the previous week. After getting scissors and stick pins, I settled myself down to work.

First I cut the edges of the box. Then I estimated the amount of paper I would need. I decorated the edges of the box with the blue and the white paper and made the handle the same color. After the rain my mother gave me a dollar and let me go out to buy some things to put into the May basket.

I went down to the store and I bought all kinds of fruits, cakes and candies. Then I was ready to hang the May basket.

The Moonlight

Dear Uncle Jed: I have completed an original story, which I hope will interest both you and the Wide Awakes. Higher and higher rose the moon over the trees and above the horizon. It seemed to be welcomed by the dark sky which was to be lighted by its immense orange lantern. Several thoughts skipped my mind as I gazed upon nature. The moon showed my way back into the house again, its rays smiling down upon me, beckoning me to stay a little longer.

Ruth Visits The Country

Dear Uncle Jed: One day Margaret's city cousin, Ruth, came to visit her. She arrived safe and sound. Everything she saw she was filled with awe. After supper, Margaret said, "Come, Ruth, and I will show you the cows. This is Betty, and this is Maria, and Margaret named the 14 cows to Ruth." "Why," said Ruth, "Do cows have names: How funny, what's their last names?" Margaret's brother was milking the cows and he laughed and laughed. Then Margaret explained and all Ruth said was "Oh!"

Next morning, Margaret's mother said, "Will you pick me some dandelions for dinner today?" "Yes, I will," answered Margaret. Ruth didn't know what to make of it, and she said, "Do you eat flowers? Why, I never heard of such a thing." At dinner, when Ruth ate some dandelion green, she said, "I have never eaten anything better." When Ruth's visit came to an end she was very sorry, but she promised to come again. A little while after that, Ruth had Margaret come to visit her. The same thing that happened to Ruth happened to Margaret. She asked as many questions about the city as Ruth had about the country. I made this story up myself. I hope all will like it that read it.

A Scare!

Dear Uncle Jed: One day last summer, I was sitting under a tree, near a wall reading a book. Our cow was walking around in the field nearby. I read on and didn't think of her, when all of a sudden she sprang for me with her forefeet. I was so frightened that I threw aside my book and jumped over the wall. Then I drove her away. From that time I have never wanted to go too near her.

News From Poland

Dear Uncle Jed: This is the first time I have written to you. I hope you and the Wide Awakes will enjoy my story. My grandmother wrote to us and said there was a terrible winter two years ago in Poland. Many of the trees froze. Most of the fruit trees froze in Poland. Many cattle died because of the big frost. There is a high price on the cattle, because there are but few cattle. There were many wolves that same winter. The wolves came near the houses, like dogs. They were not afraid of the people, they were so cold.

Easter Surprises

Dear Uncle Jed: This is the first time I have written to you and I hope you will enjoy my story. It was just a few days before Easter. Some of us school children went to deliver a message. On doing so, the man told us to wait a minute. Of course, we did. He was back shortly with two bags. "Take that and have a party," he said.

We went back to school and gave the bags to the teacher so we might have a party. At recess time we had peanut races and played other games. We had a lot of candy to eat as well as peanuts. I must tell you about the other Easter surprise we had. As we came into the school room one morning, we saw a big stiff paper bag on the teacher's desk. Who could have put it there? The teacher looked inside. There was a note from another neighbor. She had put some things in the bag for a surprise party. We were delighted. There were peanuts, cookies and candy as well as ingredients for making cocoa. We played many lively games outdoors at recess time. Then we went in and enjoyed the delicious refreshments. What a happy time we had.

Our Product Map

Dear Uncle Jed: This is my first attempt to write a letter to the Wide-Awakes. I hope you will enjoy my letter.

We have been comparing the customs and industries of the people of North America with those of South America, in our class at school. As we have studied we have become so interested in South America and how they differ from us of North America that we decided to make a map.

It was decided to make a relief and product map. A good sized piece of mounting paper was procured. On it we made the outline of South America. We filled in the outline with a mixture of salt, flour and water. By using a knife we shaped the mountains and made indentations for the rivers. Next we painted each country a different color. The mountains we painted brown.

To represent products we cut pieces of brown paper for coffee and pasted them on Brazil. Yellow pieces of paper were pasted on for wheat, etc. After these were finished we took some pictures of different places in South America and pasted these around the map for a border. We learned a great deal more about the country by making this map.

JOAN CRAWFORD reveals the Secret of Fascination . .

Joan Crawford, adorable young M. G. M. star, in the luxurious bathroom created for her in Hollywood. At home, as in her dressing room on location, she uses Lux Toilet Soap, and says: "There's something about a smooth, soft skin that's irresistible. I never found anything like Lux Toilet Soap for keeping my skin lovely."

Joan Crawford

"THERE'S ONE kind of girl who always attracts," says Joan Crawford, the screen star whose vivacious loveliness has won conquests by the thousand. "It's the girl with exquisite skin!

"There's something about a smooth, soft skin that's irresistible, it seems. Just watch the girl who has it. She's sure to be sought after, the center of attention wherever she goes!

"The Hollywood directors found out long ago"—Joan Crawford shook her red-brown head in emphasis—"that a girl simply must have ravishing skin to win her public. Those great glaring close-up lights reveal even tiny flaws, you know.

"So you can imagine how carefully every girl in Hollywood guards her skin! Especially now that the talkies are here, with more close-ups than ever!

"For a long time almost everyone I know has been using Lux Toilet Soap. It does leave the skin so soft and smooth! That lovely Gwen Lee uses it regularly. And Carlotta King. Did you ever see more breath-taking skin than hers? Julia Faye and Dorothy Sebastian, too, and ever so many others.

"If a girl wants to have the charm of temptingly beautiful skin (and what girl doesn't!), she ought to try this nice white soap. She's sure to be delighted with the results!"

Nine out of Ten Lovely Stars use it—in Hollywood—on Broadway—in Europe

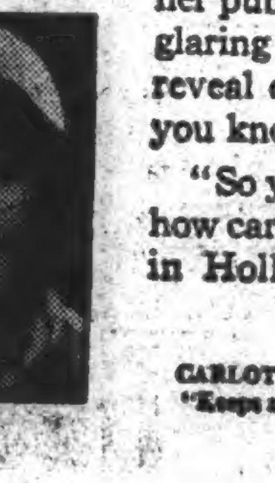
Of the 521 important actresses in Hollywood, including all stars, 511 are devoted to Lux Toilet Soap. All the great film studios have made it the official soap for their dressing rooms!

The lovely Broadway stage stars, too, have discovered that Lux Toilet Soap gives their skin just the gentle care that is required to keep it lovely.

And now the European stars are using this fragrant white soap! You, too, will want to try it. Order several cakes—today.

GWEN LEE (M. G. M.)
"I find it wonderful!"

JULIA FAYE (M. G. M.)
"I always use it."



CARLOTTA KING (M. G. M.)
"Keeps my skin so smooth!"

DOROTHY SEBASTIAN (M.G.M.)
"Soothing and refreshing!"

JEWETT CITY

BOARD OF DIRECTORS FOR NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE

At a meeting of the eight men sponsoring the Jewett City baseball league, held Monday evening, a fine degree of interest was manifest. Those present included, for the K. of C. Thomas Barnett and Eudor LeClaire; Campers, Herbert Thompson and H. G. Willis, Ashland, Hal Chase and John Burda; Slater's, John Bush and Stanley Derda. These representatives chose a board of directors who shall act as a governing body, take care of the finances and be generally useful. These men, who will organize at a meeting later in the week are: Walter A. Richardson, Alex McNicol, Timothy E. Shea, Eugene J. Carroll and Everett H. Hiscox. The first game will be played on the Ashland park grounds Monday evening, May 19 at 6:30. The first two teams to meet will be the K. of C. versus Campers. It is planned to arrange for two games each week, for 12 weeks. The object of forming this league is to afford opportunity for the young ball players of the town, to not only enjoy the sport in which all are interested, but to develop as players of the national game. That these ends may best be realized, it has been decided that no professional players shall appear in the line-up of any one of the four teams at any time.

Associated for 20 Years

Joseph Ogden from the office of William J. Stoddard, chief clerk, railway mail service of Boston, was in town Tuesday on business in reference to the new mail carrying contract which has been given to Adam Rojeske. Mr. Ogden has charge of all the mail transportation in this end of Connecticut and is anxious to see that the Quinebaug valley service is satisfactory to all concerned. While in town Mr. Ogden called at the home of E. H. Hiscox. These two men ran in the same Shore Line crew between Boston and New York for more than 20 years.

HOW CALIFORNIA LOOKS TO H. R. (DICK) HERBERT

The writer of the following letter, Dick Herbert, moved with his family from Voluntown to Norwich, where Mr. Herbert married a nurse from the sanitorium. Later, they went to California. He was an auto salesman in Norwich. He lived in Jewett City for a time and was the first adjutant of the local American Legion post. Paul Potter, with whom he is associated, is John Potter's son of Glasgo, and a native of Griswold.

HACIENDA CONTENTA DE POTTER, (Potter's Contended Ranch), FONTANA, Calif., April 30, 1930—When we were spending the winter in San Diego, Mrs. Herbert and I used to receive regularly from home, clippings from the Norwich Bulletin, containing your account of the Ross family's trip across the continent to California. We always enjoyed reading them for our honeymoon trip was full of so many of the experiences and so much of the scenery they enjoyed. It was by reading Mr. Ross' story of San Diego that we were able to locate the family there and pay them a visit. Owing to the subsequent early date of their steamer sailing we were denied the pleasure of meeting them again, but we will be glad to know if they have arrived home and if their steamer journey was as pleasant as the tour across the country.

We left New London, Sept. 24, last, and arrived in San Diego, Oct. 17, after a ride of exactly 3737 miles. There are so many different routes leading west out of St. Louis that I think we took a different one than that over which the Rosses traveled. Ours was Route 66, "The Broadway of America," socalled, but it was anything but a broadway through Oklahoma and Missouri. The regular route was being repaired in long sections in Missouri, which necessitated our taking some trying detours and in Oklahoma the dust raised passing cars was a very unpleasant factor. I imagine from an aeroplane an automobile passing through Oklahoma looks like a comet.

But we were well repaid for these discomforts when we drove through New Mexico and Arizona, the scenery in these two states is so varied and interesting that one actually forgets to get tired or uncomfortable. We visited the Petrified Forest, the Painted Desert, the Grand Canyon and other places of interest of which there are plenty. One must see to believe the colorings of the Painted Desert and the Grand Canyon and the other desert lands of this great southwestern country. Much of this rugged beauty was done as we neared Phoenix, Ariz., and we got no thrill from climbing over the range of hills to San Diego on the last day of our trip, rugged as the terrain was. We have a wonderful record of our journey in many fine photographs taken all along the way.

We had not intended to remain over two weeks in San Diego but we found such an hospitable welcome and the climate during the winter so wonderful that we stayed exactly six months. Mr. Ross' description of San Diego was very good and accurate. It is a great gathering place for tourists during the winter months and its attractiveness is enhanced by its nearness to the Mexican border, for just over the line is Tia Juana and Agua Caliente where the racing season lasts ninety days and a ten dollar bill ten minutes. The sad part of it is that so much of United States-earned money is left in Mexico.

San Diego is noted, too, for its aviation activities and is called The Air Capital of the West. One could watch the maneuvers of army and navy planes all day and see something new each minute in stunt-flying. Everything that an aeroplane has ever done is done again and again; it is a beautiful sight to see a group of them come roaring down the sky in a half-mile dive or to watch them looping the loop side by side. For all that the aviators are in less danger than the automobilists and pedestrians on the streets of San Diego, where accidents happen with alarming regularity. Police cars and ambulances are always on the go, well heralded by sirens, the screams of which one gets tired of hearing.

While we were quite attached to San Diego and friends we made there, Mrs. Herbert and I had planned to see some of the other parts of California and we set our date of departure at April 16. We had received and accepted an invitation to visit an old schoolmate of mine, Paul B. Potter, with whom I used to attend the Boardman school in Griswold. On the morning of the 18th, we drove over the mountains to the famous citrus country of the San Bernardino Valley, 150 miles north of San Diego. It is wonderful to see what irrigation has done for this land which formerly was a desert; what once was a flat expanse of cactus and sagebrush, inhabited by rattlers, gophers, tarantulas, sand fleas and coyotes is now a garden of vineyards, English walnut and citrus groves, fenced with rows of Eucalyptus trees and palms instead of stone walls. We arrived at the Potter Hacienda just as the sun was sinking behind the range of mountains made famous by Graham McNamee while broadcasting the football games at the Pasadena Rose Bowl in years past; we found a warm welcome awaiting us, also a warm dinner of tamales, chili concarne, yams and fried chicken, skillfully prepared in true California style by the Spanish chef. It was the first time I had seen Mr. Potter since he left the east three years ago to seek his fortune in the land of gold and opportunity—bring your own gold! You can imagine it was a happy reunion.

We are being most hospitably entertained in this land of roses, orange blossoms and sunshine; though Mr. Potter is very busy directing the activities about the ranch, he finds quite enough time to show us the many interesting and beautiful places hereabouts, some of which are below sea level and others above the clouds. Temperatures ranging from 120 degrees in the shade to that which makes possible eternal snow, were encountered in one day's drive. Within an hour from the time we were traveling through land covered with semi-tropical vegetation we were playing snowball by the roadside at the timberline in the San Bernardino mountains where the native born sons and daughters go to see what snow looks like.

We had a picnic lunch on one occasion at the world known Palm Springs in the heart of the Colorado desert. This is a veritable garden of Eden in a canyon at the edge of the foothills; many palatial hotels and residences nestle at the base of the hills. The canyon itself is an Amazonian jungle of palms so dense as to necessitate the hewing of paths for sightseers. It is left entirely in its natural growth, excepting for these paths and two grass huts occupied by forest rangers; the presence of the palms is a cource of speculation as to their origin for these are California's only palms growing before the white man came. We journeyed home down the Jack Rabbit Trail into Riverside and stopped to go through the old Spanish Mission at the Mission Inn, where are exhibited all sorts of relics from the days of the dons and conquistadors of Spain.

Leaving Riverside we passed below Mt. Rubidoux with its massive cross where the Easter Sunrise services originated. But a few miles now separated us from home and these were quickly traversed with our host's new Hudson. We were glad to arrive home before sundown and, as usual, to gather on the patio in order to watch the magic change from day to night which takes the place of your twilight back there. The change in temperature is no less striking, for as soon as the sun has gone, its warmth goes with it and there comes a coolness which drives us indoors to seek the fireplace. During the few minutes when the sun is dropping below the horizon the Sierra Madre mountains to the north are a swiftly changing panorama of softest blues, greens, purplesand grays all too soon swallowed up in the darkness of night.

Another day we made the stiff mountain climb to Lake Arrowhead. The trail leads from San Bernardino, up Watertown Canyon past the Arrowhead Hot Springs, the location of which springs is easy from a distance of forty miles because of a gigantic arrowhead on the hills above, pointing to them. The shape of the arrowhead, perfect in every detail, is determined by the absence of vegetation on its face; the darker green of the foliage around its edge makes it well defined. Tradition has it that the Mormons, by a heaven-sent message, were commanded to travel in this direction and look for a sign in the mountains showing them where to settle and build. They found the answer to their message in the Arrowhead and founded San Bernardino. Others, less religiously inclined, believe that the arrowhead was made, not by God, but by the Indians to point to the hot springs. Still others believe it to be a freak of nature; but there is no explanation for the mystery of its retaining such a well defined outline throughout the years. From the Arrowhead onward the trail is a feat of engineering skill clear to the summit of the mountains; such curves and switch-backs we had never seen, and the precipices were fearfully steep. From an elevation of one mile we had a beautiful panoramic view of San Bernardino valley and its many cities, boulevards and groves, which we enjoyed for some time before continuing upward. From there on we could travel in high gear and soon reached the lake.

Quite a settlement surrounds this body of water where many go to keep cool on a hot summer's day, or to skate and toboggan in the winter. Many Hollywood movie stars have mountain homes here in the fir forest. Our stay was short when we would have had it longer for there was the descent to be reckoned with, but we made it safely, though slowly; some do neither.

We witnessed the army war game over Los Angeles when scores of planes carried on mimic battle over the city. And one day we drove over the General Sherman route to the Sequoia National park, where stands the General Sherman, largest redwood tree, and oldest living thing.

I am afraid that you will get the impression that all our time is spent in travelling but the major portion is spent on the hacienda. As I have said before, Mr. Potter is very busy when at home and we all have tasks there which make the days well rounded out. With irrigating season at hand and gardens to be kept looking their best, orchards to prune, and buildings to be kept repaired, there is plenty to do between rides. Mrs. Herbert and Mrs. Potter have their hands full with domestic duties, for there is an ever hungry crew to feed and cactus and rose gardens requiring constant attention, which they like to give.

We wish that Fred Gilbert and Dan Morgan could see some of the chicken ranches in this valley. Five thousand laying hens is a beginner's flock and one outfit here plans on a half million birds by next year. Rabbit breeding is also popular, fostered by the U. S. government experiment rabbit station. And the largest hog ranch in the world is a few miles south of our hacienda. Vineyards of a thousand acres each are numerous in this San Bernardino county, the largest county in the United States.

We are off to town now to see a motion picture pre-viewed before released to the public and we expect to see the leading characters in person attending, as is their custom. We will therefore leave our writing till some other time.

Give our regards to all the folks we know in Jewett City and tell them that we won't be home soon. Yours very truly.

POOL OPERATORS SUCCESSFUL IN QUIETEST MARKET SINCE FEBRUARY

NEW YORK, May 13.—(AP) — Pool operators took the long side of a dull stock market today and succeeded in marking up a goodly number of shares. They had the best luck with the oils, but also fared well with the utilities, chemical and steel issues, as well as with the usual assortment of responsive specialties. Gains ranged from 2 to 5 points in the active issues.

From the standpoint of volume, however, the market was the quietest since late February. Sales dropped well below the 2,000,000 share mark.

The move in the oils, which carried the group leaders one to five points higher, appeared to have some support from current developments in the industry. Producers in the Santa Fe Springs, (Calif.) field with few exceptions agreed to limit output to 37 per cent of capacity, effective today. There is an increasing expectation that gasoline prices will be advanced in the east as the increasing seasonal traffic reduces supplies.

Activity in the petroleum stocks began shortly before noon just as the market was giving signs of almost complete stagnation. As the move gained strength other groups were pulled into line, although the trading retained its professional character.

Rails were unusually apathetic; there were no dealings at all in New Haven common and the day's business in Union Pacific amounted to but a hundred shares.

In the face of a further reduction in the industry's operation, U. S. Steel and Vanadium were carried along with the rally and closed about 2 points higher. Michigan rose 7. Unofficial advices said that ingot output for the entire industry was shaded below 76 per cent of rated capacity compared with 76 1-2 a week ago and 77 1-2 a fortnight ago. The steel corporation's activities were estimated at slightly below 80 per cent against a fraction above that figure last week. A year ago the company was operating just about at capacity.

Columbia Gas and Electric was under substantial accumulation on reports, unconfirmed, that United corporation was to make an offer of one share of its common and four fifths of a preferred share for each of Columbia. United already owns a large interest in the utility, but an extension of that interest would be regarded rather as an investment than as a move for control, since the Morgan holding company's policy is to take only minority positions.

The rise in some of the specialties was spectacular. Vulcan Detinning common climbed more than 21 points while the A stock gained 28. J. I. Case rallied 18 1-2 net, International Salt 7, Allied Chemical 7 1-2 and General Railway Signal 5 1-4.

Standard Oil of New Jersey was heavily bought, closing at 80 7-8 for a net rise of 4 3-8. Standard of California mounted 3 1-4, Houston Oil 4 7-8, Standard of New York 1 1-8 and Pan-American B, 3 3-8, the latter making new high ground.

Loew's advanced 1 3-4 to a new 1930 peak. Radio-Keith-Orpheum gained a point. General Electric, Westinghouse and Radio Corporation recovered most of yesterday's losses.

Commodities were dull. Wheat sagged one half to a full cent and corn yielded about 1-4 cent. Cotton closed steady, with the old crop months generally higher and the new mostly lower. Raw sugar slipped to new low levels, finishing barely steady. Coffee was slightly firmer.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—The dullness of the past few days in the listed bond market was extended through another day with prices showing little inclination to change.

The market was sluggish after the first hour and the day netted no general improvement. The railroad group, particularly bonds legal for savings banks, showed the greatest firmness and made slight gains. Oil bonds were unusually active and moved forward, in sympathy with the showing of oil stocks.

The volume of sales continued small. The lack of buoyancy has been ascribed to many different factors, among which are the lack of heavy buying by banks, and the slowness with which investors have turned from stocks to bonds for long time investments.

Prime railroad bonds were firm, although the demand was not large. Atchison general 4s, Baltimore and Ohio 5s, "D", Chicago and Northwestern 5s and St. Paul 5s, made good fractional gains. On the down side were Missouri Pacific general 4s, Pennsylvania A 4 1-2s, Erie 4s, of "96" climbed 1 3-4 points to establish a new 1930 high at 84.

Bonds in the utilities group moved narrowly. Colorado Gas and Electric 5s equalled the year's high. And General Cables 5 1-2s, Laclede Gas 5 1-2s, Utah Power and Light 5 1-2s, and North American Edison 5s advanced. American Telephone issues lost a little ground.

Trading in oil bonds was the most widespread in many days, and many issues gained from 1-4 to 1-2 a point. Anglo-Chilean Nitrate 7s with warrants gained 1 3-4 points to equal the year's high, following the course of the stock. Lautaro Nitrate 6s held steady.

Stock privilege issues blew hot and cold during the day. American Telephone 4 1-2s finished strong, a point higher. Pan American Petroleum 6s rose 1 3-4 points, to a new 1930 high. Reading Coal and Iron 6s advanced 3-4.

Foreign bonds were firm, although there was considerable irregularity in the less active bonds. The market for United States governments continued unusually dull and prices eased.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, May 13— (AP) —With North American wheat seeding for 1930 reported as virtually complete and the Canadian spring crop condition almost perfect, wheat values here tended downgrade today. There were also advices that some of the United States new crop of winter wheat would be moving to market inside of three weeks. Moreover, failure of predicted frosts to develop in Kansas and Nebraska gave a black eye at the very outset today to friends of higher prices, and made buying power too small to maintain rallies.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 1-2 to 1 1-8 c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 3-8c off to 1-2c up, oats at a shade decline to an equal advance, and provisions varying from 2c setback to a rise of 5c.

Scattered buying upheld the provision market notwithstanding that hog values had a general downward trend.

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—The dents, today reported that new life in- Association of Life Insurance Presisurance business written in April exceeded by 6.4 per cent figures for the same month last year. New business of all classes written by 44 companies, which have 82 per cent of the total volume of life insurance outstanding in all United States legal reserve companies, totaled $1,194,174,000, compared with $1,122,303,000 for April 1929. New ordinary insurance amounted to $839,531,000 against $793,786,000; industrial insurance amounted to $241,129,000 against $256,279,000, and group insurance was $113,514,000 against $72,238,000.

Stockholders of the Reynolds Investing company, have approved an additional issue of 1,217,949 shares of common stock, which will be used to acquire assets of Reynolds Brothers, Inc., on the basis of 10 shares of Reynolds Investing for 13 shares for Reynolds Brothers. Stockholders of Reynold's Brothers have approved the proposal.

THE CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, May 13—(AP)—Prices were inclined to creep higher in today's curb market, a selection of oils, utilities and specialties developing moderate strength, as trading dwindled to the lowest level in two months. The day's sales aggregated only 675,200 shares.

Anglo Chilean Nitrate was again a strong feature, rising about 4 points to a new high for the year at 48 3-8, then reacting moderately in realizing. Buying was in response to renewed reports that a $400,000,000 Chilean Nitrate monopoly is being formed to protect the industry from competition from synthetic nitrogen.

Swift International again penetrated new high ground, and Van Camp Packing appeared on the tape for the first time in a long while, trading at 16, up 6 3-4.

Cooper Bessemer and Loew's debenture rights again reached new high ground. In the aviation shares Douglas Aviation was a strong spot, and New York, Rio and Buenos Aires Air Line was again in demand. Recent strength of the latter is attributed to announcement that the company now has air mail contracts or concessions over most of its routes, and unofficial estimates of earnings of around $2 a share for the year.

Neet A stock, recently strong on favorable earnings reports and merger rumors, ran into profit-taking, and Bellanca, a recent feature of the air stocks, slipped back 2 points. Among a few weak spots, Ground Gripper dipped five points to duplicate its 1930 low of 15.

Utilities largely moved in narrow ranges, although Electric Bond and Share, American Light new, and American and Foreign Power warrants moved up 1 to 2 points, and Nevada California Electric jumped 13 points in a few sales. North American Light and Power gained more than five in a light turnover.

In the oils, Indiana, Gulf, Houston new, and Cosden gained a point or so, and Humble mounted 3. Cities Service sold up fractionally in active trading. Mines were irregular. Mayflower Associates, which is heavily interested in copper shares, moved up slightly to a new high. Copper Range, however, sagged 1 1-2 to 11 1-2, a new 1930 low, and Newmont lost nearly 3 points.

WESTERLY

START TO RE-ORGANIZE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

WESTERLY, R. I., May 13.— A movement to re-organize the Westerly chamber of commerce, to be united with the Pawcatuck board of trade, was launched in Westerly tonight. The revival of the Westerly chamber of commerce comes after two years of inactivity. About 50 business and professional men met in the town hall and laid preliminary plans for the merger which will include the Connecticut residents.

Dr. John Champlin was elected president; Walter C. Hiscox, first vice president; James W. McCormick of Pawcatuck, second vice president; secretary, Rogers E. Trainer; treasurer, H. Russell Burdick. Executive committee, Attorney John F. Gallagher of Pawcatuck, Wells R. Fowler, Charles P. Eccleston, Harry R. Milner, Frank A. Sullivan, Lewis Stanton, Henry L. Burdick, G. B. Utter and Frank G. Ahern.

Mr. Utter and William B. Dolan were named advisory committee to the secretary.

The executive committee will meet Thursday night to complete plans and to discuss the proposed uniting with the Connecticut body.

CAPT. NICHOLAS MARSHAL FOR MEMORIAL PARADE

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, May 13.—Capt. Shelby C. Nicholas, of Pawcatuck will be grand marshal of the Memorial day parade, according to plans announced tonight at a meeting of the Veterans' board. The Memorial day speaker will be Rev. A. L. Schobning, pastor of the West Broad street Christian church.

The programme includes services at the Pawcatuck World war memorial under direction of Harvey P. Chase post, V. F. W., of Pawcatuck, services on the Pawcatuck river bridge, and in Riverbend cemetery. There will be the usual morning parade with all veterans and military organizations participating.

FALLS FROM STEAM ROLLER— WORKMAN BADLY INJURED

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, May 13.—Joseph Cataldo of Worcester, Mass., employed on the new Bradford-Alton state road, was seriously injured while at work this afternoon. Cataldo fell from a steam roller, fracturing his right arm and pelvis. He was brought to the Westerly hospital.

An appeal for additional funds for Westerly chapter of the Red Cross was made tonight by Harry R. Milner. Mr. Milner said that the chapter is in immediate need of $500 to replace funds spent in the forest fires of a week ago. Contributions to date total $235.

STATE CONG.-CHRISTIAN CHURCHES IN CONVENTION

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, May 13—The 123d annual meeting of the Rhode Island Congregational conference was held today at the Pawcatuck Congregational church, at which time steps were taken toward the completion of the union of the Congregational and Christian churches in Rhode Island. This was the first session since the two denominations voted to unite, last fall. Christian church delegates were seated as regular members of the conference.

The meeting was opened at 10:30 by the president, Carlos F. Hunt, followed by worship led by Rev. Luther G. Coburn, pastor of the Westerly church. Rev. Frank H. Gardiner, representing the Christian Churches of Rhode Island and southeastern Massachusetts, spoke on the union of the two denominations and stated that the Rhode Island-Massachusetts board of Christian churches had voted to ask the Christian churches in Rhode Island to unite with the Rhode Island Congregational conference ending connection with the Massachusetts organization and making it a state rather than an interstate body.

The election this morning resulted in the following choice: President, Rev. Arthur H. Bradford of Providence; vice president, Walter H. Tabor, Slatersville; secretary, Rev. M. Raymond Plumb, Edgewood; assistant secretary, Rev. W. LeRoy Wood, East Providence; treasurer, George H. Patron, Providence; registrar, Rev. Charles E. McKinley, Providence; auditor, Robert F. Munro, Providence; board of directors for three years, Rev. Hubert A. Allenby, Providence, Carlos F. Hunt, Providence, Cornelius L. Bourne, East Providence, Miss Florence R. Kenyon, East Providence.

Reports of various committees and officers of the board of directors were presented at the morning session and an address on the "State of the Congregational Churches of Rhode Island" was given by Rev. Harry M. Eastman. Luncheon was served in the vestry at 12:30.

The afternoon session opened with a business meeting at 2 o'clock at which reports were made and nominating and election committees for the year were named. Addresses were given on "Objectives in State Work" by Rev. Charles E. McKinley; "A Homeland Instance, Tougaloo," William T. Holmes, president of Tougaloo college; "Is Africa the Dark Continent?" Miss Mabel E. Emerson, secretary American board; "Our Faith in God," Rev. Arthur H. Bradford, D. D.

The conference adjourned at 4:15 o'clock.

BARBERS' STATE BOARD INSPECTS LOCAL SHOPS

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WESTERLY, May 13—Twenty-two of the Westerly barber shops were inspected yesterday by the state board of examiners of barbers. This is the first time in the history of the town that the shops have been inspected under the state law, this being due to the fact that the town council recently voted to adopt the law. The members of the board visiting Westerly were Bonaventuro Gerbeville, chairman, Augustus D. Alexander, secretary and Joseph Russell, treasurer.

At a meeting of Pawcatuck Congregational church Monday night, a two-thirds vote decided not to dispose of a strip of land, owned by the church and located in the rear of the old Pawcatuck fire engine house, now owned by Fred J. Harvey. It was Mr. Harvey who desired the land. It was the opinion that the strip of land, about 40 by 50 feet should be retained for a parking place. There was a small attendance. Rev. Luther G. Corbin, the pastor, presided.

The last dance of the season was held at Westerly high school at the week end. The Student council has conducted these successful affairs and music has been furnished by a student orchestra.

Westerly Y. M. C. A. will hold its meeting Tuesday evening of next week in the public library, it was announced by the secretary, Margaret E. McWeeney.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Barbour of School street spent the past week in New York.

The annual convention of the South District W. C. T. U., has been set for Wednesday, at Pawcatuck Seventh Day Baptist church.

The Chepatchet post office will become a third class office for the first time in its history, beginning July 1. It has been rated as fourth class.

Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Betts, of New York are spending a few days at their summer home at Watch Hill.

Mrs. A. Whaley of Providence is at her summer home at Misquamicut for a short time.

MONTVILLE

The employes of the Uncasville-Shelton Corp., have completed plans for the last Polish dance and entertainment this season at the Community house. The proceeds will be used to defray expenses for their annual picnic to be held at Rocky Point. The committee which is headed by Supt. Richard Johnson has secured the services of the Meriden Polish orchestra. Mr. Johnson is assisted by Thomas Goff.

Invitations have been received in the village of the wedding of Miss Jane Nield, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Edward L. Nield, former pastor of the Union Baptist church, Palmertown, who Saturday at 3 p. m. will become the bride of F. Henry Aspinall, of Lebanon at Rockville Baptist church of which Rev. Mr. Nield is now pastor.

WASHING SHIRTS CERTAINLY RUINS THEM, DOESN'T IT BETTY?
YES, IT'S A SHAME. THE SCRUBBING DOES IT
NEXT WASHDAY
YOUR SHIRTS WILL LAST LONGER NOW. I'M USING RINSO—THE SOAP WE READ ABOUT THAT SAVES SCRUBBING
GOOD! THE SHIRTS LOOK MUCH WHITER, TOO, BETTY

Try these rich, safe suds for whiter washes!

SAVE the clothes—save yourself—with Rinso! Its live, active suds loosen dirt. Clothes actually soak whiter than they can be scrubbed.

And Rinso is all you need—no bar soaps, chips, powders. Certainly no washboard or boiler! Rinso alone washes clothes the whitest white ever.

The makers of 38 famous washing machines recommend Rinso for safety and for whiter washes. Get the BIG household package. It's thrifty to use Rinso for dishes and all cleaning —a little gives such a lot of thick, creamy suds.

PRICES SMASHED
CHRYSLER "77"
SAVE $200 to $350

Effective at once, prices of current Chrysler "77" models are reduced $200 to $350—the greatest price slash in all Chrysler history.

This price reduction is occasioned by the fact that Chrysler will introduce—sometime in midsummer — a new model to take the place of the present Chrysler "77".

Other current Chrysler models—"70", "66" and Chrysler Six—are being continued unchanged.

Here is the greatest bargain ever offered in brand-new motor cars. At $200 to $350 off, the supply will not last long. Act now. Your present car will be accepted in trade. Chrysler's liberal financing facilities are available.

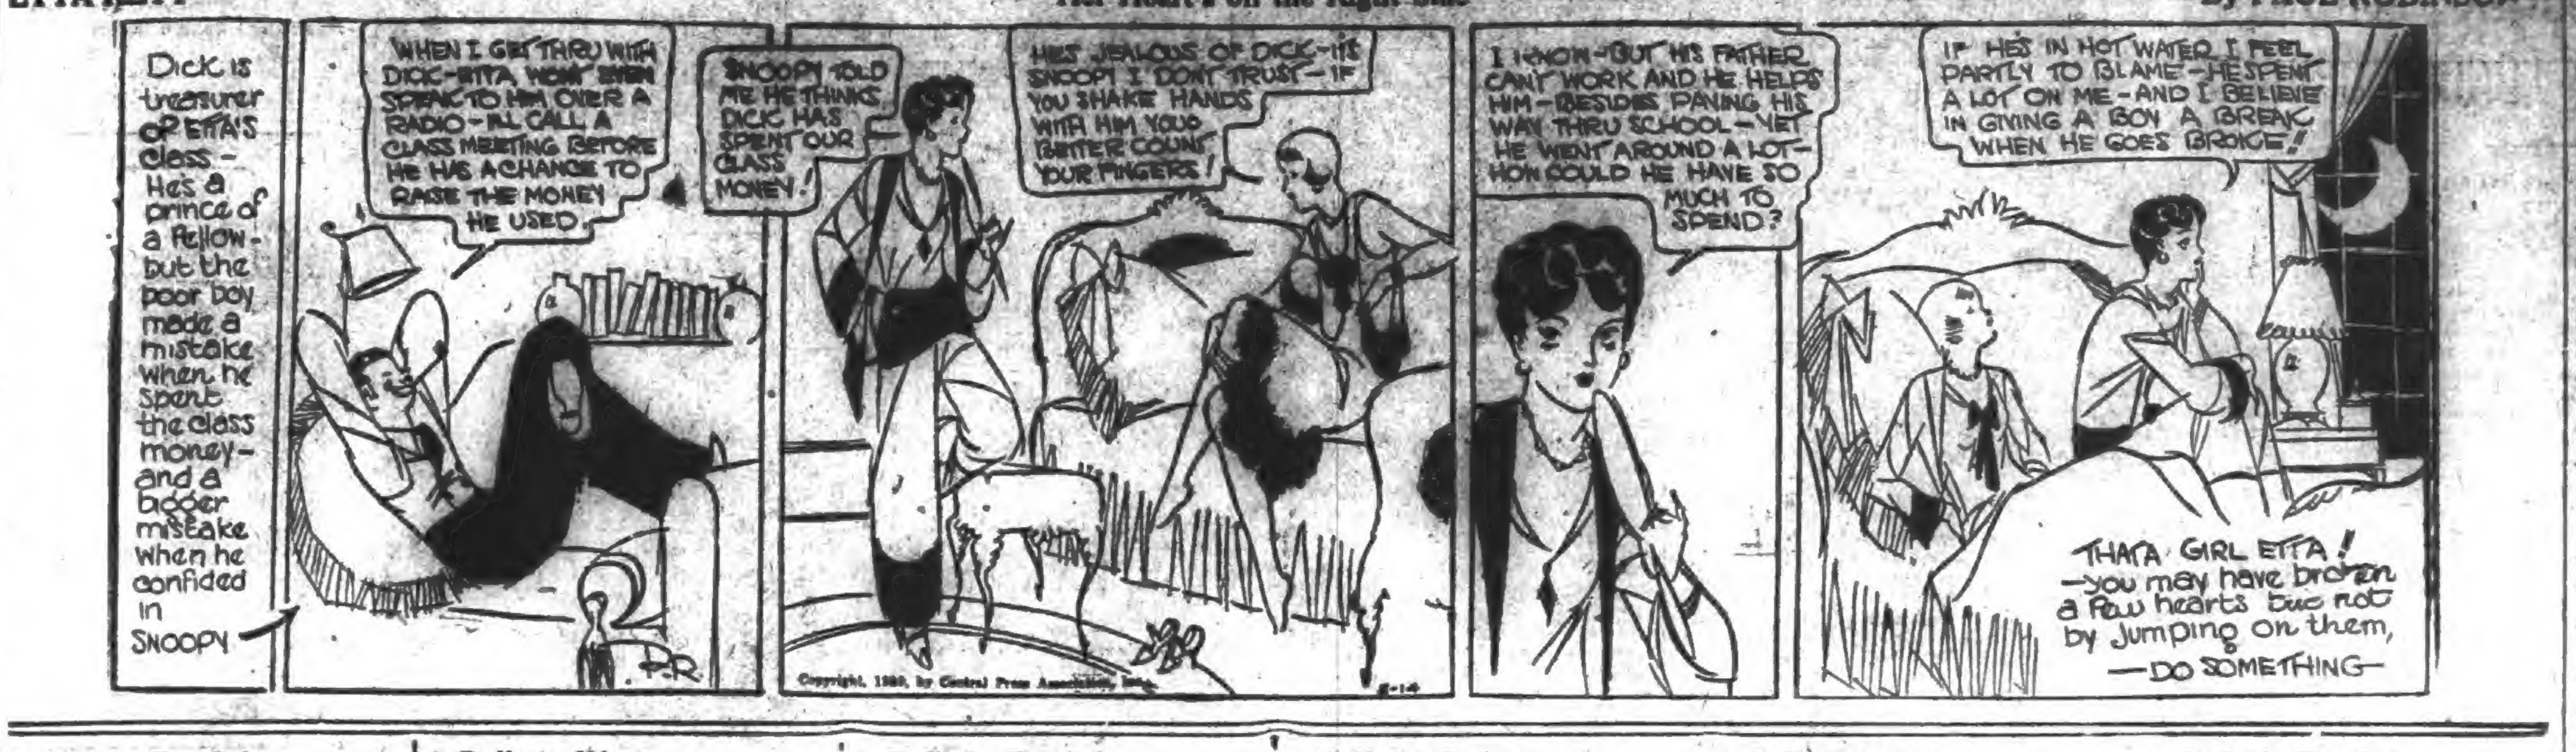
ETTA KETT Her Heart's on the Right Side —By PAUL ROBINSON



Dick is treasurer of ETTA'S class— He's a prince of a fellow—but the poor boy made a mistake when he spent the class money—and a bigger mistake when he confided in SNOOPY
WHEN I GET THRU WITH DICK—ETTA WON'T EVEN SPEAK TO HIM OVER A RADIO—I'LL CALL A CLASS MEETING BEFORE HE HAS A CHANCE TO RAISE THE MONEY HE USED
SNOOPY TOLD ME HE THINKS DICK HAS SPENT OUR CLASS MONEY!
HE'S JEALOUS OF DICK—IT'S SNOOPY I DON'T TRUST—IF YOU SHAKE HANDS WITH HIM YOU'D BETTER COUNT YOUR FINGERS!
I KNOW—BUT HIS FATHER CAN'T WORK AND HE HELPS HIM—BESIDES PAYING HIS WAY THRU SCHOOL—YET HE WENT AROUND A LOT—HOW COULD HE HAVE SO MUCH TO SPEND?
IF HE'S IN HOT WATER I FEEL PARTLY TO BLAME—HE SPENT A LOT ON ME—AND I BELIEVE IN GIVING A BOY A BREAK WHEN HE GOES BROKE!
THAT'A GIRL ETTA! —you may have broken a few hearts but not by jumping on them, —DO SOMETHING—

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

WHEREAS, an application has been made to the Zoning Board of Appeals by The Callahan Oil Company for a certificate of approval for two additional pumps at their Gasolene Filling Station at 275 Washington Street in the Town of Norwich;

All persons who may be concerned are hereby notified that a hearing upon said application will be held by the Zoning Board of Appeals in the Mayor's Office, City Hall, on Friday, May 23rd, 1930, at 11 a. m.

The foregoing hearing is held in accordance with the provisions of a certain "Act Entitled An Act Concerning Location of Gasolene Stations" passed by the General Assembly Session of 1929.

Dated at Norwich, Conn., this 14th day of May, 1930.

By WALTER T. CAMP,
Secretary.
Zoning Board of Appeals.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

The State of Connecticut through its duly authorized Board of Trustees for the State Training School and Hospital at Mansfield, Conn., invites proposals from reputable contractors for all of the material and labor and power house equipment for the four buildings listed below—

A—The Power House
B—The Laundry
C—The Boys' Dormitory
D—The Girls' Dormitory

all to be erected on the site as shown by the plot plan and all other plans and specifications as prepared by the architectural offices of Towner and Sellew Associates, Architects, Central National Bank Building, Middletown, Conn. and from whom all further information may be obtained.

The Trustees do not obligate themselves to accept the lowest or any proposal and the State does not obligate itself to make any payment on Buildings C and D until such dates as may be subsequent to July 1st, 1930. Connecticut contractors will be given the preference in awarding contracts and the contractor has the privilege of submitting a total bid for the four buildings but each building must be allocated to a definite figure to conform to within the legislative appropriated sum.

The proposals shall be sealed in an opaque envelope, the outside of which shall bear the endorsement:— "Sealed Proposals for State Training School at Mansfield, Conn." and shall have the contractor's name and address on the upper left hand corner, and shall have enclosed with the proposal, a certified cheque for Eighteen Thousand Dollars ($18,000.00) for the four buildings proper and the number of working days required for the entire job shall be stated.

Two thousand dollars for equipment item Part 9 being boilers, etc.

Five hundred dollars for equipment item Part 10 being piping, equipment pertaining to pumps, tanks, etc., also covering.

Fifteen hundred dollars for equipment item Part 12 being for electric wiring from switchboard, etc.

All certified cheques to be made payable to Samuel R. Spencer, State Treasurer and shall become forfeited to the State as liquidated and ascertained damages in event of a bidder failing to enter into a contract and furnish a satisfactory bond within five days after an award has been made.

The proposals shall be addressed to Honorable Everett J. Lake, Acting Chairman of the Board of Trustees and delivered at the office of the State Comptroller on the first floor of the State Capitol in Hartford, Conn. not later than 11:00 A. M. Eastern Standard Time, Monday, June 2nd, 1930 and they will be opened publicly at 1:00 P. M. Eastern Standard Time the same day in the Old Senate Chamber on the second floor of the State Capitol.

A 100% contract bond will be required of the successful contractor which bond shall be paid for by the contractor and shall be from an approved corporate surety company and shall be approved as to form by the Attorney General for the State of Connecticut.

Copies of the plans and specifications may be had by reputable and bona fide bidders from the Architects at any time after Friday noon, May 9th, 1930, upon deposit of Fifty Dollars which will be refunded, less $10.00 for the cost of reproduction of plans and specifications, upon the safe return of the drawings and specifications and receipt of proposal.

Copies of plans and specifications are on file at the following places for use of sub-contractors only:

POETRY

Adventure

His desk is by a window; just a streaky patch of sky
That frames the smoke of ferryboats and squat tugs drudging by,
But now and then his dim eyes glimpse a gray gull poised on high.

Forgotten then the ledgers dull, the cob-webbed desk, the strain
Of deathly daily drudgery; and through his eager brain
Sweep images of whitecapped blue; free breezes' wild refrain;

The magic of a deck aslant; the sting of salty spray;
The witchery of moonlight's gleam across a palm-fringed bay;
The tinkle of a temple bell in languorous Mandalay;

The flash of knives in narrow streets; the buzz of thronged bazaars;
The rhythmic swing of chanteys roared by bronzed and carefree tars;
And then — the creaking office-door restores his dungeon bars.

All day he chips malignant rust from anchor-flukes and chain,
Obeys the will of hazing mates, nerves dulled with drink and pain,
And ever-luring visions pass across his aching brain:

A cottage with a rose-framed door; a buxom red-cheeked wife;
A patch of ground to putter with, a sheltered job "for life,"
A haven from dread sun, chill, rain, from Tyrant Ocean's strife;

A corner in a quiet inn; cool drink; old friends, to stare
Wide-eyed at tales of brawl or storm; clean sheets; grain-scented air;
The glamour of a city's streets; the market-place; the fair!

The lowing herds at evensong; the twittering lark at dawn—
And then a hoarse voice hurls him back, and bids him labor on. . . .
And thus Adventure calls to man — Fate's puppet and life's pawn.

—By Harold Willard Gleason.

Dreaming

It's sweet to sit in peace and dream.
Imagining your dreams come true,
Seeing your air-castles complete,
As dreaming castle-builders do,
It's sweet to let your thought run wild,
To let your fancy have full play,
Persuaded that tomorrow will
Be such a contrast to today!

It cheers the soul to sit and dream,
Oblivious to daily ills.
The cares, the troubles that perplex,
The pains, the losses, and the bills.
But there's a drawback that somewhat
Diminishes this pleasure rare—
There is sweet joy in dreaming, but
It doesn't get you anywhere!

—Somerville Journal.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Ella—My face is my fortune.

Stella—You'd better call a meeting of your creditors.—Detroit News.

Angry Old Gentleman—Hi! That's twice you've nearly broken my window!

Captain—Don't worry, sir, we're going to change the goalkeeper.—Punch.

"Have you seen how Slaminoff, the critic, has massacred my last painting?"

"Don't mind him—he just repeats, like a parrot, what every one else is saying."—Boston Transcript.

Doctor—You are too fat, lazy, eat too much and want more exercise.

Patient—Put that down in Latin, so that I can tell my wife.—Ulk, Berlin.

The tourists were being shown the Acropolis at Athens, when one of them, an American girl, after an enthusiastic "Gee, I'll say it's great!" appeared to miss something.

"Say," she said, "where are the four horsemen, anyway?"—Punch.

Suretip — A prominent Chicago statesman just died.

Alsoran—I suppose the city will hang all the flags at half-staff tomorrow?

Suretip—Yes, and at 11 o'clock every gun in the city will cease firing for five minutes—Pathfinder.

The hardboiled captain had knocked one of his sailors overboard.

"Help! Help!" yelled the seaman, "I can't swim. Drop me a line."

The captain leaned over the rail and smiled sweetly: "Oh, yes, dear, and you write me sometime, too."—Chicago Tribune.

A quarter-inch, three-stranded steel wire, 1,400 feet long, driven by an old four-cylinder automobile engine, is sawing huge slabs of marble from a hillside in the Ozark region of Arkansas. Wire sawing has already proved its value in slate quarrying in Pennsylvania, and this is one of the first applications of the method to other fields, W. M. Weigel, mineral technologist of the Missouri Pacific railroad, told the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. Sand, hand-fed into the artificial crevice the wire makes, does the actual cutting. The wire travels twenty feet a second and cuts a complete section from the hill without wearing out and breaking. The entire operation is carried on by one man.

JOSEPH CLARKE CORNWALL DIES— WAS LEADING NEW LONDON DRUGGIST

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, May 13—Joseph Clarke Cornwell, 57, who during his thirty years as a druggist in New London had several times been associated with Norwich drug firms for brief periods, prior to his purchase, five years ago, of the pharmacy at 210 Montauk avenue in this city, died early this morning at his home, 165 Willetts avenue. He had been in failing health for a number of months and critically ill for over six weeks. Mr. Cornwell was so widely known that there has been deep concern for his condition; and each time that he rallied his friends hoped that the improvement might prove permanent.

In 1903, when manager of the Moon pharmacy, here, Mr. Cornwell left to enter the employ of Nichols & Harris, later joining the force at the drug store of Starr Bros. Inc. Here he remained until his purchase of the former Sisk drug store on Montauk avenue. He showed enterprise and initiative in his new venture, was the first druggist in New London to establish a frigidaire in his store and in other ways built up a substantial and profitable business. Local physicians and nurses knew him as a man of dependable qualities, well informed, and of square dealing, while the general public came to value him as thoroughly reliable, accurate and agreeable. He was kind and generous and in every way an exemplary and worthy citizen and a business man beyond reproach. So high was his standing as a member of the Connecticut Pharmaceutical association that at the meeting of that body in Bridgeport in 1929 his name was selected as one of five which the association designed to recommend to Governor John H. Trumbull for appointment as commissioners of pharmacy. Mr. Cornwell's continued ill-health prevented his receiving this signal honor.

He is survived by his wife, who was Eliza McCaffery, of New London, by a young son, Joseph Clarke Cornwell, Jr., and by two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Smith, of Petersham, Mass., and Mrs. Alice Hines, of Nova Scotia. He was a member of St. Joseph's church and was an esteemed life member of Niagara Engine company.

Mrs. Albert Babcock, of Montville; Mrs. Eva Bailey, Waterford; Mrs. Spencer Huntley, Old Lyme and Mrs. Walter Mitchell, Mystic, patients at Lawrence-Memorial hospital, were discharged today.

A birthday party was given for May Ellis the other evening at the residence of her parents, 20 Mercer street, on her eighth birthday. Various games were enjoyed and ice cream and cake was served. Present were: Betty Hume, May Linke, Doris Coogan, Jane Finnegan, Muriel Hume, Edith Strickland, Dorothy Spencer, Audrey Shallcross, Edward, Harry and Donald Hume, William Finnegan, Wayne White and George Goodwin.

Joseph Soranski was charged with breach of the peace, but the case was continued to July 13. Soranski went to the store of Morris Rifkin, 102 North Bank street, yesterday afternoon and abused the proprietor so that Rifkin made complaint to the police, which resulted in the arrest of Soranski.

POLICE ACT ON TIP BUT FIND NO BOOZE

The police conducted a raid this forenoon, but were not successful in obtaining liquor, although the raiders had been informed that liquor would be revealed in a search of the premises on North Bank street conducted by Mrs. Matrona Rutsko; this information was given by a man who was in the police court earlier in the day, charged with intoxication. The fellow declared that the drink that brought him into court had been purchased at the Rutsko establishment. Following the adjournment of court, Judge Daniel M. Cronin issued a search warrant and officers, who went to the store, made a thorough search, but failed to find liquor.

JOY RIDE PROVES COSTLY TO SUB-BASE DRIVER

Robert Sieger, stationed at the submarine base, was in the police court today charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and was fined $100 and costs. Sieger could not pay, but he did not go to jail for friends came to his assistance and paid into the court treasury about $110. Sieger was arrested on Williams street late last night by Automobile Patrol Officer Clarence Martin and Patrolman Cornelius Moriarty. He was driving in an erratic manner and was liable to collide with other cars.

Failed to Learn Lesson

Joseph Bjorndal, a frequenter of the Learned mission, doesn't appreciate leniency, for he was in court twice within as many days. Yesterday Bjorndal was charged with intoxication and was given suspension of judgment. A short time after leaving the court room, Bjorndal started drinking again and eventually became intoxicated. Early last evening he went to a State street restaurant, where he created such a disturbance that he became a nuisance. The police were complained to and Patrolman Louis Pine arrested the offender. Today Bjorndal was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Franz Fagerquist, stationed at the submarine base and residing at 100 Howard street, was charged with breach of the peace, upon complaint of his wife. The case was continued until July 31.

NORWICH MOTORIST HEADS LIST OF CARELESS DRIVERS

Arthur M. Bugbee, Norwich; Edna Wheeler, Mystic; Maxwell H. Porter, 749 Ocean avenue; Frank J. Crane, 54 North Fourth street, Meriden; Delbert H. Witt, P. O. Box 163, Uncasville; John A. Lincoln, 283 Broad street and Benjamin Rosenholtz, 462 Bank street, were charged with violation of the city's parking laws, mostly for overtime parking. None of the drivers appeared to explain so their respective bonds of $2 and $5 were declared forfeited.

Two cases of intoxication were tried and both men were given suspension of judgment.

Walter Ryder, colored, of 210 North Bank street, arrested yesterday on complaint of Emma Ford, also colored, of 18 Stony Hill, charged with breach of the peace, was ordered discharged by Prosecuting Attorney Max Boyer.

READY "TO END IT ALL" WHEN OFFICER INTERFERES

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, May 13—Mrs. Seymour Ploof, wife of Special Agent Ploof, of the Central Vermont railroad, planned her self-destruction early today. She had contemplated committing suicide by jumping from the Thames river highway bridge and that she did not carry out her purpose was due to the appearance on the bridge of Patrolman John Sullivan. The officer was on the approach to the bridge at 3:30 o'clock when he observed Mrs. Ploof several yards in advance. When Sullivan inquired her reason for being on the bridge she said that she intended "to end it all." The officer took charge of the woman and she was taken to police headquarters and detained for the night. Later Mrs. Ploof was given into the custody of Policewoman Jane Cassidy, who had her taken to the police detention room where she will be examined for the purpose of determining her mentality.

City Manager William A. Holt this morning informed Captain of Police Charles A. Pinney that Joseph T. Sullivan, 95 Lincoln avenue and one of the two successful candidates for appointment to the supernumerary force, had been appointed an officer and was eligible for duty at any time when needed.

OBITUARY

David F. Esty

David F. Esty, 69, of 20 Methodist street, died late yesterday at Lawrence-Memorial hospital, following a surgical operation. He is survived by his wife, four daughters and two sons. Mr. Esty for the past 12 years had been employed by the Thomas Transfer company.

WEDDING

Stepp-Cables

Willis H. Stepp, United States Coast Guard, of Russelton, Pa., and Miss Rose Cables, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Cables, Hope street, were married at 7:30 o'clock last night at the rectory of St. Mary's Star of the Sea church by Rev. Michael Reagan. Alfred Cables, brother of the bride, was best man and Miss Margaret Covalik attended the bride.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Carol Zalie Swisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Z. Swisher, of Hartford, to Dwight L. Williams, son of Mrs. Jennie L. Williams, of Hartford and Glastonbury. Miss Swisher is a member of the junior class at Connecticut College for Women. Mr. Williams is a student at Yale.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Robbins B. Stoeckel today ordered the suspension of the driver's license of Peter Sauerzopf, 310 Ledyard street, and ordered the return of the license of Marie M. Herrity, 562 Pequot avenue.

Earl J. Lavigne, has been declared a deserter from the submarine base and the New London police have been requested to maintain a lookout for him. Marcelo A. Tuazon, U. S. Coast Guard, has also been declared a straggler. Lavigne is a second class seaman and Tuazon is a first class mess attendant.

Miss Gertrude Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Thompson, of the Hotel Mohican, will be with the St. James Carroll players during the summer months, when they will tour Maine. Miss Thompson, who is a graduate of Scudder school, New York and who pursued studies in dramatics at the Theatre Guild school, New York, has appeared several times in New London, with the former Lyceum Players.

Mrs. Floyd Overhouser and infant son, of 129 Pequot avenue, were patients dismissed today at Home Memorial hospital.

Incorporation papers were filed at the office of the secretary of state, Hartford, yesterday by the Thompson Automatic Machine company, of this city. The company has an authorized capital stock of $50,000, which consists of 5,000 shares of common stock of the par value of $10 per share, of which $40,000 has been paid in. The incorporators are Eugene W. Thompson, Samuel J. Selleck and Eugene Thompson, Jr. The corporation will engage in the distribution of automatic machines for sharpening and re-toothing saws or machines for the use of saw-tooth cutters.

ALBANO IS BOUND OVER FOR ASSAULT ON GIRL

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, May 13. — Peter Albano, about 30, and married, who was arrested last night by State Police Officer Peter Busch, charged with a statutory offense, and who remained a prisoner at police headquarters over night in default of bail of $5,000, was taken to Waterford at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon and given a hearing in the Waterford town court at a special session. Probable cause was found by Judge Schofield and Albano was bound over to the next term of the superior court. However, it is understood that he will be presented at the present term of court on a bench warrant, rather than to hold the disposition of the case in abeyance until September. Albano is accused of having attacked and most inhumanly treated Helen Whiton, 16, of East Lyme, the early part of last week. According to the girl, who is employed in New London, and who is acquainted with Albano, the young man invited her to take a ride and she accepted. When the car was in Waterford, Albano drove to a secluded highway and there made improper proposals, which the girl resented. The resentment angered Albany, who attacked the girl and endeavored to accomplish his purpose by force. The girl was brutally treated, even to the tearing of a portion of her clothing from her body. She made known her experience a day or two later and was advised to lodge complaint with the Waterford authorities, which she did yesterday, informing Prosecutor Leon Beisheim of her experience. When the prosecutor heard the girl's allegation he issued a warrant for the arrest of Albano and the latter was quickly rounded up by Officer Busch.

Albano has a police court record for similar offenses for he has been prosecuted within a few years for his attacks upon young women, whom he enticed into his automobile. He also has been arrested for non-support and even now such a charge is pending against him for a charge of this nature is scheduled for hearing in the police court on the 31st inst., but in view of the more serious charge Albano will be where he cannot defend it when the time arrives.

Overstayed Time

Spencer C. Gowrie, Plant building, State street, was arrested tonight by Traffic Officer Dennis Cavanaugh, charged with violation of the city's parking law, in parking overtime on Meridian street. He was ordered to appear in the police court tomorrow.

Isadore Diamond, employed by a Bank street bakery and residing at 122 Montauk avenue, made complaint to the police today that bread, which was being left in the entrance of the residence of Barney Greenblatt, 29 Waller court daily, was being stolen before the occupants of the house arose.

Blaze On City Dump

The fire department was called out twice this afternoon within an hour, but in neither instance was the blaze serious. The first fire occurred at 4:54 o'clock when the city dumping ground, adjacent to Riverview avenue became ablaze, there being a vast accumulation of inflammable material there. An alarm was sent in from Box 55, corner of Alger street and Riverview avenue, summoning four pieces of apparatus. Much chemical was sprayed upon the burning mass, but so voluminous were the boxes and papers that the firemen remained there until about 10 o'clock, pouring water on the burning refuse.

The second fire call came when a few shingles on a house on Pequot avenue were discovered burning. Believing that serious damage would result, an alarm was sent in from Box 52, Pequot avenue, foot of Maple avenue, causing four companies to respond. The fire was extinguished with chemicals and without damage of consequence.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Breed Theatre

Lewis Stone, famous in "Madame X," "The Trial of Mary Dugan," and other outstanding play successes, enacts a German musical composer in his latest role, in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Wonder of Women," which comes tomorrow to the Breed theatre, with dialogue and sound. It is a Clarence Brown production, based on Hermann Sudermann's "The Wife of Stephen Tromholt," with Stone, Peggy Wood, the New York statge star, Leila Hyams, Harry Myers, George Fawcett, Sarah Padden and others of note in the cast. Stone speaks German lines in the picture—and it is said that the last time he spoke German was in France, when as a major in the American army, he interviewed prisoners.

Broadway Theatre

The world waited for months in eager anticipation of Greta Garbo's screen voice, and no less interest has been aroused by the announcement that another famous imported star was soon to talk from the magic screen, and it is with no little pleasure that the Broadway today starts the engagement of lovely Vilma Banky, elusive Hungarian, in her first all-talking production "A Lady to Love," on the same bill with exotic Bebe Daniels in a thrilling crook-drama "Alias French Gertie." Miss Banky's voice, strangely reminiscent of the Garbo, still has a vibrant quality all its own, and registers every transitory emotion, ranging from tender sentiment to intense passion and bitter hatred. Her story is a strange one and her role difficult, that of a little Frisco waitress, with whom an aged Italian of wealth is smitten at first sight. He writes her a letter, proposing marriage, offering her every luxury, but craftily hiding his senile identity by enclosing a photo of his young Irish foreman as the author of the letter. The girl, duped by the ruse, travels to the vineyards, to learn the bitter truth, but by a strange freak of fate she does marry the old man, and love enters her life despite herself. The companion picture, "Alias French Gertie," presents fiery Bebe Daniels co-starred with her new fiance Ben Lyon, in a rousing melo-drama, replete with suspense and thrills, of the New York jewel ring. Two crooks, both bent on the same mission, meet accidentally in the same house, and fireworks start at once, with climax building on climax to as fast a finish as one would wish to see. Bebe, temporarily forsaking musical comedy, is at her best as the clever crook masquerading as a French maid, gaining entree to the best homes, and duping even the police with her foreign accent. Lyon, as the leader of a rival gang, is not so dumb, however, but finds her out for the crook she is, after the crafty Bebe has held him up with his own gun. He does succumb to her personal charms, however, and his downfall is sure and speedy, for the little maid, tired of dodging the police at every turn, "goes straight," and compels him to do the same, "even if she has to shoot him straight," which she eventually does! The Fox movietone news with late headline shots completes a most excellent program, which can be enjoyed to the utmost at the cool Broadway.

Palace Theatre

A double-feature bill combining "Dumbells in Ermine," a fast stepping comedy from beginning to end starring Barbara Kent and Robert Armstrong and "Hello Sister" the screen adaptation of "Clipped Wings" will be presented today, tomorrow and Friday at the Palace theatre.

"Although "Dumbells in Ermine" is primarily a comedy there are many exciting and dramatic moments. It tells the story of a small town reformer whose bluff is called and who retires in disgrace from his self appointed duties. Robert Armstrong is cast as a likeable young pugilist who falls in love with the daughter of one of Virginia's first families. The girl's mother objects to the match although her aunts, uncles and even her grandmother find no fault with the suitor. The reformer takes it upon his shoulders to break up the romance and although he is successful temporarily the revelation of his real character is a great boon to the lovers.

Among the other members of the cast who take their parts admirably are Beryl Mercer who is cast as the grandmother, James Gleason, the fighter's trainer and Arthur Hoyt, who as the reformer gets the worst end of the entire affair.

"Hello Sister" depicts the story of a young society girl who amuses herself with the characteristic abandon of her type. Suddenly her grandfather passes away and leaves a will. The girl cannot smoke, drink, gamble or swear, lie abed late or stay up after midnight for a period of six months or the fortune which she will inherit will be shunted into other channels. How the girls meet these conditions and hurdles over them is delightful and there is plenty of romance and drama to make the production intensely interesting to everyone.

Olive Borden is the heroine of "Hello Sister" and her rendition is perfect. Lloyd Hughes is the featured masculine player and his performance is enough to flutter any lady's heart. George Fawcett is cast as the grandfather of the girl and while his part is small it is splendidly executed.

The remainder of the cast, each an experienced player of talent consists of Bodil Rosing, Norman Peck, James T. Mack and Harry Hickman.

This offering is a part of the spring festival now being held in all Warner Brothers' theatres. During this period which began April 20 and which will be continued until June 8 only the best entertainment procurable will be presented to the patrons of Warner Brothers' theatres.

GREENEVILLE

SEVENTH BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR DORIS KARKUTT

A pretty May birthday party was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Karkutt, on Fourth street, in honor of their daughter, Doris Karkutt, on her seventh birthday. Sixteen of her little friends were present. Many games were played on the lawn with prizes awarded to Miss Harriet Ryan, Doris Winterbottom and Elsie Winkle. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Karkutt, assisted by Mrs. Herman Karkutt, Mrs. H. Retkowski, Mrs. Bruno Weinert. Miss Karkutt was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. Those present were: Harriet Ryan, Eleanor Nelson, Elsie Winkle, Frances Piper, Shirley Kerr, Marion Weonert, Ruth Hilderbrand and Rita Karkutt, Edith Charnetski, Lillian Karkutt, Mary Brennan, Claire Karkutt, Claire McDonough, Doris Karkutt, Isabel Turner, Elizabeth Wolfenberger. The favors were May baskets and balloons.

Miss Esther Fahey and Miss Teresa Portelance have returned to their homes after a few days spent in New York city.

Simon Solomon of Prospect street has returned after spending a few days with Hartford relatives.

The Greeneville H club met Monday evening in their club rooms on Fourth street with regular business transacted under President Wallace Afterbury. During the meeting Horace Wooley reported that the club's tennis court on Page street was in first class condition and it was voted to have a schedule arranged with play commencing next Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Henry Mileski has returned to Newark, N. J., after spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Mileski of Fifth street.

The Ladies guild of St. Andrew's Episcopal church met in the guild room of the church. Regular business was transacted with the president, Mrs. Charles Erwin presiding. Favorable reports were read by the secretary and treasurer. Following the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the entertaining committee.

Mrs. Richard Seed has returned to her home on Baker avenue after spending a few days in Willimantic where she attended the W. R. C. convention.

The members of the K. B. Sewing circle of the A. O. H. Division, No. 18, were entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. John Dunlon on Twelfth street with a large class present. The first period of the evening was devoted to lampshading and sewing of fancy articles after which a social hour was enjoyed with piano and vocal solos rendered. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Margaret Dunlon.

Bowen's Newsies Win Again.

The Bowen's Newsies defeated the Preston Stars Tuesday afternoon on the Shetucket campus by the score of 12 to 8. The features of the game were the heavy hitting of John Constitution and the fast fielding of John Kilcolum. The lineup for the Newsies was: Edward Quinn, c; Lawrence Wieland, p; Freddie Belleveau, 1b; John Kilcolum, 2b; John Constitution, 3b; Pino Quinn, ss; Harold Lasroff, lf; Louis Navich, cf; Joseph McIsaic, rf. John McGreggor was the umpire.

NORWICH TOWN

Items on the May calendar at the First Congregational church, Mother's day, included: If you cannot place a white flower on your mother's grave today (Mother's day), you can do something of still greater honor to her. You can live a clean, white life. A noble son or daughter is the finest testimony to a mother's wholesome influence which she could crave. We record today a gift to the church of $300, with which to stablish a Bible fund in the church school in memory of Mary S. C. Bailey. The income of the fund is to be used in presenting Bibles on Children's day to the members of the school whose twelfth birthday comes in that year. It seemed fitting to the pastor and his children to make this simple and practical memorial to Mrs. Bailey in the church which she loved so well and in which her services on earth came to a close.

The sympathy of the whole parish is with the family of Mr. Irving Browning in the passing of their devoted wife and mother. The loss is more widely felt than the circle of the home.

Mrs. Clementine Lane, one of the oldest members of the church entered into rest at an advanced age. In spite of her physical handicaps, she retained a keen interest in the people of the church and community. The names of the children as well as those of her adult friends were often upon her lips and their spiritual welfare was presented at the throne of divine grace. The Christian fortitude and buoyant spirit in which she rose above her afflictions should put all to shame who fret over petty ailments and annoyances.

A union meeting of the International and Junior C. E. societies is to be held in the Congregational chapel after school, Wednesday, instead of Tuesday. There will be a special program in celebration of Mother's day, which will include music and several speakers. Mrs. Fred Lester is to give a talk to the children and others will speak briefly.

The May meeting of Dorcas Home Missionary society of the Methodist church is to be held with Mrs. Arthur Fulton, Huntington avenue, Thursday afternoon. This is to be a mite box service.

The Political Background of the Life of Jesus, Luke 13:31-33, will be the theme of the mid-week service of conference and prayer, Thursday evening, in the Congregational chapel.

There was a good attendance at the May meeting of Home Chapter of the King's Daughters, Monday afternoon at Johnson home. Two members were received into the chapter. The leader, Mrs. William E. Manning, led in the devotional period. The study lesson was Exodus 18th chapter. For the June meeting, the 32rd chapter of Exodus will be the lesson. Announcement was made that the next meeting of Home Chapter Sewing society would be with the leader, Mrs. Manning, of Williams street, Tuesday, May 20th. Reference was made to the Kings Daughters' and Sons conference for New London. Mrs. Manning who is county president and ten delegates from Home Chapter are planning to attend. The conference, held some later this year than in other years, is to be followed next week by the meeting of City Union of Kings Daughters'. At the close of the meeting, Monday, under direction of Mrs. David M. Dean, cake and coffee were served.

Injured in Fall.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS CONVENTION VOTES $25,000 FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

RICHARD J. MARKS, SR.

At the closing session of the state convention of the Knights of Columbus, Tuesday afternoon, William J. Mulligan of Hartford was re-elected state deputy for another term. Other officers elected follow:

J. M. Phillips of Hartford, state secretary; R. G. Simpson of Southington, state treasurer; J. Leo Murphy of New Milford, state advocate; J. J. Daly of Taftville, state warden; delegates to national convention, to be held at Boston in August, R. J. Marks, past grand knight of White Cross council, No. 13, Norwich, John J. Blake of West Haven, W. J. McDonough of Norwalk, R. V. Cleary of Naugatuck, John J. David of Cromwell, Peter Maloney of Winsted, R. T. Lambert of Bristol; alternates, John P. Lyston of Norwich, John Fahey of New Haven, M. K. Cooney of Windsor Locks, Dr. McGraw of Ansonia, E. Rawley of Montville, A. Rasicot of Seymour, John Gilligan of New Haven and W. W. Beary of Torrington.

The business meeting was held at 10:30 o'clock at the Masonic temple, following a high mass at St. Patrick's church, Rev. John J. Reilly celebrant, which was held at 9:30 o'clock. After calling the business session to order, State Deputy Mulligan introduced Mayor Lee Roy Robbins, who extended to the delegates a hearty welcome to Norwich. Former Mayor H. M. Lerou, president of the Masonic Temple corporation, stated that his organization was pleased to be of service to the Knights of Columbus and he urged the delegates to make themselves at home while in the building. Both speakers were enthusiastically received.

Committee reports were received and read after which the officers were elected. Adjournment was taken about 1:45 o'clock to the Wauregan hotel, where a banquet served about 2:30 o'clock, brought the convention to a close. Sixty-six councils were represented, the delegates numbering 160. At the business session it was brought out that there are 18,000 K. of C. members in the state and that 1,500 new members were initiated during the past year. One of the most important pieces of business transacted was the voting of an appropriation of $25,000 for scholarships at St. Thomas seminary, Hartford, over a period of five years, it was stated that $15,000 of this amount has already been collected.

According to a letter from Supreme Knight Martin H. Carmody the order gained 6,148 insurance members during the year ending April 1. The membership on that date was 614,684, and there were 2,549 subordinate councils. The letter spoke of a report prepared on the automatic assessment loan law which became effective on Dec. 31. Under this provision insurance members are permitted to borrow from their equity in order that their insurance may be kept in force. The supreme knight pointed out that this had the effect of stabilizing the membership. It has enabled members in temporary financial straits to retain their membership and insurance in the order through calling on their equity.

Mr. Carmody also said that many councils had exceeded their quotas in their elective membership extension program for 1930 which ends June 30. Total insurance in force on April 1 was $281,509,666 and the total assets of the order were $32,214,091. The insurance reserve liabilities on the insurance in force Dec. 31 last amounted to $23,370,629. The ratio of assets to liabilities on that date was 130.44 per cent. Payment of insurance benefits at present are at the rate of $50,000 a week.

Reporting on the Columbian squires, a junior order, the supreme knight said there were 46 circles with a membership of 2,100. The fifth class of K. of C. professional boys' workers will be graduated from Notre Dame university in June.

The success of the convention was largely due to the efforts of Grand Knight James P. Sheridan, the officers of White Cross council, the members of the committees and the entire membership of the council in this city.

CONTRACT BREACH SUIT BEFORE COMMON PLEAS

Trial of the case in which Pierce, Butler & Pierce seek damages of $750 from Robert Tetrault, both of New London and the claim was assigned to mon pleas here Tuesday before Judge Charles B. Waller and a jury.

According to the plaintiff, on Nov. 28, 1928, Tetrault owed B. O. Jones, Inc., of New London for labor and material furnished in construction of a dwelling for C. Gargona of New London and he claim was assigned to the plaintiff.

The defense claims that the work was not done according to contract and that therefore there is no liability.

Evidence in the case was concluded and the arguments were made by the time court adjourned in the afternoon. Judge Waller is to charge the jury this (Wednesday) morning. Attorney Thomas E. Troland represents Pierce, Butler & Pierce, and Attorney Samuel Gruskin is Tetrault's counsel.

PUTNAM COUNCIL CLEARS POLICE OFFICER'S NAME

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, May 13—Mayor Charles A. Richard, Police Commissioner John M. Dean and Alderman Frank Vadnais said tonight at a special meeting of the council that they had found no flaws in the character of Police Sergeant Alpherie J. Sponcey and until such time as a complaint based on authentic facts is registered with the committee on police regulations, there shall be no action taken against the officer, whose character and reputation was ruthlessly flogged in a recent issue of a newspaper, published in Bridgeport.

Mayor Richard pointed out to Alderman Vadnais that since the only attack made on Sergeant Sponcey was that of the newspaper, the council was in no position to question the police officer. The mayor added that he had made a personal investigation of all reported rumors, concerning Sergeant Sponcey's actions while on duty, the result being that all were untrue and were found to have been circulated with malicious intent. The suggestion of Alderman Vadnais that the council demand a retraction from the publisher of the Bridgeport paper was not entertained when Commissioner Dean reported that no complaint against Sergeant Sponcey had been made to them and that until such time the newspaper comment should be overlooked.

A special meeting of the voters will be called on May 27, for the purpose of approving recommendations of the council that certain streets in the city be improved and sidewalk curbing be installed and for other extra appropriations recommended. The council will also ask to be empowered to borrow such sums of money as will be needed to meet the expenses of the bills approved.

The matter of recommending the appropriation of $3,000 for an improved lighting system in the business districts, petitioned for by the chamber of commerce, was rejected by a 8 to 1 vote of the aldermen. Warren S. Ames, a member of the chamber of commerce and alderman-at-large, was the only councilman to cast an affirmative vote.

Walter N. King, president of the chamber, inferred that the business men would petition for a special city meeting to act on this matter when he inquired of the mayor for instructions on presenting a signed petition for such a meeting.

Found Driving Without License

James R. Bliven, 20, of North Franklin, was arrested Tuesday evening by State Police Officer Arthur Whitmarsh, on a charge of driving without a license. He was summoned to appear in the city court this (Wednesday) morning.

The officer noticed Bliven driving on West Thames street and decided to stop him because of his youthful appearance, then learning that Bliven had no driver's license and never had had one.

Women Voters' Finance Field Day

The state League of Women Voters will hold its annual spring finance field day at the home of Miss Anna Richardson in Ridgefield on Friday, May 16. Local league presidents, treasurers and finance chairmen from the fifty-eight troops in the state will attend to report on the financial status of their leagues and their plans for raising their shares of the state budget.

State officers who will be present at the meeting include Miss Mary Bulkley of Hartford, president, and Mrs. William Valentine of Pomfret, treasurer.

COUNTY REGISTRATION SMALL FOR C. M. TRAINING CAMPS

With the quota of New London county for the citizen's military training camp at 46 and with only 12 applications filed with ten of these accepted, men interested in the movement are making a concerted drive to have more young men of this county learn of the advantages of the C. M. T. C. The camp dates are July 3 to Aug. 2 and the probable locale for the New London county men, except in the advanced grades, will be at Fort Adams near Newport, R. I.

Judge John L. Gilson, of New Haven, who is the civilian aide to the secretary of war for this state, urges every young man to take advantage of the government's offer of a month's vacation without cost at a training camp. He points out that this does not hold any future obligation with the military forces of the nation. The month in the camp is under direction and supervision of army officers because this is the only force available to carry on this work. While the title of the camp smacks of militarism the real motive behind the movement is to build up the youth of the United States in a physical manner.

There is but a short time yet to receive applications and those interested are urged to get in touch with any local army or national guard officer or with the chamber of commerce in the Garde building, New London, where applications are available together with other data.

There are still 36 places open for this county and Judge Gilson is especially anxious that Norwich, New London and vicinity be fully represented at the camps for this year.

Eastern Connecticut Health

The weekly morbidity report issued by the state department of health for the week ending May 10th shows the following cases of communicable diseases reported from towns in eastern Connecticut:

Diphtheria—Danielson, 1.

Scarlet fever— Montville, 1; Norwich, 1; Putnam, 1.

Measles—Jewett City, 1; Norwich 1; Thompson, 18.

SMOKERS ARE GREATEST FOREST FIRE MENACE

Smokers constitute the greatest menace to the forests of the state, State Forester Austin F. Hawes says, after studying statistics tracing the cause of 725 fires which have been reported this year. Connecticut is experiencing the worst year for forest fires since 1922, owing to the prolonged drought.

Of the 726 fires studied, 266 were traceable directly to smokers, Mr. Hawes declared, with persons burning brush responsible for 187 fires. Other causes abulated were: Railroads, 53; incendiary, 39; camp fires, two; lumbering operations, one; miscellaneous, 65; unknown, 95. Sixty-one fires were traced directly to children, Mr. Hawes said, the largest number of fires traceable directly to this cause in the history of the forestry department.

SAW WRECK WROUGHT BY NASHAUA CONFLAGRATION

Charles Sakowitz and Joseph Poduda of this city were in Nashua, N. H., over the week end, to view the ruins caused by the recent fire that burned over a large area there. The young men returned home early Monday morning and reported the traffic headed in the direction of that city to be unusually large on Saturday and Sunday. They brought home with them a number of snapshots of the ruined area.

TRADE SCHOOL IDEA EXPLAINED TO NORWICH C. OF C. COMMITTEE

The subject of a trade school in Norwich was revived Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the special trade school committee of the chamber of commerce when W. J. Wilcox of the state trade school at Meriden was here to speak upon the subject.

Present at the meeting were President Frank R. Murdy, Emery H. Davis, Albert M. Van Wagenen, School Superintendent E. J. Graham and Secretary John Richardson. Principal H. A. Tirrell and Joseph C. Worth, who are also on the committee, were prevented by other engagements from attending.

Mr. Wilcox explained in a general way that a state trade school, if established, would be for regional service so that one in Norwich would be for New London county. It would be necessary to show the need for such a school, through the assembling of various statistics bearing on the subject and the recommendation of a local committee would have to be submitted to the town school committee, which in turn would forward its recommendation to the state board of education.

While the courses in the school are general, they can be arranged to meet the particular types for a community, such as textiles, machine work, etc., and its plan lends itself to cooperative alignment with the manufacturers.

For admission to the school, the minimum requirement is graduation from the eighth grade of the grammar school, and when the trade school course has been satisfactorily completed a certificate of graduation is given. After graduation those who go into employment are still under supervision of trade school authorities until they are well on their way to giving satisfaction to their employers.

The town in which the trade school is established supplies the building, heat, light and janitor service, while the state supplies the equipment and teachers.

As an outcome of the meeting it is expected that the chamber of commerce committee, with the assistance of Secretary Richardson, will proceed with the investigation to determine the need for the school here.

M'BRIDE CORRECTS PRESS ON HOME BREW STATEMENT

Resents News Articles Conveying the Impression That He Said Making of Beer In the Home Was Lawful Under the Volstead Act—Transcript of McBride's Testimony Before the Senate Lobby Committee Reads: "I Think That Under Certain Conditions Liquor Can Be Made In the Home Without Being a Violation."

WASHINGTON, May 14.—(AP)— F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, said in a statement today that he wished "to make it plain that it is not my view that the Volstead act authorizes the manufacture of beer or home brew."

His statement said:

"Many of the headlines and news articles in the press referring to my testimony before the senate lobby committee on Tuesday, May 13th, convey the impression that I said home brewing or the making of beer in the home was lawful under the Volstead act.

"I made no such statement and the record shows that I did not. I was questioned regarding a speech by Congressman Fort in the house of representatives in which he quoted from section 29 of the Volstead act as follows:

"The penalties provided in this act against the manufacturing of liquor without a permit shall not apply to a person for manufacturing non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in his home."

"The provision in question relates solely to non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices. It declares that the penalty for their manufacture exclusively for home use shall not apply when they are not in fact intoxicating. The paragraph has no reference to the making of beer or home brew.

"In view of the fact that my statements before the committee on this subject seem to have been misunderstood, I wish to make it plain that it is not my view that the Volstead act authorizes the manufacture of beer or home brew."

The official record of McBride's testimony shows he was asked by Chairman Caraway of the lobby committee if Representative Fort had not made a speech in which "he rather wanted to upset the dry program didn't he?" The official record continues:

McBride: "I think not."

Caraway: "Well I was under the impression that he was for a modification."

McBride: "No, he said that the law permitted the making of liquor in the home. It was his interpretation of the law as it is."

Later:

Caraway: "You don't agree with his interpretation?"

McBride: "Well now, we think that was a very good speech that he made as a whole."

Caraway: "That isn't what I asked you."

McBride: "That is his interpretation, I think probably he is right."

A little later:

Caraway: "What I am coming to is this: I am interested in the Anti-Saloon league's attitude. Would you be satisfied with the interpretation of the act that would allow everyone to make liquor in his own home?"

McBride: "No—that—I think there are certain phases to the law — I think that under certain conditions liquor can be made in the home without being a violation."

AMERICAN GIRLS AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE

LONDON, May 14—(AP)—In a magnificent setting of gold and scarlet, King George and Queen Mary tonight sped hundreds of palpitating debutantes—including eight Americans—on their way to social career.

The eight Americans presented were:

Miss Katharine K. Tod of New York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Tod.

Miss Eunice Bennett of New York.

Miss Charlotte Dorrance of Cinnaminson, N. J., and Radnor, Pa., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dorrance.

Miss Elizabeth Kent of Philadelphia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Atwater Kent.

Miss Isabel B. Henry of Philadelphia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Charlton Henry.

Miss Griselda A. Forbes of Boston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Grant Forbes.

Miss Eleanor Edwards of Cincinnati, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward William Edwards.

Miss Frances Hutchinson of Philadelphia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney E. Hutchinson.

The first court of the season in Buckingham palace—the first in two years where the king has stood beside the queen—was a great success with ideal weather.

The girls seemed to enjoy the audience and in none of the cars was the shades drawn.

The regal splendor of the Buckingham palace throneroom made an admirable background for the girls in frothy white and pastel hued gowns.

REAPPOINTMENTS MADE BY GOV. TRUMBULL

HARTFORD, Conn., May 14—(AP)—Governor John H. Trumbull has announced the following reappointments;

George C. Clark, of Plymouth, director of the State Farm for Women seven years from July 1.

G. Ellsworth Meech, Middletown, harbor master for the port of Middletown, three years from June 29.

Charles W. Raymond, of Greenwich, harbor master, for the port of Greenwich, three years from June 29.

Mrs. Rosemary O. Anderson, of New London, E. Hershey Sneath, of New Haven and Walter G. Cady of Middletown, directors of Long Lane Farm for two years from July 1.

Louis M. Allyn, of Groton and Charles E. Wheeler of Stonington, trustees of the Mystic Oral School for the Deaf, three years from July 1.

E. Roland Crofut of Danbury, and George A. Comstock, of Ansonia, state board of examiners in optometry, three years from October 1.

Frederick S. Hiributt, of New Haven, state board of natureopathic examiners three years from July 1.

SPIRITED AWAY NEGROES WHO WERE SOUGHT BY MOB

GRANITEVILLE, S. C., May 14.—(AP)—The spirit of mob violence which flared here today with a Negro's attempted assault on a five-year-old white girl, died down tonight after state officers spirited away two Negroes to the state penitentiary at Columbia.

Leroy Jackson, a Negro youth, was held in connection with the crime, and Ernest Jones, a boy, was taken with him as a material witness.

As news of the arrest and hurried departure of the officers to Columbia leaked out, the sullen-faced men who had tramped the pine thickets near the scene of the attempted attack, returned to their homes, leaving only little groups of curious.

TWO MEN CHARGED WITH SLAYING 9 YEAR OLD GIRL

DES MOINES, Iowa, May 14—(AP)—Warrants for the arrest of Carl McCune and Elmer Gibson, Des Moines for assaulting and slaying 9 year old Evelyn Lee, were issued today.

Sheriff Park A. Findley alleged the two men left Des Moines driving a car resembled one which stoped beside the girl as she was walking home Saturday. Her body was found in underbrush at the southeast edge of the city Monday.

Evidence on which the order for the arrests was based was purely circumstantial, Findley said.

CHINESE REBELS WERE DEFEATED IN SUNDAY BATTLE

SHANGHAI, May 14—(AP)—The Nationalist government forces defeated the Northern Alliance rebels in a six day battle, taking 10,000 prisoners and driving the enemy out of Anhwei province, the government announced tonight. Although casualties were not given, the severity of the struggle was attested by previous dispatches which said that the Nationalists' wounded in the first two days of fighting numbered 20,000.

Pursuing the retreating rebels, the Nationalists attacked their new base at Kweiteh in Honan province. Capture of that city, the Nationalists asserted, would force the Northerners to fall back upon Kaifeng to consolidate their shattered ranks.

Led by Chiang Kai-Shek, president of the Nationalist government and generalissimo of its armies, the Nationalists captured numerous field guns and 7,000 rifles with their prisoners.

The rebels, beaten back in eastern Honan, developed a new offensive in central Honan as other columns drove southward along the railway toward Hankow, key point of central China. They were dispatched by Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang, one of China's leading generals and former supporter of the government. Advancing to meet the rebel threat, a Nationalists force moved northward from Hankow, with a major engagement expected.

CAGLE AND HIS BRIDE HAVE ELUDED REPORTERS

NEW YORK, May 14—(AP)—Somewhere in or near New York tonight the Christian K. Cagels—either of whom, any number of newspaper men will aver, would make a corking good military strategist—were reunited.

More or less official reports said the reunion between the fleet-footed redhead, who resigned from West Point by request when his marriage came to light, and the young woman who has been Mrs. Cagel for nearly two years took place on the road between West Point and Montauk Point, away out on the tip of Long Island, where they were said to be spending the night.

But they could not be found at Montauk Point, whereas the switchboard operators refused to put through calls to a certain suite in the Astor hotel on Times square, headquarters of many Cadets when they come to town. Elaborately the operators explained that the suite was unoccupied after inquiring who was wanted.

CHINESE FIGHT IN THE STREETS OF WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, Man., May 14.—(AP)—Within two blocks of the city hall, a crowd of infuriated Chinese today swung baseball bats and axes at one another, injuring at least a score. They were dispersed by police who answered a riot call.

Five of the injured were given treatment and two, Wong Gunas and Wah Mah, were taken to a hospital in a critical condition. Nine of the Orientals were arrested and held without bail pending the outcome of the two men's injuries

A wall of Oriental silence blocked efforts of the police to discover what caused the trouble.

LIQUOR VALUED AT $75,000 SEIZED IN FREIGHT CAR

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., May 14.—(AP)—A freight car containing liquors and wines worth about $75,000 was seized at Rouses Point today by a federal customs inspector. The car was fitted with compartments, at each end of which 11,000 quarts were found. Lumber disguised the cargo. It was consigned to a non-existent Brooklyn lumber company.

FORMER FILM ACTOR D'ARCY DIVORCED BY HIS WIFE

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—(AP)—Roy D'Arcy, former film actor and now a New York night club operator, was divorced by his wife, Mrs. Laura Rhinock Guisti, for the second time today. An interlocutory decree was granted Mrs. Guisti. She had testified in superior court to her husband's temperamental cruelty, threats to kill her and refusal to give her money.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

GENEVA, May 14.—(AP)—A gift of $12,500 by the social hygiene bureau of New York city for an inquiry into traffic in women and children in the eastern countries today, was accepted by the council of the league of nations.

MADRID, May 14.—(AP)—Two Spanish steamers were wrecked in a hurricane that recently swept Venus bay in Spanish Guinea, Africa, according to a radiogram received by the director of colonies from the governor of Guinea.

LONDON, May 14.—(AP)—The labor government was defeated in the house of lords on its thorny coal mines bill, which passed the house of commons only after long and bitter struggles and a parliamentary defeat on one section.

LONDON, May 14.— (AP)— Lahore dispatches to the Daily Mail reported that a mysterious night attack had been made against the residence at Rawalpindi of Sir Robert Cassels, adjutant general of the Indian army, but did not state the date.

PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, May 14.—(AP)—Jean Mermoz, French pilot, who yesterday conquered the South Atlantic by flying the first mail between Africa and Brazil, arrived here today by airplane from Natal, greeted his fiance and was hailed by a tumultuous multitude.

TO CLEAN BANDITS OUT OF NICARAGUAN MOUNTAINS

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, May 14.—(AP)—Colonel Douglas McDougal of the United States marine corps, commanding the Nicaraguan national guard as brigadier general, said today the guard had orders to clean numerous groups of bandits out of their mountain retreats and announced the details of a number of engagements.

In addition, it was learned today that the cabinet had decreed an "estado de sitio," or state of siege, for sixty days in the northern departments of Matagalpa, Chontales, Honotega, Estell and Segovuas.

Between May 5 and May 12, General McDougas said guardsmen had six contacts with outlaws in the north Five hundred men, officered by United States marines, patrol that district, while 200 regular marines stationed there cooperate with the guard.

The guard suffered four deaths and three wounded in the six engagements, while about 125 bandits were killed.

10,000 GALLONS OF ALCOHOL SEIZED NEAR HAMMOND, IND.

HAMMOND, Ind., May 14.—(AP)—Ten thousand gallons of alcohol, loaded on trucks which federal prohibition agents said were about to start for Louisville, Ky., just ahead of the Kentucky Derby crowds, was seized near here today. The agents arrested five men.

The seizure was made on a farm a few miles south of Hammond. In addition to the alcohol, which the agents said was distilled in a huge plant in a barn on the farm, 20,000 gallons of mash and a large quantity of cans were seized. The still was destroyed.

The agents said they believed the five men held were connected with the Al Capone gang of Chicago. Their names were given as Gabriel Cargega, Don Picchio, E. Harris, Louis Cartela and Dominic Ostigara.

SCARFACE CAPONE AND COMPANIONS RELEASED

MIAMI, Fla., May 14.—(AP) —Scarface Al Capone and three companions held in jail since 9:15 p. m. E. S. T. last night, on an "investigation" charge, were released on a writ of habeas corpus signed by Circuit Judge Uly O. Thompson at 2:30 p. m. today.

Judge Thompson held that the men could not be kept in custody because no warrants for their arrest had been issued.

The men ordered released with Capone were Nick Circella, 25; Albert Prignano, 38, and Sylvester Agoglia, 35.

WOMAN COMMITTED SUICIDE BY BURNING

ELON COLLEGE, N. C., May 14.—(AP) — Saturating her clothing with kerosene and striking a match to it, Mrs. Ed Whitsell of Elon College, committed suicide here today.

Mrs. Whitsell, a middle-aged woman, was the mother of several children.

MERIDEN TO HAVE BRONZE WORLD WAR MONUMENT

MERIDEN, May 14—(AP)—The city of Meriden today signed a contract with the Gorham Manufacturing company, of Providence, R. I., for the erection of a granite and bronze World war monument, which is to be in place ready for dedication on November 1. The monument together with a memorial boulevard which will serve as its setting will cost slightly more than $100,000.

MISSING MAN FOUND DEAD WITH BULLET WOUND IN HEAD

WINSTED, May 14.—(AP)—Elisha Wells, 74, missing since Sunday, was found dead today with a bullet wound in the temple, at the edge of a woods. Police gave a verdict of suicide.

Wells had been in poor health and out of work for some time A .32-calibre revolver was found near his body.

OBITUARY

Charles A. Rapleye

HARTFORD, May 14.—(AP)—Charles A. Rapleye, dean of Connecticut druggists, who retired in 1920 after 54 years as a drug merchant in this city, died late tonight at his home, 169 Washington street. He was 81 years old.

Mr. Rapleye served as president of the Connecticut Pharmaceutical association and was appointed by former Governor Lounsbury to the Connecticut board of pharmacy commissioners, with a re-appointment by former Governor Bulkeley three years later. From 1902 until his retirement, he was head of the Rapleye Drug Co., Inc.

A school girl, Evelyn F. Goodwin, has sued the town of Wethersfield for $50,000 for injuries to her spine, sustained when as she alleges, she was compelled to jump over a horizontal bar in the junior high school and there were no mats on the floor for her to land on.

Treaty Advantageous To Navy Of The U.S.

Such Views Expressed By Secretary of Navy Adams and Admiral Pratt.

WASHINGTON, May 14—(AP)[illegible] tacks on the London naval lim[illegible] treaty were uncovered in tw[illegible] committees today with Secr[illegible]son and the high comma[illegible] the navy vigorously defending [illegible] new agreement before a running fire of questions.

Senator Johnson, republican, California, on the foreign relations committee, and Chairman Hale of the naval committee, led in the questioning at the separate sessions of the two committees.

Both senators inquired whether the London agreement did not involve surrenders of previous American policies both as to ship ratios with Japan and as to the 8-inch gun cruisers in relation to Great Britain.

"It suits me," Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of the American naval advisers and commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, told the foreign relations committee. "I say that realizing that if any fighting comes off now I will have to do it."

Before the inquisitive naval committee at the same time Secretary Adams, one of the American delegates asserted:

"As secretary of the navy I am clear that the treaty is advantageous to the navy of the United States."

Responding to the pointed questions of Senator Johnson, secretary Stimson insisted the treaty provided a "balanced navy."

The day's examinations by the two committees developed that $1,071,000,000 of construction over a ten year period, would be involved to bring the American navy up to full parity with the British fleet under the treaty.

Admiral Pratt said, "Give me that navy and I wouldn't swap it for any."

Secretary Stimson said he could not state whether he favored the building program but he replied to Johnson that he did not plan "a paper navy" at London.

Secretary Adams was non-committal on the program.

Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, an American delegate, brought out from Admiral Pratt that this program would have been necessary and "as much more as Japan would build" had the treaty not been agreed upon.

Admiral Pratt told Senator Johnson and Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee, that he had changed his mind on the value of the 8-inch cruiser as compared to 6-inch gun ship.

He added something had happened recently to cause him to change his mind and he preferred to discuss that "in private."

Pratt said he preferred to have his fleet divided equally between the 8-inch and 6-inch ships, as provided by the treaty, rather than having exclusively the large cruisers as previously proposed by the American naval leaders.

Since returning from London Pratt has been designated as the next chief of operations of the navy, the highest post in the service.

BYRD HAS LANDED AT BALBOA, CANAL ZONE

BALBOA, Canal Zone, May 14.—(AP)—For the first time in a year and a half, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd set foot on American territory today, returning from the southernmost regions of the world in the steamer Rangitiki.

With him were five members of the expedition which made history in the Antarctic—Lloyd Berkner, Charles E. Lofgren, William C. Haines, Richard Konter and Russell Owen, correspondent of the New York Times. They had remained at Dunedin, N. Z., after leaving the Polar regions, while most of the other members had gone either to the United States or the Canal Zone previously, or are traveling on the other Byrd ship, the City of New York.

After about two weeks here, the time to be spent in assembling as many of the expedition members as possible, the party will steam to New York for a triumphal return to the homeland.

For the Canal Zone, the arrival of the explorer probably was the biggest day since the Panama Canal was opened. The party was welcomed with zest by the population in general, while for reporters and photographers it was a field day.

FATAL AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT IN PLAINVILLE

PLAINVILLE, May 14.—(AP)— One man was fatally injured and at least five other persons, including a Plainville school teacher, were injured here tonight in an automobile accident.

Richard Madigan, 21, of New Britain, died at the Bristol hospital shortly after the accident. George Moquin, 20, and Rene Valley, 21, both of Bristol, were admitted to the hospital in a serious condition.

The three men were passengers in a machine, bearing three other persons, which collided with a car driven by Miss Edith Chaiko, local school teacher.

Miss Chaiko suffered a fractured nose and lost several teeth. A companion, Edna Burns, received minor injuries; while another person in her machine escaped injury.

PLANE OF AUSTRALIANS DAMAGED IN LANDING

BANGKOK, Siam, May 14—(AP) — The Australian fliers, Smith and Shirer, damaged their plane badly in landing today at Bangkok and may have to abandon their flight from Australia to England. They left their homeland April 20.

The two aviators previously had met disaster late in March when they attempted to fly to England. They made a forced landing in the wild country of northwest Australia and were not found for several days.

WOMAN ARRESTED IN INDIA DISOBEDIENCE CAMPAIGN

BOMBAY, May 14.—(AP)—The first woman arrested since the civil disobedience campaign began was taken into custody today and sentenced to one year's simple imprisonment.

She was Mrs. Lakshmipathi, widely known social worker of Madras, who went to Vedaranyam to lead a demonstration against the salt laws,

Controversy Over L. I. Steamship Lines

N[illegible]York Shippers Oppose [illegible]linquishment of Lines By [illegible]ew Haven Road.

NEW YORK, May 14.—(AP)— The shippers conference of Greater New York today adopted resolutions opposing applications before the interstate commerce commission requiring the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad to relinquish control of its Long Island Sound steamship lines, and opposing an application of the city of Boston and the Boston port authority for a freight rate differential favoring Boston port.

William H. Day, commissioner of the Boston chamber of commerce and president of the National Industrial Traffic league, said the application affecting the New Haven road was made by the Colonial Steamship line, a competitor of the New England Steamship company, the name of the railroad's water line. The grounds for the application, Day asserted, were that the New Haven road was cutting rates for combination steamship-trucking service and that the railroad's control of its steamship line was a violation of the Panama Canal act.

The New Haven road was granted temporary permission to operate the New England Steamship lines as an emergency measure in 1918, Day said. He asserted that the move to divorce rail and ship lines is opposed by the New England Traffic league, the Boston chamber of commerce and the Associated Industries of New England, which hold that the railroad's steamship lines give better service than other existing lines can give.

He said the application for a rate differential was filed as a result of the New Jersey lighterage case, now pending, the applicants contending that if New Jersey is to obtain an advantage over New York in the matter of rates there is no reason why Boston should not do so.

PLEADED FOR DISSIPATION OF RELIGIOUS PREJUDICES

ST. LOUIS, May 14.—(AP)—Apostles of three faiths, a Protestant, a Jew and a Roman Catholic, spoke from the same banquet table tonight and each pleaded for dissipation of religious prejudices.

They spoke on a seminar program, described as a "religious prejudice disarmament conference," attended by some of the nation's outstanding leaders in all three faiths. There was no disposition to reduce all faiths to a lowest common denominator, but rather to bring about a better understanding and appreciation of the different beliefs.

Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr of the Union Theological seminary, New York, said that "nowhere in the world is the task of creating some degree of comity between various religious communities more urgent than here in America." He urged creation of comity by enlarging upon common possessions, aspirations and traditions, and by an honest analysis of differences.

He saw a common faith between the Jew, the Catholic and the Protestant in their ethical theism, their hope in a better world. He was of the opinion that much of what passes for religious prejudice is merely "the religious sanctification of race prejudice."

Rev. John A. McClorey, S. J., of the University of Detroit, deplored the "dogma of religion." He described culture in America but said religion must be added for virtue in life. Religion, he said, has fallen into desuitude and has been rejected largely because of the injection of personal speculation, private opinion and political views.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of the Free Synagogue of New York pleaded for higher intelligence and finer sympathy to dispel prejudice and ill will. He said that "a policy of calculated unfriendliness toward the Jew" must be fought, but that the weapons to be wielded "are not carnal or outward, but inward and spiritual."

Such prejudice, he said, "represents a world attitude which for centuries has stimulated the Jews' spirit of forebearance toward them that wronged us." The processes of education, he added, "must end the Christ-killing lie about the Jew and affirm anew the Christ-bearing truth of the Jew in the world."

A survey of relations between the three faiths was begun at round table discussions today and will continue through tomorrow.

The issues of war and bolshevism in religion were ruled out at the opening session as not within the scope of the seminar.

INDICTMENT CHARGES STUDENT WITH EXTORTION

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—(AP)—An indictment charging Bernard Swalley, 21-year-old Pasadena, Cal., junior college student, with extortion will be asked of the grand jury tomorrow, the district attorney's office announced tonight. Swalley, who came here from Birmingham, Ala., was arrested yesterday and accused of attempting to extort $3,000 from Mrs. F. W. Emery, wealthy San Marino, Cal., widow, by threats of death.

The grand jury also will be asked to consider evidence against three other youths, Leo Trimbley, 21; Jack Harback, 21, and Sylvester Bertram, 24, who were arrested for questioning. All four were held in jail here although police said Swalley assumed entire responsibility for the plot, and made a full confession that he threatened Mrs. Emery with death unless she left the money at a designated spot.

BOTTLE BULGE IS NO VIOLATION OF DRY LAW

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 14.—(AP)—A bulge in the coat of a pedestrian, which proves upon search to be a bottle of liquor, is not sufficient grounds for prosecution under the Volstead act, George M. Haight, United States commissioner, ruled tonight in a decision discharging Carl Kendrick of this city.

Kendrick was arrested March 15 when acting detectives noted a bulge in his coat under which a bottle of gin was found when the officers searched him.

The bottle was turned over to a prohibition agent who filed the complaint, which was dismissed today.

FOREIGN NATIONS PROTEST INCREASES IN U. S. TARIFFS

State Department Has Received Objections to Proposed Rates From 33 Nations—Conferees On the Tariff Bill Have Developed a Stalemate—Indications Are That No Bill Will Be Sent to the White House Unless the Senate Gives Its Conferees a Free Hand to Work Out a Compromise On the Flexible Tariff.

WASHINGTON, May 14—(AP)—The state department disclosed today that 33 foreign nations have sent protests to the United States against proposed increases in American tariffs.

PASSAGE OF TARIFF BILL HAS BECOME DOUBTFUL

WASHINGTON, May 14—(AP)—The prospects that after sixteen months of work there may be no tariff bill were being seriously discussed today by both republican and democratic leaders after the republican conferees on the measure worked themselves deeper into a morass of difficulties over procedure.

Party chieftains conceded that whether a bill finally will be sent to the white house hung on the slender thread of an agreement by the senate to give its conferees a free hand to work out a compromise on the flexible provision.

Half a dozen conflicting viewpoints were expressed as to the next move. It was quite generally understood, however, that the senate republican conferees would ask the senate the latter part of the week to let them return the measure to conference with no ties binding them to the senate's legislative flexible provision.

The house, supported by President Hoover, has turned down the flexible clause withdrawing presidential rate changing power, and its conferees are unwilling to hold further conferences until the senate has authorized a "full and free conference."

Both democratic and republican independent groups conferred during the day on strategy plans, but no definite courses were determined. Further conferences will be held tomorrow.

Republicans asserted the coalition, which wrote the debenture and legislative flexible provisions into the measure at the height of its power, could kill the bill by denying the conferees a free hand.

Democrats countered with the claim that the republicans were inclined to let the bill die. Some went so far as to predict that President Hoover would prefer the present law instead of the pending measure.

Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, on whose shoulders the burden of the administration's fight has rested, was plainly worried over the outlook.

He said it was up to the senate whether a bill ultimately would emerge from the long tariff labors.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the republican leader, expressed the individual opinion that a bill would be passed, but tempered this with a statement that anything might happen.

"If our motion to obtain a further conference without any ties is lost the bill will be dead," he said.

Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, one of the democratic conferees, said the most critical stage of the legislation had been reached and insisted that unless congress was given the final say over rates under the flexible provision there was little hope for a bill.

The democrats and republican independents are endeavoring to determine whether to make their fight when the request for a free conference is made or wait until a complete conference report is brought back to the senate, when the issue would be whether to accept or reject the entire bill.

WOULD DENOUNCE TRADE AGREEMENT WITH THE U. S.

MADRID, May 14.—(AP) —The foreign commerce bureau today decided to ask the government to denounce the present trade agreement with the United States, alleging that the proposed American tariff nullifies whatever advantages Spain enjoyed under the current arrangement.

HOUSE ORDERS ARRESTS IN SEEKING A QUORUM

WASHINGTON, May 14.— (AP) — Seeking a quorum at a protracted night session, the house tonight ordered the arrest of all its members absent from the chamber without leave.

Sergeant-at-Arms J. G. Rodgers was dispatched to bring in the absentee members upon adoption by a roll call of 122 to 74 of a resolution for the arrests, offered by Representative Quinn, democrat, Mississippi.

The resolution was offered as the house found itself in a parliamentary tangle over a miniature filibuster on a minor bill.

Representative Tilson, the republican leader, began signing warrants immediately upon adoption of the resolution and with little loss of time the assistant sergeants-at-arms began bringing in members. Some were found nearby, but armed with the warrants the officers started searching for representatives at their homes, theatres or wherever they might find them.

It was the first time in eight years since arrest of members of the house has been ordered to secure a quorum.

WASHINGTON, May 14.— (AP) — Speaker Longworth was brought into the house tonight by Sergeant-at-Arms Rodgers after arrests of absentee members had been ordered to secure a quorum at a protracted night session.

PRESIDENT OF SOUTHERN BAPTIST CONVENTION

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 14.—(AP)—In spirited balloting, Dr. W. J. McGlothlin, president of Furman university, Greenville, S. C., today was elected president of the Southern Baptist convention after Rev. Robert G. Lee of Memphis had urged Baptists in annual sermon, to return to the literal Bible and desert the road of worldly pleasure.

Interest of the convention was centered late in the day on the recommendations of a special committee for complete revision of the church constitution to be worked out by a constitutional commission to report next year.

COL. SIDAR POSTHUMOUSLY MADE BRIGADIER GENERAL

MEXICO CITY, May 14.—(AP)—Col. Pablo Sidar, who died Sunday night off Costa Rica while attempting to fly from Mexico to Argentina, is a brigadier general in death.

President Ortiz Porto Todas signed a decree posthumously raising Sidar to that rank and he will be buried with corresponding honors.

The president and his cabinet will receive the body at Valbuena airfield when it arrives in an airplane tomorrow or Friday, and will accompany it to the palace. The president will stand as first guard of honor over the casket.

REPORT SANDINO AIR BOUND FOR NICARAGUA

MEXICO CITY, May 14—(AP)—Press reports from southern Mexico say that General Augustino Sandino, former Nicaraguan leader, has left Mexico by airplane en route to Segovia (a Nicaraguan department).

Dr. Pedro Zepeda, Sandino's representative here, denied knowledge of such a movement but gave out a statement predicting that the Moncada government would fall within a year.

NEW FINANCING BY CITIES SERVICE CO.

NEW YORK, May 14.—(AP)—Directors of Cities Service company today authorized the issuance of rights to buy a $120,000,000 issue of 5 per cent 20-year convertible debenture bonds at par in the ratio of $4 principal amount of bonds for each share of common stock held on May 15

MAYOR OF PROVIDENCE PROTESTS CENSUS FIGURES

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 14.—(AP)—Mayor James E. Dunne of this city lodged a formal protest today with Edmund A. Truelove, supervisor of the census in this district, against the population figures for the city, which show 250,288 persons residing here as of April 1, last.

The mayor said he was convinced the figures were too low and that some mistake had been made.

"I am certainly surprised by learning that the population of our city is only 250,288," Mayor Dunne said. "It had been assumed right along that the population was between 270,000 and 280,000. It was an unpleasant surprise, therefore, and it is possible that some inaccuracy may have been made."

Mr. Truelove promised an accurate check, saying additional names would be added to the final tabulation next week.

PLANS FOR THE FUNERAL OF DR. FRIDTJOF HANSEN

OSLO, Norway, May 14.— (AP) — Plans for the funeral of Dr. Fridtjof Hansen, who died here yesterday, were completed today after an extraordinary state session wherein the famous explorer was paid tribute by all members of the government.

The funeral will be Saturday. All flags will be at half mast that day, and the city will observe a two-minute period of silence as the coffin is carried to the collonade hall of the university. After a public ceremony the body will be escorted to a crematorium in a huge procession.

Saturday is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the day Dr. Hansen placed himself at the disposal of the Norwegian government during the negotiations which led to dissolution of the union with Sweden.

SENATE VOTED TRANSFER OF DRY ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON, May 14.— (AP) — After brief debate, the senate today passed the administration bill transferring prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the justice department.

The first of the Hoover law enforcement program measures to get through both branches of congress was returned to the house for concurrence in some minor amendments and the bill is expected to reach the white house within a few days.

The heralded wet and dry debate in the senate which was expected to explode when this bill gained consideration failed to develop. Senator Tydings, democrat, of Maryland, a wet, sought to add a provision prohibiting the poisoning of industrial alcohol but this was rejected, 53 to 19.

PASTURE FIELD DAY TO BE HELD AT STORRS JUNE 28

STORRS, May 14.—(AP)—The third annual pasture field day will be held on June 28 at the experiment station of the Connecticut Agricultural college, J. S. Owens, extension agronomist at the college, announced tonight.

Dr. George A. Works, president of the college, will welcome the visitors, while Dr. A. L. Maynard of the animal husbandry department at Cornell university, will lead a discussion on "New Development in Pasture Nutrients."

NO PROTESTS AGAINST THE CONFIRMATION OF ROBERTS

WASHINGTON, May 14—(AP)—Confirmation of Owen J. Roberts, of Philadelphia, as a member of the supreme court, was forecast today by members of the senate judiciary sub-committee considering the nomination when they found at their first session that no protests were pending against him.

CITY IN DARKNESS AFTER MIDNIGHT WEDNESDAY A. M.

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 14.—Here and there a flicker—and that was about all the light to be seen in the city after midnight this morning. The first night of "municipal darkness" was alleviated somewhat by a waning moon and the city reposed in long shadows. Some of the stores are adopting a plan of keeping lights burning within the establishments as a precaution against burglars who are expected to interpret the lights-out order as a cordial invitation to come to Willimantic.

Talk on the street today indicated that there is an increase in the agitation for another special city meeting to rescind the eight-mill tax vote and increase the rate to a figure in sympathy to the necessary expenses of a well-conducted city. With only a leader to start the circulation of a petition for this meeting being awaited, it is expected that action on the matter will get underway within a few days.

There are many who are under the impression that the new schedule of the police department, calling for only five days of duty, means that for two days of the week no police protection is afforded. Officials of the city made this clear today with a statement that the temporary schedule is merely a rearrangement of assignments made possible by the elimination of the weekly holiday allowed the officers and the discontinuance of the Pleasant street beat.

WEDDING

Kelley—Cote

Miss Angeline Cote, daughter of Leonard Cote of Jackson, Mich., and William Leroy Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kelley of 120 Hope street, were united in marriage this morning during a nuptial high mass in St. Joseph's church at 8 o'clock. Rev. Henry E. Quinn, the pastor, officiated and was celebrant of the mass. The maid of honor was Miss Catherine Coleman of New London, cousin of the groom, and the best man was Arthur Kelley, brother of the groom.

The bride was charming in a gown of white flat crepe with veil, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. Her maid of honor wore tan georgette with picture hat to correspond and carried a shower bouquet of orange blossoms. The bride presented her attendant with a string of pearls, while the groom gave his best man a billfold containing a sum of money.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Angeline McArdle of 14 Carey Hill, the couple leaving in the afternoon on a wedding trip to Portland, Me. Upon their return they will reside at 120 Hope street. Going away, the bride wore a gown of tan flat crepe under a green coat, with hat to harmonize. Both the bride and groom are employed at the American Thread Co. plant.

DEMONSTRATION OF W. H. ACTIVITIES FRIDAY EVE.

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 14.—A cordial invitation to the public of the city and surrounding territory has been issued to attend the fifth annual demonstration of Windham High school activities to be held at the school Friday evening of this week, with the definite purpose of affording parents and friends an opportunity to inspect the accomplishments of the students and become acquainted with the work of the school.

Owing to the tremendous demand for tickets to the auditorium in past years, it has been decided to hold two programs this year. The first will consist of selections by the Girls' Glee club and the W. H. S. orchestra, gymnastic exhibitions and a French play. The second program will include selections by the Boys' Glee club and the orchestra, gymnastic exhibitions and a Latin play.

A display of the work of the students in the various classes will be staged in each room and during the evening there will be demonstrations by the typing and student banking groups. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

FUNERAL

Mrs. Ida E. Smith

Services for Mrs. Ida E. Smith were held at the Dunham Memorial Baptist church in Mansfield Depot at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Rev. Charles G. Johnson of South Coventry officiated. Burial was in the Storrs cemetery. The bearers were Merritt Thompson, Robert Smith, Merritt Smith, Bert and Frank Smith and Ronald Dubuque. Arrangements were in charge of Avery and VanZandt.

The organization of a Little Mothers' club in Windham Center has been effected by Mrs. Ralph Sweet, with the assistance of Mrs. Raymond Wing, Windham county club agent. The organization aims to train the older girls how to teach and understand children while actually at work with them in the nursery for the pre-school child. Mrs. Sweet is a trained kindergarten teacher and is fully qualified as leader of the club with years of experience in this branch of work. Lessons in child care and first aid will be given the girls by Miss MacDonald of the extension service department at Storrs.

The Windham High school players will again present the versatile play, Friendly Enemies, at the school auditorium, for the benefit of the Community Reunion week funds. Tickets are being sold through various civic, social and fraternal organizations.

The case of Moe L. Zeigler of 11 Coit street, Norwich, whose truck figured in a collision with a coupe driven by John L. Mitchell of Hebron, on West Main street Tuesday evening, will be taken up in police court here Thursday morning. The Norwich man will be charged with reckless driving.

The additional assessment of 4 1-2 mills levied on the grand list of the town of Windham for 1929 by the board of selectmen, becomes due and collectible on Monday, June 9, and for the period of 30 days following, according to notice issued by Town Tax Collector Albert J. Piche. The rate book is now being prepared by Town Clerk Frank P. Fenton and his assistant, Mrs. Alice D. Stoughton. The additional tax is to meet the amount of the budget, the original tax of eight mills being insufficient.

The reception to Rev. Wilfred D. Hamilton, new pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, will be held at the church Thursday evening with a program of entertainment, including music by the choir under direction of Edwin F. Cross. There will be an address of welcome to the new pastor and refreshments will be served. W. H. Parkhurst is in charge of the arrangements.

Officers of Anne Wood Elderkin chapter, D. A. R., elected at the annual meeting held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Hoxie in South Coventry Tuesday afternoon, are: Vice-regent, Mrs. Almeda French; corresponding secretary, Mrs. May VanZandt; auditor, Mrs. Nina B. Harroun; board of management, Mrs. Grace Stiles and Mrs. Emma Kingsley. The hostesses were Mrs. Edith Hoxie, Mrs. Alice Hull, Mrs. Fannie Tracy, Mrs. Ellen Prince, Miss Edith Colman and Mrs. Annie Vinton.

The authorities of St. Joseph's hospital have sent a letter of appreciation to H. C. Lathrop, president of the Windham National bank, for the courtesy of the bank in providing 15 copies of a New York newspaper daily to the patients and staff of the hospital.

Dixon VanZandt and Samuel Chesbro were chosen delegates to the state convention of Exchange at New Haven, June 10, at the weekly meeting of the Exchange club, held with a dinner in the Nathan Hale hotel Tuesday night. President George H. Gurley was in charge and the singing was directed by Edward Flagg and Edmund R. Portelance. The alternates to the convention are Harry L. Garrigus and Linton Crandall. Dr. C. E. Simonds and Samuel Chesbro were named to have charge of the club's activities during Community Reunion week and Professor Garrigus, George S. Elliott and Carl R. Alford were elected a special committee to represent the club at the mass meeting of the week to be held at the state armory Wednesday evening, June 18. Simple Remedy For Bad Stomach Gives Swift Relief

No Need of Strong Medicines or Diet. Safe and Simple Home Recipe Keeps Stomach in Fine Condition.

If you are a victim of Stomach Troubles—Gas, Sourness, Pain or Bloating—you may have quick and certain relief by following this simple advice.

Don't take strong medicines, artificial digestants or pull down your system with starvation diets. For within reason most folks may eat what they like if they will keep their stomach free from souring acids that hinder or paralyze the work of digestion.

And the best and easiest way to do this is to follow every meal with a little Bisurated Magnesia—a pleasant, harmless, inexpensive, and handy to use preparation that all reliable druggists can supply in either powder or tablet form. Its use promptly neutralizes acidity and keeps your stomach sweet and clean.

A week's trial of Bisurated Magnesia should quickly convince you that 90 per cent of ordinary stomach distress is absolutely unnecessary. Be sure to get Bisurated Magnesia and give it a good trial.

DANIELSON

PAWCATUCK SCHOOL BAND APPEARS AT DANIELSON

(Special to The Bulletin.)

DANIELSON, May 14—Much was done this afternoon and evening—and Danielson enjoyed it—to further the interest in and advance the position of the Killingly high school band. In accomplishing this the Pawtucket high school band was brought here to play two concerts and to parade just before 8 o'clock this evening with the local school band.

The special object back of this was the raising of a fund of $650 to uniform the Killingly school band, at a cost of approximately $650.

This afternoon at 3 o'clock at the high school the visiting band gave a concert for students of Killingly high in the school auditorium. This evening, at 8, they played another concert at the school that attracted a large attendance from among the general public. The evening concert was followed by the playing of dance music by the Pawtucket school dance orchestra. The visiting band was under the direction of Paul E. Wiggin, and rates one of the best school bands in New England.

Their concert program tonight was made up of the following numbers: Tannhauser (Wagner); overture, Light Cavalry, (Von Suppe); American sketch—Down South, (Myddleton); overture, Ekmont, (Beethoven); popular selections, with Miss Eileen Grady, Miss Mary Grady and Stewart Anderson, dancers; Folk Songs of America, (Hildreth); selection from Martha, (Von Flotow); xylophone solo, Fantasia on Irish and Scotch Melodies, (Stobbe), Mis Alice Schuyler; selection, Victor Herbert's Favorites, (arranged by M. L. Lake).

In communities hereabouts there is much enthusiasm among those who plan to attend the Older Girls' conference to be held at Willimantic Saturday and Sunday. The attendance from Killingly is expected to be among the largest of any of the towns of the county. An interesting program of events has been arranged, and there will be much of educational and inspirational value.

Hunting detours to Norwich to avoid construction work at Jewett City is now being practiced by many drivers that regularly go from this territory into New London county. One route selected takes a driver from the trunk line near Bishop's crossing southward over a dirt highway known to many as the Hopeville route. Within a few weeks, in addition to the construction going on at Jewett City and in the vicinity of French's crossing in Plainfield, the route between Danielson and Wauregan will be torn up. This latter section may be avoided, however, and also the one at French's crossing by using the route to Brookly and Canterbury and into Plainfield, all good state road.

W. W. Wheatley of Broad street is chairman of the committee making the arrangements for the annual ladies' night of Putnam lodge of Elks, to be held at the Elks' home in Putnam Thursday evening. Many from Danielson and other parts of the town of Killingly will be in attendance. A chicken supper is to be served, there will be entertainment by professional entertainers and favors will be distributed. The forecast is for the usual splendid evening that Putnam lodge arranges for ladies' night each year.

The unemployment situation has been relieved in very considerable degree, especially for men, by the increase of building and other outdoor activities. Construction of one kind or another, road work and the odd jobs that come with warmer weather are all helping to give employment to many who were without it during the winter. Still, the town continues to receive applications for aid for impoverished families, some of these applications worthy, others questionable, and some wholly unworthy. Each and every application is carefully investigated.

At a meeting of the Tri-Y held Tuesday evening with President Phyllis Kenworthy presiding, the secretary and treasurer's reports were read and plans were made for Sunday, May 25, when Miss Margaret Slattery will speak to the young people and others who are interested in young people. It was planned to hold the final meeting in the form of a trip to Camp Woodstock and committees were chosen to take charge of this from both the Tri-Y and the Y groups. After the business meeting, a short discussion followed, led by Cora Browne. Her topic was "Vacations." Later in the evening the Tri-Y and Hi-Y danced. Henrietta Thompson and Peter Bertis won the prize dance.

Chairman W. E. Parker of Danielson chapter of the American Red Cross said this afternoon that the local chapter has forwarded $100 for the relief of the Nashua fire sufferers. This sum was taken from funds in the treasury of the chapter, in preference to making a special canvass for contributions among the public at this time.

Officers and the executive committee of the Killingly High School Alumni association are making a special effort just now to recruit the membership. There are several hundred graduates of the school eligible to membership who do not belong. The present official board is active in greater degree than has been the case for a term of years, to the end that the ranks of the association may be recruited and the organization as a whole placed in a stronger position.

There will be considerable relief all through this section because of the commitment from the superior court of Edward Gildard and Emil Branek, each 22 years of age, recently picked up and held on charges of breaking and entering. Their sentences are for an indefinite period. Among breaks charged to them were at Joe Simmons' filling station and at Planchon brothers filling station in Plainfield and at the Jewett City creamery.

A new stunt for getting fish worms in this dry weather, at least new hereabouts, is to put two bichloride of mercury tablets into a large pail of water, allow the tablets to dissolve and then pour the water on some grassy spot. It is alleged that the treatment will cause the worms to come out of the ground in amazing manner.

About 15 of her school friends arranged a surprise May basket party at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon for Beatrice Lavallee of 10 Prospect street. The little people were invited into the home for a joyous period, during which games were played and refreshments served. A feature of the party was the piano solos played by Miss Lavallee.

This correspondent hears some scolding relative to the cleaning up of the rear of some of the premises in the business section, or rather the lack of cleaning activities, and respectfully passes the matter on for official consideration.

St. James' parochial school has another good baseball team this spring, and on the sports page of this issue is a challenge from them to teams of players whose ages average 13-14 years for games.

Add one more day to the long succeeding list of those without rain in this territory, which showers have shunned persistently for weeks past. Lawns are turning brown and there are other visible evidences of the long continued drought.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl F. Wood of White Plains and their children are now occupying their summer home on Church street, Brooklyn, on the former Harrington property and in territory rich in historical lore.

It is an interesting little thing that a heavy percentage of the written matter that has come to the average person here since the first of the year is on paper bearing the partial date line 192—, and that a 3 is written over the 2 to get the 1930.

It's early, but those who think in advance about such things are speculating as to who will be the candidates from Killingly for representatives in the legislature at the state election in October. At the last session the representatives were Arthur W. Williams and W. S. Hunter.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding at Belleville, N. J., on Saturday, May 31, of Miss Florence Lee Rita Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harris, and Arthur Carl Argauer. Miss Harris is a sister of Mrs. Gordon J. Gale of Broad street and a graduate of Killingly high school.

John B. Bassett, owner of the Larkin Reed company, with a plant on East Franklin street, was reported seriously ill at his home on Broad street today. His illness developed from a sore throat about which he complained during the past week.

Though the Killingly high school band's new uniforms have arrived here they were not worn by the students in the parade this evening with the Pawtucket high school band, but are expected to be worn on Memorial day.

County Game Warden Thomas G. Daniels of Plainfield calls attention to the fact that it is illegal for anyone who is without a fishing license to spear fish, and the violation of this regulation will lead to prosecution in case of apprehension.

There is the prospect it is said today of action to obligate owners of properties on which there are cellpools to make connections with the borough sewer system in the interest of public health.

Mrs. Henry Blanchard of Dayville will have the members of the Roundabout club at her home for a meeting Friday afternoon. The club met the past week with Mrs. N. A. Witter of Mechanic street.

Applications are going forward from sporting clubs in this section for allotment by the state fish and game commission of pheasants for release later in the year, and well before the opening of the hunting season next fall.

Harold Fields, assistant treasurer of the Brooklyn Savings bank, has sold his home at Dayville to Byron Barrowclough and with Mrs. Fields has removed to Danielson, to an apartment on the Green Hollow road.

WAUREGAN

SIX-CHURCH CONFERENCE HELD WITH LOCAL CHURCH

The South Windham Six-Church conference met at Wauregan Tuesday with a large attendance. Morning devotions were led by Rev. Harry H. Small, of Canterbury. Rev. George H. Reese, of Central Village, delivered an able and searching sermon on "Citizenship in the Kingdom of God." At noon lunch was served in the Company hall by a committee: Mrs. J. A. Atwood, Mrs. Ella Tracy, Mrs. Lillian Bethel, Mrs. Emma Robinson and Mrs. S. H. Williams. The afternoon session was opened with a devotional period led by Rev. George B. Hawkes, of Abington. The roll call of churches followed: delegations were present from Wauregan, Central Village, Ekonk, Abington, Brooklyn, Canterbury, Westminster and Scotland churches. It was decided that the conference send a gift to the American Missionary board as a special offering to meet its recent call for a 20 per cent increase. Following the business session, Rev. Everett S. Lyons, of Thompson, gave an address on "Should the Church Seek to be Modern?" A hearty discussion followed, opened by Miss Lydia Hartig, of Sterling. Special music was rendered by Mrs. Gertrude Tracy and Mrs. Alice Mott, with Mrs. Henry Leach at the organ. Rev. W. Williams was moderator of the day.

Mrs. Edward J. Farrell has entered a hospital in Worcester for treatment. Many friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

Rev. Everett S. Lyons was a supper guest at the parsonage Tuesday.

Mrs. Leach and Mrs. Williams have been calling on Mrs. August Frieze at the Day Kimball hospital.

MOOSUP

Friends of James L. Lavallie, formerly of Moosup, have been extending to him and to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lavallie and family, their sympathy because of the death of Mrs. James L. Lavallie. Mrs. Lavallie was only twenty-one and the mother of five children. On May 2 the fifth child was born. The mother had a sudden attack of a serious malady and passed away Tuesday, May 7th. The funeral was held Thursdy last. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lavallie and daughter, Alice, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lavallie and family from Moosup, attended the funeral which was held in the Catholic church in Waterbury, Conn., in which city the deceased had lived since childhood, and where with her husband and family she had made her home.

French hotel keepers and merchants who for a number of years have made a good living selling their goods to wealthy Americans at inflated prices are not sleeping well these nights. The reason is because France seems to be losing its attractiveness for their best customers. Recently compiled figures show that Americans are beginning to travel to Germany without going through France, and the number of "luxury" travelers coming to France is on the decline.

PUTNAM

SEVERAL CASES DISPOSED OF IN SUPERIOR COURT

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, May 14.—Arraigned on bench warrants in superior court this morning, Emil Brenek and Edward Gildard, both 22, residents of this city, were convicted of six different counts of statutory burglary and theft and of a charge of carrying concealed weapons for which they were sentenced by Judge Arthur F. Ells of Waterbury, to serve indefinite sentences in the state reformatory at Chesire. The youthful burglars were brought to Putnam this morning from the county jail in Brooklyn, where they have been held since last Friday, in default of $5,000 bonds asked by authorities for their release. Both were conservatively dressed. Expressions on their faces as they appeared before the large court audience, where their wives and family members were seated, indicated traces of repentance and sorrow for their series of wrong doings, which held serious consequence for them today.

Bench warrants for their presentation were asked for by State Attorney Howard C. Bradford and Judge Ells immediately gave permission for their issuance. The warrants read charged both with three separate charges of theft and three distinct charges of statutory burglary and a charge of carrying concealed weapons illegally. They entered pleas of guilty to the gun toting allegation and to five chares of burglary and theft and after some hesitation changed their plea of "not guilty" to the sixth count, the $355 robbery and looting of the Plouffe filling station in North Grosvenordale on the night of April 16th, to guilty.

In presenting the case State Attorney Bradford recommended prison sentences in view of the fact that the men were hardened and desperate criminals, and confessions of their depredations, committed while armed, was sufficient evidence of their being menace to society.

Attorney Harry E. Back of Danielson, public defender, represented the two boys. In his plea for leniency for his clients, Mr. Back informed the court after a lengthy talk with his charges, "State Police Commissioner Robert T. Hurley, after a long survey of crime, learns that people in most cases, act and think afterwards.

"These boys," he continued, "acted and have been thinking since."

Mr. Back said that he felt they should be made to realize the seriousness of their crimes, but in view of the fact that both are without previous police records, and taking into the consideration the additional fact that both are married and have families, in need of their support, he disagreed with the recommendation of Mr. Bradford and strenuously pleaded for probation sentences. Mr. Back intimated that Mrs. Gildard and her son were involved in an automobile collision recently. The mother suffered a shock from which she has not as yet fully recovered and her son is a patient at the Day Kimball hospital, slowly recovering from serious injuries. The defender, in pleading the case of Brenek, stated that the wife of the defendent is in need of her husband's financial assistance. He added that the woman is now in a poor physical condition and soon must enter a hospital for an operation.

The efforts of Mr. Back to stay a prison sentence for the two young men were futile, when the court announced its decision to commit the prisoners to the reformatory, imposing sentence on all seven counts, and suspending execution on all but the sixth count, which was the most grevious of the entire series.

Howard Pratt, 46, a resident of Ashford, was before Judge Ells this morning on a charge of non-support. He pleaded guilty and in explaining the case, Attorney Bradford said that Pratt had been before the superior court before on a similar charge and had been placed on probation with provision that he pay the town of Ashford the sum of $5 weekly, until such time as he had fully reimbursed the town with all money it had expended in providing for his family, which was left destitute by his failure to provide necessary subsistence. Pratt has been married four times. He has been before court on other occasions, having been arraigned on serious charges. His indebtedness to the town at the present time, according to the state attorney, is about $1,700. Explaining that the man has enjoyed employment in the mills at Wauregan, where he received a fair wage, Mr. Bradford said that Pratt had not contributed to the support of his child for nearly a year. Pratt was given a suspended jail sentence and placed on probation, with the provision that he pay the town of Ashford $5 weekly, until his obligation has been reduced to nothing.

State Officer Hill of the Stafford Springs barracks, who investigated the Pratt case, reported that pitiful conditions were found existing at the residence of Pratt's family in the town of Ashford. The state department of child welfare, cooperating with the state troopers, have found Pratt and his wife unfit to care for their family and have provided temporary relief for the children.

Pleading guilty to a charge of theft of several yards of cloth, Peter Urban of Plainfield was fined $25 and costs. He was found guilty in the lower court of possessing stolen property and appealed a fine to the higher tribunal. When first put to plea, he denied charges against him, but this morning accepted the original penalty on grounds that a court trial might have resulted in more serious consequence for him than had at first been anticipated. He was represented by a Worcester attorney. Urban, when arrested, was suspected of possessing stolen property. State troopers made a search of his home, failed to find the object of their search, but during the examination of his property they discovered the stolen cloth.

Still possessing their high air of insolence towards laws and society, evidenced so freely in the city court last Thursday morning and in superior court the following day, Lionel Derosier, 17, and Normand Favereault, 16, local boys arrested last week in connection with a series of burglaries in the north end of the city, who were given suspended reformatory sentences and placed on probation last week, were re-arraigned in superior court this morning before Judge Arthur F. Ells and were charged with having violated terms of their parole.

Unmoved by the solemn dignity of the court, the two boys stood before the bar in overall working attire, consisting of dungereen trousers, blue shirts, sleeves of which were rolled up and collars carelessly un-fastened. They were coatless and hatless and presented an appearance that was most inconsiderate of the environment. Captain of Police A. J. Dubreuil on the witness stand testified that after the two were released from superior court Friday afternoon they immediately reported to his office where they cast jovial remarks at law enforcement in general, taking particular pride in the fact that they had outwitted the police by escaping the reformatory, the shadow of which had hung over them since the arrest.

State Attorney Howard C. Bradford informed the court that neither Derosier nor Favereault had reported to Probation Officer L. Edwin Hill since their committal to his custody. This, the attorney said, was in direct violation of the terms of their probation.

Harry E. Back, public defender, in addressing the court, said that he had failed to see where the testimony of the police captain, the probation officer or that of the youth's parent, Edward Derosier had in any way showed where they deliberately carried on in opposition to the terms of their sentences imposed last week. Judge Ells was in accord with the views of Mr. Back and after consideration of the facts presented he ordered the probation period continued, instructed them in the way of becoming upright citizens and impressed upon them the necessity of strictly adhering to their probation in order to avoid being committed to the state institution, a sentence which hangs over them for a year.

LIEUT. ROGERS ADDRESSES REP. WOMEN'S MEETING

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, May 14.—Connecticut's political war clouds began to gather in this city this afternoon, when republican guns, manned by the Windham County Republican Woman's association, roared defiantly at opposing political forces in the first major offensive of the 1930 state campaign, to forecast a sweeping G. O. P. victory at the polls this fall.

The enthusiastic gathering of nearly 100 republican women, members of the county woman's republican association, listened to inspiring addresses delivered in the cause of the organization by the foremost party leaders in the state. The speaking programme was headed by Lieut.-Gov. Ernest E. Rogers of New London, an aspirant for the republican nomination for governor; Miss Katherine Byrne, vice-chairman of the republican state central committee, of this city; Miss B. A. Lester, republican woman leader in Fairfield county; Luther M. Keith of this city, supervisor of the landscape bureau of the state highway department, and Mayor Charles A. Richard of this city, who delivered the address of welcome.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Villa Rich of Putnam, republican woman leader.

In welcoming the small, but ardent group of supporters of the party, who were mostly women, Mayor Richard said that he was proud to feel that Putnam had been selected as a site for the firing of the opening guns of the G. O. P.'s part in the coming state campaign.

Mr. Keith, a citizen of this city and devotee of republicanism, delivered the official greetings to the distinguished visitors and, in concluding, he turned to Lieutenant-Governor Rogers and said: "And I think Windham county and Putnam will be loyal to you, Lieut.-Gov. Rogers, in your race for the governorship."

Miss Katherine Byrne, leader of the republican woman's forces in the state and one of the best known political workers and organizers, delivered a splendid address in support of the republican principles of government. She termed the party principles of men and women working for the common cause of victory, a combination of sound judgment and common sense. The large wave of feminine interest taken in the republican party in this city and state was lauded by the noted Putnam woman. Republican organization in Connecticut has reached a high level, attained by no other state in the union, she said. Continuing, Miss Byrne attributed the success of the party in this state as being due largely to the invaluable support contributed by the women of the party.

"We are approaching an election," Miss Byrne said, "and party loyalty has no degree. It must be 100 per cent to win and republican loyalty with strict party integrity will be two factors that will send five republican congressman back to Washington, this year, elect our candidate for governor, the entire republican state ticket and put Putnam back into its proper political sphere."

In closing, Miss Byrne intimated that winning the 1930 election is the job of republicans of Windham county and of Putnam. "Victory," Miss Byrne said, "will be won only by hard work. And any ticket with Lieut.-Gov. Rogers on it, I'm sure, will be worth working for."

Miss Lester, a prominent state republican organizer in the western portion of the state, lauded Miss Byrne's marvelous achievements in politics and termed her a true friend and a woman to be looked up to. Miss Lester forecast a republican victory throughout the entire state this fall. A strong wave of republican sentiment, brewing from Connecticut's progress under republican government, is ground on which her predictions are based, she said. Miss Lester encouraged the interest of the women in politics and urged the voters of this community to seek to stimulate the interest of unconcerned women in republicanism, in order to further strengthen the party possibilities. "The woman's place is no longer altogether in the home," Miss Lester commented, "this is a machine age, and women are no longer slaves. It is their duty to acquaint themselves with civic obligations, favored them with the granting of suffrage."

Lieutenant-Governor Rogers, the final speaker, confined his talk to the high standard of education in Connecticut and the efforts of the republican party to push educational standards to a still higher plane. The governor denied that politics are slowly being allowed to creep into education, such as is frequently heralded by the Connecticut press. "Education," he said, "is a department which should stand on its own feet, and as far as the republican party is concerned it is ably standing on its feet in this state."

In commenting on the state debt, Lieut.-Gov. Rogers, in quoting his own figures, intimated that if the republican party, with its principles of economy and thrift, continues in power in Connecticut until 1934, accumulated interest of the state sinking fund will be sufficient to retire the state debt.

"Connecticut's policy always has been to pay its bills from its income," said the governor. "Minimum taxes are levied, and in this way the government aided by republican measures of thrift and economy is obtaining maximum results."

The programme concluded with the rendition of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the newly organized Putnam high school orchestra, under the direction of Professor Nelson Frink, supervisor of music in local schools. At the conclusion of their part of the programme the youthful group of musicians and their leader received the felicitations of Lieut.-Gov. Rogers.

It is getting the kite on a string that makes is soar.

TONIGHT'S TAXPAYERS' MEETING

The special meeting of the Norwich Taxpayers' association tonight in town hall is referred to as an important one.

It is important for two reasons, since it will concern the schools of Norwich and has been called for the purpose of hearing and acting upon the report of the special committee of the association, which has been considering the proposal to establish two junior high schools in Norwich.

Here are matters in which every citizen should be interested. What the committee is going to report as the result of its investigation is not known. It has been indicated that it does not approve the junior high school idea, that it does not consider such an outlay as has been recommended as necessary and that it will have an alternate proposition to advance which will take care of the school requirements, relieve the congestion and insure to the town adequate and efficient schools at a much less expense than under the junior high school plan.

Norwich on a previous occasion turned down the idea of adopting the junior high school plan. It is advanced now, with the promise of a large additional bond issue and yearly increase in the tax rate, because of the demand upon the present school facilities.

It hasn't been demonstrated that a change in the present system is necessary, or that we need two junior high schools with the extra outlays that would go therewith.

It hasn't been shown that the situation cannot be met by retaining the present system and making additions to the school facilities.

It hasn't been disclosed that the people of Norwich are desirous of plunging into such a large and uncertain expenditure, and precious little time has been devoted to the advisability of an alternate plan.

Efforts have been concentrated on junior high schools, but it is the purpose of the Taxpayers' association to give the citizens a view of the other side and set forth a practical, efficient plan of maintaining our schools as they should be maintained without rushing in for a lot of fads and frills and another substantial boost in the tax rate, which is fast tending to get back where it was before revaluation.

Tonight's meeting is one which should have the attendance of all public-spirited citizens, those interested in good education and those who know by direct effect what the taxation situation is.

The Taxpayers' association has taken an interest in this school problem from the standpoint of a square deal for all concerned. It is entitled to a fair hearing on its report and recommendations and if it presents a meritorious proposition it should get full credit and support.

ARE WARNINGS HEEDED?

It might be extremely difficult to say just how much good is done by the many warnings that are given about being careful with firebrands while in the wooded areas or fields where serious fires might result. It is always possible to point every season to the many costly fires which result in spite of them, but there is no means of checking up on those which have been prevented because of them.

That there are many who should give heed but do not is reflected in the statement by State Forester Hawes, who shows that of the 726 fires reported in Connecticut this spring, 262 were traced to smokers, while brush burners contributed 187 more and aside from the railroads, campers, and incendiaries, whose total was 117, there were 160 from unknown causes.

It is quite evident from these figures that a large majority of the fires could easily have been prevented. Many more than half of the fires were caused by those who had failed to respond to the warnings put forth by many agencies every season and emphasized by previous fires and losses involving life as well as property.

Thus it would appear that trying to get the cooperation of those who should avoid kindling fires has been a failure in more than half the instances where forest fires have occurred in this state this year. This doesn't mean that the idea should be abandoned, for it is fair to presume that large numbers have heeded it, but it discloses how difficult it is to get what ought to be ready compliance from those who display a superior knowledge, those who don't care and those who never apply such warnings to themselves.

It would be interesting to know how many of the careless smokers and brush burners had been responsible for previous fires and how many of them will be the cause of others in the future. The impression is gained that in many instances something more than persuasion through appeals will be necessary to get their attention centered upon their responsibility toward the property of others.

DWINDLING VILLAGES

While the present census may throw no permanent light on the question as to whether the village is destined to disappear, certain of the figures indicate that it is disappearing.

It is possible to recall certain of the villages which have gradually passed out of existence and others which have dwindled with the passing of years. They were once thriving little places where everyone knew everyone else, where much pride was taken in maintaining attractive and comfortable homes, where the streets were usually well shaded and the yards and gardens showed the careful attention they received from their proud owners. They were communities which for the most part were centered about a single industry, or a single large factory. With the passing of time, those interested in such an industry have gone out of the picture, others have failed to have any special concern in the village, it may have been absorbed by a city industry and moved away or fire may have wiped it out. Competition is so keen that the plant which undertakes to keep going in the small village has its problems and when there is no industry to attract, village population disappears. It may not become actually deserted, but the number remaining is small, made up of those who own their homes and have been there too long to seek residence elsewhere.

On the other hand, there are attractions in the small village for those who have experienced the hustle and bustle of the city and seek the freedom and quiet of the country. The villages which are favored with a modern road, able to secure lighting facilities and not too distant from cities from which many of the household needs can be replenished, make their appeal to not a few. The automobile gives promise of reviving interest in villages for residential purposes. It provides the quick means of transportation whenever desired and makes it possible to yield to the appeal to get out into the country for good air and freedom from the noises of a city. It may not revive the villages to past prominence, but it will have much influence in checking their disappearance.

STAND UP AND BE COUNTED

Supervisor Robinson in charge of the census in this district is anxious to get the complete enumeration of the people in eastern Connecticut. It is a laudable desire and one that must be shared in by all residents.

It is a task in which there should be sufficient civic pride for all to lend their cooperation. The census takers have been making their calls and endeavoring to include each and every one. It is possible that they have missed some, because of unusual circumstances. It is possible that they have been unable to find certain individuals at home, even on repeated calls.

Because a person has not been seen is no cause for pride. Rather is it good reason for making a fuss about it and insisting upon being counted. In the interest of making as good a showing as possible there should be no one overlooked. If you do not know the enumerator in your vicinity, there is an opportunity to write to the supervisor at Willimantic, giving your name and address, and there is assurance that you will be numbered among the rest.

There is a limit to the time in which the enumeration must be finished. It is getting to the time when the lists will be closed and the appeal of the supervisor for cooperation on the part of any who have been missed is a proper one. The common desire should be to be included with the others and make the local figures as large as possible rather than to keep out of sight and give a false idea of the population in your own home town or city.

Stand up and be counted.

DR. NANSEN

Dr. Nansen wasn't an old man, but even though he had reached 68 he was ever interested in polar explorations and was eagerly planning another trip into the far north for scientific purposes. He furnished another illustration of the grip which the polar region has upon those who have devoted much of their lives to finding its secrets and who have always been fascinated by the adventure which goes therewith.

Dr. Nansen began his study of polar localities many years ago and he had his share of successes, his quota of during experiences and his wrestle with the uncertainties and dangers of the frozen north. Much of his work was carried on during the days when dependence had to be placed upon ships and dogs. It was a case of going ahead slowly on foot or sledge, taking a chance of reaching one's destination under such conditions as might develop and trusting to luck that supplies would last and good fortune would contribute its share in bringing them back to civilization.

The sudden end to the prominent Norwegian explorer came when he was making plans for visiting the pole by airship. Age did not daunt him, but death stepped in unexpectedly to end his activities.

Not solely was he concerned with polar expeditions, for he gained distinction in various other activities, including diplomatic service, efforts in behalf of international peace, invaluable work in relieving famine conditions in Russia and protecting the Greek and Armenian refugees. Dr. Nansen made a name for himself throughout the world as a scientist, an explorer, and as an outstanding Norwegian citizen.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The man on the corner says: Spring wouldn't be the same without housecleaning.

Even though there is an unwillingness to violate the straw hat law, it is always well to be ready to open the season when the bell rings.

Straw hats are now called for until the middle of September, but we wouldn't be surprised if everyone wore what they pleased, or nothing at all.

"Yale Students Fined For Rioting," and Yale is supposed to be one of those institutions for higher education.

The impression might be gained that there was something in Senator Johnson's office which someone wanted, and that he worked on the idea that if at first you don't succeed try, try again.

SHE HATED HIM

"I just ate Tom, I simply hate him. I hope I never see him again as long as I live. Really I do, Celeste. Well, I was crazy about him till last night. And then he did act so funny at the dance. It was perfectly ridiculous the way he rushed that little rattlebrain blond! You did notice it? I guess everybody did. Do you think they did, Celeste? Tell me honestly——

"Well, if he thought he'd make me jealous he's just all wrong, because I'm not the least bit jealous. It's just not in my nature to be jealous. Mamma always has said that. All my life I've said I thought it was cheap to be jealous of any one. Don't you really think so, Celeste? But it's so dumb of Tom to be doing like that. Well, if he wants her he can have her. That's all I have to say.

"She's bow-legged, Celeste. Did you see it? I just don't understand what he finds in her myself. That proves I'm not jealous, doesn't it, because you can't be jealous of any one you don't think is attractive, can you?

"Oh, I know I was raving about him yesterday. But no more! I'm going to tell dad tonight that I'll go out on the ranch with him. You know I said I wouldn't go on account of leaving Tom. Imagine missing a grand trip to a dude ranch for a man who could like a bow-legged little old flapper!

"I'm going to give Tom back his fraternity pin and in a sort of dignified way tell him it's all over with me. Maybe I did used to think he was good looking. His eyes are real sweet and he has an aristocratic nose, but no one can trifle with me.

"I've always said, 'All my love or none.' I'm just like that. I read that in a book once and ever since then I've thought it was so good, I mean so sort of noble, don't you? I can't just explain it, but I think it's a grand sentiment.

"Make up? I guess not! I'll never again in my whole life have a date with Tom Davis, except, of course, when I give him his pin back, and then I can't help it. I mean I could send it by mail, but that wouldn't be as effective I don't think, do you? Even if he should call me up and ask for a date I wouldn't consider it. I'll say, real formal, 'Why, Mr. Davis, I believe you have called the wrong person. All my time is taken for days to come. There's not even one minute left.' Then I'd sort of say something so he'd think Dean Joyce was rushing me.

"I wouldn't come right out and say so, because I wouldn't want to tell an untruth and—and, anyway, he might say something about it to Dean. Then I'd say—I'd say, 'Maybe Ellie Mill'—that's her name—'can give you a date,' or something like that, real squelching, you know.

"And when I give his pin back I'll wear my mauve georgette that's long in back, because it's sort of—well, impressive—you know. And I'll wear my good perfume. He's wild about it, and I'll come downstairs real slow. I expect he'll cry and that will embarrass me to death. I just don't know what to do when men cry, do you, Celeste? Bob did once—uhum! Anyway, I guess Tom feels pretty bad today, because I showed him how I felt last night.

"I didn't say anything, you know, but I showed him. I was sort of subtle. And just to think I thought I was going to marry Tom as soon as he got a job! You know, Celeste, I feel so much older today. Sort of like a woman of the world. Why, I was only a child yesterday, but sorrow sure can age one, can't it, Celeste? Do I look different? Have I wrinkles? I cried most all night.

"But if Tom thinks I care he's just got another think coming. I guess if I'd take rat poison he'd be mighty sorry he trifled with my affections. You know, Celeste, deep natures can't be trifled with. Tom oughta know that.

"There's the telephone, excuse me! Yes. . . Hello, Tom. . . I'm all right. . . Hm- . . When? Dear me, I'm not dressed, but it wouldn't take me a minute. . . . Oh, fine. . . . No, I'm sure ad wouldn't care 'cause I slept all morning. . . . Well, hurry!

"Celeste, that was Tom. You know I decided the best thing was to show him my fine side and go out with him tonight. Don't you think so—sort of?—Chicago News.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 14 — Uncle Andy Mellon won a long drawn treasury fight with congress when the house failed, 96 ayes to 244 nays, to over ride President Hoover's veto of the bill for issuance of memorial half dollars in connection with the Gadsden purchase anniversary of the end of an old dispute with Mexico.

So far as the Bystander can recollect, the treasury has always opposed these memorial coinages, but congress has gone right on authorizing them just the same. It has half a dozen projects in the works now, all of which probably went down with that vote to sustain the veto.

The most interesting part of the house wrangle over the matter, however, lies in data furnished by Uncle Andy at the request of Chairman Perkins of the coinage committee. It showed what had happened to a dozen or more special memorial coinages dating back to the Columbian exposition in Chicago. Five million pieces were authorized and issued for that show, and 2,501,700 came back ultimately for recoinage. For the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco, 200,000 were authorized, 60,000 coined and 40,003 came back.

Coming down to more recent dates, 1,000,000 were authorized and coined for the Philadelphia Sesquicentennial and 420,000 have thus far came back. For the Fort Vancouver centennial, 300,000 were authorized, 50,000 coined and 35,000 came back.

At the time of the Huguenot-Walloon show, 300,000 half dollars were authorized, 142,000 coined and 55,000 came back temporarily to be later placed in circulation at face value. So if you meet one of 'em in your small change some day, don't think you've been trimmed.

Guarantee

What loss to the government may have been involved in these older transactions does not appear. So far as the Gadsden purchase coins would have been concerned, however, Uncle Sam stood to make a possible profit of more than $70,000 according to his own calculation, via the treasury. The 200,000 half dollars would have cost $1,500 to coin, $29,660 for silver and $99.36 for copper alloy. Their face value would have been $100,000.

And to insure that none of them did come back to the mints to be reworked, Representative Hudspeth of Texas, author of the defunct bill, put up his personal check with the treasury, guaranteeing it against loss.

Hudspeth was ill when the veto was sustained and his Texas colleague, Williams, acted as his spokesman. And to the rather astonishing Hudspeth guarantee, Williams added this offer:

"I will give you my check and have it certified, guaranteeing that not one of these 5-cent pieces will be returned to the treasury; and if any should be returned, I will give $1 apiece for them."

But all that made no difference. The house promptly about faced under the impulse of the veto, which certainly shows a reasonable degree of administration influence in that branch of congress, whatever the situation may be in the senate.

YOUR HEALTH

What To Do When A Mosquito Bites You

By Major Edwin M. Skinner, Director, Division of Mosquito Control, Gorgas Memorial Institute.

(From Gargos Memorial Institute)

A mosquito has a very good reason, at least for her point of view, for biting you. Human or animal blood is ideal nourishment with which to mature her eggs, of which she lays several hundred. She is merely trying to carry out successfully the same task that nature has set upon all animal life—the arduous and hazardous undertaking of bringing into the world more and better beings of her own kind.

It is only the female that has the sting, for her main job is to mature her eggs and so nature has endowed her with the instinct to bite. And in biting she has little reason for conscience because she herself has in turn other minute animals to bit her, for many little parasites find habitation on her body after she has been battered around in the world for awhile.

What she does when she bites is to inject into the human blood a minute quantity of a special serum that she uses to thin the human blood to such a consistency that she can draw it up through the tiny tube that is given her for the purpose. The blood in its normal condition is too thick for her to get it through her tube without this thinning process. It is the serum that is poisonous to humans, and causes the itching distress.

Left alone at her work, the mosquito will withdraw most of her poisonous serum when she sucks in the blood. So, when a mosquito bites you leave her alone until she has finished drawing out the blood. Thus little of the poisonous serum is left under the human skin, and the minimum of damage is the result. When the mosquito is killed in the middle of her task, the serum that she has injected is left in the blood, and is poisonous.

Certain species of mosquitoes transmit malaria and yellow fever to the people whom they bite. First they bite a malarial patient, for instance, and later bite a healthy person, thus carrying the malarial germ from one to the other. So the eradication of yellow fever and of malaria depends upon mosquito extermination. Gorgas, in Cuba and in Panama, startled the world by eradicating yellow fever and reducing malaria by going after the mosquito breeding places. This Gorgas method of disease eradication is now being continued by the Gorgas Memorial Institute. Mosquito areas are being surveyed, the type of mosquitoes classified, and expert engineers carry out the necessary measures for exterminating these pests. One of the results of these surveys, in different parts of the United States, has been to bring to light the disturbing fact that malarial mosquitoes exist in many areas where they are unsuspected.

The very best of all things to do when a mosquito bites is, therefore, to get after the mosquito breeding and harboring places and make it impossible for other mosquitoes to be born.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Commends the Idea

Mr. Editor: I see that you are going to publish the script of the Norwich broadcasting.

I think that this is a mighty good thing, and that a lot of former residents of Norwich would be interested in it. You can put me down for a copy. I commend your enterprise.

Another Old Picture of Square

Mr. Editor: I have been interested in reading about the old pictures of Franklin square and I feel proud to own one too. Mine belonged to my father, W. A. Richmond, for years secretary of the old Wm. M. Williams Co. at the Falls. My picture is dated Feb. 2, 1879 and signed by Robert A. Brown, Robert France and John Whaley.

A Class Overlooked by Dr. Wilson

Mr. Editor: I note from the issue of The Bulletin of May 12 that Dr. Wilson mentions only three classes of prohibition opponents, i. e.: (1) Those who want something with a kick in it; (2) those who have a monetary interest at stake; (3) the wet politicians (which is an ambiguous phrase). The first class has been quite generally considered by statisticians to constitute about 5 per cent of the population of the country—so that legislation based upon this class would be class legislation. If dependence is to be placed on the testimony of witnesses at the Washington lobby investigation hearings it appears that most of the "money interests" have been on the side of prohibition—and the wet politicians (so-called) have heretofore been so engulfed by the dry politicians and lobbyists as to constitute a negligible quantity. Dr. Wilson, however, entirely overlooks another larger and constantly growing class, i. e., the thinking element of the people who do not fall under any of his classes but have the courage and willingness to face the facts without prejudice, illusion or cant in a sincere endeavor "to establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to themselves and their posterity." These people are not thinking in terms of more drastic legislation and law enforcement—more prisons, etc., which are already overflowing—more millions of the taxpayers' money to be spent for enforcing this draconian law—all of which are but temporary expedients or panaceas to correct the present situation, but are advocating the repeal of the 18th amendment. Why?

1. The 18th amendment violates the fundamental purpose of the U. S. Constitution. Until the 18th amendment, the Constitution was nothing but a frame of government—a delegation of power from the people to carry on the national government. It delegated powers in one place and restricted them in another—the intent of the framers was to protect the people not only from government itself but from the majority. To accept the principle, policy and precedent of the 18th amendment is sub-versive of this intent and makes of the Constitution a code of police prohibitions or ordinances and changes the entire character of the instrument, abridges the police power of the states and disparages the liberties of the people as reserved in the preceding 9th and 10th amendments. Many excesses have followed the adoption of the 18th amendment which was never voted on by the people. The right of the people to be safe in their persons and homes against unlawful searches and seizures has been reduced by recent court decisions in a number of instances. Sanction of extreme punishment by some courts for statute made offenses which at common law were not crimes or felonies. The growth of the contraband liquor trade with its deadly concoctions as a side partner to prohibition and the employment of criminals for enforcement and the enthronement of fanatics under the guise of prophets are other factors. In connection with the latter I am reminded of these verses: St. Matthew, 24 chap., 23-28 verses; St. Matthew, 7 chap., 15-16-17 verses; I John 11-18; Epis. St. Peter, 1 chap., 20 verse. The subject of prohibition has so inflated the imagination of these prophets that they attribute to it every favorable factor which has occurred in this country in the last ten years and now they think it is encompassing the world. Here are some of Dr. Wilson's reported assertions:

"A moral miracle of the 19th century." The miracle then is 100 years old and somewhat out of date.

"It has outlawed the liquor traffic in the U. S." Well, yes—and apparently a good proportion of the people.

"It has made news of one of the commonest things in American life." I never realized this until the passage of the 18th amendment.

"The U. S. is now showing the way to a dry world." He answers this himself: "Since the World war, the European nations have doubled their drink bills." I need only add that some of their spokesmen say that the spectacle of prohibition in the U. S. has set the cause of true temperance back 100 years. Perhaps that is what Dr. Wilson had in mind when he said it was a miracle of the 19th century.

"That smash in Wall street came because the riches of the people kept piling up so high that they toppled over." I have read that Bishop Cannon was a Wall street operator, but I am surprised to learn that prohibition creates panics by promoting speculation. Isn't this an evil?

"Prohibition has made everything in the U. S. since the war more prosperous." Markedly the bootlegger, but to attribute American prosperity since the war to prohibition to my mind is absurd. Think back. During the war production was expanded to meet war needs and private consumption restricted. After the war there was a large accumulation of private needs, both here and abroad, and production was again speeded up to meet it. Hence the prosperity of the last ten years. Wet France has made a remarkable recovery. Our fathers used to say that the people of America were entitled to consideration other than as industrial automatons, "that they were endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights: that among these were life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Our system of government is based upon the education of the people and their gradual advancement toward the light. This must be so, if our government is to endure and progress, but it also requires that our legislation be enacted in flexible form so that it can be easily repealed or amended to reflect the ever-changing sentiment of the people. This can be accomplished by the states through the exercise of their police power but not by exercise of the police power of the states by amendments to the U. S. Constitution. We are chasing a will o' wisp—an ideal status which we all hope sometime will arrive, but are forgetting the present status of society and the present needs of today and tomorrow. Our present duty is to make our laws fit the people as they now are and not as in the suppositious state some people picture them. When the millenium arrives perhaps the need of law will pass away but in the meantime it seems to me far more Christian to help educate mankind in self-control and moderation in all things than to attempt to crush him under the iron heels of a law. "I am the state," said Louis XIV, but his line ended in the grave of absolutism.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORY

Nanny Meadow Mouse Grows Lonesome

There's no such thing as single bliss
When constantly there's one you miss.
—Nanny Meadow Mouse.

Nanny Meadow Mouse had made herself a very comfortable bed of dry grass in an old tin can. It was an old gallon oilcan. The entrance to it was just the right size. It was an ideal place for a home.

"It couldn't be better," Nanny kept saying over and over as she lay in her comfortable bed. "This is the place I'd like to have for my new home. If only Danny were here, I would never want to move again. It is queer he doesn't come. I do hope nothing has happened to him. But I guess he'll come before long."

Danny didn't come. A day and a night passed. Another day and another night passed and there was no sign of Danny. With such little folk as Danny and Nanny Meadow Mouse, a day and a night is a very long time. Nanny grew very uneasy. She wanted to go out to look for Danny. However this would be a foolish thing to do. It would be foolish because she hadn't the least idea where to look for him. The wise thing to do was what she was doing—remaining right at home. It was far better to let Danny find her, or try to find her, than for her to try to find him. So Nanny never wandered very far from the old can.

For several days Nanny saw no one. Then Peter Rabbit happened along. Yes, sir, Peter happened along. Nanny could almost have cried for joy. "Oh, Peter! Where is Danny?" she exclaim just as soon as she saw him.

"How should I know?" demanded Peter, looking very much surprised. "The last time I saw him, he was with you. Did you lose him, or did he lose you?"

"I don't know," whimpered Nanny. "A horrid dog chased me and I haven't seen Danny since. I'm afraid something has happened to him. Yes, sir, I am afraid something has happened to him. I'm lonesome, Peter. I'm lonesome and I get more lonesome every day. Please, Peter, if you see anything of Danny, or if you hear anything about him let me know. You don't suppose anything dreadful has happened to him, do you?"

"No," replied Peter, trying to comfort Nanny. "Don't you worry about Danny Meadow Mouse. He is quite equal to taking care of himself. He's around somewhere and sooner or later he'll show up. He is probably looking for you and is worrying about you just as you are worrying about him. If I see him, where shall I tell him you are?"

Nanny was just on the point of telling Peter that she was making her home in that old can when she thought better of it. It wasn't that she didn't trust Peter. She knew Peter wouldn't intentionally make any trouble for her; but the way to keep a secret is to keep it secret. So, instead of telling him that she was living in that old can, she said, "Tell him that I am living right around here. He will find me not very far from where we are now. If he comes over here, he will be sure to find my little paths through the grass and then it won't take long for him to find me."

"All right," said Peter, "I'll tell him, if I see him. But you know I may not see him at all. I'll watch out for him and I'll ask others to watch out for him. Now, don't worry too much, Nanny. Danny has been away before and he has always come back. He'll come back this time."

"Oh, dear, I hope so!" replied Nanny. "It's very lonesome, Peter Rabbit, living alone—very, very lonesome."

MANSLAUGHTER TRIAL FOR AUTO ACCIDENT DEATH

The case of Andrew Link of Willimantic, in which there was a mistrial when a juror was taken sick in the superior court last week at New London, went on trial again here Wednesday morning in the superior court before Judge Allyn L. Brown and a jury.

Link is accused of statutory manslaughter because of the death of John E. Shea of Willimantic through injuries received when he was in Link's car when it was in collision on Dec. 6, 1929, with an automobile driven by Capt. Henry Reis El Bara of Hartford, a field engineer in the employ of the telephone company. The accident happened on Wade hill, which is about a mile and a half outside Colchester on the road to Norwich.

The state claims that Shea was a passenger in the Link car which Link was driving, while the defense is that Shea was driving the car, basing this claim in part on the nature of the injuries he received, a fractured diaphragm and other abdominal injuries, which indicate he was struck by the steering wheel and must have been sitting behind it at the time of the crash. The state also claims that Link was intoxicated at the time of the collision. Shea died in the hospital at Willimantic several days after the accident.

Testimony was given by Captain El Bara, who sustained concussion of the brain and a fractured skull in the accident and was taken to the Hartford hospital after he had been seen by Dr. C. E. Pendleton of Colchester. The captain was driving a Ford roadster, and the Link car was a Pontiac coach which had the left door torn off in the crash and Shea was thrown out into the road.

Other testimony for the state was given by Alexander Prokopoczuk, 16, of Colchester, a garage employe, who said that Link was at the driver's wheel and the other man was sitting next to Link when the witness came to where the collision had occurred.

Nelson C. Taintor of Hartford, who is in the insurance business, testified that he was the one who took Captain El Bara to the office of Dr. Pendleton in Colchester, to which Shea and Link came later and that Link at that time was decidedly drunk and kept repeating, 'I don't care. I'm a d—mn good driver.' There was the odor of alcohol on Link's breath, Mr. Taintor said, and he also stated that Shea told him in the doctor's office that Link was driving the car.

Dr. Pendleton testified that when he treated Link for cuts on the face, Link was drunk and Link told the doctor that the Link car hadn't been damaged but was outside in the driveway at the doctor's office.

The trial will be continued today (Thursday). State Attorney Arthur M. Brown is prosecuting the case and Link is defended by Attorneys J. James Floyd and H. L. McGuire.

The jury in the case consists of Anson R. Grover, John R. Fowler, Louis O. Potter, John D. Rogers, Norwich; Arthur C. Smith, Daniel Lynch, Preston; William K. Raymond, Colchester; Solomon Wechsler, Griswold; Andrew G. Littlefield, Lebanon; Lewis L. Starkweather, Franklin; Louis J. Fontaine, Sprague; Charles Meyer, Lisbon.

Mrs. Maude Hawkey of Montville attended the meeting of Social Corner No. 2, at the Buckingham Memorial, in Norwich, Tuesday.

John Buell has returned to his studies at Mt. Hermon after spending a few days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Glassbrenner at Quaker Hill.

STATE PRISON SENTENCE FOR VIOLENCE ROBBERY

Charles Williams, 32, Negro of New London, was sentenced to not less than three and one-half years and not more than seven years in state prison at Wethersfield by Judge Allyn L. Brown in the superior court here Wednesday afternoon, after a jury found him guilty of a charge of robbery with violence growing out of the death of Jacob Ysheman of New London on Jan. 11, 1930.

Judge Brown completed his charge to the jury shortly after 11 o'clock and the jury returned with its verdict within an hour. Judge Brown deferred sentence until court was resumed in the afternoon.

Linwood (Peanuts) Farrell, 17, of New London, charged with being an accomplice with Williams in the robbery, was commited to the state reformatory at Cheshire. He pleaded guilty.

William P. (Rattlesnake) Franklin, Negro, and Ernest Johnson, Negro, both of New London, were freed of charges of assault with intent to rob in the same case when the court nolled the charges on the recommendation of State Attorney Arthur M. Brown.

Williams was arrested in Norfolk, Va., after the death last January of Ysheman. He was bound over from the police court to the superior court on a murder charge, which was later changed to manslaughter and this to robbery with violence, to which Williams pleaded not guilty.

Ysheman died a few days after Jan. 11, on which date it was claimed he was assaulted and knocked to the ground on Shapley street, near the corner of Main street.

AGAINST SPENDING MORE ON BLOCK IS. REFUGE HARBOR

Maj. F. S. Skinner, the government's district engineer at Providence, has notified Senator Metcalf, Congressman Burdick and other members of the Rhode Island delegation at Washington that an adverse report has been made on the proposal to improve further the harbor of refuge at Block Island.

The principal ground on which the adverse conclusions are based are lack of economic justification for the expenditure of funds to secure the small and almost entirely local benefits which might result, and the fact that there exists on the island a nearby harbor with ample depth and area for all requirements of present and reasonably prospective traffic.

Interested parties have the privilege of an appeal to the board of engineers at Washington.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY BY CAPT. AND MRS. HUNTLEY

With four generations present, Captain and Mrs. Walter Huntley celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary Wednesday evening at their home, No. 20 Fountain street. Those present included Mrs. Thomas Burns, mother of Mrs. Huntley; Mrs. Raymond Boclair, daughter of Mrs. Huntley, and Miss Rita Boclair, daughter of Mrs. Boclair.

Covers were laid for 45 guests, a delicious supper being served, and a delightful social evening followed.

Numerous gifts of silver were received by Captain and Mrs. Huntley from their numerous friends and acquaintances. Guests were present from Norwich, New London, Providence and New York.

Captain and Mrs. Huntley were united in marriage May 14, 1905, at St. Mary's church and have always made their home in Norwich. Mrs. Huntley's maiden name was Mary E. Burns. Captain Huntley has been connected with the Norwich fire department for a number of years and is captain of Engine No. 5. He is one of the most popular members of the fire department. Captain and Mrs. Huntley have two daughters, Mrs. Raymond Boclair and Miss Cecelia Huntley, and a granddaughter, Rita Boclair. Their many friends extend them hearty good wishes for the future.

COURT SETS HUBER TRIAL FOR NEXT WEEK

William S. Huber of this city will go on trial on an arson charge in the criminal superior court next Tuesday. The case will be tried by jury. Huber pleaded not guilty when court opened Wednesday morning and elected trial by jury. His counsel is Attorney Shapiro of Bridgeport. Huber's wife was present at the court session Wednesday morning.

Huber is charged with setting fire to the Turner-Stanton plant on Broad street, the night of Jan. 25, last. He was formerly bookkeeper and a stockholder in the concern. The damage to the factory building and contents was approximately $22,000. The building is owned by the estate of Maria T. Turner.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Henry M. Saunders

Clara I. Williams, widow of Henry M. Saunders, formerly of Norwich, died Tuesday night at the Hartford hospital, after an illness of about two months. She was born in this state, 78 years ago. Surviving are four sons, Charles D. Saunders of Morrisville, Vt., Fred B. Saunders of Worcester, Howard A. Saunders of Wilsonville, N. Y., Frank E. Saunders of Marlboro, Mass., and two sisters, Mrs. Henry Kingsley of this city and Mrs. Wanton Hoxie of Westerly, R. I. The burial is to be in Voluntown.

Patrick Henry Welch

Patrick Henry Welch died at his residence, 116 West Thames street, Wednesday afternoon about 4.15 o'clock after a few weeks' illness. He was born in Montville, June 30, 1860, the son of Patrick and Margaret Cronin Welch. He was united in marriage with Annie Morris in St. Patrick's church, this city, June 15, 1890, by Rev. Peter P. Shahan. Mr. Welch's wife died Dec. 23, 1912.

He was employed in the Richmond Radiator Co. practically all of his life since leaving school and for a number of years had been foreman there. He is survived by one daughter, Miss Irene Welch, who resides at home and one son, Frank Welch, who is assistant manager of the Arlington, N. J., plant of the E. I. Dupont De Nemours Co. He was a member of St. Patrick's parish.

TAFTVILLE MAN CARRIED OUT HIS THREAT TO TAKE HIS OWN LIFE

Despondent because of illness, Nelson Bouley, 69, of No. 176 Norwich avenue, Taftville, committed suicide by hanging about 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in a clump of bushes near his home. Mr. Bouley, who was a weaver by trade, and who had been out of work for some time, was seen walking along Norwich avenue with a rope, shortly before his body was found. Meeting a woman acquaintance on Norwich avenue, he told her he was going to hang himself. Although he was carrying a rope at the time, she, at first, did not take him seriously. Afterwards, however, she thought it best that an investigation be made and told her husband, who found Mr. Bouley's body.

The man had gone to a clump of bushes and small trees near Taft's station, tied the rope to a tall bush and with the other end around his neck, hanged himself. County Detective William E. Lewis, State Police Officer Whitmarsh and Medical Examiner C. C. Gildersleeve conducted an investigation, the last named going to Taftville in response to a telephone message from Chief George Linton at police headquarters. The medical examiner gave Undertaker George Grant permission to take charge of the body.

Mr. Bouley was born in Canada, 69 years ago last month, and came to this country with his parents when he was two years old. He had been employed as a weaver at Baltic, Taftville and Plainfield. Surviving are nine sons and daughters, Hormidas Bouley, Taftville; Mrs. Edward Beaudoin, Mitchell Bouley, Mrs. Miner Robarge, Mrs. Edmond LaFreniere, Louis Bouley and Miss Delia Bouley, all of Plainfield; Mrs. Edgar Gobeille of Quebec, and Edward Bouley of Boston.

There are also nine brothers and sisters, Mrs. Nelson Greenwood of Plainfield, Mrs. Louis Blanchard of Fall River, Mrs. Octave Peltier of Taftville, James Bouley of Norwich, Fred Bouley of Woonsocket, R. I., Mrs. Napoleon Gibeau, Ovide Bouley, William Bouley and Hormidas Bouley of Putnam.

SCOUT EXECUTIVE BOARD HOLDS IMPORTANT MEETING

One of the most important meetings ever held by the local Eastern Connecticut council was held Wednesday night at 7:30 in the chamber of commerce rooms. The meeting included scoutmasters and assistants from Norwich, representatives from Stafford Springs and Putnam, and members of the executive board.

The meeting opened with the introduction of guests, the reading of the minutes, approval of bills, and presentation of certificates to local council members. Charles Coit, national delegate, gave an especially interesting description of the national meeting in New York city, told of the $1,000,000 Mr. Harkness had given the national organization, the tributes paid to Uncle Dan Beard, the father of scouting in this country, of the many interesting addresses and action taken on matters of national scope concerning the movement.

Scoutmasters Walter Weldman, Will Collins, John Hill, Lloyd Rathbun, Robert Burke, Howard Ludlow, Anton Pulaski, A. L. Peale, H. Downer Johnson, discussed freely with the executive board the possibility of a Norwich-owned camp and the matter was left with the president to appoint a special committee immediately to investigate several sites proposed. These include Beach Pond, Tadma Pond, etc.

The approaching Boy Scout Jamboree was discussed with considerable enthusiasm. The jamboree will be free according to vote of the board, and tickets will be printed and distributed for parents and scout friends. Board members plan to attend. Max Hanover, vice-president of the local council, announced that the Red Arrow club would take care of the printing of tickets and programme to the amount of $25. Mr. Hanover was warmly applauded and was asked to convey the thanks of the organization to the Red Arrow club.

Remarks were heard from Rev. John J. Reilly, Max Hanover, Arthur E. Story, C. V. James, C. B. Gilbert, A. L. Peale, James Pedace, Superintendent E. J. Graham, Dr. R. R. Agnew, Edward W. Jewett and John Richardson on the progress of the local scout work. According to the scout executive, there are now over 500 scouts in this council and 50 cubs, with indications of a rapid increase.

Because no provision had been made in this year's budget for cub work, it was voted that the fee for any cubs attending Camp Wakenah this summer be on the basis of the cost to the council, $12 per boy. The scout fee will remain the same as last year, $8, with the council paying the overhead.

E. Leroy Duff of the Eastern Connecticut Light & Power Co., gave the major report of the evening, which consisted of a careful study of the budget with an attempt at the allocation of territorial expense to the territory. Mr. Duff submitted blueprints showing the expenditures month by month, revealing that though the council has been living within its budget since last fall, it has not been able to overcome the initial handicap of a deficit from previous years. The work of the Boy Scouts is becoming so improved and the general interest is such that it is believed that those who have not given to the Boy Scout work this year will recognize the merit of supporting the work, and will assist in aiding the organization to finish the year without a deficit.

An expression of thanks was extended to Mr. Duff for his thorough analysis and the scout executive was commended for his work.

In addition to the representatives from Stafford Springs and Putnam, Mr. Leffingwell, who has interests in Tadma Pond, was a visitor at the meeting.

NORWICH WOMEN ATTENDED MENTAL HYGIENE CONGRESS

In attendance last week at Washington at the International Congress for Mental Hygiene were Mrs. A. H. Chase, president of the United Workers; Miss Audrey Gernon, Miss Kate Mackenzie, Miss Margaret McNamara, and Mrs. Edwin V. Ross, all representing the United Workers, Mrs. John P. Huntington of this city and Miss Williams of the Norwich State hospital.

The meetings of the congress had 52 countries represented and all six continents, and there were 1,110 at the opening dinner at the Willard hotel. The conference continued from the 5th to the 10th. Those attending had the privilege of being received by President Hoover on the white house grounds and one of the interesting experiences was hearing the addresses by speakers from Germany, France and Spain, each of whom spoke in the language of his own country, but the same able linguist interpreted each of the addresses to the congress.

Jury Gives $380 Verdict

In a suit brought for $750 on a breach of contract claim, a jury in the common pleas court here Wednesday gave a verdict for $380.62 in favor of Pierce, Butler & Pierce Mfg. Co., vs. Robert Tetreault, both of New London.

The jury on the case was Frank L. Arnold, Gilbert S. Raymond, Norwich; Jesse Crary, Frank Krug, J. Guy Ayer, Preston; Andrew Chesboro, Griswold; George F. Brown, Colchester; Frederick C. Winchester, Salem; Frank K. Noyes, Lebanon; J. Henry Kendall, Frank A. Mell, Lisbon, and Thomas F. Kelly, Sprague.

Building Committee Report

A final report from the building committee, which is to be made at the Central Baptist church meeting this (Thursday) evening, will make the meeting one of especial interest. Recommendations are to be received from the board of managers and Judge Al- [illegible] Brown will preside at the meet-

TOLD ROTARIANS ABOUT BACKUS HOSPITAL SCHOOL

Upon invitation of the officials of the W. W. Backus hospital, the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday was held at the hospital, with a large attendance of the club members and a number of visiting Rotarians from New Haven and New London.

President Frank R. Murdy was in charge and the programme was in the hands of Dr. R. R. Agnew, consisting of singing under the leadership of Rotarian Walter Turner and Mrs. Archibald Mitchell at the opening of the meeting, with several numbers later by Dr. A. C. Freeman and six of the hospital nurses.

Miss Lucy B. Abbott, superintendent of the hospital, welcomed the visitors, and introduced Miss Grace E. Anslow, supervisor of nurses, who spoke in an informing way of the work that is done by the school of nursing.

In part, Miss Anslow spoke as follows:

We in the profession are still urging better education for nurses, and while we are glad to have the public discuss us we also would like the public to understand and help us with our problems—for this reason today I am going to talk to you about your school of nursing. You probably have never before heard it called your school, I am sure, but I think every community and every business man in the community should be interested and should know something about the school of nursing in his particular community. We no longer think a school of nursing is a small community by itself, but is an integral part of the community in which it exists. From your school, we send graduate nurses into private duty, public health work, and into the institutional field, the three great branches of the profession. If the nurses we send into these fields do not meet your requirements or standards, it is not their fault, but your school of nursing should be held responsible. Why not investigate the school. Every state today requires that all schools of nursing shall meet certain requirements to become accredited schools, your school has met and exceeded those requirements in your state.

First Requirement

The first requirement the state demands is adequate preliminary education—we have met this requirement by accepting only high school graduates into your school—we believe the school of nursing is advanced education to the high school work and not supplementary to high school.

The state gives us credit on our educational program, only if we meet the requirements. All schools of nursing should have a sound nursing educational program—what is nursing education—first, let me define education. Webster says—"it is the impartation or acquisition of knowledge and skill"—nursing education is therefore the impartation and acquisition of specified knowledge and skill—at your school of nursing we definitely feel that we carry out Webster's definition in our educational program. We give a thorough foundation in the basic sciences—anatomy, physiology, chemistry, bacteriology, psychology, elementary materia medica, sanitation, both home and community hygiene—these subjects are all taught during the first four months. A major subject during these first four months, also is the principles and practise of nursing. During the junior term of the first year lectures and classes are given in medicine and surgery—in its relationship to nursing care—diet in disease and advanced materia medica. The second year lectures and classes are given in pathology, communicable diseases, obstetrics, diseases of special senses, emergency nursing and first aid. The third year the program of education includes a course in pediatrics at the Yale School of Nursing. We feel that at the present time the pediatric ward in the hospital does not afford adequate opportunity for nursing practise for the student in this particular line. We also feel that no educational program is complete without some experience in public health nursing and so we have a two months' affiliation at the New Haven Visiting Nurse association. The nurse plays an important role in public health work today sharing and understanding the communities problems, and while this course is by no means a complete one in public health nursing it does tend to help the nurse meet her responsibilities in the community with an intelligent understanding.

Another requirement of the state is ample ward experience—at your school of nursing we feel that this requirement is of utmost value, of what use is scientific information if it cannot be applied, we feel that our wards, with the exception of the children's, for which I said above we affiliate, give ample opportunity for the actual care of the sick—or in other words, give opportunity for application of this scientific information.

Adequate Teaching Staff

The state also requires an adequate teaching staff. Your school is more fortunate than most schools of its size, due to the vision and generosity of our executive board in its teaching staff. We have a theoretical instructor, who gives her whole time to teaching—a practical instructor who teaches in the class room and also supervises on the wards. We have a graduate supervisor in each department who gives actual teaching in her special subject and also supervises in her department—then we have graduate charge nurses who do a small amount of teaching and a great amount of supervising—in a small school such as this one—the amount of personal supervision each student receives is of immeasurable value.

The last but not least requirement the state demands, is adequate teaching facilities—here again we feel that we exceed our requirements in many ways. All our class rooms are located in the nurse's residence away from the hospital. We have a theory class room one end of which is reserved as a chemistry laboratory and we are the proud owners of five microscopes—a practical nursing class room—this room is set up as a three-bedded ward unit with equipment complete as on the ward, here the student is taught and practises all nursing procedures before going to the ward to care for patients—the practising is done entirely in the class room and not on the patient—a dietetic laboratory where all students are taught to cook for the sick. No teaching facilities are complete without a reference library, and this we have—with approximately two hundred volumes in it. We feel that for its size, and may I say it does not sound too egotistical, of any size—that our teaching unit cannot be excelled here in the state or outside the state.

Need of Education

Now I am sure you are all wondering why all this education is necessary for a nurse—I know you will say well—ten, fifteen years ago a nurse did not have to know all this and she did good nursing. Yes you are right, that is all very true, but the world is not standing still educationally, and the nursing profession cannot stand still. In formal education fifteen, twenty years ago a high school graduate was thought adequate to teach school, today the public demands a normal school graduate for the same position. Ten, fifteen years ago you had never heard of the Shick test for diphtheria, today nurses must know what the Shick test is—what it is used for—when it is given and the results to be obtained, not only that she may give you intelligent answers to your inquiries—but also that she may intelligently assist the physician. It was an unheard of thing—fifteen years ago for a physician to ask a nurse called in on a maternity case—to keep track of the fetal heart for him—or if in the hospital to take blood pressure, but today it is a most common request from physician to the nurse. The nurse must not only know how to take the fetal heart count but also a little more anatomy and physiology than in former years. You can readily see from this that there have been expansions and developments in the field of nursing which have caused to be set up new conditions and requirements in the education of nurses. We are having ever increasing demands on our graduates of our schools of nursing for women of higher education and greater intelligence and with a capacity to grow. We must prepare our students for leaders of the future in the various branches of our profession. This can only be accomplished through a sound educational program, which I unhesitatingly say you will find here in your school of nursing.

This paper was written primarily for the Rotary club to know just what the aims of your school of nursing are—what we are trying to accomplish, with the hope that you as individuals in this community would have a better understanding of our problems—of which we have many. In our desire to give young women a sound educational background I do not want you to feel that we have entirely forgotten that as nurses "the world expects us to respond unfailingly to the call of duty, to stay at our posts while strength holds out, to give our best effort in unstinted measure, and with self forgetful devotion, and to surrender personal desires and interests to the claims of duty." We try to instill this attitude in the minds of our young students and we have faith that as they leave your school their future lives will be governed and influenced only by such high ethical standards.

WINS RENT VERDICT IN SUIT AGAINST HIS SON

A verdict sustaining the action of Fred A. Parke of Poquonoc Bridge in demanding the payment of rent from his son, Charles A. Parke, also of Poquonoc Bridge, was returned by a petit jury in a summary process action Monday in the Groton town court.

The suit grew out of a dispute between the elder Parke and his son over property left by Ella E. Parke, wife of Fred Parke, who was killed in an automobile accident some time ago. A daughter, Dorothy, was also killed in the accident. Mrs. Parke left no will.

By operation of law, one-third of the property went to the husband and two-thirds went to the son. According to the father, Charles executed a quit claim deed transferring his property to him. The younger Parke stated that he turned the property over to his father with the understanding that he could live in the house without paying rent for the remainder of his life.

His father tried to put him out of the house last August and the suit was turned over to the Groton court. The jury decided that the father's claim was correct.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO ESTABLISH CALENDAR

To facilitate the matter of information as to coming events in Norwich and to eliminate so far as possible the conflict of datings for meetings, gatherings, etc., the chamber of commerce will establish a calendar of events, whereby this information will be available to those concerned. It frequently happens that the chamber has requests for this information and it has also been suggested that the chamber of commerce could act as a clearing house for this kind of information. It will be only necessary for those wishing to avail themselves of this service to call or phone the chamber office or record with it any event in which they are interested and planning to hold.

W. S. WILLIAMS GOING ON EUROPEAN TRIP

Wilbur S. Williams of 276 Washington street is to sail from New York at 3 o'clock this (Thursday) evening on the steamship Ile de France for a European trip of three months which will be taken with some friends from Middletown.

Landing at Havre, the first part of the time will be spent in France, with Italy as the next country to be visited. There much of the traveling will be by automobile, and later Switzerland and Germany will be visited, with attendance at the Passion play at Oberammergau. The return sailing will be from Plymouth, in July, after a tour in England and Scotland.

$364,659 CONTRACT FOR EAST HADDAM HIGHWAY

A Middletown firm has been awarded the contract for about five miles of new waterbound macadam highway in the towns of Haddam, East Haddam and East Hampton on the east side of the Connecticut river. The contract price is $364,659.11, which with extras will run the total bill up to approximately half a million dollars.

The highway leads from East Haddam and extends through Leesville and ends at the Moodus turnpike. Work will be started immediately and the job will require six to seven months' time to complete.

Driving Licenses Suspended.

There are 48 names in this week's list announced by the state vehicle department of drivers having their licenses suspended for a year for driving under the influence of liquor. The list includes the following: Donald W. Poole, Danielson; Joseph Tohas, East Lyme; Fred Delhorme, Charles A. Ferriter, New London; Fred Maroney, Oakdale; Levi Minard, Putnam.

WINS $169 JUDGMENT IN AUTOMOBILE SUIT

Judgment for $169.75 in favor of Levi S. Talbot of this city against the Krieger Motor Sales Co. is given by Judge O. B. Waller in a decision handed down Wednesday in the common pleas court.

The company sued Talbot for $125 on a note given in buying an automobile, but Talbot put in a counter-claim for $350, and Judge Waller finds in favor of Talbot.

In his memorandum of decision the judge says:

"It appears that in February, 1928, the plaintiffs agreed to sell and the defendant agreed to purchase a Model D-1926 Oldsmobile for the price of $550 to be paid for as follows: $125 cash on or before delivery; allowance on Ford car turned in by Talbot, $125; and the balance, including a charge for financing of $62; to be paid in 12 equal monthly payments. The sale was to be effected under a conditional sales contract whereby the plaintiffs retained title to the motor vehicle until payment in full, and such a contract was executed by both parties. The defendant, however, did not pay the sum of $125, in cash provided to be paid on or before delivery of the car but by agreement between the parties executed and delivered to the plaintiffs a note for that amount payable on demand, with the understanding and agreement that the car would not be delivered to the defendant until this note was paid. The original complaint in this action was brought to recover upon this note for $125.

It appears that on the day this note was executed, the defendant, with plaintiff's permission, took possession of the automobile for use on the night of Feb. 29th and with the understanding and agreement that it would be returned to the plaintiffs the next day. This use was not intended as a delivery of the car to the defendant under the sales agreement.

While in the defendant's possession the automobile in operation indicated a serious defective mechanical condition and when returned to the plaintiffs the next day it was not in such condition that it could be safely operated owing to the fact that the engine block was cracked and would not hold water.

I do not think the evidence justifies a finding that the injuries to the engine were in any manner due to defendant's negligence. The claim that the car was frozen on the night of Feb. 29th or the morning of March 1st, while in defendant's possession is not supported by any evidence and on the contrary stipulated temperature records for those days would indicate that the temperature was not below the freezing point at any time the automobile was in defendant's possession.

I have concluded therefore that the mechanical defects existed when the machine was taken out by the defendant on Feb. 29th.

I find that on Feb. 29th, at the time the agreement of sale was made, the plaintiffs represented that the motor vehicle in question was in reasonably fair mechanical condition; that at said time as a matter of fact, the motor vehicle was not in reasonably fair condition for use; that there was no delivery of the car to the defendant under the agreement of sale; that the sale was not to be completed and delivery made until the payment of $125 in cash by the defendant; that the note of $215 was not accepted by the plaintiffs in lieu of the cash payment, and I therefore find that the plaintiffs are not entitled to any recovery under the allegations of their complaint. I find the issues for the defendant under plaintiffs' complaint.

The fair market value of the defendant's Ford automobile at the time it was turned over to the plaintiffs was the sum of $125 which the plaintiffs agreed to allow on account.

Upon defendant's counter-claim I find the issues in favor of the defendant and that he is entitled thereunder to recover the sum of $150 with interest from March 1, 1928.

Judgment may be entered for defendant to recover of the plaintiffs the sum of $169.75.

PLANNING NORWICH GREETING TO EX-GOVERNOR WHITMAN

Indications at the chamber of commerce rooms show that the business men of Norwich are planning to attend the annual banquet of the state chamber of commerce at Hartford on the evening of May 21, when ex-Governor Whitman of New York state will be the principal speaker. Born in Norwich and although the greater part of his life has been spent in the state of New York, former Governor Whitman has always maintained a strong interest in his native state and the particular section in which he was born. Something of the accomplishments of this Norwich boy may be had from the following record: Ass't corporation counsel for the city of New York, appointed by former Gov. Hughes of New York as judge of the court of general sessions, district attorney of New York county, a past president of the New York State Bar association, an active member in the Connecticut branch of the Society of Connecticut. Mr. Whitman is at present a member of a New York law firm and his address on this occasion will be an address of timely interest.

The fact that Mr. Whitman is a Norwich boy and one of the country's outstanding lawyers has given rise to the idea that Norwich should pay compliment to this native son and attend this affair in a large delegation. Reservations for a seat at the Norwich tables are being received by the local chamber and must be filed with the Hotel Bond not later than Friday. This meeting is open to both men and women and will be oustanding for its interest of speakers and entertainment, especially so to Norwich. Secretary Richardson suggests that all who will cooperate in this tribute to former Gov. Whitman by attending, make their intention known as soon as possible in order that Norwich reservations will receive a selected place in the banquet hall of the Hotel Bond. The other speakers of the evening will be John J. Pelley, president of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and Bruce Bairnsfather, author of "Old Bill" and "The Better Ole."

Merchants Dance and Institute

Chairman Charles Barker of the special committee on the project of "Try Norwich First" campaign announces that due to other local events in the city, it has been decided to change the date for the coming dance in the Wauregan hotel ballroom to Tuesday, May 27. This event comprises a gathering of all the merchants and salespeople of mercantile Norwich and was postponed from the pre-Lenten period.

On Reckless Driving Charge.

In Groton Tuesday afternoon State Policeman Frederick Winniger arrested Jacob Feldman, Norwich, on a charge of reckless driving. It was alleged that he drove in a careless manner over the Post road. He was ordered to appear Monday in the town court.

Mother's Day At Occum Church.

Mother's day was observed by the junior choir of St. Joseph's church, Occum, with a program in honor of the mother of Christ and all earthly mothers. The musical part of the mass was in charge of Mrs. Joseph Peloquin, the church organist, "Little Mother of Mine," being sung by the choir. At the offertory B. Bernal sang most pleasingly, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine." At communion little Kathleen and Marie Peloquin sang in a duet, "Mother Dearest, Mother Fairest." The program ended with the choir singing "Mother Dear, O Pray For Me."

Backus Hospital Dismissals.

Walter Konikowska, 123 North street; and Lydia Johnson, 150 Broadway, were patients dismissed from W. W. Backus hospital Wednesday.

A virulent attack on the pending tariff bill as threatening the peace of the world, and a mild commendation of the London disarmament conference results as conducive to world peace occupied last night's session of the League of Women Voter's tenth anniversary convention in Louisville, Ky.

THE FIRST BRICK HOUSE IN AMERICA

The home of William Penn, built around the year 1683, was the first house to be constructed of brick in America. This house was entirely characteristic of Penn himself. Every detail of it was methodically planned, as was the whole town of Pennsylvania that he laid out.

It is reassuring to know that capable hands will relieve you of all responsibility when the time comes. Our service is most complete and within the means of all.

ELABORATE PROGRAMME TO BE HELD IN CONNECTION WITH NATIONAL RUN

A program, to be conducted in conjunction with the National A. A. U. 10-mile championship run at the fair grounds on the afternoon of Memorial day, was definitely decided upon Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the general committee, held at the chamber of commerce rooms. The general committee is composed of interested men about the town who are assisting the Duwell A. A. in the conduct of the national event. In addition to the championship run it is planned to conduct a series of running horse races, have a band concert and possibly other features.

The gates of the fairgrounds will be thrown open to the public, the only charge to be a 25 cent admission to the grandstand. Admission to the grounds, parking, etc., will be absolutely free. The small tax for the grandstand is to be made only because of the fact that there still remains a small sum to be raised to help defray the expense of the entire affair. The "free gate" proposition was made because of the splendid voluntary support that has been given those in charge up to the present time.

Organizations about the city have contributed prizes for the national run and donations of cash have been made in various forms. There have been some donations made outright and others have shown a spirit of co-operation by contributing to the program that is being gotten up at the present time.

From the very beginning the Duwells have emphasized the fact that they were not putting on the title run for financial gain but wish to help put Norwich before the eyes of the country at large. Inasmuch as the man who wins the coming race will be recognized as the champion of the United States Norwich is bound to come in for its share of nation-wide publicity. The seriousness with which the race is being taken elsewhere may be judged from the fact that up to the present time four national champions have already entered. The "big shots" are Clarence De Mar of Melrose, Mass., the world's greatest marathon runner; Fred Ward of New Jersey, champion 20 miler; Whitey Michaelson, king of the 15 milers, and James McDade of New York, present 10 mile titleholder.

While discussing the program, which is being solicited at the present time, it was emphasized by the general committeemen that the form of advertising was different than the general trend, in view of the national aspect of the event for which the program is solicited.

According to the present plans of the general committee, the program at the fairgrounds will begin at about 1 o'clock Memorial day and will run for nearly three hours, finishing in time to allow the spectators an opportunity to take in the Academy-Warren Harding ball game, which officials at the Academy have kindly arranged to start at four o'clock.

The first hour and a quarter of the program will be set aside for horse racing, not that of the sulky variety, but saddle racing. There will be at least three running horse races, the competing horses to be provided by interested horsemen in New London county and vicinity. There have been no public running races in the vicinity for a number of years and it is felt that this end of the program alone will attract hundreds of spectators. It is planned to have at least two special races and one or possibly two open races. Up to the present time there are 8 entrants for the open events and if additional entries are received it may be necessary to conduct the races in heats. This end of the program is to be left entirely to the horsemen about town, many of whom at the present time are associated with riding academies in the vicinity.

The track will be cleared at 2:15 o'clock and arrangements will then be made to start the big run 15 minutes later. At exactly 2:30 o'clock the runners will start off on the first of the 30-lap grind. It is expected that the run will be won in about 52 minutes and that a large portion of the field will be in within 60 minutes. During the entire afternoon music is to be provided by Swahn's band.

It was reported at the meeting that on Friday invitations will be sent to public officials and prominent sport figures in this state and surrounding states to officiate as officials in both active and honorary capacities. The sportsmen will be active and the public officials will be listed in an honorary capacity. It is planned to invite Governor John Trumbull and other state officials, senators and the mayors of the cities within a 50-mile radius. Invitations will also be sent to prominent national A. A. U. officials, Gene Tunney and sports writers of newspapers in this and other states.

The officials will be invited to attend both the program at the fairgrounds and banquet, which will follow. The Norwich Elks have donated the use of their hall for the banquet and this part of the program will take place shortly after 5 o'clock. It is planned to have a program of music in addition to prominent speakers at the banquet.

All in all, it looks like the biggest day that Norwich has ever seen and there is every indication that there will be more people here than there ever has been at any one time in the history of the city.

U. S. AND CANADA IN DAVIS CUP MATCH TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, May 14—(AP)—Rain today drove the American and Canadian Davis cup teams from the tennis courts and they put in the afternoon hours playing indoor golf.

Both teams had planned final workouts today for the opening of the cup matches on the courts of the Philadelphia Country club tomorrow but a steady drizzle made it necessary to cover the courts and kept the players indoors.

John Van Ryn, East Orange, N. J., will oppose Dr. Jack Wright, Canada, in the opening singles match tomorrow at 2:30 p. m., and immediately upon its completion George M. Lott Jr., Chicago will meet Marcell Rainville, Canada.

SWIDERSKI CHOSEN TO MEET MICKEY WALKER

CHICAGO, May 14—(AP)—Mickey Walker, world middle weight champion, tonight left for Louisville, Ky., where he will meet Paul Swiderski, New York light heavyweight, in the ten round final bout of the Derby Eve boxing show.

Swiderski tonight was obtained to substitute for Al Friedman, Boston heavyweight, who originally was signed to meet Walker, but was forced to withdraw because of injuries. Efforts to obtain George Cook, Australian heavyweight, failed to materialize.

Walker will give away about 15 pounds to Swiderski.

Academy Plays Tech At New London Today

The Academy reaches the half-way mark in its league schedule today in meeting Chapman Tech at New London. The game will be somewhat of a twilight affair for it is scheduled to start at 5:30 and will be played at Mercer field. The locals are eastern Connecticut's hopes for the state title and need today's game to stay in the race.

At present the Wildcats are heading the circuit with three wins and one loss and, although beaten by Westerly last week, are favorites to cop the pennant. Chapman Tech, at the start of the season, was regarded as N. F. A.'s most dangerous rival, but, due to the wildness of its star pitcher, Capt. Fred Hewitt, has dropped two games and is being regarded in the light of the also-rans. Their conquerors have been N. F. A. and Bulkeley.

But, Hewitt, while showing to disadvantage because of his inability to locate the plate has also been thrifty with his hits, holding both the Wildcats and Tigers down to a very few number of safeties. Should he shake his wild streak today, it might be a tough afternoon for the Academy sluggers.

Coach Brigham expects to start all his regulars, the same lineup that will go against Bulkeley here Saturday in the opening game of the annual series. Bud Fontaine is expected to return to action behind the plate after being laid up with an injured shoulder and Boots Greene is set to do the pitching.

WILLIAMS MEETS TOUGH CUSTOMER IN JOSE ROUTIS

When Joey Williams, clever New Bedford boxer, and Jose Routis of California, sensational Filipino bantamweight, meet in the semi-final bout in the Shyma club boxing show next Wednesday evening, it is expected to be a rip-roaring match. When these two boys enter the ring there is bound to be plenty of action and it is safe to say that Williams will fight the hardest to gain a decision or a knockout over Routis.

Why? Just because he has a real honest to goodness objective, while the other fellow has not. Williams, who is known as the fighting Sunday school teacher, wants to keep in the limelight, as he is to use his earnings to educate himself for his chosen field. He is literally fighting his way through college—a religious college at that—which leads to a career of religion.

In the fall the New Bedford boxer enters Springfield Y. M. C. A. college to train for church organization and social work. This lad ought to be well fortified for this kind of work, as he is the son of a minister and the brother of a minister. There is no better training for religious work than the boxing game, he says. Boxing builds character and it is a fine physical and moral preparation for any career, he states, continuing with I feel that I have gained experience in the ring which will be valuable to me as a church worker.

Williams, who has been a professional boxer since 1924, does not expect to put his gloves in moth balls, while he is studying at college, but expects to keep up boxing. But he does expect to give it up professionally after he enters church work only to don them again periodically for a fight for fun.

The Sunday school teacher will have a chance to show what he is made of in his bout against Routis, who has only recently returned from a successful tour of the Pacific coast. Routis has met and defeated such boys as Happy Atherton, Quinnie Lee Southern, flyweight champ, Pete DeGrasse, Dark Cloud Ruby Bradley and others. In the main bout at Mitchell field just the other week he floored Davy Adelman in six rounds.

Word comes from Routis' manager that "He does not know who this Williams is that is fighting Routis, but he will have to be a good fighter to last the limit. In Routis you will see one of the best combinations of fighter and boxer you ever laid your eyes on. The tougher they are the better he likes them."

This is only one of five bouts that will be presented by the Shyma club next Wednesday evening. It is worth the price of admission alone, as are any one of the others.

HELEN WARING GIVES MISS MADDOX A STIFF BATTLE

SEDGEFIELD COUNTRY CLUB, Greensboro, N. C., May 14—(AP)—Helen Waring, the Pinehurst star, furnished the high explosives in the second round of match play in the Southern Golf tournament today. She carried Miss Margaret Maddox, of Atlanta, the defending champion to the 20th green before yielding a grudging one-up decision to the more experienced title holder.

The list of title eligibles is now composed exclusively of such old familiar names as Mrs. Dave Gaut of Memphis, three times a champion in the past; Mrs. W. L. Pierce of Charlotte, last of the Carolinians and Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake of New Orleans, who, although still young in years, is a seasoned veteran of the Dixie golfing wars.

Mrs. W. D. Irwin of Greensboro, N. C., made it interesting for Mrs. Leon Solomon of Memphis for a time, but finally succumbed, 3 and 2. Mrs. Lake won easily from Mrs. W. H. Willard of Charlotte, N. C., 4 and 3, and Mrs. Gaut took the measure of Miss Clara Woodbridge of Little Rock, 3 and 1.

RAINAND COLD WEATHER HALTS BIG LEAGUE GAMES

NEW YORK, May 14—(AP)—Widespread rain and chilly weather today made baseball a rather unprofitable business. Out of eight games scheduled in the two major leagues, only two were played and those before meager crowds. All four of the American league games were postponed.

At Cincinnati, some 2,000 fans turned out to see the Reds play the Brooklyn Robins in a struggle for third place. Only half that number was present at St. Louis at the start of the game between the Cards and the league leading New York Giants.

The minor leagues also suffered. In the International league only the Newark-Montreal contest was played while the American association postponed all games.

Tigers Take Two Games

A team representing St. Patrick's school lost to the Roath Street Tigers Wednesday afternoon at the Boswell avenue grounds. The score was 8 to 7. For the winners Hartnett caught and Joe pitched, the remainder of the lineup being: Burke, 1b; Stone, 2b; Barry, ss; Cotter, 3b; Fournier, rf; Hynds, cf; Cabinski, lf.

The Tigers defeated a team of third and sixth grade pupils of St. Mary's school Tuesday afternoon 8 to 6.

BERKMAN SCORES 25 POINTS IN N. F. A. TRACKMEN'S WIN OVER WESTERLY

Norwich Free Academy defeated Westerly in the track meet at the Academy campus Wednesday afternoon by the close score of 55 to 53, thus atoning somewhat for the lacing that the Westerly baseball nine handed the Red and White the other day. The Norwich boys took eight firsts in the twelve events, five of which were won by Berkman, who has been their mainstay in all the meets so far this year. He amassed a total of 25 points, almost half of the total number scored by the locals.

Westerly's trackmen were strong in the half mile and one mile runs, taking all three positions in each event, which, incidentally saved them from a worse beating. The reason for the failure of the Red and White men to score in these runs was laid to the non-appearance of Wood, the locals star runner, who was unable to be present because of illness. Westerly also placed first in the pole vault and high jump.

In the half mile run Beebe, Norwich, who ran for the first time in competition, led the field until near the finish when the Westerly men sprinted and came out ahead. The summaries:

100 yard dash—Won by Berkman (N), Deutsch (W), Flather (N). Time 10.3.

One mile run—Won by Carter (W), Westerly, Westerly. Time 5 min. 3 sec.

Discus throw—Won by Armstrong (N), Deutsch (W), Barber (N).

Shot put—Won by Barber (N), Westerly, Cruickshank (N). Distance 37 feet, 6 in.

Javelin throw—Won by Weldon (N), Westerly, Barber (N).

Half mile run—Won by Westerly, first three places. Time 2 min. 12 sec.

220 yard dash—Won by Berkman (N), Deutsch (W), Holden (N). Time 24.3 sec.

Broad jump—Won by Berkman (N), Westerly, Rootes (N). Distance 18 ft. 11 in.

Pole vault—Won by Westerly, tie for second and third, Caulfield (N), and three Westerly men.

High jump—Won by Westerly, tie for second and third, Burke (N), Rootes (N), and two Westerly men.

220 yard hurdles—Won by Berkman (N), Rootes (N), Lenkiewicz (N). Time 28.4 sec.

440 yard run—Won by Berkman 57 sec.

YALE'S FOOTBALL COACHES FOR 1930 SEASON ANNOUNCED

NEW HAVEN, May 14—(AP)—Yale's 1930 football coaching staff announced tonight by Mal Stevens, head coach, will include six assistant coaches, with Waldo W. "Firpo" Greene, captain of the 1929 team, the only newcomer.

Besides Coach Stevens and Greene, the staff will consist of Adam Walsh, C. A. Comerford, W. A. Webster, R. W. Pond, and C. A. Milstead. Coach Stevens, Walsh and Comerford, will be in charge of the varsity squad, while the others will handle the second string men.

L. M. Noble, former halfback and hockey coach, a member of the staff last year, will not take part in the coaching this year. He will be graduated from the Yale Law school next month and plans to practice law in New York.

The football candidates will report September, 15. The preliminary practice will be shorter than usual, because of a nine game schedule which calls for the first contest on September 27 with the University of Maine as Yale's opponent.

DR. HILLIS WINS STATE DENTISTS GOLF TOURNEY

WATERBURY, May 14—(AP)—Dr. W. A. Hillis, of Greenwich, won the golf championship of the Connecticut State Dental association here today for the second successive year, when he led a field of 50 members over the difficult Waterbury Country club course with a low gross score of 177 for 36 holes in the sixth annual tournament. Dr. J. A. McLennan, of Stratford, was runner-up for honors with a score of 183. Dr. M. J. Loeb, of New Haven, was third with a card of 187. Other prize winners:

Low net prize 36 holes, first, Dr. J. F. Byrne, Waterbury, 142; second, Dr. L. P. Abbe, Hartford, 148; third, Dr. A. A. McLaughlin, Bridgeport, 149.

Low gross prize, 18 holes, morning round, first, Dr. W. A. Hillis, Greenwich, 89; second, Dr. J. A. McLennan, Stratford, 90; third, Dr. M. G. Arnold, Bridgeport, 91.

YALE CREWS HAVE HARD WORKOUT FOR SAT.'S RACES

NEW HAVEN, May 14—(AP)—The Yale varsity, junior varsity and freshmen crews completed their home preparations today for Saturday's Carnegie cup races against Princeton and Cornell on Carnegie lake, Princeton. The crews went through a hard workout today on the Housatonic river at Derby and will leave for Princeton tomorrow.

Two practice rows are in store for the crews when they arrive in New Jersey.

The same varsity and freshman crews which rowed in the Derby regatta will race against Princeton and Cornell. Goodale, number six on the junior varsity crew which rowed in Derby, will be absent from the boat. He has been denoted to the third boat and Esselstyn, has been shifted from number four to six. Hunt has been assigned to the seat vacated by Esselstyn.

CANZONERI GETS DECISION OVER FARR IN DULL FIGHT

NEW HAVEN, May 14—(AP)—Tony Canzoneri, former world's featherweight champion, defeated Johnny Farr, of Cleveland tonight in a slow and dull ten round feature bout at the Arena A. C. Canzoneri weighed 131 1-2 pounds, Farr 132 1-2.

Neither boxer appeared anxious to mix it up and the fight was frequently booed by the crowd.

Sammy Gelber, New York, 124 1-2, won an eight round decision in the semi-final over Romeo Dubois, New Haven, 124.

Johnny Pena, New York, 120 1-2, defeated Paris Apice, Providence, 122 1-2; French Ernest, Cleveland, 129 1-2, won a decision over Patsy McGraw, Waterbury, 128 1-2; and Jackie Harmon, Waterbury, 109 1-4, defeated Freddy Lattanzio, New York, 111 1-4. These bouts were six rounders.

Stecher Throws Malcewicz

NEW YORK, May 14—(AP)—Joe Stecher, former heavyweight wrestling champion, tossed Joe Malcewicz, of Utica, N. Y., tonight in a one fall match at Madison Square Garden. The time was 32:55.

CARDS STAGE 6-RUN RALLY TO WIN EIGHTH VICTORY

ST. LOUIS, May 14—(AP)—The Cardinals scored their eighth successive victory today and climbed into the first division of the National league as they defeated the New York Giants 7 to 3 in the second game of their series.

Led by Frank Frisch, the Cards staged a six run rally against Fred Fitzsimmons in the fourth inning while Herman Bell did a great job as relief pitcher to hold the lead. An error by Eddie Marshall started the rally and doubles by Douthit and Adams and a home run by Frisch followed to complete it.

Grabowski started for the Cards but was taken out for a pinch hitter in the fourth after giving three hits and as many runs. Bell finished, holding the Giants to one hit in five innings and was credited with his first victory of the season. Terry's double with the bases full in the third saved the Giants from a shutout.

LUQUE TWIRLS BROOKLYN TO VICTORY OVER CINCY

CINCINNATI, May 14—(AP)—Adolfo Luque, the veteran Cuban who pitched for Cincinnati for 14 seasons, went against his old mates today and hurled the Brooklyn Robins into third place in the National league standing with a 7 to 4 victory over the Reds.

Luque allowed nine hits keeping them well scattered except in the first inning. Glenn Wright helped him by hitting a home run, two triples and a single in four times at bat.

Wright's homer tied the score at 3-3 after the Reds had bunched four hits in the opening frame for two runs. In the sixth, Johnny Frederick drove the ball into the right field bleachers with two on base to give the Robins a safe lead. Bob Meusel outdid the others in hard hitting in the same inning with a homer over the left field wall.

Eppa Rixey started the game for the Reds but was taken out after he had allowed 13 hits in six innings. Ray Kolp finished.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS INDEFINITE SUSPENSION OF CARNERA

CHICAGO, May 14.—(AP)—Indefinite suspension of Primo Carnera, Italian heavyweight giant, was recommended tonight to the National Boxing association controlling boxing in 29 states, by a committee appointed to investigate Carnera's bouts since his invasion of the United States five months ago.

Primo is to have the company of all his managers in the suspension; the committee recommending that Leon See, William Duffy, Walter Friedman and Frank Churchill, all be banned indefinitely in N. B. A. states.

Requests for information were sent to all commissions in states in which Carnera boxed.

The report includes the fact that Carnera and his managers have been suspended by the New York and California commissions, based on the findings of the latter body following the Chevalier fight at Oakland, Calif.

No replies were received from Memphis, Tenn., where Carnera knocked out Big Jim Sigman in one round; Oklahoma City, Okla., where John J. Erickson was knocked out in two rounds; New Orleans, where Farmer Lodge was knocked out; Minneapolis, where Sully Montgomery lasted two rounds, nor Jacksonville, Fla., where Frank Savita was knocked out.

Carnera was cleared by the Illinois state boxing commission of any wrong doing in connection with his quick knockout of Elzear Rioux but the latter was barred for life and fined $1,000.

The report called the attention of Mr. Isaacs to the fact that a number of Carnera's opponents have been furnished by Ray Alvis, manager of the new welterweight champion, Jack Thompson, and Jack Hurley of Chicago—"a circumstance, if true, which might be considered suspicious."

In recommending the suspensions General Clinnin wrote:

"A review of all the facts and circumstances in connection with the various matches of Primo Carnera and his opponents in the United States, leads to but one conclusion and that is: P. T. Barnum was correct in his observation that, 'the American public likes to be humbugged.'"

The recommendation, if adopted, would bar Carnera from appearing in any state affiliated with the N. B. A. and may prevent his next important engagement, a match with Myer (K. O.) Christner, of Akron, Ohio, scheduled for Detroit, May 31; under the direction of Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons.

The committee which investigated the goings and comings of the ambling Alp consisted of Major General John V. Clinnin, chairman of the Illinois state athletic commission; Walter Liginger, secretary of the Wisconsin state boxing commission, and Thomas Donohue of Hartford, Conn., former president of the N. B. A. The committee forwarded its recommendation of indefinite suspension to Stanley M. Isaacs, of Cincinnati, Ohio, president of the National Boxing association.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Breed Theatre

Miss Shearer's newest talking picture, "The Divorcee," will open Sunday at the Breed theatre. Robert Z. Leonard directed production, which was adapted from "Ex-Wife," by Ursula Parrott.

In the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film, Chester Morris plays opposite the star, the supporting cast including Robert Montgomery, Conrad Nagel, Zelda Sears, Florence Eldridge, Mary Doran, Helene Millard, Tyler Brooke and Helen Johnson.

Breed Theatre

Headed by Lewis Stone and Peggy Wood, famous New York stage star brought from New York for the picture, Clarence Brown assembled one of the most elaborate casts he has ever directed in the production of "Wonder of Women," his new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer drama, opening today at the Breed theatre, with dialogue and sound. The story, adapted from Hermann Sudermann's "The Wife of Stephen Tromholt," is a vivid story of Germany, and the life and romances of a famous composer. It is laid in the Germany of today.

The play, being laid in modern times, shows for the first time on the screen the new Reichswehr, or military police of the German republic. An entire German village was built as well as railway stations, an opera house, replicas of German trains and other authentic detail. The opera house settings are especially spectacular.

KRUSCHEN SALTS contain the 6 mineral salts your body organs, glands and nerves must have to function properly.

When your vital organs fail to perform their work correctly—your bowels and kidneys can't throw off that waste material—before you realize it—you're growing hideously fat!

Try one half teaspoonful of KRUSCHEN SALTS in a glass of hot water every morning—in 3 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—your eyes sparkle with glorious health—you feel younger in body—keener in mind. KRUSCHEN will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

Get an 85c bottle of KRUSCHEN SALTS from any leading druggist anywhere in America (lasts 4 weeks). If this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so gloriously energetic — vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.

HANOVER-CURLAND CO. A FAST GROWING BUSINESS

Hanover Curland Co., local music dealers, have faith in the progress of Norwich, and are adjusting their business to meet the transition taking place in the business world. The concern is aware that great changes are daily taking place in many industries and business enterprises as a result of great modern inventions. The members of the Hanover Curland Co., do not waste time bewailing the business transformations, but they are facing the future with courage and determination to carry on. They are introducing new lines of merchandise to supplant the items which have become obsolete owing to lack of public demand.

When the radio had brought about a new public taste in the line of musical instruments, Hanover Curland Co. immediately entered the radio field on a scale which made success an absolute certainty. They became agents for a number of the best radio manufacturers in the United States, and today the Hanover Curland Co. is known as one of the leading radio dealers in eastern Connecticut.

Three years ago Abraham Curland, vice president and treasurer of the company, being a most enthusiastic follower of the fishing sport, and quite an authority on fishing tackle and fishermen's supplies, decided to branch out into the fishing tackle business. From a humble beginning three years ago the Hanover Curland Co. fishing tackle department, under personal direction of A. Curland, has grown into a dignified business equalling, and even surpassing, any similar department in any other store in the state.

Last year the Kelvinator Refrigerating Co., leading manufacturers of all kinds of refrigerating machines, recognized that Hanover Curland Co. was the proper concern to represent the Kelvinator Refrigerating Co., in Norwich. In the short space of one year the Hanover Curland Co. have proven valuable Kelvinator representatives, with sales exceeding all expectations of the company.

At the end of 1929, the Maytag Washing Machine Co. contracted with the Hanover Curland Co. to be represented in Norwich. Again the concern proved that its organization is equally proficient in selling washing machines as it is successful in the other lines of merchandise which it is handling.

Besides the great demands of time the various departments make upon the officers of the Hanover Curland Co. they find time of taking a very active part in all civic and communal activties for the betterment of Norwich. The members of the firm are thoroughly sold on the principle that by helping the city of Norwich they are helping themselves.

The Hanover Curland Co. are enthusiastic in their endorsement of the activities of the Norwich chamber of commerce. The firm is an ardent believer in advertising, and is satisfied that the Norwich Radio Broadcast is a valuable and progressive step in the right direction.

NORWICH BROADCAST AT PLAUT-CADDEN'S STORE

The relaying by the Plaut-Cadden company of the Norwich radio program every Friday night in front of their store has proven so popular that this convenience will be offered again Friday night at 10 o'clock during the next five weeks.

Police Chief John J. Heaney and members of the police department of Braintree, Mass., who have been charged with graft, drunkeness and illegal disposition of seized liquor and apparatus, were exonerated at a meeting of District Attorney Winfield M. Wilbar and the selectmen.

A HISTORY OF CONNECTICUT INDUSTRY

Released by Manufacturers Association of Connecticut

The Seamless Rubber Co., New Haven

The Seamless Rubber company was founded in 1877, and was the first company to manufacture seamless rubber nipples.

The original factory was lighted by lanterns, and the day's production was trundled to the railroad station in a wheelbarrow.

From this humble start the company has expanded and grown until it is now the principal manufacturer in the country of high quality druggists rubber sundries. Now housed is a huge factory of the most modern type of construction and equipment, the company is turning out hot water bottles by the hundreds of thousands; bathing caps, football bladders by the million; industrial and surgical adhesive tape by the mile; and thousands upon thousands of such items as combs, playballs, swimming toys, surgical, industrial and household rubber gloves, bath sprays, and other items far too numerous to mention.

Fifteen hundred employes are given steady employment, and the products are recognized for their quality in every state in the Union, and in 54 foreign countries.

The present officers are: F. O. Williams, president; F. W. Dodge, vice president; W. C. Hutton, treasurer; H. W. Gordon, secretary; F. T. Lane, sales manager.

POETRY

Sealed Orders

I know not where I am to sail,
What port I'll make,
Or what for me it shall avail.
But this I know—the course I'll take
Until I reach the open sea
Of future life, eternity,
Where I may read my orders sealed
(When all to me will be revealed),
Shall guided be
By helpful, broad humanity.

Assured that in a general way
My orders sealed
Direct that I for every day
Show some good deed, some sorrow healed,
Some lessening of weariness,
Some lightening of dreariness,
Some uplift for my fellow man,
I now will do the best I can,
Nor wait to see
What orders sealed direct for me.

To act as though my orders lay
Before me here,
Unsealed, to smooth the troubled way
To sweeten life, to bring good cheer
Will be my effort. Nor will I ask
My Master to make light the task
Allotted me. Then without fear,
The sailing orders that I bear
May opened be
Whene'er I reach that boundless sea;
Eternity.

—E. W. Ivins, in New York Sun.

The Wail Of The Sleepless

Honk, honk, honk.
As you speed along through the night!
And I would you could hear me utter
My curses upon your flight

O woe to the hastening car
As it scatters its stench on the breeze!
O woe to the chauffeur lad
As he opens his cut-out and flees!

And the rushing cars go on
To the road-house up on the hill;
But O for a bed on a desert isle,
And a single night that is still!

Honk, honk, honk.
With your cargo of speed-mad men!
But the peaceful sleep of the nights that are past
Will never come back again.

—By Margaret K. Moore

HUMOR OF THE DAY

"Do you believe that insanity is an excuse for divorce?"

"I don't know, but I am sure it is an excuse for marriage."—The Pathfinder.

Benham—As soon as I put my umbrella up the wind wrecked it.

Mrs. Benham—I suppose that will add to what you call your "over head expenses."—Detroit News.

Stranger—Who is that man whom everybody is greeting?

Native—Oh, everybody knows him. He is our local member of the secret police.—Die Muskete.

Suburban Rabbit—Man, don't you notice the difference in the air out here? It's—its—Prospect—Yes, all the natives seem to have it. I'd call it worried.—Brookline Eagle.

Judge—You stole eggs from this man's shop? Have you any excuse?

Accused—Yes, I took them by mistake.

Judge—How is that?

Accused—I thought they were fresh.—Lustige Blaetter.

Hiram—May I have the lantern to go see my girl?

Farmer—To go see your girl? Why, I didn't use no lantern when I went a-courting.

Hiram—Well, look what you got.—The Owl.

Two Irishmen, watching Shriners' parade:

"Who are those fellows, Mike?"

"They're Shriners."

"And what are Shriners?"

"Why, they're Masons."

"Sure and what the devil are they paradin' for now? They're getting $18 a day."—Exchange.

"You're so good at conundrums—try this."

"Sure, go ahead."

"Take away my first letter, take away my second letter, take away all my letters, and I am still the same. What am I?"

"That's easy. You're a mail carrier!"—Arcanum Bulletin.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Brook trout eggs from Pennsylvania streams supply many California hatcheries.

A combination fountain pen and radio receiver is the invention of a Manila university student.

Due to market conditions, approximately 7,000,000 muskrat skins are in storage in the Yukon district.

Animal mummies were sometimes placed in royal Egyptian tombs with the idea of providing food for the king in the spirit world.

The "lazy" growing boy may be really exhausted from the physical demands of just growing, says a specialist in child development.

When Japanese warriors wore armor, the helmets were often lined with red lacquer, because the reflection would be weird and alarming to the foe.

The dead letter division of the postoffice in Washington has an arsenal all its own. Many weapons are received in mail that has gone astray. One loaded revolver was cocked, arranged to explode as the box was opened.

In two cases the Austrian supreme court has refused appeals against the ruling of the Austrian ministry of commerce that a one-eyed man can not obtain a driver's license, no matter how well he can see with his good eye or how well he can handle an automobile.

Between 1,000 and 5,000 rural school children will sing at the Iowa state fair next summer in a state-wide rural choir. Every rural school child in grades 4 to 8 is eligible to try for the choir. He must pass tests in music and rhythm. C. A. Fullerton, head of the music department of Iowa State Teachers' college, will direct the choir.

Repeated storms in recent years have little by little eaten away the coastline of the island of Helgoland and given rise to the fear that eventually the whole island will disappear. A severe storm this winter resulted in a considerable piece of the island slipping into the North sea, taking with it three houses, a water reservoir and two storage sheds.

The words "thank you" have a dual meaning in London. Workers carrying desks into the pressroom at St. James palace encountered much difficulty in getting American reporters to move out of their way when they said "thank you" with emphasis on the first word. It is the British workers' way of saying "gangway" or "one side please." Salespeople place the emphasis on the last word when receiving cash.

John L. Clifton, Ohio director of education, will soon propose to Ohio schools and colleges a program of educational guidance, designed to remedy some of the defects of the present educational system. Clifton decided upon the need for such a program when a survey he conducted revealed that 20 per cent. of the freshmen in Ohio colleges are failing, and that only 7 per cent. of the children who enter the first grade enter college.

A former horseshoer now living in St. Paul, Minn., says Frank and Jesse James always wanted the shoes put on their horses backward. For many years he worked in a Kansas City blacksmith shop. In those days the James brothers were conducting regular bank robbery expeditions throughout Missouri and other midwest states. "You see," he confided, "the sheriffs and vigilante posses never were able to catch up with the James boys. Their horses' trails always led to where they had been, not where they were going.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

A Twenty-Four Day European Vacation

Many people in the past have been deterred from considering a European vacation on account of the presumed heavy cost.

With the creation of the comfortable tourist cabin accommodations on the large ocean liners, the cost of a vacation in Europe now compares very favorably with a holiday in America.

For $295 Thomas Cook and Son of 167 Tremont street, Boston, are able to provide tourist cabin accommodation on the large fast liners that cross the Atlantic and a visit to London, Paris and Brussels, with all the necessary sightseeing. The only additional expenses would be the cost of the passport and visas amounting to about $20, and tips on steamers which are not expensive. See advertisement.

Broadway Theatre

To every crook at some time or other comes the determination to "go straight," but few have the nerve to go through with it, as did French Gertie, even to the extent of shooting up her boy friend in a cleverly conceived plot in "Alias French Gertie," portrayed by exotic Bebe Daniels and Ben Lyon in the double feature program now playing at the cool Broadway. Each a clever jewel thief, but unknown to one another, their paths cross as the boy attempts to burglarize the wall safe where the girl is working. She catches him red-handed, and after a series of exciting adventures, finds that Cupid is interfering with her "work." Action is fast and furious as the girl carries out her plans to reform the newly-released convict, and with the aid of Robert Emmett O'Connor, who brings a brand new type of detective to the screen, develops a climax that will race your blood. Another famous woman star is heard in her first all-talking production, "A Lady to Love," in which lovely Vilma Banky displays her new-found screen voice, which will be found nearly as thrilling as were the vibrant tones of Greta Garbo. She tells a fascinating story of a demure little Frisco waitress, lured into a mail order marriage by a wealthy Italian planter, who hides his age and identity with the photo of his husky young Irish foreman. Arrival at the vineyards disillusions the girl, who however, becomes fascinated with the country scenery, which reminds her of home, and she goes through with the loveless marriage. Fox Movietone news completes the bill.

JEWETT CITY

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO CONFER SECOND DEGREE

Tonight (Thursday) the local council of Knights of Columbus will confer the second degree on a class of eighteen candidates. Sunday, the third degree will be conferred on these same candidates. Visiting officers and members are expected in large numbers from nearby councils.

Notwithstanding the fact that the spring rainfall in this section is considerably below normal, the water in Jewett City reservoir at Stone hill was one and one-half inches above full pond Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Elmer Tarbox is a patient in a private hospital in New London where she is to undergo a major operation.

Arrangements are being made for weekly concerts at the Ashland Park casino this summer by Polly and her Pals 8-piece orchestra, with piano-accordion. Last season this organization conducted a series of concerts and dances that met with popular favor, all through the summer. Clinton C. Ellison, the manager, promises a set of delightful programs, with everything to please.

Trees and shrubbery all through this section are advanced in foliage to a stage that is not generally seen until the first of June.

With the beginning of the new mail carrying contract, the last mail will close at 6:45 with the office closing at seven.

Spring planting is being done with the fields very dry. Men and teams harrowing plowed ground are enveloped in clouds of dust.

A year ago at this time there came a killing frost with reports of the loss of hundreds of tomato plants.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Royle and family spent the week-end at Groton Long Point.

Mrs. John Kingsley entertained the Jolly Eight Monday evening. Whist was played and prizes were won by Mrs. Everett Babcock and Mrs. Henry Fontaine. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Arthur Wilson has been a visitor with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Airey, of Taftville.

Mrs. Arthur Moffett and friends from Providence were callers in town Sunday.

Miss Mary Burke, of Unionville, was a recent visitor with Miss Nellie Doyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Laramie spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Smith, at Taftville.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Palestine Workers' Benefit

Bernard Zuckerman, the famous Poale Zion leader, is to be the speaker, and Cantor J. Mann, is to be the guest artist for a mass meeting and concert for the benefit of the Jewish pioneers in Palestine. Cantor Mann will be accompanied on the piano by Miss Augusta Bruckner of this city. The meeting is under the auspices of Workmen's circle, branch [illegible] with the following committee in charge: A. Goldblatt, M. Herman, A. Levelewitz, A. Kreivitz, Mrs. A. Seder and Mrs. M. Herman.

Palace Theatre

A double-feature bill which is full of life and pep is the program for today and tomorrow at the Palace theatre. "Dumbells in Ermine" with Robert Armstrong and Barbara Kent as the leads and "Hello Sister" starring Olive Borden and Lloyd Hughes are pictures which comprise the offering.

Robert Armstrong and Barbara Kent play together for the first time in "Dumbells in Ermine." Armstrong is a likeable young pugilist who, as might be expected, falls madly in love with Barbara Kent, one of the captivating daughters of a Virginia "First Family." The girl's mother sternly objects to the prize fighter, though the foxy grandma and the amourous uncle do their best to help the youngsters.

A middle-aged uplifter of the mother's choice temporarily parts the lovers. Then there is an uproariously shocking exposure of the reformer and a surprising finish.

Beryl Mercer is the grandmother, Claude Gillingwater the uncle and James Gleason as the fighter's trainer is superb.

"Hello Sister" is the kind of a picture that makes the old folks want to turn back the hands of time. It opens right up with a wild house-party, jumps to a spiffy country-club and takes in everything from roadhouses to church bazaars. It is the story of a modern society girl who likes plenty of fun. By the terms of her grandfather's will she must refrain from doing all the things which are a part of her life in order to get a fortune which will be hers at the end of six months if she adheres to the stipulations of the will. How she almost makes the grade but on the last night flings the fortune to the winds to hear a man say, "I love you," is one of the most entertaining stories in screen history.

"Hello Sister" is the screen version of the Delineator story, "Clipped Wings" written by Reita Lambert. No one should miss this exceptionally fine double-feature bill which is full of laughs and at the same time has many dramatic and exciting moments.

AVIATION NEEDS SURVEYED FOR PHILADELPHIA REGION

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—A "greater air region," with Philadelphia at its hub, is the vision of the regional planning federation that is studying the needs of a 4,000-square-mile district in Delaware, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey.

The aviation committe of the federation, in completing a survey of airway needs in the region, concluded that many of theairports are inadequate to care for anticipated demands of air-borne commerce.

Six major airways are recommeneed as necessary to serve the district radiating from Philadelphia and Camden to New Yory and Boston, Atlantic City, Norfolk and points south: Washington and Atlanta, Pittsburgh and points west, and Syracuse and Buffalo.

GUIDANCE FOR BUILDERS OF AIRPORTS IS PLANNED

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A committee charged with formulating a report for general guidance of airport builders on engineering design problems has been set up by the American Engineering council.

The body, composed of six men, will confer with the aeronautics branch of the department of commerec to develop a plan for issuing the report cooperatively.

Its members are Prof. Ralph J. Fogg, Lehigh university; Perry A. Fellows, Detroit city engineer; W. W. Horner, St. Louis engineer; Dr. Harrison E. Howe, Washinton; Dr. Alexander Klemin, New York university; and H. G. Shirley, commissioner of highways, Richmond, Va.

CANAL TIGHT SQUEEZE FOR PLANE CARRIER

NORFOLK, Va.—(AP)—Scars of its voyage through the Panama canal for the fleet maneuvers in Cuban waters are carried by the aircraft carrier Lexington.

With a breadth of 106 feet, the floating landing field had a two-foot clearance on each side from the walls of the canal locks.

Light poles along portions of the canal were mowed down like match sticks by the wide flying deck.

The Visiting Nurse association of Mystic, Conn. Inc. has elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Julia B. Coates; 1st vice president, Mrs. Charles E. Wheeler; second Miss Joanna W. Burnet; secretary and treasurer, John B. Grinnell; directors for three years, John Rossie, Mrs. Samuel Z. Cheesbro, Mrs. Mason Manning. The following reports were submitted at the annual meeting:

Secretary and Treasurer

I am happy to state that this association is still on its job, helping to alleviate pain and to scatter sunshine in sick and lonely families.

It has been a very hard year to many in this section. This association has done much in helping distressed families. Through the generosity of many in this section in furnishing money, food, clothing, Christmas toys, candy and $100 from the Red Cross, our nurse has been a good Samaritan to many. Coming in contact with many families with scanty clothing and a lack of even necesary comforts, she has most judiciously made use of the funds placed in her hands, using them in the best way possible to accomplish the best results, and at the same time keeping a strict account of every penny spent. In combining this special service with the regular duties, our nurses cannot be too highly praised. At the same time this community is to be congratulated in having such an association as this to do such humanitarian work.

Our regular nurse has given up nursing temporarily but in a few months she will be with us again. I have no doubt she will receive a royal welcome from all.

Fortunately Mrs. Hilda A. Ralph was able to come to our rescue and is now performing the duties of the nurse. Mrs. Ralph was some time ago one of our regular nurses and is will acquainted with many patients she meets. At the same time she is thoroughly acquainted with the work this association is trying to do.

Through the hard work of our canvassing committee, Messrs. Rossie and Leonard, our membership canvass was a success, increasing the membership.

As a result we had but one function during the year for raising money and that was the daffodil tea given April 4th. Again the elements gave us a beautiful day. On account of illness, Mrs. Wheeler could not have the tea at her home as she has generally had. Mrs. Bucklyn very kindly opened up her beautiful home which proved an ideal place. A renovation was the substituting of waffles and coffee, for tea and cake. The tea was as usual both a financial and social success, netting the association $200.

The sale of Christmas seals was very gratifying, amounting to $548.32. During the last year we have supplied three tubercular families with fresh milk. You will see that we are using the fund in every way we can to eliminate the sufferings of the families afflicted with this terrible disease and will do so in the future when we find any family suffering from this trouble and needing help.

The letter asking for your membership dues for another year will soon be with you. Be sure to put your dues at once in the addressed envelope and drop same in the post office. You will notice from the treasury report that there is very little money in the cash box and June 1st the nurse's salary and bills will come due. Don't let any one drop out of the class in which his or her name is registered unless to go up in a higher class.

In conclusion I congratulate the community in having such a noble and worthy association as this and wish it God speed in its glorious work.

JOHN B. GRINNELL,
Secretary and Treasurer.

Sour Stomach?

Will never give you any more trouble if you take a tablespoonful of Tanlac before each meal and bedtime.

You'll be amazed at the way Tanlac ends sourness and distress by preventing formation of gases and acids. It must help or you get your money back.

Pride—still impels the achievement of the Best

"Copper Fastened"

"SEE that schooner laying over yonder?" said an old shipbuilder beaming with pride. "Well, sir, the man I built her for was going to be satisfied to have her fastened with iron. 'No, sir,' said I. 'If I build her she's going to be doweled and copper fastened.' 'What's it to you? It's my vessel,' said he. 'What's it to me? It's my self-respect; it's my pride in my trade,' said I. 'It's my reputation for building only the best that can be built.'"

Conscientious pride in the achievement of the best still lives. It is the spirit upon which in 1874 at Manchester, New Hampshire, Roger G. Sullivan laid the foundation of 7-20-4—now the largest strictly hand-made cigar industry in the World. It is the same spirit that today—after fifty-six years of public confidence—refuses to lower its standard of workmanship and tobaccos at the sacrifice of the finest cigar Quality.

BULLS PUSHED UTILITIES AND RAILS TO THE FRONT IN MARKET YESTERDAY

NEW YORK, May 14—(AP)—The bulls nailed their colors to the utilities and rails today and marched quietly through a stock market session that offered comparatively minor obstacles to progress toward higher ground.

There was little or no effort to over-extend the gains, however, and speculators for the rise were satisfied with one to three point mark-ups in the leading shares. Volume of trading expanded considerably over yesterday's exceeding 3,000,000 shares, but the public's participation in the market remained negligible.

The price structure appeared substantially firmer, but some of the foundation stones on which any market must rest displayed signs of further sagging. Steel trade reviews pointed to price weakness, intermittent specifications, fluctuating mill operations and dull buying. Iron Age called attention to slight gains in automobile releases, in fabricated structural steel awards, in demand for pipe and in large construction projects, but also reminded that railroad equipment orders were light, that tinplate output had declined to a 75 per cent rate and that production of farm implements was showing signs of tapering. Iron Trade Review reported that prices on steel plates and shapes in the Pittsburgh district were the lowest since 1915.

Grain quotations again declined, wheat dipping from 1-2 to 7-8 of a cent and corn closing steady to 3-5 lower. Cotton was off 17 to 25 points at the finish. Sugar and coffee were fairly steady.

A small increase in car loadings and a petroleum production statement showing virtually no change were favorably regarded, while a cut in short-term time money reflected the current easiness of the credit position. The market for investment bonds was firm but dull.

Rail stocks, pushed to the front during the early trading, responded smartly, but the move was taken more as an indication of the general dullness of the list than of especially favorable news concerning the carriers, whose April earnings statements are expected soon. The rally ran itself out by mid-afternoon, but numerous stocks in the group, including Southern Railway, Erie, Atchison, Missouri Pacific and Canadian Pacific made net gains of 2 to 3. Texas Pacific rose 6.

Operations in the utilities met with about the same success. The current cheapness of money, it was pointed out, is favorable to the expansion plans of the light and power companies; and there were also revived reports of merger negotiations, especially in the eastern natural gas territory. Advances of 2 to 3 points were made by such stocks as Public Service of New Jersey, Standard Gas, Consolidated Gas, Pacific Lighting, Pacific Gas, American Water Works, American & Foreign Power, Southern California Edison, and North American. United Corporation also was in demand. Communication stocks, especially American Telephone and Western Union, responded with fair gains. Columbia Gas & Electric was an exception to the general trend, selling off 1 1-3 net on profit-taking from yesterday's advance.

Steel stocks disregarded the news from their industry. Vanadium was marked up 10 points. Michigan Steel forged ahead to a new high, but reacted, while Midland Steel Products, Republic and Gulf States and Ludlum rallied two to four. United States Steel sold as high as 175 3-8, about ten points above its year's low established last week and closed at 174 3-4, up 1 1-8.

Points of weakness included the American Tobacco issues, off about 8 points each on realizing. The coppers were heavy on lighter purchases of the metal, although the president of Cerro de Pasco said some companies were refusing to sell all that could be disposed of at current prices.

International Salt dropped 16 points on early profit taking but closed only 4 1-2 points lower.

Most of the leading foreign currencies were firm. The rate on Spain hardened, but the Dutch guilder eased.

WALL STREET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, May 14—(AP)—Directors of the American Smelting & Refining Co., at a special meeting today authorized the sale of $20,000,000 6 per cent second preferred stock now in the treasury at not less than $100 a share. The stock is callable at $105. Proceeds from the sale will be used for acquisition of new properties, mines, expansion of business and other corporate uses. Public offering of the stock is expected soon.

Out of a total issue of $219,000,000 convertible 4 1-2 per cent bonds, the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., reports that $145,900,000 has been surrendered for conversion. Much of the remaining one-third of the issue is expected to be turned in prior to May 23, the final date on which stock of record carries warrants.

Rights for additional common stock at $2.50 a share, in the ratio of one new share for every five shares held are to be given stockholders of the Midland United Co. The rights will expire June 24.

Kyucho Hijikata, governor of the Bank of Japan and Baron Takuma Dan, managing director of the Mitsui interests, will address the national foreign trade convention at Los Angeles May 21 in a talking motion picture taken for the occasion in March. William R. Castle, American ambassador to Japan, appears in the picture and introduces the Japanese leaders, both of whom speak in English.

Stockholders of the Skelly Oil Co. have voted to amend the company's charter to permit the issuance of $12,000,000 6 per cent preferred stock. Directors confirmed the action and authorized application for listing the new stock on the New York Stock exchange.

COTTON

NEW YORK, May 14—(AP)—Cotton futures closed barely steady, 17 to 25 points lower. Spot quiet; middling 16.21.

THE CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, May 14—(AP)—The curb market again worked moderately higher in quiet trading today, as speculation for the rise was concentrated in the electric power and natural gas issues, and some of the specialties. Total sales, at 808,700 shares, were substantially larger than yesterday's turnover of 675,200, but still considerably below normal.

Wall street has been buzzing with rumors of natural gas developments and power mergers of late, and the utility shares have rebounded rapidly from the low levels of 10 days ago. There is a feeling in some quarters that several utility mergers will be rushed to completion before the next session of congress, when serious attempts to bring utility companies under more rigid control are expected.

Electric Bond and Share rose about 3 points to 106, a new high for the movement, and such issues as American Gas and Electric, American Light and Traction, North American Power and Light, United Light A, and American Superpower, rose 1 to 3 points. In the natural gas group, Missouri Kansas Pipe Line, United Gas, Memphis Natural Gas, and Southwest Gas Utilities were in good demand.

Among the industrials and specialties, Cooper Bessemer, Lily Tulip Cup, and Electrographic rose 2 points or more to new high ground. Neet, Inc., A continued to reflect favorable earnings and merger reports. Aviation stocks encountered some profit taking, but Irving Air Chute was a firm spot. The company now has sufficient orders to keep its plants busy for the remainder of the year. Deere new stock slipped back 2 points, and Van Camp Packing, which shot up more than 6 points yesterday, attracted large scale realizing and closed off 4 1-2.

Oil shares turned rather sluggish. A feature was McColl Frontenac, a Canadian refining and distributing company. The stock rose 5 points to 27 1-2, equalling its best figure of the year. It has been comparatively inactive since it was first admitted to trading on this market in January. Gulf rose a couple of points, and Cities Service rose fractionally.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, May 14—(AP)—Notwithstanding announcement that world's available supplies of wheat have decreased 13,397,000 bushels in the last week, wheat values today showed a general downward trend. Low-priced offerings of Canadian wheat abroad, together with considerable selling here on the part of eastern holders of future delivery contracts were largely responsible. Another notable bearish influence was uncertainty prevalent as to what extent government sponsored agencies would support prices for new crop deliveries.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled 3-8-1 1-8c a bushel below yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to 3-4-7-8c down, oats 1-8-3-8c off, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 5c.

Throughout the day, wheat traders here kept an uneasy eye on Winnipeg dispatches, assertions being current that the Canadian growers' pool was selling wheat for export at flat prices which competitors were unable to meet. New York messages were also circulated saying that export business appeared to be almost nil, and it was not until dealings for the day here were about over that any special improvement was generally known. Late estimates, however, put the total purchases from Canada and the United States today for overseas at 700,000 to 800,000 bushels. Meanwhile, Oklahoma reports indicated better crop prospects for that state, with a promise now of an Oklahoma yield of 40,000,000 bushels.

On the other hand, about the only stimulus today for friends of higher prices on wheat came from reports by a leading crop expert that there is immediate need of rain in some parts of Kansas, especially Morton and Stevens counties, where the outlook at present was given as less than five bushels an acre. The same authority also asserted that more rain is generally required in ten days or two weeks, and a great deal during the next three or four weeks. From other sources, too, reports were at hand that in at least some parts of Kansas, cool favorable weather has not brought about the crop improvement which could ordinarily be expected, and that many growers are now looking for much below normal yields, a majority of samples showing an average of two-inch heads that will not lengthen.

Corn and oats went lower with wheat. Canadian points advised that Argentine corn is being offered at much below a parity with corn from the United States.

Provisions held relatively steady owing to an upward trend of hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—July 1.02 1-4-3-8. 1.03 7-8-1.04; Sept. 1.06 1-8, 1.06 3-4-7-8; Dec. 1.09 5-8, 1.11 1-8. Corn—July 78 -4-7-8, 80; Sept. 79 7-8-80, 80 7-8-81; Dec. 74 3-8-1-2, 75 3-8-1-2.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, May 14—(AP)—Stock privilege issues felt the buoyant effects of a rising stock market today and stole the spotlight from investment issues.

The demand for convertibles was the heaviest in some time. American Telephone 4 1-2s led the movement, both in volume and advance, finishing 2 1-2 points higher. Share feature rails participated in the rise. In contrast to the accelerated movement of convertibles was the rather quiet trading in investment issues which moved with some uncertainty in the absence of extensive support. Buying was on a broadened scale, however, with continued favorable conditions in the money market and the trend was unchanged. The large turnover in convertible issues helped expand the volume to the highest point of the week although the day's sales were still below normal.

The turnover in American Telephone 4 1-2s was extensive in view of the rapidity with which the bonds have been surrendered for conversion. The corporation announced today that only one-third of the total issue of $219,-000,000 remained outstanding. Philadelphia Coal and Iron 6s equalled the year's high but sagged slightly to gain one point net.

The bond has shown strength in the past few weeks. The company has embarked upon an extensive improvement program involving several millions and is expected to strengthen the earnings of the stock for which the bonds are exchangeable, the conversion privilege extends to March 1, 1939.

Foreign issues were firm and the widest interest centered in Japanese bonds and South American governments. Japan 6 1-2s and the new 5 1-2s gained fractionally. Brazil 6 1-2s moved up a point or more, and Chilean and Argentine bonds tended upward. European governments were steady and quiet, with French 7 1-2s the most active and higher.

The heavy movement in rail convertibles detracted from the legal issues and they moved narrowly, with many turning fractionally downward. Rock Island 4s, Baltimore and Ohio Ref. 5s, Chesapeake and Ohio 4 1-2s, Erie 5s and Missouri Pacific 5s yielded some ground. Southern Pacific 4 1-2s with warrants, Erie general 4s, and Pennsylvania 4 1-2s were steady.

In the amusement group, Loews warrants 6s established a new 1930 high at 130, up 3 points. The demand for United States governments was small. Most issues made small advances.

New offerings tomorrow include a $20,000,000 issue of Great Northern Railway 4 general mortgage 4 1-2s at 97. They are due in 1977.

PLANES SPEED TRANSPORT IN FAR CORNERS OF ASIA

TOKYO—(AP)—Airplanes are taking modern speedy transportation to the far corners of Asia.

Two air lines now link Siberia and Russian Saghalien, covering in six or seven hours what formerly was a four-day steamer journey.

The planes fly twice a week from Habarovsk, business center of eastern Siberia, to Alexandrovsk, principle city of Russian Saghalien, by way of Nikolaievsk at the mouth of the Amur river, and from Habarovsk also to the oil fields in the valley of the Okha river, near the Russo-Japanese border dividing the island.

Tires are SO cheap now

TIRE prices today are at the lowest point in the history of the rubber business.

The difference in price between the best standard tire and one that you can't be sure of, is, if anything, hardly enough to count.

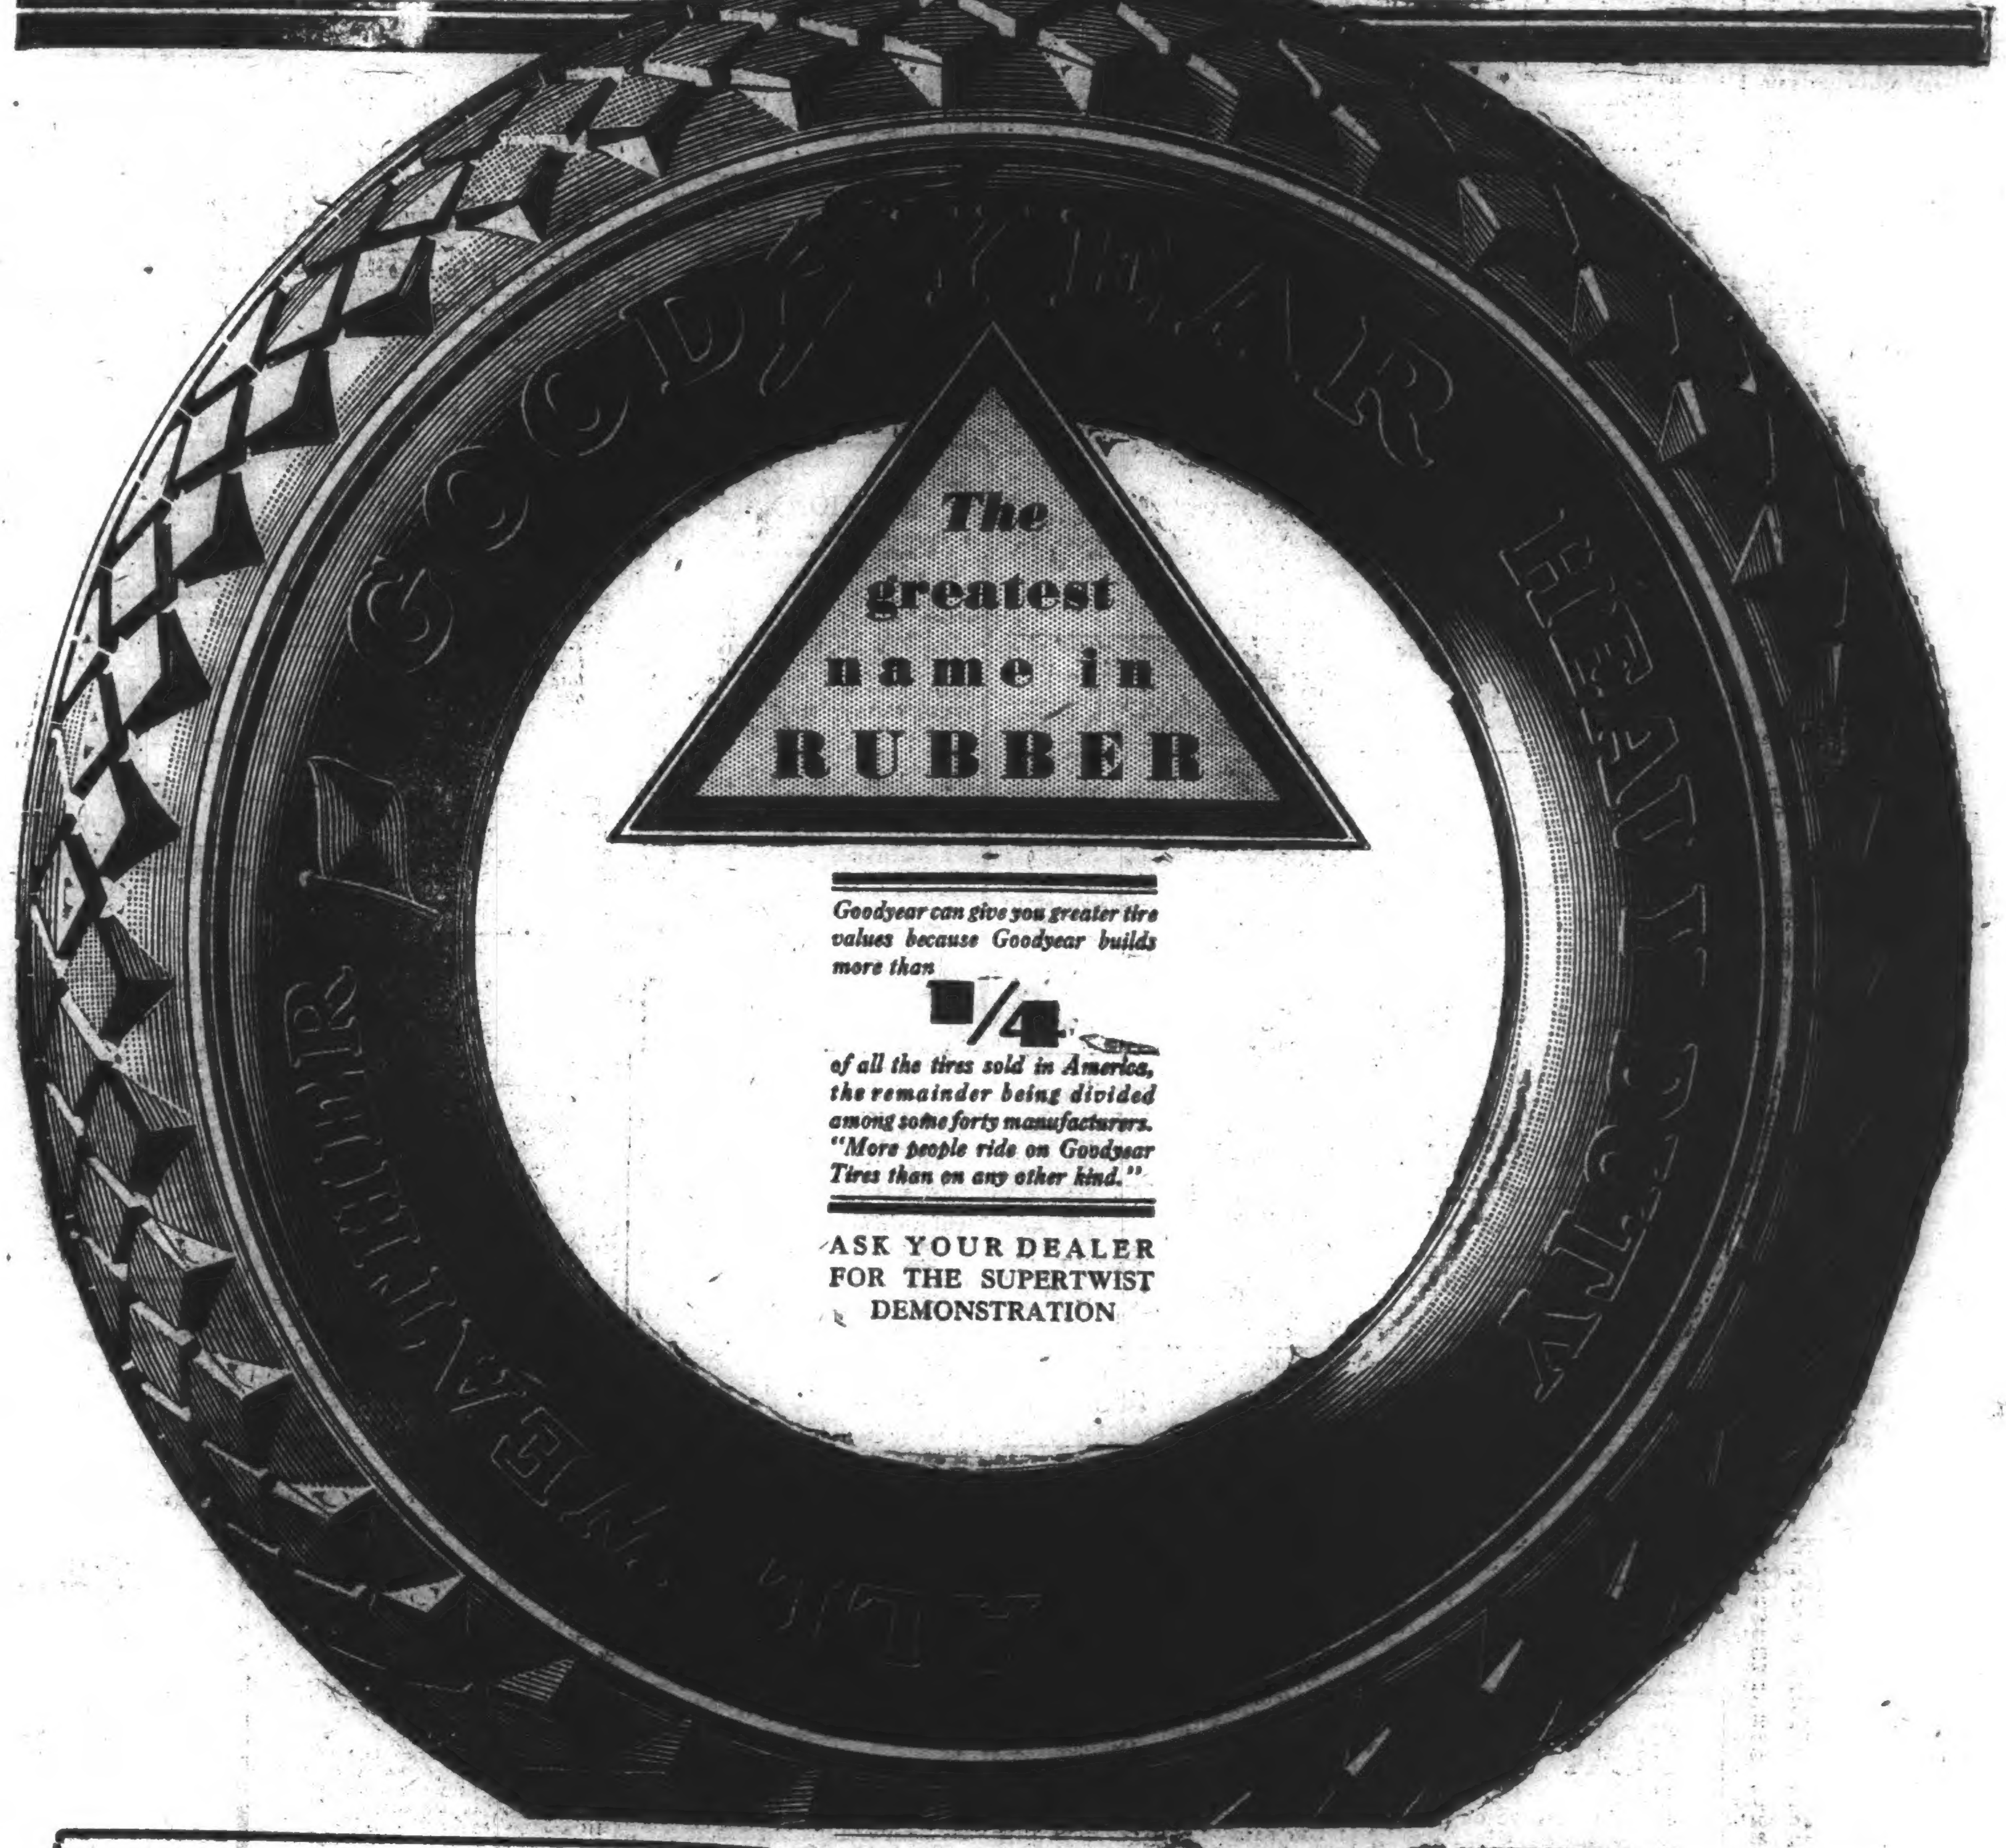
That removes the last excuse a sensible man can have for not buying as excellent a tire as the Goodyear All-Weather Tread Balloon.

It is the standard of quality of the world; it outsells any other tire in the world; it is the basis of the eloquent fact that "more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind!"

why not have the BEST

You want the biggest possible money's worth in safety, traction, dependability and mileage when you buy a tire—you can get it now at no premium in the standard Goodyear All-Weather.

Your size is waiting for you at a price you can afford to pay—no farther away than the nearest Goodyear Dealer!



Goodyear can give you greater tire values because Goodyear builds more than 1/4

of all the tires sold in America, the remainder being divided among some forty manufacturers. "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

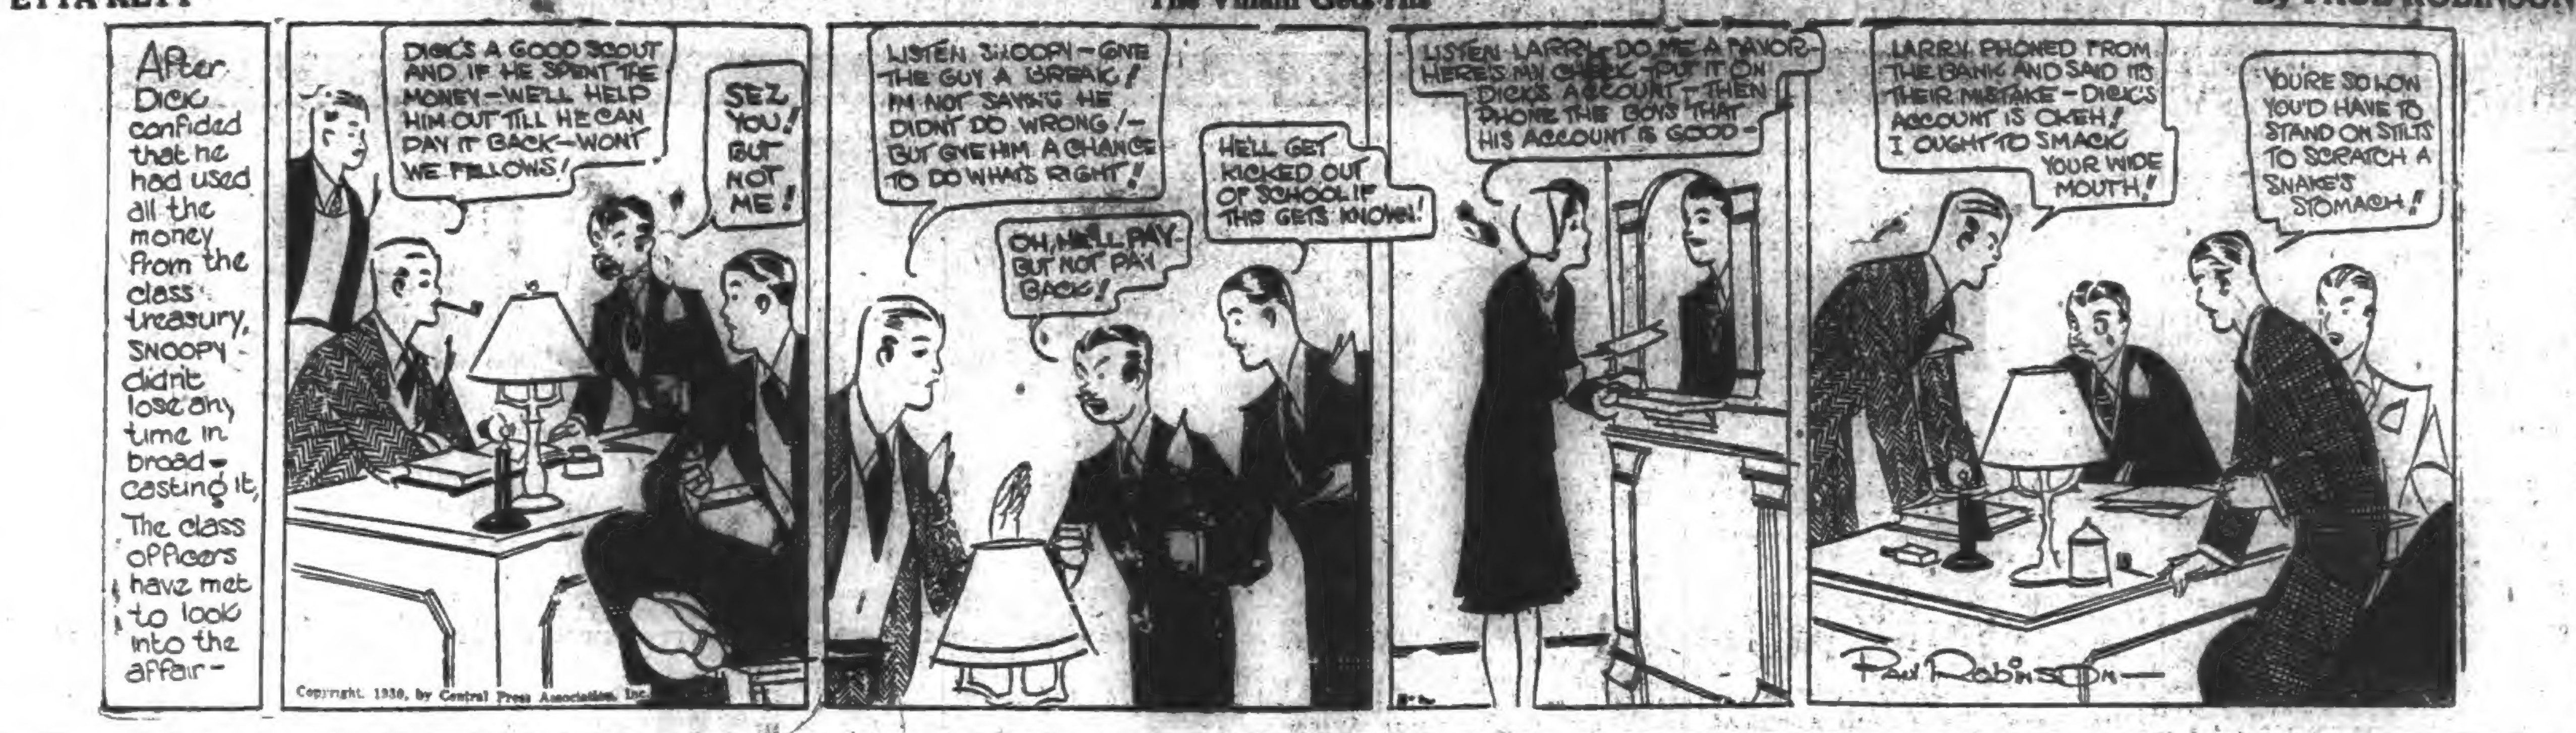
The Villain Gets His

—By PAUL ROBINSON



After Dick confided that he had used all the money from the class treasury, Snoopy didn't lose any time in broadcasting it. The class officers have met to look into the affair—
DICK'S A GOOD SCOUT AND IF HE SPENT THE MONEY—WE'LL HELP HIM OUT TILL HE CAN PAY IT BACK—WON'T WE FELLOWS!
SEZ YOU! BUT NOT ME!
LISTEN SNOOPY—GIVE THE GUY A BREAK! I'M NOT SAYING HE DIDN'T DO WRONG!—BUT GIVE HIM A CHANCE TO DO WHAT'S RIGHT!
HE'LL GET KICKED OUT OF SCHOOL IF THIS GETS KNOWN!
OH, HE'LL PAY BUT NOT PAY BACK!
LISTEN LARRY—DO ME A FAVOR—HERE'S MY CHECK—PUT IT ON DICK'S ACCOUNT—THEN PHONE THE BOYS THAT HIS ACCOUNT IS GOOD—
LARRY PHONED FROM THE BANK AND SAID IT'S THEIR MISTAKE—DICK'S ACCOUNT IS OKEH! I OUGHT TO SMACK YOUR WIDE MOUTH!
YOU'RE SO LOW YOU'D HAVE TO STAND ON STILTS TO SCRATCH A SNAKE'S STOMACH!

INSURANCE

All Good Automobile Insurance Is Not the Same—

If you have that idea, it's costing you money.

Here are the things that well informed car owners now demand when they insure their cars:

1. Complete protection.
2. Prompt, capable service when needed, not only at home but anywhere in this country and Canada.
3. A share in the welfare of their company—a return of whatever part of their premium is warranted at the end of the year.

If you are not getting these things, you owe it to yourself to find out more about automobile insurance written in the American Motorist's Insurance Company.

American motorist's policyholders have always received a substantial dividend saving on each year's automobile insurance premium. Phone Norwich, 3636 NOW and secure further details.

FOUR MOTORISTS FROM NORWICH ORDERED INTO COURT AT NEW LONDON

(Special to The Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, May 14—Another array of automobile drivers is ordered to appear in the police court tomorrow, most of the autoists being charged with violation of the state motor vehicle laws. Reginald Atchison, 496 North Main street, Norwich, is charged with driving without a license. Atchison, who was arrested by State Motor Vehicle Inspector Howlett and Automobile Patrol Officer Elwood Bailey had no license, nor has he ever applied for the privilege to drive.

Lester Burnett, 26 Eighth street, Norwich, is charged with driving with defective brakes. He also was arrested by Inspector Howlett and Automobile Patrol Officer Bailey.

Peter Bogas, 153 Franklin street, Norwich, is charged with overtime parking on Douglass street. Bogas parked his truck on the street for three hours and was arrested by Patrolman Timothy Sullivan.

Cyril Merriman, 158 West Thames street, Norwich, is charged with parking overtime on Meridian street.

Edgar Thibeault, 40 Latham street, Groton, is charged with overloading his truck 1060 pounds. He was arrested by State Police Officer Fred Wininger.

Leroy W. James, submarine base, is charged with the illegal use of markers and driving without a license. He was arrested by State Police Officer Arthur Kathe.

Joseph Johnson, 244 Abbot street, Waterbury, is charged with overloading his truck 1380 pounds, the illegal use of markers and operating an unregistered truck. Johnson was arrested by State Police Officer Wininger.

Meyer M. Goldstein, Fitchville, is charged with driving without a license. He was arrested by Inspector Howlett and Automobile Patrol Officer Bailey.

Jacob Schliefer, Preston, is charged with driving with defective brakes. He was arrested by Inspector Howlett and Automobile Patrol Officer Bailey.

Clifford N. Zepp, 251 Williams street, has a charge against him of parking overtime on North Bank street.

Angelo Almeida, 687 Main street, is charged with overloading his truck 1160 pounds. Almeida was arrested by State Police Officer Wininger.

Friday a new contractor will carry the mail for the post offices between New London and Putnam as the former contract will expire on the 15th inst. The New England Transportation company has had the contract to carry the mail from New London to Worcester and the O'Leary bus line has another contract to transport the mail from Worcester to New London. Both contracts are expiring and the new contract will be for carriage between New London and Putnam, both directions, while service between Worcester and Putnam will be handled from Worcester. The new contractor for the New London end is Adam Rojeski, of Jewett City, who has purchased new equipment to handle the work. The new contract calls for the transporting of parcel post on the afternoon trip, a feature that should be appreciated by residents of the various places served. The north trips will leave New London at 3:45 a. m., and 1:30 p. m., standard time.

SPICER PLACE, GROTON, FOR STATE POLICE BARRACKS

It is anticipated that the state police department will acquire the J. O. Spicer property, corner of Thames and Bridge streets, Groton, within a few days. The lease of the Groton barracks has expired and it is known that new barracks are desired. The Bulletin several weeks ago told of state police officials inspecting the Spicer premises. It is now understood that the purchase price has been agreed upon and that the deed transferring title from Spicer to the state is in process of preparation.

There was no session of the police court today, not an arrest having been made over night.

John Edgerton, of Mystic; Miss Marjorie Percival, 22 Shaw street; Robert Wood, Connecticut College for Women; Floyd Tweedy, 28 Pearl street; Mrs. Ernest Fakourey and infant son, 22 Gorton street; Mrs. Harry White and infant daughter, 78 Belden street, patients at Lawrence-Memorial hospital, were discharged today.

Resignation Accepted

Supernumerary Patrolman Edward Skoczylas, one of the youngest members of the police department, tendered his resignation to Captain Charles A. Pinney this forenoon. The resignation of the officer, which came as a surprise to the other members of the department, was handed to City Manager William A. Holt and that official promptly accepted it. The reason for Skoczylas resigning, it was said, is because he has better paying work in view. Skoczylas has been a member of the department about 15 months and during that time had been assigned to regular duty.

A false alarm of fire was rung in from Box 52, Pequot avenue, last midnight. Four pieces of apparatus responded and when the firemen arrived at the location of the box it was ascertained that there was no fire. It is believed that a passing autoist observed clouds of smoke issuing from the city's dumping grounds adjacent to Riverview avenue and, believing a building was ablaze, sent in the alarm.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Robbins B. Stoeckel today ordered the suspension of the drivers' licenses of Lieut. Campbell H. Minkler, Submarine base; John Lynch, 53 Cottage street, and James C. Turner, 171 Pequot avenue. Commissioner Stoeckel also ordered the return of the drivers' licenses of Peter Sauerzopf, 310 Ledyard street; Frank E. Cheslock, U. S. coast guard, and James F. Romano, 18 Belden street.

William Sullivan, United States navy, is here from the west coast, visiting his mother, Mrs. Catherine Sullivan, 35 Lincoln avenue.

To Report for Duty

Joseph T. Sullivan, recently appointed to the supernumerary force of the New London police department, has been ordered to report for duty Friday next. Sullivan will be on duty indefinitely.

MARSHAL GANEY ISSUES MEMORIAL DAY ORDERS

Orders governing the annual Memorial day parade were issued today by Marshal Joseph M. Ganey, as follows:

1—The following officials and organizations have agreed to take part in the parade and are assigned to positions in column in the order named: Platoon of police, marshal, chief of staff, aides, United States coast guard cadets, regular army units, band U. S. S. Camden, naval units, United States coast guard academy band, United States coast guard units, 192nd field artillery band, national guard units, massed colors, Boy Scouts of America, United Spanish War veterans, American Legion, disabled veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Sons of Veterans, Grand Army of the Republic.

2.—Participating units will form for parade in column of squads as follows:

Platoon of police, marshal, chief of staff, aides, United States coast guard cadets, Fort Wright band and regular army units in State street, right of column resting on Washington street.

U. S. S. Camden band, naval units, in Meridian street, head of column resting on State street.

United States coast guard band, United States coast guard, 192nd field artillery band, national guard units and massed colors of the Boy Scouts of America on Washington street, head of column resting on State street.

Spanish War Veterans, American Legion, disabled veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Grand Army of the Republic units and auxiliaries, on Union street, head of column resting on State street.

3.—All units are to be in position not later than 9:15 o'clock.

4.—Parade will move at 9:30.

5.—The State street column will start the march at 9:30 o'clock. When the rear of the State street column has cleared Meridian street the column in Meridian street will join the column, as the main column clears Washington street the units in Washington street will join the column, followed in turn by the units in Union street, south of State street.

6.—The parade will move east along State street to the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument, around the monument, west along State street to Broad street, west along Broad street to Connecticut avenue, to Cedar Grove avenue, west along Cedar Grove avenue, to Cedar Grove cemetery and through Cedar Grove cemetery to Soldiers' plot, where the column will form in line and halt while the Grand Army and Sons of Veterans assemble at the Soldiers' plot for ceremonies. After taps have been sounded and the prescribed number of volleys have been fired over the graves, the column will again be formed and will proceed through Cedar Grove cemetery to Broad street gate, to Broad street, west along Broad street to Jefferson avenue, south along Jefferson avenue to St. Mary's cemetery where a halt will be made while the Fort Wright band plays a selection. Upon completion of this ceremony the column will move from St. Mary's cemetery to Jefferson avenue, south along Jefferson avenue to the southwest gate of Cedar Grove cemetery, through Cedar Grove cemetery to Cedar Grove avenue and return to State street via Cedar Grove avenue, Connecticut avenue and Broad street.

7.—When the head of the column, on its return from the cemetery, reaches the corner of State and Bank streets, the bands, regular army, coast guard cadets, navy, coast guard and massed colors, Boy Scouts of America, will form a line abreast of each other on the south side of State street facing north, and will remain at attention while the veterans' organizations pass by. Upon completion of this movement the parade will disband. This review will be at 11:45.

8.—The parade will be review at Williams park by state, city and military officials.

Freni—Colella

Nicholas S. Freni, Medford, Mass., and Miss Mary Helen Colella, of Boston, were married here yesterday by Justice of the Peace Charles A. Gallup.

Trustees of the Seventh Day Adventist church, James W. Freiberger, Justin Peckham, George Wood, Annie Smith and Harold Peckham have purchased a lot, 100 by 105 feet on Colman street to be used as a site for a new church. A campaign is in progress to raise funds for the new house of worship.

Samuel Shafner has returned to his home, 28 Federal street, having visited in Palestine for several weeks.

James R. Bliven, North Franklin, was arrested in that town yesterday by State Police Officer Arthur Whitmarsh, charged with driving without a license.

FUNERALS

Park W. Reed

The funeral of Park W. Reed, of Jordan Village, was held at 9 o'clock this morning at St. Joseph's church and was attended by a large assemblage of mourners. The mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. William C. Fitzsimons. The bearers were George Wino, Alexander Antoniac, John Geary, James McClane, Edward Geary and Thomas McCarthy. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

David Esty

The funeral of David Esty, of 20 Methodist street, was held this morning at 10:30 at 15 Masonic street, the services being conducted by Richard W. Mansfield, superintendent of B. P. Learned mission. The bearers were Edgar T. Thomas, Malcolm Brown, Harold Hewlitt, Walter Bogue, Peter Morrisey and William Thomas. Burial was in Cedar Grove cemetery.

OBITUARY

Christian H. Ketter

Christian H. Ketter, 78, died early today at Odd Fellows' home, Groton, after a lingering illness. Mr. Ketter is survived by his wife, several sons and daughters. He was born in New York Jan. 16, 1852, but had resided in Hartford for a number of years. Mr. Ketter had been a resident at the home only since last March.

Hiram A. Burns

Hiram A. Burns, 66, formerly of New London, died yesterday at his home in Newark, N. J. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Annabelle Harvey, of Norwich; a daughter, Mrs. Irene Wood, of Norfolk, Va., and a sister, Mrs. Clara Burdick, of Norwich. Mr. Burns was employed by the former Brown Cotton Gin Co. and moved from New London about 25 years ago.

Jacob Feldman, of Norwich, was arrested on the Boston Post road in Groton yesterday by State Police Officer Fred Wininger, charged with reckless driving and was ordered to present himself for trial in the Groton town court Monday next.

TAXPAYERS' LEAGUE HAS OVER 1,500 ENROLLED

The New London Taxpayers' league is perfecting its plans for organization and arguing interest in the affairs of the city as they enter into expenses of maintenance. The league now has an enrolled membership of more than $1,500. An open meeting will be held at Bulkeley auditorium a week from next Friday when ex-Mayor Herbert M. Lerou of Norwich will be the speaker. He has been a student of municipal management and of the subject of taxation and will give his hearers the benefit of his study and observation. A constitution and by-laws to govern the league will be adopted at this meeting. The league will have an office with a secretary in charge to transact whatever business comes to the league for consideration.

COLLETT AND HICKS, ONLY AMERICANS SURVIVING, ENTER QUARTER-FINALS

FORMBY, England, May 14—(AP)—Glenna Collett and Helen Hicks today fought their way to the quarter-finals of the British women's golf championship, while five other American players who started the day's play were eliminated.

Molly Gourlay forced the American champion to the 21st hole before she surrendered in the fourth round. The hard-hitting "Billy" Hicks needed 19 holes to dispose of Mrs. Percy Garon in the same round.

Safely past the morning round their afternoon tasks proved easier, Miss Hicks defeating her fellow country woman, Mrs. Leo Federman, while Miss Collett was disposing of Beryl Brown, a Formby girl.

Maureen Orcutt reached the fifth round without incident but there encountered Enid Wilson, the golfing giantess of Nottingham, and in the face of a shower of fours from her opponent, was eliminated.

Virginia Van Wie, Edith Quier and Mrs. Stewart Hanley were eliminated in the fourth round.

Miss Wilson will be Miss Hicks' opponent tomorrow morning and if the American wins and Miss Collett stops Hilda Cameron, her Scotch rival, the stage will be set for another all-American match in the afternoon.

The English girl, regarded as a formidable opponent for the American challenger, wielded her clubs against Miss Orcutt with the skill and confidence of a professional, to coast to an easy triumph, six up and four to play.

The last eight, who will engage in the battle of youth tomorrow, is made up of two Americans, two Scots, three English and an Irish girl.

Miss Hicks is only 19 years old and youngsters also feature the lower half of the draw where Diana Fishwick, a 19 year old wisp of a girl and Sylvia Bailey, the same age, meet Daisy Ferguson, of the Royal County Down club and Kathleen MacDonald who comes from Moray.

Miss Cameron, Miss Collett's opponent, has twice been runner-up for the Scotch women's championship. Misses Fishwick, Ferguson, MacDonald and Bailey are playing in their first British women's championship.

The 21 hole battle between Miss Collett and Miss Gourlay dwarfed today's play with its intensity.

The match was featured by the finest sportsmanship both by players and the gallery of nearly 5,000 which swept over the Formby fairways and engulfed the American when she won.

The only satisfaction Miss Orcutt had in her match today was that she consistently out-drove Miss Wilson. As far as the rest of her game was concerned, the New Jersey girl was not the sterling player who has exhibited such fine form in England.

Miss Quier's defeat by Miss Ferguson, was a surprise to the British to whom the Irish girl's golf was not known. Miss Van Wie's elimination in a bracket in which she was expected to have little trouble was also a surprise.

Miss Hicks today was long, as

Miss Hicks play today was long, as usual, but she lacked control.

Play of the Americans today resulted:

Miss Glenna Collett, New York, defeated Miss Molly Gourlay, 1 up, 21 holes, in the fourth round and won from Miss Beryl Brown 7 up and six to play in the fifth round.

Miss Helen Hicks, New York, defeated Mrs. Percy Garon, one up, 19 holes, in the fourth round and won from Mrs. Leo Federman, four up and three to play in the fifth round.

Mrs. Federman defeated Mrs. Dudley Charles, eight up and seven to play in the fourth round and was eliminated by Miss Hicks in the fifth round.

Miss Maureen Orcutt, Englewood, N. J., defeated Miss G. E. C. Rudgard, three up and two to play in the fourth and was eliminated by Miss Enid Wilson, six up and four to play in the fifth.

Miss Edith Quier, Reading, Pa., was defeated by Miss Daisy Ferguson, 1 up, in the fourth round.

Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, was defeated by Miss Kathleen MacDonald, 1 up, 19 holes, in the fourth round.

Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Detroit, was defeated by Dr. Marion Alexander, two up and one to play, in the fourth round.

Pairings for the sixth, or quarter-final round:

Miss Collett vs. Miss Cameron.

Miss Hicks vs. Miss Wilson.

Miss Diana Fishwick vs. Miss Ferguson.

Miss MacDonald vs. Miss Sylvia Bailey.

RED CAGLE TO REPORT TO MISS. COLLEGE SEPT. 1

JACKSON, Miss., May 14.—(AP)—President B. M. Walker, of Mississippi A. and M. college, said here today that Christian Keener (Red) Cagle, resigned cadet of West Point, will report September 1, to begin a two-year contract as assistant football coach.

He said the recent "disturbances" in connection with Cagle at the Army school would in no way affect his connection with the Mississippi school. He refused to discuss Cagle's salary.

FIELD OF 16 GOLFERS IN WALKER CUP MATCHES

SANDWICH, England, May 14—(AP)—Sixteen crack amateur golfers of the United States and Great Britain go out early tomorrow morning to start the biennial competition for the Walker cup, emblematic of International team supremacy.

Tomorrow will be devoted to the foursomes in which two men on each side play alternate strokes with the same ball, the matches being decided over 36 holes and each counting one point. Eight singles matches Friday, also at 36 holes, will conclude the competition.

Pairings for the foursomes tomorrow were announced tonight and call for play.

George Von Elm and George Voight against Cyril J. H. Tolley and Roger Wethered.

Robert T. Jones, Jr., and Dr. O. F. Willing, against Rex Hartley and T. A. Torrance.

Roland MacKenzie and Donald K. Moe against Sir Ernest Holderness and J. A. Stout.

Harrison R. Johnston and Francis Ouimet against William Campbell and John Nelson Smith.

The players from the United States, with the exception of Voight, took a golf holiday this morning and drove to Canterbury to see the Cathedral. Voight remained at Sandwich to practice.

This afternoon, however, Captain Bobby Jones and his players were on the course playing foursomes. Jones and Willing lost by a hole to Von Elm and Voight, the winning combination having a score of 74.

In the other match, Moe and MacKenzie defeated Ouimet and Johnston in a close battle. Although they played good golf this quartet did not take the game very seriously and several times tried their shots over.

Tilden Wins Thrice

COLOGNE, Germany, May 14—(AP)—Bill Tilden defeated two of Germany's foremost tennis players today and won a third victory in mixed doubles.

The American champion beat Otto Froitsheim, number two in the German ranking, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3, and repeated his victory of yesterday over E. Frenz in a two set match, 8-2, 6-4. Tilden and Miss Cecilie Aussem, of Germany, won from Miss H. Krahwinkel and F. Kuhlmann, 6-1, 6-4.

DRAWINGS FOR FRENCH TENNIS DOUBLES ANNOUNCED

PARIS, May 14—(AP)—With formidable American teams in all three divisions, the draw was announced today for the French hard court tennis doubles championships, which begin Monday. The singles draw will not be made until next week as the organizers are still awaiting belated entries.

In women's doubles the California combination of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Elizabeth Ryan was seeded in the top half of the draw. A third Californian, Helen Jacobs, is paired with Jeanne Sicard of Belgium.

Another strong team consists of Ella De Alverez of Spain and Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall, of England. Joan Fry and Ermyntrude Harvey form a dangerous British entry.

In men's doubles, Bill Tilden and Wilbur F. Coen, Jr., will find stern opposition from such teams as Jacques Brugnon and Henri Cochet, France; Jean Borotra and Rene De Buzelet, France; J. Colin Gregory and Ian G. Collins, Britain; Jack Crawford and E. F. Moon, Australia, and Tackeichi Harada and Tamio Abe, Japan.

PITT ATHLETES WILL NOT COMPETE AT CAMBRIDGE

NEW YORK, May 14—(AP)—The University of Michigan is to be represented in the intercollegiate track and field championships at Cambridge, May 30 and 31, after a lapse of 11 years, but the University of Pittsburgh, an annual entrant, will be among the missing.

Pitt's absence from the list of entries announced today means that Pete Bowen, intercollegiate quarter-mile champion and a senior at Pittsburgh, will not be able to defend his title.

TAFTVILLE

A new house is being constructed on upper Merchants avenue for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jodoin.

A meeting of the members of St. Veronica's society was held Wednesday evening in the society's rooms on Providence street.

The only letter advertised this week at the local post office is addressed to Ch. Halle, (foreign).

This week, men employed by the state highway department, treated the Old Canterbury turnpike to a coast of tarvia.

A beautiful basket of flowers in memory of Mrs. John Zuerner, given by her children, was on the altar at the Taftville Congregational church on Sunday.

Mrs. William Bailey of Fanning avenue, Norwich, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wood of the Old Canterbury turnpike this week.

RECALLS CHURCH WEDDING—BUCKINGHAM-REYNOLDS

A former Norwich man, Edward Harold Miller of New York, who read in The Bulletin of the Mother's day display window at the Buckingham Shop writes: Referring to the portrait of Mrs. William A. Buckingham (Mary Day Reynolds) in her bridal dress, I saw her married in Christ church—and it was the swellest affair of its kind ever in Norwich. The organist of Grace church, New York, came on to play at the ceremony. I don't suppose there is anyone who can give a better description of that wedding than I can.

May Basket For Mother's Day.

A beautiful May basket was hung to Mrs. Fremont Firth of 102 Main street, Baltic, Sunday afternoon in honor of Mother's day by her six children, Anna, Ethel, John, Edith, Florence and Clinton. The color scheme was pink and blue. The basket contained gifts such as an electric toaster, many embroidered articles, homemade candy, fruit, etc. An enjoyable afternoon was spent as all of the children were home with their own families.

Taxpayers To Hear Report

At the town hall this (Thursday) evening there will be a special meeting of the Norwich Taxpayers association to hear the report of the association's committee, named to consider the need of two junior high schools. The junior high schools are recommended by the town school board. It is understood that the commmittee's report is against the erection of the two new school buildings, but the committee has declined to make the report public in advance of the meeting.

Small Fire at Cleaners

Wednesday afternoon at 4:40 o'clock Squad A, Engine No. 1, and Acting Chief D. J. Brennan responded to a telephone call for a small fire at No. 11 North Main street, occupied by the French Cleaners and Dyers, Inc., and owned by Lorenzo Rinella. A gasoline washing machine caught fire but the flames were extinguished before the fire department arrived. There was little or no damage. Several matches were found on the floor near the washing machine and it is thought that one of these became ignited setting fire to the machine.

Pays Fine In City Court

In the city court Wednesday morning James R. Bliven, 20, of North Franklin, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without having a license to do so. He was arrested on West Thames street Tuesday evening by State Police Officer Arthur Whitmarsh.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall or Liggett Drug Store.

HARMONY ON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL PLAN BETWEEN SCHOOL AUTHORITIES

The town school board and the authorities at Norwich Free Academy are moving in harmony along the line of the development of the junior high school idea, according to a letter received Wednesday by Chairman W. F. Lester of the school board from Principal H. A. Tirrell of the Academy to which Chairman Lester dispatched a reply late Wednesday.

The following was the letter from Principal Tirrell to the school board:

Norwich, Conn.
May 14, 1930.

Mr. Walter F. Lester,
Chairman, Town School Committee,
Norwich, Connecticut

Dear Sir:

In view of the fact that you have been asked by several persons in your different group meetings as to how the Academy felt in regard to the junior high school we are glad to state our position as follows:

You will recall that in April, 1929, a letter was written to you calling attention to the crowded condition of the Academy and to the fact that some start should be made to correct this and that possibly the junior high school system should be studied to see if it met the needs of our town.

Our aim in writing the letter to you was to see if some plan could be devised which would relieve the congestion at the Academy. We have about 400 pupils in the first year and if these were taken care of elsewhere the need for additional space would be moved into the future.

We believe that a junior high school system well planned and well carried out would keep in school for a longer time many boys and girls who now drop out of our school system and would relieve the present congestion at the Academy. It is the aim of the Academy management to cooperate in every way with the town school committee in any plan which the town may adopt.

Very truly yours,
(Signed)
HENRY A. TIRRELL, Principal,
Norwich Free Academy.

Reply From School Board

Chairman Lester dispatched the following reply to the letter of Principal Tirrell:

Norwich, Connecticut,
May 14th, 1930.

Henry A. Tirrell, Esq.
Principal Norwich Free Academy,
Norwich, Connecticut

Dear Mr. Tirrell:

Responding to your letter of today in regard to the matter of the junior high school plan, we are very glad to have the position of the Academy definitely stated, for the benefit of the public.

You refer to the letter addressed by you to the town school board under date of April 11th, 1929, and we are pleased to have you make such reference, as you will recall that it was on account of that letter that the board changed its intended plan to promote the building of grammar schools, and, through your offer to relinquish the first year of your course, made it possible to consider the junior high school plan.

In the letter of April, 1929, after referring to the junior high school system, and your readiness to make your course three years, you said, "It seems to us a proper time to give this plan due consideration for if it were adopted it would relieve our present congestion." You also at that time expressed yourselves as willing to "cooperate with us in every possible way." This attitude has been consistently maintained by you during all of the pleasant and profitable conferences you have had with our board, and the written assurance contained in your letter of today was not necessary to confirm the confidence of the town school board in your co-operation, but it may be helpful in demonstrating to the public the harmony of action between our board and your institution.

Very truly yours,
W. F. LESTER,
Chairman Town School Board of Norwich

SIX CHURCH CONFERENCE HAD TWO ADDRESSES

(Special to The Bulletin.)

HANOVER, May 14.—The conference of six churches was held today with the Congregational church, opening at 11 a. m. with the organ prelude by Miss Gallup. Rev. Harold Arnold of Pachaug offered the prayer of invocation, followed by the Lord's prayer, rendered by the Lotus quartet. This quartet is one of the annual gifts of Hanover people to the six churches and their assembled friends, much appreciated by all. The responsive reading was led by Rev. W. J. Reynolds of Newent, the hymn, "Our God, Our Help in Ages Past," was sung and Rev. G. F. Goodenough of Jewett City read the Scripture lesson from Job and Rev. D. C. Stone supplemented it by four verses from Revelation. The anthem, "They That Wait Upon the Lord," by Lotus quartet was followed by prayer by Rev. W. C. Prentiss, Plainfield, with song response, "Like a Breath from the Hills," quartet. While the offering was being taken by Kellogg Hall and Nathan Hale the quartet sang again and led in the doxology.

The notices followed and the roll was called in the morning: Griswold, first, 18; Griswold, second, (Jewett City), 6; Hanover, 48; Lisbon, 12; Preston City, 32; Plainfield, 7;, visitors, 90; total, 213.

The address of the morning was by Rev. Winifred C. Rhoades, who now conducts the column in the Congregationaline known as "The Invalid Parish."

The address was followed by the anthem "Somebody Told Me of Jesus," by the quartet, and the hymn "Immortal Love, Forever Full," by the congregation with benediction by the pastor.

Dinner was served with expedition and thoroughness in the parish house, in the usually delightful way of the Hanover hostesses.

At 2:30 the afternoon session began with a devotional service led by Rev. George W. Clarke of Preston City who read a part of the 14th chapter of John with its intimate promises so well in keeping with the morning address. During this service the quartet sang "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?"

Rev. W. J. Reynolds invited the conference to Lisbon on June 18th and the quartet rendered "Sunset" and "The Old Rugged Cross" with their usual beauty and power.

Rev. William S. Beard, who occasionally gets home in eastern Connecticut where he was born, from his strenuous secretarial duties, then gave a masterly address entitled "Pilgrims of the Impossible," wherein he showed some of the things achieved in spite of the knockers' club and crepe-hangers of all the ages. Inventors, discoverers, colonizers have each attempted the impossible and have done it too. Why kick on the church and the missionaries because they believe that "if you attempt great things for God you can except great things from God."

Militant religion, has schools, colleges, hospitals, social and industrial centers and religious leaders all over the world. Some of them we enabled to go, and backed their work. But each achievement of success demands expansion. We want an advance in intelligent giving of 20 per cent all along the line. We have the promise of $200,000 from Congregationalists already if we match it as churches with $400,000—a small part of which naturally is from the six churches.

BOZRAH BOY PASSES WEST POINT EXAMINATIONS

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WASHINGTON, May 14—Congressman Freeman was today notified that the following candidates for the Naval academy at Annapolis had passed their examinations and would be admitted to the academy: William Alden Brockett and Jackson Avery Woodruff, both of New London; also that Seymour Gilman of Bozrah was the successful candidate for the military academy at West Point.

Seymour Irving Gilman, who has won his way to West Point, according to the above announcement, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Gilman of Bozrahville. He is now completing his second year at Yale. He took the West Point examinations in New York last month and it is expected that he will be obliged to report at the military academy on the first of July. He graduated from Norwich Free Academy in 1928.

COMMISSIONER EDGAR HOE TO BE NORWICH GUEST

Commissioner Edgar Hoe, of the territorial headquarters of New York, will come to Norwich on Sunday, May 25, to take part in the launching of the Salvation Army appeal for the $5,000 which the organization needs for its current service in Norwich for 1930. The commissioner will speak at the Norwich Town Congregational church in the morning and at the Central Baptist church in the evening.

Commissioner Hoe will be accompanied by Brigadier Albert E. Bates, of Hartford: the brigadier is well known to many people in Norwich, having spoken and held services in local churches on various occasions. Adjutant Joseph Heard, of South Manchester, will take part in the Sunday services. Ensign Fred Honsberger, young people's secretary of the Southern New England district of the Salvation Army, will also be one of the speakers.

The South Manchester Salvation Army band, one of the best musical organizations in the New England states, which rendered service in Norwich on a number of occasions, will spend Sunday, May 25th, by playing several sacred concerts during the day and evening. The band will probably begin the day by playing at several churches before noon. The tentative program is that, in addition to the band playing at the morning services, it is to play at the sftate hospital, Uncas-on-Thames, and at the church evening services. The program is in the process of final arrangement and will be announced in the next few days.

The South Manchester band has made many friends in Norwich by its beautiful musical rendition on several previous visits, and the good news of its coming to Norwich on Sunday, May 25, will be greatly welcome to a large number of people. The band will also bring a little joy to the unfortunete inmates of local hospitals to whom the yearly concert of the Salvation Army band is a greatly looked for treat.

LAUNCHED NEW SPEEDBOAT AT GARDNER LAKE

A new speedboat, capable of 50 miles an hour, was launched at Gardner Lake, Sunday, by Julian L. Williams, local automobile dealer. It is one of the finest craft on the lake and was designed by him. Mr. Williams will enter the boat in the races scheduled by the Gardner Lake Boat club to start the middle of next month.

The Wasp III, as the boat is named is equipped with a 32 horse power Johnson seahorse motor, is 12 feet 3 inches in length, and has a 50 inch beam. It is constructed of Philippine mahogany with special finish.

A new float has been constructed by the Gardner Lake Boat club on the lake front a short distance west of the pavilion at Whittle's grove. Mr. Williams' boat was launched from the new float.

NORWICH GIRL DIRECTED KENTUCKY MAY FESTIVAL

Miss Viola M. Grover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Grover, 149 Broadway, directed a May festival in Paducah, Kentucky, sponsored by the music department of the graded schools. There were 257 school children taking part, some representing Japan, fairyland, flowers, pirates, sunbonnet babes and overall boys. There also was the scene of Wedding of the Painted Doll, for which they sang the song that represented it.

Miss Grover is well known in music circles here.

To Establish State Grades.

A hearing to establish state grades for lettuce and tomatoes will be held at the office of the state department of agriculture, 30 Oak street, Hartford, on Friday, May 16, at 1 p. m., standard time. All Connecticut vegetable growers interested in the marketing of lettuce and tomatoes will find it interesting to attend the meeting to express an opinion as to what shall consitute the various grades.

Notices of the meeting have been sent to more than 400 vegetable growers and the department is making extra accommodation plans for the unusually large attendance which is expected.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Albert Lewis left Wednesday for her cottage on the Gloucester shore, where she will be joined by friends later.

Mrs. Frederick T. Sayles attended the luncheon meeting Tuesday of the board of managers of the Colonial Dames at the Hartford Town and County club.

Mrs. Charles Tyler Bard and Mrs. Walter M. Buckingham, who have been guests of friends in Washington for ten days, will return today (Thursday).

The meeting of the Home Service unit was held Wednesday with Mrs. Weston C. Pullen. Following sewing, Mrs. Pullen served coffee informally to the fifteen members attending.

The three-table Saturday Evening Bridge club ended its season on Friday last, with a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond B. Sherman, on Slater avenue, when prizes were awarded all the players.

Early in the week Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Lerou returned after a trip of ten days to Baltimore and Annapolis, the former having attended the meetings of the National Association of Pharmacists.

The Wednesday club was entertained by Mrs. Frank W. Browning, of Williams street, the hostess having the paper, on "Trees With a History." The previous meeting of the club was with Miss Mary A. Aiken, who had the paper on The Simple Life of 1930. This was illustrated by the use of some of the rare treasures of heirlooms in the household of the late General and Mrs. William Appleton Aiken.

Miss Rose Driscoll, of the Academy faculty leaves tonight (Thursday) for Washington to attend the Senior prom and tea at Georgetown college, where Paul Driscoll is a senior.

Miss Nellie A. Loring, of Williams street was hostess to the two-table auction club Wednesday afternoon.

THREE CASES PRESENTED IN LEDYARD COURT

Three cases were presented Wednesday evening before Justice of the Peace Walter M. Buckingham when he held court at Gales Ferry in the town of Ledyard.

John J. Lynch, a member of the Norwich fire department, pleaded guilty to the charge of failure to grant right of way and was fined $5 and costs which he paid. Lynch was driving the automobile of John T. Harrington on April 20 on the Norwich-Westerly highway and his summons to court followed an investigation by State Policeman Arthur Whitmarsh. The machine went through a fence on a curve on the easterly side of the road near the witch hazel mill at Preston Plains.

Two Ledyard men, Carl Whipple and Earl Lee, who were arrested Tuesday night by State Policeman John H. Smith on the charge of intoxication, after it was claimed they had made a disturbance, had their cases nolled upon payment of actual costs.

Grand Juror Billings F. S. Crandall prosecuted the cases.

RULES ADOPTED FOR BOY SCOUT JAMBOREE

The following rules for the Boy Scout jamboree to be held at the state armory on Saturday, May 24, have been adopted:

Only registered scouts in good standing who have not reached their 18th birthday shall participate in any event. In each event first place will count five points, second place three points and third place one point.

No more than one team from each troop may compete in any team event. One substitute may be entered for each individual and team event.

Patrols competing in contests may be made up of picked scouts or they may be regular patrols of the troop unless otherwise noted in event rules.

All contestants must be on hand when the event is called. Upon finishing event, contestants will report back to their troop station.

All equipment is to be furnished by contestants unless otherwise specified in the rules below.

In case of any objections to rulings of judges during the meeting, such objections must be given judges immediately following the event and before the awards are made. Such objections must be presented by the scoutmaster of the complaining troop.

Mrs. Brooke In Sacramento

Friends in Norwich are in receipt of messages from Mrs. Homer Brooke (Isaphene Ives) formerly of New London and Norwich, who has been spending the winter in Los Angeles. Mrs. Brooke is in the charming city of Sacramento until May 20th, when she will leave for Seattle, and Bellingham, Wash., to remain in the latter city from May 24 until June 6. On that date she will return to Seattle, to take the Northern Pacific to New York where she is due about June 14. Following a stay at her year-round home in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Mrs. Brooke will come to New London to pass the greater part of the summer.

Mrs. M. Lexferty Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples.

"My trouble began on my face and took the form of small, hard pimples. A few of them spread to my neck. They itched causing me to scratch, and my face was disfigured by them. My trouble lasted one year.

"I tried other remedies but they were not a success. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and within two days the pimples began to vanish. I continued using them and in two weeks was completely healed, after using one box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap." (Signed) Mrs. M. Lexferty, 14 No. Main St., Webster, Mass., Aug. 29, 1929.

DWIGHT W. MORROW FAVORS REPEAL 18TH AMENDMENT

Sees No Way of Settling the Liquor Question Without a Further Change In the Constitution—Would Restore to the States the Power to Determine Their Policy Toward the Liquor Traffic—Asserted That the Present Dry Law Has Created a New Attitude of the People Toward the Federal Government and of the Federal Government Toward the People—Is Determined That the Saloon Must Not Come Back—Declarations Made In Opening His Campaign For Republican Nomination to the U. S. Senate From New Jersey.

NEWARK, N. J., May 15.— (AP) — Dwight W. Morrow, opening his campaign tonight for republican nomination to the United States senate from New Jersey, declared himself in favor of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Devoting to the prohibition question almost all of his 3,000-word address, he asserted that if elected to the senate, he would be prepared to vote for a resolution submitting to the states a constitutional amendment which would restore to them the power to determine their policy toward the liquor traffic.

"I believe," Mr. Morrow said, "that the way out of the present difficulty is to recognize clearly the fundamental difference between the nature of the federal government and the state government. I believe this involves a repeal of the 18th amendment and the substitution therefor of an amendment which will restore to the states the power to determine their policy toward the liquor traffic, and vest in the federal government power to give all possible protection and assistance, to those states that desire complete prohibition, against invasion from the states that do not."

So long as the eighteenth amendment is in the constitution, he said, he favored "generous appropriations" for enforcement of the statutes enacted under it, but he urged the use of such federal appropriations to keep liquor from coming into the United States and to prevent interstate traffic in it.

In enforcing prohibition, he said, the federal government has a vast task in the purely federal field.

"Until it performs that task it might well leave all local police duty with the states."

The candidate drew contrast between state regulation of the liquor traffic prior to 1919 and the federal responsibility under the eighteenth amendment.

"With the coming into force of the prohibition amendment, a vast new criminal jurisdiction was assumed by the federal government. This involved not only an organization of a new police force but—what is even more important—it involved a new attitude of the people toward their federal government and of the federal government toward the people.

"The extremely delicate and sensitive problem of interference with the individual liberty of a man for the sake of the social good of the community was thereafter dealt with not in the terms of small communities, but in terms of a mighty nation of 125,000,000 people, with great climatic, racial and social divergencies."

The saloon, Mr. Morrow said, must not come back.

"The people of the United States are rid of the saloon—and well rid of it."

But, he declared, a "wholly unregulated liquor traffic" has grown up, for which one group blames the law, and another group, the disobedience to law, "and it is not in such a spirit that a solution will be found."

Asserting the prohibition question to be one which "constantly confuses moral principles with the art of government," he went on:

"The solution will be found when we realize that the issue before us is a governmental problem; how can the control of the liquor traffic be divided as between federal and state governments in a way that will recognize the habits and sentiments and moral principles of the people in the different parts of the country?"

"I see no way of settling that question satisfactorily," he concluded, "without a further change in the constitution."

Speaking to an audience which included many of his friends and neighbors, Mr. Morrow pictured the prohibition issue as a problem in government and not as a question of prohibition's merits as a policy.

A candidate, he said, "should depart from his party only where his conscience compels him to believe that his party is wrong."

Mr. Morrow looked forward "to the time when the old leaders in the temperance movement will appreciate that they have not reached a final solution of a world-old problem by the present eighteenth amendment."

"I look," he said, "to the time when the moral teachers of the country will realize that, in the battle for a great social reform, there was wisdom in the old system of experimenting in 48 laboratories rather than in one."

COMMENT BY MCBRIDE ON MORROW'S DECLARATION

WASHINGTON, May 15—(AP)—F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, said tonight Dwight W. Morrow had followed the program laid out by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment in basing his wet platform on state control liquor.

"Ambassador Morrow has accepted the program of Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment," McBride said, "It is an out and out wet platform. The association was against state option until we got prohibition and now they want it back again. While we were getting state after state for prohibition, these men opposed local option, but now they find it their only hope. Morrow has followed their suggestion in its entirety.

"As to what course the Anti-Saloon league will take in New Jersey, I shall leave that for Dr. Shields, (New Jersey state superintendent) to announce."

The New Jersey branch of the Anti-Saloon league announced recently that it would place a dry candidate in the field should Morrow declare for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Their candidate would enter the November election rather than the primary race, Shields indicated.

Chairman Graham of the house judiciary committee, an avowed wet from Pennsylvania, characterized Morrow's decision "good judgment."

Senator Jones, republican, Washington, a leading dry, said:

"That goes right back to where we were before we adopted the eighteenth amendment. I don't think the country wants to do that."

GUNMAN WAS BESTED BY POLICE TEAR GAS BOMBS

RAY, Ariz., May 15—(AP)—Modern police tear gas bombs went up against the two-gun play of the old west near here today, and the tear gas bombs won when Edward Mitchell "from all along the Colorado river," surrendered to a posse on a charge of cattle theft after he had had a good cry.

Mitchell, a blackbearded giant of a man and a stranger in these parts, was accused by Howard Parks of stealing cattle from the Parks ranch and selling the meat to a road construction gang. When deputy sheriffs and riflemen started after Mitchell yesterday to serve a warrant, he barricaded himself in a stone-walled cabin on the Parks ranch, where he had been living. He had a rifle, a pistol and plenty of ammunition. Each demand for his surrender was answered by a volley of bullets.

The 40 or more possemen made themselves comfortable behind rocks and ledges and sent to Florence, Ariz., site of the state prison, for tear gas bombs. When these arrived today they were used with almost immediate effect. Mitchell came out weeping and surrendered. His head was wrapped in a blanket which he had used as an improvised gas mask.

RUMOR OF CHURCH TRIAL FOR BISHOP CANNON, JR.

DALLAS, Texas, May 15—(AP)—Despite the silence of Episcopacy committee members, a report grew today at the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, that Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., and Virginia, would be brought to a church trial for speculating on the stock market.

Leading members of the Episcopacy committee, who heard the complaints discussed for nearly six hours yesterday, still refused to commit themselves on the report that the committee voted last night to ask the church trial. The nearest that could be obtained to confirmation was the statement of one member of the committee that the generally credited report "probably was true."

The exact accusations have not been announced, nor will they be announced unless the committee decides upon the trial. Bishop Cannon last night was vindicated in his political activities by a committee statement clearing four other bishops of like complaints.

Should a trial be ordered, the jury of clerics would have to return one of three verdicts—Acquittal, suspension, or expulsion from the office of bishop.

NEW BULGARIAN CABINET WAS FORMED LAST NIGHT

SOFIA, May 15—(AP)—Premier Andrey Liaptcheff of Bulgaria and his cabinet resigned tonight. A new cabinet was immediately formed with Liaptcheff at its head and M. Tzankoff, a former premier, as minister of education.

The Liaptcheff cabinet had been formed on September 9, 1923, resigned the same day, but was reconstituted on September 12.

The premier will announced his program to the Sobranje tomorrow. The sessions of the Sobranje have been prolonged for eight days.

The new cabinet list follows:

Premier and minister of the interior—Andrey Liaptcheff.
Minister of education—M. Tzankoff.
Foreign affairs—M. Bouroff.
Finances—V. Molloff.
War—M. Tatargieff.
Public works—M. Danailoff.
Trade—Prof. Ishaikoff.
Agriculture—M. Wassilieff.
Railways—M. Sojloff.
Justice—M. Milanoff.

M. Majdenoff will succeed Premier Tzankoff as president of the Sobranje.

THIRTY YALE STUDENTS DISCIPLINED FOR RIOTING

NEW HAVEN, May 15—(AP)—Thirty undergraduate in Yale college today were disciplined by Dean Clarence W. Mendell for participating in the student disturbance of last Thursday night, when hundreds of students clashed with police in the university section.

Fourteen students, of whom 12 are seniors, were suspended from recitations for the rest of the college year, and 16 were denied dormitory privileges next year. The student body will also have to pay for damage to police uniforms.

No freshman was in the list of those disciplined which confirmed college opinion given immediately after the riot that it was not one in which upperclassmen clashed with the freshman class.

WOULD WELD NORTHERN AND SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 15—(AP)—Calling upon all Baptists to pioneer in religion, A. L. Miller, of Boston, president of the Northern Baptist convention, as the Northern Church Fraternal delegate to the church fraternal delegate to the Southern Baptist convention in session here today, invited the church membership to enlist in the proposal to weld together the northern and southern bodies of the church.

His invitation came just after the southern convention had been informed that at their request the Northern Baptist convention had halted negotiations for amalgamation with the Disciples of America and announcement had been made by Dr. A. J. Barton of Atlanta, chairman of the commission of social service of the southern church, that the southern memorial to the northern church opposing their merger with the Disciples would be withheld.

"Speaking for more than ninety per cent of the Baptists," said Mr. Miller, a layman in his church, "we have more in common with the Southern Baptist convention than any other two denominations. We have no pope. We have no bishops. We are without great organization and yet we are all Baptists of the same creed."

BREWSTER BINGHAM DECLINES SKULL AND BONES ELECTION

NEW HAVEN, May 15—(AP)—Yale's four senior societies, Skull and Bones, Scroll and Key, Elihu club and Wolf's Head, today elected 15 juniors each at the annual Tap day ceremonies.

Ten juniors refused elections, eight of these going to other societies. Brewster Bingham, of New Haven, son of U. S. Senator Hiram Bingham, of Connecticut, was one of five men to decline election to Skull and Bones He was not tapped by the other societies.

COL. LINDBERGH SENDS MESSAGE OF CONDOLENCE

MEXICO CITY, May 15—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, America's "Flying Colonel," has sent a message of condolence to the Mexican foreign office for the death of Colonel Pablo Sidar, Mexico's "Flying Colonel."

Colonel Sidar and his co-pilot Captain Carlos Rovirosa were killed on Sunday while attempting to make a non-stop flight to Buenos Aires.

MAY ISSUE PERMITS FOR THE BURNING OF BRUSH

HARTFORD, May 15—(AP)—State Forester Austin F. Hawes today notified fire wardens that permits may again be issued for the burning of brush to clear land. Special emergency regulations effective in state forests were also lifted, bringing to an end the restrictions set up as the result of scores of forest fires early this month. "We believe the emergency is over for the present," the state forester said.

NEGRO BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE AT RICHMOND, VA.

RICHMOND, Va., May 15.—(AP)—An unidentified Negro employe was burned to death and four firemen were injured in a three alarm fire of undetermined origin that tonight was sweeping through the plant of the Manchester Board and Paper company here. The blaze was not under control at 10:15 o'clock.

FOUR-YEAR SENTENCE FOR MILTON C. QUIMBY

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—Milton C. Quimby, 65-year-old promoter, who was convicted Tuesday of mail fraud in connection with the failure of the Clarke Brothers private bank last summer, was sentenced today by Federal Judge Goddard to serve four years each on the 11 counts in the indictment against him, the sentences to run concurrently.

OBITUARY

William J. Locke

PARIS, May 15—(AP)—William J. Locke, widely known British novelist, died in his Paris home tonight after a long illness. He was 67 years old.

The creator of the "Beloved Vagabond" title and hero of one of his most popular novels, died at 9:35 p. m. in the presence of his wife and his daughter.

He recently underwent a serious operation. He temporarily recovered from its effects but finally succumbed to the illness that made the operation necessary.

Mother Domitilla

MONROE, Mich., May 15—(AP)—Mother Domitilla, general superior of the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, died tonight at the Mother house of the order here. She was 67 years old. Death followed an illness of six weeks.

She had been a member of the order for 46 years, of which she was assistant general superior for 12 years and general superior for 12 years.

Bishop Frederick B. Fisher of Calcutta told the world conference of Methodist Episcopal bishops in Boston that India should have dominion status.

New Contest In Civil Disobedience In India

Led By Mrs. Sarojani Naidu—Party Squatted On the Road Surrounded By Cordon of Police.

BOMBAY, May 15.—(AP)—The eyes of all India centered today on the little village of Dharasaana, where the strangest scene of all the extraordinary dramas witnessed recently in this country was enacted.

A contest in "civil resistance" took place between Mrs. Sarojini Nai[illegible] heading a group defying the [illegible] laws, and police. Mrs. Naidu, [illegible] heads the civil disobedience movement now that Mahatma Gandhi and Abbas Tyabji are in jail, headed her volunteers for the government salt deposits at Dharasaana and intended to raid the salt pans.

The police halted the party, whereupon Mrs. Naidu and her followers squatted on the road while the police formed a cordon around them. The odd situation continued all day. No one was allowed to pass the cordon with food for the volunteers, and no volunteer who left the police lines was permitted to return.

Meanwhile, the woman leader and her flock sat in the road, chatting and spinning native cloth. It was believed that she would be joined by a second party tomorrow unless she agreed to leave Dharasaana without molesting the salt.

Other events in India today were shaded by the happenings of Dharasaana road, the usual crop of arrests and sentences was harvested but there were no serious disorders.

A "red" procession more than a mile long, organized by the youth league of Bombay, paraded in the fort area of the city tonight, carrying red flags. Many members of the congress party, with "Gandhi caps" and red scarfs and carrying the tricolored national flag, also marched.

Among the marchers were large numbers of women and children, wearing orange robes and red scarfs. They were led by Mrs. Kamaladevi Chattopadhyaya and cried "Long live the revolution" as they strode along.

A new secret strategy was evolved by the All-India congress at a session which ended today after three days and nights. Its deliberations were closely guarded.

Pandit Maliviya, member of the congress, notified the government that a committee would enter the Peshawar district for relief of members bereft in recent disorders. A government order previously issued forbids such a step.

MORE AMERICAN WOMEN AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE

LONDON, May 15—(AP)—In the royal pomp and pageantry of London's second court of the season, nine American women curtseyed tonight to King George and Queen Mary.

The American women, seven of whom were matrons, were part of a bevy of 400 court debutantes. Eight American girls were presented at yesterday's court.

Among the American women presented, Mrs. Clark Howell of Atlanta, Georgia, was an outstanding figure. She wore a pink moire gown, delicately embroidered with rhinestones, with a graceful circular skirt of uneven hemline. Her train, also of moire, was lined with silver cloth. She carried a pink and silver feather fan.

The American women presented tonight were:

Mrs. Clark Howell, of Atlanta, Georgia.
Mrs. Louis Burguiere of California.
Mrs. Hoke Smith of Georgia.
Mrs. John K. Davis of Ohio.
Miss Carley Robinson of Louisville, Kentucky.
Miss Doris Duke of Durham, North Carolina.
Mrs. Robert Appleton of New York.
Mrs. Robert P. Scripps of Ridge-
Mrs. Robert P. Scripss of Ridgefield, Connecticut.
Mrs. David S. Hanbrahan.

MISTAKE OF RUM BOAT CREW LED TO CAPTURE

STURGEON BAY, Wis., May 15.—(AP)—A case of mistaken identity was revealed tonight as the reason why coast guardsmen were able to capture rum runner No. 18 from Amherstburg, Ont., where she slipped into Green Bay from Lake Michigan last night.

Members of the crew of six, in jail here, said they believed a cutter from the Plum Island guard station was "only a fishing boat." They let her draw up alongside and cover them before the coast guard colors were run up and they realized their mistake.

Admirals Differ On London Naval Treaty

Senate Committee, Puzzled, Turns Inquiringly to the General Board of the Navy For Light

WASHI[illegible] May 15.—(AP)—Sharply [illegible]g positions on the Londo[illegible] limitations treaty were tak[illegible] two senate committees [illegible]wo of America's outstanding [illegible] and the puzzled senate in[illegible]s turned inquiringly tonight to [illegible] general board of the navy.

Leaving a sick bed, Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, one of the naval advisers at London, went before the foreign relations committee to assail the pact as one giving the edge to both Great Britain and Japan at the expense of the American navy.

Emphasizing his answers with forceful gestures, Admiral William V. Pratt, also a naval adviser at London and commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, told the naval committee at the same time that the limitations agreement was "the best that could be obtained and was one satisfactory to him."

The unheralded attack upon the London pact by Admiral Jones led to close questioning by Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, one of the American delegation. Jones held his position under the cross-examination.

The white-haired admiral insisted the treaty would leave the American fleet "frozen in a condition from which it cannot escape" in 1936; would give Japan a ratio of 5-5 plus instead of the 5-3 ratio established by the Washington conference, and that its limitations upon eight-inch gun cruisers would impair the effectiveness of the American fleet in favor of the British.

Secretary Adams, the other witness of the day, described the treaty as a "compromise." This, he told Senators Johnson of California and Robinson of Indiana, republicans, in response to questions as to why he had "yielded" his position for more eight-inch cruisers. He suggested a "more deliberate" building program than the ten-year scheme involving $1,000,000,000 which was advocated by Admiral Pratt.

Admiral Jones was forced by illness to leave London before the conference ended. He still showed signs of weakness but quickly responded to questions and insisted that a better agreement on cruisers could have been obtained.

Admiral Pratt disclosed in the naval committee hearing that the navy general board was not consulted during the London negotiations, although he said he had referred to its papers before he went there. Pointed questioning by Chairman Hale regarding whether Pratt had changed his views resulted in confusion and a final demand by Senator Shortridge, republican, California, that the examination be confined to the London parley.

Leaving the committee room, Chairman Borah, of the foreign relations committee, said he was inclined to agree with Admiral Jones in the controversy with Admiral Pratt over the eight-inch and the six-inch guns but he warned that this did not indicate his position on the treaty itself.

CONSERVATIVE OPPOSITION TO NAVAL TREATY IN COMMONS

LONDON, May 15.—(AP)—The London naval treaty was hailed by the government today as it was debated in the house of commons but ran into heavy conservative opposition.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald spoke at length for the treaty, asserting that upon its foundations were laid the hopes for future disarmament and said he was most hopeful for good results from the continuing conversations between France and Italy for solution of their parity argument.

But the conservatives, with Winston Churchill leading them, declared that with the treaty Great Britain had not attained parity with the United States in the sense that both should be equal on the seas, and instead had given formal acceptance of definitely inferior sea power.

"We cannot invest this act of the government with national sanction," he said.

The prime minister reminded the house that while the London conference had been marked by an agreement between Great Britain, the United States and Japan, its work was not finished. Conversations were continuing between Italy and France, he continued, and he had hopes that those talks would result in an agreement which would transform the three-power treaty into a full five-power agreement.

Then he said that the London meeting had not been merely a naval conference but had aimed at contributing to the cause of general disarmament.

AN AIR AND SEA TRAGEDY OFF HAWAII; ONE LIFE AND THREE AIRPLANES LOST

HONOLULU, May 15—(AP)—A dramatic adventure of air and sea cost the life of Staff Sergeant Joseph Becker of Brooklyn, N. Y., and caused the loss of three military airplanes between the islands of Maui and Hawaii yesterday. Twelve other army and navy fliers whose planes rode the rough waves from noon yesterday until early today were brought safely ashore by rescuing surface vessels.

Becker died when an army bombing plane fell into the ocean while accompanying a fleet of forty-one army and navy planes from Luke and Wheeler fields, near here, to Hilo, Hawaii. A navy seaplane and two army amphibian planes were brought down by their crews to rescue the bomber's men. They picked up three men, but the rescuing planes were unable to rise from the rough waters.

While flying 8,000 feet high, the bomber broke an aileron control and began its descent. Becker's parachute opened prematurely as he was about to leap, and became entangled in the bomber's rigging. Two other members of the crew parachuted at an altitude of 4,000 feet and were picked up by the rescuing planes.

Lieutenant T. L. Boyd of Washington, D. C., pilot of the bomber, remained with the ship in an heroic effort to extricate Becker and was drawn into the whirling stabilizer. Boyd's legs were lacerated, his shoes and socks torn off and his clothing reduced to rags. Three thousand feet above the sea, Boyd freed himself and leaped with his parachute into the waves.

A naval seaplane commanded by Lieutenant M. A. Schur followed the parachuting men down and picked up Boyd, Staff Sergeant H. Alexander of Kenedy, Ala., and Private H. L. Cowan of Syracuse, N. Y. Becker was carried down by the bomber beneath the waves.

Boyd, Alexander and Cowan were brought to a hospital here to be treated for exposure.

Boyd was about to jump when he saw Becker's parachute entangled in the rigging and he went to the assistance of his sergeant. The attempt to free Becker failed and Boyd parachuted as Becker was dragged down by the plane into the high waves, leaving only an oil scum where the ship sank.

The steamer Hawaii rescued Lieutenant E. W. Rawlings, Sergeant R. F. Summers, Lieutenant Schur, Lieutenant C. A. Hawkins, Aviation Pilot A. R. Schlacks, Chief Radio Man J. H. Dobson and Machinist A. J. Kuchergis. One of the planes drifted forty miles before its men were rescued.

Through the long hours of day and night army and navy planes circled over the fallen planes, unable to give assistance owing to the rough sea. Several surface vessels which hastened to the scene were unable at once to locate the drifting planes.

SHOWDOWN ON THE TARIFF BILL IN THE SENATE TODAY

Republican Independents to Support Democrats In Opposing Attempt By Republican Regulars to Work Out An Adjustment of the Flexible Provision and Debenture Plan Over Which the Conferees Are In Deadlock—Republican Regular Forces Are Worried—Showdown Will Come On Adoption Or Rejection of the Complete Conference Agreement

WASHINGTON, May 15—(AP)—The question whether the tariff bill will go to the white house or die in conference will be placed squarely before the senate tomorrow.

This critical stage of the negotiations between the senate and house over the Hawley-Smoot measure was brought about by a decision of senate democrats today to oppose an attempt by the republican regulars to gain a free hand in working out an adjustment of the flexible provision and debenture plan over which the conferees are in deadlock.

The republican independents said they would support the democrats in their fight, but they were not as confident as their coalition friends that the move would be successful.

Leaders of the republican regular forces were frankly worried, but are counting heavily on returning the bill to conference so the final showdown will come on adoption or rejection of the complete conference agreement.

Tomorrow Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, will make a technical motion to insist, without instructions, on the senate's amendments which have been turned down by the house. This would get the bill back into conference on a negotiable basis. The house managers have refused to confer until the senate has given its conferees a free hand.

The senate democrats will counter with a move to instruct the conferees not to abandon the debenture and flexible provision withdrawing presidential rate changing power.

Senator Norris, of Nebraska, a leader of the republican independents, who with the democrats wrote the debenture and legislative flexible provision into the bill over the protest of President Hoover, said he would vote for the democratic motion, but doubted it would carry.

All agreed, however, that success in the democratic attempt would in effect kill the measure. The bill would go back to conference, but the house conferees, backed by an over-whelming vote in the house against the senate provisions, would be expected to hold their ground.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the democratic leader, believed the debate would not be drawn out.

Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, one of the democratic conferees said the minority regarded the two provisions adopted by the senate as "vital to the welfare of the American people."

"We will not recede on them" he asserted.

The conferees have been called to meet tomorrow morning, but members of both groups were in the dark tonight as to the purpose of the meeting.

SERVICE FOR DECEASED MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—The house of representatives laid aside legislative activities today to pay tribute to its dead.

In an hour long memorial service, its members listened with bowed heads and in silence to a roll call of the 12 house members and three senators who have passed away during the past 14 months. Immediately afterward the house adjourned for the day in further tribute.

And as each name was called, a red carnation was dropped simultaneously into a vase standing below the speaker's dais from the hands of Mrs. Mary T. Norton, a democratic member of the house from New Jersey.

Then, as a moment of devotional silence was declared and ended, the voice of the widow of a late Oregon representative, Mrs. Nicholas J. Sinnott, singing, "Christ Went Up Into the Hills," was echoed back from the walls of the chamber that had resounded the voices of the men whose passings were mourned.

The senators whose names were on the roll were Lawrence D. Tyson, of Tennessee; Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, and Francis E. Warren, of Wyoming.

The representatives were Royal H. Weller, of New York; Charles W. Roark, of entucky; W. P. Martin, of Louisiana; John J. Casey, of Pennsylvania; Wesley J. Steele, of Georgia; O. J. Kvale, of Minnesota; William W. Griest, of Pennsylvania; William K. Kaynor, of Massachusetts! Elmer O. Leatherwood, of Utah; James A. Hughes, of West Virginia; James P. Glynn, of Connecticut, and Robert Q. Lee, of Texas.

MORE THAN 300 NURSES AT MEETING IN MERIDEN

MERIDEN, May 15.—(AP)—More than 300 nurses from all parts of the state gathered at the Center Congregational church here this afternoon to attend the business session of the Connecticut Graduate Nurses' association, which brought to a close the all-day spring meeting of that organization. President Irene V. Muller presided at the business meeting, when reports of committees were read, followed by an interesting presentation of a staff conference by members of the Waterbury mental hygiene clinic.

The most important part of the conference was the resolution passed and adopted at the public health nursing section meeting this morning, that a letter be sent to the state board of finance, informing it of the acute problem presented in the tuberculosis work, by the lack of beds for patients.

TOWARD RESTRICTION OF IMMIGRATION FROM MEXICO

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—In the face of opposition by the state department, the house immigration committee today went forward with plans for a vote Monday on the Harris-Box bill to place Mexican immigration under the quota system, with predictions freely made among committee members that the measure would be approved.

A definite decision for the Monday vote was reached after Under-Secretary Cotton of the state department had contended before the committee that the bill would do no "actual good" toward cutting down Mexican immigration. He said it might have an adverse effect on three projects affecting Mexicans and Americans in which the department felt Mexican cooperation was essential.

JUSTICE DEPT. NOT STARTING "TRUST BUSTING" CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—The department of justice in a statement today said it was not starting a "trust busting" campaign and that there was no occasion for any such campaign.

The department said developments in economic life bring forward new problems in relation to the Sherman act which have to be clarified by the courts.

"Where there are cases of actual and deliberate violation of the act, the department proceeds to enforce the law," the statement said. "There is no change in policy in respect of any of these matters."

The statement did not say what called it forth.

INAUGURATED PRESIDENT OF REPUBLIC OF HAITI

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, May 15.—(AP)—Eugene Roy, choice of President Hoover's commission, elected by the Haitian council of state April 21, today was inaugurated president of the island republic. A demonstration against retiring President Borno alone provided a note of discord to the event. The inauguration ceremony, which took place in the chamber of deputies was without any of the unpleasantnesses which recently have marked the progress of political life in Haiti. The new president, 62 years old and an independent, takes the office vacated by President Luis Borno, whose term lasted eight years. President Roy brought to the office almost unanimous support of Haiti's several political groups. Among his first acts will be selection of a council of state. He will develop plans for a popular election this summer or autumn when a president will be regularly elected by a vote of the people. His selection was made by President Borno's council of state.

Inauguration day was ideal for all of the eight ceremonies, which began at sunrise with the firing of the presidential salute of 21 guns. The president-elect was escorted to the chamber of deputies, following raising of the national colors, by a procession of high officials, who witnessed the taking of the oath of office. The party then attended a mass in the cathedral, after which the new chief went to the palace accompanied by his cabinet and the state council, president and vice-president, for a formal communication to him of the authorities of his post.

The new Roy cabinet tonight was announced as follows:

Frederic Bernadin, Cape Haitian minister of foreign relations.

Rudolph Barrau, minister of interior and justice.

Ernest Douyon, leader of the Union Patriotique, Cayes, minister of public works.

Damocles Vieux, public instruction.

Franck Roy, minister of finance (distant cousin of President Roy and employe National Bank of Haiti).

It was reported that two sons of the president would be appointed consuls to New York and Havre.

$250,000 SUIT AGAINST MAGAZINE PLAIN TALK

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 15—(AP)—J. C. Walton, former governor of Oklahoma, filed suit in United States district court here today against Plain Talk, an eastern magazine, asking damages of $250,000, charging he was libeled by an article "Whoopie in Oklahoma," published in its May issue. Walton was impeached and removed from the governor's office.

Walton's petition characterized as "false, scandalous and libelous" an article by Walter W. Liggett, a writer in Plain Talk, dealing with Walton's activities while governor.

Three Oklahoma City hotels were named as co-defendants on allegations that copies of the magazine were sold from their news stands. The petition also set out that the magazine had a "glaring red front cover."

MAUDE ADAMS TO RETURN TO THE AMERICAN STAGE

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—Maude Adams, in retirement for 13 years, is coming back to the American stage, an announcement today said.

Last seen here in Sir James M. Barrie's "A Kiss for Cinderella," Miss Adams has signed a contract to appear here in a "modern romantic comedy now in process of completion by a well-known American playwright." The announcement was made by the Erlanger offices today.

Miss Adams had become almost a legendary figure since her retirement. She is said to have been living quietly in a mid-town apartment, seldom going out and hardly ever to the theatre.

ALUMNI OF STATE NORMAL SCHOOL TO HOLD REUNION

(Special to The Bulletin)

WILLIMANTIC, May 15—A call has been issued throughout all parts of the country for the alumni reunion of the Willimantic State Normal school to be held at the Windham street school here Saturday with a program of morning and afternoon sessions.

The return of many graduates of the school is expected for this event. The last general reunion was held eight years ago, each of these years turning out classes which were the largest in the history of the school, with the result that the reunion is expected to be by far the largest ever held. With the assistance of the faculty of the school and representatives of the alumni located in this city or its immediate vicinity no effort has been spared to make the 1930 reunion a red letter day for the alumni.

The general invitation issued was signed by George H. Shafer, principal, and contained a greeting by Elmer E. Ellsworth, president of the alumni and member of the faculty of the Newton public schools, West Newton, Mass. Among former principals and teachers expected to be present at the reunion are Messrs. Phenix, Burr and Staebner. The program will begin at 10 o'clock in the forenoon with a business meeting in the auditorium of the Windham street school, followed by individual class meetings. At 12:30 there will be a luncheon in the gymnasium of the school and at 1:30 there will be entertainment and a speaking program in the auditorium.

Among matters of business to be taken up by the alumni body will be a report of the scholarship fund, known as the Miss Dennehy memorial fund, which was established at the last alumni meeting, May 6, 1922. The establishment of the fund was the action of the faculty and was endorsed by the alumni. The sum of $5,000 was set as a goal and the committee decided not to disturb the fund until it should yield an annual income of at least $200.

The scholarship was originally intended as a gift, to be awarded to some senior, high in scholarship, who should find herself in need of funds. At the suggestion of Principal Shafer and the committee, the matter of changing the policy of the fund to administer it as a loan fund, thereby giving it much wider use, will be brought up for a vote. It is felt by the committee that as a loan fund it would be more readily accepted by a student than as an outright gift. Since the 1922 reunion contributions to the fund have been small, but at present the principal is about $2,700 and is increasing largely by bank interest alone. Eliza Rawson Spencer is chairman of the Dennehy fund committee.

INVITED FOR DISCUSSION OF PROPOSED SCHOOL BUDGET

[illegible]he Bulletin)

[illegible] May 15—A sec[illegible] the Taxpayers' Pro[illegible]n of Windham to meet with the town school board and go over details of the school budget which is now ready for inspection, has been extended through Secretary Egbert A. Case. The budget must be completed for the June meeting of the board, which will be the last until September and in view of this Dr. George E. Wilcox, president of the Taxpayers' association, has been asked to have a committee of the association meet with the board in the near future. The amount of the budget for the year 1929-'30 was $200,000. Up to April 1 a total of $107,229.78 has been expended leaving a balance of $92,770.22. The budget for 1929 was $191,000. The new budget now in the course of study amount sto about $200,000.

A discussion on the proposed budget at the May meeting of the school committee held at the high school Wednesday night brought out the fact that there will be increases in some of the items, especially in that concerning increased attendance at the Windham street school which is under state supervision. The town pays on the basis of pupil registration which this year increased 50 at the rate of about $80 per pupil, making an additional cost of $4,000. The high school registration is also larger this year.

In order to allow Principal Harry K. Viner more time to attend to his duties as principal of Natchaug grammar school and superintendent of the grammar schools at Windham Center and North Windham, as well as directing music at the three schools, it was voted to secure a stenographer to perform clerical and other work at the Natchaug school office, the salary being fixed at $15 per week.

The report of Principal Laurence A. King of the Windham Evening school was accepted, the term being considered a success. The cost was $2,886.56, with an average attendance during the term of 104 pupils. The cost per pupil for the season was $27.75, or 86 cents per night.

Owing to conflicting dates with the Windham high school play, Friendly Enemies, to be presented this month for the benefit of the Community Reunion week fund, the directors of the chamber of commerce have voted to postpone the proposed monthly [illegible]bership meeting indefinitely. [illegible] date of the play was the [illegible] date available to a New York [illegible] invited to address the membership and it was further felt that such a meeting would conflict with the many preparations for the Community Reunion week.

The Community orchestra with [illegible] Mary Rose Blanchette conductor, [illegible] appear in its first annual concert at the Windham high school auditorium Sunday evening. The assisting artist will be Celia Guerney, whose real name is Miss Celia Cohen of this city, a contralto and a member of the [illegible] Theatre Opera company of New [illegible]. The proceeds of the concert will be directed to maintenance of the orchestra toward which Miss Blanchette and all players contribute their services gratis in the interest of musical appreciation and promotion in the community. There are 26 instrumentalists in the orchestra.

In the monthly report of the properties committee to the town school committee, Chairman William B. Sweeney states that progress is being made on improvements to the school athletic field on Mountain street. The field has been surveyed by Acting City Engineer John F. Collins and arrangements have been made for excavating and grading. Preliminary work is to be started soon, the expense being met from a balance still available from the original appropriation voted for this purpose. The contract to put the field to proper grade is expected to be awarded this week in the hope that the work will be advanced sufficiently to allow the high school football games to be staged there next fall.

Demonstrations of outboard motors, fly-casting, trap-shooting, boating and other outdoor sports will be included in the program of a field day to be held by the Windham Fish and Game club Saturday afternoon. The event will be staged on the grounds recently leased by the club on the shore of the Shetucket river, south of the main road to Scotland dam. The gathering will be informal and an invitation to anyone interested in outdoor life or fish and game preservation, has been extended. The club, with a membership of over 100, is planning improvements to the land acquired, including the erection of a clubhouse.

The graduation exercises of the three grammar schools coming under town supervision will be held jointly on Wednesday evening, June 18, in the Windham high school auditorium, this year. Diplomas will be presented by School Committeeman Stanley J. Sumner. The schools coming under this department are the Natchaug, Windham Center and North Windham grammar schools. Separate graduations at the respective school buildings have been the past custom. The Windham high school commencement will be held Thursday evening, June 19, with Dr. F. E. Guild, chairman of the school board, to present the diplomas.

Willimantic and vicinity have the assurance of at least two circuses coming to play here during the summer. During the past 24 hours the Miller Brothers 101 Ranch Shows secured a permit from City Clerk Arthur L. Clark to play at Woods Acres on Jackson street about the middle of June and Sparks shows secured a permit to appear two days in advance of the other circus.

Lebanon Census

The town of Lebanon, New London county, has a population of 1,433 in 1930, as compared with 1,343 in 1920, a gain of 90 during the past ten years. The returns from Lebanon, as filed at the census office here shows that there are 243 farms in the area.

TWO EXTRA TROUT COST ROCKVILLE MAN $15.52

(Special to The Bulletin)

STAFFORD SPRINGS, May 15.—Kenneth W. Little of Rockville pleaded giulty to the charge of catching trout in excess of the legal limit, when he was presented before Judge Heald in the borough court Thursday morning. He paid a fine of $3 and costs of $12.52. Mr. Little was apprehended by Deputy Game Warden Ransom B. Tifft, of Ashford when he had about completed his haul at Roaring brook, Wednesday evening. Upon being asked by the warden concerning the number he had taken he stated that he had taken the limit, which is twenty. The warden, however, felt suspicious, examined the fisherman's basket and found 22.

UNION

Peach, plum, cherry and pear blossoms have already given their round of enjoyment, and the wind has blown them away. The apple bloom is yet at its height of loveliness. Not only nearly all orchard appletrees are in blossom, but all wild appletrees that are scattered, here and there, by roadside and in pastures, are doing their best to make this Maytime fragrant and beautiful. A few warm days caused such a magical transformation from bare brown hills and vales, to a glorious wealth of bloom and verdure, that it has seemed more like June than May.

Mother's day was observed with a sermon by the pastor, Rev. William Bragg, from the text "Despise Not Thy Mother When She is Old," Proverbs 23:22. He also sang a special solo.

Mother's day brought guests and callers at various homes. At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bradway, the latter's mother, Mrs. Jennie Bradway, of Stafford was the guest of honor. Her other daughters and their families from Brookfield, and Hopkinton, Mass., and her son and family from Fairview, Mass., with other relatives from Brimfield, Mass., were dinner guests. Other friends from Monson, Mass., were callers in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Dalbeare, of Norwich spent the week end at their camp on Hemlock Island, Lake Mashapaug.

Vistor Kaleta, Jr., mechanician in the department of aviation, U. S. Army, was at his home in Mashapaug for a brief visit. He had a leave of absence of two days, while being transferred from Panama to Chicago. During his three years of duty in Panama he was at home on one furlough.

Joseph Tyler is in Johnson Memorial hospital, suffering from a bad wound on his hip. He was operating a circular saw, in the box shop at Kenyonville, when a board stuck in the saw and he was hurt.

The 4-H Cackling club of Rock Meadow, assisted by Miss Mary Daley, teacher of Rock Meadow school, will present a minstrel show in the town hall at Union Center.

Helen Bradway as delegate from the Cackling club, attended the 4-H Round Up in Hartford recently.

A man isn't necessarily wealthy because he has more money than brains.

COLCHESTER

D. A. R. CHAPTER ELECTS MRS. ANNIE GILBERT REGENT

Colonel Henry Champion chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held a well-attended annual meeting at Nathaniel Foote chapter house Wednesday afternoon. The following officers were elected: Regent, Mrs. Anne Gilbert of Hebron; vice regent, Mrs. Clarence H. Norton, North Westchester; secretary, Mrs. Malcolm Leal, Colchester; treasurer, Miss Anne Clark, Hebron; registrar, Mrs. N. N. Hills, East Hampton; historian, Miss Susan B. Pendleton, Hebron. A vote of appreciation was extended the retiring regent, Mrs. Frederick G. Bock who has served so ably for the past three years. Mrs. N. N. Hills and Miss Anne Clark, delegates from the local chapter, submitted interesting reports of the recent D. A. R. national congress in Washington. The yearly reports of the chapter officers were read and voted approved. The regent's report brought out the fact that Attorney Edward M. Day of Hartford, recently presented the chapter the deed to the land on which the Nathaniel Foote chapter house stands—this being the plot of ground bounded by land owned by Miss Sarah W. Bigelow, the town of Colchester, the estate of Mrs. W. S. Curtis and the state highway.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Fred G. Bock, assisted by Mrs. Chauncey G. Markham, Miss Marion A. Bock and Mrs. Earl R. Holmes.

Elmer H. Foote, Gilbert J. Murray and Robert E. Greene were callers on friends in East Haddam Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Case were out in search of trout at brooks on the outskirts of the village on a recent morning, returning with a fine string of beauties, several of which measured thirteen inches. These are the biggest trout reported caught in this vicinity so far this season.

Colchester friends were in Norwich Wednesday and Thursday attending the superior court trial of Andrew Link of Willimantic, charged with manslaughter as the aftermath of the automobile accident last Dec. 8 on the Wade hill on the Colchester-Norwich road when John E. Shea of Willimantic, an occupant of the Link car, was fatally injured.

Built Fire Without Permit

S. Legumsky of Hell Hill avenue was fined $1 and costs on a charge of building a brush fire without a permit when he appeared before Justice Charles F. Brown in the local justice court Wednesday. Deputy Fire Warden Elmer H. Foote made the arrest.

Miss Beatrice Berman returned Thursday after undergoing a minor operation in the Hartford hospital.

Max Cohen is at his home on Norwich avenue, after spending the winter in New York city.

Miss Sarah Waite Bigelow has returned to her summer home here having spent the winter in St. Petersburg, Florida.

WILSONVILLE

Rose Piezotti, who was taken to Putnam hospital last Tuesday night and was operated on for appendicitis, is getting along very favorably.

If You Have Bad Feet

Read What This Grateful English Woman Writes About Radox

"Fifteen years ago I began to suffer with bad feet and corns, and as time went on they got from bad to worse, thus making life a misery. I was recommended to try Radox (after spending a small fortune in one 'cure' or another). I found very great relief in a very short time. I am pleased to say that my corns, also the hard skin from the soles of my feet have disappeared, and walking, which was a torture, is now a pleasure. I can assure you that I recommended Radox to all my friends."

Mrs. L. P. W.,
Peterborough, England.
23rd September, 1929.

When you put your feet into a footbath containing Radox, the salts soften the hard outer layers of the corn, and the oxygen which Radox liberates enters the pores, opens them, and penetrates further and further, carrying the corn-softening salts right into the root of the corn, which is thus loosened so that it can be lifted out bodily.

Get a generous box of Radox at Lee and Osgood or any drugstore in America—a 15 minute bath three or four successive nights will rid you of corns and callouses.

TEXACO-ETHYL

THE "DRY" ETHYL GASOLINE

The Texas Company announces that now Texaco, the original "dry" gas, is available with the Ethyl compound. It means the linking of two famous names in motor fuels to produce one of the finest premium anti-knock gasolines ever offered the motoring public—Texaco-Ethyl!

The Ethyl compound in itself cannot perform miracles. It's the gasoline base that makes the difference in Ethyls. The better the fuel you begin with, the better the resulting Ethyl Gasoline.

The new and better Texaco, the original "dry" gas that vaporizes instantly, plus Ethyl, equals the last word in automobile fuels. Texaco, the driest of dry gases, permits complete and uniform diffusion of Ethyl through the manifold into the cylinders. It creates higher standards of pick-up, power, speed and mileage for any car, old or new. This new premium grade is now available at Texaco Service Stations to all motorists who desire a superior anti-knock gasoline. Try it today!

DWIGHT W. MORROW'S STATEMENT

New Jersey has been looking forward to its senatorial campaign. Because of the fact that Ambassador Morrow was to be a candidate therein there has been a nation-wide interest in the coming contest. But added interest has been created by the position which candidates have taken.

Yesterday Ambassador Morrow made a formal statement concerning his candidacy and disclosed where he stands in regard to prohibition. He has been aware of the flop that was made by former Senator Frelinghuysen from the drys to the wets. He has also known that should he declare himself wet he could expect to be faced by an opponent who would be put into the field by the drys, and the name of Congressman Fort has been brought forth in that connection.

Because of his recognized ability and the excellent service that he has rendered as ambassador to Mexico and as delegate to the London conference, his entrance into politics has been widely watched. Because of the high regard in which he is held and the excellent judgment he has displayed, much importance has been attached to his declaration of policy. He has been unwilling to accept a temporary appointment in the senate for political advantage. He has insisted upon getting the nomination and election, if possible, by the vote of the people and, because of this, his initial campaign speech carries added significance.

Mr. Morrow makes it evident that he believes in upholding the law and favors generous appropriations for the enforcement of the 18th amendment as long as it is in the Constitution. He favored the use of such appropriations for keeping liquor out of the country and to prevent interstate traffic in it, but he made it clear that he was prepared to vote, if elected, for a resolution for the repeal of the amendment. He believes that there should be restored to the states the power to determine their policy toward the liquor traffic. Further than that, he would have the federal government give all possible protection and assistance to states that desire complete prohibition.

Mr. Morrow has set forth his position in a manner that leaves no doubt. He declares the saloon must not come back. He is unquestionably expressing his own convictions, but he knows the attitude of New Jersey. He doesn't stand in the position of having been an ardent dry and switching, but of having formed his opinion as the result of the test that has been made during the past 12 years and the "wholly unregulated liquor traffic" that has grown up.

Mr. Morrow handles the situation without gloves. He doesn't quibble over the question and he makes a statement that will not only arouse much attention in New Jersey but throughout the country. He doesn't stand for modification, but for repeal and a new deal.

REGULATING PEDESTRIANS

Handling traffic in a small city may have its difficulties but when it comes to large cities, with their constant flow of autos and the stream of pedestrians, there is a real problem.

Having had it established by the courts that the pedestrian has the right of way at crossings which are unguarded, it is the plan of the police commissioner of New York to find out how far he can go in the regulation of pedestrian traffic even as he does that of the motor vehicles. Under it he restricts the crossing of streets by pedestrians at any other place than crossings. They shall not cross at crossings where police or signals are stationed except when traffic is stopped, but pedestrians who have started across the street when traffic is stopped must be permitted to reach the other side. At the unguarded crossings pedestrians must have the right of way.

It is the purpose of the commissioner to take the case of a violator to court for an early test of his new regulations so that it will be known what lengths the police force can go to in the enforcement of the restrictions and whether the control of the pedestrian is within his jurisdiction.

The problem is to keep street traffic moving as rapidly as possible and yet give a fair chance and a safe crossing to the pedestrian. The jay walker has long since been responsible for many of the accidents, quite the same as the auto driver has been. The willingness to cooperate for the sake of safety is never displayed by certain persons. There is an insistence upon having the right of way under all conditions, whether on foot or in a machine, and yet there are those times when regulations are of such a character that it is difficult for anyone to know what should be done.

The idea of telling pedestrians that they cannot cross the street except at established crossings is for their own welfare. There are, nevertheless, plenty of times when crossing in the middle of the block can be accomplished with a greater degree of safety than at a corner where traffic is moving in all directions. Whatever the outcome of the new regulations in the big city, there will probably continue to be too many of the preventable accidents.

THE TREATY HEARINGS

Not one, but two senatorial committees are delving into the London pact in an effort to decide whether this country has received proper consideration and whether it should be ratified. It might seem as if a probe by the committee to which the treaty has been referred would be sufficient to meet the requirements of the situation and produce all the facts, but there is certain opposition which thinks otherwise, and as long as it does and has the authority it proceeds to exercise it.

Thus, far from such questioning as has been fired at the delegates by the foreign relations committee, the treaty does not show up in a bad light. It is to be expected that there would be a desire to know what certain provisions meant, why certain things were done and why they were not done in a different way. The committee has found that the delegates have been prepared to answer all the questions and to give satisfactory reasons for the action taken. Only in a few instances have answers been reserved for private replies. It may have been a bit surprising to the committee to learn that less importance is attached to the eight inch cruisers than had been previously supposed, that even naval experts see an advantage in the six inch equipment.

From the questioning it is indicated that the differences that existed in the demands were such that some concessions were to be expected from all of them. That they were made is evidenced by the signed treaty, but importance is attached to the declarations that the United States has not suffered by the agreement reached.

The inquiry thus far appears to have done much in the way of clarifying certain points which were not understood. The delegates have all manifested a thorough understanding of the conference accomplishments and the basis for reaching them. There has been indicated thorough agreement and harmony among the delegates and the impression created, even after rather vigorous questioning, has been most favorable.

OUR SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

For the past two years Norwich has been interested in the organization and maintenance of a symphony orchestra. It has been no small undertaking. From the first it found a welcome among the musicians of Norwich and vicinity and encountered a desire to see such a musical organization become a fixture.

This effort has been made without thought of profit. Its purpose has been to make a cultural contribution to Norwich, a laudable aim, and one that should receive not only the appreciation of musicians but of the music lovers of the community.

At various times organizations of a similar character, possibly on a smaller scale, have been launched, given their best for a certain period and then for varying reasons faded away. There should be no lack of interest, encouragement, support for the efforts that are back of bringing and keeping together a group of well-trained players. It means much to a city if it can boast of such an organization. Having it, there should be an eagerness to keep it and develop it.

Norwich has heard the symphony orchestra and will hear it again. It should be proud of such an aggregation of artists and the enthusiasm of the players should only be exceeded by that of the music-lovers in encouraging them to greater efforts.

WAR IN CHINA

China's wars never fail to interest the rest of the world. Just at the present time the civil strife is an attack upon the nationalist government which had secured control in China after a bitter fight and which has instituted a number of radical changes.

There are sections of China which are at the mercy of bandit gangs which have been murdering and looting in a horrible manner without much check being placed upon their activities. Because of the sending of troops to defend the nationalist capital, the bandits encounter less opposition and while other nations are concerned for the protection of their nationals they are also interested in watching the ability of the present government to exercise control.

The strife, which has resulted in a number of large battles and, if reports are correct in heavy casualties, appears to be between factions of the nationalists, all of which raises the question as to the stability of the government and how successful those now in control will be in preventing the war from spreading over a greater area.

Civil war is not new in China but coming at this time, when the new government has been successful in having various demands recognized and even proceeded to put changes into effect against the protest of other nations, it creates the impression that there is lacking that control which ought to have been possessed before China launched out on its plan of ending the extra-territoriality treaties. Whether the interests of Americans can be safeguarded by Chinese courts under existing conditions is something which many would prefer to leave to someone else if the test must be made.

Wars not only serve to make bad conditions worse in China but they never fail to add to the international complications which that country develops all too frequently.

In his plan to visit a group of national parks this summer, President Hoover offers a capital suggestion to many who are seeking some place to go on a vacation.

MOTHER CHANGES HER MIND

"I simply cannot imagine," sputtered Mrs. Gordon distractedly to her young daughter, who was peering intently into the mirror to see that her rouge, lipstick and powder were placed with an artist's touch upon her velvety face, "why you waste your time idling around night after night with some Tom, Dick or Harry. All you ever think about is men, men—and more men. You aren't content unless some poor young man is gazing abstractedly into your eyes and murmuring sweet nothings.

"Whatever will you amount to? Don't you want to make something of yourself in the world? Here you have beauty, brains and charm—and a chance to make a name for yoursefl in business or in most any line you might chose to follow, and you don't care a hoot about making good with al lyour opportunities. No, all you ever think about is making a good impression on some insignificant young cad, who probably doesn't make enough money to keep you in shoes. Mildred Gordon, will you listen to me—"

At this point Mrs. Gordon stopped for breath and Mildred, turning a moment from the consideration of herself in the mirror, said calmly: "You know, mother dear, we've been into all this before, and—"

"Yes," Mrs. Gordon renewed her attack, "we've discussed it—that is, I've discussed it until I'm black in the face,and all the good it does is to make you hop out of the house faster than ever to get away from all my good, though unappreciated, advice. My, oh, my, why must I have such a daughter! It's been my ambition all your life to have you make something of yourself that your family can be proud of.

"There's Mrs. Herbert's daughter, Martha. How her mother does brag about her! And with reason. That girl accomplished something. Mrs. Herbert talks of nothing else at all the club meetings—Martha this and Martha that. And me! All I can do is to sit still and listen to her raving without a chance of saying what a smart girl my own daughter is. All I could possibly say would be that you were out with that Jack Turner for the third time this week, or that you had just bought a new evening dress for some ball or other.

"All the women at the club speak in hushed whispers of Martha Herbert's success. Did you know she has just won the American Artists' association prize for singing and has been awarded a year's scholarship to study in Italy? She leaves Wednesday."

"Yes, but mother—"

"Don't interrupt me," said Mrs. Gordon sarcastically. "I know you don't want to hear how much a young girl your own age has accomplished. No wonder, after you wasting all your time like you do. It seems to me you are seeing a great deal of this young man, Jack Turner, lately. He's been here three times a week for over two months. That's a record, for you. I suppose while Mrs. Herbert has the joy of seeing Martha embark for Italy I'll have the fun of seeing you dash out to the movies with this young Turner person."

"But, mother," protested Mildred earnestly, will you listen—Martha isn't going to Italy."

"What!"

"She told me last night. She's been mad about Jack's brother, Henry, for months, but she's kept him hanging around in suspense. When he gave her her final choice last night either of going to Italy and giving him up forever or of giving up her career and marrying him at once she capitulated in a moment. And—"

"Well," queried Mrs. Gordon from the depths of the chair whence she had weakly subsided, "Martha wants me to marry Jack this month and take an apartment in the same building with her and Henry." A sharp ring was heard from the bell.

"There's Jack now!" cried Mildred, grabbing her hat and coat. "Now, mother, you really won't object if—if—"

"No," said Mrs. Gordon with a resigned little sigh as she kissed her daughter good-by, "I give up. Marry him whenever you like, by all means. You have my blessing!"—Chicago News.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 15—Ramifications of the rejection of Judge Parker by the senate as a supreme court appointee probably will be many and diverse.

Coming as it did on the eve of general primaries in a bye-election year, it is quite conceivable that the debate on Parker's qualifications will figure in a good many state campaigns.

As an immediate matter, however, it remains to be seen what stimulus will be given to the movement in congress to legislate against so-called "yellow dog" labor contracts in as much as the Parker debate turned to a very large degree upon that subject.

No Defense

Senator Borah, closing the case against Judge Parker as leader of the oposition to his confirmation, declared that in the course of the long wrangle no senator "has soiled his lips by defending the justice of the contract which is involved in this controversy."

So far as the Bystander heard or read the debate, it is correct that no senator defended the contract itself, regardless of how ardently he might have defended Judge Parker's action in the Red Jacket injunction proceedings.

But there was more to it than that. Several senators supporting the Parker nomination most vigorously took specific occasion to commit themselves to vote for any feasible legislative proposition outlawing that form of labor contract.

In view of that affirmative attitude, it is going to be interesting to noe what steps toward rushing through a bill in the wash of the Parker rejection active proponents of restrictive legislation like Norris of Nebraska and Shipstead of Minnesota will take.

English View

Incidentally, the Bystander was much interested in the report on the Parker rejection cabled to a London newspaper by its very experienced Washington correspondent, himself a Britisher. Obviously European readers could not be interested in the personalities or domestic political matters involved.

As the Londoner outlined his piece to the Bystander, however, British readers might find much to arouse their attention in the underlying significances.

For this European onlooker views the Parker matter as the culmination in a way of the changes in the American legislative system inaugurated with adoption of the amendment to the constitution providing for popular election of senators.

Not only has the senate become more quickly responsive to popular reactions than the house ever was, in his judgment, but due to its free debate rules it can register that response promptly. The house is too sharply circumscribed by its rules and methods to present a parallel despite the shorter term of house members.

YOUR HEALTH

Not Every Dog That Bites Is Mad

By Arnold H. Kegel, M. D., Chicago.
(From Gorgas Memorial Institute)

Rabies is a disease primarily of the dog, but also affecting other animals and man. Dogs, cats, cattle, horses, sheep, goats, rats, wild animals and even poultry, may contract it. It occurs most frequently among dogs and they are the chief means of spreading it to other animals and to man. Contrary to common belief it is not confined solely to the summer months but is present every month of the year.

The time required for the first symptoms of the disease to appear, after the biting or inoculation, is known as the incubation period and is extremely variable. It may be anywhere from two weeks to several months. In dogs the average is from two to four weeks. The time depends upon the location and the severity of the wound, and on the amount of virus deposited in it.

Bites on parts of the body near the brain, such as the face and head, are particularly dangerous and the symptoms may appear in as short a time as ten days. If the wound is on an extremity and slight, symptoms may be delayed for several weeks or months. In general the nearer the bite is located to the central nervous system and the deeper the wound inflicted, the greater the danger of a fatal result.

But remember that hydrophobia is a preventable disease. So if anyone is bitten:

1. He should go immediately to his family physician, have the wound properly cared for, and ask about taking the Pasteur anti-rabic treatment.

2. The dog should be captured alive and placed under observation. Call for the police to help. If the dog remains well and healthy it may be released and the person bitten need have no fear of contracting rabies. If, on the other hand, the dog has rabies it will manifest symptoms during the observation period and will usually succumb to the disease in from four to seven days.

3. If the dog is known to be rabid, or proves on observation to be so, the Pasteur anti-rabic treatment should be started at once. During the course of the treatment the patient may go about his business as usual.

And a final word. If, as you read this, you can not instantly name the physician you would consult in this or any other emergency, select one at once, before you need him.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORY

Nobody Home

In every life and every day
Doth enter chance a part to play.
—Old Mother Nature.

Blarina the Shrew hunts by night and hunts by day. Of course he sleeps some, as all little people must. However, he doesn't have any regular time for sleeping. He sleeps when he feels like sleeping, and then as soon as he is awake he is up and on his way. You see, that stomach of his will not allow him to sleep long. He must be hunting something to put into his stomach. He is active all winter.

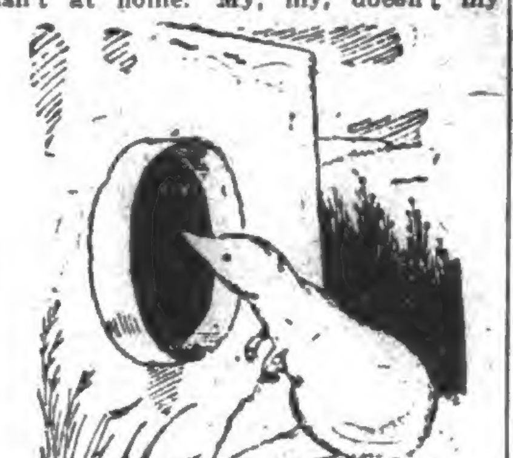
Now, in order to satisfy that tremendous appetite, Blarina has to travel about a great deal. He is never still a minute when he is awake. He is always poking that sharp little nose of his into this and that. As a matter of fact, he couldn't live very long without eating. I mean by that, he would starve in a few hours if he could get nothing to put in his stomach. So Blarina is a busy small person.

It just happened that in his travels Blarina came to an old tin can. It was an old gallon oilcan lying on its side. Blarina didn't see it, because his eyes are not good enough to see things; but he smelled it and he touched it with his whiskers. He didn't know what it was, but he carefully felt all along the edges of it, thinking he might find some insects hiding under it. He went all the way around that old tin can and as he went he was very carefully examining it. When he got around to the end he found a hole.

"Aha!" said Blarina to himself. "This must be a queer kind of hollow log. Holes in logs are always worth looking into."

He carefully felt all around so as to make sure of the size of the hole. Then he didn't hesitate to pop right inside.

"There has been a Mouse in here," said Blarina to himself. "Here is a nest and I can smell Mouse. Yes, sir, I can smell Mouse. A Mouse has been living here. It is too bad that Mouse isn't at home. My, my, doesn't my mouth water just to smell that Mouse! I think I'll wait for that Mouse to come back."



"Aha!" said Blarina to himself. "This must be a queer kind of hollow log"

So Blarina made himself comfortable in the bed of Nanny Meadow Mouse, for of course you know it was Nanny's bed. Then he set himself to wait for Nanny to come back. But there is one thing that Blarina does not have and that is patience. He has no patience at all. He had been in that bed of Nanny's for only a few minutes, but it seemed to him that he had been there ever so long. He couldn't keep still any longer. He got out of that bed and went all around the inside of that can, examining it carefully.

"This is a queer log," said Blarina to himself. "It doesn't feel like wood; it doesn't smell like wood. I believe I'll go out and hunt outside a while and then come back. There is no knowing when that Meadow Mouse will return and I simply must eat. Yes, sir, I simply must eat!"

So Blarina the Shrew popped out of that can just the way he had popped into it and a minute later he was racing along one of the little paths that Nanny Meadow Mouse had cut through the grass. Nanny was a lucky Meadow Mouse, although she didn't know it. She was lucky in that she was not at home when Blarina called. She was lucky again in that she was not using the particular little path that Blarina happened to choose. Had she come home while Blarina was there, she would have had a fight. Had Blarina found her on that little path, she would have had a fight. Nanny is a good fighter, but, like Danny Meadow Mouse, she would have been no match for Blarina the Shrew, even though he was quite a bit smaller.

Blarina found something else to attract his attention and presently he was so far away from that old can that he didn't give it another thought. Meanwhile Nanny had returned and when she went to her bed of dry grass she was certain that it had been disturbed. "Some one has been here," said she. "I know that some one has been here. I wonder who it could have been."

Piles Go Quick

No Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers have not yet learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, after years of study discovered a real internal remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. He prescribed it for 1000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 960 cases, and then decided Pile sufferers everywhere should be able to get HEM-ROID from their own druggist with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Lee & Osgood Co. today. They always guarantee it to give you quick and lasting relief or money-back.

Onondaga County Builds 158 Miles Of Concrete Roads

BACK in 1911, Onondaga County, New York, adopted the policy of a year-by-year improvement of the county roads with first-class pavement.

Now the County has 158 miles of concrete. As a result, the county officials have steadily reduced the road upkeep expense.

When the annual spring "break-up" ties up farm traffic in other sections, Onondaga County farmers continue to haul their milk and produce to market regularly.

Your county can have the advantages of concrete roads also. Consult your County Highway Superintendent—he can tell you how to go about it.

Tomorrow

He was going to be all that a mortal could be
Tomorrow;
No one should be kinder or braver than he
Tomorrow;
A friend who was troubled and weary he knew
Who'd be glad of a lift and who needed it, too;
On him he would call and see what he could do
Tomorrow.

Each morning he stacked up the letters he'd write
Tomorrow;
And thought of the folks he would fill with delight
Tomorrow;
It was too bad, indeed he was busy today,
And hadn't a minute to stop on his way;
"More time I will have to give others," he'd say,
"Tomorrow."

The greatest of workers this man would have been
Tomorrow;
The world would have known him had he ever seen
Tomorrow;
But the fact is he died and he faded from view,
And all that he left here when living was through
Was a mountain of things he intended to do
Tomorrow.

Stories That Recall Others

Fever Symptoms.

One warm night recently a man returned home from work, changed shirts and settled down for an evening at home only to be routed a few minutes later by his wife, who remembered a social call they had to make. Hurriedly he dressed and together they went calling. As the evening wore on he complained about the weather being unusually hot. His wife and the hostess became increasingly solicitous, even hinting that his condition might be the forerunner of a fever. Leaving after the call the couple returned home and the prospective patient hurried upstairs to bed. Undressing, he found some entirely new symptoms of fever. He was wearing two shirts.

From Rhode Island.

Bobby was the only child in the family until the new baby, a sister arrived. A bit jealous he asked his mother where the baby come from. The mother replied that she had come from heaven.

"Did I come from heaven, mother," was the next question.

"Why, yes Bobby," the mother responded.

"Did you come from heaven, mother?"

"Why, of course, Bobby; we all came from heaven."

"No, you didn't mother, I heard daddy say wou came from Rhode Island."

The first major move of the year in the extension of the sphere of influence of the United corporation, Morgan-Drexel-Bonbright utility holding company, appeared today with the announcement of a plan to acquire a 25 per cent interest in the Columbia Gas and Electric company through an exchange of stock.

LIONS HOLD DISCUSSION ON JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOLS

The proposed junior high schools for Norwich were the subject under discussion at the weekly meeting of the Norwich Lions club Thursday noon. The meeting, as usual, was held at the Wauregan hotel, with President Charles W. Cassidy in the chair. Dr. Kopland K. Markoff was the song leader and Fred Geer presided at the piano.

Joseph French, a member of the club, gave a brief talk on the junior high school project and the effect of the construction and upkeep of the buildings on the tax rate. There was a discussion of the matter afterwards, the meeting adjourning about 1:30 o'clock.

The Mary Clapp Wooster chapter of New Haven is to make a pilgrimage to the International College in Springfield, May 19, and invited the members of Gov. Jonathan Trumbull chapter to join them. The chapter is also invited to attend Connecticut Women's college, May 16, when the new president, Miss Blunt, will be welcomed.

The following committees were named to see about flowers for Memorial day: Mrs. David Kitchen (Lebanon Center), Miss Laura McCall (Exeter), Misses Annie and Clara Gillett (Goshen), Mrs. Gurdon Chappell (Liberty Hill). Mrs. William Clark was appointed to purchase wreaths for the Trumbull tomb and memorial tablet. The regent appointed the following for nominating committee: Mrs. A. R. Manning, Mrs. O. L. Pultz and Mrs. C. S. Goodwin. Mrs. William Clark gave a most interesting report of the 39th annual congress of the D. A. R., held in Washington, D. C., which she attended as a delegate from Gov. Jonathan Trumbull chapter. Miss Bertha Perry also gave a brief talk on the congress. A very interesting paper on the Coast Guard was written and read by Miss Laura McCall.

Nineteen members were present. The meeting closed with the D. A. R. pledge. At the close of the meeting the hostesses, Mrs. G. T. Chappell and Mrs. W. E. Burgess, served a dainty lunch, the color scheme being pink and lavender.

ORGANIZATION HERE FOR ALLIED JEWISH CAMPAIGN

A preliminary meeting for the Allied Jewish campaign, which includes the joint distribution committee and the Jewish agency for Palestine, was held here Thursday evening at the Hebrew institute and officers were elected as follows: Chairman, Rabbi J. N. Rosenberg; vice chairman, Abner Schwartz; treasurer, Rabbi Max Stamm; secretary, M. I. Silberman.

Representatives of all the Jewish organizations in the city were present. The Norwich quota is $10,000 in the $6,000,000 national campaign, of which 60 per cent is to go for relief in eastern European countries and 40 per cent for reconstruction in Palestine. In the national organization the honorary chairmen are Felix Warburg, Nathan Straus and Hon. Herbert H. Lehman, lieutenant governor of New York state.

The next meeting in the campaign is to be held at the Wauregan hotel on May 25.

The general local committee comprises: Rabbi Rosenberg, Rabbi Stamm, Michael Levin, Abner Schwartz, Abraham Cramer, Samuel Taylor, Isaac Beckenstein, Isaac Segal, Simon Bloom, H. N. Friedman, Rev. M. A. Tankel, David N. Gordon, Mrs. A. Abelman, Mrs. M. Nevin, Mrs. J. N. Rosenberg, Mrs. Alex Silverman, I. H. Mandel, Samuel Rancher, Jacob Soffer, Alex Silverman, Benjamin Vogel, Philip Silverman, A. L. Raucher, Morris Silverman, C. H. Rogovin, Nathan Weisinger, Louis Pollock, Aaron Goldblatt, Philip Kierstein, M. I. Silverman.

WILL GIVE SWIMMING LESSONS FOR BOYS

Another learn to swim campaign is to be carried out in June by the Y. M. C. A., according to an announcement by Physical Director Howard Demarest. The campaign will begin during the week after the closing of schools for the summer vacation and the instruction is to be for boys in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

The instructions will be given by competent officials and the boys will be watched over by Red Cross life savers during the period that they are in the pool.

The class of prospective mermen will be divided into groups, each section to be given a period of instruction daily during the week.

A year ago a similar campaign was conducted at the Y and at the time 150 boys were taught to swim. It is expected that the class this year will be as large and probably larger.

MOTORCYCLE AND AUTO ON FIRE AT ONCE

Thursday night at 10:15 o'clock the fire department was called out by telephone for a slight fire at the West Side Garage, No. 194 West Main street. Roy Adair, U. S. N., member of the crew of the submarine O-9, had driven his motorcycle to the garage for gasoline. While his gas tank was being filled the machine took fire from the hot motor. A Dodge coupe, owned by J. Drew of Norwich, which was standing near the motorcycle, caught fire. Six gallons of chemical were used on the blaze.

PRIMARY COUNCIL ELECTS MISS MULLEN PRESIDENT

The annual meeting of the Primary council was held Thursday afternoon at Broadway school, the president, Miss Marian Beebe, presiding. Reports were read and accepted. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Miss Ruth Mullen; vice-president, Miss Helen Gallup; secretary, Miss Charlotte Sullivan; treasurer, Miss Eleanor Peckham. After the business meeting, Miss Florence Battle, supervisor of primary education in the rural schools of Baltic, Versailles, Lebanon, Colchester, Bozrah and Salem, gave a very interesting talk on project work in the primary grades.

Miss Battle is a southern woman and graduated from Columbia university last year.

Room in C. M. T. Camps

Information given out by the C. M. T. C. headquarters at the army base at Boston should be of interest to those young men who have not yet enrolled for the summer camps. The objective set by the war department for New England is 4,800 applicants, and as 4,000 enrollments have been made to date, authorities at the army base announced that 800 additional applications will be received before recruiting for the camps is closed. These will be considered in the order of their receipt.

Colonial Club Pinochle

At the Colonial club Thursday night there were ten tables of pinochle. The prizes: Women—Miss Beetham, 8,060; Mrs. A. Arenberg, 7,590; Mrs. H. Brown, 7,350. Men—M. Liberman, 8,060; J. Clifford, 7,430; J. Kane, 7,390.

TAXPAYERS' COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS ACADEMY TUITION INCREASE WITH BROAD ST.-GREENEVILLE ADDITIONS

Five hundred men and women, at an open meeting held by the Norwich Taxpayers' association in the town hall, Thursday night, unanimously endorsed recommendations submitted by a special committee of the association, providing for an increase in tuition for the town's students at the Norwich Free Academy and eight room additions at the Broad street and Greeneville school buildings. This plan was submitted by the committee as a means of relieving the crowded conditions at the Norwich Free Academy and in the town's grammar schools, in lieu of the two junior high schools recommended by the town school board.

Herbert M. Lerou, president of the Norwich Taxpayers' association, called the meeting to order at 8 o'clock. I am not going to greet you as members of the taxpayers' association, he said. I greet you as taxpayers of our city and town. For the past 60 days we have been told that we are faced with a serious problem as to crowded conditions at the Norwich Free Academy and in the grammar schools. You have heard of the town school committee's recommendations for two junior high schools to take care of that situation. Some taxpayers do not believe in the expenditure of $800,000 plus the cost of land for the junior high schools.

The board of directors of the taxpayers' association authorized the president to name a committee to investigate the junior high school plan. I believe that we are all of one mind that something must be done. Many of us are of the mind that it is not necessary to expend any such amount of money as recommended by the school board. The committee has given this matter very careful consideration. Most of them are present and will answer questions.

We wish to do nothing that will hamper the education we have so long enjoyed in this city. We want a free discussion on the committee's report. At the request of President Lerou, Secretary James Fleming read the committee's report, which follows, in full:

Report Of Taxpayers' Committee.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Norwich Taxpayers' association held on Thursday evening, March 20th, 1930, the president was authorized to appoint a committee of eight members to consider the recommendation of the town school committee that two junior high schools be built by the town at a cost of $800,000 plus cost of sites. These schools to care for the present seventh and eighth grades and a ninth grade and prepare pupils for second high school work; and thus relieve the Norwich Free Academy of the pupils and work at present done there in the first year.

The following were appointed by President Lerou to serve on this committee:

Albert Boardman, Miss Alice Cogswell, Patrick F. Connell, Warren G. Davis, Frank N. Gardner, Joseph Lahn, John D. Nolan and Daniel T. Shea. Mr. Shea could not act and Edward Kirby was appointed in his stead.

This committee met April 9th and Herbert M. Lerou was asked to act with the committee as president and he acceded to the request.

Albert Boardman was appointed secretary.

It was voted to ask Mr. Tirrell to meet the committee. Mr. Tirrell met the committee April 14, 1930.

He stated that in 1922 the Norwich Free Academy asked the town for more room at an estimated cost of $100,000. A committee consisting of the town school committee and others recommended an increase of tuition of town pupils to the Academy from $60 to $100 per year to pay cost of building for the Norwich Free Academy. This proposal was accepted by vote of the town meeting October, 1922.

The extension made by the Academy cost $92,000 plus. They have reduced the indebtedness by about $50,000, leaving a present indebtedness on this account of about $42,000.

The Academy fund is about $800,000, giving an income of about $40,000 per year. The present cost per pupil to the Academy is about $150 with no allowance for depreciation.

The Academy estimates that $250,000 would be needed for another building; an increase of $25 per pupil in tuition charge would take care of this in 14 to 20 years.

Your committee as a result of this meeting decided that any one of the three following propositions would relieve the Academy:

1st—$20,000 to $25,000 per year to the Academy or an increase in tuition charge of $25 per pupil, per year, would allow the Academy to borrow such money as would be necessary to make required addition.

2nd—$250,000 to build a freshman high school to be owned and conducted by the town.

3d—$250,000 to build and operate a technical high school to reduce the number of pupils attending the Academy.

At our meeting with the town school committee they explained that their program had been five new schools. Those at the West Side, Elizabeth street, Bishop school on the East side and the Huntington school at Norwich Town, had been completed and next in order would have been one at Greeneville and one to relieve crowded conditions at Broadway. The letter from the Academy, stating their need of relief by 1931, made it seem best to change their plans to the present proposal of two new schools. One in Greeneville and one in the center to take all the seventh and eighth grade pupils of the town and also room for a ninth grade. In these schools, the first year high school work would be cared for.

This proposal did not appeal to your committee for two reasons: The enormous initial expense; and the fact that it breaks up the work of the Academy and the present relations of the out of town schools and of the parochial schools with the Academy.

Your committee with but one dissenting vote (that of Mr. Boardman) recommend that the tuition of pupils to the Norwich Free Academy be increased by $25 per pupil per year, to enable the Norwich Free Academy to make necessary addition to its buildings.

We recommend the addition of eight rooms to the Broad street school to care for the seventh and eighth grades now at Broadway at a probable cost of $75,000.

Also that an eight room building be put up in rear of present Greeneville school to relieve congestion in that quarter. Probable cost, $75,000.

H. M. LEROU.
FRANK N. GARDNER.
EDWARD KIRBY.
ALICE W. COGSWELL.

After the report had been read President Lerou announced that the meeting was open for discussion.

Where Do Academy Trustees Stand?

George H. Gilman inquired whether the three suggestions embodied in the committee's report had been taken up with the principal of the Academy and wanted to know if the attitude of the Academy trustees had been ascertained by the committee.

In answer, Mr. Boardman said that Mr. Tirrell (principal of the Academy) stands, nobody knows where. Mr. Boardman spoke of Mr. Tirrell's letter to the school board calling attention to the crowded conditions at the Academy. He stated that it would take $250,000 to provide an addition at the Academy. Mr. Boardman said that he asked Mr. Tirrell directly as to his attitude on the junior high school question and said that Mr. Tirrell would not give a direct answer. They (the school board) said Mr. Boardman, wanted Mr. Tirrell to campaign for the junior high school, and Mr. Tirrell told them he couldn't do that. I asked Mr. Tirrell if he would prefer to have all the buildings on the Academy grounds, said Mr. Boardman. I think he rather evaded the question.

As I understand the gentleman, said Mr. Gilman, the Academy trustees have taken no action whatever.

We met with three members of the school board and Mr. Graham (Supt. E. J. Graham) Mr. Boardman replied, and the committee suggested that they meet in Mr. Graham's office so that figures requested would be available. We met in the mayor's office, he said. You can't pin these men down to actual figures. They are like the gas and electric board. Mr. Boardman went on to say that Mr. Lester (Walter F. Lester, chairman of the school board), told the committee of what their plans had been. They had planned for five new schools. But the letter from the Academy broke up their plans.

Immediately Mr. Graham went back to the junior high school plan he tried to pass 10 or 12 years ago, and which was thrown down, Mr. Boardman said. The speaker went on to point out that the crowded conditions at the Greeneville grammar school and Broadway school could be remedied without building junior high schools. Children from Occum are sent to the Greeneville school. There is an empty room at the East Side and I believe there is an empty room at the Laurel Hill school. They don't need to have the congestion they do have. Just the same I would like to see some new school buildings, said Mr. Boardman.

Freshman High School Suggested

I asked Mr. Graham, he continued, if he had considered establishing a freshman high school. No, he hadn't. Why didn't you? Mr. Boardman said he inquired of Mr. Graham.

A freshman high school could be built for $250,000, Mr. Boardman continued, and it could be expanded into a four-year high school. Our school conditions are not what they should be. On the other hand they are not as bad as represented. They, (the school board) have simply taken on one proposition, Mr. Boardman said. There are other solutions, he added. I would like to see the finest schools in the country in every city and town. Our schools should be open day and night. Our playgrounds should be larger. One trouble with our schools is that they are making the rooms too small. The rooms at Huntington school are too small. That is the condition at the annex at the Academy. The rooms at the Bishop school are about the right size. We recognize that there is a need and we propose to remedy the situation.

They (the school board) said they had considered adding six rooms to the Broad street school. Some of our teachers are teaching two grades, and in some cases there are over 40 pupils in each room. Mr. Boardman said that he told Mr. Graham that that situation should be remedied. We recommend that eight rooms be built in the rear of the Broad street school, he said.

They have a shop at Greeneville that is not being used, said Mr. Boardman. They are sending the boys from the Greeneville school to the shop at the Broadway school.

Need Greeneville Shop

At this point the manual training instructor at the Greeneville school said he would like to interrupt the speaker. They needed that shop at Greeneville, he said, for another class. The boys there are sent to the Broadway school shop because there is no other choice.

Mr. Boardman, continuing his remarks, said that it isn't necessary to have to send the Greeneville school boys to the Broadway school shop. With reference to relieving the congestion at Broadway school, Mr. Boardman said that the committee felt that four rooms could be added to each of the two wings at the Broad street school. That would take care of the seventh and eighth grades at Broadway school.

Mr. Boardman went on to say that he was the cause of the town paying the tuition of the town's pupils at the Academy. He said he was a member of the committee appointed to consider that matter. He proposed that the town pay the tuition, but there was some opposition. I told them, said Mr. Boardman, that if they threw that down, that I would make them build a high school.

The town voted to pay the tuition. At that time $12,000 was voted. The tuition has increased since that time. The Norwich Free Academy board is a self perpetuation board, said Mr. Boardman. They have a fund of $800,000, which brings them an income of about $40,000. They have beautiful buildings. I have no fault to find with the work done at the Norwich Free Academy. My children went there. I think they have done honor to the Academy and the Academy has done finely by them.

Academy Tuition Charge

Mr. Gilman, at this point, said that when he went to the Academy in 1879, Prof. Hutchinson stated at the beginning of each school year that the Academy was a free school and that nobody need pay a cent if he didn't want to. There was a charge of five dollars a term for incidentals, Mr. Gilman said. The speaker inquired of Mr. Boardman if he had found in the Academy charter anything that gives them the right to charge any tuition.

Mr. Boardman said he hadn't looked up the Academy charter. I know what has happened, he said. We voted $12,000 for Academy tuition the first year, the speaker said. Judge Holbrook (the late Town Clerk Charles S. Holbrook) asked Mr. Tirrell how many town pupils there were at the Academy, said Mr. Boardman. Why? asked Mr. Tirrell. I want to send you a check for the tuition, said Judge Holbrook. Why, you voted $12,000 for the Academy, Mr. Tirrell answered. I didn't understand it that way. We voted $12,000 to take care of the tuition of the town's pupils at the Academy, was Judge Holbrook's rejoinder, Mr. Boardman said.

The Norwich Free Academy kept the normal school now in Willimantic out of Norwich, said Mr. Boardman. The same way with the trade school. We increased the tuition from $60 to $100 per pupil. The tuition is still $100. We paid our part of the addition at the Academy and we are still paying it.

Mr. Boardman said he felt that $250,000 would be more than enough to take care of the situation at the Academy. He spoke briefly of the entrance examination system at the Academy. He said that when conditions at the Academy are becoming crowded the entrance examinations are made stiffer.

Praise for the Academy

I want to state my position in this matter, said Timothy C. Murphy, a former mayor of the city. I cannot stand here and hear Mr. Boardman ridicule the Norwich Free Academy. They have a board and they run it as they see fit.

We pay for it, interrupted Mr. Boardman. (Applause)

Mr. Murphy, paying no attention to the interruption, went on to speak of those who left bequests to the Academy. Each and every one of us should look on the Norwich Free Academy as a memorial, he said. I am utterly opposed to the junior high school idea, said Mr. Murphy.

As presiding officer of this meeting, said President Lerou to Mr. Murphy, I will have to take exception to your remarks, that Mr. Boardman has been ridiculing the Academy. He has had nothing but praise for the Academy.

G. Warren Davis then entered the discussion. He spoke of the town paying $100 per pupil for tuition at the Academy and the out of town pupils paying $150 per pupil. We are still $50 better off, he said. If we pay $125 per pupil we will still be $25 under the out of town rate. If the Norwich Free Academy were utterly destroyed, the town of Norwich would face a great demand for a very large expenditure for a high school, he said.

Are Figures a Guess?

Charles W. Cassidy inquired if the committee, in recommending $75,000 for an addition to the Broad street school and $75,000 for the Greeneville school, had just made a guess at the figures.

Edward Kirby, a member of the committee, answered this question. He said he had taken up this matter with Shepherd B. Palmer, and quoted from a letter sent him by Mr. Palmer in which the latter informed Mr. Kirby that the cost per room was $8,000. Another $1,000 per room would provide corridor space, Mr. Kirby said. That makes $9,000 per room. Eight rooms would mean at that rate, $72,000.

Mr. Kirby went on to say that he had taken up the junior high school idea with A. B. Meredith, state commissioner of education, and that Mr. Meredith had informed him that the junior high school would not be advantageous.

Hartford, Bridgeport, Waterbury and New London have no junior high schools, said Mr. Kirby. He stated that the indebtedness of the town was now $4,250,000. A mill and a half tax means the interest on a million and a half dollars, he said. Then we would have, to all intents, a $6,000,000 indebtedness. We would have to raise $350,000 interest per year.

What would the plan your committee has submittedadd to our tax rate? asked Mr. Cassidy.

About $7,500, answered Mr. Kirby.

But, does that include the $25 extra per pupil for tuition at the Academy? Mr. Cassidy inquired.

That would be about $20,000 more, Mr. Kirby informed him.

In other words, said President Lerou, about $27,000 would cover the cost.

A woman in the audience spoke briefly of the disadvantage of having a child attend three schools, having reference to the grammar school, junior high school and the Academy.

Prefers 4 Years At Academy.

President Lerou said that if he had a child to send to school he would rather have that child take four years straight at the Academy, rather than break up the four years with a year in another school. He said he was satisfied that the committee had given this problem particular attention. He expressed the opinion that the town school board should have been present at the meeting. Although no vote at this meeting is binding, an expression of opinion would have considerable weight, he pointed out.

Philip A. Johnson inquired as to how long the $150,000 plan for additions to the present schools would put off the erection of a new building.

Six or seven years, answered Mr. Lerou.

Mr. Johnson asked if these additions would be thrown away then.

Certainly not, said President Lerou.

Mr. Johnson said that what he wanted to know was whether these additions could be made a permanent program.

Mr. Lerou said they could.

Delusion in Water Report.

With reference to the annual report of the city's water department, Mr. Lerou said. We all read of the water department making a $75,000 profit. That was a delusion. We do not want to hamper our school system, he said, but we do want to reduce the expenditure.

An eighth grade school teacher who was in the audience, expressed herself as in favor of the junior high school idea. She said that the local Polish parochial school is already carrying a first year high school course. Pupils from that school are accepted at the Academy as second year students, provided they pass the requirements, she said. That school is carrying out the junior high school idea, the speaker said.

Mr. Boardman then told of his committee's objection of the 6-3-3 plan (six years in grammar school, three in the junior high school and three at the Academy), saying that this plan would throw the surrounding towns out of touch with the Academy. They couldn't send their children directly to the Academy, he asked.

Norwich Educational Center.

We are all proud of Norwich as an educational center, said Mr. Gilman. At the same time, we don't want to pay any more than we have to. We want good goods, as cheap as we can get them. He said he was sorry that there were no representatives of the town school board or the Academy at the meeting.

The Academy, he said, was primarily founded, no doubt, as a preparatory school. Personally, I would be in favor of a high school of our own, he continued. The speaker went on to point out that he considered it a good business proposition for the town to pay the tuition of its students at the Academy.

Opposes Junior High School.

After brief reference to an editorial which appeared in The Bulletin Thursday morning, Daniel T. Shea said that he has nothing against the school board. But, he added that he was satisfied that present conditions do not warrant any such experiment as the junior high school. I do think the general taxpayers who have to foot the bills, should be spared as much as possible," he said. "If our schools have deteriorated, I feel confident that it is not the fault of the taxpayers. I think the report made tonight is a good one, Mr. Shea concluded.

Woman Suggests Trade School.

A woman in the audience said, she has a boy 15 years old who will be graduated from the Academy this year. She explained that he will not be able to go to work, because of his age. She suggested a trade school for Norwich.

George Dolbeare made a comparison of conditions today and 40 years ago. He said that 40 years ago there were 45 plants employing men in Norwich. How many plants have we running in the city today, or that are liable to run? he asked. Not one running on full time.

If we add a million to our indebtedness, what happens? he asked. Rents go up. Half the people can't afford to pay their rent today. And they don't pay it. (Laughter).

John D. Nolan, a member of the committee, said that in New Bedford the peoples' houses are being sold for taxes.

President Lerou said that he thought the committee's report ought to be accepted or rejected by the meeting. He said that the report will, of course, be submitted to the taxpayers' association.

Committee Report Accepted.

Mr. Dolbeare moved that the report be accepted and a vote of thanks be tendered the committee. The motion was unanimously carried and the meeting adjourned at 9.45 o'clock.

HOME REAL LOCALE OF NON-FATAL ACCIDENTS

The home is the greatest source of non-fatal accidental injuries in the United States, just topping the streets and other public places, but far outclassing the office, the factory and the shop. Slipping in the bath tub, falling over rugs, off chairs and step ladders and burns from lamps, matches and tea kettles are some of the domestic misadventures making the home a place of peril.

In a report to the Metropolitan Life Insurance company on non-fatal accidental injuries, twenty-two visiting nurse associations treating 3,585 cases during 1929, stated that 46 per cent arose out of domestic pursuits, 45 per cent occurred in public places while only 9 per cent happened while the injured person was at work.

In reviewing the report, the company's statisticians show that a person stands nearly twice the chance of getting scratched or cut in the home, as in the street or other public places. Of the ten reported cases of accidental injuries by firearms all are shown to have occurred in the home. Street roving and other public minded animals were more dangerous than domestic, for only nineteen injuries were reported because of the latter, while twenty-nine were due to the former. The home is in the lead when it comes to non-fatal accidental burns, however, with 862 treated, compared with only fifty-three suffered in public places. Unclassified casualties totalled 300 in the home and 241 in public places.

A feature of the report is the statement that more persons were non-fatally injured by falls in the home than were similarly hurt as the result of automobile accidents, the falls totalling 1,424 and the automobile injuries 1,342.

From the facts presented, children under five years of age are apparently safer outside than in the home. Only 153 were injured in public places while 576 received non-fatal injuries in the home. The most hazardous ages are between 15 and 54, with 1,514 persons in those ages injured in public places as against 1,395 in the home.

APPROVAL GIVEN TO COMPENSATION AGREEMENTS

Approval to workmen's compensation agreements as follows has been given by Commissioner A. J. Bailey:

Inland Paperboard Co., employer and George LaFlamme, 32, Montville, employe; strain right foot on April 30, at rate of $13.96.

J. W. Lathrop and Co., employer and Phillip Brown, Gales Ferry, employe, cut thumb on April 17, at rate of $13.20.

Atwood Machine Co., employer and Frank O'Neill, 35, Stonington, employe; infected right finger on April 14 at rate of $14.

M. A. Gammino Construction Co., employer and Giusseppi Dolce, 32, New London, employe; dislocated little finger on Oct. 30, at rate of $18.

Oliver Woodworth, employer and Renato Orazi, 27, New London, employe; fractured big toe on April 18 at rate of $13.63.

New London Fruit and Produce Co., employer and Allen Jones, 25, New London, employe; right inguinal hernia on March 31 at rate of $12.

LEBANON WOMEN VOTERS DISCUSSED LIVING COSTS

The May meeting of the Lebanon League of Women Voters was held Wednesday at the home of Miss Clara M. Gillette in Goshen.

After a varied business meeting the program was turned over to the chairman of the living costs committee, Miss Gillette.

There was a round table discussion of Muscle Shoals, tariff and reduction of living costs right in our own homes.

It was a good, interesting meeting. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

HANOVER PARSONAGE WAS WHITMAN'S BIRTHPLACE

Charles S. Whitman, former governor of New York in whom Norwich has much interest from his early association with this city, was born in the town of Hanover, when his parents, Rev. and Mrs. John S. Whitman, were occupying the Congregational parsonage there, his father being pastor of the church from 1866 to 1869.

For U. S. District Court

Harold Lamphere of 371 Washington street, who was arrested in a liquor raid on a Ferry street place by federal prohibition officers about ten days ago, was bound over to the U. S. district court when presented Thursday afternoon, on a continuance, before U. S. Commissioner Earl Mathewson. Mrs. Mary Cirves furnished $500 bonds for Lamphere.

Home After Motor Trip

Mrs. Julia C. Gale and her sister, Mrs. Walter C. Foster, of 16 Union street, have returned, after a ten days' trip in Mrs. Gale's car as far north as Brattleboro, Vt., thence to Portland, Me., and return by way of Boston. They found the country a real paradise, with the new foliage and blossoming flowers.

Struck Bakery Wagon

A bakery wagon owned and operated by Louis Segal of the West Side section, was sideswiped in Franklin street near the Bulletin building about 9 o'clock Thursday morning by an automobile driven by Armando Ferry, of 127 Chestnut street.

Other than scattering a lot of pies in the street there was little damage.

PLAYING FINE GOLF COLLETT ENTERS FINALS AFTER TWO FIERCE BATTLES

(By Victor Eubank, Associated Press Staff Writer)

FORMBY, Eng., May 15—(AP)—Glenna Collett, playing excellent golf, today went into the final of the British woman's golf championship, but only after two fierce battles with defending British girls who forced her to the 18th green, morning and afternoon, and several times threatened to send her home the loser.

She defeated Hilda Cameron of Scotland in the morning and Enid Wilson of England in the afternoon, each one up, and found neither opponent soft in any particular.

The hard hitting Helen Hicks went down, five up and four to play, before the harder hitting Enid Wilson in the morning play.

Diana Fishwick, who contests with Miss Collett for the championship over a stretch of 36 holes tomorrow, won her way to the finals by defeating Daisy Ferguson of Ireland in the morning and Kathleen MacDonald in the afternoon.

While the betting odds favor the American, because of her greater experience, Miss Fishwick is generally conceded an excellent chance, especially if Miss Collett should be shy of her top form.

Rain diminished the galleries in the quarter-finals but 400 followed Misses Hicks and Wilson and 2,000 persons saw most of the shots of the Collett-Wilson match. Miss Fishwick was followed by only a faithful few as the other semi-final was looked on as the probable championship struggle.

However, the fact that Miss Fishwick went out in 37 strokes in the afternoon to 39 for Miss Collett gave the British some hope for a surprise finish tomorrow. Miss Collett's medal score against Miss Wilson was 80, a card that many male golfers envy at Formby.

The morning play was in the rain and the semi-finalists played the first nine holes of the afternoon pelted by rain drops but the sun came out to shine on the homeward journey.

Miss Hicks putted poorly and lapses on the green chiefly were responsible for the fact that she was five down at the tenth hole. Miss Collett found herself unable to get ahead of Miss Cameron on account of the Scotch girl's good putting. The most sensational shot of the day's play was contributed by Miss Cameron when she holed a 35 yard niblick shot from a trap.

Misses Collett and Wilson halved the first three holes in par figures.

Both hit long balls from the tee but Miss Wilson had a slight advantage. On the 504-yard third she almost reached the green with her second. Miss Collett went one up by sinking an 18 foot putt for a birdie at the fourth but Miss Wilson won the short fifth when her opponent sliced from the tee. Miss Collett won the sixth when Miss Wilson missed the green with her third and was short with her approach putt. The next three holes were halved.

The 494 yard tenth was won by the English girl with a birdie four.

Miss Collett won the 11th where Miss Wilson explored a trap. Another birdie four for the British entry at the 12th made the match all square.

The 13th was halved but Glenna went one down at the 14th when Enid hit a long spoon nearly to the green, chipped up close, and sent home a putt for a birdie four.

The 15th was halved and Miss Wilson sent her tee shot out of bounds. Miss Collett landed on the edge of a trap at the green, then hit her next and saw the ball roll into the sand. She blasted out with her third and holed a 12 foot putt to square the match, when her opponent took five.

The 17th was a half, and each reached the 18th in two shots. Miss Wilson, putting first, rimmed the cup while Miss Collett's putt from 18 feet ran straight and true into the hole.

The card:

Collett out—455 345 544—39
Wilson out—455 436 544—40
Collett in—545 555 452—41—80
Wilson in—454 545 554—41—81

Results of the play today:

Sixth Round

Miss Glenna Collett, New York, defeated Miss Hilda Cameron, Scotland, one up.

Miss Enid Wilson, Nottingham, defeated Miss Helen Hicks, New York, five up and four to play.

Miss Diana Fishwick, North Foreland, defeated Miss Daisy Ferguson, Ireland, one up.

Miss Kathleen MacDonald, Scotland, defeated Miss Sylvia Bailey, England, two up and one to play.

Seventh Round

Miss Collett defeated Miss Wilson, one up.

Miss Fishwick defeated Miss MacDonald, five up and four to play.

J. B. HOLDING PRACTICE SESSIONS FOR SUN.'S TILT

One of the star baseball attractions for the week end finds J. B. Martin pitted against the Hartford K. of C. nine, when Walter Lindner, former sensational high school twirler, will be on the mound for Taftville. The game will be played Sunday afternoon at the J. B. Martin diamond at Taftville.

Interest is running high in this game due to the appearance of Lindner in a Taftville uniform. The announcement of his coming has installed a new spirit in the home team, they are out to win their second start and no matter how strong the opposion. In the Hartford aggregation they will get just what they are looking for, an experienced bunch of ball tossers, captained by Frankie Farrell, former Holy Cross star.

Manager Eccleston announces that his team will show a decided reversal of form in its Sunday game, after a bad start against Universal Winding. He has been putting his charges through stiff practice sessions this week and ironing out the rough spots that were in evidence Sunday. The team is now working smoothly and ready to go.

LEFTY DUGAS LEADING WESTERN LEAGUE HITTERS

Word from Lefty Dugas, who is with the Wichita team of the Western league, has it that he is playing a whale of a game, not only in the field, but at bat. In the latter department he is doing especially well, the last tabulation showing Lefty to be leading the league. He has the remarkable mark of 478.

LEFTY DUGAS
Who Leads Western League Hitters With a Percentage of .478

In writing to James Troland, stellar baseball manager in past years, Lefty credits his fine performance with the Western league team to him. In his days of sandlot baseball and later, Troland had Lefty under his wing, showing him the fine points of the game. In his postal card to Troland Lefty writes "Playing every day and thanks to you. You made me and how."

PLAINFIELD DUCKS FAIL TO BREAK POOL RECORDS

(Special to The Bulletin)

PLAINFIELD, May 15—Trials for pool records were held Wednesday evening at the Plainfield Community House swimming pool by members of the association. John Korab and Tom Lang won the honors in the 40-yard free-style, each being timed in 20 4 seconds. John Korab and Bobby Connolly featured in the 100-yard free-style, each being timed in 1 min. 4 sec. Lang won the honors in the shortest dash, 20 yards, being clocked in 9 seconds. In diving, the final event, Lang won with Mette second. Connolly took honors in the 40-yard backstroke in 26 seconds. No records were set.

Baseball News

George Krauss, captain of the Aldrich Bros. baseball team has challenged the Lawton Mill overseers for a game at Plainfield some night next week. Mr. Krauss would like to hear from the Plainfield team.

The Plainfield Red Stars will play the Wauregan Grays in Wauregan Saturday. Cloucher will pitch for Plainfield Saturday. On Sunday Plainfield plays the Willett A. C. of New London in Plainfield. Marriott will hurl for Plainfield and the game will start at 3:15.

Plainfield Red Stars challenge any of the leading teams in or about Norwich. Teams can arrange games by calling 91-4 between 7 and 8 o'clock at night.

TWO FAVORITES ELIMINATED FROM SOUTH GOLF TOURNEY

SEDGEFIELD COUNTRY CLUB, Greensboro, N. C., May 15—(AP)—Anne Kennedy, Tulsa, Okla., today engineered the prize coup of the quarter-finals of the Women's Southern Golf meet by eliminating the defending champion Miss Margaret Maddox of Atlanta, 2 and 1, while Mrs. Kennon Rodwell of Savannah, Ga., scored a sensational one up victory over another favorite, Mrs. Leon Solomon, of Memphis.

The other quarter-final matches ran true to form. Mrs. Dave Gaut of Memphis, with eyes on her fourth title, took an eight and seven win over Mrs. W. L. Pierce, of Charlotte, N. C., and Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake, of New Orleans, and New York, won handily from Mrs. Harry Dodge of Jacksonville, Fla., five and three.

The semi-finals tomorrow will throw Mrs. Lake against Mrs. Gaut.

Miss Kennedy and Mrs. Rodwell meet in the other semi-final struggle.

Sonnenberg Beats De Vito

TORONTO, Ont., May 15—(AP)—Using his famous flying tackle, Gus Sonnenberg, claimant of the world's wrestling title, conquered Joe De Vito, Italian champion, with two straight falls tonight. De Vito's headlock and flying mare were of little avail. Sonnenberg scored the first fall in 35 minutes and ten seconds and the second in five minutes and 26 seconds.

DUSTY LEAGUE TO OPEN JUNE 16

The Norwich Industrial league will open its season on Monday June 16, this year and will be composed of six teams. This was the outcome of a meeting for formal organization of the circuit held Thursday evening at the recreation commission office in the city hall. The commission is again sponsoring the circuit for the fourth year.

The makeup of the league will be four teams from 1929 and two newcomers. They are Richmond Radiators, Thermos Bottlers, Polish Citizens and Smoke Shop and the newcomers, Ideal Service station and Royals. The K. of C. and United Italian society teams had also made application. The Y. M. C. A. and the Insilcos are the clubs that have been dropped.

Last year's umpires, Henry (Hank) Morin and William McKnight, have been re-appointed and the league will play five nights a week, the games to start at 6:30 o'clock. The governing board of the circuit comprises Albert Bliven, president; Earl E. Brigham, secretary and treasurer; James P. Sheridan, Dr. Clarence G. Thompson and Edward Gleason.

A gala opening night programme has been arranged at which time the mayor will throw out the first ball and there will be a band concert.

BRAVES RALLY IN NINTH TO TURN BACK CHICAGO

CHICAGO, May 15—(AP)—With two men out in the ninth inning, the Boston Braves put on a three run rally to defeat the Cubs, 10 to 8, in a heavy hitting game today. The victory enabled the teams to divide the two-game series.

Sheriff Blake, the fifth Cub pitcher to see service in the slugging match, went to the mound in the ninth inning with a one run lead given him by Rogers Hornsby's home run in the eighth with two on base. After two Braves had been retired, Maranville walked, reached third on Sisler's single and scored the tying run when English booted an easy grounder. Then Welsh sent a long single to right to bring in two more runs.

Burleigh Grimes, long a Cub Nemesis, was hit hard but remained in the game until taken out for a pinch hitter in the ninth and got credit for the victory. The first seven Chicago hits were doubles and they got an eighth and four singles in addition to Hornsby's homer.

Lance Richbourg led the Braves batting in five runs. He sent four home in the fifth inning by hitting a home run with the bases full. The score:

RICE HITS FOR 25TH TIME AS NATS BEAT CLEVELAND

WASHINGTON, May 15—(AP)—Sam West's extra base hitting gave Washington a victory today over the third-place Cleveland Indians, 4 to 2. The Indians scored ten hits to the Nationals' nine but could not make them count.

Rice, Washington's leading hitter, kept up his performance by obtaining a double. It was the 25th consecutive game in which he connected.

ATHLETICS-CHICAGO TILT INTERRUPTED BY RAIN

PHILADELPHIA, May 15—(AP)—The Athletics failed to complete an official game in their final stand against the Chicago White Sox today when rain interrupted the contest in the middle of the fifth inning. Chicago scored three runs in the first half of the fifth to tie the count at 6 to 6. The score reverted to the fourth inning and did not go into the records. The Athletics had made six runs in the second.

The champions made seven hits off the delivery of Red Faber, Chicago's veteran spitballer, to tally all their runs in the second. Reynolds had started the Sox off with a homer in the fifth. Four singles gave Chicago the three runs that tied the score and kept the game from becoming an official one.

Before the game the Athletics raised the American league pennant they won last year. It was the first occasion of the kind they have taken part in since the summer of 1915 when the 1914 championship flag was hoisted.

Mitchell Traded

ST. LOUIS, May 15—(AP)—Clarence Mitchell, only left handed spitball pitcher in the major leagues, was traded today by the St. Louis Cardinals to the New York Giants for Ralph Judd, young right hander. The Giants are in St. Louis and the deal was closed here today, the Cardinal club announced.

AMERICAN WALKER CUP TEAM WADES THROUGH BRITISH TO LEAD 3 AND 1

SANDWICH, England, May 15—(AP)—Beating the British at their favorite form of golf—Scotch foursomes—before the Prince of Wales and more than 5,000 others, the American Walker cup team today won three matches and lost only one, giving the visitors a decided advantage in the closing stage of the competition tomorrow when eight singles matches will be played. All matches today were at 36 holes and tomorrow's competition is also over the full route.

Bobby Jones and Dr. O. F. Willing defeated T. A. Torrance and Rex Hartly, eight up and seven to play. Roland MacKenzie and Donald Moe won from Sir Ernest Holderness and J. A. Stout, two up and one to play. Jimmy Johnston and Francis Ouimet stopped William Campbell and John Nelson Smith, two Scots, two and one.

The only American defeat was charged to George Von Elm and George Voigt, who fell before Cyril Tolley and Roger Wethered two up.

To win the Walker cup for the sixth time, the Americans now need only to win three singles matches and halve one. The singles array tomorrow will be: Johnston vs. Tolley, Jones against Wethered, Von Elm against Hartley, Voight against Holderness, Willing against Torrance, Moe against Stout and MacKenzie against Campbell.

If any one saw more golf played today than the Prince of Wales it was not because his royal highness did not follow everything that looked like a good fight. He stepped from his airplane near the St. George's course and when he removed his flying suit he was revealed garbed in a plus fours outfit of big brown checks, dashed with red, made of what is known as guards regiment cloth.

All day the prince took his chances with the rest of the gallery, striving for points of vantage about the greens. He arrived at a moment when British hopes were at a low ebb, all the American pairs being ahead, and his presence failed to inspire the British, for the first 18 holes ended with the visitors ahead in all the matches.

The prince was not shown any special favor by the rushing crowds. He is the Prince of Wales to the British government but only another golf fan at big occasions like that of today and he had to scramble with the others for a place in the inner circle about the greens. He did not even go through the lanes opened for the players to reach the greens.

Like most of the crowd, the prince watched the first two matches in which Jones and Willing, playing in perfect harmony and cooperation, trounced Torrance and Hartley soundly, and the second in which Von Elm and Voigt suffered putting lapses.

Tolley's powerful game and the steadiness of Wethered, inspired by the performance of his big partner, in the afternoon wiped out the two-hole lead. Two shots in a bunker at the 28th sent the Americans one down and from then in, it was a fight all the way, the Americans trying vainly to wipe out the hole against them.

The British confidently hoped that the experienced Holderness and long-hitting Stout would beat the American youngsters, MacKenzie and Moe, but the boys played like veterans. MacKenzie hit powerful tee shots all day, his drive of nearly 300 yards at the tenth being the longest of the day. Moe played like an old campaigner. At the 21st hole, he had a chance to make his side three up but with his opponents' ball on the edge of the cup he did not risk knocking it in and was satisfied with the half.

The last match was an even battle with four holes to play and then the Scots lost the 15th and 16th, first by a hooked drive from Campbell's club and second when Smith sent the ball into a bunker.

Jones and Willing carried altogether too much ammunition for Torrance and Hartley, although Torrance played some great golf during the day.

TEN AGGIE TRACKMEN TO GO TO WORCESTER SATURDAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

STORRS, May 15—Ten members of the Connecticut Aggie track team will represent the Storrs institution in the Eastern Intercollegiate track meet which will be conducted on the Worcester Tech field at Worcester, Mass., on Saturday, May 17. Dan Chubbuck, star Aggie athlete who took fifth place in the decathlon series of the last Penn relays, setting a new discus record, will be entered in the shot put, javelin, discus and low hurdles events and is expected to give an outstanding performance for the Aggies. Captain Bob Groat is still on probation for scholastic deficiency and will not be able to participate in the meet. Captain Groat has not yet appeared for the Aggies this season, and his absence has been keenly felt as he is one of the best dash and all around track men to matriculate at Storrs.

The following men are the Connecticut Aggie entrants in the Eastern Intercollegiates: Chubbuck, shot, discus, javelin, low hurdles; Gwin, mile; Hakanson and Elliott, quarter mile; White and Barnes, two mile; Robinson, 220 yard dash; Joslyn, high jump; Harger, shot put; Geissler, high hurdles.

The Aggie track team is also preparing for its meet with Trinity college at Hartford, on next Tuesday, May 20.

WEATHER MAN STOPS PLAY IN DAVIS CUP MATCH

PHILADELPHIA, May 15—(AP)—Johnny Van Ryn stood just two points from victory over Dr. Jack Wright of Montreal in the opening match of the Davis cup tie between the United States and Canada today when a thunder shower forced postponement of play until tomorrow.

The youthful East Orange, N. J., player had held match point a moment before but lost it when his drive went outside the base line. Losing this point Van Ryn led 6-2, 6-2, 3-6, 5-2 and deuce and at this junction the weather man intervened.

Acting Referee Samuel H. Collum of Philadelphia also postponed the second singles contest between George Lott of Chicago and Marcel Rainville of Montreal until 2:30 o'clock tomorrow. The regularly scheduled doubles match also will be on the day's program with a possibility that the favored United States team can clinch the series in a single day by sweeping all three.

Although much harder pressed than he was in last year's Davis cup play at Montreal when he allowed Wright only two games in three sets, Van Ryn held the upper hand by a clear margin. His all-court play and deadly volleying gave him enough of an advantage to carry the first two sets without difficulty.

Wright, a smooth worker and a clever tactician, shifted in the third set to a lobbing game that raised havoc with Van Ryn's net attack. Alternating his lobs with swift sideline passing shots, Wright turned the tide and captured the set.

GALLANT FOX AND TANNERY FAVORITES TO WIN DERBY

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 15—(AP)—Kentuckians' hopes for winning the Derby race today rose as the result of an impressive workout by Edward F. Prichard's colt Tannery, the pride of the Blue Grass, in preparation for Saturday's $50,000 added race at Churchill Downs for the most cherished American 3 year old prizes.

The Prichard colt's performance was good enough to make eastern horsemen sit up and take notice, even though not sufficiently so to dislodge the gallant Earl Sande and Gallant Fox from the position of favorite.

Tannery worked a brisk mile and a furling in 1:53 2-5 impressing all and sundry with his long easy stride. The colt is likely to attract even stronger backing if rain makes the going heavy or sticky on Saturday.

Tannery is considered a much better mud horse than Gallant Fox although the Preakness winner has never really been tested on a bad track. The forecast is for unsettled weather.

With the Derby only two days off, the earl of Derby himself only 90 miles away at Lexington and good sized even if not record breaking crowds trekking into town, the talk is almost exclusively confined to Gallant Fox and Tannery, with east once more against west in the 57th running of the historic Kentucky race.

The two rivals appear clearly outstanding to most horsemen in a field that may not number more than an even dozen, the smallest since 1922, when they are called to the post around 5:15 p. m. (central standard time) Saturday.

Tannery and Gallant Fox both have been backed down in price at rapid rates since the winter books were opened. Tannery was 100 to 0 when snow was on the ground but tonight figures at no longer odds than 3 to 1. Gallant Fox, bearing the colors of William Woodward, vice chairman of the Jockey club of New York, is expected to go to the post at 8 to 5, perhaps 8 to 5, if the going is good.

E. R. Bradley, who scored 1—2 in the Derbies of 1921 and 1926, again has two good looking Kentucky contenders. In fact, Breezing Through and Buckeye Poet have posted the fastest workouts this week over the full Derby route of a mile and a quarter.

The east's support for Gallant Fox includes Thomas M. Cassidy's Crack Brigade, second in the Preakness, but this colt did not impress the critics today. Meanwhile the stock of Ned O. another eastern entry, has gone up.

The Texas colors of W. T. Waggoner, will be borne by Broadway Limited, the $65,000 yearling that has failed to live up to expectations, and Kilkerry, which worked today for the first time since going lame last Monday.

YALE CREWS TO HOLD TWO PRACTICE ROWS TODAY

NEW HAVEN, May 15—(AP)—Three Yale crews left here tonight for Princeton where on Saturday, they will participate in the Carnegie races against Cornell and Princeton on Carnegie lake.

Coach Ed Leader originally had planned to have the varsity, junior varsity, and freshman crews leave earlier in the day, but instead decided upon giving the oarsmen a final workout on the Housatonic river at Derby before leaving for New Jersey.

The crews will hold two practice rows in Princeton tomorrow.

BOYS CLUB PLAYS RETURN GAME WITH GREENEVILLE A. C.

The Greeneville A. C. will attempt to turn back the Boys club of New London, a member of the Whaling City Twilight league, when they come up here Sunday afternoon for a game at Hollyhock Island. The local boys in a previous encounter with this team were nosed out by a 10 to 9 score. The Greeneville section boys are out for revenge and will use their strongest lineup.

N. F. A. Plays Important Game With Bulkeley Sat.

Two bands, something new, will be seen at the Academy-Bulkeley baseball game at the campus Saturday afternoon as the ancient rivals come to grips in the first game of their annual series. The new N. F. A. outfit will be opposed in a "battle of music" by the Orange and Black band from New London and this should make for a real feature.

The game, however, should also be interesting enough without any side attractions to pack the campus. Bulkeley believes it has its best chance since 1928 to win from the locals and the Tigers will have a large following in the stands when the game starts.

Bulkeley, by virtue of a 5 to 3 victory over Stonington Wednesday, boosted itself into second place in the league standing and by winning tomorrow can displace the Academy in first place.

Here is the present standing:

	W.	L.	Pct.
N. F. A.	3	1	.750
Bulkeley	3	2	.600

Should Bulkeley win it would be:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Bulkeley	4	2	.667
N. F. A.	3	2	.600

But should the Academy be victorious the standing would be:

	W.	L.	Pct.
N. F. A.	4	1	.800
Bulkeley	3	3	.500

By winning the Academy would put itself in a most favorable position for the championship, which would be its sixth straight but, on the other hand, should Bulkeley rise up and defeat the Red and White, then the Academy boys would face an exceedingly tough time of it to retain their championship. This game can really be said to be the turning point in the race.

Bulkeley has come fast within the last few weeks, after a slow start and has numbered among its victims Deep River, Westerly, Chapman Tech and Stonington.

Tech Game Postponed

The Academy-Chapman Tech game that was scheduled for Thursday at New London was postponed because of the inclement weather and will be played off later in the season. This will give the locals a week's rest before the Bulkeley game as they last played Saturday, when they beat Windham at Willimantic.

ZIEGLER CONFIDENT HE WILL BEAT RAY MYERS

Word coming from the training quarters of Eddie Ziegler of Newark, N. J., does not make good reading for his opponent, Ray Myers of Brooklyn, N. Y., who will meet him in one of the preliminaries in the Shyma club boxing show next Wednesday evening. Ziegler is a very active fighter and packs a punch that has given him a victory in a good percentage of his bouts.

His manager comes right out in black and white with the statement that Ziegler will be there in the ring at the finish, not in a horizontal way, but standing up, with the decision in his favor. The Newark boy has engaged in more than 75 bouts, meeting some of the toughest boys in his class, and in spite of this has always made a good showing. He is said to be a two-fisted boxer, being able to use either hand with skill and to the detriment of his opponent.

But in Myers he has a suitable opponent, and how. The Brooklyn lad has also seen considerable service in the ring and for a time wore the crown that denotes the champion of his then select crowd, the amateur bantamweight leather pushers. He won the national title in the tournament at Boston about a month ago, beating the best boys in the country. He also has a decision over one of our local boxers, Jimmy Quinn, a very clever boy. But Myers was anxious to enter the professional ranks and discarded his erstwhile title. How he will fare among the professional glove slappers is yet to be seen, and it will not be long.

Interest in the main bout between Al. Beauregard and Johnny Pena of Brooklyn is waxing warm, the Taftville fans being of the opinion that the fighter from the big city will find more than a worthy opponent in Al. They feel that Al. will have no trouble in trouncing him, and Al. thinks so, too, but Pena is equally confident that he will stop the Taftville boy's winning streak and by the knockout route, at that.

The Shyma boxing officials have been busy the past few days, putting the final touches to the bleachers at the J. B. Martin diamond, where the card will be staged. The bleachers have a seating capacity of about 1,700, that is, including the ring side seats. In view of the exceptionally good card that Matchmaker Flynn has planned the officials are confident there will not be a vacant seat when the fight begins.

DO YOU REMEMBER THIS ONE?

(Another of a number of articles recalling local baseball of other years.)

Academy Bulkeley games will come and go (and another is coming to the campus Saturday) but there has never been one in the last few years quite like that of Saturday, June 2, 1928. It was played at the campus and saw the Wildcats emerge a 10 to 9 victor after many thrilling moments.

It saw the Academy overcome a three-run lead to tie it up at 8-8 in the ninth and then overcome a one run lead in the eleventh to win out.

Eleven errors were committed and there were 27 hits in the pastime, thirteen of them doubles, two triples and three home runs. Hal Cummings was the Academy hero that day with four doubles, although Lloyd Jarvis, Johnny Greene and Buck LaCroix also banged the ball for three hits. Bulkeley's luminaries were Locke and Watterson, who hit homers and Brennan, who had three hits, a single, double and a triple.

H. N. S. Wants Game

The H. N. S. challenge any team averaging 20 years of age for a game at Jewett City Sunday the 18th. The game which was scheduled has been cancelled and they wish to fill this open date. They would like to hear from the Twilight league teams of Montville, Norwich or any team in eastern Connecticut. The game, if arranged, will be played at Slater's park. Any team accepting this challenge answer through this paper, or call the Jewett City express office.

Attention Gleason's All Stars

The Silver Arrows wish to challenge Gleason's All Stars for a contest Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Hickory street diamond. Answer through this paper. The Arrows also accept the challenge of the Young Hawks, but wish to play at the Mohegan park diamond Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Boxing Bouts Postponed

Due to the heavy rain of Wednesday night and Thursday the scheduled boxing bouts at the Knights of Columbus arena off Stillman avenue, Pawcatuck, for Thursday night were postponed until Monday night, next, when the same card will be presented.

All Stars After Game

Keenan's All Stars would like to challenge any team under the age of 18. Answer through this paper.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORTS

Chapman Tech dropped its third straight game Wednesday in losing 8 to 2 to Deep River at New London. Hagen, pitching for Deep River, fanned 15 and collected three hits himself. Cupello did the hurling for Chapman.

EASTERN VOLUNTOWN

Mrs. Harry Leonard of Providence visited with her cousin, Mrs. Lee Remington of Oneco at the weekend. She returned to her home Sunday.

James Church of Providence visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Bitgood.

Mrs. Fred Bushy of Oneco has been white washing for Mrs. Bitgood recently.

Mr. Bitgood's grandson, George Remington of Oneco took him for an auto ride Sunday. They went to see where the fire was.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bitgood had company Sunday, Mother's day, from Providence, Plainfield, Oneco, Jewett City and Pachaug, besides callers from the neighbors. There were 21 in all. Mrs. Bitgood's daughter, Mrs. Charles Barber of Jewett City, gave her a potted plant of geraniums and petunias and also the daughter in Oneco, Mrs. Lee Remington, sent a nice box of pansies.

The lady that works for Mrs. Bitgood has got a nice lot of flowers coming up in boxes.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fenner had for company Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Mathewson and family, and George Casbon of Hopkins Hollow. It being Mother's day they took her two boxes of chocolates.

Thomas Lewis spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Bitgood. He gave Mr. Bitgood a box of cigars and the ladies two boxes of chocolates and Georgie Remington gave them a box of chocolates for Mother's day. He is Mr. and Mrs. Bitgood's grandson.

Mr. Bitgood had on his birthday bananas and oranges. The party that gave them to him gave Mrs. Bitgood a box of chocolates and also Mr. Bitgood had a handkerchief from a lady in Lisbon that was made in England. The party that gave Mr. Bitgood the fruit was from Lisbon. He also had birthday cards from the Remington family, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barber and his big granddaughter, Ruth Richmond. She also gave grandma four boxes of pictures.

Joel Barber and a friend of Jewett City was in Oneco recently and took dinner with his aunt, Flora Remington.

As Mrs. Bitgood was putting up a window it slipped out of her hands and went down on her other hand and hit one of her fingers. It took off the knuckle so you could see the bone. It is quite black besides and very sore.

Mr. and Mrs. Bigood had a nice May basket of fish recently. They got caught just the same.

Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips and son Harry of Moosup were callers at Mr. and Mrs. William Bitgood's recently.

Mr. Barber's hired man helped Mr. Bitgood plant his potatoes and field corn.

Mr. Barber and hired man has planted two bushels of potatoes. He is going to plant 200 hills of pole beans. Besides he will have other vegetables planted in his garden.

The ground is so dry the farmers say the seed can't come up. The people used to say that smoke made clouds and clouds made rain. I would think if that was so we would have lots of clouds if smoke would make them. We surely had lots of smoke and fire in Eastern Voluntown.

Jefferson Barber was in Oneco

INDIA CORD
SUPER SERVICE

IT'S the final mile that counts—not the first cost. It is our frank opinion that India tires are the greatest tire bargain you can find.

Only pure rubber—no reclaimed rubber or cheapening fillers are used in India tires. Long fibre cotton of special elastic twist makes up the cords. And workmen skilled thru years of making only the highest quality tires build them.

They are the only tires, we believe, that are worthy of the kind of tire service we desire to give to local car, bus and truck owners.

India tires, with our complete tire service, will give you greater tire satisfaction than you have ever known.
It will pay you to try them.

THE FARMER'S TALK TO FARMERS

EFFICIENT FARMING

(Written Specially for The Bulletin)

T. Swann Harding is chief of the bureau of publications of the national department of agriculture.

T. Swann Harding not long ago wrote a piece for The Scientific Monthly about farmers.

T. Swann Harding says, right out loud, that they're "inefficient." Yes, sir, just plumb "inefficient."

My dictionary says that one is inefficient who does not produce the result intended or desired.

Assuming that definition as correct, it really looks as if we farmers would have to plead guilty. Very few of us regularly produce the results we intended. Nor do I at this moment recall any farmer who always secured all the results he desired.

But then, no one else does, either. Did you ever know of a banker or a billiard-player or a blacksmith or a barber whose plans always turned out just as he intended or desired? Why should we poor hayseeds be picked out to be denounced as inefficient just because we're about the average? It doesn't seem quite fair.

However, as very few of this world's judgments, whether delivered by black-robed judges or by rampaging mobs, are ever perfectly fair, perhaps we'd better not complain of the one which lampoons us.

It might be more useful to inquire whether the charge is true. Are farmers, as a body, inefficient, i. e., ineffective in getting results intended or desired from their farming?

If T. Swann Harding—forget for the moment that he parts his name in the middle and spells "swan" with two "n's,"—if he can show us that we are really inefficient, it won't be a sufficient answer for us to say that we're no worse than the rest. As the old Sunday school hymn had it: "Other men's failures will never save us."

The gravamen of T. Swann Harding's charge is that we are not enthusiastically and unanimously taking complete advantage of all the scientific information the department of agriculture has collected for us.

According to his figures—it isn't quite clear how he got them—of the 6,500,000 farmers in the country only 800,000 are really and truly efficient. The department's bureau of publications is explained to be "doing its best to make the remaining 5,700,000 as efficient as the minority."

That is, as we understand it, the department has up to date done a fair job with 800,000 out of a possible 6,500,000. Leaving off the ciphers, this makes the department's result eight sixty-fifths successful and fifty-seven sixty-fifths failure.

Talking about "efficiency," this ratio doesn't seem absolutely satisfactory as a sort of copy to follow and imitate. It looks as if there were opportunity for some one to recall the old advice about removing the beam from one's own eye before attacking the mote in the other fellow's.

T. Swann Harding could properly retort to this with the other ancient saying that you can lead a horse to the water but you can't make him drink. If the department pumps the tub full and the nag won't even smell of the water, why should the pumper be criticized?

There's generally something to be said on both sides of almost any question. Arguing and "talking back" seldom get anyone anywhere, anyway. It's often wiser to learn something from an opponent than it is merely to best him in an argument. Some of the facts brought out by Mr. T. Swann Harding are rather interesting and may be suggestive to certain readers.

For instance, the average acre production of wheat for Great Britain and Germany is about 32 bushels; for France about 19 bushels; for Shantung province, China, 42 bushels. Forty years ago the average for the U. S. was 12 bushels; now it is only 16.

This is a mighty sorry comparison. Especially in view of the fact that our wheat fields are mostly new lands, rich with the untapped fertility accumulated over thousands of years, while the English, German and Chinese soils have been cropped for at least 2000 years and perhaps more.

Yet even this low production is not the most deplorable thing about our wheat farming. Some years ago the cost of wheat-production in the six bigger wheat states was carefully investigated. The average cost per bushel is of far less importance than was the discovery of the simply appalling range in that cost to different farmers. While the average cost of producing a bushel of spring wheat in those six states was found to be around $2, one farmer produced it at a cost of $1.10 per acre, while it cost another $14.40 per acre.

Probably the gentlemen in charge of the department's bureau of publications would have called the $1.10 production cost efficient farming, and the $14.40 production cost inefficient farming.

Considered purely as figures on paper such a judgment would seem sound.

But, you see, wheat production isn't accomplished by making marks on white paper. It involves a good deal of dirt-working and bug-fighting and machine-buying and wages-paying and mighty worrisome gambling on the weather. It isn't so much a plan to be ciphered out as a struggle to be endured and a chance to be taken.

Every practical farmer, whose board and lodging depend upon his success in getting the pay for them out of his dirt, knows that the "best laid plans of mice and men aft gang agley." He may use all the knowledge of his soil which long experience has given him, and avail himself of all the advice successful farmers may lend, and of all the information agricultural experts and explorers may offer, the result will be wholly uncertain till the last gleaning has been made and the last sale effected and the last payment received. Up to that ultimate moment almost anything is liable to happen to knock all his plans into failure.

Must he be set down as "inefficient" because conditions outside of his control nullify his plans and ruin his work?

Judged by any hard-and-fast rule which makes attainment the sole criterion of efficiency how many in any vocation can be classed as 100 per cent. efficient?

Is making money the sole test of efficiency? Some of us are old-fashioned enough to cling to the theory that making the best out of manhood and womanhood is a higher virtue and a worthier accomplishment. Making money, earning incomes, are simply means towards more important ends—useful and highly convenient means, we will admit, but subordinate and secondary, after all.

The man who should take up farming as a means for getting rich would not only show exceedingly poor judgment but also a lack of comprehension of what farming really is. Too much stress is being laid on farming as a business. I am more concerned with farming as a life. Corn and potatoes and wheat and cabbages are important crops. But the truly efficient farm's best crop is men and women, boys and girls.

In order to illustrate his idea of efficient farming, Mr. Harding cites an Iowa business organization which bought up 14 farms of 3,000 acres in all, put them in the hands of a competent supervisor who managed them co-operatively, taking full advantage of all the scientific data available, and made a net annual profit of 9.5 per cent on the investment.

As a business proposition, this wasn't so bad. A good many business men would think such a net return worth while.

But I happen to know of a farm which couldn't be sold for over a thousand dollars to any responsible purchaser. A net profit of 9.5 per cent on $1000 would be $95 a year. I don't profess to know what the farmer's real income from it is. But I know that it maintains a family of five persons; that the farmer and his wife are reckoned among the town's worthiest citizens; that the children are adequately nourished and decently clothed; and I don't believe all that can be done on a cash income of $95 a year. Why, his taxes, now that extravagance and profligacy have assumed control of governments, call for almost half that sum.

I consider this particular farmer a really efficient chap. He makes his own dirt supply him with nine-tenths of his requirements. His own wheat and corn account for flour and meal; his own fields for potatoes and turnips and cabbages; his own gardens for vegetables; his own pastures for milk and butter; his own poultry and pig-yards for eggs and meats; his own orchard and berry patches for fruits; his own woods for fuel and needed lumber. I suspect that his own sheep supplied materials for the cosy, fluffy sweaters the children wore to school last winter, and the knitted mittens that kept their hands warm.

He is making his small and not naturally over-fertile farm almost an independent principality.

And if that isn't "efficient" farming, will you kindly tell me what is?

Ah, brethren, it isn't the help we get from outside, however well-meant and benevolent, that leads up to farm efficiency, but the "git-up-and-git" which we generate in ourselves.

The agricultural colleges may advise us what to plant and the department of agriculture counsel us how to till, but real efficiency can't be imported or grafted.

It is the result of combined gumption and grit and the profuse expenditure of sweat.

As the filling station advertisement says: "You can't run a motor with talk," not even the wisest talk in the world." Real efficiency calls for gasoline in the tank and plenty of it.

THE FARMER.

STERLING HILL

People in this vicinity had a fine view of the airplane squadron which passed over this hill last Friday.

Rev. Lydia Hartig gave her hearers a fine address Mother's day. On Tuesday, Miss Hartig accompanied by Mrs. Edwin S. Gallup, of Oneco, attended the Six-Church conference in Wauregan and led in the discussion at the close of the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holmes and family of Willimantic were visitors Sunday at George Tanner's

Mrs. Joseph Gallup recently entertained her sister, Mrs. Almond Colvin of Moosup and her brother, Everett Carr and wife of Scituate, R. I.

The dry weather and high winds have kept forest fires burning. Men are called almost daily to combat the flames.

Mrs. Adela Gibson, Mrs. Arthur Love and James Walker were in Boston, Friday, to visit Mrs. Gilbert Randall, who is a hospital patient there. Her husband spent Sunday with her. She is reported as gaining slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Leroy Frink of New London were visitors Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Frink.

Hermon Frink, Walter and Arthur Love are having chimneys rebuilt.

Rev. R. DeWolfe again occupied his pulpit on Sterling Hill, Sunday, and gave his hearers a fine address for Mother's day.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tanner attended a Lecturers' conference at South Killingly, Friday afternoon. State lecturer of Connecticut grange, Sarah Curtis, of Plainville, had charge of the meeting.

Dr. E. E. Freeman returned home, Tuesday, after spending several days with his daughter and her family in Crompton.

Raymond Young of Providence spent several days with his parents here last week.

Callers on Mrs. Byron Gallup, Mother's day were her children, several grandchildren and two great grandchildren, leaving remembrances of flowering plants and candy.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Baton of Providence called on Mrs. George Kenyon, Sunday.

LEONARD BRIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bland of Seymour spent the week end with the former's brother, H. Theodore Bland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton S. Goodwin of Lebanon were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geer Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Watrous and family of Wallingford spent Sunday with George B. Watrous.

Herman Cooper of Earles spent the week end at George B. Watrous's.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Royce and family of South Manchester, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Rexford E. Cummings.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hess of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent the week end at Miss Emily Watrous's. Mr. Hess returned to Brooklyn Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Hess remaining for a week's stay.

Eighteen marble headstones have been set in the Exeter cemetery recently by a Hartford firm, to mark the graves of Revolutionary war soldiers, the work being done for the state.

GALES FERRY

The Ladies' Aid society held an all-day session in the vestry Friday. A luncheon of ham, salads, cake and coffee was served to 18, in charge of Miss Alice Satterlee, Mrs. Charles Hoyt, Miss Mabel Smith, Mrs. Nelson Parker, Mrs. R. Irving Hurlbutt and Mrs. Carl B. Lawson.

A business meeting was held during the afternoon, the president, Miss Satterlee, presiding. This opened with devotions conducted by Mrs. Henry W. Hurlbutt. Nineteen members and two visitors were present at roll call. The secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Dudley C. Perkins, gave the conference year report. The matter of the church bulletin board was reopened under old business and Mrs. Harold H. Critchlow was added to the investigating committee in place of Mrs. Jerome Greer. It was voted to continue the church budget pledge of $104 and to remember sick members with flowers. The chair appointed Mrs. Solon F. Chapman, Miss Mabel Smith and Mrs. Eugene La Fontaine a nominating committee to report at the annual meeting during the second week of June.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Turner of Long Cove are pleased to hear of Mr. Turner's improvement. He has had a serious illness resulting from a fall at his home.

Mrs. George H. Wright, who has been seriously ill at her home in the village, is able to sit up for a while each day. Her daughter, Mrs. H. H. Pike, has come on from New York to be with her for a time.

Mr and Mrs. Royal A. Cranker and son, Douglass, and Mrs. Cranker's mother, Mrs. Mary Perry of Gallup's lane, Waterford, were callers on Mr. and Mrs. Albertus S. Dean Sunday. Norman E. Lathrop of Groton also called on Mr. and Mrs. Dean Sunday.

James F. Connolly of Norwich, supervisor of Ledyard schools, was at the Gales Ferry school Monday.

Rev. Harold H. Critchlow selected as the theme for his Sunday morning sermon, Parents, the First Resort of God. There was special music by the choir. A solo, Mother, by D. R. Povey, followed the prayer response. The offertory anthem, My Wish For You, had a solo by Courtland E. Colver. There was a good attendance at this service. A special Mother's day program was used at the church school, the primary and senior departments uniting for this service. Mrs. H. H. Critchlow led the opening Epworth league service at the evening meeting, this being followed by the preaching service by Rev. Mr. Critchlow. Announcements for the week included the meeting of the Epworth league chapter, Wednesday evening at the vestry, followed by a social hour.

Misses Adelina and Grace Povey entertained Miss Louise Harris, of New Haven, Sunday.

Walter M. Buckingham returned Saturday night from a week's vacation from his duties at the Thames Bank and Trust company, Norwich, spent with Mrs. Buckingham and friends in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Buckingham remained in Washington for a longer visit.

Poems and readings were given by the pupils in the primary room, in observance of Arbor day and the senior room united with lower grades planting trees and shrubs on the school grounds Friday afternoon.

The annual business meeting of Gales Ferry Cemetery association, scheduled for the second Saturday in May, had to be again omitted for lack of a quorum and interest on the part of lot owners. Two officers and two others were present.

Miss Em Beth Bennett entertaind Miss Elizabeth Smith of Norwich over the week end and motored with Miss Smith to her summer home in Niantic to play golf, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Patskoska of Meriden, are spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Mulkey at the Ferry.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Risdon of New York were visitors for a few days over the week end at their summer residence.

The May meeting of Queen Esther Circle of the M. E. church was held Thursday evening with Misses Helen and Margaret Colver, at the submarine base. Miss Helen Colver, president of the circle, presided at the business session. Miss Matilda Harold reported on a donation to a home and plans for a food sale were made. Refreshments were served by the Misses Colver.

Mrs. Andrew P. Miller, accompanied by her daughter, Christine, her mother, Mrs. Marie Sorensen, Mrs. R. Irving Hurlbutt and Mrs. Dudley C. Perkins, motored to Boston Saturday for a visit over the week end with Mrs. Miller's sister, Mrs. Anton Larsen and family, and Mrs. Perkins' daughter, Mrs. Robert Miller. Mrs. Sorensen, who has been with Mrs. Miller during the winter, remained in Boston for a visit to relatives before going to Montreal to visit her son, Louis Sorensen, and family. The others of the party visited Plymouth and Dighton and Anthony, R. I., on their return trip, Monday, Mrs. Robert Miller accompanying them to Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boggan have taken the former Norman cottage on Library lane. Mrs. Boggan has been staying with friends at the Prentice apartments while Mr. Boggan was with the submarine fleet in southern waters.

SHALL I HELP YOU WIPE THE DISHES, MARY?
NO, THANKS. I'VE SOAKED THEM IN RINSO—A HOT RINSE—AND THEY DRY CLEAR WITHOUT WIPING

How grease goes!

All cleaning easier, too

RINSO'S thick suds in the dishpan mean the easiest dishwashing ever! Grease loosens and soaks right off —even in the hardest water. Dishes sparkle. Pots and pans shine. These rich suds save precious minutes!

You'll like Rinso for silver and glassware, too. No grit. Marvelous for floors, walls, bathtubs and all household cleaning. Millions use it on washday, too—for whiter washes without scrubbing or boiling.

Rinso is a safe, compact, granulated soap. Cupful for cupful, it goes twice as far as light-weight, puffed-up soaps. Two sizes—get the BIG package and follow easy directions on the box.

A new thrill awaits you in STAR BACON

Armour's new "double-f" process gives you Fixed* Flavor, adding new zest to an old favorite HUNDREDS argued it couldn't be done. "You can't improve on perfection," they said. But we tried—and found the narrow path to Fixed* Flavor. It led to the tenderest, tastiest bacon that ever passed your lips . . . Armour's Star!

Every good cook who has "fussed" with ingredients will appreciate our search for perfection. We changed our curing mix and the cure itself, and finally our smoking process which drives that North Woods tang deep into every ounce of the meat. Then, with thermometric controls, we made the "double-f" process, Fixed* Flavor, as changeless as the fixed stars.

Try the new Star Bacon tomorrow. Uniformly sliced in cartons, or have it sliced from the original piece. Ask for Star Bacon. When it sizzles in the pan, see how unmanageable your appetite becomes! Armour and Company, Chicago.

Even the cartons are new. You can see what you're getting through the window in the pound and half-pound cartons.

DANIELSON

PROMINENT MILL OWNER, JOHN B. BASSETT, IS DEAD

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, May 15.—A spray emblematic of death within the home was placed at the entrance to the residence of John B. Bassett at 74 Broad street this morning, and meanwhile his relatives and hundreds of his friends were stunned into sorrowful silence at his unexpected call from this life.

Mr. Bassett died this morning after an illness that was of a serious nature for only three days, though he had been ailing for the past fortnight. While on a week-end trip in the White Mountains with Mrs. Bassett and their son, Earl, and Miss Beatrice Lindner, he retired last Sunday night with a severe headache.

He was quite ill Monday morning when a hurried departure for home was made. Danielson could not be reached before 10 p. m., by which time Mr. Bassett's condition had become alarming. He was running a high temperature Tuesday morning, and the illness was diagnosed as septic sore throat. His strength began to ebb during Tuesday afternoon and through Wednesday it became apparent that he was waging a losing battle with death. The end came at 12:30 this morning, as peacefully as though he were entering into sleep.

Mr. Bassett was a native of the town of Killingly, born in the Sparks district of the town, Sept. 8, 1831, a son of John B. and Adeline Dragon Bassett, and had lived here all his life. As a youth he entered the employ of the Larkin Reed Co., manufacturers of weaving reeds, and at the time of his death and for several years past was sole owner of the concern, established upwards of 60 years ago, and makers of a product holding a very high rating in the textile trade. Mr. Bassett's early ownership in the business was as a partner with his brother, A. W. Bassett, and his brother-in-law, William J. Ross. It has so transpired that all of them have passed away within the past five years.

It is a difficult task to adequately express the scope of the affection in which Mr. Bassett was held by his host of friends, and no man here can claim a greater number of them. A genial soul with an unvarying sunny disposition, a keen mind and a master of repartee, generous in a degree seldom encountered, he made and held friends as it is given to few to do. He was kindly, thoughtful of those in need, and free-handed with them, and eternally doing some act of courtesy, some deed of kindness, for someone. These and many other virtues endeared him to those who knew him, and makes his sad and untimely passing such a crushing blow to them. He still lives with them in memory, and will through the passing years.

Mr. Bassett is survived by his wife, who before their marriage was Miss Eva Rapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rapp of Reynolds street; a son, Earl, who has been associated with his father for a number of years in the conduct of the Larkin Reed Co.; a brother, Oliver, superintendent of the Killingly town farm, and a sister, Mrs. Clara Ross, of Broad street.

Mr. Bassett was a member of Moriah lodge, A. F. and A. M., of Danielson, of Putnam lodge of Elks, of the Putnam Country club, the Snake Meadow club and the Bohemian club, and, above all, that great brotherhood of man that truely loves his fellowman.

REPORTS ON Y. M. C. A. DRIVE FOR $5,000 TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY

(Special to The Bulletin)

DANIELSON, May 15.—Friday will bring the culmination of the annual drive for the necessary funds to maintain the Windham County Y. M. C. A. through the year, and reports on the progress with the work will be made that evening at the annual meeting at the Dayville Congregational church.

Incident to the campaign and the annual meeting a statement of the outstanding activities of the association during the year 1929-1930 has been prepared. This statement shows what has been done along religious lines, in educational work including trips, etc., state events participated in, the work at Camp Woodstock, the achievements in athletics, physical work and boys' work.

The number of persons in contact with the work of the Windham County Y. M. C. A. during the year is estimated at 2,500, and with 600 regular members.

Outstanding members who have been champions are listed in the statement, and include Jack Moody, Killingly, running, now at Tufts; Donald Child, Putnam, now at Vermont, running and jumping; Gordon (Flash) Winslow, now at Holy Cross, running;

PEACOS SENT TO CHESHIRE FOR INDEFINITE TERM

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, May 15.—Found guilty of charges of uttering fraudulent checks, by a jury which listened to his case, in the criminal session of superior court here today, Howard Peacos, alias William Johnson, 21-year-old Willimantic man, was sentenced by Judge Arthur F. Ells, to serve an indefinite term in the state reformatory at Cheshire.

The case of the Willimantic youth was the only one on the criminal list to be tried by a jury this term. Receiving the charge of Judge Ells at 11:20 o'clock, the jurymen retired and returned with a verdict of guilty after an hour's deliberation. Peacos was defended by Attorney Samuel B. Harvey of Willimantic, who made a noble but vain effort to convince the jury that his client was not guilty of such charges as were preferred against him by the state. The state's case was prosecuted by Howard C. Bradford of this city, state attorney.

The criminal and civil terms of superior court will not be continued until May 27, it was announced this afternoon upon adjournment of court. Judge Ells will return to Putnam on the 27th to reopen court for the trial of 16 cases which are now pending.

Recent arrests of burglars by state police of Danielson barracks and by local police yesterday prompted Judge M. H. Geissler of the city court to search through records for a survey of crime conditions hereabouts. The magistrate stated that twenty prisoners have been arraigned before the city court in the past six months on charges of burglary and theft. This number is considerably large, the judge said, especially when one considers the large number of cases which are still pending on police files, awaiting developments that may eventually lead up to apprehension of the culprits whose persistent petty burglarizing activities have from time to time annoyed police since last December.

On Tuesday, May 20, county poultrymen will gather at the farm of John Z. Labelle in Ballouville to witness the first of a series of Windham county chicken pox inoculation demonstrations, which will be carried on under the direction of the disease experts, with the county farmers' association officials cooperating. The programme will open at 8 o'clock in the forenoon and will be governed by standard time. Mr. Labelle, one of the large county poultry raisers, has about 1,600 pullets ready for inoculation, providing an excellent opportunity for other raisers to acquaint themselves with the methods of pox inoculation, also giving them a chance to contract for various vaccination supplies. Raymond E. Wing, county farm agent, said today that the series of demonstrations being held this spring is a continuation of the work begun in [illegible]. The results of the vaccination campaign has been most gratifying. Over 400,000 birds have been treated, is prac-

Oscar Speck, Woodstock, running; Daniel Chubbuck, Thompson, the outstanding champion of them all. Chubbuck for several years won state Y. M. C. A. events, and is now captain of Connecticut Agricultural college basketball team. He is being groomed for the 1932 Olympics. Chubbuck already has broken two of the Eastern Intercollegiate records of long standing.

The association requires $5,000 to carry on its work for the coming year.

Representatives of four generations of one family attended the concert given at the high school building last evening by the Pawtucket High school band. They were Samuel Wilkins of Providence, a man 84 years of age; his daughter, Mrs. John Winslow; his grandson, Earle Winslow, assistant postmaster here, and his great-grandson, Norman Winslow, of Elmville.

It would be hardly accurate to report that the long spring drought was broken by the rainstorm that set in last midnight and continued well into today, but it did bring some relief. About one-half an inch of rain fell during the storm, an amount far from being sufficient to restore the water supply to normal. It did rain in ample degree to wet down fields and woods so that danger from destructive forest fires is less now than it has been for nearly a month.

At 11 o'clock Friday morning the Killingly High school band, and also the school orchestra, will leave here in one motor coach and several private cars for Meriden, where they are to participate in a state-wide contest for high school bands and orchestras. About 60 students will make the trip, and for the first time the band members will wear their new uniforms. It is expected that about ten bands will enter the contest, after which all the bands will be assembled into one and will play several numbers. Boys in the Killingly band will wear white trousers, girls white uniform skirts. The capes and caps for all are alike. The capes are red, lined with white sateen. They bear on the lining the initials of the school in red. The capes, which are waterproof, may be worn hanging straight down, or with the corners pinned back in cadet fashion, permitting the initials to show. The caps are red, in fatigue style, and bearing the initials of the school in white.

While all returns were not in this afternoon on the receipts from last night's concert, which was an exceptionally fine one by the Pawtucket High band, it is indicated that, with some money that already had been placed in the fund, almost enough has been obtained to pay for the new uniforms, which are very pretty.

FUNERAL

Albert Terry

This afternoon at 1:45 at the home on Academy street, a prayer service for Albert Terry was conducted by Rev. J. Rees Jones, pastor of St. Alban's church, assisted by Rev. S. W. Lindsley, pastor of the Church of the Reconciliation at Webster. The funeral service, with the same clergymen officiating, was at Trinity church, Brooklyn, at 2 o'clock. Burial was in the South cemetery at Brooklyn. Bearers were Allen Booker, Andrew Taylor, Clifford Woodson, Dwight Lambert, Frank Eldridge and Dewey Woodson. A. F. Wood was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Taxpayers attention! Next Wednesday, May 21, will be the final day for paying Killingly town taxes. Thereafter 9 per cent interest will be added, as required by state law. Collector James R. Walsh in his office, town hall building daily, 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.; Saturday to 5 p. m.—adv.

It is anticipated that the Air Line route between New York and eastern Connecticut and thence on to Providence and the Cape will be one of the most heavily burdened with traffic in the east this summer. The advance surge of this traffic is already in evidence, bringing cars daily from a score of states through Danielson.

..Last evening just after 7 o'clock the fire department was called out to subdue a small blaze eating away at the shingled roof of a storage shed in the rear of the Longo building, and did so before damage of any amount occurred. The fire is believed to have been caused by sparks from a nearby chimney.

Mothers of Thin Underweight Children

Don't Delay Accepting Lee & Osgood's Wonderful Weight-Increasing Offer.

It makes a mother's heart ache to see her puny, underweight child moping around with hollow-chested stoop and pipe-stem legs. Yet such cruel thinness is no longer necessary for any child who lacks the weight-producing vitamins.

Thanks to a wonderful scientific discovery, Lee and Osgood now offers McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets, which will cover up your child's ribs, round out his chest, flesh out his cheeks, greatly increase his strength, vigor and endurance.

He will like these pleasant sugar-coated tablets, so full of pure cod liver oil's unequalled flesh-producing vitamins, because they have no fishy taste, odor or oiliness and never upset the stomach. McCoy's contain no drugs.

Read this ironclad guarantee—McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets must give any underweight man, woman or child the desired increase in weight or money refunded. Just ask for McCoy's at Lee and Osgood, or any drugstore—60 tablets 60 cents.

REMOVING MACHINERY FROM ADAMS MAN. CO. PLANT

(Special to The Bulletin)

PUTNAM, May 15—Industrial Putnam suffered a reverse today with the confirmation of the report by plant officials that machinery and equipment of the Adams Manufacturing company plant on Main street is being moved to the company's plant at Shelton, a manufacturing community near New Haven.

According to a statement made by Orrin J. Perkins, superintendent of the plant, the entire mill equipment is not being removed at the present time as the concern is partially operating. What the prospects for the future of the Putnam plant of the Adams company is, is not made known, since local officials are not permitted to discuss the matter.

No explanation of the company's reason for transferring machinery here to the Shelton plant was available today, despite the fact some of the equipment prepared for removal was shipped out of Putnam this week. Business depression and economic measures are reported to be responsible for the partial consolidation with the Shelton plant.

The Adams plant is one of the oldest manufacturing organizations of the city. Cloth screening, netting and curtain material are its chief products. When the local mill was in its industrial hey-day here, it afforded employment for a considerably large number of textile operators.

In the superior court this morning, Judge Arthur F. Ells of Waterbury, granted a decree of divorce to Mrs. Claire Spagna Menalda, from her husband Jean Menalda, now of parts unknown. Mrs. Menalda, complainant in the action which was not contested by the defendant, is a resident of Willimantic. The decree was awarded on grounds of desertion. In accepting the decree, Mrs. Menalda informed the court that she sought no legal instruments that would provide alimony or custody of her son, who is now residing in Italy.

Mrs. Menalda, was represented by Attorney Harry Gaucher of Willimantic. In her examination by counsel she stated that she was married to Jean Menalda in Paris, France, on February 8, 1898. Her marital troubles began upon arrival with her husband in New York. Menalda, she said, made no efforts to find employment and during his period of inactivity resorted to drinking, she being obliged to provide for both Menalda and herself in addition to their child. Refusing her husband financial means to carry on in his idle manner, he deserted her in 1914, leaving her to care for her son. Shortly after she suffered a nervous re-action which resulted in her being forced to enter a hospital for an operation. The period of illness lasted for eight weeks, she testified, during which her son visited her almost daily, until the last week of her confinement. Upon discharge from the hospital, Mrs. Menalda said she learned that her estranged spouse had enticed her child to leave with him. Menalda took the child with him to France. Over the long period of years that has elapsed, Mrs. Menalda testified that her husband has never communicated with her, and that she is uninformed as to his whereabouts. Her son, she said, writes to her regularly, but avoids disclosing any knowledge he might have concerning his father. Mrs. Menalda has been a resident of Willimantic for 12 years. This statement and others made in the course of her examination by Attorney Gaucher was corroborated by Albert Lanphere and Mrs. Eva Coty, residents of Willimantic, who testified in her behalf.

A party of friends of Miss Alma Potter gathered at her home on Grove street Wednesday evening for a Maybasket party which was tendered in her honor.

A large number of Elks and their wives and friends gathered last evening in the lodge rooms for the annual Ladies' night supper and dance of Putnam lodge, No. 574. A supper opened the programme at 7 o'clock, which was followed by entertainment, an enjoyable bill being rendered by a professional group of entertainment artists from Providence. The entertainment was concluded with a two-hour programme of dance music played by Leo Nichols and his Five Pennies.

Lawns and gardens in the city and foliage and crops in the countryside parched to a point of scorching by the torrid days of the last two weeks appeared refreshed this morning after the 14-hour rain of Wednesday evening and Thursday morning which afforded much needed relief and eliminated for a time the possibilities of a recurrence of last summer's drouth. The fact that the long awaited rain was in no way torrential was more than gratifying to orchardists and agriculturists in the rural sections whose crops have been at stake throughout the dry spell. The slow precipitation was quickly absorbed after the earth's sun-baked crust had been penetrated. Although the rain was accompanied by a cold wave that caused a sharp and sudden drop in thermometer readings, prevailing winds prevented crop destroying frosts and according to reports from the local farm bureau received today, farmers anticipate that nothing but good will come of the storm which endured during the greater part of the day.

Appearing for his client, Mrs. Dorothy Prince of Milford, Mass., who has filed a divorce action against her husband, Judge M. H. Geissler in superior court asked that three motions for allowances be permitted to remain on the short calendar for a week, when the docket was called by the court. During the reading of the docket there were many members of the county bar association present. The reading cleared many old cases from the superior court records.

John H. Moss, formerly manager of the Cargill Textile company, a rayon concern which suspended operations here a month ago, has accepted a position in a textile plant in Old Hickory, Tenn. Mr. Moss has already departed for the south. Mrs. Moss and their little son will leave Friday to join him. Mrs. Moss is the daughter of Dr. John J. Russell of Main street.

WESTMINSTER

At Westminster Congregational church, Sunday, observation of Mother's day was made at both the morning service and the Christian Endeavor meeting in the evening. The church was artistically decorated and there was special music by the choir. A visiting pastor, Rev. Albert H. Plumb, of Scotland, delivered a special sermon at the morning service.

The Ladies' Aid society met Wednesday at the church to finish cleaning and renovating the interior. At the Sunday evening meeting of the C. E. society it was voted to supply, from the society, funds, new cushions for the pews.

Frank Koch, of New Rochelle, N. Y., was in town over week-end, taking inventory of the damage sustained by him in the recent forest fire.

Mrs. Fred Green, who has been laid up with rheumatism, was able to attend church Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jones, Walter Jones and Mr. Miller, all of Jersey City, motored up to spend the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. James Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Tait and George and William Engels, all of Plainfield, were callers at Frank Pellett's, one day this week.

THREE TEACHERS RESIGN—OTHERS RE-APPOINTED

At a meeting of the school board of the town of Griswold Wednesday evening the resignations of three Riverside teachers, Mrs. Edith Soule, Miss S. Nettie Johnson and Mrs. Rose Crumb Johnson, were accepted. The following re-engagements for the next school year were announced: Chester L. Howe, superintendent of the Griswold school system; for Glasgo, Miss Idella Young and Miss Delia F. Malloy; Tyler school, Mrs. Gladys Malady; Hopeville, Miss Ida V. Eichelberg; Pachaug, Miss Marian L. Spinney; White, Miss Helen M. Iago; Riverside, Miss K. Marguerite Bliss, Miss Winifred M. Scates, Miss Mary C. McDermott, Miss M. Teresa Foley, Miss Cecilia A. Ellis, Miss Mary R. Driscoll, Miss Katherine McNamara, Miss Anne Driscoll, Miss Juliette Richmond, Miss Isabel B. Marshall, Miss Anna M. Walsh, Miss Margaret C. Gohery, Miss Alice A. Brown, Mrs. Myrtle E. Blake. Two new teachers have been engaged, Miss Miriam Sullivan and Miss Jane Suplicki. Mrs. Helvis Johnson, Plainfield, has been substituting for Mrs. Remick. The graduation of the class of '30 of Griswold public schools, which numbers about 75, will take place June 12.

Rain Most Valuable

Over a half inch of rain fell all through this section during Wednesday night. If the value of this thorough wetting could be expressed in dollars it must be told in the thousands. Trout streams, which were running low, are filled to the brim. The menace of forest fires is removed and farm and garden lands that are under cultivation and being planted for early crops have received the moisture that was badly needed.

SUPT. YOUNG FORBIDS WATER USE BY CONTRACTORS

A. A. Young, Jr., superintendent of Jewett City Water Co., in view of the shortage in the local rainfall, has deemed it advisable to conserve all available reservoir supply. Hence the contractors on the state cement highway construction will be obliged to pump the necessary water supply used in that connection from the surrounding ponds, instead of using the borough hydrants.

Heard New Orleans Report

The meeting of Dorcas circle of The King's Daughters, held at Mrs. Abraham Zegeer's home this week, was attended by 18, who heard a fine report of the many interesting things connected with the International convention held in New Orleans, as told by Mrs. G. H. Prior. It was a delightful story related in vivid phrasing, and with touches of humor. A game was enjoyed after the refreshments of ice cream, nabiscos, pinochle and candied grape fruit were served by the social committee and Mrs. Zegeer.

At a meeting of the executive committee of Jewett City chapter, American Red Cross, $25 was voted to be sent to headquarters toward the quota for clothing necessary to be given to hospitals and service men and families. It was voted to reimburse the Home Service chairman for money expended in aiding an ex-service man's family. The action of the emergency committee in forwarding $100 to the Nashua fire relief was ratified. It was decided that any contributions could be given to the treasurer, Miss Margaret Driscoll, who will forward them.

The Ladies' society of the Congregational church met at the home of Mrs. F. E. Robinson Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Jay Ricketts receiving in her mother's absence. A supper was planned for an early date. Miss M. A. Burdick, Mrs. G. H. Jennings, Mrs Earl S. Hiscox and Mrs. J. T. Stewart's daughter, Mrs. Carl Benjamin, serving for her, served the refreshments.

Mrs. A. M. Brown and Mrs. B. R. Gardner attended the annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Missionary Society of Connecticut, held in New Haven this week. Mrs. Brown attended the New England Baptist district meeting in Portland, Me., last week.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Harry N. Remick

Mrs. Catherine Bill Remick, wife of Harry N. Remick, died Thursday afternoon after a long illness at her home on Main street. Mrs. Remick was born in Russell, Mass., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Bill. She taught for several years in the Learned school, Lisbon, and was united in marriage with Harry Remick by Rev. W. J. Reynolds at the Lisbon parsonage, Nov. 11, 1921. For six years she has been an eighth grade teacher in Riverside grammar school, Jewett City. Teaching was not only a profession to her but work which she sincerely liked and in turn she was particularly loved by her pupils in whom she took so much interest. She bravely endured a period of several years of ill health and, at times, seemed to regain her strength. Her husband has been devoted to her in every possible way, sparing nothing in the effort to combat her ailment. Her mother and sister-in-law have cared for her during the last few weeks. Besides her husband, she is survived by her parents, of Westfield, Mass.; a sister, Mrs Wallace T. White, of Springfield, and three brothers, Arthur and Ralph, of Westfield, and Francis Bill, of Jewett City. Mrs. Remick was a member of the auxiliary to the American Legion post of Jewett City.

Mrs. Thomas Brown entertained the Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church Thursday afternoon. She was assisted by Mrs. C. F. Gardner, Miss Alice Brown, Mrs. A. M. Brown and Mrs. A. D. Tripp. Officers elected were: Mrs. G. H. Prior, president; Mrs. William Perry, vice-president; Miss Alice Brown, secretary, and Mrs. C. F. Gardner, treasurer.

PLAINFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Emile Dubeau spent Sunday with Mrs. Dubeau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lambert of Taftville.

A May basket party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Allard the other evening for their daughter, Irene Allard. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Allard, Mrs. Mary Blanchette and Mrs. Kate Simoneau. An enjoyable evening was spent by the schoolmates with games and music. Those who attended were: Florette Quelist, Lorinne Colburn, Theresa Couter, Olena Simoneau, Doris Allard, Thomas Heneault, Louis Lavallie, Alex Mitchell, Albert Beauchemin, Buddy Simoneau, Wilfred Allard, Jr., Maurice Allard, Mrs. E. Simoneau, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Simoneau, Mrs. Mary V. Blanchette and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Allard.

Mr. and Mrs. David Flowers of Baltic were callers Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flowers.

The Lincoln club met Monday evening at the Lafayette inn. A lunch of boiled ham, potato salad, baked beans, pickles, rolls, pie and coffee was served. The address was given by E. L. Beebe of Putnam on The Bell System. The program consisted of a concertina solo by David Radcliffe accompanied by Miss Florence Radcliffe. Solos by Rev. George H. Reese and Miss Florence Radcliffe were rendered.

Mrs. Herman Chapman returned from Florida Tuesday.

Rev. William C. Prentiss motored to Windsor Monday to officiate at the funeral of Mrs. Carrie B. Hathaway.

Marden T. Prentiss, Miss Adelaide H., Dorothy F. and Carlos Prentiss attended the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Carrie E. Hatheway of Windsor. Burial was in the family lot at Poquonock.

Mrs. Georgiana Lawton is ill.

OFFENSIVE BREATH?

MAYBE IT'S WORMS

WHEN a child suffers from bad breath—beware of worms. They are much more common than most mothers think.

Look also for the following symptoms: grinding the teeth, picking the nose, crossness, crying in sleep, loss of appetite or weight, nausea or general restlessness. Any one of these signs may be your warning that worms are present.

Wise mothers take no chances with these dangerous and disgusting childhood pests. Even if worms are only suspected they give the child

WESTERLY

JOHN BRENNAN DIES AFTER HIS CAR HITS BUS

(Special to The Bulletin)

WESTERLY, R. I., May 15. — As the result of an auto and bus collision this morning on the Westerly-Stonington state highway, John Brennan, 27, of Potter Hill, R. I., died at 2:05 p. m. at the Westerly hospital.

Others injured were Joseph Potter, 26, of 107 Central Park, and Miss Mary Cofone, 18, of 78 Pierce street, Westerly, who was seated between Driver Brennan and Potter in a Graham-Paige coupe. All were taken to the hospital. Coroner Edward G. McKay of Norwich was called to investigate. They were on their way to their work in the American Velvet mill in Stonington.

The Westerly auto, reported as traveling at a rapid rate of speed on a wet highway, apparently swung too far to the left at the slight curve in front of the home of Harry Mitchell in Wequetequock, and struck head-on a motor bus of the Groton Stonington Traction company. The bus was operated by Christopher Silvia of Pawcatuck and was empty, being a special school bus on its way to Pawcatuck to convey students from this vicinity to Stonington high school. The collision took place shortly before 8 o'clock and it was after 10 o'clock before the bus which remained stretched across the highway was removed. Troopers from the Groton barracks directed traffic around the end of the bus. T. P. Peacock, general manager of the Groton-Stonington Traction company, arrived soon after the accident and ordered photographers to make pictures of the cars for future reference.

The injured occupants of the coupe were taken to the Westerly hospital by passing motorists and by the driver of a Ward's bakery wagon. They were treated by Dr. John Champlin, Jr., and Dr. Hartford P. Gongaware of Hope Valley. Brennan remained unconscious from the time of the accident. Potter did not remember anything about the affair while Miss Cofone was reported as stating that their auto was proceeding about 30 miles per hour on the right side of the highway. Brennan had a fractured skull, lacerations of the scalp and of the lip from broken glass, also a fractured femur. Potter was cut about the face and head and was suffering from a fractured left knee cap and a possible fracture of skull and internal abdomenal injuries. Miss Cafone was cut about the head and suffering from numerous bruises and abrasions, resulting from being struck by the steering wheel. Potter was jammed in the wreckage so that he had to be forced out.

W. C. T. U. Convention

The South District Women's Christian Temperance union held its annual convention Wednesday in Pawcatuck Seventh-day Baptist church. Delegates were present from the unions in Ashaway, Potter Hill, Bradford, Clark's Mills, Ocean View, Wakefield and Westerly. Mrs. Josephine Collings, district president, presided. Mrs. Louise Babcock, president of the hostess union, welcomed the delegates and this was followed with reports from various officers and directors. Mrs. Alice Porter, state director of legislation, stressed the hope that the Williamson bill might be passed by congress. The noontide service was conducted by Mrs. Anna Austin, who gave three thoughts—courage, faith in God's promises, and works. A quartet sang "Work for the Night Is Coming."

Warren Has Fractured Skull

In the Westerly hospital in a critical condition is Morris Warren, of Hope Valley, employed by the R. I. state board of public roads. He has a fractured skull, received Wednesday morning in an automobile accident near the branch office of the Washington Trust Co., at Hope Valley. It was stated that Warren, who was driving northward, tried to pass two cars going in the same direction. The one immediately ahead of him, driven by Frank Sposato, of 6 Pond street, Westerly, also turned out at the same time to pass the leading car in the line. Warren swung out farther to pass both cars ahead but he misjudged the distance and sideswiped Sposato's car. His own machine crashed into a pole, turned around, struck another pole and was demolished. He was rushed to the Westerly hospital by state police of the Hope Valley barracks.

Harold W. Merrill post auxiliary held its meeting Wednesday evening at Legion hall with 27 members present. Three members were initiated. It was announced that the unit and post would visit Wallum Lake Sunday, leaving Grove avenue at 12:30 o'clock. It was voted to send one of the treasure chests to the Philippine children. The resignation of the sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Lillian Freestone, was accepted and Mrs. Maurice Laing was installed as her successor. It was voted to accept an invitation from the Broad Street Christian church to attend the service Memorial Sunday and to accept an invitation to participate in the Memorial day exercises. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Sicilian, Mrs. Howard Greene and Miss Ruth Wilcox.

Elm Tree camp, No. 8874, Royal Neighbors of America, Wednesday evening met in Caledonian hall. The business session was followed by a whist and social hour. High scores were made by Miss Sadie Ahern while Miss Isabelle Rook was low. Sponge cake and whipped cream, with coffee, were served. This was the last affair sponsored by the past Oracles Boosters club for the present.

The Oak Leaf or Juvenile department of this camp will entertain the mothers and friends of their camp at their meeting on Monday evening.

Delegates, the vestrymen and men and women of Christ Episcopal church, Rev. G. Edgar Tobin, rector, will be in Providence May 19 and 20 to attend the Rhode Island state convention to be held at St. John's Pro-Cathedral.

Stephen Wesley Macomber was in Providence Thursday afternoon.

Robert Brundrett was in Providence Wednesday morning.

GARDNER LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas of Rockville were week end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. William Whittle.

Spring Grove casino is being renovated for the season.

Members of the Gardner Lake Yacht club have put their new dock overboard and anchored it in front of the club's quarters. The float is 30 feet by 12 wide with a runway some 50 feet extending into the lake.

Julian M. Williams was out in his new speed boat. In the tryout it showed speed and then some.

A very pleasant party was given to A. C. Brown at his home Saturday evening, the date being his birthday. Dinner was served and a large birthday cake attractively bedecked with candles was in the center of the table. Guests were present from Boston, Meriden, New London and Norwich.

Fishermen are reporting good catches of pickerel, perch and bullheads.

Speed boats are starting to shoot over the lake and it looks as if summer had arrived.

A petition is being circulated asking for a bus line from Norwich to Saybrook.

Frisbie Mitchell was at the lake Sunday.

A spring was located here last Thursday with the aid of a branch of apple tree as a divining rod. A large flow of water was located at five feet.

Bathing girls are being warned that they should be careful and at least not leave all their undies on a hickory limb.

About all of the cottages have been wired and the electric light service is greatly appreciated.

EAST HADDAM

Mr. and Mrs. Shaller Christensen, of Middletown, spent the week-end with the former's grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Christensen.

Shot Turkey Buzzard

R. Marshall Smith shot a turkey buzzard one day last week. The spread of wings was about five feet. This bird is very rarely seen north of Pennsylvania.

A HISTORY OF CONNECTICUT INDUSTRY

Released by Manufacturers Association of Connecticut

Scovill Manufacturing Company, Waterbury

Button makers in 1802, brass founders in 1820, Scovill Manufacturing company has produced metal parts for use in photography, in oil, gas, and electrical lighting, in automobiles, radio, and aeroplanes. The evolution suggested by this finds its parallel in the plant developments since 1802 in industrial power, equipment, and organization. In 1802, brass was rolled by horse power on two-inch rolls in a dwelling house. In 1808 water power was substituted. In 1820, a brass mill was built. In 1850 steam engines were added. Then followed central power plant, modern turbo-generators, electrified casting shop, mills, and manufacture

Today its mills produce sheet, wire, rod and tubes, while its manufactures run from castings to condensers, forgings to fasteners, eyelets to electric switches, ferrules to fuses, hinges to hub caps, pins to patent buttons, motors to machine screws, shrapnel shell cases to safety pins, and valves to vanity boxes.

The operating plants controlled by it include Scoville Manufacturing company, Waterbury; Oakville Company division, Oakville; Plumbers' Brass Goods division, Waterville; Morency-Van Buren Manufacturing division, Sturgis, Mich.; The Gilchrist company, Newark, N. J.; The Hamilton Beach Manufacturing company, Racine, Wis.; and The H. Schrader & Son's company of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The officers of the company are: E. O. Goss, president; J. H. Goss, vice president; C. P. Goss, Jr., vice-president; G. A. Goss, vice president; L. P. Sperry, treasurer; W. M. Goss, secretary; F. J. Goree, assistant treasurer; B. P. Hyde, assistant secretary.

Three Mothers Agree

When mother is tired, nervous or ill the whole home is upset. For her family's sake, every mother wants to be well and strong. These three women tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps them to care for their families.

Mrs. H. Dolhonde,
6318 York St.,
New Orleans, Louisiana

"Before my last baby was born, I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got such good results that I named her Catherine Lydia. I have six older children and five grandchildren, too. I am now taking the Vegetable Compound again because of my age. I eat and sleep better and I do all my housework, and my washing. I will do my best to answer letters."

Mrs. Harold Goodnow
36 Cane St.,
Fitchburg, Massachusetts

"I cannot praise your medicine enough. After my baby came I was rundown. I had to go to bed often through the day. I took three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I felt like a different woman. If any mother has those tired feelings I advise her to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Lloyd R. Blasing,
115 So. Ohio St.,
Anaheim, California

"After my baby came I was so nervous and tired that I felt miserable. One day a booklet was left at our door and after reading it I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now on my fourth bottle and I feel much stronger. It has helped me in every way and I feel sure that other women in rundown condition will pick up if they will only take a few bottles."
